TWENTY-SEVENTH YEAR. LAST EDITION TUESDAY, FEBRUARY 8, 1910. TWO CENTS.

YEAR OF PROSPERITY FOR CITY WATER AND LIGHT DEPARTMENT

Surplus Earnings of Over $109,000 Reported for the Year 1909.

Increase of $5,000 Over 1908 Despite Extraordinary Expenses.

Great Saving of Water Effected By Installation of Meters.

The surplus earnings of the water and light department for the year 1909 were $105,311.44, according to the eleventh annual report of the department, which was submitted to the city council last night. The figures represent an increase over 1908 of $5,000, notwithstanding a decrease of $10,000 in hydrant rentals caused by the reduction in the rate charged the city for hydrants, the paying of $1,500 on account of the accidental death of a workman at the booster pump house at West Duluth, and the repairs to the West Duluth reservoir, costing about $6,000.

The report of the board, incorporating in it the report of Manager L. N. Case, is a comprehensive resume of the operations of the department for the year and of the progress made since the water and light department was organized. The historical tables contain interesting facts and comparisons, showing the growth of the department and the financial condition and progress is also set out in detail.

Statement by Board.

In submitting the report, the commissioners say:

"The last issue of water and light bonds was made in 1907, since which time the making of extensions and improvements to the plants have been

TWO NEGROES ARE HANGED AT ONCE

Assailants of Kansas City Woman Executed in Presence of Her Husband.

Kansas City, Mo., Feb. 8.—Convicted of assault, George Reynolds and John Williams, negroes, were hanged simultaneously in the county jail here today in the presence of their victim's husband. Their execution marked the first time the death penalty has been inflicted in Missouri for this crime. The negroes, on the night of Dec. 23, 1909, attacked Mrs. W. H. Jackson, a violinist, who was returning home from a charitable institution where she had given a concert.

Reynolds collapsed a few hours before the execution, and it was necessary to carry him upon the trap in a chair. When the chair was removed, he fell limp upon the trapdoor, moaning piteously. Williams, who has been known for years as a desperate character, remained composed.

The evidence brought out at the trial was so horrifying that Judge Ralph S. Latshaw, sentencing the negroes, said: "I shall not desecrate Friday, the day on which legal hangings usually take place, by ordering your executions on that day. There is at least a spark of manhood left in almost every man executed by the state. But there is no manhood in either of you."

NURSE TEARS VEIL APART

Revelation of Mysteries in Swope Case Is Begun at Inquest.

Miss Kellar Tells of Interest Dr. Hyde Took in the Swope Will.

Kansas City, Mo., Feb. 8.—Sensation followed sensation today at the inquest into the death of Col. Thomas H. Swope, as the veil of mystery about the life in his home was torn open.

A few days before Col. Swope died, Dr. B. C. Hyde asked the millionaire's nurse to try to persuade the patient to name Dr. Hyde as one of the colonel's executors, according to the testimony given by Miss Pearl Kellar, the nurse. Then she told of the happenings on the morning Col. Swope died: of the giving of a capsule that apparently was a digestive tablet, the following convulsion within twenty minutes, the symptoms of the attack, the diagnosis by Dr. Hyde as apoplexy, the treatment, and finally death.

Dr. Hyde, his lips tightly set, watched the nurse closely as she told her story, while Mrs. Logan O. Swope, his mother-in-law, heavily veiled, listened attentively from another part of the room.

Dr. Hyde and other principals were on hand early today and occupied their usual chairs, while an expectant

THINKS CHRISTIANITY ACCOMPLISHED LITTLE

BARON DAIROKU KIKUCHI.

Baron Dairoku Kikuchi, president of the Imperial University of Kioto and formerly minister of education of Japan, is in this country under the auspices of the Civic Forum to explain to us the new Japan. He says that Christianity played no part in the revolution of 1868, which marked the awakening of Japan. He thinks in fact that beyond the reflection of the fine characters of the early missionaries the influence of Christianity in Japan has been inconsiderable. He thinks the Christianized Japanese are coming into touch with the people in general. At first they opposed the reverence of their fellow-countrymen for the emperor and for their ancestors and created a good deal of antagonism, but that feeling is wearing off. Before leaving Japan, Baron Kikuchi went to the tombs of the imperial ancestors and then to the tombs of his parents to pay his respects and bid the spirits there farewell.

EXPLAINED BY IRELAND

Vatican's Refusal to Receive Fairbanks Based on Religious Friction.

Archbishop Says the Methodists in Rome Are Pernicious Proselyters.

Chicago, Feb. 8.—The following statement was offered the Associated Press by Archbishop Ireland today:

"People in America may easily misapprehend the circumstances in Rome which led the Vatican to refuse an audience with the holy father to Mr. Charles W. Fairbanks after he, a former vice president of the United States, would have made a public address before the Methodist association of that city. Most likely Mr. Fairbanks himself did not fully realize the meaning which Romans would attribute to his address.

"It was not a question of Mr. Fairbanks' being a Methodist or going to a Methodist church in Rome for Sunday devotions. It was a question of appearing to give the fullest approval to the work of the Methodist association in Rome.

Are "Pernicious Proselyters."

"American Methodists in Rome are active and—I may readily say—pernicious proselyters. The Methodist association is not in Rome to serve and meet American Methodists, but to pervert from the Catholic faith all those

WADE ELLIS QUITS HIS FEDERAL JOB

Leaves Department of Justice to Conduct the Campaign in Ohio.

Washington, Feb. 8.—An important vacancy in the department of justice is now to be filled. Wade H. Ellis, after a conference at the White House yesterday afternoon, resigned his post as assistant to the attorney general.

The political situation in Ohio, Mr. Ellis states, brought about his resignation. President Taft and other political leaders felt that their party needed Mr Ellis there and the latter was induced to enter the field for the chairmanship of the Republican state executive committee, succeeding Henry A. Williams, who was appointed a national bank examiner.

Just who will succeed Mr. Ellis can as yet be only speculation, but it is not improbable that an appointment will be made soon. Mr. Ellis, though severing the relationship that has existed, retains a connection with the department as a prosecutor. He will continue to look after the interests of the government in certain anti-trust cases upon which he has been engaged.

MEAT PRICE IS GOING UP

Cold Weather in New York Causes Renewed Demand for Flesh.

Wholesale Men Say Supply Has Been Cut---Probers Are Busy.

New York, Feb. 8.—Meat prices are higher than ever in this city today. Dropping for a time while the agitation for elimination of meat from the diet was fresh, the questions, both wholesale and retail, have mounted to figures equal to and in some cases above those prevailing before the movement began. Indications are, prominent dealers said today, that still higher prices are coming.

Increase in demand accounts for some of the tendency to advance. The retailers attribute this increase to the cold weather. Shortened supplies are believed by the wholesalers to have more to do with it than anything else. The dealers are congratulating themselves in the belief that the agitation has blown up.

"The flurry of talk that seemed to be stirring up trouble a while ago is over now, and things are going ahead just the same," said one of them today.

Keep Up Investigations.

Investigation of cold storage with resulting remedy of alleged evils which worked to keep prices up is the chief remaining reliance of the agitators for lower prices. This movement is still in full force in Manhattan, while across the river in New Jersey it is apparently just beginning in earnest."

HEADS OF BEEF TRUST TO TALK

Big Packing Company Officers Will Be Quizzed in the Missouri Case.

Jefferson City, Mo., Feb. 8.—The heads of the nine big packing companies under investigation by Attorney General Major will be summoned here within the next few days to explain their methods of conducting business and to see whether the attorney general can be satisfied that the companies are not operating in violation of the anti-trust laws. The testimony will be given before former Judge Daniel Dillon of St. Louis as special commissioner of the supreme court. The first two hearings will take place in this city.

PRESS BILL PASSED BY COUNCIL IN INDIA

Calcutta, Feb. 8.—The press bill, designed to suppress the dissemination of anarchistic literature, was passed by the imperial council today. The measure requires the proprietors of newspapers and job presses to deposit with the government a sum of money which will be forfeited should the depositer be convicted of an attempt to incite to murder or sedition or to influence the public against law and order.

OPERATE ON KING GUSTAV

Surgeons Remove the Appendix From the Ruler of Sweden.

Public Rejoice in Good Reports From Monarch's Chamber.

Stockholm, Sweden, Feb. 8.—It was officially stated today that King Gustav was progressing toward recovery as rapidly as was to be expected, following last night's operation for appendicitis. No complications have arisen from the surgery, the announcement of which in the morning papers took the capital and country by surprise. Early in the day a crowd gathered in the vicinity of the palace eagerly awaiting news from within.

For three days the king had suffered with abdominal pains, which an early diagnosis seemed to indicate were due to catarrh of the stomach. On a more thorough examination, however, the physicians reached the conclusion that appendicitis had developed, necessitating an immediate operation. At 10 o'clock last night the royal family, several members of which were spending the evening at a concert, were

THINK SHE WAS SLAIN FOR MONEY

New York Police Seek Husband of Woman Whose Body Was Under Floor.

New York, Feb. 8.—Avarice is believed by the police to have been the motive for the murder of the woman whose dead body was found buried in an excavation under the floor of an apartment house in West Ninety-fourth street yesterday. Search for the woman's husband, Peter Johansen, was continued today under the added stimulation, because in the rooms he is believed to have occupied since the crime, letters were found indicating that Mrs. Johansen recently came into the possession of $2,500 from a railroad company for the death of her former husband, August Peterson.

Johansen was janitor of the house where the body was hidden. The family's furniture was moved away last week, and the pair were supposed to have gone to New Jersey. Instead, Johansen had sent the furniture uptown, and the body of Sofia, his wife, was dug up yesterday in the vacated apartments.

Had Roll of Bills.

Whether the woman was strangled or whether wounds in the temple caused death is expected to be determined by the autopsy. When she was last seen alive on Wednesday she is said to have displayed a large roll of bills.

Emilia Sarap, a woman found in the quarters to which the Johansen furniture had been moved, is under arrest and is being held as a material witness.

AT WORK ON ALLDS CASE

New York Senate Begins to Probe Conger's Charges of Bribery.

Fifth Such Action in Forty Years Is Taken By That Body.

Albany, N. Y., Feb. 8.—The wheels of legislation stood still here today while the fifty-one members of the senate investigated charges of bribery against one of their number. Witnesses during the next few days or weeks are expected to prove whether Senator Jotham P. Allds of Chenango county, took $1,000 in payment for his influence in stifling a certain bill. Senator Allds has made a sweeping denial of the charge, and upon his accuser, Senator Ben Conger, rests the burden of proving the assertion.

The scope of the investigation was the question that aroused the most interest when the senate today went into a committee of the whole to begin the inquiry.

First Case in Fifteen Years.

Senator Conger carged that Allds, while a member of the assembly on or about April 23, 1901, "received and accepted $1,000 as a consideration for having refrained from pressing for passage a certain bill pending before the house." The particular bill has not been designated, nor have any names been officially brought into the controversy except those of the two principals.

It is fifteen years since the senate has been asked to consider a charge

PUBLIC DRINKING CUPS MUST GO

Wisconsin Board of Health Has Prohibitory Order Ready for Publication.

Madison, Wis., Feb. 8.—The common drinking cup must go in Wisconsin. Its doom was sealed by the state board of health at a recent meeting in this city. By the passage of a rule which, upon official publication, will have all the force and effect of law, the board has taken a notable and far-reaching measure toward the prevention of infectious diseases. The new rule reads as follows:

"The use of the common drinking cup on railroad trains, in railroad stations, in the public and private schools is hereby prohibited.

"No person or corporation in charge of or in control of any railroad train or station or public or private school or state educational institution, shall furnish any drinking cup for public use, and no person or corporation shall permit on said railroad trains or stations or at said public or private schools or state educational institutions the common use of the drinking cup."

This rule will be submitted to the attorney general for approval before being published in the official state paper.

MAYOR MAY VETO THE FRANCHISE GRANTED CANADIAN NORTHERN

Expresses Himself as Favoring Route Demanded By West Duluthians.

Orders Issued From Toronto for Preliminary Survey to Superior.

Railroad Problem Still Seems Far From Being Finally Settled.

The city council last night granted a franchise to the Canadian Northern railroad to enter the city over the route through West Duluth chosen by the company by a vote of 13 to 2.

But the road has not yet secured the franchise. The council's action last night started the real fight to a finish, on the matter.

Indications are that Mayor Roland D. Haven will veto the franchise.

Such action will precipitate a city council-mayor-citizen-railroad scrap such as Duluth has yet to witness, with 50,000 people in Duluth and 40,000 in Superior for an audience.

With the information that Mayor Haven is more than likely to veto the franchise, comes the word that the officials at the Canadian Northern headquarters at Toronto have issued orders to their engineers to begin preliminary surveys for a route to Superior. This was known to some of the city council last night but there was no public announcement. What effect it may have had in influencing votes for the franchise, is problematical.

Asked this morning if he will veto the franchise Mayor Haven said that the franchise has not yet come to Springfield, Ill., Feb. 8.—State Senator J. Glacklin, Democrat, introduced in the legislature today a resolution in which it is contended that the increased cost of living is due to the tariff, and adds:

HUMAN CHAIN IN ICY WATER

Five Patrolmen Save Man From Drowning in Harlem River.

New York, Feb. 8.—By the aid of a human chain, made up of five patrolmen, Morris Sullivan, 55 years old, was saved from death by drowning in the Harlem river early this morning.

Sullivan fell into the water from a pier. Patrolman Theodore Hall, a block away, heard his cries and rushed to aid him. Although the water was ice cold, the officer stripped off his coat, kicked off his shoes and dived in. He reached Sullivan just as the latter was going down for the last time.

Hall, however, was seized with a sudden cramp as he clutched the drowning man's collar. Both men would have perished but for the timely arrival of four more policemen, who formed a chain from the edge of the pier and gripped Hall under the arms. The patrolman in the water was still holding Sullivan in a firm grasp when the four officers above dragged the pair from the water and pulled them dripping to the floor of the pier

SEATTLE VOTERS AT THE PRIMARIES

Liquor and White Slave Issues Have Figured in the Campaign.

Seattle, Wash., Feb. 8.—Primaries are being held here today to nominate candidates for all city offices. The party system is preserved by state law. Interest centers in the contest between Hiram C. Gill and A. V. Bouillon, Democratic candidates for the mayoralty nomination. Gill has promised a "wide open" town.

Seattle's position on the "white slave" traffic, as outlined in the recent federal immigration commission's report, has played a strong part in the campaign.

FIRE CRIES, "DEAR ME!"

Shrieks Give First Alarm and Prevent Possible Loss of Life.

New York, Feb. 8.—"Oh, my, dear me! Fire! Fire!" were cries from the kitchen that awakened Mrs. William Bows in her apartment on First avenue today.

Running into the room Mrs. Bows found it filled with smoke, from the thick of which her highly prized South American parrot, an educated talker, had given an alarm in plain language that probably saved the building from burning over the heads of scores of tenants.

Mrs. Bows saved her parrot, and the fire, which started in a store on the ground floor, was extinguished with comparitively small damage. The tenants fled from the building during the excitement and stood shivering in the cold until the firemen had the blaze under control.

LIND AFTER A PRESIDENT

Dr. Hill of Missouri Has Declined Offer to Come to Minnesota.

Washington, Feb. 8.—(Special to The Herald.)—Ex-Governor John Lind and wife of Minnesota arrived in Washington last night and have taken an apartment at the Cairo. It is understood that they will remain in Washington about a week. Mr. Lind is chairman of the board of regents for the state university, who have charge of the selection of a president of the university. It is said that Mr. Lind is here to talk with several prominent educators whom they have in mind as available timber for that position.

Hill has Declined.

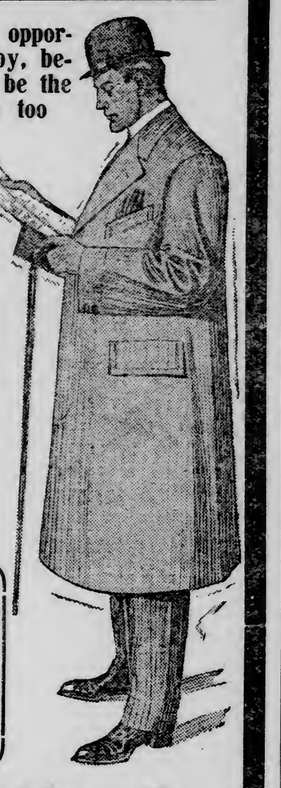

St. Paul, Minn., Feb. 8.—(Special to The Herald.)—The regents of the University of Minnesota today received a telegram from Dr. A. Ross Hill, president of the University of Missouri, declining the offer of the presidency of the University of Minnesota.

Dr. Hill said that his duties to the University of Missouri forbade him from accepting the generous offer of the regents of the University of Minnesota.

SALOON GATHERING IS DESCRIBED IN COURT

Witnesses Tell of Events Previous to Shooting of Otto Frey.

The Trial of Jackson McPherson Is Resumed Before Judge Ensign.

JACKSON McPHERSON, Who Is Being Tried for Murder.

The describing of the events which took place previous to the shooting of Otto Frey on the Mutual Transit Steamer North Lake on Sept. 22 last, occupied the time of the witnesses and the attention of the jury in the case of the state of Minnesota against Jackson McPherson, when the trial was this morning resumed in district court before Judge Ensign.

The details of the scuffle and just how the crime was committed, have as yet been left untouched. The state is presenting its side of the case and as there are many witnesses to be examined, it is expected that the trial will drag out longer than was at first expected.

The testimony offered this morning pertained mostly to the meeting of the large number of sailors, woodsmen and others in the saloon of Eli Cholett, 913 West Michigan street, some days previous to the day on which the crime was committed.

It was in this saloon that McPherson either in a playful or serious mood, took several articles from the pocket of George Thatcher, proprietor of the Rising Sun hotel on Lake avenue, who was present at the morning gathering. While the articles were trivial and amounted to very little, the men disagree in their opinion as to whether or not McPherson took them as a joke or really meant to take them.

"Work Rather Coarse."

Thatcher testified that he at the time considered the matter a joke, although he turned McPherson at the time and said: "Your work is rather coarse, don't you think? That's a rather serious offense up in this neck of the woods." Several of the bystanders joined in the talk and Frey told McPherson that as he had only just met the men, he shouldn't do such things. Among the articles taken was a handkerchief and a case used to carry one's glasses. The articles were returned to the owner just a moment after they were taken.

It was soon after this happening that Thatcher bought a "drink all around," and he and McPherson shook hands on the incident just described. Frey, it is claimed, continued to talk about the matter, insisting that it was a very low thing to do among men who might think that "Mac," as he was called, really intended to take the articles and appropriate them to his own use. He evidently believed that McPherson did intend to keep the articles, for, in addition to the continued talk, he refused to go back to the boat when McPherson invited him. He is said to have said: "I won't walk on the street with a thief." According to the testimony offered this morning, McPherson did not defend himself at all, and shortly after Frey had refused to walk with him, left the saloon and made his way back to the boat alone.

Leonard Kerr, a woodsman, and D. Foreman, who works for the Lund Van & Storage company, told of being in the saloon. They heard the talk over what had happened, but had seen no part of it.

Witness Caused Laugh.

Dan O'Brien, who hardly knows his own name, because he answers to "Micky," "Mike," "Dan," "Tom," "Jake" and several other nicknames created a laugh when he began to recite his names, saying that he answered to all of them and hardly knew what his first name really is. O'Brien said that McPherson was drinking gin and that he was fairly "full." He saw the gun as McPherson showed it to him and the sailor is said to have remarked that "he would get him." Whom McPherson meant, O'Brien made no move to find out. He did, however, inform a policeman that a man with a gun was pretty drunk and might cause trouble. There seems to have been no feeling between Frey and McPherson at this time, with the exception of a few uncomplimentary remarks made by Frey. McPherson took none of them up, however.

Guy Davis, a cook by trade and who lives at Tower, Minn., testified as to the relations of the two men at the time he was on the boat which was two trips previous to the time of the crime.

He said that McPherson and Frey had nothing to do with each other while he was on the boat, but admitted that they became firm friends after he left. Both McPherson and Frey were firemen and both worked at the same time, which probably gave them a good chance to get acquainted and strike up a friendship. Davis said that he never liked McPherson, didn't like his style, and didn't think he was a fit companion. He said that in Buffalo was the first time he had seen McPherson's revolver. He had evidently just purchased it, and as he showed it to Davis he remarked that no one would dare to touch him now. Davis thought that he meant the union men as there was trouble at that time on the lakes and that McPherson was known as a "scab." He said also that McPherson had also remarked that he had looked all over Buffalo for trouble, but that there was not a man in town who wanted to fight.

Frey "On the Wagon."

Davis testified that on the morning of the crime he met Frey and McPherson early in the morning at the corner of Fifth avenue west and Superior street. This was about 6 o'clock. The trio retired to a saloon and had several drinks. Frey refused to drink announcing that he was "on the wagon," but took a cigar instead. Later in the day, it appears, Davis was working on the dock when the shot was fired. What he thought was the snapping of a steel cable was really a shot. Frey stumbled on the deck and with an exclamation threw up his hands and fell on the deck dead. At this point there was considerable discussion as to the doors on the bunk house and the manner in which Frey landed on the deck. McPherson came out of the door shortly after Frey had fallen on the deck and walked swiftly toward the back of the boat. Davis yelled to him and asked what had happened. McPherson threw up his hands and cried "Everything is all off now."

An atmosphere of the lakes was lent to the court room this morning. Nearly all of the large crowd present has been called as witnesses in the case, and they ranged in occupation from the mates down to the dock workers.

McPherson is taking an active interest in the case. His pencil records important utterances of the witnesses and he frequently calls the attention of his attorney to points he considers important. He seems to be reasonably sure of his acquittal, and is nearly all the time in a cheerful frame of mind. He discusses his case with whoever appears interested, and seems to think he took the only way out of the scrape. He talks like an educated man and admits that since his confinement in the county jail he has been doing considerable—studying.

McPherson is said to have come of very good old Scottish stock.

DEER RIVER CREAMERY.

First Steps Are Taken Towards Establishing New Industry.

Deer River, Minn., Feb. 8.—The first actual move toward establishing the first creamery in Itasca county has been made. A few farmers and most of the business men of Deer River held a meeting in the Electric theater, heard a report of a census taken as to the number of milch cows immediately available and voted unanimously in favor of the project. They discussed the different phases of the business at length and appointed a temporary committee on organization, with M. J. Baker as president; S. J. Moran, secretary, and George Ruby, director. The committee's report to be acted upon at the next meeting to be called will propose a plant to cost between $2,000 and $3,000, with an estimate of the required capital to start with; recommend the price or shares to be $20 or $25.

COUNTY SEAT FIGHT.

Construction of Soo Line May Figure in Mountrail Squabble.

Stanley, N. D., Feb. 8.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Soo railway may become a factor in the county seat fight brewing in Mountrail county, the prospects of the construction of a road near Plaze to provide adequate transportation facilities for the Fort Berthold Indian reservation district, and running northward into the central part of the county being such that the establishment of new towns in the most central portion of the county seems certain.

Rival surveying crews of the Soo and Great Northern are said to be at work in the Plaze district, both companies having intentions of tapping the big Fort Berthold country, which will soon be opened to settlement.

A county seat fight in this county is expected. Stanley was made the county seat by the board of county commissioners, appointed by the governor a year ago, but there are other cities in the county that are desirous of having that honor. The contest will take place in the election next fall, with Palermo as one of the leading cities opposing Stanley.

ONE OF THOSE WHO CAN ALMOST FLY LIKE A BIRD

H. LaV. TWINING.

The aronautic carnival held in Los Angeles stimulated the already considerable interest in aeronautics on the Pacific coast, and a number of Western inventors have experimented with novel types of flying machines. The most interesting of these is the "ornithopter" of H. LaV. Twining. The bird machine always appeals to the imagination because it follows a form of flying with which we are thoroughly familiar. Mr. Twining's ornithopter is theoretically correct, but he has not been able to get it off the ground yet because the energy of the machine was not proportioned to its weight and general resistance. Compared with the aeroplanes, the ornithopter is very light. It weighs 240 pounds. The spread of the wings is 27 feet and their area 60 square feet. The sweep of the tip of the wing is 10½ feet. The wings beat 52 times to the minute. The lift on their downstroke is 120 pounds. All these observations were made when the machine was suspended from a spring balance. It will be necessary to get another 120-pounds lift on the downstroke to get the machine into the air. Mr. Twining thinks the machine he is now building will accomplish this.

SAYS ROOSEVELTS ATE GOOD MEAT

Negro Who Served Them as Steward Denies Stories Told to Committee.

Washington, Feb. 8.—Henry Pinckney, a negro messenger in the executive offices of the White House, who served as steward under the Roosevelt administration, denied today the testimony given before a house committee yesterday by an inspector of the local health department that "putrid" meat had been served to President Roosevelt at the White House.

Pinckney declared that Mrs. Roosevelt always supervised the purchase of market supplies, and that only the freshest meats were served at the White House table. Pinckney said the meat was bought not in quarters, as testified to, but from day to day as needed. So far as he knew, no food inspectors ever came into the White Hoouse kitchen during Mr. Roosevelt's term, and none would have been allowed there.

RECOVERS THE LOAN

But Wife Fails to Collect Wages From Former Husband.

Jury Decides an Odd Case in the District Court.

By a sealed verdict read before Judge Dibell in district court this morning, Mrs. Betty Nelson recovers from Jacob Nelson, $350, the amount she loaned him about a year ago. This ends one of the queerest cases ever heard in the local court.

In 1905, Mrs. Nelson was divorced from her husband, Jacob Nelson, and he was ordered to pay her alimony to the amount of $700 which he did.

Later she went back to live with him as his housekeeper. For her services she claimed she was to have received a monthly wage. She sued for $20 a month and the $350 which she had loaned him during her period of work as housekeeper.

It was claimed that she helped him in the field, milked the cows, and in addition, did the work inside the house. The jury finally decided that as her children were being cared for, she received full value for services rendered.

CONCERNING WOMAN.

The Rev. M. J. Alexanian, formerly connected with the Museum of Art of Constantinople and Cairo, delivered a most interesting address this morning before the members of the Twentieth Century club at the clubroom of the library on "The Origin and Significance of Design in Antique Rugs."

"The study of antique rugs interests the antiquarian, the craftsman, the art lover, the economist and the housewife," said the speaker. "It interests the antiquarian because weaving is the oldest of the textile arts; the craftsman because no machinery has yet made anything more durable or beautiful; the art lover because before the richest examples of this great art he must murmur in admiration 'these are my masters;' the economist because of the durability of the rugs and the increase in value, shows in them money well invested; and the housewife because in these rugs she finds the requirements for health, suitability and beauty.

"The study of rug weaving is inspiring and interesting. It carries one back into history and then further back into legend and tradition. It is difficult because rug weaving is bound up in mysticism and symbol and the many who have labored to master the significance of design in antique rugs have a world of research before them. In the emblematic designs are bound up the life and history of the people."

Mr. Alexanian explained in detail several rare examples of antique rugs which he had on display. A large number of the club members and their guests enjoyed the lecture and the authoritative discussion of the beautiful rugs shown.

ST. PAUL MUSICIANS

Present Program Before the Matinee Musicale Members.

The second of the reciprocity programs to be presented before the Matinee Musicale for this year was given yesterday afternoon at the assembly room of the Young Women's Christian association, when visitors from the Schubert Club of St. Paul were heard in a delightful program. The assembly hall was completely filled with the members of the Matinee Musicale and their guests, and the program presented by Mrs. Bessie Parnell Weston, pianist; Miss Marie McCormick, soprano and Miss Ina Grange accompanist, was delightfully given and greatly enjoyed.

Following the program a reception was held in compliment to the visitors. Presiding at the refreshment tables were Mrs. G. G. Hartley and Mrs. R. M. Atwater. The reciprocity programs have been among the most interesting events of the year and have appealed to the entire membership of the club. It is expected that this feature of the work will become one of the most valuable and far-reaching in its influence.

SAGINAW WEDDING.

Hanchett-Grant Affair a Brilliant Event.

Duluth society will be much interested in the following account from the Saginaw Evening News, of the wedding of Miss Elise Hanchett to Richard Frank Grant, which took place last Friday evening at St. John's church of Saginaw:

"The SaintSaens 'Bridal Procession' gave notice of the arrival of the bride at the church portals, and the surpliced choir boys went from the sacristy to meet the party, preceding the bridal party to the chancel rails, to the strains of the Lohengrin wedding music. Following the choristers came the ushers, eight in number, as follows:

"W. S. Telford, Gilbert Cutler, Herbert Spencer, Charles McBride and James D. Ireland, all of Duluth, Minn.; Charles N. Hickok, Cleveland, Ohio; Ronald De Golyer, Evanston, Ill., and Samuel C. N. Kimberly of Saginaw, brother of the bride. Following the ushers, the order of the bridal party procession was: The matron of honor, Mrs. Harrison Musgrave, Chicago, sister of the bride; ringbearer, Master Harrison Musgrave, Jr., nephew of the bride; maids of honor, Miss Jessie Ring and Miss Helen Stark, Saginaw; bridesmaids, Miss Marion Deering, New York; Miss Helen Knowlton, Miss Ruth Hubbell, Miss Katharine Rust and Miss Meta Rupp, Saginaw.

"The bride, wearing a costume of rich white satin, with over-drape of silk tulle, the corsage trimmed with pointe Venise lace, and also wearing the bridal veil caught with orange blossoms and buds, and carrying a bouquet of white orchids and lilies of the valley, brought up the rear of the procession escorted by her father, Hon. Benton Hanchett.

"The matron of honor wore a gown of white satin and chiffon embroidered with silver bugle trimming. She carried American beauty roses and wore a silver wreath in her hair.

"The maids of honor wore green satin with tunics of crystal dotted net. They carried white roses with pearl ornaments in their hair.

"The bridesmaids wore white satin with tunics of white chiffon, bordered with silver bugle trimming. They carried Killarney roses with pink rosebud wreaths in their hair.

"Upon the arrival of the bride and her father at the chancel steps they were met by the groom, accompanied by his brother and best man, James D. Grant of Fargo, N. D. The betrothal service took place at the chancel steps, and at its conclusion the portals of green were parted by two little surpliced choir boys, George and Ripley Schemm, and the bridal party took its station at the altar, where the impressive conclusion of the ceremony took place and the benediction was given. The joyous Mendelssohn wedding march music announced the conclusion of the church rites. Led by the bride and groom the bridal party left for the Hanchett home at 1090 North Michigan avenue, where a reception immediately followed, those receiving being Hon. and Mrs. Benton Hanchett, parents of the bride; Mr. and Mrs. Frank F. Grant, Fargo, N. D., parents of the groom; Mrs. Findley Cameron, Grand Forks, N. D., sister of the groom; the bride and groom and their bridal party.

"Bride and groom were showered with congratulations and later left on a bridal tour which will include Palm Beach, Southern points, Cuba and Nassau, B. I. The bride, whose education at Ogontz and at Briar Cliff has been supplemented by extensive travel at home and abroad, is a most charming and gifted young lady. Her social position and distinguished family brought her into contact with the best and brightest the world offers, and she is naturally fitted to grace any sphere. Among her friends and intimates she is held in the most affectionate regard; her qualities of mind and heart marking her as one fully worthy of the love and esteem accorded her, as a true gentlewoman.

"Mr. Grant is also prominently connected and has an assured position in Cleveland where he will continue to practice his profession."

The wedding at Philadelphia of Miss Blanche Myers, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob R. Myers, formerly of this city, was of interest to many here. The following account is from the columns of a Philadelphia paper:

"Miss Blanche Myers, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Myers of 6015 Wayne avenue, Germantown, and Leo Nelson Sharpe of Michigan, were married at the home of the bride's parents on Tuesday at 6:30 o'clock.

"In the music room, where the ceremony was performed, great clusters of white roses and lilacs formed the decorations, while one end of the room was massed with palms, just in front of which stood a white marble pedestal bearing a great vase of lilacs and roses and almost covered with white tulle.

"The dining room was a bower of daffodils in clusters and banks of ferns.

"The hall was banked with ferns, palms and American Beauty roses.

"The bride, who was given away by her father, wore a gown of white chiffon over satin, with crystal bead trimmings and old point lace. A string of pearls and an antique cameo framed in pearls, the bridegroom's gift, were her only ornaments. The bridal veil was one of rare beauty, having an entire border of duchess and point lace. She carried a shower bouquet of lilies of the valley and gardenias.

"Miss Lena Raymoure of Michigan, the maid of honor, wore a simple gown of pale yellow crepe meteor and carried yellow daisies.

"Allan Mitchell of New York, a cousin of the bride, was ring bearer, and Donald Bruce Sharpe, the bridegroom's brother, best man.

"The Rev. John Harvey Lee of the Second Presbyterian church of Germantown officiated."

CLOSET SPACE

May Be Enlarged By Ingenious Devices.

You never can provide sufficient closet room to supply the supposed needs of the average woman. Taking into consideration the care required to keep a street suit in shape, the space needed for the average hat and the fact that a muff should hang free on all sides, it is not to be wondered at, writes the Boston Herald.

There are several ways of utilizing to the very best advantage all the closet room one can boast of. If the shelf is wide, a brass rod with simple, inexpensive fixtures, is the best convenience. It will hold no end of coat and skirt hangers combined.

If the closet is not deep enough to allow the garments to swing clear of what hangs on the wall, then buy at once a dozen of the double undershelf hooks, and, if you are more or less of a pilgrim and a stronger, then take your hooks with you and screw them in the under part of the closet shelf wherever you are.

The screw is a part of the hook and no hammer or screwdriver is needed. Each hook will carry two coat or skirt hangers or play the part of two ordinary hooks. They cost 15 cents a dozen in japanned wire.

Then there is the extension rod, to be attached to the inside of a closet door. This rod will hold a dozen or more skirt and coat hangers. The only requisite is that the closet be deep enough to accommodate the rod of hanging garments.

Never forget the row or double row of pockets for shoes, slippers and gaiters. These receptacles can be made out of heavy drilling or dark cretonne and bound with braid.

One of these convenient catch-alls is never complete without four brass rings firmly sewed on to the top, so that it can be hung on little brass hooks screwed into the door. A brass hook at each of the two lower corners and always slipped over a little tack will keep the main portion straight and in place.

THE EVENING STORY

FORGETTING THE MONEY

By Elmer Carnet.

(Copyrighted. All rights reserved.)

"Well," demanded the doctor as he honed the carving knife preparatory to cutting the juicy steak, "what's in the paper?"

He glanced severely at his ward, Helen, whose duty it was to scan the paper while the doctor attended to his family duties. The girl, usually quick to respond and tell the family the principal news of the day, was strangely silent. Then she gave a great sob and laid her handsome head of glorious brown hair on her arm and sobbed violently.

The doctor ceased his carving and reached for the paper with only the exclamation: "Well, I'll be dished!"

The family awaited in a fever of impatience. Finally the doctor laid down the paper and said in a husky voice:

"Yes, it's pretty bad—but not hopeless. He's young, you know and one knockout ought not to carry him under. Besides, if you care so much your fortune is ample."

"That's the trouble," the girl sobbed. "He is so proud that he will not let any one help him—least of all a woman, and the woman he loves."

The other members of the family who had listened to this obscure conversation patiently hoping that the key would be given them, revolted at this point.

"Doctor," remarked Mrs. Doctor, severely, "will you kindly serve the breakfast—or let us know what it is all about."

Without responding to this sarcasm with his usual facetiousness the doctor silently passed the paper to his better half and after she had read the important story which had so perturbed the other two she wiped her eyes and passed the paper along.

And really it was too bad. Great black headlines chronicled the failure of the house of Cudover & Co., which, while merely meaning the loss of so many thousands to Cudover with his millions, meant the entire wiping out of Bently Chalmers—the Co., who had all his patrimony invested in the business. The paper stated specifically that the failure not only would wipe out all the young man had invested, but would eat up the entire Chalmers estate. Also that young Chalmers insisted that every dollar of indebtedness be paid if he had to take the clothes from his back.

Now the interest in all this lay in the fact that Bentley Chalmers was the affianced husband of Helen and that theirs had been the most perfect and beautiful love story possible to imagine. Both of the best type of Americans, both left with ample fortunes the attraction was not strange.

Chalmers, with the independence of the young American, however, was not satisfied to lay back and live on the income derived from the struggles and labors of the past generations and had plunged into business to carve out his own career.

To the doctor the failure was sad because he well knew the terrific difficulty in recouping fortunes—and he well knew the value of money.

To the girl it was a catastrophe because she knew the indomitable pride of her lover and she foresaw the end of her own happy dreams.

Even as they talked the matter over the doorbell rang and Miss Helen was summoned to the door. When she returned her white face told the story. She sat a moment as if dazed and then dropped her head onto her arms and sobbed in a way to draw tears to every eye.

"Come, come," cried the doctor; "this is no way to carry on. Out with it, Mistress Helen. Has he jilted you?"

"Released me," she nodded, "and says he starts for the West tomorrow to begin over again—and that I am not to wait for him because he evidently is cut out for a failure and is unworthy for any self-respecting girl to think about."

"Um," grunted the doctor. "Well cheer up and eat a piece of this tenderloin. I think there are ways to bring young fools like that to their milk."

The girl looked up with hope shining through her tears. When the doctor used that particular tone she knew he was on the warpath and that he had an idea or two up his sleeve—and all the town knew when the doctor got on the warpath there was trouble in sight for the enemy. And Helen knew that the doctor loved her as his very own and that all things would be done for her happiness.

There were many conferences between the doctor and his pretty ward and these usually ended in tears and temper on the part of the latter. But the doctor was firm and nothing was done—with the exception of the quiet work the doctor did to locate the recalcitrant lover.

Finally one glorious day the doctor came home almost bursting with the important news he had to give out. He summoned Mistress Helen to his den with an air of mystery which caused him an accounting with his spouse, who rightly believed she should be the first to hear the news.

He told Helen that he had succeeded in locating Bentley Chalmers in a Western town where he was working in an office like a slave for a $1,000 a year. Then the doctor and Mistress Helen got their heads together and concocted a great scheme to bring Mr. Runaway to his mutton, as it were.

One day the humdrum life of Bently Chalmers was elnterrupted by a letter from an old-time friend in the old town in the East—one of the few who had been intrusted with his address. The letter filled him with a great sorrow—and then with a great joy which wiped out the sorrow altogether. It told him that on account of the shifting of the values of securities and a series of unfortunate investments of her property, the entire fortune left Helen by her father had been swept from the boards and that she was practically a pauper. The letter further said that her pride was so strong that she refused to remain with the doctor, who had been all of a father to her, but had determined to go out as a teacher or governess—and added how sorry all society was to lose so bright an ornament. His correspondent went on to comment on the pity of the situation which sent a frail and unequipped girl—used to all the luxuries—out into the merciless world to suffer and struggle—and perhaps die.

Chalmers finished the letter with a whoop and two days later was speeding eastward as fast as the limited would carry him—with a week's layoff to his credit.

Helen was charmingly pleased to see him but somewhat reserved and haughty as he attempted to explain his flight. But he plead his cause with eloquence and logic—and with passion and love and won, of course.

"I ought to send you about your business and I am going to—I think"—and hesitating lost, or won. So she went away with her lover into the little city in the great West, in the role of poverty and they started in to live on $1,000 a year. Luckily he got a raise of $200 presently and they got on very well in their little vine-clad cottage in the suburb. But it was tight pinching and they sighed now and then for the theater parties and the automobiles and the seashore—and the countless diversions of the other days. But the sighs always ended in smiles and laughter and in renewed assertions that they would not trade the present life for the old one—no, not if all the gold of Croesus were to be thrown in.

This sort of thing went on all very well until the doctor, on a Western trip to inspect some mining stock, bethought himself to stop off to see how his ward was getting on. When he saw the simple cottage he smiled pleasantly—doubtless a fad of Helen's. But when he was ushered into the plain little sitting room with its cheap, but tasty furniture he gasped, and when he had sized up the apparel of the pair and partaken their plain, but appetizing supper, he began to think hard.

Presently he got a moment alone with Helen.

"What does this all mean?" he exclaimed. Surely you have not gone on fooling your husband all these years?"

Blushingly she nodded her head many times.

"But why?" insisted the doctor. "There is no necessity for it and really it must be hard work—and very dull for you both."

"No, no, my dearest guardian," replied Helen. "We are so very happy that I cannot bring myself to disturb the dream."

"But," exclaimed the doctor, mystified, "what do you do with the checks I send you every month?"

"Do you want to know?" she replied. "Then follow."

In the sewing room she pulled an impossible little drawer in the sewing machine and extracted therefrom a thread box which she handed to him with a blush. He opened it and there, neatly piled up were all the drafts he had sent her since she had left his home—amounting to many thousands of dollars.

"And he still thinks he saved you from poverty," queried the doctor, chuckling.

"Yes—and don't you dare to intimate to the contrary," replied Helen.

"Good girl," said the doctor, leaning over and kissing her, "but we will have to lay up a little scheme for her to make her money back, because Chalmers—or any other man—will tire of this sort of an unequal some day."

"Scotty" Harmstad, who came here recently from Superior, dealt the blows, and he is in jail awaiting the outcome of his victim's wounds. Reed was hauling some supplies for the St. Croix Lumber company, when Harmstad attacked him near the Iron Range depot, making several vicious stabs with a knife. After he had struck Reed several times with the knife, the latter succeeded in breaking away and at this juncture Chief of Police Seraphine arrived and arrested Harmstad, who was taken to the city jail. Reed was taken to the St. Croix boarding house and later to the hospital. Besides one deep wound the victim received several minor cuts. It is thought that he will recover. GILBERT FAVORS ISSUING BONDS

Special Election Results in Big Victory for Supporters of Plan.

Gilbert, Minn., Feb. 8.—(Special to The Herald.)—By a large majority, the voters of Gilbert yesterday went on record in favor of issuing $15,000 in bonds for completing the water and light plants. The vote was 188 to 84, over two to one in favor of the proposition.

The election, while quiet and orderly, was nevertheless of absorbing interest, as there were opponents to the plan as shown by the negative votes. The opposition came chiefly from the West end residents, who contended the tax receipts are not equitably distributed between the East and West ends.

The original townsites residents contended, however, that the western section of the village is getting all the improvements needed in the shape of the extensive water and sewer plant the Steel corporation is installing for the benefits of that section made up chiefly of former residents of Sparta, who were induced to dispose of their Sparta buildings to the corporation with the understanding that the Sparta addition to Gilbert would well be taken care of.

Vote Shows Gilbert's Growth.

The vote yesterday was large and indicates that Gilbert is a growing community. By issuing these $15,000 bonds, the village will be able to complete the water and light plant work on hand for which there was not enough money to finish and making it necessary to make a loan. The amount voted yesterday along with what has already been spent and with the amount the Steel corporation is spending in the Sparta addition, will make the expenditure in Gilbert this year for public improvements nearly $125,000.

he intends to veto the Canadian Northern franchise as passed last night by the city council.

The Mayor's Attitude.

The mayor was informed that at the council meeting last night David Sang, who has been in the foremost ranks of those fighting the entrance of the road over the route in West Duluth, cited him as believing that the road should be compelled to run south of Cody street and parallel to it until it crosses Central avenue, making the crossings at right angles.

"Was Mr. Sang correct in making that assertion?" he was asked. "Do you believe that the riad should be kept south of and parallel to Cody street?"

"I do," was the answer, short, concise and to the point.

An amendment to the franchise embodying this provision was introduced in the council a week ago yesterday by Alderman McKnight of the First ward. Last night he offered to withdraw it. The council voted it down by the same vote as it passed the franchise, 13 to 2, both the aldermen from the Eighth ward, Alderman Getchell and Alderman J. E. Foubister, being in favor of the amendment and against the franchise.

This point was called to the mayor's attention this morning at the same time the other questions were asked.

"Would the fact that both aldermen from the Eighth ward, which is the one most directly affected by the entrance of the road over the route laid out, have any influence in determining your action relative to the vetoing of the franchise?"

"It would," answered the mayor.

Should the mayor veto the franchise the council would have an opportunity to pass it over his veto. But with the fight reopened stronger than ever, and more and heavier batteries called into play by the opposition which has been battling so persistently, it is a question whether all the aldermen would vote as they did last night. A two-thirds vote, or eleven votes, would be required to pass the franchise over the veto of the mayor. Thirteen voted for it last night, Alderman Trevillon being absent.

Business Men Favor It.

Some of the most prominent men in the city have appeared before the city fathers the last few weeks to urge the granting of the franchise to the Canadian Northern. Last night F. A. Patrick and A. M. Marshall, heads of the two biggest wholesale houses west of Chicago, spoke in favor of the ordinance. A week ago Julius H. Barnes, one of the most prominent grain dealers in the Middle West, urged the adoption of the franchise. Superior street business men have been declaring that it was a shame to make the road wait until so late a date to get a franchise.

Facing them has been the fighting delegation from West Duluth. Monday night after Monday night they have been on the ground to contest the ordinance. They proclaim that they are not against the entrance of the road. They declare that they want it to come into the city, but that there are other routes which would do less damage which could be utilized. They assert that their property is being practically confiscated.

They state that their property is being depreciated 50 per cent in value, and that the best residence section of West Duluth is being utterly ruined.

Mr. Fesler's Position.

They have hired an attorney to fight their claims, which opens another unusual sidelights upon the case. Their attorney has been Bert Fesler. After March 1 Mr. Fesler will be the city attorney of Duluth. This has put him in a peculiar position. He cannot consistently represent the interests of the city and also a faction which is fighting the railroad. It is probable that the West Dulutlians, if they are to take up the fight in the courts should they deem it necessary after the franchise has come to a vote the second time, will hire another attorney. They raised the funds to hire Mr. Fesler and some of them have declared that they will carry their case to the highest courts before they will submit to the Canadian Northern coming in over the route selected by the road's engineers.

In the meantime the railroad has started condemnation proceedings. The sheriff has served notice that the matter will come up for hearing March 12 next; about a month away. If there was no question about the mayor's approving the ordinance the matter would be disposed of easily. The city would offer no objection to the condemnation and the provisions of the ordinance would be incorporated in the court's decree allowing the condemnation, thus protecting both the railroad and the city. But without the franchise the company will have a hard fight. However, it is possible that the council may pass the franchise over the mayor's veto. In any event, it is probable that the franchise will have been disposed of as far as the council is concerned before the date set for the hearing of the condemnation proceeding.

New Legal Point.

Should the West Dulutlians be beaten in the council a second time they may put up a fight in the courts. Here it is probable that their chief asset would be the claim that the council has no right to divert park property to any other use. Mr. Fesler asserted last night that in granting the franchise the council was exceeding its authority and that should any citizen take the matter up, he could have the franchise declared illegal on those grounds.

In his address to the council Mr. Fesler called attention to the fact that the position of the council on the Canadian Northern has been inconsistent, as has that of other persons and organizations. First, he said, the council passed a resolution commending the protests of the West Dulutlians and adopted a resolution stating that the road would be granted no franchise over the route selected, which resolution was certified to the railroad company.

Next, he claimed that the council asked the city engineer for a report, but that the report has never been forthcoming and that the council has never undertaken to find out if another route could be selected.

The assessment clause was characterized by Mr. Fesler as of small importance. He alleged that the road comes in over a hill and dips down into a gully and will never be obliged to pay any great sums for street assessments. He said that when the rate clause was first incorporated it was hailed with much acclaim, but that when Mr. Mackenzie appeared he seemed to knock over the supporters of the rate clause like ten pins. He stated that the city is getting practically nothing from the road and that inthe is no adequate return for the privilege of crossing Fairmont park. He also criticised the aldermen of the other wards, saying that they were not considering the matter from a fair and impartial standpoint.

The Park Question.

F. A. Patrick, as a member of the park board, took up the statements relative to Fairmont park. He said that the board knows that it has no right to divert park property. He explained that the question was put up to the board as a business proposition. The railroad offered ten acres in exchange for the three taken for the right-of-way, and the board was asked if the bargain was a good one. He said that the board thought the trade a fair one. He, too, spoke as a business man, saying that the road ought to come in in order that Duluth jobbers and wholesalers might reach new fields. His remarks along this line were seconded by A. M. Marshall. They said newer fields will mean more manufactories for Duluth, bigger wholesale houses, and that the interests of the wholesale houses are the interests of every citizen of Duluth. They thought that the requests of the road were reasonable and ought to be granted.

George J. Mallory said that a majority of the people in West Duluth want the road to come into the city and that only a faction whose personal interests are injured, are protesting. He prognosticated a little, saying that in the future Minnesota Point will be given over to railronds coming into Duluth and that the aldermen will not stand in its way even though it is about the only summer resort in the city limits.

Alderman Getchell said that he wants the road to come in, but that he was opposed to the franchise in its present form. Alderman Foubister said he didn't think the city was getting much in the ordinance.

After the debate an attempt was made to postpone the ordinance another week, but it lost by one vote, 8 to 7, whereas nine votes were required to secure the postponement. An amendment requiring the trestle from Fifty-ninth avenue west to Grand avenue to be built of steel or concrete was also voted down.

Talked With Dr. Hyde.

First of all Miss Kellar told of an interview she had had with Dr. B. C. Hyde on the night that Moss Hunton, Col. Swope's administrator, died.

"I was passing in and out of Col. Hunton's room just about twenty minutes after Col. Hunton died," Miss Kellar said, "when Dr. Hyde met me in the hall and said that he wanted a private interview with me. I said that I would see him later, and so Dr. Hyde went to the car line and came back in about an hour and a half.

"When he got back to the house he went into the parlor and dismissed a nurse who had come to take care of Col. Hunton. The nurse left and then just Dr. Hyde and Mrs. Hyde, the undertaker and myself were awake in the house, and soon the sitting room was empty. I went in there and Dr. Hyde came in and sat down too."

Pulled at Her Handkerchief.

Miss Kellar stopped for a moment and her hands pulled at a handkerchief they held. The book and nurses' chart lay in her lap unnoticed.

"And then—" Attorney Trogdon suggested.

"Well, then Dr. Hyde spoke about how good a man Col. Hunton had been and said how awful it was that he died. Then he said that he had something to ask me. 'I am not a business man,' he told me, 'but then I can care for things pretty well. Col. Hunton is gone now and in a few days Col. Swope will make a new will and put a new man in the place of Col. Hunton as administrator. Now, you have influence with the old man and I want you to suggest me as his administrator. You see,' he said, 'Col. Swope intends to put another man in the place of Col. Hunton, and he isn't a good man for the place and I want you to suggest me.'"

"And your answer was?" Trogdon asked.

Rejected His Proposition.

"I told Dr. Hyde that I could not do that; that I would be overstepping my bounds. Then Dr. Hyde tried to persuade me that it would be all right for me to talk to Col. Swope about the matter and that I could do it very nicely. But I wouldn't consent to this. The next day Dr. and Mrs. Hyde went into the city and did not get back until 9:30. When he met me in the hall he asked me if I had spoken to Col. Swope about the matter. I told him that I had not, and there wasn't anything more said about it."

ALASKA GETTING ITS WORST WINTER

Men From Far North Travel Through Temperature 70 Below Zero.

Seattle, Wash., Feb. 8.—Three Nome merchants just arrived in Seattle having traveled from Nome to Fairbanks and Valdez on snowshoes and by stage, report that the winter in the North is the most severe ever known. They left Nome Dec. 7 and encountered continuous bad weather and temperature often 70 deg. below zero.

On the Valdez trail, they reached Miller's Road House just before the climax of a storm, and on entering the house, found four corpses laid out—those of Joe King, an old miner, frozen to death; Mrs. H. A. Rockefeller, a middle aged woman, who died on a stage coach from heart affection due to the cold; an old man named Taylor, frozen to death, and Mrs. Miller, proprietress of the road house, who had succumbed to pneumonia.

After a brief respite the blizzard is raging again, according to cable advices.

STRONG BILL AT THE BIJOU

"The Man From Minnesota" a Big Hit With Vaudeville Patrons.

In the present week's bill at the Bijou, Manager Maitland has succeeded in getting together one of the best programs that has been at the vaudeville house the present season. There is not a number upon the program that is not above the standard.

"The Man from Minnesota" is one of the most ambitious sketches put on at the Bijou since the transformation of the house into a legitimate vaudeville theater. There are five people in the cast, there is special scenery, and the action of the piece is really funny. Charles Lindholm, who wrote the piece, and who plays the part of Charlie Lutefiske, is funny and really talks the Swedish language as it is spoken by many of the members of that great race.

Louis La Velle, Myra Kelly, Ivy Stuttz and Joseph Creaghen make up the balance of the cast. The sketch concerns the affair of a servant with Charlie Lutefiske, and the mistake of the mistress of the house, who believes the young Swede from "Yersay Cety" has come to call on his wife. There are amusing complications and rapid action.

Frank Whitman presents a very amusing as well as difficult act with the violin. This young man sings, dances and plays touching tunes on the violin simultaneously. He does difficult dance steps and then breaks into some strenuous jig dancing. All the time his violin is furnishing the music for the dance steps.

Meier and Mora open the bill. They dance, sing, have a bag punching act and do some clever and out of the ordinary stunts. Which is Meier and which is Mora it is difficult to say. But just a word for the lady member of the team. Whether she be Meier or Mora—she is all right.

Fox and Ward, black face comedians or minstrel men, have been together since the first Balkan insurrection broke out. They have been with the minstrel game since the first covered wagons carried the original minstrel man in search of new fields to conquer. They have some new stuff and what old stuff they have they present in an original manner. They are not coarse, either, which is a distinct relief in black face work.

The second big act of the present week's bill, is the Laagard troupe of five acrobats. This troupe deserves all that has been said of them. Last night the members of the troupe did some stunts that have never been seen on the Bijou stage and they performed them with an ease and finish that spoke much for their training and ability. The stunts of the five are interesting from the start.

Earl Morse sings about the hat "me father wore" and the motion pictures are up to the usual standard.

"Chinatown Charlie."

The attraction at the Lyceum tonight will be the Halliday-Franklin Stock company in a sensational four-act drama entitled "Chinatown Charlie."

The play abounds in thrilling situations and pictures widely several phases of life in the Chinatown of New York.

"St. Elmo."

"St. Elmo," the offering of the Yankee Doodle Stock company at the Lyceum for three nights beginning Wednesday is a dramatization of the delightful romance of that name by Augusta Evans Wilson. It will be played by the Yankee Doodle Stock company with the most careful attention to the text of the story and will show the famous duelling scene in a prologue.

"St. Elmo" will open with a special matinee on Wednesday.

HEYBURN STIRS UP THE SESSION

Makes Red-Hot Speech On Loaning Government Tents to Confederate Veterans.

Washington, Feb. 8.—Though disclaiming any intention of waving the "bloody shirt," Senator Heyburn of Idaho made the closing hour of the senate session lively yesterday by a denunciation of the Confederacy and of the men who fought against the Union during the Civil war. In the cause he advocated, however, he lacked followers, for when a vote by roll call was taken upon the conclusion of his speech he found that he alone raised his voice against the measure under consideration, which was the loaning of government tents for the use of Confederate veterans at the annual reunion in Mobile, Ala., next April.

No senator responded to Senator Heyburn's denunciation. When the speaker had concluded, Senator Bankhead of Alabama simply said:

"I am sure the senator from Idaho feels much better, and I ask for a vote."

Voted All Alone.

Every senator, Republican as well as Democrat, save Senator Heyburn, voted to grant the use of the tents.

During the speech Senator Heyburn referred to Virginia's choice of Robert E. Lee as one of her sons whose memory she delighted to honor by placing his statue in the capitol. The Idaho senator condemned Virginia's action, expressing the view that Virginia should not violate a sentiment that "exists today as it existed in the sixties." He called upon those who had sent the statue to the capitol to "come and take it away; it may be dear to you, but it is not dear to us."

HOUSE FULL OF PEOPLE DELIBERATELY FIRED.

New York, Feb. 8.—Investigation showed today that a fire which trapped eighty persons on the upper floors of a six-story tenement in West Twenty-ninth street was of incendiary origin.

The flames cut off exit by the regular stairways, and when the police arrived there was a panic among tenants. Policemen who ascended the fire escapes fought back the excited men, women and children and then carried them to the street.

Baltimore, Md., Feb. 8.—Maj. Gen. Leonard Wood, who is a patient at a hospital here receiving treatment for a head injury suffered several days ago, was reported to be better this morning and was sitting up.

WOMAN IS THE BETTER—BETTER HALF.

Man only thinks he is the lord of creation. His, in reality, is the puppet crown. The power behind the throne pulls the strings. Woman rules by wit, by art, by subtlety; but chief of her weapons are beauty of face and grace of line.

Women feel their sovereignty grow less sovereign, therefore, as their weight increases. This is a fatal error. To prevail, women must be graceful. Man will not escape slavery, but he will be some one else's slave. That's the rub.

Dominate your figure by means of Marmola Prescription Tablets. Reduce it, if necessary, or hold its trimness intact. You can do so by taking a tablet after every meal and at bedtime. That is the only requirement. No exercising is necessary, no dieting need be done. The tablet, unaided, will take off a pound a day, and, best of all, first of all, where it shows the most, as on chin, abdomen, hips, etc.

Anticipate no ill effects, only advantage and a strengthening of your bondage over some man. The tablets are inexpensive, one large case (obtainable of the Marmola Co., 491 Farmer Bldg., Detroit, Mich., or any good druggist), costing only seventy-five cents, and they are also noninjurious, being made exactly in accordance with the famous fashionable formula, ½ oz. Marmola, ½ oz. Fld. Ex. Cascara Aromatic, 3½ oz. Peeppermint Water.

GILBERT FAVORS ISSUING BONDS

Special Election Results in Big Victory for Supporters of Plan.

Gilbert, Minn., Feb. 8.—(Special to The Herald.)—By a large majority, the voters of Gilbert yesterday went on record in favor of issuing $15,000 in bonds for completing the water and light plants. The vote was 188 to 84, over two to one in favor of the proposition.

The election, while quiet and orderly, was nevertheless of absorbing interest, as there were opponents to the plan as shown by the negative votes. The opposition came chiefly from the West end residents, who contended the tax receipts are not equitably distributed between the East and West ends.

The original townsites residents contended, however, that the western section of the village is getting all the improvements needed in the shape of the extensive water and sewer plant the Steel corporation is installing for the benefits of that section made up chiefly of former residents of Sparta, who were induced to dispose of their Sparta buildings to the corporation with the understanding that the Sparta addition to Gilbert would well be taken care of.

Vote Shows Gilbert's Growth.

The vote yesterday was large and indicates that Gilbert is a growing community. By issuing these $15,000 bonds, the village will be able to complete the water and light plant work on hand for which there was not enough money to finish and making it necessary to make a loan. The amount voted yesterday along with what has already been spent and with the amount the Steel corporation is spending in the Sparta addition, will make the expenditure in Gilbert this year for public improvements nearly $125,000.

he intends to veto the Canadian Northern franchise as passed last night by the city council.

The Mayor's Attitude.

The mayor was informed that at the council meeting last night David Sang, who has been in the foremost ranks of those fighting the entrance of the road over the route in West Duluth, cited him as believing that the road should be compelled to run south of Cody street and parallel to it until it crosses Central avenue, making the crossings at right angles.

"Was Mr. Sang correct in making that assertion?" he was asked. "Do you believe that the riad should be kept south of and parallel to Cody street?"

"I do," was the answer, short, concise and to the point.

An amendment to the franchise embodying this provision was introduced in the council a week ago yesterday by Alderman McKnight of the First ward. Last night he offered to withdraw it. The council voted it down by the same vote as it passed the franchise, 13 to 2, both the aldermen from the Eighth ward, Alderman W. B. Getchell and Alderman J. E. Foubister, being in favor of the amendment and against the franchise.

This point was called to the mayor's attention this morning at the same time the other questions were asked.

"Would the fact that both aldermen from the Eighth ward, which is the one most directly affected by the entrance of the road over the route laid out, have any influence in determining your action relative to the vetoing of the franchise?"

"It would," answered the mayor.

Should the mayor veto the franchise the council would have an opportunity to pass it over his veto. But with the fight reopened stronger than ever, and more and heavier batteries called into play by the opposition which has been battling so persistently, it is a question whether all the aldermen would vote as they did last night. A two-thirds vote, or eleven votes, would be required to pass the franchise over the veto of the mayor. Thirteen voted for it last night, Alderman Trevillon being absent.

Business Men Favor It.

Some of the most prominent men in the city have appeared before the city fathers the last few weeks to urge the granting of the franchise to the Canadian Northern. Last night F. A. Patrick and A. M. Marshall, heads of the two biggest wholesale houses west of Chicago, spoke in favor of the ordinance. A week ago Julius H. Barnes, one of the most prominent grain dealers in the Middle West, urged the adoption of the franchise. Superior street business men have been declaring that it was a shame to make the road wait until so late a date to get a franchise.

Facing them has been the fighting delegation from West Duluth, Monday night after Monday night they have been on the ground to contest the ordinance. They proclaim that they are not against the entrance of the road. They declare that they want it to come into the city, but that there are other routes which would do less damage which could be utilized. They assert that their property is being practically confiscated.

They state that their property is being depreciated 50 per cent in value, and that the best residence section of West Duluth is being utterly ruined.

Mr. Fesler's Position.

They have hired an attorney to fight their claims, which opens another unusual sidelights upon the case. Their attorney has been Bert Fesler. After March 1 Mr. Fesler will be the city attorney of Duluth. This has put him in a peculiar position. He cannot consistently represent the interests of the city and also a faction which is fighting the railroad. It is probable that the West Duluthians, if they are to take up the fight in the courts should they deem it necessary after the franchise has come to a vote the second time, will hire another attorney. They raised the funds to hire Mr. Fesler and some of them have declared that they will carry their case to the highest courts before they will submit to the Canadian Northern coming in over the route selected by the road's engineers.

In the meantime the railroad has started condemnation proceedings. The sheriff has served notice that the matter will come up for hearing March 12 next, about a month away. If there was no question about the mayor's approving the ordinance the matter would be disposed of easily. The city would offer no objection to the condemnation and the provisions of the ordinance would be incorporated in the court's decree allowing the condemnation, thus protecting both the railroad and the city. But without the franchise the company will have a hard fight. However, it is possible that the council may pass the franchise over the mayor's veto. In any event, it is probable that the franchise will have been disposed of as far as the council is concerned before the date set for the hearing of the condemnation proceeding.

New Legal Point.

Should the West Duluthians be beaten in the council a second time they may put up a fight in the courts. Here it is probable that their chief asset would be the claim that the council has no right to divert park property to any other use. Mr. Fesler asserted last night that in granting the franchise the council was exceeding its authority and that should any citizen take the matter up, he could have the franchise declared illegal on those grounds.

In his address to the council Mr. Fesler called attention to the fact that the position of the council on the Canadian Northern has been inconsistent, as has that of other persons and organizations. First, he said, the council passed a resolution commending the protests of the West Duluthians and adopted a resolution stating that the road would be granted no franchise over the route selected, which resolution was certified to the railroad company.

Next, he claimed that the council asked the city engineer for a report, but that the report has never been forthcoming and that the council has never undertaken to find out if another route could be selected.

The assessment clause was characterized by Mr. Fesler as of small importance. He alleged that the road comes in over a hill and dips down into a gully and will never be obliged to pay any great sums for street assessments. He said that when the rate clause was first incorporated it was hailed with much acclaim, but that when Mr. Mackenzie appeared he seemed to knock over the supporters of the rate clause like ten pins. He stated that the city is getting practically nothing from the road and that there is no adequate return for the privilege of crossing Fairmont park. He also criticised the aldermen of the other wards, saying that they were not considering the matter from a fair and impartial standpoint.

The Park Question.

F. A. Patrick, as a member of the park board, took up the statements relative to Fairmont park. He said that the board knows that it has no right to divert park property. He explained that the question was put up to the board as a business proposition. The railroad offered ten acres in exchange for the three taken for the right-of-way, and the board was asked if the bargain was a good one. He said that the board thought the trade a fair one. He then spoke as a business man, saying that the road ought to come in in order that Duluth jobbers and wholesalers might reach new fields. His remarks along this line were seconded by A. M. Marshall. They said new fields will mean more manufactories for Duluth, bigger wholesale houses, and that the interests of the wholesale houses are the interests of every citizen of Duluth. They thought that the requests of the road were reasonable and ought to be granted.

George L. Mallory said that a majority of the people in West Duluth want the road to come into the city and that only a faction whose personal interests are injured, are protesting. He prognosticated a little, saying that in the future Minnesota Point will be given over to railroads coming into Duluth and that the aldermen will not stand in its way even though it is about the only summer resort in the city limits.

Alderman Getchell said that he wants the road to come in, but that he was opposed to the franchise in its present form. Alderman Foubister said he didn't think the city was getting much in the ordinance.

After the debate an attempt was made to postpone the ordinance another week, but it lost by one vote, 8 to 7, whereas nine votes were required to secure the postponement. An amendment requiring the trestle from Fifty-ninth avenue west to Grand avenue to be built of steel or concrete was also voted down.

Talked With Dr. Hyde.

First of all Miss Kellar told of an interview she had had with Dr. B. C. Hyde on the night that Moss Hunton, Col. Swope's administrator, died.

"I was passing in and out of Col. Hunton's room just about twenty minutes after Col. Hunton died," Miss Kellar said, "when Dr. Hyde met me in the hall and said that he wanted a private interview with me. I said that I would see him later, and so Dr. Hyde went to the car line and came back in about an hour and a half.

"When he got back to the house he went into the parlor and dismissed a nurse who had come to take care of Col. Hunton. The nurse left and then just Dr. Hyde and Mrs. Hyde, the undertaker and myself were awake in the house, and soon the sitting room was empty. I went in there and Dr. Hyde came in and sat down too."

Pulled at Her Handkerchief.

Miss Kellar stopped for a moment and her hands pulled at a handkerchief they held. The book and nurses' chart lay in her lap unnoticed.

"And then—" Attorney Trogdon suggested.

"Well, then Dr. Hyde spoke about how good a man Col. Hunton had been and said how awful it was that he died. Then he said that he had something to ask me. 'I am not a business man,' he told me, 'but then I can care for things pretty well. Col. Hunton is gone now and in a few days Col. Swope will make a new will and put a new man in the place of Col. Hunton as administrator. Now, you have influence with the old man and I want you to suggest me as his administrator. You see,' he said, 'Col. Swope intends to put another man in the place of Col. Hunton, and he isn't a good man for the place and I want you to suggest me.'

"And your answer was?" Trogdon asked.

Rejected His Proposition.

"I told Dr. Hyde that I could not do that; that I would be overstepping my bounds. Then Dr. Hyde tried to persuade me that it would be all right for me to talk to Col. Swope about the matter and that I could do it very nicely. But I wouldn't consent to this. The next day Dr. and Mrs. Hyde went into the city and did not get back until 9:30. When he met me in the hall he asked me if I had spoken to Col. Swope about the matter. I told him that I had not, and there wasn't anything more said about it."

ALASKA GETTING ITS WORST WINTER

Men From Far North Travel Through Temperature 70 Below Zero.

Seattle, Wash., Feb. 8.—Three Nome merchants just arrived in Seattle having traveled from Nome to Fairbanks and Valdez on snowshoes and by stage, report that the winter in the North is the most severe ever known. They left Nome Dec. 7 and encountered continuous bad weather and temperature often 70 deg. below zero.

On the Valdez trail, they reached Miller's Road House just before the climax of a storm, and on entering the house, found four corpses laid out—those of Joe King, an old miner, frozen to death; Mrs. H. A. Rockefeller, a middle aged woman, who died on a stage coach from heart affection due to the cold; an old man named Taylor, frozen to death, and Mrs. Miller, proprietress of the road house, who had succumbed to pneumonia.

After a brief respite the blizzard is raging again, according to cable advices.

STRONG BILL AT THE BIJOU

"The Man From Minnesota" a Big Hit With Vaudeville Patrons.

In the present week's bill at the Bijou, Manager Maitland has succeeded in getting together one of the best programs that has been at the vaudeville house the present season. There is not a number upon the program that is not above the standard.

"The Man from Minnesota" is one of the most ambitious sketches put on at the Bijou since the transformation of the house into a legitimate vaudeville theater. There are five people in the cast, there is special scenery, and the action of the piece is really funny. Charles Lindholm, who wrote the piece, and who plays the part of Charlie Lutefiske, is funny and really talks the Swedish language as it is spoken by many of the members of that great race.

Louis La Velle, Myra Kelly, Ivy Stutz and Joseph Creaghen make up the balance of the cast. The sketch concerns the affair of a servant with Charlie Lutefiske, and the mistake of the mistress of the house, who believes the young Swede from "Yersay City" has come to call on his wife. There are amusing complications and rapid action.

Frank Whitman presents a very amusing as well as difficult act with the violin. This young man sings, dances and plays touching tunes on the violin simultaneously. He does difficult dance steps and then breaks into some strenuous jig dancing. All the time his violin is furnishing the music for the dance steps.

Meier and Mora open the bill. They dance, sing, have a bag punching act and do some clever and out of the ordinary stunts. Which is Meier and which is Mora it is difficult to say. But just a word for the lady member of the team. Whether she be Meier or Mora—she is all right.

Fox and Ward, black face comedians or minstrel men, have been together since the first Balkan insurrection broke out. They have been with the minstrel game since the first covered wagons carried the original minstrel man in search of new fields to conquer. They have some new stuff and what old stuff they have they present in an original manner. They are not coarse, either, which is a distinct relief in black face work.

The second big act of the present week's bill, is the Laagard troupe of five acrobats. This troupe deserves all that has been said of them. Last night the members of the troupe did some stunts that have never been seen on the Bijou stage and they performed them with an ease and finish that spoke much for their training and ability. The stunts of the five are interesting from the start.

Earl Morse sings about the hat "me father wore" and the motion pictures are up to the usual standard.

"Chinatown Charlie."

The attraction at the Lyceum tonight will be the Halliday-Franklin Stock company in a sensational four-act drama entitled "Chinatown Charlie." The play abounds in thrilling situations and pictures widely several phases of life in the Chinatown of New York.

"St. Elmo."

"St. Elmo," the offering of the Yankee Doodle Stock company at the Lyceum for three nights beginning Wednesday is a dramatization of the delightful romance of that name by Augusta Evans Wilson. It will be played by the Yankee Doodle Stock company with the most careful attention to the text of the story and will show the famous duelling scene in a prologue.

"St. Elmo" will open with a special matinee on Wednesday.

HEYBURN STIRS UP THE SESSION

Makes Red-Hot Speech On Loaning Government Tents to Confederate Veterans.

Washington, Feb. 8.—Though disclaiming any intention of waving the "bloody shirt," Senator Heyburn of Idaho made the closing hour of the senate session lively yesterday by a denunciation of the Confederacy and of the men who fought against the Union during the Civil war. In the cause he advocated, however, he lacked followers, for when a vote by roll call was taken upon the conclusion of his speech he found that he alone raised his voice against the measure under consideration, which was the loaning of government tents for the use of Confederate veterans at the annual reunion in Mobile, Ala., next April.

No senator responded to Senator Heyburn's denunciation. When the speaker had concluded, Senator Bankhead of Alabama simply said:

"I am sure the senator from Idaho feels much better, and I ask for a vote."

Voted All Alone.

Every senator, Republican as well as Democrat, save Senator Heyburn, voted to grant the use of the tents.

During the speech Senator Heyburn referred to Virginia's choice of Robert E. Lee as one of her sons whose memory she delighted to honor by placing his statue in the capitol. The Idaho senator condemned Virginia's action, expressing the view that Virginia should not violate a sentiment that "exists today as it existed in the sixties." He called upon those who had sent the statue to the capitol to "come and take it away; it may be dear to you, but it is not dear to us."

HOUSE FULL OF PEOPLE DELIBERATELY FIRED.

New York, Feb. 8.—Investigation showed today that a fire which trapped eighty persons on the upper floors of a six-story tenement in West Twenty-ninth street was of incendiary origin.

The flames cut off exit by the regular stairways, and when the police arrived there was a panic among tenants. Policemen who ascended the fire escapes fought back the excited men, women and children and then carried them to the street.

WOMAN IS THE BETTER—BETTER HALF.

Man only thinks he is the lord of creation. His, in reality, is the puppet crown. The power behind the throne pulls the strings. Woman rules by wit, by art, by subtlety; but chief of her weapons are beauty of face and grace of line.

Women feel their sovereignty grow less sovereign, therefore, as their weight increases. This is a fatal error. To prevail, women must be graceful. Man will not escape slavery, but he will be some one else's slave. That's the rub.

Dominate your figure by means of Marmola Prescription Tablets. Reduce it, if necessary, or hold its trimness intact. You can do so by taking a tablet after every meal and at bedtime. That is the only requirement. No exercising is necessary, no dieting need be done. The tablet, unaided, will take off a pound a day, and, best of all, first of all, where it shows the most, as on chin, abdomen, hips, etc.

Anticipate no ill effects, only advantage and a strengthening of your bondage over some man. The tablets are inexpensive, one large case (obtainable of the Marmola Co., 491 Farmer Bldg., Detroit, Mich., or any good druggists), costing only seventy-five cents, and they are also noninjurious, being made exactly in accordance with the famous fashionable formula, ½ oz. Marmola, ½ oz. Fld. Ex. Cascara Aromatic, 3½ oz. Peeppermint Water.

DELAYED BY BLOCKADE

Steel for Bridges Held Up Between Duluth and Chicago.

Pier for St. Louis River Bridge Completed---Auto Road Destroyed.

The freight blockade on the Western railroads has delaye the construction of the two bridges which are necessary before the Interstate Transfer company's trains can reach the site of the steel plant.

One short bridge must be constructed across the Pokegama river and the large bridge across the St. Louis river must also be completed, but the steel for these bridges has been tied up in the freight blockade. The Pokegama river bridge must be completed first, in order that the material for the larger bridge may be taken to the ground. Two or three cars of steel for the Pokegama river bridge have been tied up some place between Duluth and Chicago, either lost in the Chicago yards or snowed under on a sidetrack between the Windy City and Duluth. When this steel is once received it will take only a week or ten days to complete the bridge. The tracks can then be laid to the river and the steel for the big bridge rushed through.

In the meantime the foundations and approaches to the big bridge are about completed. The central pier has been finished and it is now covered over with canvas waiting for the steel.

The automobile road in to the branch boathouse has been put out of business by the steam shovels which are stripping for the gravel pits. The road was directly over a gravel deposit that was needed by the company, and the road had to go. It is possible that a new road can be built through to the eastward of the old one.

The stripping from above the gravel pit will be used in filling the big ravine which runs through the property.

Mr. E. A. Kelley, Belvidere, Ill., writes us: "I am an ex-engineer with 22 years active service to my credit. About three years ago my kidneys were affected so that I had to give up my engine. First I was troubled with severe, aching pain over the hips. Then followed inflammation of the bladder, acid specks appeared before my eyes. A sample of Foley's Kidney Pills that I tried so benefited me that I bought more. I continued to take them until now I can safely testify they have made me a sound and well man." WILLIAM GOFF'S FATE IN JURY'S HANDS

Trial of East Grand Forks Colored Man at Crookston Ended.

Crookston, Minn., Feb. 8.—(Special to The Herald.)—The case of William Goff, colored, who has been on trial in the district court for several days on the charge of killing Georgia Bell, also colored, East Grand Forks, Dec. 2, was submitted to the jury shortly before 10 o'clock this morning and when court adjourned at noon a verdict had not been announced.

Judge Watts in his charge to the jury did not discuss the evidence at all, but instructed the jury that a verdict for murder in the first or second degree, manslaughter in the first degree, assault in the first or second degree or acquittal could be returned as the evidence seemed to justify in the minds of the jurymen.

GEN. CHAMORRO DODGES ENEMY

Battle is Looked for Hourly Between Forces In Nicaragua.

Managua, Feb. 8.—Gen. Chamorro has eluded three columns of the government troops which were sent to besiege him in Boaco and has taken to the woods. The government forces are re-occupying the town. Boaco was captured by the insurgents under Gen. Mazis last Friday.

Washington, Feb. 8.—News of sharp fighting between Chamorro's insurgent troops and the government forces under Vasquez at the Tipitatapa river, Nicaragua, is expected momentarily here. Advices indicate that Chamorro is preparing to cross the Tipitatapa on his way to Granada and Managua, and that the Madriz forces intend to make a stand there. The river connects Lake Managua with Lake Nicaragua and the provisional government representatives here admit that all of Chamorro's strategy will be called into play if he crosses it inviting an open battle.

It is estimated here that Chamorro's troops are now within thirty miles of Managua.

HARD TO DROP.

But Many Drop It.

A young Calif wife talks about coffee:

"It was hard to drop Mocha and Java and give Postum a trial, but my nerves were so shattered that I was a nervous wreck and of course that means all kinds of ills.

"At first I thought bicycle riding caused it and gave it up, but by condition remained unchanged. I did not want to acknowledge coffee caused the trouble for I was very fond of it. At that time a friend came to live with us, and I noticed that after he had been with us a week he would not drink his coffee any more. I asked him the reason. He replied, 'I have not had a headache since I left off drinking coffee, some months ago, till last week, when I began again, here at your table. I don't see how anyone can like coffee, anyway, after drinking Postum.'

"I said nothing, but at once ordered a package of Postum. That was five months ago, and we have drank no coffee since, except on two occasions when we had company, and the result each time was that my husband could not sleep, but lay awake and tossed and talked half the night. We were convinced that coffee caused his suffering, so he returned to Postum, convinced that coffee was an enemy, instead of a friend, and he is troubled no more by insomnia.

"I, myself, have gained 8 pounds in weight, and my nerves have ceased to quiver. It seems so easy now to quit coffee that caused our aches and ails and take up Postum."

HELD FOR MURDER OF DECADE AGO

Two Men Are Arrested for Death of Woman at Belle Plaine, Iowa.

Cedar Rapids, Iowa, Feb. 8.—Francesco Guthrie and George Eddy are under arrest charged with a murder committed at Belle Plaine, Iowa, ten years ago. Guthrie was arrested at Shell Lake, Wis., and Eddy at Belle Plaine. Both were taken to Vinton for trial.

Guthrie was formerly a prominent business man of Belle Plaine. On Dec. 27, 1900, his wife was found dead in bed at her home. It was thought for a time that she had committed suicide, but later developments indicated murder.

It is charged that Guthrie was suspicious of his wife's actions and employed Eddy to watch her shortly before the death of the woman.

MONEY SAVED BY MEDICAL WORK

New York Man Tells of What Is Being Done With School Children.

Harrisburg, Pa., Feb. 8.—Medical inspection in the schools is saving this state a considerable portion of $2,-[illegible]60,000 which otherwise would be wasted on efforts to educate pupils who, by reason of removable physical defects, would be unable to profit by instructions.

Such is the estimate of Leonard P. Ayres, associate director of the department of child hygiene of the Russell Sage foundation in New York city. Mr. Ayres addressed the department of superintendents of the Pennsylvania Educational association today on the "Relation of Physical Defects to School Progress." He said:

"Some of the larger cities of this state, notably Philadelphia, have pretty well developed systems of medical inspection. That similar systems should be placed in operation in other portions of the state as a measure of economy I believe will be plainly evident from figures I shall present.

Gives Some Figures.

"If the children in Pennsylvania are like their companions in Massachusetts and New York 60 per cent of them have seriously decayed teeth. These pupils require eight and a half years to complete a course of study that a child without defects would complete in eight years.

"About one child in every seven has defective breathing; one-quarter of the school children have enlarged tonsils; one child in eight has adenoids, and nearly one-half of the pupils suffer from enlarged glands."

THREAD MILLS CLOSING DOWN

Second Strike for Increase in Wages Has Serious Outlook.

Pawtucket, R. I., Feb. 8.—One by one the different departments of the J. & P. Coats thread mills were closed today because of another strike among the back-boys and doffers, whose demands for the restoration of a 10 per cent wage cut has been refused. The mule spinners were the first to be affected. The twisting room employes followed. There was every indication that conditions which existed at the five mills of the thread combine a week ago when 2,500 operatives were forced out of work would be duplicated.

Fargo, N. D., Feb. 8.—(Special to The Herald.)—A new candidate to head the Republican ticket in this state is being urged in Judge Charles A. Pollock of Fargo. The suggestion has been made by a ceterie of Republicans, who are strongly opposed to the present methods of both the stalwart and insurgent Republican factions.

BODY NOW SAID TO BE MISS JENSEN

San Francisco, Cal., Feb. 8.—The identification of the body of the young woman found murdered last Thursday on Mount Tamalpais, which was made yesterday by Mrs. Eleanor Littlefield, a manicurist, was corroborated last night by Miss Mellie Evans, a former assistant of Mrs. Littlefield. The name of the dead girl said Miss Evans, was Miss E. Jensen.

L. H. Valentine, manager of a local transfer company, partly identified last night the effects of the victim as being those of Miss E. Jensen, who left her trunk with him last June but never called for it. He said that Miss Jensen came here from Denver.

MUST PAY FOR THE BLOCKADE RUNNER

Insurance Company Loses Contest Over Policy on Ship Taken By Japan.

San Francisco, Cal., Feb. 8.—An echo of the exciting days of blockade running during the Russo-Japanese war was awakened yesterday when the United States circuit court of appeals confirmed a judgment of $15,000 against the Maritime Insurance Company, Limited, of London, which was one of the insurers of the steamship M. S. Dollar, captured and sold as a prize by the Japanese while the vessel was attempting to run into Vladivostok with a contraband cargo.

The vessel was insured here by the M. S. Dollar Steamship company to make the voyage to Vladivostok and it was stipulated that she was to have the right to run a blockade if necessary. She carried false papers clearing her for Moji, Japan, and it was because of these papers that the Maritime Insurance company refused to pay the loss when, after the vessel had fallen into the hands of the Japanese admiralty court, she was abandoned by the steamship company to the insurers. The total insurance of $175,000 was divided among several companies.

The court held that the insurance company, when consenting to the insertion of the boickade clause, consented tacitly to the vessel's adopting any means of disguise necessary to accomplish her purpose.

DULUTH WOMAN IS PLAINTIFF

Mrs. Josephine Ash Sues for Alienation of Her Husband's Affections.

Mrs. Josephine Ash, formerly of Duluth, has filed suit in the Cook county circuit court against Miss Margaret White for $250,000 for the alleged alienation of the affections of her husband, Charles R. Ash. Miss White is the daughter of a prominent Chicago real estate man and Mr. Ash is a well-known lumberman.

Mr. Ash was a lumber broker and lived in Duluth for a number of years. He at one time owned and operated the original mill of the Virginia & Rainy Lake company at Virginia. He made several big deals and became wealthy.

About a year after the famous Nan Patterson had been acquitted of the charge of killing Caesar Young, the Eastern papers made much of an alleged flirtation between Miss Patterson and Mr. Ash. Mr. Ash declared there was nothing to the stories. A short time after that he left Duluth and went to live in New Orleans. There he is said to have met Miss White.

Oliver S. Andresen, who is acting with a Chicago attorney on behalf of Mrs. Ash, refuses to discuss the case.

FOUR PITTSBURG MEN ACCUSED OF CONSPIRACY.

Pittsburg, Pa., Feb. 8.—The Allegheny grand jury late yesterday returned conspiracy indictments against County Delinquent Tax Collector Max Leslie; E. P. Jennings, president of the Columbia National bank; Charles Stewart, former councilman, and F. F. Nicola, retired capitalist.

The indictments grow out of the selection by councils of city depositories in 1908.

LAND COMMISSIONER'S POWER IS LIMITED.

San Francisco, Feb. 8.—That the clear intent of the federal land laws cannot be set aside by a decree of the land commissioner was the decision of the United States circuit court of appeals yesterday in overruling the appeal of the Northern Pacific railroad against the revocation of certain land grants to that corporation in Montana.

When certain claims belonging to the railroad were included in the Mount Ranier forest reserve, other non-mineral bearing claims to be selected by the railroad were promised by the government in their place. The railroad selected claims patented by the land commissioner as non-mineral, but known to the company to be mineral-bearing.

Suit was brought to compel the railroad to relinquish these claims and the government was given judgment. This judgment was affirmed today.

POULTRY SHOW

18 EAST SUPERIOR STREET

February 4th to 10th

14th Annual Exhibition of The Duluth Poultry Association.

PIONEER EDITOR VISITS DULUTH.

James Knight of Norway, Mich., editor of the Norway Current was at the St. Louis last night on his way West. He was met here by his brother, Ralph Knight of Eveleth, master mechanic at the Fayal mine of the Oliver Iron Mining company.

Mr. Knight met many friends and acquaintances in the lobby of the St. Louis. He is widely known in the Lake Superior region. He was born almost within sight of the lake and he has lived near it all of his life. Mr. Knight has published the Current for more than thirty years. At one time he was mineral statistician for the state of Michigan. Among the friends who greeted him last night were Capt. Harry Roberts and John Megins of Duluth and Robert Flaherty of Port Arthur.

BEST BIRDS ARE CHOSEN

Judge James Tucker Makes Awards at the Duluth Poultry Show.

Exhibit Will Be Open to the Public Until Next Friday.

The awards at the Duluth poultry show have been made by Judge James Tucker and the birds with blue or red or white ribbons on their cages are enjoying added admiration, while those who fell below the judge's standards, are either sulking or swallowing their chagrin and putting on their best airs in an attempt to show visitors that even judges of poultry may be mistaken.

The show is drawing big crowds and visitors are well rewarded for their trouble, for there has never been a better display of fine fowl in Duluth or even in the whole Northwest. Admirers of poultry will find much to interest them. The entries are numerous and the quality of the birds of the finest.

The show will continue until Friday and interest for the remaining days will center on the prize winners.

A Common Cold.

We claim that if catching cold could be avoided some of the most dangerous and fatal diseases would never be heard of. A cold often forms a culture bed for germs of infectious diseases. Consumption, pneumonia, diphtheria and scarlet fever, four of the most dangerous and fatal diseases, are of this class. The culture bed formed by the cold favors the development of the germs of these diseases, that would not otherwise find lodgment. There is little danger, however, of any of these diseases being contracted when a good expectorant cough medicine like Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is used. It cleans out these culture beds that favor the development of the germs of these diseases. That is why this remedy has proved so universally successful in preventing pneumonia. It not only cures your cold quickly, but minimizes the risk of contracting these dangerous diseases. For sale by all druggists.

HARVESTER TRUST BARRED FROM SUING.

Charlotte, Mich., Feb. 8.—That the International Harvester company has no standing in the courts of Michigan until it can prove that it is not a trust, was the decision of Judge Clement Smith of the Eaton county circuit court today.

The harvester company had brought suit to collect a note and book account against two Grand Ledge implement dealers, whose attorney contended that the plaintiff, being an alleged trust, had no right to prosecute in this state. The judge, in discharging the jury and virtually throwing the case out of court, said:

"I am inclined to think that the defense, if it can be made out and can be shown, is a perfect defense in this case."

It is expected the case will be carried to the supreme court.

PLAYING WITH A RIFLE, BOY SHOOTS BROTHER.

Wells, Minn., Feb. 8.—Another case of "didn't know it was loaded," proved serious to John Troska, the 18-year-old son of Carl Troska of this city. John's younger brother, Charley, was playing with a rifle. Thinking it not loaded, he pointed it and fired at his brother. The bullet went through the other's wrist, struck him in the side and lodged in his back. Dr. Holm was called and extracted the bullet. The wounds are painful, but not necessarily fatal, but it may result in the loss of a hand.

European Hair Schools

In Berlin, Paris, Vienna and other European cities there are now regular schools where the scientific care of the hair is made a special study and the teachers in these schools become so skilled in the knowledge of hair that they can tell merely by the touch whether it is in a healthy condition or not. They also know the effects of different tonics on different hair or different restoratives on the same hair. It is thoroughly established that dyes are harmful to the hair. All preparations claiming to restore gray hair are subjected to the most rigid tests. If found in the least degree harmful the public is informed through official bulletins issued from time to time. In America there is no such censorship, and many preparations claiming to restore gray hair are only temporary dyes that do not go to the root of the trouble which is impoverishment of the hair glands. HAY'S HAIR HEALTH in this country is recognized as the standard restorative for prematurely gray hair. All good druggists sell it at 50c. and a dollar per bottle, or it can be purchased from the manufacturer, Philo Specialties Co., Newark, N. J., U. S. A. At W. A. ABBETT'S THREE STORES.

A CLOSE SHAVE

Many of Them Happening Every Day But Soon Forgotten.

Close shaves would be of more frequent occurrence but for the tender faces of many men, which will not permit of shaving often. Heretofore, nothing has been said in these columns about poslam, a new skin discovery, in connection with its use after shaving. Its publicity and sales have been confined almost exclusively to its remarkable properties as an eczema cure; it stops the itching at once and cures the worst cases in a few days. While the application of poslam after shaving is one of its minor uses, such as for pimples, the complexion, etc., shavers will find it a revelation, as it does for abrasions, roughness, and severe scrapings what it does for all manner of skin difficulties—heals and cures in a few hours. It is the only article possessing real antiseptic and curative value that has ever been exploited for this purpose, and will soothe and tone up the skin as no toilet preparation could possibly do.

Poslam can be had for fifty cents at any reliable druggist's particularly the Lyceum Pharmacy and Abbett's in Duluth and Holmberg's in Superior, who make a specialty of it. Or the Emergency Laboratories, No. 32 West Twenty-fifth street, New York city, will send a trial supply free by mail to any one who will write for it. This is sufficient to show results in twenty-four hours.

made entirely from the surplus earnings of the plants, amounting to over $215,000.

"The aggregate sum so expended from the earnings of the department during the entire operations by the city amount to over $475,000.

"The total bond issue since the city purchased the plants aggregates only $625,000.

"Since the purchase of the plants the department has constructed five independent pumping systems to serve suburban and outlying districts, the last independent system, known as the 'Orphanage' system, having been installed during the year 1909. This system was constructed for the purpose of supplying the new Catholic orphanage on Woodland avenue and the territory in that vicinity which is fast building up with comfortable homes.

"The re-pumpling of water by these independent systems increases the cost of pumping over the cost at the main pumping station 33 1-3 per cent. In view of this repumping of water; the costly main supply pipe leading for several miles through an unpopulated district in which there is no consumption of water, and the fact that a large part of the plant is located in districts only sparsely built up, and, further, because of the rock formation in which our mains so largely have to be laid, and the depth of the trenches required to prevent freezing, making construction work very costly, we believe our rates are reasonable.

"The surplus earnings of the department for the year 1909 amounted to $109,000, an increase over the year 1908 of $5,000, this notwithstanding a decrease of $10,000 in hydrant rentals caused by the reduction in rate charged the city for hydrants, the paying of $1,500 account the accidental death at the Booster pump house at West Duluth, and the repairs at the West Duluth reservoir amounting to nearly $6,000, most of which latter sum having been made necessary by the unsatisfactory character of the original work, caused largely by the lateness of the season when the work was completed, making it necessary to hasten the filling of the reservoir in order to prevent the heaving of the walls of the reservoir by freezing.

"The miles of water mains purchased by the city were..... 53

Meters Made Saving.

"The large increase in the use of water meters carrying out the policy of the board has largely decreased the reckless and wasteful use of water. The actual quantity pumped during the year 1909, being practically the same as that for the year 1908, while the water rates for 1909 exceeded those of 1908 by over $18,000.

"The plans of the department for the coming year in case the bond issue carries at the coming February election are in a general way as follows:

"The construction of a 5,000,000 gallon reservoir on the hillside.

"The extension of an additional 20-inch and 16-inch water main leading west from the 36-inch main in Sixteenth avenue east, the purpose being to extend this main as rapidly as possible to West Duluth with a view of giving better service in the central part of the city and preventing a large section of the city from being entirely cut off from water service by a break of the single main now leading to West Duluth, and to be prepared to meet the requirements of the new steel plant district.

"Third. The construction of the thirty extensions for which applications have been filed with the department.

"Fourth. New extensions certain to be petitioned for during the present year.

"All this work the board deems of vital interest to the city of Duluth.

"If the bond issue is approved by the vote of the people the work as contemplated can be performed, otherwise the department will be able to expend on this work only the amount of its surplus for the present year, which barring unusual and unforeseen expenditures, we can reasonably hope will amount to at least $130,000.

"We refer you to the manager's report for more detailed information regarding the operations of the department and its present condition.

"Respectfully submitted,
"GEORGE SPENCER, President,
L. B. MANLEY, Vice-President,
J. B. ELD,
T. T. HUDSON,
H. H. PHELPS,
Commissioners.

(Note—Since the above report was written the bond issue was approved.)

In introducing his report, Manager Case calls particular attention to a table giving the operating expenses of the five independent pumping systems, showing a material increase in the expense of pumping caused by the necessity of supplying water to the fivarious locations and elections.

"The cost of pumping water at Lakewood, as shown by the table, was $8.88 per 1,000,000 gallons, while the average cost of all the systems combined was $11.33 1-3 per 1,000,000 gallons, an increase of 33 1-3 per cent, not including Duluth Heights," he says. "This fact should be taken into consideration in making comparisons of water rates with other cities.

"The quantity of water pumped during 1909 is but 6,000,000 gallons more than in 1908 and had it not been necessary to empty the West Duluth and Fifteenth avenue reservoirs, amounting to 15,000,000 gallons, it would have been 9,000,000 galons less, and was less as far as the actual consumption of water is concerned."

The increase in the receipts for water in 1908 over the previous year was $18,412.41 and Mr. Case asserts that 208,000,000 gallons of water were delivered and payment received in excess of that in 1908. "In other words," he says, "that quantity of water, wasted in 1908, was saved and paid for without any increased expenditure for pumping. There is no other cause for this result but the installation of meters."

In the course of the introduction to his report, Mr. Case says:

"I am sometimes asked if I have not charged against this amount of surplus earnings some stated sum for depreciation, and also an estimated sum that would have been received in taxes had the company continued to have owned and operated the plants.

"My answer is that I have not included these possible losses in calculating the earnings of the department, neither have I included the reductions in the rates for both water and gas, as well as the reduction in hydrant rentals, service extensions, etc., that have been made possible to the people by their ownership and operation of the plants, and which aggregated this last year over $400,000.

"The closing part of my report is made up of tables showing the changes that have taken place since the purchase of the plants by the city; not only relating to the reductions in rates of all kinds, the aggregate of which is over $2,000,000, but also the improvements and enlargements of the material and physical conditions of the plants, that have been introduced.

"It is but little realized the extent of these changes.

"The water plant has doubled its miles of mains, and calculating its receipts for water on the same basis of rates as at its purchase, is selling four times the quantity of water, or an increase of over 300 per cent while the quantity of water pumped has increased but 36 per cent.

"Instead of one plant supplying water to elevations above the lake of 275 feet, the department is now operating five other independent systems, all made necessary by the variable and extreme elevations of the city.

"With the gas plant the changes have been fully as radical and progressive.

"Its pipe lines have been almost quadrupled and the gas sold increased to twelve times that of its first year.

"To supply good gas at a pressure best adapted to satisfactory service throughout the length of the city and in its various elevations, has been the study and the purpose of the department from the beginning; and I believe that with but very few exceptions this has been accomplished.

"The proposed extension of an eighteen-inch supply main from the high-pressure main in Michigan street and Eighth avenue east, through Second and Third alleys to the East end will provide the central and eastern portion of the city with an equitable pressure and volume, which at the present time is unsatisfactory.

"The residents of Lakeside little realize that in the extension of the gas mains into that locality at an expense of $70,000, that in order to get them gas at the necessary pressure, the board was obliged to extend a 10-inch main through First alley and in London road from Michigan street and Eighth avenue west at an expense of over $30,000.

"The aggregate reductions in rates are as follows:

Reductions in water rates.	$1,032,577.88
Reduction in gas rates....	$13,297.84
Reduction in charges for service extensions, water meters, lawn sprinkling, fountains and fire hydrants, over	75,000.00

"The department has accumulated also in the meantime $460,916.37, as shown in table headed "financial condition of the department."

"To offset a small part of the above is the sum of $132,210.14, paid to the department from the tax levy and about $225,000 that would have been received in taxes and in water rates from West Duluth, had the companies continued to have owned and operated the plants."

In the first two tables, the cost of operation and the earnings of the department are shown in detail. The total expense in connection with the water department was $181,572.70 and the total earnings of the water plant were $256,695.48, giving surplus earnings of $75,122.78. The expenses of the gas plant were $157,926.72 and the earnings $192,115.38, giving surplus earnings of $34,188.66, the total surplus earnings of the department being $109,311.44.

The following table shows the amount of water pumped and the expenses at the different pumping stations:

Station—	Gallons.	Gas and Coal.	Labor.	Suplies.	Repairs.
Lakewood	2,131,288,000	$14,132.49	$4,425.14	$206.86	$165.38

HALTS RELEASES IN SAN FRANCISCO

Judge Refuses to Dismiss Cases on Motion of District Attorney.

San Francisco, Cal., Feb. 8.—Superior Judge Lawler has denied a motion of the district attorney to dismiss the case of Patrick Calhoun, president of the United Railroads, who is accused of offering a bribe to a supervisor to vote for a trolley franchise. Motions to dismiss indictments against Tierey L. Ford and William Abbott, counsel for the United Railroads, and against Thornwell Mullaley, assistant to President Calhoun, charged with bribery, also were denied.

PAPER BOARD MEN ARE FINED $52,000

Twenty-Six Manufacturing Firms Plead Guilty Under Indictments.

New York, Feb. 8.—Twenty-six manufacturing firms of the Paper Board association, indicted by the federal grand jury in December last as members of an illegal combination in restraint of trade, took the easiest legal course yesterday and entered a plea of guilty as an association in the United States circuit court. Fines of $2,000 each—$52,000 in all—were immediately imposed, and all except one case were paid in cash.

Thus ends the second organization of paper men formed by John H. Parks. The Fibre & Manilla combine met a similar fate in the federal courts some time ago. By pleading guilty as corporations today, individuals also indicted in the Paper Board association succeeded in having their indictments quashed. The association had its headquarters in this city and had been in existence for more than four years.

Mr. Gilbert will continue as secretary of public instruction in the Islands.

St. Louis, Mo., Feb. 8.—David R. Francis, former Democratic governor of Missouri, and twice mentioned in national conventions as a presidential possibility, has formally announced his candidacy for the party nomination to succeed United States Senator William Warner, Republican.

Former Governor Joseph W. Folk also may be a candidate for the Democratic nomination, although his candidacy has not been announced. The primaries will be held in November.

Governor Hadley is mentioned as a possible Republican candidate to succeed Warner.

Brookings, S. D., Feb. 8.—While digging sand in a pit about ten miles north of Brookings Monday, Theodore Johnson and Nels Nelson were killed and Emil Benson, Ludwig Johnson and Emil Steen were seriously injured by a cave-in.

The men had dug too far under the bank and failed to put in proper supports.

WANT LAKE SHORE PARK

Wholesale Firm Revives Plan for Improving St. Croix Avenue.

The Marshall-Wells Hardware company last night submitted to the city council suggestions for a big central park which would outrank anything of the kind in the West and at the same time serve several useful purposes.

The proposal was that the city secure control and riparian rights of all the property east of St. Croix avenue between Michigan street and the government canal, a stretch of half a mile along the lake shore. The idea is to crib and fill at the edge of the dock line with rock taken from the so-called "Point of Rocks," thereby removing a nuisance and a block to progress at comparatively small expense. The stone, it was stated, could be hauled by the street car company during the night.

In connection with the plan the communication stated that all objectionable elements should be kept off St. Croix avenue. This referred to the possibility that the old district below the dead line may be started again.

No hope was expressed that the entire plan could be carried to completion in one or two years. Attention is called to the fact that other cities have recently taken steps to acquire central parks at immense costs. It is said that Duluth will suffer by delay, and that now is an excellent time to secure the necessary rights. The government is said to be favorable to the project and any possible assistance will be forthcoming from the local engineers in charge. This would be mostly in the nature of dirt from the dredges working in the harbor. After a stone front had been secured for the waves to wash against, it would be easy to retain dirt of this kind.

The lake shore plan is not new, but the last suggestion is more sweeping than the others.

Lame Shoulder.

This is a common form of muscular rheumatism. No internal treatment is needed. Apply Chamberlain's Liniment freely three times a day and a quick cure is certain. This liniment has proven especially valuable for muscular and chronic rheumatism. Sold by all druggists.

CHINAMAN'S SAVINGS STOLEN

Hong Kee, who runs the Chinese laundry at 25 Lake avenue north, was robbed of $70 in cash and twelve bundles of washing Sunday night. The Celestial kept his surplus cash in a trunk of the ordinary kind instead of in a bank, it seems. Sunday afternoon about 4 o'clock he left his establishment to eat chop suey and drink tea with some of his countrymen. All the rest of the day he remained inside so he is sure that the thief must have been in the laundry between those hours. Hong notified the police but no clue has been discovered whereby Kee's despoilers can be apprehended.

OPERATE ON KING GUSTAV

summoned to the palace, and soon afterwards the operation was performed.

Is Popular Ruler.

The monarch, who was proclaimed king of Sweden on the death two years ago of King Oscar, has endeared himself to his subjects by the intelligent and marked concern which he has manifested in all matters that pertain to their welfare.

The official bulletin issued early today reads:

"Upon recovering from the effects of the anaesthetic the king felt relatively little discomfort. His majesty slept fairly well without the use of sleeping potions. This morning the king's temperature was 37.3 centigrade, pulse 52 and the condition of his majesty is considerably improved."

There was much popular relief when this bulletin reached the public with its assurance that no bad effects had followed the operation. King Gustav enjoyed two hours of natural sleep during the forenoon and his general condition showed quite an improvement. At noon his temperature was 37.5 centigrade.

like this. Five times in the last forty years similar inquiries have occupied the time of this body. In no case have the charges been sustained.

Under compulsion of the senate, Senator Conger this afternoon filed a sworn bill of particulars. The statement declares that "the person who delivered $1,000 to Allds on or about April 25, 1901, was Hiram G. Moe, of Groton, Tompkins county."

Makes Specific Charge.

This sum, the affiant asserts, "was demanded by Allds of Benn Conger and Frank Conger in the interests of the American Bridge company (a corporation)."

The particular bill referred to as in Allds' charge, declared Conger, was an act amending the highway law which had been referred to the assembly committee on internal affairs.

Conger was compelled to file his bill of particulars on a vote of 38 to 8.

upon whom they can bring influence to bear.

"I was in Rome last winter and I made a very particular study of this Methodist propaganda. It has gone so far that Catholics have organized the Society for the Preservation of the Faith to fight against it.

"Means Are Not Honorable."

"The purpose of the work of the Methodist association in Rome is confessed openly. The means employed are by no means honorable. They take every advantage of the poverty of the poor of Rome. The books circulated and displayed in the windows of their book stores are slanders against the Catholic faith, the holy pontiff at Rome and a misrepresentation of the whole Catholic system. The success of the movement is far from adequate to the efforts put forth and the money expended. They do not make permanent Methodists of Italian Catholics. They may possibly detach pupils from the Catholic church, and this means from all Christian things for Italians.

In Roman Eyes.

"Now, a public address by a former vice president of the United States before the Methodist association can have no other meaning in the eyes of the Roman public than the approval of America on the propaganda of the Methodist association. Had the holy father, guardian of the spiritual interests of the Catholic church of the world, smilingly welcomed Mr. Fairbanks to an audience on the following day, in what other position would he appear to be than giving his approval to the propaganda of the Methodist association before which the address had been given?

"It was simply impossible for the holy father, in his official position as a sovereign pontiff of the Catholic church, to do aught else than to say politely to Mr. Fairbanks, 'I cannot receive you and accord you the honors due you in all other circumstances as an American and a distinguished representative of a great republic.'

Fairbanks Not Informed.

"I repeat that I am most willing to believe Mr. Fairbanks did not catch the full meaning, in the eyes of the Roman people of the address he was to make to the Methodist association.

"One arm of combat which those Methodists employ in Rome, as I know from personal observation, is to create the impression that Methodism is the great faith of the American republic, and that the Catholic church is merely an Italian institution.

"There are in Rome, Protestant American churches for the benefit of Americans that put forth legitimate efforts, mind their own business and make no war on the Catholic church. What I have said of the Methodists in Rome does not apply to the other churches there. I have in mind the Protestant Episcopal church on the Via Nazionale and its former rector, Dr. Nevins, a man whom I was pleased to call a friend and whom I was always glad to meet.

Not Attacking Whole Church.

"I shall leave for New York tomorrow, and I shall be pleased to answer the Methodists here or in the East at any time. I cannot make it too plain that I am not attacking the entire Methodist church, but merely the Methodist association at Rome. I am not too old to enjoy a fight when the occasion requires it."

THREE KILLED IN SOUTH KEARSARGE

Strap on Skip Breaks Precipitating Miners to Bottom.

Calumet, Mich., Feb. 8.—(Special to The Herald.)—An investigation is on foot into the disaster in the South Kearsarge mine here yesterday afternoon when the skip, upon which seven miners were riding, broke loose and dashed down to the bottom, killing three men and injuring the others.

The dead:

JOSEPH TEDDY.
WESLEY THOMAS.
JOHN RATZ.

It is said that a strap on the side of the skip broke and sent the skip shooting down the shaft before the occupants could jump for their lives.

May Get Low Rate.

Frank Elmer Skarp returned today from St. Paul, where he held a conference with the general passenger agent of the Northern Pacific regarding rates to the convention of the Finnish Lutheran church to be held at Astoria, Or., next October.

Mr. Skarp represented the five states of Minnesota, Wisconsin, Michigan and North and South Dakota. A large number of delegates will probably go from this part of the country, and Mr. Skarp says he is very hopeful of securing a favorable rate.

Elrod Seeks Governorship.

Clark, S. D., Feb. 8.—Ex-Governor S. H. Elrod, who generally is conceded to be the favorite of the stalwarts for the nomination for governor, and whose administration is held up in contrast with the alleged extravagance of the present progressive administration under Governor Vessey, thus making a campaign issue, has formally announced his candidacy for the gubernatorial nomination.

MAY HOLD UP BILL ON CORPORATIONS

President Will Not Urge Its Passage at This Session of Congress.

Washington, Feb. 8.—The federal incorporation bill which was introduced in congress today is not to be pressed for passage at this session. If the bill should be passed, President Taft has stated his willingness to stand as its sponsor and to take the responsibility for having raised it. Further than this, the president told several callers today that he would not make the incorporation bill an administration measure. He declared he felt no right to do so and that it did not rank with the proposed amendments to interstate commerce laws, the postal savings banks and the measures designed for the conservation of natural resources. These latter were promised in the party platform upon which the president was elected.

ZIMMERMAN'S SHORTAGE AMOUNTS TO $4,917.78.

East Grand Forks, Minn., Feb. 8.—(Special to The Herald.)—The final report of the accountants who looked over the city books shows that the shortage of ex-Recorder C. M. Zimmerman is $4,917.78. The greatest frauds were discovered in the light department where Zimmerman is alleged to have made false entries, thus covering up for a time the shortage that existed.

Outlaw Is Recaptured.

Tulsa, Okla., Feb. 8.—Clyde Mattox, a notorious outlaw who has been sought by officers for several months on the charge of violating his parole from the state prison, was captured in Pawhuska yesterday. Although but little more than 40 years old, Mattox has killed at least five men and served several prison terms.

THE STORE WHERE ECONOMICAL BUYERS FIND BEST VALUES

The difference between a genuine bargain—and a thing that ISN'T a bargain—is apparent to some people, but not to others. An article made up simply to sell, with no regard as to construction, quality of material, finish, or the way it will wear—may look good—the price may seem cheap—but it ISN'T a bargain. There are a good many factories running overtime turning out this kind of material—but it finds no place in this store. Most people appreciate good, honest quality, carefully selected, well made, finely finished things—especially so in furniture. When you can buy QUALITY furniture for what you pay for the ordinary, cheaply made kinds, you are truly getting a bargain—such furniture will last, it will give good service, it's always the cheapest in the end.

French & Bassett have built up an enviable reputation simply from selling only the best—you are sure of getting your money's worth at this store—we have the exclusive sale in Duluth for dozens of the best lines of goods made in America. When you want to feel sure of getting the very best to be had you can find it here.

New Things Already Beginning to Arrive

New styles in Flanders furniture, Tudor furniture, new bedroom pieces, etc., will be found particularly attractive both as to style, quality and price. During the coming year you'll find the best bargains in the city at this store. We are glad to have you come in and look around—as has always been the case, you'll see different styles here, better quality, things selected with more care and marked at lower prices than in the ordinary store.

WALL STREET'S CONNIPTION FIT.

If the observer watched only the Wall street quotation board he would assume that this country is on the verge of panic. In point of fact its prosperity is steadily rising, and industry is getting ready to set a new pace and make new records. Why, then, does Wall street comport itself so utterly out of keeping with conditions?

Be sure that Wall street has its reasons, and that, appearances to the contrary notwithstanding, it is not acting blindly. Here is a theory that is as good as another:

Legislation pending before congress promises, though in a manner by no means radical, to extend public regulation of big business. Cases pending before the supreme court of the United States involve points of vital interest to the System which has been merrily engaged in using the people's industries to yield indecent profits for itself.

It is to the interest of the System to convince congress and the supreme court that they must act cautiously; and to a large degree Wall street is the System.

So, with these important matters impending, Wall street, pretending to be Business, assumes a nervousness altogether too severe to be real. It says, in effect, to congress and the supreme court: "Look how scared I am at the mere possibility of progressive action on your part! I am Business, the country's Business; and if I tremble so at the mere suggestion of repressive legislation and annihilating court decisions, what is going to happen to me if your suggestions are carried out?" Wall street says this, and acts thus, in the hope that it can scare congress and the supreme court into taking the back trail.

Congress is willing enough to be scared; but will this pretty piece of play-acting confuse the supreme court of the United States?

If this theory is correct there isn't likely to be any let-up in Wall street's alarms, and therefore no let-up in the stock market uncertainty, until the game is played out. When congress has adjourned, and the supreme court has acted, Wall street will drop its disguise and play the bull side again—no matter what either congress or the court does.

THE FUNNIEST THING IN AMERICA.

What do you suppose is the funniest thing in this country? You are entitled to as many guesses as you please. No, it is not the Dr. Cook sell. Neither is it the argument that the tariff is in the interests of American labor, though that is close. Nor is it President Taft's unctuous assertion that the new tariff law is the best ever enacted, though that is closer still.

The funniest thing in America is the American Protective Tariff league. It is the delight of observant thousands, and every little while it does a funny turn that affords delicious entertainment.

Its latest vaudeville stunt is a proclamation "to the president and members of congress," a copy of which is at hand. William Barbour, its president, and Wilbur F. Wakeman, its secretary, sign this proclamation, which includes a copy of resolutions adopted at the annual meeting of the league, held in New York Jan. 20, and requests an expression from the president and members of congress concerning the matter set forth in the resolutions.

Here are the resolutions, in their delightfully funny entirety:

> Whereas, In the enactment of the tariff law of 1909, the pledge of tariff revision has been fully and fairly complied with; and in consequence of the readjustment of the schedules on protection lines, generally speaking, confidence has been restored, all branches of business have resumed their normal activity, labor is well employed, and a renewal of prosperity has been brought about; therefore, be it
> Resolved, That all agitation looking to a reopening of the question of tariff revision with a view to additional changes in the tariff schedules, until the workings of the present law shall have been fully demonstrated, is to be deprecated and in all ways discouraged.
> Resolved, That it is especially desirable to bring about the defeat at nominating conventions, and in the congressional elections of the current year, of all enemies of protection and all promoters of tariff disturbance and uncertainty.

That set of resolutions is what press agents call "a scream."

The people, burdened and harrassed by a grievously high cost of living, demanded a reduction of the tariff. The Republican party promised a "revision," and produced the infamous Aldrich-Payne-Taft law, which extended no relief to the people whatever, but which increased the cost of living in many ways. This the American Protective Tariff league calls fully and fairly complying with the pledge of tariff revision. This, it says, is the reason confidence has been restored, business has resumed its normal activity, labor is well employed and a renewal of prosperity has been brought about. The truth is that confidence in the Republican party and in the protective tariff system has been shattered by it beyond recovery. Business is much better, but it is better because there was never anything seriously the matter with it, and it began improving long before Taft achieved unenviable fame by signing the tariff bill. Labor is fairly well employed, but the cost of living has increased so greatly that the authorities who dispense charity are called upon for aid by the families of men who are working, but whose wages will not yield them a living.

Agitation for a reopening of the tariff question must and shall continue until that question is settled honestly, and the ludicrous American Protective Tariff league may pass resolutions until it is black in the face, but it can't stop that agitation.

Particular consideration should be given to the last resolution, which clearly is aimed directly at Republican insurgents who voted against the tariff bill and who dare to insist that they were right and that the bill is dishonest. The American Protective Tariff league proposes to go into their districts, working out from its New York headquarters, and see that they are not renominated and that if they are renominated they are beaten for election.

The tariff is not a party question with the tariff thieves. It should not be a party question with the tariff victims, who are the people of the United States.

A RECORD OF EFFICIENCY.

Elsewhere tonight The Herald publishes extracts from the annual report of the board of water and light commissioners, wherein the directors of this publicly owned enterprise—who are the commissioners—make detailed report to the stockholders—who are the people. The report shows the usual record of business-like management and efficiency, and it should be read by every citizen.

During the year the surplus earnings were $109,000, an increase of $5,000 over last year in spite of a decrease of $10,000 in hydrant rentals, the payment of a $1,500 personal injury claim, and a cost of $6,000 for repairs in the West Duluth reservoir. What makes this public enterprise particularly interesting to the people is that coupled with its efficiency are water and gas rates that, compared with the rates formerly charged under private ownership and with rates charged for similar services elsewhere, are moderate indeed.

The city now has 107 miles of water mains and ninety miles of gas mains. When the city bought the plants eleven years ago there were but fifty-three miles of water mains and twenty-nine miles of gas mains.

The bond issue just voted by the people will make it possible to make a number of needed extensions and improvements, including a 5,000,000-gallon reservoir on the hillside, the extension through the central part of the city of a large main, the construction of thirty extensions now petitioned for and many others that will be petitioned for this year.

The report is now evidence that Duluth made no mistake when it embarked upon this enterprise, and if figures are needed, there is the statement of Manager Case that the saving over old rates permitted last year by public ownership amounted to $400,000.

THE COLD STORAGE BUSINESS.

Following closely upon the heels of a public investigation of the cold storage business, The Herald has a communication from the "American Warehousemen's association," which appears upon investigation to be an organization of the owners of cold storage warehouses in this country.

Its headquarters are at Washington—though there is very little cold storage business there, practically none in fact—and its secretary, Albert M. Read, who sends us this communication, dates his letter from the capital.

He protests, in behalf of the organized cold storage warehousemen, that they are engaged in a legitimate business which does the country a vast deal of good, and that "the men engaged in the cold storage business are the ones who benefit least by it." Though they take a toll for their work, they are really public servants, "like editors, for instance," he says, and are entitled to a fair hearing. Granted. The cold storage business, and all other lines of business, are public services, and those engaged in them are public servants—though as a rule few of them act like servants, and most of them arrogate to themselves the airs of masters.

Mr. Read says that there is no combination among cold storage men to bring about higher prices for perishable products, and that except in isolated cases they do not own the goods stored with them. They have enough to do to meet their own bills, he adds, without engaging in outside speculations. Cold storage is a necessity, it is asserted, and it equalizes prices. Without it, perishable products would be very low at some periods and very high at others.

All this may be granted freely. Cold storage is necessary, and it does equalize prices. Nevertheless—in point of fact by the very nature and importance of its service—the cold storage business should be regulated by the government of state or nation, and its business affairs made public. Nothing short of the fullest publicity should be considered in connection with enterprises controlling the people's food. They should be regulated to see that unfair prices are not procured by trick, and to see that unfit food is not palmed off on the public for fit food.

Whether it is the warehouseman or the man who buys up perishable products and stores them with the warehouseman, there is a widespread belief that somewhere in connection with the cold storage business there is deft manipulation of prices. In summer, when hens lay freely and cows yield milk lavishly, eggs and butter are plentiful. The cold storage man, or the meat trust, or somebody else, steps into the market and buys freely, keeping prices up. The produce then purchased goes into cold storage, and is fed out from time to time in such quantities as will prevent an oversupply. This is how the cold storage business equalizes prices.

It is obvious on the face of it that if the cold storage business should come into few hands, these few hands would have extraordinary power in the fixing of prices. Without limitation upon the length of time goods could be held in storage, and without public scrutiny of their financial affairs, there is nothing to prevent these interests from keeping the prices of perishable foods at almost any level they please. Being human and therefore selfish, being in business and not in philanthropy, it may fairly be supposed that they will get out of their enterprise all it will yield. Having the power and the will to get much, they can easily make prices excessive, and burden the people with a high cost of living.

Hence the need of a thorough investigation of this business, and of an efficient regulation of it in the public interest.

SETTLED AND WELL SETTLED.

Everybody concerned will be glad that the long-drawn battle over the entrance to this city of the Canadian Northern is settled by the adoption by the council of the franchise providing for it. Duluth wants this railroad, and the railroad wants Duluth. It would have been a great pity had this common desire been frustrated by a disagreement, and while perhaps neither side is thoroughly satisfied with details, both sides should be thoroughly satisfied that the matter is settled. It means a great deal to both.

THE OPEN COURT.

(Readers of The Herald are invited to make free use of this column to express their ideas about live topics of general interest. Letters should not exceed 300 words—the shorter the better. They must be written on one side of the paper only, and they must be accompanied in every case by the name and address of the writer, though these need not be published. A signed letter is always more effective, however.)

THE FARMER AND THE TARIFF.

To the Editor of The Herald:

Some captains of industry are inferring that we must go back to the farm in order that there will be a cheaper price for necessities of life.

Clinton Howard at the Y. M. C. A. yesterday afternoon showed by logical argument that the American farmer was the foundation of the great commercial wealth of our nation.

Let us stop and consider what induces the American boy to leave the American farm. Is it because he is justly rewarded for the toil he has placed upon his father's farm to produce the crop? No. It is because when his father has raised a crop (beef for instance) and attempts to place it upon the market, he is offered a small amount, say 1½c to 2c per pound alive, and 5c and less, dressed.

Probably after an expensive year with poor returns, he is compelled to borrow money to pay the taxes with. The boy who wants to remove the mortgage goes to town to get a livelihood and earn money. He sees, or thinks he does, a little ray of light in the manufacturing line. He earns money enough to pay off the mortgage, but invests it in bonds, and neglects the farm in a craving desire to attain the position to which he will aspire under those conditions—the owner of the manufacturing plant. He practically forgets that there are any other people living and learns only to think of himself. He slashes wages, pinches and hoards up his wealth, as the opportunity presents itself, until he is able to own a plant—then instead of stopping, he will want to monopolize the entire output in his line.

Why are such things possible in America? It is because we have a tariff to protect the "infant industry" in the manufacturing line and instead of protecting the farmer, we tax him until there is very little left for him to live on.

By all means do not try to correct an evil by creating a legal machine to regulate the product thereof, but remove the foundation of the structure of such evil—the protective tariff in America.

WHAT THE VOTE ON THE AMENDMENTS SHOWED.

To the Editor of The Herald:

The showing of the returns on the last two proposed amendments relating to renewals of public improvements and the limiting of the power of the council to assess low valued lots for public improvements is as follows:

There were 1,408 ballots evidently not even looked at by the voters and 1,450 cast by voters who did not understand the propositions sufficiently to vote either for or against them, making a total of over 2,858 blank ballots cast.

Just 2,334 voted yes on the renewal proposition and 2,295 on the limitation proposition, while 3,538 voted no on the renewal proposition and 3,456 on the limitation proposition.

Only a comparatively few more than one-third of the voters voted no on the propositions.

It is quite possible that the 1,408 voters were not able to read the English language.

It is evident that a large part of the community realize the injustice of the system of frontage tax which is a tax upon the few to provide a public provision for all.

It is also evident that a larger part of the community believe that the owners of lots in the residence part of the city should have more power to stop the confiscation of their lots by over-assessment.

At the beginning of the discussion, C. A. Congdon, H. H. Phelps and T. T. Hudson reported to the charter commission that: "Experience has shown so far as Duluth is concerned, that if there is no limit on the taxing power of the council there is a tendency to extravagance and possible bankruptcy."

The statement was based upon the condition brought about by the council not levying taxes but levying assessments on the owners of low valued lots that the owners refused or were unable to pay and let the lots go to sale and then taxes were increased by the city having to pay those assessments amounting to over $500,000.

The council is limited on its taxing power first by the charter and then by the conference committee whose gross amount recommended may be decreased but not increased by the council.

The charter commission by refusing to approve an amendment which does not tend to limit the power of the council to levy assessments and in case of extravagant or untimely improvements thereby increasing taxes and also putting up arguments that were misleading indicated that they did not understand the proposed amendment or simply wanted to knock out any suggestions emanating from any one but the charter commission.

Taxation by representation or petition of the majority is but little better than taxation without representation and the proposition to increase the number of petitioners from 25 per cent to 50 per cent of the owners and frontage is only in keeping with the policy of majority rule.

The voters generously recognized the duty of the public to pay the cost of the intersections of the streets and avenues and they will more fully recognize the public use and therefore the public payment of a still larger part of the cost of the system of streets and avenues of the city.

The suggestion of Mayor Elect Cullum that amendments to the charter should be considered at a special election is a wise one.

Yours truly,

CHAN SMITH.

Old-Fashioned Party Bickering.

Chicago Evening Post (Rep.): It is a strange world into which our old friend Norman E. Mack admits us every month through his ever-bland organ of Democracy, the National Monthly. It is a world of topsy-turviness, where nothing at all is going as we think it is, where nothing at all is said as we think it should be said.

"We know of no one better equipped for the execution of Democratic plans than Hon. Champ Clark in the house and the Hon. Hernando D. Money in the senate." Do you remember Money?—the gentleman who is Democratic enough to give every one of his relatives a federal job?

"If it were Norris or Murdock, we have no doubt he would have endeavored with the same ruthless hand to carry out the same vicious policies of government for which Cannon is now condemned." Have you "no doubt" at all, Mr. Mack? Not even one little sub-conscious shred?

"What puzzles us is to know how a man holding such high views (as Mr. Pinchot) upon the rights of the individual citizen ever found his way into high station in the Republican party." Would he be more at home with Alton B. Parker, Charles F. Murphy and Roger C. Sullivan?

"Of course, all states cannot have Democratic governors. They are permitted only to such states as have demonstrated their fitness for them." Oklahoma, for instance, we suppose.

We wish that we could dwell in the fairy kingdom of the Buffalo editor. But as we cannot, we may at least try to get the wonderful illusion which he creates by stepping through the three-color front page of the National Monthly, just as Alice stepped through the Looking Glass. As an enchanter of men's reason we fear that the gentleman from Nebraska soon will have to give way to the gentleman from Erie county.

THE WEATHER.

The delightful winter weather still continues, and the weather man looks for but little change tomorrow, although the thermometer may drop a few deg.

A year ago today it was blowing a gale, and the mercury was falling.

The sun rose this morning at 7:24 and will set at 5:21, making nine hours and fifty-seven minutes of sunlight.

Mr. Richardson makes the following comment on weather conditions:

"The Manitoba disturbance has moved its center to Lake Superior. During the past twenty-four hours it caused milder weather in all districts to the eastward of the Rocky mountains. A secondary depression overlies Texas. These disturbances also caused light snow in the Rocky mountains and the Northwest and rain in Gulf states. Somewhat colder weather prevails in British Columbia, Alberta and Northern Montana as a result of high and increasing barometric pressures over those districts. The easterly movement of this high pressure condition will be attended by a drop in temperature at the Head of the Lakes this afternoon and tonight."

Rhymes of High Prices.

Hey diddle diddle!
To live is a riddle,
For prices are high as the moon.
The Beef Trust may laugh
As it gives us the gaff,
But the meat strike will settle it soon.

My fat hen, my fat hen,
She lays fresh eggs for gentlemen;
But the price the gentlemen have to pay
Makes them crazier every day.

Old Mother Hubbard,
She went to the cupboard
To get her poor dog a bone;
But it cost her so much pelf
That she ate it herself,
And so the poor dog had none.

Little Tommy Tucker
Sang for his supper,
And though he sang to beat the Dutch,
The price of meat was up so much
That all the supper Tommy had
Was crusts of bread, the poor young lad!

There was an old woman who lived in a flat;
She had so many children she didn't know where she was at;
For food cost so much that they couldn't be fed,
So she fed them on snowballs and sent them to bed.

Twinkle, twinkle, little chop!
Tell me when your price will drop;
Like the stars up in the sky,
Just at present you're too high.

Old King Cole was a hungry old soul—
Oh, a hungry old soul was he!
He called for some steak and a bit of roast beef
And he ordered lamb cutlets three;
But oh, when the butcher sent him the bill
Old King Cole became terribly ill!
—Paul West in New York World.

Cannon Is Whipped.

William Allen White in Emporia Gazette: Cannon is whipped. Why could not the smart politicians see that he would be whipped? He had nothing behind him but money and a political machine. They are the easiest things in the world to beat when the people are aroused. For, after all, this is the people's government. Cannon was the speaker of big business and the interests trying to gouge the people. So the people deposed Cannon.

And now those who have supported him through thick and thin will be coming back to the people and saying "Cannon is no longer an issue." Which is true, but some one like him will be an issue, and the people should not send back to congress men who have supported Cannon. For they will line up with some one like him. The insurgent Republicans who whipped Cannon in his own party, are making the Republican party the servant of the people, will not be fooled by a man like Cannon. They know and hate the breed. They should be sent back to congress.

The Vegetable Wagon.

Smith, Jones and Brown and Robinson,
They joined the movement all,
Agreeing they would boycott meat
Until the price should fall.

Smith reasoned on the second day,
While waiting for the drops,
One man's defection none would note,
And so he ate some chops.

Jones felt that he would not be missed,
Despite his sturdy boast,
And so into his caving midst
He neatly packed some roast.

Brown felt a call for nitrogen,
One mouth small odds would make,
Nor nuts nor eggs would fill the bill;
He ate a juicy steak.

Ten thousand Joneses, Smiths and Browns
All felt the selfsame way,
So for the profits of the trust
They made a banner day.
—McLandburgh Wilson in New York Sun.

DULUTH AND THE HERALD.

Is Hubby a Piker?

Virginia Enterprise: Duluth women have joined in the "anti-meat crusade" in the attempt to bust the trust by refusing to buy their products. While the Duluth women may go hungry for a time it is a safe bet that hubby will have his porterhouse smothered with mushrooms at the downtown restaurant.

Duluth Is for Sageng.

Cass Lake Times: Some writer somewhere says "that men may rise on stepping stones of their dead selves to higher things." All of which may be true, but when a would-be candidate for congress attempts to make "stepping stones" of a dead tonnage tax bill, he reckons without—Duluth, even though geographically speaking, that city can give him no votes.

Good Roads the Solution.

Floodwood Broadaxe: There is one way in which Duluth can solve that "market garden" question, and that way is, to raise a fund to build good roads for the farmers who are already raising more vegetables than they can get to market, on account of poor roads. Give our farmers roads and reasonable express and freight rates, and Duluth will get all the nice, fresh vegetables they want.

Forget It.

Hibbing Tribune: Every day adds to the disruption of sentiment on the ranges in regard to county division. Virginia and Duluth alone are pleased, the former with what it is going to get, the latter with what it is going to keep.

No One Cared But the Candidates.

Wadena Pioneer Journal: Duluth had a remarkable city election Tuesday. As a rule an election up there arouses all sorts of things—good, bad or indifferent. This particular election, however, was not in harmony with past experiences, for no one cared who won apparently except the candidates themselves.

As Easy to Break as to Make.

Cass Lake Times: The Duluth Evening Herald seems to be greatly exercised over the alleged rumor that the "Republican slate" has been made and the people at the primaries will only be required to "ratify." Why not brother, is not this an age of progression and reform? The people, if not satisfied with the slate can wipe it clean at election and will do it if it fails to meet their requirements. Party halters are no longer of any use, the voter needs no one to lead him now, he will go to the polls next November with his ticket firmly fixed in his head and vote it. Don't worry about "slates" brother, they are easily broken nowadays—better not make any.

When the Women Take a Hand.

Princeton Union: Good for the International Women's Union Label league of Duluth. Its members have gone into the meat boycott with a vim. They set the time of abstaining from eating meat at two weeks—for a feeler, as it were—and if that fails to materially reduce the price they say they will continue the boycott longer. When women take a hand in a movement of this sort it is time for the dealers to sit up and take notice.

Reflections of a Bachelor.

NEWS OF THE NORTHWEST

WILL RESIST "DRY" FIGHT

German-Americans of Minnesota Asked to Enlist Against County Option.

Call to Arms Issued; Fight Against Dry Principle Will Be Waged.

St. Paul, Minn., Feb. 8.—(Special to The Herald.)—A call to arms to the German-American citizens of Minnesota was issued following a meeting of the state executive committee of the German-American alliance at the home of Julius Moersch, president of the Minnesota organization, Saturday night, at which the campaign for county option to be started by the Anti-Saloon league at a convention here in March was discussed. Twelve members of the executive committee were present, including C. H. Week of Winona and Fred Droendorf of Fairmount, besides the St. Paul and Minneapolis members.

Resolutions condemning the purposes of the Anti-Saloon league, its county option campaign, and whatever other prohibitory measures that league intends to strive for, were passed, and German-Americans called upon to oppose the league. The activity of the alliance in this direction will be continued throughout the county option campaign, says Mr. Moersch. His league has 23,000 members in Minnesota, and he is a member of the national executive committee of the alliance, as well as president of the state body.

NORTH DAKOTAN IS SAVED FROM DEATH

Asphyxiated at Bottom of Deep Well is Rescued By Hero.

Jud, N. D., Feb. 8.—(Special to The Herald.)—John Smith, employed by H. E. Putnam in drilling a well, lives to tell a most remarkable story of his escape from death by asphyxiation.

Smith was engaged in boring a well about twenty-four inches in diameter, and had reached a point about eighty feet deep, when a large stone was encountered. Traces of gas had been discovered, but when a lighted lantern was lowered into the well and failed to be snuffed out, it was supposed that there was no danger.

Smith then allowed himself to be lowered into the well but he had hardly reached the bottom before he signalled to be pulled up again. The men started pulling, but soon found that Smith was not on the cable. J. Greenwich then allowed volunteered to be lowered into the well, fastening the cable about Smith's unconscious body, thus letting the men above haul both himself and Smith out of the well alive.

HOTEL CLERK HAS VERY COLD CHASE

Hangs Onto Outgoing Train Carrying Theif and Catches Man.

Warroad, Minn., Feb. 8.—R. C. Kneuertz, traveling representative for a brewing concern, can thank himself that the night clerk at a hotel at Williams, a few miles from here, knew how to act in an emergency, otherwise the Cream City man would have been out $100.

Mr. Kneuertz had arisen about 4 a. m. to take an early Canadian Northern train, and when he settled his bill notified the night clerk he had been robbed of $100.

The clerk recalled hearing a man come down the stairs a few minutes before, who had not intended to leave early, and on going to his room found his baggage gone. In the meantime the train had come, and rushing to the front door of the hotel, the clerk saw the man just boarding the train, which was pulling out.

The clerk grabbed his cap and made off after the train, and overtook it when it stopped to take water at the tank, a quarter of a mile from the hotel. But the doors were locked, and he had to ride on the rear platform six miles to Roosevelt before he could get inside. Arriving in Warroad, the man, who gave his name as Anton Larson, was detained and locked up to await the arrival of Mr. Kneuertz, who came down on the "moskeg" at 11 o'clock. No complaint was lodged, but after several conferences between Kneuertz and Larson, the latter acknowledged taking the money, and handed it all back.

FARMERS' ELEVATOR IDEA BECOMING VERY POPULAR.

La Moure, N. Davis and M. Walters.

The other concern was launched at Edgeley, and will be known as the Pomona Valley Farmers' Elevator company. Its directors are: J. L. Potts, E. J. Hamm, C. H. Carow, R. W. Hall, L. Bothke, J. L. Langsion and Herman Zimmerman. Both concerns will be ready for business at the opening of the season.

SANDSTONE "DRY" MEET.

Anti-Saloon League in Campaign to Close Saloons Another Year.

Sandstone, Minn., Feb. 8.—(Special to The Herald.)—The civic league began a series of anti-saloon meetings, Sunday night at Larson's opera house and announce they will continue them until the village election is over and the town becomes "dry" for another year.

The house was packed, A. J. McGuire of Grand Rapids was the speaker of the evening, and gave some very forcible and logical arguments on the liquor question as studied by him in Northern Minnesota. Being interested in agriculture, he deemed it a great deal better to have a larger percentage of farmers and less saloons in any community.

He compared facts and contended the farmer is the most desirable and that no town would go bankrupt without the saloon or the license money. Next Sunday the question of high taxes in the village and the town of Sandstone this year will be discussed.

BOARD IS ENJOINED.

Injunction Stops Building Proposed Addition to Sandstone School.

Sandstone, Minn., Feb. 8.—(Special to The Herald.)—A temporary injunction has been served on the school board to restrain it from building the much needed addition to the high school. The building has just been repaired after the damage done by lightning last September and the last of the classes were transferred to their former quarters during the past week, the different grades having been quartered in various halls and churches while the repair work was going on. Bonds were voted recently for $26,000 for school purposes. The board had planned to build an addition on the present site to save the district considerable expense, but there are a few opposed to this move.

The hearing will be held at Pine City, Feb. 21.

The World's Best Range

Will Never Wear Out

There are two distinct kinds of steel ranges widely different, except in one respect—they both have steel bodies.

In the MONARCH RANGE, unbreakable MALLEABLE iron is used for those parts that are cast of gray iron in all of the "Common sort" of steel ranges.

The seams and joints in the MONARCH are made by riveting the heavy steel plates of the body and oven to MALLEABLE IRON FRAMES, making seams as solid as those of a steam boiler, that will remain TIGHT for unlimited years.

Such a method of construction is possible only when Malleable Iron is used, and it is largely this "Air Tightness" that enables the MONARCH to do as much work as an ordinary steel range with but one-half the fuel.

"MASHERS" ARE FINED

Two West Duluth Men Get Stiff Sentence in Municipal Court.

Claimed to Have Accosted Two Young Women on the Street.

Two West Duluth young men, accused by the police of being "mashers," were each fined $50 and costs or sixty days in the county jail in police court this morning on pleading guilty to the charge of being disorderly.

Patrolman Andree, who made the arrest, said that they followed two women who came from the ball at the Spalding at 1:30 o'clock this morning. He claims that when the young women crossed the street near Fourth avenue west the young men, who gave their names as Samuel Pride and Alex Engstrom, followed them.

At Third avenue west he asserts that one of the men grabbed the woman nearest him. They screamed "police" at the tops of their voices. Breaking away he claims they ran at full speed up the hill, making it impossible for him to get their names. He put the "mashers" under arrest. He said this morning that when he asked them their business one of them told him that he wouldn't have to answer, as he "could buy and sell a copper."

The court did not make any remarks when imposing sentence, having said in the past that any one brought in on such reports would get heavy sentences.

DULUTH ROADS PAY BIGGEST TAX

Iron Range and Missabe Furnish Third of Gross Earnings Levy in the State.

St. Paul, Minn., Feb. 8.—(Special to The Herald.)—Two of the shortest railroads in the state pay nearly one-third of the gross earnings tax paid into the state treasury. These roads are the Duluth & Iron Range Railway company and the Duluth, Missabe & Northern Railway company. The former earned $16,655,782.06 last year and pays a tax of $346,231.28 as against $5,802.78 the previous year with a tax of $232,118.59.

The Missabe line earned last year $12,396,669.51 and the year before $8,214,267, while the corresponding taxes were $495,866.78 and $328,571.04.

Other gross earnings reported today were the Duluth & Northeastern, $162,275.35, tax, $3,591.05; the Iowa Central, $55,542.06, tax, $2,021.75; Minnesota Eastern, $61,767, tax, $2,470.68; Minnesota Transfer company, $44,793.08, tax, $1,791.72.

WILL PASS UPON MINNESOTA RELIC

Dr. Van Hise Is to Study Kensington Runestone at Madison.

Madison, Wis., Feb. 8.—As to the genuineness of the Kensington runestone, which purports to show that Norsemen penetrated to Minnesota in the year 1362, it has been decided that President Van Hise of the University of Wisconsin shall examine the famous relic and decide upon its age and character from the standpoint of one of the country's greatest geologists.

Carefully boxed and watched during shipment, the queer find is expected in Madison today, and its authenticity will be warmly defended by Hjalmar Rued Holand of Ephriam, Wis. Mr. Holand for several years has been custodian of the stone and has spent most of his time digging up facts to support his claim.

RETURN TO THE ATTACK

Bears Again in Control of Market After Brief Rally.

Buying Movement at Opening Soon Checked and Declines Follow.

Following an upturn of from 1 to 2 points in the early part of today's session, the market succumbed to another drive by the bears, and most issues closed lower than at the opening.

The market opened strong on account of covering by shorts and buying for a slight advance, on which profits were taken toward the close. A few scattered lines were taken by longs, and intermittent buying by investors at the prevailing low levels caused a favorable upturn in the early hours. As soon as the bears got into the selling end of the game, the supporters of the market fled and left the bears to the field. As the market closed there was absolutely no support in metals, although the industrials and railroads were standing up fairly well, despite their wobbly foundations.

The outlook for tomorrow is for continued declines in the metals. The news has it that a drive is scheduled on Amalgamated and Anaconda. There is little for a bullish nature in the market except that Frank A. Munsey's holdings are said to have been entirely liquidated. Mr. Munsey was heavily interested in Steel. Calls for margins went out today and the favorable money rates prevailing made it comparatively easy for specultaors to protect their commitments. The nature of the responses to these margin calls will have considerable effect on the trend of the action tomorrow.

The copper metal market was weaker today, spot and futures sustaining slight declines. Americans in London were lower. The new settlement began today and quotations are now for the new account.

The labor situation is becoming a serious factor not only in the stock market but in the industrial world. Demands for increased wages are spreading widely. The Southern railroad employes and miners have asked for increased remuneration and the Chicago switchmen have voted to strike, turning down a proposal to arbitrate. The Bethelem steel workers' strike seems to be waning. The threatened strike in the bituminous coal trade is not treated seriously by the operators.

Since the high prices of 1909, thirty-two railroad and twenty-nine industrials have shown a shrinkage of $1,400,000,000, and the bond market has practically gone to smash. All of this is in the face of the passage of a high protective tariff as demanded by the big interests and the very people who are now complaining about the so-called Taft policies.

The local market was moderately active. Trading was limited.

Amalgamated sold at $71 up to $72.12½ and down to $70.25. Butte-Ballaklava sold at $10 down to $8.25, North Butte at $33 up 2 points and down to $34, Giroux sold at $9.50, up ⅛ point and down to the opening, Green at $9.12½ off ⅛ point, Superior & Pittsburg at $13.75 off ⅛ point, Calumet & Arizona at $69 up 1 point, Steel common at $75.12½ to $76.50 and down to $75.12½, and up ⅛ point. Ojibway sold at $8.25.

Butte-Ballaklava sold here at $10.12½ down to $9.87½, Cactus at $4.75 down to $4.31¼ and up to $4.50, Copper Queen at 60 cents, 58 cents, and back to the opening, Cordova part paid at $1.06¼, and the full paid at $2.87½, Live Oak at $19.50 and up ¼ point, Red Warrior sold at $2.62½ and $2.83¾, Calumet & Montana at $1.25 down ⅛ point, Calumet & Corbin at 74 cents, Carman at $1.06¼ and $1.12½, Calumet & Sonora at $25, National at 54 and 55 cents, St. Mary's at 27 cents, and North American at $2.75 and $2.83¾.

The report of the Copper Producers' association will be made public Thursday. Some people are forecasting a large shrinkage in surplus stocks, a few estimates running as high as 25,000,000 pounds.

There has been a sharp curtailment in production, as happens usually during winter months. The curtailment, however, was necessary, as shown by the figures issued for December. Although some optimists think the shrinkage this month will be as high as 20,000,000 pounds, it is more conservative, and perhaps with a greater degree of accuracy, to estimate the shrinkage in January at about 11,000,000 pounds.

In December there was an increase in the foreign surplus of about 7,000,000 pounds, leaving a net decrease in that month of about 4,000,000 pounds. Foreign stocks increased in January, according to reports, so it is likely that the net decrease will be very large. A decrease of four or five million pounds a month does not eat into the world's accumulation of 400,000,000 pounds with startling rapidity.

Construction should be revived in the spring months and as consumption seems to be gaining slowly on production there seems to be no reason to look for a material depression of the metal market although there certainly are no signs of any pronounced advance.

Dr. S. O. Arnold, vice president, and W. J. Schindler, a director, are at the property of Calumet & Corbin. They wired to Duluth today that they are pleased with developments and that the property will be opened up as rapidly as possible.

A telegram received today by Paine, Webber & Co. from E. C. Leidell, who is visiting the mine of the Duluth-Toroda company at Republic, Wash., said: "Prospect shows up 200,000 tons in sight. Veins will average ten to twelve feet and will run $7.50 a ton. Property is considered best in the district. It will pay $1 a share after improvements are made."

THE PROBLEM IS SOLVED

Normal School Girls Serve Luncheon for Nine, Costing 60 Cents.

Cost of Living Has No Terrors for Domestic Science Graduates.

The cost of living problem has been solved, finally and conclusively.

When six or seven or eight or nine people can have a filling meal, containing all the proteids, carbohydrates and fats necessary to the nourishment of the complex physical structure of man, for 50 or 60 cents, one must surely say that the cost of living problem has been solved. No need to squander money on juicy steaks or savory roasts or on a hunured and one delicacies that may grace the table and bring on gout, for one may live comfortably and healthfully, on plain foods, well cooked and daintily served and at such small cost that even the small wage earner may have money in the bank.

Modestly secluded in the domestic science room of the Duluth normal school are the heroines, who have served mankind faithfully and well, by solving the problem which is disturbing the country from end to end with such violent eruptions that the San Francisco earthquake is as the gentle rocking of a boat in a pond. Shy maidens, they are, who are willing to give their secrets to the world—but their names, never. If their names were published, they would be beseiged by elegible young persons of the male persuasion from Maine to Alaska, for any dainty cook, who can provide a satisfying, if not sumptuous, meal for six, seven, eight or nine persons for 50 or 60 cents might well be looked upon as a help-mate to be desired, wooed and sought.

But they've really solved it. They have prepared the meals and have served them on snowy cloths for the delectation of their friends. They modestly admit this fact and say that with further experiments they even hope to cut down the cost.

Perhaps if the experimental meals were put before six or seven or eight or nine hungry laborers who had swung shovels with effect for their $1.60 all day, they might look upon it with scorn, but the young ladies say that if real laborers—six or seven or eight or nine of them—would do away with the meal, which probably wouldn't be very hard work, the said laborers—six or seven or eight or nine of them—would have proteids, carbohydrates and fats enough in their systems to give them all the nourishment they need.

Here are the menus that have been tried with great success thus far:

Luncheon, nine people, cost 60 cents—Codfish balls, baking powder biscuits, Russian tea, mint jelly, apple snow pudding.

Luncheon, eight people, cost 60 cents—Rice and tomatoes, corn bread, cocoa, apple snow pudding.

Lunch on, six people, cost 50 cents—Beef stew, baking powder biscuits, coffee, preserved peaches.

Chenille curtains, piano and stand covers, mantle scarfs, etc., are cleaned and pressed for a reasonable charge at our French benzol dry cleansing and pressing department. Quick service, too. Yale laundry. Phones 479.

COST OF BURNING OF GARBAGE BY THE CITY.

The annual report of the health department submitted at the council meeting last night shows the cost of running the incinerator last year was $3,794.48, or a trifle over 41 cents per ton for 9,210 tons of garbage burned. Of this amount $3,300 went for salaries, $411.51 for repairs, $36 for a 'phone and $46.97 for fuel. The health commissioner reports that twice as much garbage could be burned at the same cost, or at least by hiring but one extra man.

The case is the last for trial by jury at the January term of court.

STATE LAND TO BE SOLD IN MAY

Few Requirements and Liberal Terms for the Prospective Settlers.

On Monday, May 23, there will be held at the St. Louis county courthouse building in this city, a sale of state lands, by State Auditor Iverson.

County Auditor Halden was today notified of a change in the date. The sale was to have come on May 9, but as the delinquent tax sale comes on that date, the time had to be changed.

The list has not been made up as yet so that the number of acres to be put on sale at that time is not definitely known.

The land to be sold here is all in St. Louis county and while the state reserves the mineral right, it is said to be of first-class quality for farming purposes.

None of the acres will be sold for less than $5 an acre, and it will be impossible to purchase the land at other than the public sale on the date mentioned.

Fifteen per cent of the purchase price must be paid down at the time of the sale and interest at the rate of 4 per cent per annum up until June 1, 1911, must also be paid at the time of the sale. If the balance due is paid in ten years the annual interest will be at the rate of 5 per cent. Forty years are given in which to pay the full amount.

Within five years after the land has been sold the purchaser must fulfill one of the three following requirements:

WASHINGTON ELM'S LIFE HAS BEEN SAVED.

Winsted, Conn., Feb. 8.—Surgeons failed to save the life of the Trumbull elm, two centuries old, which was felled in Suffield the other day. The tree was planted by Governor Trumbull and it had become decayed so as to be unsafe. A large elm standing near the National bank in Suffield, which was doctored at the same time as the Trumbull elm last summer, and under which Gen. Washington is said more than once to have eaten his lunch, fared better and by the aid of several barrels of cement was made solid enough to last for many more years.

THIRD AMENDMENT MAY HAVE FAILED TO CARRY

Official Returns to Council Show a Loss of Twenty Votes.

City Property Has Been Sold for Taxes Says Attorney.

COUNCIL PROCEEDINGS.

Canvassed election returns, learning that third amendment may have been lost.

Received annual reports.

Received suggestion for central park on East side of St. Croix avenue, beautifying city and eliminating all possibility of red light district.

Informed that much city property is on the tax rolls and that some has even been sold for taxes.

Directed street railway company to hurry extension of Piedmont avenue street car line and granted permission for a branch to connect the Third street line from Superior street with a double track on Twenty-second avenue.

Directed engineer to prepare estimates of a sewer system for Duluth Heights.

Took up West Duluth market question.

Asked for better signs to designate streets.

Official election returns made to the city council last night show that the third charter amendment lost by from fifteen to twenty votes. The amendment provides for a levy of not to exceed one mill for a street maintenance fund, to be used solely for keeping up the public highways.

The Third precinct of the Fourth ward returned officially twenty less votes than had been credited from that precinct to the third amendment in the informal returns made to the city clerk election night. In the informal returns the precinct shows forty-two votes for the third amendment, but in the official returns the sheet shows but twenty-two. There were several other differences of one or two votes, which might defeat the amendment. It only carried by two votes. Three-fifths of the total vote cast is required to carry any amendment to the charter.

The council did not confirm the canvass of the amendments last evening, in the hope that some irregularity or mistake will be found in the meantime which will straighten the situation out. But unless a simple clerical error is discovered, the matter will have to be carried to the courts for a recount. The court alone can go back of the official returns of the ballots.

It is possible that the error was clerical, as the votes from the same precinct on the first two amendments ran about the same as those given in the official returns. The first two got in the neighborhood of forty or fifty votes, and it is believed that the third got the same approximate number.

C. S. Wilson, city attorney, told the city council that much of the city property is on the tax rolls and that some of it has even been sold for taxes. He stated that much difficulty was encountered in preparing a list of the property owned by the city, as no previous list was in existence, and certain parcels had badly involved titles.

The council directed that the city clerk get out a book to be known as the "register of city property," to be taken from the list prepared by the attorney. In the book the clerk will be required to list all property acquired in the future by the city. The different departments are directed to certify to the clerk all property they may purchase or receive in the future. The city attorney is directed to take legal steps to remove all liens or incumbrances upon any city property where they exist.

The street railway company was requested to hasten the extension of the Piedmont avenue line from Third street to Tenth street. In return the company is given the right to lay a double track on Twenty-second avenue west between Superior and First streets. This would serve for at least part of the Third street traffic, part of the cars being sent over the hill as before while the remainder would reach Third street over the Twenty-second avenue west branch. Alderman Hoar tried to have consideration of the resolution postponed, but was voted down, 6 to 8.

Alderman Getchell asked the council to grant the use of the city lots at Ramsey street and the Northern Pacific right-of-way for the purpose of establishing a public market. The West Duluth Commercial club has been agitating the establishment of the market for some time and believes that it will reach an early solution with the aid of the council. The lots were acquired years ago and are now used as a site for a small office of the water and light department. The resolution was referred to the committee on city property.

The council committee which has been investigating the condition of the proposed improvements for 1910, reported last night that it favored the issuance of the $50,000 worth of additional bonds asked by the board of public works for the permanent improvement revolving fund. The committee stated that it had more work petitioned for in 1910 than was in 1909 and that the fund now available is insufficient. The council adopted the report and directed the city attorney to frame an ordinance providing for the sale of the bonds.

Duluth Heights is of the opinion that it should have a proper sewer system. The city engineer has been directed to prepare estimates and plans of the same to be submitted to the council. About the highest the sewer system has been extended in Duluth is to Fifth and Sixth streets.

The city clerk was directed to advertise for bids for printing the annual reports, the forms to be substantially the same as those of last year. The time for paying sprinkling assessments for last year was continued to April 15 without penalty. A. M. Swingle sent in a lengthy communication protesting against the entrance of the Canadian Northern. He declared that in 1891 and 1892, when West Duluth was incorporated, a franchise had been granted to a railroad through and across streets, which was to provide a common entrance for all roads in West Duluth. He asserted that the Canadian Northern is already doing a big business in Duluth through the Northwestern and the Duluth, Missabe & Northern.

The mayor notified the council of the resignation of James W. Preston, president of the board of public works, and the appointment of R. E. Patterson to complete his term.

Upon the recommendation of Mayor R. D. Haven, the council appropriated money to pay the expenses of T. F. McGilvray, city engineer, to the convention which will be held in Chicago Feb. 23 to Feb. 26, inclusive, to investigate paving matters. It is believed that the convention will be able to devise ways and means whereby municipalities can get more economical paving.

The monthly report of the building inspector showed that forty-eight permits had been issued in January and that the value of the improvements was $97,225. The report of the city treasurer showed that the city's balance in all banks is $235,954.94.

The woman's council called attention to the fact that it is difficult to ascertain the names of streets and avenues in Duluth. The chief reason assigned was the lack of proper signs at intersections. The matter was referred to the board of public works.

A communication was received asking that the eaves of the new parochial high school, at Second avenue west and Fourth street, be not changed from the general style of architecture. The letter states that there is no ordinance directly governing the matter, but that it was left in abeyance at the time the building inspector issued the permit. The school will cost about $70,000, making the value of the buildings in the group on that corner come to approximately $250,000.

The council had several visitors last night. Among them were Mayor-elect Cullum and Aldermen-elect Bernard and Bergstrom of the Seventh and Sixth wards respectively. They said that they wanted to "wise up." The members of the civics' class of the West Duluth high school were interested spectators.

"DON'T FEAR DRAFTS IN WINTER," ADVICE OF HEALTH COMMISSIONER

Cold feet or wet feet are not the chief cause of the colds which are so common in Duluth at this time of the year. It's lack of fresh air.

Don't avoid drafts. Get into them. Then you'll be healthy. You will not hack and cough and sputter day and night, cussing the weather. Get fresh air.

That's what Dr. F. J. Patton, health commissioner, has been saying since the cold weather started, when people began to shut doors and windows. He advises ventilation and plenty of it.

Last week the bulletin of the Chicago health authorities took up the same subject, and they claim that wet and cold feet are blamed unjustly for the colds of most of the people. The clipping is interesting and an extract follows:

"Nothing is more important than to keep out of badly ventilated places. A badly ventilated place in which many people are crowded is the worst of places, especially if it is warm and damp. Did you ever go out of the snow into a hot waiting room jammed with people and with all its windows closed? The next time you find yourself in a place like that get out. Get where the wind can blow the air from around you. Then—avoid warm, close, damp, crowded places.

"The next time you go into a place where the air is still and quiet, where no drafts are felt, notice how quickly you become heavy, 'Nogy,' sleepy, yawny, and then get a headache. On the other hand, a breeze in summer or winter stimulates you; does it not? Drafts are invigorating. Lack of drafts is depressing. A cold bath may not be so comfortable as a hot bath but it is much healthier for the average person. Drafty places are healthier than places without drafts. There is less pneumonia there. Some one says to chill your feet or to wet your feet will give you a cold. Keep tab on these points. Every time your feet get cold mark it down and see how often you get a 'bad cold.' Do the same thing every time your feet get wet. Keep the same tab on your colds and see whether you think cold or wet feet has anything to do with 'taking colds.'

"You will find that your ideas about cold feet, or wet feet, or drafts have been more wrong than right.

"Then—do not dodge drafts; do not avoid fresh air; be temperate; keep your body right and then if you must crowd up against your neighbor on car, on platform or elsewhere, do it in the open, blowing air where you can't hurt him and he can't harm you."

SPORTING NEWS OF THE DAY

JIMMY COFFROTH, THE BIGGEST RIPPLE IN COAST FIGHT WATERS, MAY YET TAKE HAND IN BOUT

Kling and His Reinstatement—How McFarland Was Stung in England--Zbyszko and His Earnings.

(BY BRUCE)

James Sunshine Crofforth has been the biggest ripple in the fight waters of San Francisco these many seasons past. Therefore, and why not?—it occasioned no little surprise when it was announced that Tex Rickard and cheerful Gleason had secured the award of the coming fight betwen Johnson and Jeff.

There is more than one way of looking at a fight award. Many people, especially those on the Pacific slope, where they are the wisest judges of form in the country, insist upon believing that James is not only interested in the coming contest, but that he is also the biggest mover in the whole affair.

That belief was stronger some time ago than it is at the present time. The fine Italian hand of the smooth Coffroth brand is not seen in the present arrangements. The dispute between Gleason and Rickard seems genuine. If it is not, then it the biggest bluff at advertising in the world.

But it does not seem as Coffroth is in the deal. Undoubtedly he is interested in some phase of the moving pictures; but had he been actively interested in the fight there is reason to believe he would have stepped in and stopped some of the bickering between Gleason and Rickard before the public became disgusted with the mere mention of the fight.

This Coffroth is about the smoothest of the smooth. He is smoother than a manicure girl in a big hotel, and, gents, if you will pardon the expression, that is going some.

He used to work, even as you and I. He was employed as clerk of the courts. One day a friend asked him why he was so foolish. Coffroth began thinking it over and he quit the job and has not been working for a salary since that day. He has been making money faster than any promoter on the coast, and they make money fast out there, in the prize fight game.

Practically all of the big fights of the last few years on the coast have been promoted by Coffroth. He is a personal friend of most of the fighters, ter everybody in Frisco is acquainted with the man with the refreshing smile; and moreover, all the fighters trust him and know that he will finish what he has started.

After all, Gleason and Rickard may not pull off the present fight. They seem at outs at the present time. If they should fail with the arrangements of the fight, it is very probable that Coffroth would be the man to take hold where they left off and really pull off the big difference of opinion.

And if such a thing were to happen —that Sunshine should take the fight and start where Gleason and Rickard left everything muddled, you may be sure that the fight would be held, as per schedule. This is the kind of a chap James is, be is.

Coffroth has been in England of late, where he went to dispose of some of the rights to the Ketchel-Johnson pictures. While in the dear, merrie old country he met some of the royalty, for a private bout was staged for the benefit of some of the blue-blooded chaps and the smooth and pleasing Mr. Coffroth was one of the invited guests.

When he got ready to sail for home he believed that something was necessary to add a little excitement to the trip. So he wagered $1,000 that he would be in San Francisco on a certain day. If he caught every train after he left the big steamer, providing that the steamer was on time, of course, there is some chance that Cofroth may win the wager. He is the plunging kind who is ever ready to take a chance.

Coffroth is the best-liked man on the coast who is mixed up in the fight game. He is the most prominent sporting man on the coast. You didn't hear much of the others when Jimmy was in the game. It won't be long, either, before he will be back in the game, making the others look like pikers. He is the goods.

Mister Matthew Caine, who writes under the rather ambiguous name of "Empty" Caine, has a story in the Sunday Pioneer Press that needs explaining. The story is about the visit of the Caine person to a pesthouse. It is without point, except that an awfully exciting game of horseshoe was played by the inmates of the fumigating house.

The question is, what has this story to do with sports? That is the rub, Matoias. This thrilling little story of the journey over the hills to the pesthouse, is a classic in its way. Matthew has promised to write further of the visit to an insane asylum. We await with eager interest. But Matty should be rather careful when he visits such an institution.

Here is a poor effort at imitation of the strain "Empty" lets loose from the keys of his machine:

"We had the pleasure of interviewing so and so. We asked him many questions, and he told us many things. We felt compelled to be sharp and to the point, as we believed our readers would expect as much from we. We must say, perforce, that we found the champion in a fairly good condition. We believe that he can get in better condition. We repeat that we think so. We must state that there is no way of proving this belief. Therefore, we repeat that it is only a belief upon our part. We put it forward then, for what it is worth. We believe that our readers would be interested in this information, and therefore, we have given it."

"Empty" is a modest chap.

And it has really happened—John Kling has applied to the national commission for reinstatement. Murphy is hoping and praying that the noisy one will be back with the hopeful Cubs. If the national commission permits the Kling person to return to the game, it will be joined with Charlie Webb Murphy as the funniest joke in baseball.

Murphy has been storming all these months about what he would do to the Kling person and how Kling would never play under organized baseball. It was indeed a dull baseball day when there was not a new story from the lips of the cocky Murphy.

Now behold Murphy. He is figuratively on his knees to both the members of the commission and to Mister Troublesome Kling. He would permit the catcher to come back into the fold, and certain it is that the members of the commission for the reinstatement of the player.

Lucky to pull something off on a guy like Charlie Taft, who, it would appear, is not very strong on the ethics of the game, this Murphy has made a lot of noise since his first day in the National league. If Kling plays with the Cubs the coming season, men in baseball will have about as much respect for Murphy as the darker hued brethren have for the po' white trash.

Over in England the weight for the lightweight class is as high as 135 pounds at 3 o'clock in the afternoon, along about tiffin' time, old blokey. When Packey McFarland breezed into London town and stated with determination in his Irish blue eyes that he was ready to fight Mister Freddy Welsh, that English youth announced that he was ready for the pride of the stockyards, but that the Chicago fighter must make 133 ringside.

It only goes to show that it is a very poor shoe that can't be used for wearing and also heaving at the cat. The nerve of this Welsh person is of the cool and even-tempered kind—a nerve that is hard to cope with.

What do you suppose this Packey person went all the way to England for, if it were not to take advantage of this 135-pound rule? Packey is probably so mad that the entire horsenet would seem as meek and lowly as the poor relation along about Christmas time in comparison with his case of temper jaundice. He has cause and reason, also, thinkest not thou?

If John L. Sullivan should enter a race for the most popular citizen medal, there is every reason to believe that he would be crowded at the turn. If Messrs. Jeffries and Johnson were the judges, he would be disqualified before he even started.

When Zbyszko was wrestling Chris Person last Friday night he was probably the most downcast man in the city. The big European wrestler received a telegram shortly before entering the ring that his mother was in a very serious condition. Zbyszko lost his father not so long ago, and it is the money that he is making on the wrestling mat that goes for the support of his mother and sisters.

If the big Pole left immediately for his home, it would require three weeks of traveling. He informed some of his friends Friday night that he might even yet find it best to cancel his engagements and sail for home.

Chivington Is Honored.

President Chivington was presented with two handsome clocks as mementoes of the occasion.

In these days of strenuous commercial activity, the man who succeeds, who keeps abreast of the struggling procession, must above all have good health and mental as well as physical vim. ALL READY AT WINNIPEG

Big Canadian Bonspiel Scheduled to Begin Promptly Wednesday Morning.

There Will in All Probability Be Nearly 200 Entries.

Special advices from Winnipeg make known the fact that there will be in all about 200 rinks entered in the big bonspiel which begins Wednesday morning. Already 181 rinks have registered and it is expected that by the time the first drawing is made, the number will have swelled to at least 200.

Robert Dunbar, the veteran St. Paul curler, has sent his regrets. Mr. Dunbar has been in ill health for some time and, as at the Duluth bonspiel, he gives this as the sole reason for his absence. Defiel and Fullerton of St. Paul have entered and the C. W. Stocking rink of Duluth will be in attendance. The Stocking rink is composed of W. C. Foehler, Thomas Gibson and D. B. MacDonald. Several Duluth curlers will go to the Canadian city Friday night and remain over Sunday that they may breathe the air of the big Canadian event.

There are eleven events to be played at the Winnipeg bonspiel. An extra prize will be given for the grand aggregate and also for the rink that wears the neatest and most appropriate uniform.

The Dingwall event will open the bonspiel. Play for this trophy will be started tomorrow. This is an open event and has a handsome $250 silver cup and $100 worth of gold lockets for the rink that wins. The McLaren and Tetley events have prizes of equal value. Among the other events are: Tuckett, Royal Caledonian, Blue Ribbon, McMillan, Whyte.

MILLER MAY COME.

World's Welterweight Champion Possibility for Duluth Match.

Young Miller, world's champion welterweight wrestler, may come to the Head of the Lakes to meet M. Wassem of Indianapolis, a challenger for the title held by Miller. Officials of the Duluth Athletic club have received a letter from the Indianapolis man, and Miller has already stated his willingness to meet Wassem.

Miller is acknowledged today as the greatest little man in the world. He has beaten them all, and only lost to Ed Adamson, a man heavier than Miller, when illness and exhaustion forced him to the mat.

Miller went into the match with an affection of blood poison on his leg. He went onto the mat against the orders of his physician. After the first fall, which went over an hour, a carriage was called and the St. Paul boy was driven to a hospital, where he was forced to undergo an operation. St. Paul people say the exhibition was one of the greatest exhibitions of gameness ever witnessed in this country.

The champion welter is recovering at the present time and when he is ready to wrestle may close negotiations for the Wassem match.

Dr. Benjamin F. Roller and Henry Ordemann may be seen here in matches against Chris Person, the present season. These two men are, next to Gotch, the greatest American wrestlers in this country. It is believed that a match between Person and either Roller or Ordemann would be a great card.

CANDIDATES FOR THE EIGHT

Colton, Jones and Goodwin May Try for Seat in Boat.

C. C. Colton will again become a candidate for the junior eight of the Duluth Boat club. Colton was a candidate for the crew two years ago and has made up his mind to come out for the eight again the coming season.

The announcement that a professional coach will be engaged, has aroused great interest in the crew and it is not believed that there will be any great difficulty encountered in securing some new material.

"Big Bill" Crawford has also been heard from and says he will be ready to row when school lets out in the spring. Practically every candidate for the boat will be out early in the season, if the prospects look encouraging, and the indications at the present time point to a number of new candidates.

In addition to Colton, there is Jones, a former University of Michigan man, who is employed in Duluth. He has informed his friends that he is coming out to try for the boat. Jones has had experience with the football squad at Ann Arbor.

Tony Puck has a big candidate in hand and other officials and enthusiasts have promised to unearth dark horses. John Goodwin, one of the strongest members of the 1908 senior crew is eligible for the junior crew and is thinking of being a candidate if he can arrange his work.

PLACE FOR BIG PRIZE FIGHT NOT DECIDED UPON.

Salt Lake City, Utah, Feb. 8.—After an informal talk yesterday between Tex Rickard and Jack Gleason, partners in the contract for staging the Jeffries-Johnson fight, the statement was given out that no agreement had been reached as to the place in which the contest would be held.

Joh P. Lyon, county attorney of Salt Lake county, said last night that the Utah law prohibited ring or prize fights or any premeditated fight, regardless of the number of rounds. The Jeffries-Johnson contest, he added, could not be held here legally unless the law is amended. "Application has been made to me for a compact," said Mr. Lyon, "and I have promised to issue it if the necessity arises."

JOHN L. TAKES ANOTHER BRIDE

Romance of School Days Ends in Marriage of Former Champion.

Boston, Mass., Feb. 8.—John L. Sullivan, the former heavyweight champion fighter of the world, was married yesterday to the sweetheart of his school days, Miss Katherine Harkins, a wealthy real estate holder of Sharon.

The wedding took place at the home of the bride's sister, Miss Mary Harkins, in Roxbury. Mr. and Mrs. Sullivan will sail tomorrow on the steamship Ivernia for England. Sullivan secured a divorce from his first wife a year ago.

Miss Katherine Harkins and John L. Sullivan were schoolmates together in Boston and early became attached to each other, but when Sullivan took up a pugilistic career against her wishes, the friendship was broken. A few years ago when the former champion was threatened with blindness the sympathy of his old friend was aroused and she is said to have nursed him back to health. Securing a divorce from his first wife, Sullivan renewed his friendship with Miss Harkins, which culminated in their marriage.

Even religious obstacles, arising from the objection of the Catholic church, of which Mr. Sullivan is a member, to sanctioning the marriage of divorced persons, were brushed aside by the couple, who, in the absence of a dispensation, were married by a justice of the peace.

"CHIEF" WILSON SIGNS.

Pittsburg Right Fielder Sends Contract Without Any Comment.

Pittsburg, Pa., Feb. 8.—J. Owen Wilson (Chief), Pittsburg's right fielder, has signed his contract for the season. Wilson is at South Austin, Tex., and his contract arrived without any letter of comment.

Another addition has been made to the pitching squad in Ralph Cutting, who last year played with the Brockton team in the New England league.

Howard Camnitz has been about the baseball headquarters for several days and it is expected his signature to a contract will be announced soon.

FIERING IS FAVORITE

Many Ski Jumpers Will Be Out for First Honors Saturday.

National Record May Be Shattered If Conditions Are Good.

Ole Mangseth, captain of the Itasca Ski club and one of the greatest ski jumpers in the Northwest, is out for first honors at the meet to be held here next Saturday. At the first meet of the season held in Duluth, Mangseth made one of the longest jumps of the day, and reports from Coleraine say the young man is jumping better at the present time than ever before in his career.

The fight for first honors at the Duluth tournament will be a fiercely contested one between Ole Fiering, who is generally picked as the winner of the tournament because of his wonderful jumping so far this season; John Evenson, present holder of the national title; Ole Gunderson of

OLE MANGSETH,
Of Coleraine.

Chippewa Falls, who did some great jumping at the tournament held in Duluth three weeks ago; Lars Haugen of Chippewa Falls, who made the longest jump at the same tournament, 148 feet, but fell, and Ole Mangseth of Coleraine, representing the Itasca Ski club.

It is generally believed that the winner of the tournament will come very near breaking the national record, if the conditions are favorable.

Yesterday the officials of the club made special arrangements for taking care of the crowd. The path leading to the reserved seats on the hilltop, opposite the jump, will be cleared and the steps repaired. Every space will be cleared in order that the crowd will have every opportunity of getting a good view of the jumpers. Word received yesterday from the notices sent out to the new towns along the Soo, stated that a large crowd was coming here, and that many of the excursionists would attend the ski tournament.

RIOT IS CAUSED BY DECISION

Award to Negro Pugilist Sets 500 Men Fighting in Cincinnati.

Cincinnati, Ohio, Feb. 8. — A 10-round match between Kid Ashe, colored, of Cincinnati an Jack Morgan of Indianapolis late last night broke up in a riot in which 500 men took part. Two policemen were badly beaten and several others were less seriously hurt.

The fight was scheduled for ten rounds and after time had been called Referee Simcoe announced his decision in favor of the negro pugilist over his Indianapolis opponent. The announcement at once created an uproar. The entire crowd of several hundred men rose to their feet and yelling at the top of their voices, rushed toward the ring. The fighters and the referee made their escape with difficulty and then the fight became general.

Policemen were hurriedly summoned to the scene. Two rushed into the mob and were at once set upon and beaten almost into insensibility. The riot was finally quelled after a number of persons had been more or less seriously hurt. No arrests were made.

ELEVEN TEAMS IN GRIND.

Six-Day Bicycle Race Begins in Armory at Newark.

Newark, N. J., Feb. 8.—Eleven teams started in a bicycle race at the First Regiment armory at 1 o'clock yesterday afternoon, to ride ten hours each day for six days. At 11 o'clock last night, the end of the first ten hours, ten teams were tied with a score of 238 miles and 8 laps. Edward Billington of Newark and his teammate, Charles Stein of Brooklyn, withdrew early in the evening. The teams are as follows:

Kramer and Fenn, Moran and Lawson, John and Menus Bedell, Mitten and Rupprecht, Hehir and Pye, West and Galvin, Anderson and Krebs, Collins and Georget Wiley and Lorenz, Smith and Hill.

Fight at Point Richmonds.

San Francisco, Cal., Feb. 8.—At a conference last night of the principals of the coming Nelson-Wolgast lightweight fight it was definitely decided to hold the battle at Point Richmonds. The referee will be chosen today. The names of Jack McGuigan of Philadelphia, Ed Smith of Chicago, Eddie Smith of Oakland, Jack Welch, Eddy Graney and John Hergel were suggested.

DAN CUPID THROWS THREE "GOOD ONES" OVER ON FRANK SUMMERS

Frankie Summers, last season a member of the Brandon team of the Western Canada league, and also playing some of the games at the latter end of the season with the Duluth White Sox, was struck out this morning at a very critical stage of the game.

Miss Ella McGinnis was the name of the fair twirler who retired Frank from the bachelors' batting list.

The marriage was performed this morning at the Italian church. The happy couple left this afternoon on the 1:55 train for the Twin Cities.

From this time Frankie may be compelled to make some sacrifice hits. He also may be compelled to steal home sometimes. He will also probably play more inside baseball. The contract Frankie signed this morning is for life, and he will have the best job he has ever held. It is not a non-reserve contract, either.

Draws for Bantams.

New York, Feb. 8.—"Patsy" Brannigan of Pittsburg and Joe Wagner of new York, both bantams, fought a fast 10-round draw here last night. In Brooklyn Young O'Leary of New York and Frankie Burns of Jersey City, also bantams, went ten fast rounds to a draw.

SENIORS AND SOPHS CLASH AT BASKET BALL.

This afternoon at the boys' department gymnasium of the Y. M. C. A., the senior and sophomore class basket ball teams of the high school interclass league will meet.

The seniors have been defeated by the freshmen and the sophomores have also been routed by the juniors. The team that loses will be in the basement of the percentage house. The teams will line up as follows:

Seniors—	Position	Sophomores.
Merritt	center	Mars
Nelson	guard	Jeromimus
Mather	guard	Bates
Nastland, Helmer	forward	Osman, Cock
Thorburn	forward	St. Claire

Northerns vs. Adams.

The Northern Juniors and Adams team will play tonight on the Adams' rink in the West end. Both teams have been defeated the present season. A series of games has been arrangd between the Phonix hockey team of St. Paul and a team to be selected from the teams of this city. The games will be played in St. Paul Feb. 19 and 21, and in Duluth Feb. 26 and 27.

BITTEN ON HIS CORK ARM.

Constable Painlessly Chewed By Negro Whom He Had Arrested.

Wilmington, Del., Feb. 8.—For once County Constable "Link" Jones was glad that one of his arms was made of cork, for when he attempted to arrest Frank Bivin, an insane negro, Bivin sank his teeth into the arm that was nearest him. Surprised bystanders could not understand why Jones did not mind the attack until the negro, almost choked, began to spit out a mouhful of cork fragments.

The negro had caused a terrific uproar for several hours in the neighborhood trying to collect rents that he imagined were due him.

TIM SULLIVAN GIVES 5,000 PAIRS OF SHOES.

New York, Feb. 8.—In the days when Big Tim Sullivan, state senator and Tammany leader, was small and down at the heels, with no thoughts of ever becoming a political power, his school teacher gave him a pair of shoes.

He never forgot the kindness and for many years he has commemorated it on the sixth day of each February by a distribution of stockings and sole leather to all the needy of the Bowery. Five thousand pairs of each were given away on Sunday at the clubrooms of the Timothy D. Sullivan association.

The line stretched for blocks, and in it there were men of all ages and all shades of name and fame. Short Ribs Sam and Kelly, the King of the Keg Tappers, were there. The Gentleman Panhandler, before receiving a new pair, were one russet oxford and one patent leather pump.

First aid went to the lame, and halt and the blind. One deaf and dumb man blocked the line because of his inability to tell what number he wore. But in the main distribution went forward with a speed that would have shamed the most fluent salesman.

It was bitter cold, and while those within were served, hot coffee was passed down the line to those that waited without.

Proctor's Offer of $500,000 to Princeton University Is Cancelled.

Cincinnati, Feb. 8.—William C. Proctor announced Sunday night that he had withdrawn his offer of $500,000 for the proposed graduate college of Princeton university.

Mr. Proctor stated that his offer had been unconditionally withdrawn on account of his inability to agree with the views entertained by President Woodrow Wilson and members of the Princeton faculty as to the scope and institution of the graduate college. He declared that the matter had been under discussion now for six years, but that there did not appear to be any likelihood of a definite plan agreed upon.

PLANS A FINE RESORT.

Crystal Beach, Near International Falls, Changes Hands.

International Falls, Minn., Feb. 8.—(Special to The Herald.)—Fred Coxen is now the owner of Capt. H. I. Bedell's beautiful lake property, known as Crystal Beach and located four miles east of town, having traded the captain his splendid residence property in Jameson's addition.

Crystal Beach comprises some forty-three acres and is one of the most enchanting pieces of property on the shores of beautiful Rainy lake. Its name tells the nature of its shore line, and the latter makes it peculiarly adapted to Mr. Coxen's purposes, as he is preparing plans to make it one of the finest summer resorts in Northern Minnesota.

While such resorts are always places of interest to the public, and more especially to the tourist and "outer," the scope of Mr. Coxen's plans is something greater than that usually embraced in the work of the resort builder.

A number of buildings will be erected chief of which will be a log bungalow 30x48 feet in dimensions, to be used for general living room, dining room and bedroom purposes. Then there will be a number of smaller bungalows built, in order that guests of the place can have greater privacy than that afforded in the main building.

MAY OPEN GEORGIAN BAY CANAL TO AMERICAN USE.

Ottawa, Ont., Feb. 8.—The right of United States shipping to use the proposed Georgian Bay canal and that of Canada to use the proposed waterway from Lake Michigan to the Gulf of Mexico was the subject of inquiry in the house yesterday. Replying for the government, Minister of Justice Aylesworth said that the provisions of the treaty of Washington signed in 1871 eventually might be held to apply to both waterways. The boundary waterways treaty now being negotiated will not be broad enough to cover these points, however.

TOMORROW

Is a good time to bring that clock here which has needed the attention of a clock repairer for some time.

We would call especial attention to the merits of the clock experts employed here.

The mechanism of the clock has been made a close study by these experts and a clock that may have been considered useless can be made as good as new.

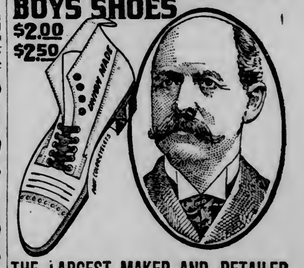

While mentioning timepieces perhaps right now your watch needs the attention of our watch department.

Bring it here and let us examine it and put it in good running order.

County Will Put Restrictions on Franchise for Range Electric Line.

Dismissal of County Superintendent's Assistant Resented By Cummings.

A franchise for the use of county road rights-of-way for an electric railway on the range was petitioned for by E. M. Prindle and W. M. Prindle at the meeting of the county board this morning. The board did not show any disposition to grant the franchise until given assurance that the work would actually be done and the matter was finally referred to William J. Stevenson, the attorney for the board, and W. D. Bailey, the attorney for the petitioners, for some changes in the original draft so that the assurance may be given. The matter will come up later in the meeting.

The proposed line is now laid out to run between Eveleth, Virginia and Gilbert, and W. M. Prindle, who appeared before the board this morning, said that ultimately they expected to extend to Hibbing and other towns on the range. He said a franchise has been secured at Eveleth and terms have practically been agreed upon with the city council of Virginia. He said that the franchises from the range towns provide that work shall be begun in a year and the promoters are willing that the county board should also put some restrictions on them.

Mr. Prindle said that some people on the range had intimated that they were securing the franchises merely as a speculation with the intention of selling out their rights afterwards. He said that such was not the case, that there are men behind the project with money enough to go ahead, and they really intend to build and operate the line.

The draft of the franchise submitted follows very closely the draft of the franchise which was granted some time ago by the county board to the Mesaba Traction company, which allowed its franchise to expire without doing any work. Chairman McInnis recalled the experience of the county with that franchise, and told Mr. Prindle that the county would have to have assurance that the petition is made in good faith and the promoters really intend to build the road before he would vote for the franchise.

A lively verbal tilt between Commissioner Joseph Cumming and County Supt. of Schools S. W. Gilpin enlivened the proceedings this morning. When a resolution accepting the resignation of L. A. Sulcove as assistant county superintendent of schools and confirming the appointment of N. A. Young as his successor came up for action, Mr. Cumming asked that Mr. Gilpin explain the dismissal of Mr. Sulcove. He said the board should be consulted in such matters and no employe of the county should be discharged until the board had been consulted.

Mr. Gilpin apparently didn't like being "called up on the carpet," as he expressed it. He said the dismissal of Mr. Sulcove was a matter that came under the executive department of his office and he didn't see why he should not be allowed to conduct those affairs as he saw fit, since he was responsible to the people for his actions while in office.

"As an elective officer of the county I claim the right to dismiss any person that I do not want in the office," he said. "If any mistakes are made in the office, the elective officer is held responsible, not the help."

Mr. Gilpin said that leaving the office was merely a question of time with Mr. Sulcove, who has been admitted to the bar and intends to practice law. He said they talked the matter over and, though Mr. Sulcove wanted to remain in the office until the end of the school year, he thought it best that the resignation be requested. "A lawyer and a school man don't mix very well in one individual," he said. "It looks to me as if you're making a mountain out of a mole-hill," he added.

"If this board refuses to confirm the appointment you make, you would be without an assistant, wouldn't you?" asked Mr. Cumming. "You and every other officer of the county ought not to allow any man to go until the appointment of his successor is confirmed. If this taking of the power of the board into their own hands by the officers of the county continues, we soon won't have anything to do but draw our pay."

Mr. Cumming was the only one to vote against the resolution on the roll call.

A committee from the city council which appeared before the board with a petition that the county aid the city in the construction of the Sundby road didn't get much encouragement. Alderman John Hogan explained that the road would benefit the whole county, even though it lies largely within the city limits. He said that the Duluth members of the board had already given valuable aid, but he thought the board as a whole might assist in its construction.

"We know all about the Sundby road already, and if you haven't anything new to offer, we may as well not take up the question," said Mr. McInnis. "The building of the road is not a question for St. Louis county. The road lies within the city limits and you must look to the city of Duluth to build it."

Mr. Hogan said that the county should take some part in the building of the road, because it will benefit not only the territory within the city limits, but also the farmers outside. His plea was supported by Alderman Hector, who said that there are not over twenty-five houses along the road, and that the road must be built largely by public subscription. He said it will be of immense benefit to the territory outside of the city and that the county should appropriate some money to go with the $2,000 appropriated by the conference committee of the city.

A committee of settlers from Burnett appeared and asked that the building of a bridge on the Culver road over the Cloquet river in the town of Industrial be delayed until a committee could look into the request of the people at Burnett for a change in the location of the bridge. They were informed that the matter has already been referred to a committee.

The board this morning granted petitions for the organization of town 53-21 into the town of Rosemount and 61-19 into the town of Tlango. The first town meetings will be held Saturday, Feb. 26.

Chairman Neil McInnis announced that he has appointed G. G. Hartley of Duluth and Walter J. Smith of Eveleth delegates from St. Louis county to the meeting of the Northern Minnesota Development association at Bemidji, Feb. 17 and 18. The meeting is a "get-together" gathering of delegates from Northern Minnesota counties to formuate plans for working for Northern Minnesota interests.

The county auditor was instructed to call for bids for all powder to be used in county road work, the powder to be delivered at Virginia, Hibbing, Duluth, Tower and Ely as the commissioners might need it.

Several petitions for county roads were granted and contracts were let. The board adjourned until this afternoon.

PLEASED WITH DULUTH WEATHER

California Man Says There Is None Better in His State.

William Crook of Eureka, Cal., manager of the free employment bureau conducted by the Redwood Lumber association of Humboldt county, Cal., who has been in Duluth for several days hiring men for work in the redwood forests of Humboldt county, left for his home today. He secured a number of men in Duluth.

"I received invaluable assistance from Manager James Walsh of the state free employment bureau here," said Mr. Crook, "and I want to say that the system in use here in the free employment bureau is one of the best I have seen in the United States. The free employment bureau is a great protection for the laborer and a good thing for the employers, the state and the men.

"Incidentally," Mr. Crook added, "I don't see why anyone should want to go to California for the winter when you have such weather here as you have had for the past week. Nobody could enjoy the finest of California weather more than I have enjoyed this here."

BEWARE OF BOGUS CHECKS!

Blanks Stolen Are Turning Up With Forged Signatures.

Merchants are warned by the police to cash no checks for strangers made out on the personal blanks of A. G. Osman, contractor.

His temporary office at Lake avenue and Third street, where he is erecting the new manual training school was broken into last night and half a dozen blanks stolen. That they were taken for the use of being forged is certain, as the same thing was done several days ago.

Up till this morning four such checks have come back to merchants who cashed them, with the notation from the bank on the back that they were forgeries. One has been turned over to the police. It was made payable to John E. Johnson and called for $24.50. It was signed with a forgery of Mr. Osman's name.

The check is noticeable at first glance. It is printed on light blue paper with a cut of the aerial bridge on the left side. They are drawn on the First National bank.

SENATE AGREES ON FOOD PRICE PROBE

Substitute Resolution Is Presented and Referred to Committee.

Washington, Feb. 8.—Harmonizing the several resolutions introduced in the senate directing an investigation into the cost of living, the Republican leaders in conference today perfected a resolution on that subject which was later presented to the senate by Mr. McCumber of North Dakota. The substitute was referred to the committee on contingent expenses, which will consider the question of the cost of conducting such an inquiry.

The resolution bears the name of Senator Elkins as author, and embodies the principal features of the McCumber resolution as well as some of those contained in the one introduced by Mr. Lodge.

The inquiry is to be conducted by a select committee of seven senators. It is planned to assemble all of the information possible bearing upon the increased cost of articles of food since 1900 and report, if possible, at the present session of congress.

RAILROADS

LOW FARES FOR SUMMER TRAVEL

Railroad Men Look for Heavy Tourist Travel This Year.

An advance notice of the summer tourist and convention fares that will be in force, was received by the Great Northern office here this morning. The early sending out of the notices of the fares is due to the prospects for a very heavy summer tourist travel.

A round trip fare of $60 will be made from Duluth to Portland, Or., Tacoma, Seattle, Everett, Vancouver and other Pacific coast cities. These tickets will be on sale the first of June.

The convention fares will be even lower than the summer tourist fares. There will be a large number of conventions in the West this summer, and to enable a large number of interested people to attend these conventions the special fare has been made.

Special rates will be made to the Rose Festival at Portland, Or., for the convention of the Ancient Order of Hibernians, and other conventions in the West. The convention fares will be $10 lower than the summer tourist fares.

WHY SALVES FAIL TO CURE ECZEMA

Since the old-fashioned theory of curing eczema through the blood has been given up by scientists, many different salves have been tried for skin diseases. But it has been found that these salves only clog the pores and can not penetrate to the inner skin below the epidermis where the eczema germs are lodged.

This—the quality of penetrating—probably explains the tremendous success of the only standard liquid eczema cure, oil of wintergreen, thymol, glycerine, etc., as compounded in D. D. D. Prescription.

After ten years of cure after cure, we ourselves do not hesitate to recommend D. D. D. Prescription at $1.00 a bottle. But for the benefit of those who have never tried the prescription, we arranged with the D. D. D. Laboratories of Chicago for a special large trial bottle at 25 cents on a special offer now. This first 25-cent bottle ought to convince every sufferer; perhaps it will affect a complete cure (as it has in some cases); at any rate, it will surely take away the itch at once.

ACTIVE AND STRONGER

Wheat Prices Advance on Buying By Millers and Speculators.

Flax Is Dull, But Prices Hold Firm in Duluth.

Duluth Board of Trade, Feb. 8.—Wheat was active and strong today on buying by leading milling interests and speculators. The pit crowd bought both May and July. The cash demand was good at Chicago, where restrictive stocks contributed to the strong position of the spot market. In Minneapolis the cash market was not so strong. Some No. 1 northern sold as low as ¾c over the near option, but the choice went at 2c over. Other parcels sold at 1¾c over. Cash here equalled May.

May wheat opened at $1.10¼, sold at $1.10⅛@¾, $1.10⅜, $1.10⅝@¾, $1.11⅝, $1.11⅞@½ and closed at $1.11⅞ bid, ¾c up from yesterday's close. July wheat opened at $1.09⅝, sold at $1.10⅝, $1.10¾, $1.11⅛ and then at $1.11½ and closed at $1.11⅜ bid.

Flax was dull but fairly strong, holding its position well on light trading. The near option opened at $2.15½, gained 1c and closed at $2.16½ bid. September sold at $1.68 and October was posted in for the first time. It advanced from $1.59 to $1.62 bid.

American markets paid no attention to the foreign markets today. The dominating factors were distinctly domestic. The big milling interests led by the Washburn-Crosby company, bought heavily and the cash market was strong with a heavy demand despite the big receipts at the leading markets in the Northwest. The pit crowd helped the mills to boost prices and the near option in wheat, after a weak opening, advanced steadily. The leading millers reported large sales and an improved demand but the little fellows said they were doing only a moderate business, which at this time, however, they consider satisfactory. A few mills reported a dull trade. Several said they had sold flour for export.

In the present market the bulls base their movements on the cash premiums, the light stocks, and the closeness with which they are held, to comparatively small visible and the proximity of the crop scare period. All of these factors were in evidence today. Cash wheat was in a firm position, owing to the milling demand. Stocks have not increased as fast as had been expected on account of the inability of the railroads to move the stuff. The world's visible supply shows a decrease of 839,000 bu and scare rumors floated in from Kansas and the Southwest. Nobody paid much attention to them, however, as it is too early to place credence in the reports of damage to the growing crop.

The railroads are endeavoring to clear up the situation, but are not succeeding. It seems likely that the receipts of grain in the present month will be determined by the ability of the railroads to move the stuff. The Minneapolis stocks have increased 325,000 bu in the last three days and in the last two days the increase here has been only 23,000 bu. The increase at the two leading Northwestern markets last week was about 1,000,000 bu and it is expected that this increase will continue although the outlook for the present week is not as favorable for this record as several days ago, owing to the congestion of transportation facilities.

The buying movement today was not individual. It extended to all American markets. The Southwest bought heavily, also, and all American markets were strong with a firm undertone. The situation was exactly the opposite of the last few days, when prices reached a level of around 5 cents under the high quotation for the current crop. Declining cash premiums, a slower demand for cash wheat, larger receipts, distrust of the speculative situation, a falling off in new long commitments, all combined to make a choppy market with a heavy sagging tendency. These conditions were reversed today except in regard to the receipts which continued heavy. The consumption of wheat has been proceeding at the rate of about 1,250,000 bu a day. The bears have been calling attention to the recent small purchases of wheat by millers and they were taken off their guard today by the sudden demand from the leading interests, the same people who led in the bull movement which culminated in the highest price for the current crop. Flour stocks are larger than this time last year. They accumulated slightly in January.

There was increased interest in July wheat today, which jumped 1c in the early hours. Speculators are inclined to regard the option favorably.

The heavy speculative buying today was in the Chicago mark t where lies its peculiar characteristics. The cash stocks there are light and are controlled by a strong and closely restricted interest which has large lines, also, of Ma.. Some of the bears have believed that this interest would be unable to control its marginel holdings under the adverse conditions which have prevailed. They held to their opinion even in the face of today's advance, believing it to be only temporary. They think the bearish factors which have influenced the market will become again predominate when they assume a more accentuated aspect.

The forgein market opened fairly strong but declined on account of liberal Manitobas and increased pressure to sell Argentinas and Australia offerings. The market recovered its position and closed higher on accoun of an expected continued advance in America. Broomhall estimates the increase in wheat in Europe and afloat to the United Kingdom and the continent at 1,980,000 bu. Bradstreet estimates the visible increase of wheat in North America at 308,000 bu.

The farmer is still an important factor. Some traders bearishly inclined think that the favorable condition of the growing crop will cause him to liquidate. These traders believe that if the farmer feeds out his holdings he will have to take lower prices. The farmer is in a ticklish position and the average speculator is enjoying his position hugely. In times past the speculator has reaped the profits from the stuff and when the farmer became wiser and learned to control his distribution of supplies it was his turn to smile. Now it is a question as to who will have the final laugh.

Broomhall wired from Liverpool—"The wheat market opened with lighter offerings and some demand prompted by the steady American cables yesterday and values here were 3d higher. Following the opening and during the remainder of the morning a heavy undertone developed and prices declined ½d. Pressure resulted from the easier spot markets, free Manitoba offerings and the increased pressure to sell both La Plata and Australian cargoes with the general demand poor. European crop advices continue favorable and the continental markets are heavy with the demand poor. Liverpool receipts for three days are much larger than expected. At mid-day the market was weak with values ½d lower than yesterday. Corn was quiet at the start and unchanged. Later there was a decline of ½d on the larger and cheaper American and La Plata offerings. Broomhall's crop summary is delayed. Liverpool receipts of wheat for three days amount to 432,000 bu and corn 122,000 bu. These compare with wheat 168,000 bu and corn 30,000 for the same week last year. Wheat cargoes arrived off coast one and awaiting orders four. Wheat cargoes in distant positions easy and offered at 3d decline. Corn easy with larger Argentine offers. Spot wheat easy. No. 2 red and No. 1 Manitoba ½d lower and La Plata 1d lower. Corn quiet, ¼@½d decline."

THE MINNEAPOLIS MARKET.

Active Buying By Millers and Shorts Strengthens Wheat.

Minneapolis, Minn., Feb. 8.—The active buying of wheat by a big local flour mill and the covering of shorts made the market much stronger today. Foreign markets were inclined to be easier and other news favored the bears. Local receipts were heavy and the world's available supply showed a small increase. Local elevator stocks increased 325,000 bushels for three days. May opened exactly ½c lower than yesterday and during the first two hours advanced 1¾c. The later session saw the market sell off a trifle and the near option closed 1⅛@1¾c higher than the opening figure. Minneapolis today received 448 cars of wheat as compared with 195 cars a year ago; Duluth, 67 cars against 32, and Winnipeg, 316 cars against 155 cars.

May opened $1.09⅝@¾; high, $1.11½; low, $1.09¾; close, $1.11. July opened $1.09½; high, $1.11⅛; low, $1.09½; close, $1.10⅝@¾.

Cash wheat was about steady. Considerable discrimination was shown against cars that could not be reloaded with flour for Eastern shipments. Demand was good for choice grades. Millers were about the only buyers. No. 1 northern sold for 1@2c above the May option, and No. 1 northern for 1c lower to the even May price. Closing prices on track: No. 1 northern, $1.11½@1.12¾; to arrive $1.11½@1.12¾; No. 2 northern, $1.09½@1.10¾; to arrive, $1.09½@1.10¾; No. 3 wheat, $1.05½@1.09½; No. 3 yellow corn, 57¾@58¾c; No. 3 white oats, 44¼@44½c; No. 2 rye, 74¾@76¾c.

Flax—Receipts, 36 cars; year ago, 5; shipments, 0. Demand was strong for both spot and to arrive at 1c above the Duluth May option. Cash offerings continued very scarce. Closing prices, $2.17½.

Barley—Receipts, 65 cars; year ago, 39; shipments, 68. The market was firmer today. Demand was strong for both feeding and malting grades. Offerings wer fairly liberal and prices were 1c higher. Closing range 58@65c.

Millstuffs — Shipments, 948 tons. Shipments showed a falling off today. Demand continued good at steady prices. Bran in 100-pound sacks $23.00@23.50.

The flour market was steady. Nearly all the local mills are grinding wheat on accumulated orders. Demand continued fair and prices firm. Shipments showed a falling off. Shipments 53,427 bbls. First patents in wood f. o. b. Minneapolis, $5.40@5.60; second patents $5.20@5.40; first clears $4.35@4.45; second clears $3.10@3.40.

DECLINES IN STOCKS

Copper Industrials and Union Pacific Handled With Unusual Severity.

New York, Feb. 8.—Further declines in the opening prices of stocks showed the liquidating movement of yesterday still in force. The copper industrials and Union Pacific were handled with especial severity, but losses of a large fraction to a point were common to all the prominent stocks. American Smelting sold at a decline of 2⅜, Great Northern Ore certificates 1¾, Utah Copper 1⅝, Amalgamated Copper 1½, American Locomotive 1⅜, and Baltimore & Ohio and Kansas & Texas 1¼. There were running sales of 6,500 shares of Union Pacific at 179 to 178½, compared with 180¼, yesterday's last prices. United States Steel sold as low as 75. Reading after opening down ½ recovered to ¾ over last night, and secondary prices showed some general improvement. American Smelting rallied 1¼.

In many cases the rally which began after the opening carried prices above yesterday's final figures and reduced the severe declines to trifling fractions. United States Steel in common with many other stocks rallied a point, and its recovery did much to stimulate the rise all around. Rock Island advanced 1⅝, American Smelting preferred 1½, Northern Pacific 1¼, and Reading and Pittsburg Coal preferred 1. Anaconda sagged 2 points and Westinghouse Electric 1½.

The recovery established a number of substantial net gains, but reduced the activity to the point of dullness. Rock Island's gain reached 2¼, Northern Pacific, Reading, St. Louis & San Francisco second preferred and General Electric 1½, Utah Copper 1⅝, Southern Pacific 1¼, Union Pacific preferred, Colorado Fuel, Sloss-Sheffield Steel, Interborough-Metropolitan preferred, Third Avenue and Consolidated Gas 1, International Harvester declined 2. Prices were shaded a fraction before noon. Bonds were heavy.

The setback at noon was of brief duration, the market rising again through limited transactions. Early losses were in most cases, except in the coppers, converted into substantial gains. Bethlehem Steel preferred gained 4 points; Rock Island, 2¾; Reading, 2¼; International Pump, 2; Southern Pacific, Illinois Central, Missouri Pacific, Southern Railway preferred and Pullman, 1½; Chesapeake & Ohio, 1⅜; Great Northern preferred and Wabash preferred, 1½, and New York Central, United States Steel, National Lead and American Cotton Oil, 1. Well-Fargo Express jumped 20 points to 132 on one transaction.

The market closed weak and nervous. Prices ran off rapidly in the final hour, wiping out many of the gains. Union Pacific, United States Steel and Amalgamated Copper dropped to the earlier low pitch, or below. Support was in evidence at the low levels, but the rally was uncertain and failed to hold.

ON THE PUNGENT TRAIL OF THE CHINESE NEW YEAR'S CELEBRATION

If you have plenty of patience and don't mind being snubbed in a superior Oriental fashion, and you can stand strong garlic smells, you may be able to gather some facts concerning the New Year's celebration of the local Chinese colony.

If you don't like to be passed up, and you cannot stand the sight of the grease and the general unkempt appearance of things, pass up the New Year's proposition.

It was early apparent to the inquirer that it was a long and stern chase after the news of the big jamboree in local Chinese circles. You can generally find what you want at the Oregon restaurant—in the way of information. It is one of the heart beats of the local Chinese gossip circulation. There is generally a chorus chinning about something or other.

This morning there was the usual stir among the Chinese habitues of the place. They leaned upon the counter and gazed into space. The white girls of the establishment lolled around, too, for it was the betwix and between hours. The noon hour rush had not started.

One Chinaman made a guess at it. He didn't know when the Chinese New Year was, didn't know how he could find out, and after persistent questioning, kind of let slip of his temper. "What hellee the matter?" he demanded, and there was the Oriental gleam of suspicion in his slant wicks.

He did not know, that was plainly apparent. Even Chinamen sometimes can be read. He referred the patient searcher to another man, seated in the rear of the room, further in the interior of the garlic smell country.

This old man, with skin the color of brown paper parchment that had been left out in all kinds of weather, was busy over some strange figures, which he was making with a long and narrow brush.

He didn't even deign to look up at the earnest entreaty of the person riding on the information trail.

He sat there like a mummy, even less interesting. Occasionally the brush moved and a wrinkle added itself to the already large colony that sat watch on the forehead of the old man, bearing testimony to a life of deep mental calculations.

There was the temptation to grab him and shake him. He was exasperating and other things besides.

Finally he looked up.

"Chinese New Year tomorrow," he stated in even English, never batting his narrow slits of eyes. Then he resumed his work again.

You might as well shove at the base of Gibraltar as ply such an immovable object with questions. There was nothing doing on the Chinese New Year's questioning.

Over at the Chinese store, on Fifth avenue west, there were seven sallow samples of the yellow race. Most of them were hitting the pipe, but only the lighter American narcotic.

Here again questions were plied. There was a frosted-faced silence. It is about as satisfactory to ask a Chinaman questions as it is to argue and haggle with the plumber.

Finally a voice from the interior of the store, or what seemed more like a bunkhouse, broke the silence.

"Celebration tomollow," came the information, via wireless.

Then a shaven conk, it didn't look like a head, was thrust out from one of the bunk doors, and the man with the voice smiled, showing a set of yellow ivories.

There was one big, fat, lazy-looking Celestial. He was sleepy-eyed and dull. His pipe was half falling from his hands. He was swaying between the spell of semi-consciousness and somnolence. His shoulder was gripped and he was shaken, by the humiliated and thoroughly aroused inquirer.

"Hey, you! How are you going to celebrate Chinese New Year's?" The worm had turned.

The Chinaman came to with a sleepy jerk and opened upon a lazy atmosphere a pair of wee, oblong eyes.

The demand, for demand it was, was repeated. The light of comprehension shone, feebly, 'tis true, but yet flickered.

"No celebration—no Chinese celebration—Chinaman no dam fool."

It was out. Truth even when crushed to earth will arise in majestic poise.

Then an old toothless yellow man at the back of the room came in with an ante. He spoke like a college professor.

"There will be no formal celebration—that's him—we may plan a few details, a mere informal acknowledgement of the day and our religion; but as far as holding any celebration, there are too few of our countrymen here. I trust that you have all the information you desire."

The inquirer after information was groggy and dazed and somewhat nonplussed, whatever that is, and he groped for the door.

SWINDLED TWO CONGRESSMEN

J. M. Waterbury Is Sentenced and Appeals to the Higher Court.

Washington, Feb. 8.—Jules M. Waterbury of Enfield Center, N. Y., recently convicted of obtaining money by false pretenses from Representatives Hull and Bartholdt and Former Attorney General Mellarg, representing himself as connected with the Associated Press, was today sentenced by Justice Gould in Criminal Court No. 1, to serve eighteen months in the Atlanta, Ga., penitentiary. An appeal was noted, and pending its disposition Waterbury was released on $5,000 bail.

Waterbury made an earnest plea for leniency, and although the law would have permitted the court to condemn him to imprisonment for nine years, Justice Gould considered the fact that restitution had been made and the young man's promise not to engage again in perpetrating a fraud on the public.

BIG STATE LAND SALE.

Nearly $300,000 Paid for Lands at New Rockford, N. D.

New Rockford, N. D., Feb. 8.—(Special to The Herald.)—The exceedingly large demand that exists for North Dakota lands at the present time was shown at the state land sale held here. Over 200 buyers were present and $288,158 was realized. Of this amount $59,298.98 as paid by the buyers in cash on the spot.

At Carrington, in Foster county, the same condition prevailed. About the same amount of money was realized and there was a very large number of buyers present to bid on the several tracts. The prices on the land ranged from $10 to $38 an acre, the average being between $15 and $30 an acre.

BUFFALO GIRL GOES OVER FALLS

Commits Suicide at Niagara in Grief Over Death of Her Fiance.

Niagara Falls, N. Y., Feb. 8.—A young woman thought to be Miss Beatrice R. Snyder of Buffalo, committed suicide yesterday afternoon by wading into the river just above Prospect Point, and going over the American falls. As her body swept over the brink of the cataract she turned her face toward her would-be rescuers and smiled a farewell to them.

A park policeman paid scant attention to the woman when she first appeared on the path leading to the river bank. Then, as she began to run toward the river, it was too late to intercept her.

Without a moment's hesitation she waded into the stream. She turned once and smiled toward the men who were calling her to stop, and continued to move rapidly into deep water. In an instant she was whisked from her feet and carried rapidly toward the brink of the falls.

On the bank was found a handbag, and in it a note asking the forgiveness of her parents. There was a card in the purse bearing the name Beatrice P. Snyder. With the lower river jammed with ice, there is little hope that the body will ever be recovered.

Dejected Over Man's Death.

Buffalo, N. Y., Feb. 8.—Miss Snyder was chief clerk in a Buffalo tea store. She has been dejected since the death of her fiance, George F. Meyers. They were to have been married in a few months. She was at work yesterday morning.

HYDE KEPT FROM STAND BY LAWYER

Doctor Declines to Testify in Inquest Over Death of Col. Swope.

Clash Between Coroner and Counsel Marks the Proceedings.

Evidence Is Concluded and Case Now Rests With the Jurors.

Kansas City, Mo., Feb. 9.—"Col. Swope came to his death by reason of strychnine administered in a capsule by Dr. B. C. Hyde, but whether by felonious intent or not, we, the jury, are unable to say."

This verdict was rendered at 1 o'clock this afternoon by the coroner's jury at Independence, after being out one hour.

Kansas City, Mo., Feb. 9.—Dr. B. Clarke Hyde, who was physician to Col. Swope on the day the latter died and who prescribed a digestive capsule which preceded death only a short while, refused today to testify before the coroner's jury, and refused even to be sworn. As a result more excitement was crowded into the proceedings than had been experienced in the two days of sensational testimony.

The inquest ended this afternoon. At that time the sensational inquiry into the causes that led to the death of Col. Thomas Hunton Swope, millionaire

TRAMP OPERATOR SAVES TWO TRAINS

Makes Brave Atonement for Forgetting to Turn Over an Order.

Albion, Ill., Feb. 9.—An itinerant telegraph operator working extra failed to hand over a train order and therefore is on his way, but he retrieved his negligence and prevented a collision between two passenger trains by a trick of daring and strength before he departed, early today.

Train No. 2, westbound and late, pulled out of the Southern railway station here without the operator having delivered an order to hold back for the passage of an eastbound train. He rushed frantically along the track, missed the steps of the last car and fell headlong.

On his feet again and running he caught the rear rail, pulled himself to the vestibule door, smashed the glass, and stopped the train. There was just time to get back to Albion when the eastbound train rushed through.

The operator did not show up again.

SAYS DR. COOK IS IN BERMUDA

Brooklyn Man Declares Explorer Expects to Square Himself Yet.

New York, Feb. 9.—Dr. Frederick A. Cook, whose claim of having discovered the North Pole, was discredited by the Danish scientists, and whose whereabouts for many weeks had been a complete mystery has been discovered in Bermuda, according to a story printed today in the Globe. The discovery of Dr Cook's whereabouts was made by G. J. L. Doerschuck of Brooklyn, who arrived here today from Bermuda.

Mr. Doerschuck is quoted as saying that he met Mr. Cook near Hamilton, Bermuda and that he recognized Dr. Cook instantly as they were both members of the Buschwick club in Brooklyn. Asked by Mr. Doerschuck what he was doing, Dr. Cook said: "Just resting. I am feeling much better than I did and I will soon return to New York and straighten out the North Pole tangle. I am confident that I will be able to make that matter square."

Mr. Doerschuck said Dr. Cook expressed a purpose to sail for Halifax today.

FREEDOM AGAIN DENIED TO THAW

Murderer Now Seeks to Be Put in Some Other Asylum.

Nyack, N. Y., Feb. 9.—Harry K. Thaw's latest application for his discharge from the Matteawan state hospital for the criminal insane was denied by Justice A. S. Tompkins in a decision rendered today. At the same time the justice appointed William Vanaince of Orange county as a referee to take evidence on Thaw's application for a transfer from the Matteawan asylum to some other institution. The referee is instructed to hold the hearings in Matteawan and submit evidence to Justice Tompkins together with an opinion as to whether Thaw is being properly treated.

NOT ALLIES OF LIBERALS

Laborites Will Not Follow Blindly, Says James Keir Hardie.

Leader Declares Plan to Wipe Out House of Lords is Unchanged.

Newport, Eng., Feb. 9.—In his address opening the tenth annual meeting of the Independent Labor party today, President James Keir Hardie threw cold water upon all sugestions that the Laborites in the forthcoming parliament should be the blind followers of the government. He said:

"I confidently assert that those who hope to see us bring about our own undoing by entering into some agreement or understanding with the government are doomed to disappointment. At all costs and hazards we must maintain a complete freedom of action both in the house of commons and in our constituencies. The treatment

CHINA AND JAPAN FIX POSTAL RULES

Agreement Is Made Which Principally Affects Work in Manchuria.

Pekin, Feb. 9.—The governments of China and Japan today signed a working agreement on the basis of the postal union rules. The document affects Manchuria chiefly. China recovers its monopoly of mail carrying on its own railway, together with equal rights over the Japanese railroad.

China recognizes all of the Japanese treaty port postoffices and also six exchange offices in the treaty marts of Manchuria. Provision is made for relations with other Japanese postoffices in Manchuria in accordance with local conditions.

China considers the agreement advantageous. The measure will become effective April 1.

KING GUSTAVE IS DOING NICELY

Swedish Ruler is Expected to Recover From His Operation.

Stockholm, Feb. 9.—With only brief waking intervals, King Gustave, who was operated upon for appendicitis Monday night, slept well from 9 o'clock last night until 7 o'clock this morning. Today his majesty showed some signs of fatigue, but suffered no pain. His temperature was 99.7, pulse 54.

This bulletin was issued at noon:

"The king feels fatigued, but suffers less pain, and the general condition of his majesty gives ground for the hope that the malady will pursue a normal course."

Later at the palace it was stated that the royal patient's condition was satisfactory.

DULUTH WELL TO THE FRONT

Bank Clearings Compare Favorably With Those of Other Cities.

Total for the Year Nearly $200,000,000---Officers Re-elected.

The bank clearings for the first year of the organized Duluth Clearing House association aggregated $190,962,629.68, according to the report submitted at the annual meeting of the association yesterday afternoon.

The figures compare very favorably with those of other cities of about the same size as Duluth. The weekly average for the year in Duluth is about $3,600,000, and it is doubtful if the average in other cities of the same size will equal it. The lowest total for any week was about $2,000,000 in June, while one week in October the figures ran up to about $8,000,000.

The officers of the association were re-elected at the meeting yesterday. They are: A. L. Ordean, president; W. G. Hegardt, first vice president; W. I. Prince, second vice president; J. W. Lyder, secretary and treasurer; I. S. Moore, manager.

MILL CITY MAN IS LOCKED IN ICEBOX

Burglars Steal Diamond and Then Shut Victim in Cold Storage.

Minneapolis, Minn., Feb. 9.—(Special to The Herald.)—Fred Noyes, proprietor of a cafe, was held up in his place of business early today by masked men, who took from him a $50 diamond and then locked him in the refrigerator. It was two hours later when Noyes was released and he was nearly frozen stiff.

FIRE WIPES OUT CASS LAKE HOTEL

Cain House Takes Fire in Early Morning, Guests Jumping for Their Lives.

Cass Lake, Minn., Feb. 9.—(Special to The Herald.)—Fire at 5 o'clock this morning completely destroyed the Cain hotel, near Nell's mill. The fire started from a stove. Dennis Cain had made a fire and returned to bed. Something happened to the stove, and the house was soon afire. Warren Cain smelled smoke and awoke to find the house in flames. Several roomers were forced to jump from the top story to the ground to escape the flames. Nothing was saved, and the loss is about $4,000, with $1,500 insurance.

AIR EVILS OF "FUTURES"

House Committee Begins Hearing at the National Capital.

Effort to Stop Such Deals in Agricultural Products Is Made.

Washington, Feb. 9.—Gambling in futures in agricultural products was the subject of a hearing begun today before the agricultural committee of the house. The inquiry brought together a delegation of prominent members of the cotton exchange of New York, and several delegations of cotton growers and agriculturalists. All were present to give testimony for or against the measures designed to prohibit dealings in futures.

A number of bills are before the committee dealing with this subject. Chairmun Scott of the committee is the author of a sweeping bill designed to end gambling in the futures of the products of the farm. Congressmen from Texas have introduced half a dozen or more bills which if enacted would prevent gambling in cotton futures.

Representatives of practically all of the Southern states are pledged in favor of a law along these lines. The bills also have the support of Western members.

PREDICTS CONTROL OF COLD STORAGE

Dr. Wiley Says Government Will Regulate That Line of Business.

Boston, Mass., Feb. 9.—Federal regulation of cold storage plants was prophesied by Dr. Harvey Wiley, chief of the bureau of chemistry at Washington, in an address at the annual dinner of the alumni of the Massachusetts agricultural college last night. Dr. David Snedden, state commissioner of education, spoke in favor of an agricultural course in high schools.

LAWLER GIVEN RATIFICATION

St. Paul Priest's Promotion is Sanctioned By the Vatican.

Rome, Feb. 9.—The following appointments proposed by Cardinal De Lai, secretary of the consistorial congregation, were ratified by the pope today:

Rev. J. J. Lawler, to be auxiliary archbishop of St. Paul, Minn.; Rev. J. W. Shaw of Mobile, Ala., to be coadjutor bishop of San Antonio, Tex.; Rt. Rev. Denis O'Donaghue, auxiliary bishop of Indianapolis, to be bishop of Louisville, Ky.

WILLCUTS IS HOPEFUL

Says Nelson and Miller Are Working for Building Appropriation.

Duluth May Get Money to Buy Remaining Lots and Start Construction.

"If a public buildings bill is reported in the house, I have no doubt but that Duluth will be included in it for an appropriation sufficiently large to allow us to acquire the remainder of the site for the proposed new federal building and to make a start on the building," said Collector of Customs L. M. Willcuts on his return from Washington this morning.

"What congress will do with the bill when it is reported, is a question that cannot be answered. Revenue returns will govern their action largely. Senator Nelson, Representative Miller and I called on J. Knox Taylor, supervising architect of the treasury department, and he said he would recommend that a building be erected here. If a big bill goes through, we will undoubtedly be given enough money to buy the remainder of the site and begin construction. If an economy program is carried out, we may not get more than enough to purchase the remaining lots."

Representative Miller has introduced a bill in the house providing for an appropriation of $595,000. Chairman Barthold of the committee has announced that a building appropriation bill is being prepared and is to be re-

RIVER SEINE IS RISING AGAIN

Renewal of Rain and Melting Snow Swell Stream Above Banks.

Paris, Feb. 9.—The River Seine had risen nine inches here during the twenty-four hours ending at noon today, owing to yesterday's rain and melting snow. The hydrographic department predicts a continued rise until Friday, when the stream will reach a height of more than twenty-two feet at the Pont Royal and equal the flood level of 1882.

Although confident that there is no danger of the repetition of the recent disaster, the authorities are taking thorough precautions. The levels of the parapets at low places throughout the length of the city are being hastily raised by improvised dykes. The return of high water threatens to retard greatly the work of repair which is in progress.

Long Delay in Service.

The waters, which had dropped below the mouths of the sewers, are again pouring into the conduits, drowning the electric light and power lines near the Place de l'Opera. Although service has been resumed in several sections of the subway, the management holds out no hope that the main line passing St. Lazare station will be restored before another month.

CHIEF WHO SPIED ON HIS OWN POLICE FORCE

DR. TRAUGOTT A. VON JAGOW, Of Berlin.

Dr. Von Jagow, the chief of police of Berlin, recently received reports concerning the treatment of the men of the force by their immediate superiors and of uncivil treatment of the public by the subordinate officers of the force. So the chief disguised himself and went to several stations, where he asked questions of the lieutenants. He was treated with rudeness, and at one station, where he sat down to wait for an absent lieutenant, he was able to judge how the general public was treated by the sergeant in charge. The result of his investigations has been a reorganization of the force.

ALLDS GETS HIS INNINGS

Is Given Chance to Quiz His Accusers in Senate Investigation.

Moe of Groton Says He Gave Senator $1,000 for Services.

Albany, N. Y., Feb. 9.—Senator Jotham P. Allds' opportunity to discredit the testimony offered yesterday in support of the charge of Senator Benn Conger that in 1901, while a member of the assembly, the former had accepted $1,000 to suppress a certain bill, came when the senate reassembled today to investigate. The direct examination of the most important of Conger's witnesses having been concluded yesterday, counsel for Senator Allds took the witnesses in hand today for cross-examination.

After the defense finishes with Moe, Conger is expected to take the stand to clinch the former's assertions. Conger said that Moe was the only person present when Allds got the $1,000. If Allds denies Moe's story, the "prosecution" will still have the advantage of two witnesses to one.

Other Names May Appear.

DENIES FRAUD IN LANDS IN ALASKA

B. C. Riblet is Examined By Two Federal Agents at Nome.

Nome, Alaska, Feb. 9.—B. C. Riblet was examined today by J. M. Sheridan and W. J. Magee of the American department of the interior in connection with the charge that certain persons had taken up patents to coal lands in Alaska with the intention of disposing of the rights to others. Riblet denied that he had committed a statutory fraud. The proceedings were before American Consul Chapman Coleman. E. C. Hughes of Seattle, Wash., was present as attorney for the coal claimants.

MURDERS GIRL AND HER FATHER

Man 30 Years Old Turns Criminal Over Love for 15-Year-Old.

San Francisco, Cal., Feb. 9.—Crazed by the refusal of the parents of his 15-year-old sweetheart, Ceres Anderson, to allow him to marry the girl, John Allen, a lumber camp cook aged 30, last night shot and killed Axel Anderson, her father, in the doorway of the latter's home, and chased the girl two blocks through the streets, sending three bullets into her body, from the effects of which she died. Then Allen blew out his own brains. As the murderer pursued the girl he was followed by her mother, who ran behind him imploring him not to kill the child. Allen made no attempt to shoot Mrs. Anderson.

One Killed in Trolley Wreck.

Pittsfield, Mass., Feb. 9.—Miss Bessie Ryan of Hinsdale was killed and between twenty-five and thirty other persons were injured in an electric car accident at Hinsdale today. A car bound for Pittsfield jumped the tracks and crashed into the abutments of the Boston & Albany railroad bridge.

MAY HALT BUILDING IN NEW YORK

Referendum Vote Is Being Taken That Affects 150,000 Men in That City.

Union Members May Go Out in Sympathy With the Steamfitters.

Strike Now Would Violate Agreement Made After Last Big Trouble.

New York, Feb. 9.—A vote being taken today will decide whether a strike involving 150,000 men and completely tying up building operations in this city shall be called.

The referendum was called at a conference of the building trades unions last night when sympathy with the Steam Fitters' strike for an increase of wages was voted by the delegates, and a general strike in support of the men now out was favored.

The outcome of the referendum is problematic. A strike now would be in violation of the arbitration agreement in force since the last strike. Numbers of the men are believed to be strongly opposed to such action. In the big strike of 1902, 100,000 men stopped work and $50,000,000 worth of building operations was held up.

TWO SICK MEN ON THE JURY

Murder Trial in Pennsylvania Proceeds Under Unusual Difficulties.

Sharon, Pa., Feb. 9.—With two jurors ill, one of whom has to be propped up in a cold courtroom, a murder trial has been conducted here for a week under most trying circumstances. The examinations of witnesses and the arguments of counsel have been carried on quietly so as not to disturb Joseph Hosak, who was taken ill the day after he was drawn for jury duty. Hosak has pleurisy, while Frank Campsey has tonsilitis and sits in a large arm chair, swathed in blankets.

The proceedings have been interrupted almost hourly while the patients were given medicine prescribed by a physician. Stops also have been frequent to enable the ailing jurors to rest.

George Nurse is on trial for the alleged murder of Lynn Morris, a nonunion workman, last July during the strike of the tin workers here. The case was expected to go to the jury today.

TALK ABOUT GAS IN COMET'S TAIL

Astronomers Disagree as to Whether There is Enough to Affect the Earth.

Berkeley, Cal., Feb. 9.—"If the astronomers are right in their estimate of the amount of cyanogen gas in the tail of Halley's comet, and if the vapors of that body do envelop the earth, we may have a chance to feel the sensations of the bugs and insects which are killed by the use of this deadly gas as an exterminator."

Such is the cheerful opinion expressed yesterday by Prof. Edwin Booth of California. He is a well-known expert on spectrum analysis.

"We'll all be snuffed out," he said, "if a sufficient quantity of this cyanogen gas unites with the hydrogen of this planet's atmosphere. Their union," he continued, "would form the deadly gas known as hydrocyanic acid, which is the most deadly poison known to science and which means death for all animals."

Prof. Burckhalter of the Chabot observatory, Oakland, maintains on the other hand that there is very little gas in the comet's tail and that people have nothing to fear.

THREE RESCUED BY HUMAN CHAIN

Policemen Take Woman and Two Children From Burning Building.

New York, Feb. 9.—Two policemen standing on a ladder and another in a window formed a human chain today, and rescued a woman and her two children from a burning home in Brooklyn.

Mrs. Catherine Malone, her son of 14 and a daughter 16 years old, were unconscious from the smoke when the policemen arrived. A ladder was placed at one of the bedroom windows, and while one policeman dragged the woman and her children to the window and handed them out, the other officers passed the sufferers to the ground, where all three were revived.

The fire had progressed so swiftly that a few minutes later the building collapsed.

TO CELEBRATE SEMI-CENTENNIAL

Oneota Congregation Sets Dates for Big Celebration and Reunion.

The date for the golden anniversary celebration of the founding of Duluth's oldest church, now known as the Merritt Memorial M. E. church, Forty-sixth avenue west and Halifax street, has been set for April 7, 8, 9 and 10. This was decided upon last evening at a meeting of the trustees of the church.

The church was established in a schoolhouse in 1856, when Duluth was a frontier settlement and Oneota the center of population in what was then known as Duluth. The schoolhouse was abandoned in 1869 and the old Oneota M. E. church was built. This was replaced in 1892 with the present structure, known as the Merritt Memorial M. E. church.

The bell in the old schoolhouse is still used and it is nearly fifty-five years old.

A committee was named last evening at a meeting of the church trustees, comprising Rev. E. K. Copper, superintendent of the Duluth district and former pastor of the Merritt Memorial church; Rev. P. E. Stidd, the present pastor, and Lucien Merritt, to make the necessary arrangements for the celebration.

It is planned to have as many as possible of the former pastors present at the affair. A list of those now living has been secured, and invitations have been sent to them all.

The meeting last evening was held at the residence of Mr. Stidd of 4602 Oneota street.

HAIR REMOVERS ARE DANGEROUS

Physicians Say: "Don't Use Poisonous Depilatories."

The extravagant claims recently made by unscrupulous manufacturers of hair removers in sensational advertisements unquestionably justify physicians in cautioning the public against the use of this class of depilatories. How many people have been enticed into using these dangerous preparations with consequent injury to themselves, cannot be estimated, but only guessed at.

The preparations above referred to are invariably in the form of creamy pastes, which are to be spread upon the skin to remain until they dry. These contain Sulphide of Barium, an insoluble chemical, which cannot be dissolved, therefore cannot be absorbed by the skin. The very fact that you are told to leave these pasty compounds on the skin until they dry and cake and then lift off with a knife is proof positive that they are not absorbed. If they are, why do they still remain on the skin? The most they can possibly do is to remove the surface hair, which in consequence will reappear stronger and thicker after each removal.

There is only one logical and scientific way to remove hair, and that is by means of a liquid containing soluble ingredients which can be absorbed by the skin. De Miracle, known all the world over as the only real superfluous hair remover, is just such a preparation. It is easily and quickly absorbed, and after you have used it you will note there is nothing left on the skin. It leaves the skin free from irritation, and what is more to the point, it is absolutely nonpoisonous, therefore it will not produce eczema or blood poisoning. Remember, no matter what claims are made to the contrary, no pois nous, pasty compound or other worthless concoction can reach the hair root, and we can prove it.

Beware of the fake free advertisers and others. Don't be deceived by them. Better take a doctor's advice. De Miracle is sold by I. Freimuth. We will send you a 32-page booklet containing full information concerning this remarkable treatment, as well as testimonials of prominent physicians, surgeons, dermatologists, medical journals and the principal magazines. You should read this booklet before you try anything. Write to the De Miracle Chemical Co., Dept. 38, 1005 Park av., New York, simply saying you want this booklet, and it will be mailed, sealed, at once.

SAY CHINAMAN WAS NOT ROBBED

Hong Kee takes the cake for a foxy Chinaman, at least as far as Duluth is concerned, say the police.

Monday he reported that he was robbed of $70 and a dozen bundles of laundry. But the authorities announced this morning that he wasn't robbed at all.

Hong claimed that some bad man had taken the cash, the result of many washings and much soap suds, while he was drinking tea with some countrymen Sunday afternoon.

It now appears that he lost some laundry, but no money. The police say that he gave out the story about losing the money so he would not have to pay for the laundry bundles of his customers which were taken. He thought that if it looked as though he had been a worse loser than his patrons, they would go easy on him, particularly in view of the fact that the Chinese New Year is now being celebrated.

FOWLS STILL ON DISPLAY

Poultry Show Will Come to a Close Thursday Evening.

Today and tomorrow are the two last days of the poultry show. All of the prizes won at the show and the special cups and trophies are on exhibition. All of the fowls will be on exhibition until the show closes tomorrow night.

On exhibition in the front window of the store are the chickens of H. A. Nelson of Duluth, which won the Duluth & Iron Range railroad challenge cup. This cup is offered by the railway company for birds bred in St. Louis, Lake and Cook counties. The cup is awarded to the highest scoring pen, consisting of one male and four females of any standard variety. If any exhibitor wins the cup three times it will become his personal property.

The eggs on display have been attracting considerable attention. Some of the turkeys bred in this county have made a very fine showing at the exhibition. The show has gone far to prove that some of the very best poultry in the Northwest is raised in St. Louis and the two other extreme northern counties of the state.

The officials of the show believe that it has also gone very far to prove that poultry raising in this part of the state can be made very profitable. The Duluth birds and the birds bred in this section have compared very favorably with the birds from the central and southern parts of the state, as well as birds from Wisconsin, Illinois and Iowa. This fact alone has been immensely gratifying to the officials of the association.

The show that will come to a close tomorrow has been the most successful in the history of the association. There have been more entries, closer competition and a greater variety of breeds shown. St. Louis county has the greatest showing in its history. The breeders are all very well satisfied, and the public has had an opportunity to see the finest poultry ever shown here.

TRAGEDY GREETS PLEASURE SEEKERS

Crowd From Picture Show Sees Man Hurl Himself to Death.

Salt Lake City, Utah, Feb. 9.—Coming from the mock tragedy of a moving picture show, a crowd on Third South street was horrified by a real tragedy last night. A large object, hurtling, it seemed, from the sky, fell upon the sidewalk and lay at the feet of the pleasure seekers, a crushed and bleeding corpse.

The victim is believed to be George Johnson of Denver. He had been prowling about the alleys in the business section, and two policemen were looking for him as a suspicious character. In his flight he knocked down a night watchman, and finally climbed a fire escape to the roof of the Luna theater.

Chased by Officers.

The officers lost the trail and were still looking for the fugitive when screams in front of the building explained his disappearance. Johnson evidently had reached the roof and had jumped to the sidewalk, three stories below.

Letters on his person were addressed to George Johnson, general delivery, Denver, Colo. Most of them were written from England.

HALF MILLION IS LOST IN FIRE

Boston, Mass., Feb. 9.—Boston's beef supply was nearly "cornered" by a fire which destroyed approximately $500,000 worth of property at the Brighton stockyards today. The fire is thought to have originated in the engine room of the New England Rendering company's building, connected with the Brighton abattoir on North Market street.

The blaze spread to the cattle shed of the Boston Packing company within a few minutes and threatened for a time to wipe out the entire plant, which covers nearly twenty acres.

By hard work the firemen succeeded in confining the flames to the rendering plant and the cattle shed.

COMMERCIAL CLUB ACTIVITIES

CONVENTION AT BEMIDJI

Duluth Commercial Club Will Probably Send Ten Delegates.

Some of the Problems to Be Discussed at the Gathering.

Is it fair to put a settler down in the woods, surrounded by state lands, which pay no taxes for road improvements or schools?

Are there not thousands of acres of land in Northern Minnesota which would be valuable if drained?

Isn't it about time that Northern Minnesota got something like a fair deal on representation in the legislature?

Is Northern Minnesota getting a fair deal from the railroads, in service and rates?

The foregoing are some of the questions which the delegates to the big convention which will be held at Bemidji next week will attempt to answer.

The convention, which will be held Feb. 17 and 18 at Bemidji, will be one of the most important gatherings held in this part of the state. Delegates from all the cities, towns and settlements north of the Northern Pacific line between Duluth and Moorhead will be present. The Duluth Commercial club will probably send up ten delegates. Eight have already been chosen by the chairman of the public affairs committee, T. W. Hugo. They are: F. A. Patrick, W. A. McGonagle, Mayor R. D. Haven, B. W. How, L. B. Arnold, C. S. Mitchell, A. C. Weiss, and Bishop Morrison. The delegates will probably engage a special sleeper Wednesday night and make their home in the sleeper during the two days the convention lasts.

The convention is called by the Northern Minnesota Development association, and, while the four problems mentioned above will be the most important ones discussed, any matter which is of importance to the northern part of the state will be in order.

SEND CASH FOR MEMBERSHIP

Farmers at Hines Are First to Join Market Association.

The first real money in the shape of dues from prospective members of the Producers' Co-operative Market association, was received this morning, the farmers at Hines, sending in $10 for a membership.

Many other farmers' clubs have expressed their willingness to become members, but the farmers at Hines, who are not yet organized, were the first to come across with the cash.

The association is as yet but a temporary organization, but this will be made permanent at the meeting to be held in Duluth tomorrow.

Commercial Club Notes.

The public affairs committee of the Duluth Commercial club will hold a meeting this evening, to consider once more, the plan for a market garden company and a suburban trolley line, as suggested by John G. Williams.

Prof. A. J. McGuire of the Grand Rapids experiment station, will deliver a lecture tomorrow evening in the course being presented by the Commercial club and the Y. M. C. A. at the Y. M. C. A. assembly hall, on "Stumps and Stump Blowing."

DR. FRITCH PUT ON TRIAL AT DETROIT

Detroit, Mich., Feb. 9.—After spending nearly a week in obtaining a jury, the case against Dr. George A. Fritch, charged with manslaughter in connection with the death of Maybelle Millman of Ann Arbor, was begun here today before Judge Phelan.

Miss Millman's dismembered body was found in three gunny sacks submerged in Ecorse creek last September. The prosecution's strongest witness is expected to be Thomas Leach, a chauffeur, who has testified that he drove Dr. Fritch to Ecorse creek at midnight and waited in an automobile while three sacks which the doctor had brought were thrown into the water.

Prosecutor Van Zile opened for the state. Miss Martha Henning, the dead girl's chum, was the first witness called.

FOOD PRICE PROBE PLAN VOTED DOWN

Springfield, Ill., Feb. 9.—In the state legislature today Senator Glackin called up his joint resolution providing a commission of five to probe the high prices of food and to investigate cold storage in Illinois. During a heated address, Mr. Glackin declared that "trusts were robbing the people of the state." The resolution was defeated.

MAN AND WIFE ARE FOUND MURDERED.

Cleveland, Ohio, Feb. 9.—John Janowski and his wife were found dead in their home on Riverbed avenue by the police today. It is believed that both were murdered last Saturday night by a visitor whose name is not known. There is no known motive for the murder. Neither of the victims was 30 years of age.

Women Rent the Men.

San Antonio, Tex., Feb. 9.—The ratio of successful applicants for census enumerators in San Antonio and Bexar county is three women to two men, according to calculations of the local census officials who have begun the examination of "test" papers handed in last Saturday.

GRAND JURY HAS ENDED HEARINGS

Chicago, Feb. 9.—The hearing of witnesses by the federal grand jury here searching for evidence of violations of the Sherman anti-trust act came to an abrupt halt today. District Attorney Sims and his assistants withdrew from the room, but the jury remained in conference.

It was believed that the jury had finished the taking of testimony and was considering whether indictments would be returned.

Arthur Colby, assistant treasurer of the National Packing company, was in the jury room for five minutes today. He was followed by William E. Weber, general auditor of the company, who remained in the room less than three minutes. Mr. Sims and his assistants left the room immediately thereafter.

Right and Wrong Way of Driving Automobiles.

The mere matter of driving an automobile in the sense of getting to a given point and getting back again without an accident is a comparatively easy accomplishment, even to a beginner with very little practice. But, according to the automobile dealer and repairer, there is a right and wrong way, and an easy and an awkward way, and sometimes a safe and dangerous way of carrying out a number of necessary operations. After a "run" be sure and refresh yourself with a glass of golden grain belt beer; it invigorates and should be kept on hand all the time. "Order of your nearest dealer or be supplied by Duluth branch Minneapolis Brewing company."

WATER AND COAL LAND WITHDRAWN

Washington, Feb. 9.—Secretary Ballinger today withdrew from public entry more lands supposed to possess valuable water power sites or deposits of minerals. More than 16,000 acres along the Brenau river in Idaho and about 28,000 acres along the Salmon river in Idaho and Nevada were withdrawn temporarily in aid of proposed legislation to affect water power sites. The secretary also withdrew more than 500,000 acres in Wyoming supposed to contain valuable coal deposits.

DELAYS ENTRY ON HOMESTEAD LAND

Washington, Feb. 9.—Because of the severe winter in South Dakota and the Northwestern section of the country, President Taft, at the suggestion of Senator Gamble and others, has extended the time for entry to the Cheyenne river and Standing Rock lands from April 1 to May 2. This is to give the entrymen opportunity to examine the lands, which they have not been able to do.

The lands are in two districts, but Secretary Ballinger has made a regulation which will allow entrymen to appear at Aberdeen and make their choice from the whole body of lands.

MAN LOSES HIS LIFE IN THE RED RIVER.

Grand Forks, N. D., Feb. 9.—(Special to The Herald.)—A verdict of death by accidental drowning, with no one responsible, was returned by the jury that investigated the death of John Johnson yesterday afternoon. Johnson, who lost his life in the Red river Monday night, was not intoxicated at the time, every indication going to show that he was perfectly sober. Just how he chanced to be on the ice in the locality that he was drowned is not known and probably never will be cleared up. His brother at Sanwick, Minn., has been notified.

Advice to Women

A Message from a Famous Beauty Specialist to Women Lacking in Energy and Vitality

Thousands of women vainly attempt to improve their complexions and to remove blackheads, crows' feet and other blemishes, through the use of cosmetics. This treatment fails because the troubles lies far deeper than the skin. They are suffering from impure and impoverished blood. This condition is in many cases due to a catarrhal condition of the whole system which finds its expression in sallow, muddy complexion, dark-circled eyes, general weakness of the system, and perhaps most plainly in the weeping of mucous membranes that is commonly called catarrh.

In fact this whole tendency is, properly speaking, Catarrh. Banish this catarrh, and the complexion will clear as if by magic, eyes will brighten, faces become rosy and shoulders erect. Perfect beauty goes only with perfect health, and perfect health for women can only be obtained through one certain treatment—that which will cure catarrh.

Mme. Swift, New York, the famous beauty specialist known throughout the world and an accepted authority on all relating thereto, states that the one positive and permanent relief for catarrh is Rexall Mucu-Tone. Here is her letter.

"I can strongly indorse the claims made for Rexall Mucu-Tone as a cure for systemic catarrh. Its tonic effects are remarkable. It builds up the strength and restores vitality. If women who are tired and run down, lacking in energy and vitality, will use Rexall Mucu-Tone, they will praise as I do its strengthening and healing qualities."

Rexall Mucu-Tone works through the blood, acting thus upon the mucous cells—the congestion and inflamation of which causes local catarrh. This remedy causes poison to be expelled from the system, and the blood is purified and revitalized. Thus the natural functions of the mucous cells are restored, and the membranes are cleansed and made strong. We know that Rexall Mucu-Tone does relieve catarrh. We positively guarantee to fund the money paid us for this remedy in every case where the user is dissatisfied. It is a builder of vigorous health and a creator of good complexions. Price 50 cents and $1.00 per bottle. Mail orders filled. It may be obtained only at our store.—The Rexall Store. E. M. Tredway, 108 West Superior street.

Don't you wish you were down in the Isle of Pines now? Well get busy and prepare for the future. You can do it and be independent of Mr. Richardson and as independent financially. Come and let us tell you how to do it. Temperatures in Isle of Pines: highest, 96; lowest, 60; average year around, 78.

SANDSTONE SCHOOL BIDS.

E. O. Hanson About $12,000 Below Highest Competitor.

Sandstone, Minn., Feb. 9.—(Special to The Herald.)—E. O. Hanson, a local contractor, put in the lowest bid for the addition to the Sandstone school, the bids for which were opened Monday night. Hanson's bid was $31,700, or about $12,000 below his highest competitor. At first it was decided to erect another building, as the present school is too crowded to accommodate all pupils, but since the fire resulting from lightning last September these plans were changed and the board decided after considerable investigation to build a wing of the same size as the present building.

SIX MEN ARE KILLED IN MINE EXPLOSION.

Stearns, Ky., Feb. 9.—An unexplained explosion in Mine No. 1 of the Stearns Coal company today killed six men outright. It is thought that the victims ran into a pocket of gas which ignited when it came in contact with their lamps. None of the other workers was so much as scratched. The explosion took place in one of the innermost recesses of the workings and expended its force on the men nearby.

PASSES BILL MAKING PEARY REAR ADMIRAL.

Washington, Feb. 9.—A bill making Commander Robert E. Peary U. S. N. discoverer of the North Pole, a rear-admiral, was passed by the senate today. Indications are that the measure also will receive the approval of the house.

PREMEIR MORET AND HIS CABINET RESIGN.

Madrid, Feb. 9.—The Spanish cabinet, headed by Premier Moret Prendergast, resigned this afternoon. The ministry crisis was brought about by the right wing of the Liberal party, protesting against the premier's alliance with the Republicans. Jose Canalejas Mendes, leader of the monarchicial Democrats, has been charged by the king with the task of forming a new cabinet.

The Columbia's business year ended on January thirty-first. It was far the biggest year in the history of this corner store—in sales, at least, if not in net profits. We are more than satisfied, for the figures prove that our aim to gain the confidence and good-will of the people of Duluth has been fully realized long before we are here five years in your midst. Now the business cannot help growing to proportions we never thought possible when we entered the Duluth field.

1910 with its rise in wholesale prices all along the line will test the honesty and sincerity of your storekeepers more than ever. Substitution of lower qualities at the established retail prices will be common, but you may rest assured that at this store, at least, "Quality" will remain the dominant key-note as of yore.

Congress is seeking to find the cause of the higher prices, but whatever it be—we'll bear our share of the burden of the condition that confronts us all, and will endeavor to make up by a vast increase in the number of "ultimate consumers" the narrowing of the margin of profit which this condition entails.

If you are not one already, make up your mind to become a Columbia customer this year. It will pay you.

"MADE IN DULUTH" MARK IN PANAMA

Duluth Firm Ships Machinery to the Canal Zone.

Duluth-made machinery is finding a market even in the Panama canal zone.

This week a huge 30-ton log loader was shipped to Panama, where it will be used for handling mahogany timber. The loader was manufactured by the Clyde Iron works at the West end.

C. A. Luster, manager of the West end concern, stated today that there has been quite a demand for machinery of this kind in the southern countries, especially Panama, where the mahogany industry is prominent. He has received many orders for machinery during the past year.

DEMOCRATS TO CELEBRATE

A jubilee celebration of the recent party victory in the city election will be held Friday evening at Sloan's hall, Twentieth avenue west and Superior street, by the Democrats of the city. Invitations have been extended to all prominent Democrats of the city to attend the affair.

Among the speakers of the evening will be Mayor-elect M. B. Cullum, and speeches will also be given by the various aldermanic candidates. All the candidates will be expected to give a talk, whether they were victorious or defeated in the race for a place in the council.

A good spread has been arranged for the occasion, and it is probable that the affair will take on the form of an annual banquet. After the refreshments cigars will follow. It is not planned to transact any business at this meeting, but to make it purely a social affair.

The annual business meeting of the City Democratic club will be held about the first of March. At this time officers for the coming year will be elected and the annual banquet will probably be held. Plans may also be made for the coming fall campaign.

BEST HONEY IN THE WORLD

St. Louis County Clover Unsurpassed for Honey Making.

Some of the best honey in the country can be secured in Douglas county and around Duluth, according to S. A. Niver, a bee expert and honey dealer of Whitewater, Wis., who sells thousands of pounds of Minnesota honey every year throughout the Northwest. Mr. Niver is in Duluth on his annual trip. He is registered at the Esmond hotel at the West end.

"The clover that you will find in Minnesota," he said, "for instance, like that grown directly back of the Duluth hills, is the kind from which the best honey is made. I have been in the business for several years and have sold all kinds of honey. I find that once a customer gets Minnesota honey, he will not substitute it for the New York state product, or any other."

Was Well-Known Member of One of City's Pioneer Families.

Mrs. Homer C. Fulton died last evening at her home, 2334 Woodland avenue, after a short illness. She was a well-known Duluth young woman, being a daughter of the late Rev. C. C. Salter, one of the pioneer residents of the city. Besides her husband, she is survived by two small children. She also leaves one sister, Miss Mary Salter, and three brothers, F. J. Salter, Dr. W. H. ENTERTAINMENT AT LESTER PARK CHURCH.

The fourth number in the entertainment course of the Lester Park M. E. church was held last evening, and was given under the auspices of Clan Stewart. Chief Clansman McKnight acted as master of ceremonies, and proved himself a delightful entertainer.

In a few brief remarks he introduced John H. Mathieson, who opened the program with "A Man's a' Man for a' That." Mr. Mathieson received a very hearty encore and sang a Gaelic song.

A selection from the bagpipes was also given by one of the clansmen. Then Miss A. McLeod sang "The Auld Scotch songs," and also received an encore, and afterwards sang a duet with J. H. Mathieson, "When Ye Gang Awa, Jamie."

Chairman McKnight sang "Scotland Yet," and told a Scotch story and recited "Tam O'Shanter."

Miss McLeod sang, by request, "Annie Laurie," and "Ye Banks and Braes o' Bonny Doon," and Mr. Kelly gave selections on the mouth harmonica.

The entertainment was brought to a close by the singing of "Auld Lang Syne," by the audience.

ported and it is entirely likely that provision for Duluth will be made in it. If the appropriations are pared when the bill reaches congress, Duluth may suffer.

About $85,000 is required to purchase the remaining lots in the block near the new courthouse, part of which has already been purchased. The corner of Sixth avenue West and First street and the corner of Sixth avenue west and Second street have not yet been purchased. They are improved by valuable buildings and will be rather expensive. Two other lots on Second street and one on First street are yet to be purchased also.

When the necessary money is appropriated, the government will build in conformity with the grouping plan of public buildings, of which the new courthouse is to be the center. Duluth people are hopeful that enough money will be appropriated at this session of congress to make a start and then the rest will come. Mr. Miller is looking after the matter in the house and Senator Nelson will work for it in the senate and they will work to secure an appropriation large enough to carry out the plans contemplated under Mr. Miller's bill.

"Anyone who thinks a congressman's job is a sinecure ought to go to Washington about now," said Mr. Willcuts this morning in speaking of general conditions at the capitol. "Every representative and senator at Washington is working day and night—really working, too, not loafing around. If the amount of work being done by the members of congress individually is any criterion, the whole body will accomplish something at this session."

meted out to our candidates by the Liberals in the recent contest was not the kind to predispose us in favor of any friendly relationship."

Would Wipe Out the Lords.

President Hardie declared that the policy of the Liberals toward the peers as outlined, did not inspire the Laborites with confidence. To talk of weakening the veto power of the lords was toying with democracy, he said, adding that any second chamber must in the nature of things be reactionary and could be intended only as a check to progress. He said that the policy of the Labor party remained unchanged and was to sweep the house of lords into oblivion. The same unsullied independence which had produced so many labor measures in the past must continue to work for ends yet to be won.

will be brought into the case, although it is the present purpose of the senate to restrict the investigation to the direct issue against Allds.

The man who "handled the money" was brought before the state senate yesterday by Senator Conger. He proved to be Hiram G. Moe, veteran exbanker of Groton, where Conger lives, and he declared positively that on April 23, 1901, he had handed Senator Allds an envelope containing $1,000 at the capitol. The purpose for which this alleged transfer of money was made did not appear in the direct testimony, but Senator Conger filed an affidavit in which he declared that the payment was made to Allds upon Allds' demand "in the interest of the American Bridge company."

Dead Men's Bones Rattled.

The rattle of dead men's bones added a mysterious interest to the hearing, for Moe declared that on the same day he paid Allds $1,000 he gave to another legislator $4,000, and to another $1,000. The tense anxiety displayed on both sides to guard the identity of the alleged recipients of the sums was explained when Senator Brackett arose and pleaded with the contestants not to smirch the names of those who could not possibly appear to defend themselves.

The man who, Moe said, sent him to Albany with this $6,000 to distribute to the three legislative leaders, also is dead. He was Frank Conger, brother of the senator, and at the time those events occurred, vice president of the bridge company.

The other witness yesterday was William A. Smith, editor of the Oswego Times, Tioga county. Oswego was the home of Former United Senator Platt.

There is an impression here that this introduction of Platt into the controversy is welcomed by the defense, and that it opens a way for Senator Allds to plead that in regard to this highway legislation he only followed the instructions of the former Republican leader of the state.

philanthropist, went into the hands of the six jurymen who retired to consider their verdict.

Nurse's Testimony Sensational.

Most sensational of any feature of the inquiry thus far was the testimony given yesterday by Miss Pearl Kellar, the nurse who attended Col. Swope, and who described how Dr. Hyde gave the patient a capsule which he said was to aid digestion, and the administration of which was followed within twenty minutes by a convulsion that ended in Col. Swope's death. Miss Kellar declared that Col. Swope, in an interval in the paroxysms of his convulsion, declared that it was the capsule which had brought on the attack.

Miss Kellar also testified that Dr. Hyde had endeavored to persuade her to get Col. Swope to name him (the doctor), as the executor under his will.

Today jurymen, spectators, witnesses and even stenographers forgot everything except to direct their attention to the four figures who may determine an arrest in the case—Frank D. Walsh, Hyde's attorney; Dr. B. F. Zwart, county coroner; Virgil Conkling, prosecuting attorney of Jackson county, and Dr. Hyde.

The inquest had started when Dr. Zwart looked at a piece of paper upon which he carried the list of witnesses. His lips were just beginning to frame the name of Dr. Hyde, when Attorney Walsh arose and bent over the table. The courtroom became suddenly quiet.

By Advice of Counsel.

"The attorneys for Dr. Hyde have advised him not to testify," Mr. Walsh said. "We do not care for him to testify here, and therefore at our suggestion he must decline to be sworn."

Prosecuting Attorney Conkling arose, and speaking with cold precision, said:

"I have here, in a newspaper of Feb. 1, a signed statement by Dr. B. C. Hyde, and in the light of his refusal to testify, I desire—"

There was a quick interruption from Mr. Walsh.

"If this is done for the purpose of publication," he shouted, "I—"

Dr. Zwart was hurriedly on his feet and between the two men, and for a moment he and Mr. Conkling conversed in whispers.

"I must insist upon it," Dr. Zwart said to Mr. Conkling, and just what the sentence pertained to the courtroom did not know. Soon there came the explanation.

Withdrew for Conference.

"Certainly, I'll see you privately," Mr. Conkling said, and together they left the room.

As they did so, the attorneys for the Swope estate were smiling; the face of Frank P. Walsh denoted neither interest nor the lack of it, and Dr. Hyde looked straight ahead.

The coroner and the prosecuting attorney were soon back, and Dr. Zwart said:

"I still hold that the coroner has the right to examine witnesses, and that Mr. Hyde was subpoenaed in the regular way and is therefore entitled to testify."

"I stated before that on the advice of counsel, Dr. Hyde refused to be sworn to testify," promptly replied Attorney Walsh, "and since that—"

Immediately Prosecuting Attorney Conkling interposed—

"The prosecutor asks that the same rule apply here as with all witnesses."

"We refuse to allow the witness to testify," insisted Walsh.

"The coroner insists," answered Dr. Zwart.

Overcame Coroner's Protests.

"Counsel refuses to allow the witness to testify."

Dr. Zwart sat down.

Prosecutor Conkling arose, still with the newspaper copy of Dr. Hyde's statement in his hand. It was the declaration in which Dr. Hyde said that he was ready and willing to testify at any inquiry; that he was eager for an investigation, and anxious that the mystery of Col. Swope's death be cleared up.

The prosecutor looked searchingly at Dr. Hyde and at the attorneys.

"Then," said the official, "that is sufficient for the purposes of the prosecutor."

This ended the incident, and Dr. W. V. Gayle, a Kansas City physician, was called to give expert testimony on the effects of strychnine upon the human system and the symptoms accompanying poison by that method.

KILLS SELF WITH PISTOL.

Woman Takes Life in Room Adjoining Sleeping Children.

St. Paul, Minn., Feb. 9.—(Special to The Herald.)—Lying on a blood-soaked rug in the kitchen of her home on Wells street with a .44-calibre Colt's revolver clutched in her hand, the body of Mrs. Clara A. Benson was found Tuesday morning by her father-in-law, Frank Benson.

In a bedroom, adjoining the kitchen her three children, Alice, 2 years old; Carl, 3, and Amie, 9, were sleeping soundly, while her husband, Charles Benson, who had said goodby only twenty minutes before, was on his way to his work.

In the family Bible, on the center table in the parlor, was a note to her family in which she stated that she had read the Bible and decided to end her life. She urged her husband to bring up the children to love God and attend church regularly. She said she was sorry for what she was going to do and signed the note "Goodby, Clara."

CONCERNING WOMAN.

Lent crept quietly into "our midst" and although there was no great contrast to the day that had gone before, and there were no wilted society buds and matrons to welcome with weary souls the coming of the quiet spell, and although there will be no cessation of social activity as there was little to cess (see dictionary). Lent arrived just the same. There is a popular impression that Lent was made particularly for those gay and giddy mortals who are just fatigued to death with a round of balls and luncheons and dinners, late suppers and early breakfasts and teas and evening receptions and such, and when there is not a social whirl to abstain from, why then there will be no Lent. It is not so and plenty of people hied them off to church this morning and will for forty days deny themselves things of flesh for the good of their souls. The next few weeks will be occupied largely with church attendance, club meetings, and such unexciting but nevertheless enjoyable events.

POTTER LECTURES

To Be Heard By Many Club Women.

"Woman and Economics," will be the subject of the first of three lectures which Mrs. Frances Squire Potter will deliver before the members of the Twentieth Century club of this city. The first lecture will be given tomorrow evening at 8 o'clock at the assembly room of the Young Women's Christian association and the second lecture, "The Boys and Girls of America," will be given at the same hall Friday evening.

Mrs. Potter has become one of the most popular of the women speakers before the public and during the last few months the demand for her appearance throughout the country has been so large that she has been unable to fill all the engagements offered her. It is possible that Duluth would have been unable to secure a lecture date had the course not been arranged before she severed her connection with the state university to identify herself with the national suffrage movement.

Mrs. Potter is the author of one novel, "The Ballingtons," which has been read with much interest by local people. But her active work in the cause of suffrage has attracted most attention to her since the autumn, when she became an official part of the work.

Mrs. Potter appeared in Chicago last week and after her Duluth engagement will go to Minneapolis to fill lecture dates. She will be the guest of Mrs. F. L. Barrows during her stay in the city.

The lectures are free to the members of the Twentieth Century club and any Duluth woman may become a member of the club.

LOCAL CONCERT

To Be Given By Minnesota Glee Club.

The Glee and Mandolin clubs of the University of Minnesota that have had a successful season, will appear in Duluth shortly after Lent in a concert under the auspices of the Duluth High School Alumni association. The proceeds of the concert will go toward the Smith scholarship fund.

The university students will be home for the Easter vacation at the time of the local concert and it is planned to make the Duluth concert a gala event.

MRS. IDA VON CLAUSSEN.

Mrs. Ida von Claussen who has just returned from abroad is a very busy woman. She is taking an interest in aviation in the intervals of suing the United States government, publishing a book and writing an opera. Her suit against the government grows out of the refusal of the minister to Sweden, Col. C. H. Graves of Duluth, to present her at court and her book recounts her unsuccessful efforts to obtain redress at the hands of the Roosevelt administration. She says that Gustave Luders is writing the music for her opera.

END OF SEASON.

White House Affairs Close With Army Reception.

Washington, Feb. 9.—The White House social season ended brilliantly last night when President and Mrs. Taft received in honor of the army and navy. The attendance probably was the largest of any of the four big receptions of the year. The pressure for invitations was so great that the lists were closed more than a week ago. The guests were limited more strictly to army and navy officers of the active and retired list than ever before, the picture as the company assembled in the east room was an unusually gay one.

Stereopticon views of valentines were the feature of the evening, after which the young people danced for a short time.

CHERRY PARTY

May Be Feature of Washington's Birthday.

"A hostess," says Ellen Tyndell in Woman's Home Companion for February, "who had planned to entertain some friends at a cherry party on Washington's birthday, found the artificial cherries sold by confectioners, etc., much too expensive for her purse, and substituted big red cranberries with excellent effect.

"Invitations were written on the postals decorated with cherries which are sold everywhere in February, and began as follows:

"Next Friday night at half-past eight, We beg you'll help us celebrate Great George and the immortal tree, His gift to all posterity.

"After this came the address, date and hour.

"The first thing to catch the eye of the guest entering the parlor on the appointed evening was a cherry tree in a wooden tub. This was constructed of a dead sapling tricked out with tissue-paper leaves and at once became the basis of a jolly game where each player received a big cranberry with a thread drawn through it (by means of a needle) and was required to tie it on the tree while blindfolded. All those who accomplished the feat received points toward the prize.

"Another jolly contest was guessing the number of cherries in a basket filled with them. The player who came nearest to the exact number received a second point.

"When the guessing was over, each player thrust his hand into the basket, palm side down, the idea being to see who could catch up the most cranberries on the back of the hand and so balancing them walk around the room without spilling one. The player most successful here also was entitled to a point.

"Tossing the cranberries into a bowl at the opposite end of the room was another feat which came a little later on the program and offered another point for the successful competitor.

"The first and second prizes were candy boxes decorated with artificial cherries. Huge cherries made of scarlet crepe paper were consolation prizes."

Marmarth After Land Office.

Marmarth N. D., Feb. 9.—(Special to The Herald.)—The creation of a new United States land office district out of portions of North and South Dakota and Montana, with the office located in Marmarth, is a possibility in which people of this place are deeply interested. The introduction recently into the United States senate of a bill by Porter J. McCumber has revived the hopes of the local boosters that the desired result will be brought about.

NEW HOSPITAL IS INSPECTED

City Officials Visit "Contagious Pavilion" Now Ready for Patients.

The city council and the city officials visited the new contagious disease hospital this afternoon to make the first inspection of the institution.

They were taken over the hill to Fourteenth avenue west in automobiles provided for the occasion. About a score viewed the hospital which has been so badly needed in Duluth for years.

The institution, though comparatively small, is one of the best equipped and most modern in the Middle West. The furnishings are of the best and the facilities for caring for contagious diseases are as good as money could buy. There is also an operating room in which emergency cases can be handled, if necessary.

The "contagious pavilion," as it is called by Dr. Patton, health commissioner, is the first installment of what will later undoubtedly become a general city hospital.

CRITICAL OPERATON CLAIMS LIFE OF BOY.

Dickinson, N. D., Feb. 9.—(Special to The Herald.)—Though every effort was put forth to save the life of Albert Eggers, aged 9, he died in a local hospital Tuesday. A very peculiar operation was performed on the boy recently, it being necessary to provide an artificial covering for a portion of the brain matter over which the skull failed to grow. The exposed condition of the brain left the lad a subject to epileptic fits, and the operation was the only hope of ultimate recovery.

SEASON OF LENT BEGINS

Ash Wednesday is Observed In Catholic and Episcopal Churches.

Day Marks the Beginning of the Penitential Season.

Today is Ash Wednesday, the first day of Lent, and the churches, which observe the season as an important one in the calendar, are holding special services today.

Lent, the period between Ash Wednesday and Easter Sunday, is most rigidly observed in the Catholic church, special services being held during the season, and restrictions being placed on the worldly activities of the members. The season is one of preparation for Easter, one of the most important days in the church calendar.

Easter Sunday will fall this year on March 27, coming much earlier than usual.

One of the most significant changes in church ritual is the difference in the character of the music. Ever since the close of Epiphany-tide, the music of the ritualistic churches has been growing more subdued. Beginning Sunday next, it will be characterized until Easter day by a constantly increasing reverence and devotion. In several of the Episcopal churches, the boy choirs will make the processional without singing, kneeling after they enter the stalls and singing some soft canticle or hymn of supplication. Lent is also the season of the confirmation classes, when those who propose soon to take their formal stand as church members, attend classes of instruction and prepare for the visitation of the bishop. It is also a season of giving, especially in the Sunday schools.

Significance of Season.

Lent had its prefiguring in the forty days of temptation of Christ in the wilderness, as well as in the fasts of Moses and Elias. It is a season of great antiquity. Ash Wednesday is so called because in the Roman Catholic church it begins with the solemn ceremony that has given the day its name. After a supplicatory service, the devout approach the altar rail and the priest places ashes on the head of each, reciting in Latin, "Remember, man, that thou art dust, and shalt return to dust." The ashes are customarily obtained by burning the palms of the previous year.

The administration of the ashes originally was made only to public penitents, who had to appear before the church door with bare feet and in penitential garb. After their penances were declared, they were admitted and the rite was performed. Other persons were allowed to join them, out of affection and humility, and the rite finally became general. The fast of Ash Wednesday is more rigorously observed than any other day of the church year, except the four days immediately preceding Easter.

Lent is a season of forty days, not including its Sundays. Up to the sixth century, however, it was only thirty-six days, this being a tenth of the year and, figuratively, a tithe of the Christian's time. It is generally accepted that the time was lengthened by Pope Gregory the Great. It is a season also rigidly observed by the Greek church.

The carnival, of which yesterday was the last day, comes from the Latin words meaning a farewell to flesh meat, and the name Shrove Tuesday implies a day whereon it is fitting that the faithful attend confession and be shriven.

Lenten Regulations.

The regulations, as far as they would apply to the Catholic church in general, are as follows:

"All the faithful who have completed their twenty-first year are bound to observe the fast of Lent unless dispensed for legitimate reasons.

"The persons exempted from fasting are: "The infirm, those under 21 years of age, women in pregnancy, or nursing infants, those who are engaged in laborious occupations, and those who are enfeebled by old age.

"Only one full meal a day is allowed for those who are bound to fast, except on Sundays.

"On the days on which permission is granted to eat meat, both meat and fish are not to be used at the same meal by anyone.

"A collation or partial meal is allowed in the evening. It should never exceed eight ounces.

"By virtue of an indult of the holy see, dated Aug. 3, 1887, the following special dispensations are granted:

"Bread, butter, cheese, fruit of all kinds, salads, vegetables, fish, milk and eggs are permitted at the collation.

"It is lawful to drink in the morning some warm liquid, such as tea, coffee or chocolate, and to partake of a small portion of bread, not exceeding two ounces.

"The use of lard instead of butter is allowed in preparing fish, vegetables, etc.

"The use of flesh meat is permitted at any time on Sundays, and once a day on Mondays, Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays, with the exception of Ember Saturday and Holy Saturday.

"On the above-named days when meat is allowed, its use is not restricted to one meal in the case of persons exempted from fasting by age or laborious occupation.

"When the principal meal cannot be conveniently taken at nilday, it is permitted to change the order, taking the collation then and the dinner in the evening.

"By virtue of powers granted by the holy see, workingmen and their families are permitted the use of flesh meat once a day on all fast days and abstinence days throughout the year, with the exception of all Fridays, Ash Wednesday, the Wednesday and Saturday of holy week, and the eve of Christmas. Those who avail themselves of this disposition are not allowed to eat fish and flesh at the same meal, and they are exhorted to perform some voluntary act of mortification.

"You know, dear children of the laity, that you are directed not only to fast, but 'to sanctify your fast' by attending when possible, the daily mass, the stations of the cross and then Lenten instructions announced in your parochial churches. You should bear in mind that Lent is a season of penance for past sins, and avoid all dangerous amusements out of harmony with the spirit of this holy season."

Good Health is a Great Blessing--- Only Had With a Good, Sound Stomach

No Drugs. Oxy-Tonic TRADE MARK No Spirits.

Will positively cure a bad stomach in nature's own way. All forms of indigestion, caused from fermentations in the stomach through lack of too little or too much of a flow of acid digestive fluids, can be speedily overcome with Oxy-Tonic. Too little acid for digestive purposes causes foul gases, Belching, Bloating, Headaches, etc., while too much brings about Sour Stomach, Heartburn, Vomiting, Ulcers and even Cancer of the Stomach. Oxy-Tonic restores the proper flow of the juices so necessary to the stomach and digestive tract, thus enabling the stomach itself to do the work imposed upon it. Pre-digested food-stuffs or dieting to starvation is of no benefit, and Pepsin preparations found galore in drug stores will not mend matters by relieving the stomach of doing its digestive work. Practically this will produce a lazy stomach, requiring constant use of food-digesting preparations, with the result of becoming a slave to such. Oxy-Tonic will put the stomach itself into proper working order quickly and surely, and then all medication may be dispensed with until the owner of the stomach causes injury to the same again from irregular eating, or overloading or through downright dissipation. Then a few doses of Oxy-Tonic will restore a proper equilibrium again. Those using this wonderful germicide will not be in need of mouth disinfectants of any kind. Peroxide preparations to be sure act as such disinfectants, but they cannot do away with foul odors and breaths arising from a sick, deranged or catarrhal condition or the stomach. With your stomach in a normal condition, your appetite will be good and digestion perfect, all of which tends to regular liver, kidney and bowel action as well as a proper blood supply.

A single dose of Oxy-Tonic when retiring at night will let you wake up mornings without that disagreeable feeling and taste which is so often the case with a good many persons. At all druggists or direct from laboratory. Advice by mail free and letters treated strictly private. Try Oxy-Tonic and learn for yourself its merits.

HIGHER TAX ON TIMBER

State Tax Commissioners Say Forests Have Been Overlooked.

Tell County Board They Do Not Criticise But Suggest Co-operation.

The state tax commissioners were in Duluth yesterday and appeared before the county board in an effort to get the timber lands of the county taxed at a higher, and to their minds a more fair rate.

The members of the commission are: Chairman Lord, O. M. Hall and J. G. Armson. All three men spoke at some length on the matter of taxation. The forests of the north, they said, have been passed over because they seemed a small item in comparison to the value of the rich mining lands. Because they have been passed over lightly the state has not derived during the years gone by, the income it should have had.

While the commissioners admit that the rate should have been made higher years ago, they think that a careful assessment of the standing timber in St. Louis county at the present time, will prove surprising.

"We are not here to criticise," said Mr. Lord. "We are here to talk this matter over with you gentlemen and to co-operate with and help you in any way we can. We come here you informally to talk the whole matter over and we are glad to learn that having realized the importance of the work, you have already given the matter much time and thought. There is no doubt in our minds but that the forests have for years escaped just taxation. We should remedy this before it is too late. It isn't fair to the small tract owner and he is complaining. We don't blame him and neither do you. You still have timber in St. Louis county to such an extent that when it has been carefully gone over, you who live here, will be surprised at the result."

The others agreed heartily with him. Just how much or even approximately what the increase in the taxes on timber lands would be, the county commissioners refused to say. It is known that the issue has been discussed at previous meetings of the county commissioners. Chairman McInnis in answer to Chairman Lord's remarks said that he was glad the commission was not here to criticise. "We get enough of that at home" and the local commissioners smiled at their chairman's joke.

The local assessors start work in May. The result of their work will come to the notice of the tax commission about Sept. 1.

HARTZELL MAKES REPLY TO IRELAND

Says Fairbanks Affair Merely Showed Attitude of Church of Rome.

New York, Feb. 9.—Rev. Joseph C. Hartzell, Methodist Episcopal bishop of Africa, made a spirited reply in New York last night to Archbishop Ireland's denunciation of the methods of the Methodist church in Rome, which was prompted by the Fairbanks incident.

"Archbishop Ireland's specific attack upon what he terms 'the Methodist association' in Rome is unjust," said Bishop Hartzell.

"But his heated verbiage will not deceive the American people or the Protestant world. The simple facts are that the Roman Catholic church accepts the presence of any other church organization in Rome and Italy only because it is compelled to do so by the law of the land. Another well known fact is that, despite the laws of Italy, Rome does not believe in religious liberty, and wherever it has the power, forbids it."

Bishop Hartzell said Archbishop Ireland sought to cover up the real issue involved in the incident in which Former Vice President Fairbanks "so nobly stood for his rights to address a Methodist congregation in Rome, even if in so doing the pope saw fit to give so distinct an illustration of the seemingly unchangeable purpose of the Roman Catholic church to refuse proper recognition of all branches of the Christian church outside of itself."

BOUGHT MUCH MACHINERY.

Farmers Around Thief River Falls Very Prosperous.

Thief River Falls, Minn., Feb. 9.—Special to The Herald.)—The report of the local railroad depots show that 168 carloads of farm machinery were received for dealers and farmers at Thief River Falls during the last year. The largest part of this consisted of brand new material, and the fact that the farming territory tributary to this city was capable of buying so much costly machinery speaks volumes for the financial standing of the farmers.

Local dealers agree that only some unforseen ill luck can prevent the farmers of this county from reaping a rich reward for their labors during 1910, and they are preparing for a vigorous implement campaign.

BETTERING ITS ROAD.

Northern Pacific to Be Double Track From St. Paul to Dakota.

St. Cloud, Minn., Feb. 9.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Northern Pacific railway has a crew of surveyors at work between Sartell and Rice, running the lines for the cut-off, which has been planned for some time between that point and Rice. Right-of-way agents are in the field with the crew of surveyors and are buying the right-of-way. As soon as the line has been surveyed and the grades established, the work of grading the new line will be commenced. This work is to be completed this summer. In the present route followed by the main line of the Northern Pacific, between Sartell and Rice, there are several reverse curves and a heavy grade at Little Rock Lake. It is to eliminate these that the new line is being built. The cut-off will be from a half to a mile west of the present route, and will be run in a straight line with Sartell and Rice. The old Watab station will have to be moved east [illegible] abandoned. The old line will either be abandoned or used for storage tracks.

As quick as the frost is out of the ground, the Northern Pacific will also begin the work of double tracking its line between St. Cloud and Little Falls, and possible from Little Falls to Staples. West of Staples the Northern Pacific has a double track to Valley City. Completing this gap will give it a double track from St. Paul to North Dakota.

LYCEUM—Yankee Doodle Stock company in "St. Elmo."

Played Golf With Taft.

Mark Smith, who plays the part of Bob Blake, the Drummer, with "The Traveling Salesman" company, which comes to the Lyceum Monday and Tuesday night, is a golf enthusiast, being known as one of the "regulars" at the links frequented by President Taft at Cincinnati. Mr. Smith and President Taft have met several times on the links and the latter has good reason to respect and remember the kind of golf the big athlete turns out.

Mr. Smith comes from Cincinnati, and on his vacations in that city, spends much time on the splendid links in the suburbs. President Taft's partiality to the game is well know, and no one seeks the Cincinnati greens with keener delight than he, when in that city. Mr. Smith is not only a fine golfher, but a big fellow too, (this seems to be the heavyweight era) and it is not surprising that he and the president should have found themselves mutually attracted.

"St. Elmo."

"St. Elmo" which will be played at the Lyceum by the Yankee Doodle Stock company for three nights, commencing tonight is one of the most original and interesting love stories ever written for the stage.

It shows the struggle of a young girl to win back to his better self, a man whom treachery and trouble have made a cynic and misanthrope. It is interesting from a dozen different standpoints, every moment from the rise of the curtain to its fall.

"In Arizona."

"In Arizona," the attraction at the Lyceum for Sunday afternoon and evening, is one of the best productions that the Yankee Doodle Stock company has offered in Duluth.

It was shown here on the company's first appearance at the Lyceum.

SAYS CRAZY MAN GOT HIS VOTES

Republican Is Contesting Election of Democrat to Congress.

Washington, Feb. 9.—Because Elliott G. Matthews, an alleged insane man, fought on the ballot as a candidate for congress in the Fifth Virginia district at the last election and obtained the support of a number of electors, the result of the election in that district may be overturned and Representative F. W. Saunders, Democrat, may be deprived of his seat.

This state of affairs was disclosed before election commission No. 2 of the house when the contest of Parsons vs. Saunders was taken up yesterday.

John M. Parsons, the Republican candidate, is contesting the seat of Mr. Saunders, who, on the face of the returns, received a plurality of about eighty votes. Mr. Parsons asserted that Matthews, a victim of recurrent insanity, had been released from an asylum and nominated himself for congress and received a number of votes at the election. Matthews is again in the asylum, it was said.

SEIZE PRINCE'S GOODS.

Anita Stewart's Husband's Creditors Eager for Money.

Vienna, Feb. 9.—The creditors of Prince Miguel of Braganza, who married Miss Anita Stewart of New York at Dingwall, Scotland, last September, unable to obtain a settlement of their claims, have seized the furniture and other effects in the prince's residence here and removed them to an auction room. A large and boisterous crowd gathered to watch the men attaching the bric-a-brac and other belongings of the prince and loading them into a huge van, and eventually the police had to be summoned to maintain order.

Prince Miguel and his wife are now in Paris. The proceedings were the outcome of disputed claims that amount to less than $50,000, and negotiations are proceeding to settle the affair. It is not considered likely that the prince's belongings will actually come to auction.

LEE GIVES HIS VIEWS

Against Tonnage Tax and Opposes Breweries' Activity in Polities.

St. Paul, Minn., Feb. 9.—William E. Lee of Long Prairie, in an interview given out here last night declared himself opposed to tonnage tax and in favor of some plank designed to check the brewing interests in their regulation of state politics. He says he has not declared himself a candidate for the Republican nomination for governor, but has spent six months trying to find out what the people want in the way of legislation, and of a chief executive.

He says Republicans are unalterably opposed to the Payne-Aldrich tariff bill, the ship subsidy and the central bank and this off year should be one of education that Minnesota's influence may be felt in the next Republican national convention.

HOW TO MULTIPLY CROPS.

Agricultural Department Issues Bulletin for Farmers.

Washington, Feb. 9.—Showing farmers how they may increase their incomes from crops all the way from two to five times as much as that commonly received, a bulletin issued by the department of agriculture declares that few farmers realize the difference in income that may be produced by the systematic introduction and rotation of clover or other leguminous crops over the entire area of their tillable land. The bulletin deals with principles which it is declared are vital to successful farming in the corn belt. Discussion is collected in the bulletin of a rundown farm in Illinois and plans are given of six different types of farming that may be substituted for the usual one of raising only corn and oats now practiced.

COURT DECISION WILL CLOSE FOUR SALOONS.

Des Moines, Iowa, Feb. 9.—The Iowa supreme court, in what are known as the Marshalltown liquor cases, has decided an injunction against the illegal sale of liquor, but not against the property, is valid. It is decreed, also, that a saloonkeeper who consents to the injunction admits that he was maintaining a nuisance; that the lawfuwful liquor saloon is not a nuisance, and that those who violate the decree to which they agreed are guilty of contempt of court and are barred for five years from engaging in the liquor business.

The direct effect of the decision is to close four saloons at Marshalltown.

SETH BULLOCK'S JOB WILL HOLD, SAYS SENATE.

Washington, Feb. 9.—Seth Bullock of South Dakota, an intimate friend of former President Roosevelt, was yesterday confirmed by the senate for another term as United States marshal. The senate also confirmed the reappointments of Fletcher M. Downes as associate justice of the supreme court of Arizona and Frank W. Parker as associate justice of the supreme court of New Mexico.

BIDS ARE TOO HIGH; TEMPLE WORK DELAYED.

Dickinson, N. D., Feb. 9.—(Special to The Herald.)—Work on the Masonic temple in this city is being delayed by reason of the fact that bids just submitted for the new building are too high, being beyond the means at hand. The high bids received will make it necessary that new ones be called as soon as the plans can be altered, which work will be done immediately.

Hensler, N. D., New Town.

Mandan, N. D., Feb. 9.—(Special to The Herald.)—A new townsite has been organized on the north branch of the Northern Pacific railroad out of this city. It will be known as Hensler and is located in Oliver county, thirteen miles from Fort Clark. The district about Hensler is very level, being one of the finest in this part of the state. Several institutions are already preparing to launch into business there, among them being a bank and a general merchandise store.

Over-Eating Worse Than Starvation

Seven Deaths Arise From This Cause To One of Lack of Food.

A Trial Package of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets Sent Free.

An English medical observer claims that for one death to starvation there are seven from over-eating.

His investigation is appalling and leads one to believe that among the Anglo-Saxon race over-eating is a national crime.

This investigation proves over-eating to be the cause in ten cases out of twelve of dyspepsia, indigestion and stomach trouble.

These diseases bring on decay and decline of the other organs and death ensues because of an inability of the system to furnish proper nourishment to the dying and afflicted parts.

When one over-eats one exhausts the gastric fluids, throws undigested food into the intestines where it creates poison and germ life and is finally absorbed in a putrid state or thrown from the system in a decaying form.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets will overcome the ill effects of gluttony and irregular eating. They will digest an abnormal amount of food and will not leave the stomach until everything has been digested.

A single one-grain ingredient of these tablets will digest 3,000 grains of food and in this proportion is seen how even gluttony can be overcome or at least its most harmful effects removed.

Make up your mind to try Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets for one week. Take a tablet after each meal and upon retiring at night. Every druggist carries them in stock; price 50c. If you have a druggist friend ask his opinion. Send us your name and address and we will send you a trial package free by mail. Address F. A. Stuart Co., 150 Stuart Bldg., Marshall, Mich.

SLAP ON WRIST FOR DEAL IN HOCKING

Stock Exchange Committee Says Several Firms Merit Severe Condemnation.

New York, Feb. 9—Several firms merit "severe condemnation" for their connection with the Columbia & Hocking Coal & Iron pool, whose collapse on Jan. 19 caused three stock exchange failures but nothing more drastic than this can be found in the wording of the report of the special committee of exchange members, made public last night after an investigation of the fiasco.

The report gives the names of all the participants and the number of shares they subscribed for, and shows that in reality two pools existed. The names mentioned include some of the best known firms doing business on the exchange in addition to Lathrop, Haskin & Co., J. M. Fiske & Co., Roberts Hall & Criss, who were forced to suspend by reason of their entanglement in "Hocking" stock.

Hugh F. Criss, board member of the firm of Roberts, Hall & Criss, became the "specialist" in the stock, says the report, after an interview with James R. Keene, the supposed manipulator of the pool. The interview was held in the presence of members of Lathrop Haskins & Co., the pool managers, and Criss, the report adds, received a check for $25,000 for any contracts he might make for the pool.

Much Conflicting Evidence.

Much of the evidence taken by the committee is admitted to be conflicting, especially that relating to the distribution of pool orders. It appears, however, that J. M. Fiske & Co. made no repudiation of the purchases made in their name by Criss, but that A. J. Elies & Co., Rollins & Co. and Ivey, Adams & Co. accepted and paid only for all stock "bought on their direct orders." The report concludes:

It appears that Mr. Criss, for his firm as responsible to all sellers for all his purchases which have not been accepted and paid for by others, and the claims of his firm against Lathrop Haskins & Co.

"The acts of the stock exchange firms in subscribing to the Columbus & Hocking Coal & Iron pool for accounts of Lathrop, Haskins & Co., thereby practically lending their names to this undertaking, merits severe condemnation."

WILL SEEK SOUTH POLE

Geographical Society Decides to Send Expedition to the Antarctic.

City of New York Presents Peary With Check for $10,000.

Washington, Feb. 9.—America has decided to seek the South Pole laurels similar to those won for her by Commander Peary at the North Pole. The National Geographic society has resolved to send an expedition in search of the South Pole, provided the necessary funds can be raised. It is not believed there will be any lack on this score.

Commander Peary, who is in New York, where a testimonial in his behalf was given last night at the Metropolitan opera house, was notified immediately of the action of the board of managers of the Geographic society.

Ship Is all Ready.

Capt. Bartlett, who was in command of the Roosevelt, which Peary used on his successful trip to the North Pole, probably will be placed in charge of the exhibition into the Antarctic regions. With the exception of Commander Peary the members of the expedition will be the same as those who returned last year from the frozen north.

The Roosevelt, including complete equipment, sledges and all, is practically in readiness to be stored with provisions and start on her search of the only big goal on the globe which has not yet been reached.

Give Peary $10,000 Check.

New York, Feb. 9.—Before an audience of more than 4,000 persons, in the Metropolitan opera house, Commander Robert E. Peary, discoverer of the North Pole, was presented last night with a $10,000 check on behalf of the citizens of New York, but instead of retaining it for himself the commander announced immediately that he would contribute it toward the South Pole expedition as planned by the National Geographic society.

The check was presented to the commander by Governor Hughes of New York at this, the first national testimonial in the explorer's honor.

Peary delivered his illustrated lecture, showing his progress to the pole, and Capt. Bartlett spoke briefly.

ANNUAL MEETING OF THE D. M. & N.

Old Officers Re-elected at Meeting of the Missabe Road.

The old officers and directors of the Duluth, Missabe & Northern railroad, the "biggest little railroad in the world," were re-elected at the annual meeting held yesterday at the Wolvin building.

The road carries more ore than any railroad in the world and its growth has been remarkable. From 431,000 tons in 1898, its first year, its shipments leaped to the immense total of 12,500,000 tons last season. The road does little except a passenger business during the season of closed navigation.

The earnings of the road last year were $12,590,669.51, calling for the payment of a state gross earnings tax of $185,566.38.

The board of directors re-elected yesterday was as follows: W. A. McGonagle, W. J. Olcott, E. S. Kempton, D. G. Kerr, H. L. Dresser, A. B. Wolvin and George D. Swift.

The officers re-elected for the ensuing years are as follows: President, W. A. McGonagle; first vice president, W. J. Olcott; second vice president, Pentecost Mitchell; treasurer, E. S. Kempton; asistant treasurer, Charles E. Scheide; secretary, E. B. Ryan, Jr.; assistant secretary, C. D. Fraser.

All of the directors and officers mentioned are of Duluth except Mr. Kerr, Mr. Scheide and Mr. Fraser, who reside in New York.

GREATER DULUTH IS THE THEME

Interesting Talks at Meeting of Men's League of M. E. Church.

"Greater Duluth" was the theme of the speeches at the regular monthly meeting of the Men's League of the First M. E. church last night and the session was one of the most interesting and most enjoyable in the history of the organization. Julius H. Barnes and Henry Nolte were the speakers and their talks were filled with interesting personal reminiscences and good advice to the young men.

Although Mr. Barnes is a comparatively young man, he said that he has seen Duluth develop in the twenty-four years during which he has been here, from a village to a large city, and he said he looks forward to a much greater development during the next few years. He told of early days when he was carrying papers and couldn't cross Chester creek when it rained; when the boys played baseball on the lot where the Commercial building stands, and when he bought a lot in Crosby's addition and traded it for a bicycle.

Both Mr. Barnes and Mr. Nolte urged upon the young men the necessity for individual thinking, for individual interpretation of things. Both said the young man who is to be successful must think for himself and act upon his own judgment, and if that judgment is sound he cannot fail to be successful in what he undertakes.

Mr. Nolte touched upon real estate matters and told of the development of Duluth in that respect. He said Duluth's greatest step forward was taken when the canal was cut through, for with that the great shipping business, which has now been built up, was made possible. When he came here, he said, all shipping was carried on from outside of Minnesota point.

Mr. Nolte said that in the development of Duluth certain parts of the city will benefit particularly, and he urged upon young men the necessity of individual thought and action in real estate dealings.

A BIBLE FOR EVERY HOTEL

That Is the Mission of the "Gideons"---Secretary Coming Here.

W. E. Henderson, national secretary of the "Gideons," the Christian Commercial Traveling Men's association, will be the speaker at the men's meeting at the Y. M. C. A. next Sunday afternoon and his address should be interesting, for he has a message.

The "Gideons" is an association of traveling salesmen and it is doing good Christian work throughout the United States. It has set out to put a Bible in every hotel room in the country and is meeting with great success in the work. While he is here,

W. E. HENDERSON.

Mr. Henderson will take steps to have a Bible placed in every room in the big hotels in Duluth.

The "Gideons" have no branch in Duluth, but after Mr. Henderson's visit, it is expected that steps will be taken to organize a branch here. A number of Duluth traveling men already wear the pitcher and light emblem, and they are taking an active interest in the movement to organize a branch of the association among the men who travel out of Duluth.

Mr. Henderson's subject at the Y. M. C. A. Sunday afternoon will be "The Sample Grip and the Pitcher."

Plans for Homecoming Celebration Laid at Washington.

Washington, Feb. 9.—John A. Stewart, president of the New York League of Republican clubs and a representative of the Republican club of New York city, is in Washington and will confer with President Taft regarding the homecoming celebration to be planned in honor of Former President Roosevelt.

A cablegram was received in New York today from Mr. Roosevelt accepting the proposition of the Republican club of that city to form a national reception committee with representatives from all over the country to meet Mr. Roosevelt on his arrival in New York harbor some time between June 15 and 21 next.

President Taft is giving his hearty support to the plan for a national reception. It has not yet been determined whether resident Taft will be able to take part in the reception. He has promised to go to Alaska the latter part of May, provided congress has adjourned by that time, and if he should take the trip he will not return to the states until some time in July.

GIVES ANNUITY TO SCANDINAVIAN SOCIETY.

New York, Feb. 9.—Neils Poulson of Brooklyn has set aside $100,000 in 5 per cent bonds, the interest to be used for the benefit of the American Scandinavian society. This society was founded in 1898 to cultivate closer relations between the United States and the Scandinavian countries. One of the ways by which it undertakes to do this is by an exchange of professors between the universities of the United States and Scandinavia and by bringing Scandinavian students to this country for a post-graduate course.

President Nicholas Murray Butler of Columbia university, is president of the society.

SAYS OFFICERS IGNORED LAW

Vigilance Would Have Prevented Murder, Says Thomas Sexton.

Thomas J. Sexton of Huntington, W. Va., a brother of Howard T. Sexton, who was shot and killed by Walter McDonald at Walker, Minn., last week, believes that if the authorities of Walker and of Cass county had taken the steps required of them by law, the murder could never have occurred and his brother would still be living. He says he will take the matter before the county attorney of Cass county or even to the attorney general of the state and demand an investigation.

Mr. Sexton points to the reports that McDonald was known to have carried a weapon constantly and to have made threats against his wife and citizens of Walker. The officers should not have allowed it to go on, he says. They should have taken steps to prosecute McDonald for carrying concealed weapons or to put him under bonds to keep the peace. If the officers had been more vigilant, he said, McDonald would not have had an opportunity to carry out his threats.

Another circumstance to which Mr. Sexton points is the alleged fact that no warrant was issued for McDonald until Saturday, Feb. 5, whereas the shooting occurred Thursday, Feb. 3. As soon as the shooting occurred, a warrant should have been issued, he says, and all possible steps taken to capture McDonald.

The officers ignored the law, he says, and looked complacently on McDonald's threats until he had carried them out. They cannot give life back to his brother, he says, but he will make every attempt to bring out the true facts in the case and to have the officers censured for the laxity of which he says they were guilty.

MASONIC TEMPLE IN JERUSALEM

Preparations Begun to Carry the Project Into Effect.

Boston, Mass., Feb. 9.—The corporators of the Jerusalem Temple association, an organiatiozn formed recently under Massachusetts laws, for the purpose of building and maintaining a Masonic temple in Jerusalem, has begun preparations to carry the project into effect.

The president of the association, Arthur B. Howe, after passing considerable time in Jerusalem, was inspired with the idea of and needs for a suitable meeting place for members of the craft in the Holy city. He found a sufficient number of English-speaking Masons to warrant the re-establishment of a lodge there. Visiting Masons occasionally hold meetings in Solomon's quarry in order to enjoy the mystic rites of the brotherhood, but the place is far from acceptable as a meeting place, having no seating or other accommodations, and a government charge of 20 cents for admission is made.

The building planned would afford a meeting place for both resident Masons and the thousands of brothers that visit the Holy city yearly. It is thought desirable to have the architecture of the proposed building to conform to that of Solomon's temple.

To carry out this plan will require at least $100,000, but should the total amount subscribed exceed or fall below that amount, the association is prepared to elaborate or modify the plans to meet the sum raised. The movement is intended to embrace, if possible, subscriptions of not less than $10 from each of the blue lodges throughout the United States.

Appeals have been sent out to these lodges, with the possibility that in the very remote possibility of the plan not being carried into effect, the subscription will be returned to the donors. The first gift was from a personal source, James B. McGregor, 108 years old, of Newport, N. H., forwarding the first subscription. Ex-Governor John L. Bates, Bishop Hamilton and other prominent men have approved the object and plans.

Among the corporators are such well-known Massachusetts men as Adj. Gen. Brigham, ex-Congressman Apsley, Warren B. Eldis, editor of the Craftsman; George E. Whitaker, publisher of Zion's Herald.

MAGAZINES AND BOOKS

Are Wanted By the Army and Navy Y. M. C. A.

New York, Feb. 9.—The Army and Navy Young Men's Christian association is carrying on a large and organized work among the enlisted men in our army and navy and pressing appeals have recently come to the headquarters of the association in New York City. The appeals are especially urgent from Alaska and the Philippines, and from the secretary with the battleship fleet at Guantanamo bay. The request is for magazines (old or new), illustrated papers, books of travel, history, biography or fiction. At some of the more isolated points in both Alaska and the Philippines the dearth of good reading matter is keenly felt, and the men appreciate even an old magazine.

A number of small libraries have already been sent to Aslaska and the men have dubbed them 'insanity preventatives," referring to the fact that so many men lose their reason as a result of the isolation during the long, dreary Arctic winter, and the books would furnish them with the diversion needed to keep their minds in a normal condition. If any one desires to render a real service to these young men in the army and navy, let him send their magazines and books by prepaid express or freight to the Army and Navy Young Men's Christian association, 124 East Twenty-eighth street, New York city, and from this point the government will transport such supplies free of expense.

Castro's New Address.

Washington, Feb. 9.—The American consulate in the Canary Islands today reported to the state department that ex-President Castro of Venezuela had arrived there from Spain. Nothing was known as to his plans or future movements, but it is suspected that Castro has gotten to the nearest points of vantage to watch developments in Venezuela with the purpose of returning to that country if conditions are favorable.

THE POSTAL SAVINGS BANK.

George E. Roberts, who is a banker of ability and broad powers, is out with a pamphlet against the proposed postal savings bank, and to make it clear that he is not speaking from personal interest he shows that his own bank accepts no savings deposits, and even makes prohibitive regulations against small deposits.

His statement clears him of the possible charge of selfish interest; yet there necessarily remains the fact that he is a banker, speaking for bankers, and with the class sense strong within him. Even if he does not speak as a banker who fears postal savings banks because they will compete with his bank, he does speak as a member of the banking business which unquestionably does fear the competition of a government bank.

Mr. Roberts admits that most European countries have postal savings banks, but submits that that is no reason why this country should have them. It may be no reason why this country should establish a postal savings bank system, but surely it is no reason why it should not. It is true that European countries use postal savings bank deposits in lieu of credit, to a large extent, as Mr. Roberts says. It may also be true that there is no provision whereby this country can do the same thing; but it does not necessarily follow that if it wishes to do so it cannot.

But the chief reason why Mr. Roberts opposes the postal bank is that he fears it will result in drawing money to the reserve centers. The bill now pending in congress provides against that by directing the deposit of postal funds with local banks which will pay a low rate of interest upon them—a rate lower than these banks now pay on savings and time deposits. But Mr. Roberts objects that the bill requires the deposit of bonds as security for these deposits, and that that means going to New York, the country's bond market, to buy the bonds; so the money will get to New York in spite of the law.

But why is it essential that the banks should go to New York for their bonds? Couldn't they, if they wished, buy local public bonds, bonds of cities, counties or even states? If they did this, the money paid for the bonds would remain at home; and surely such bonds are every bit as secure and as profitable as anything the New York bond market has to offer.

In fact, while Mr. Roberts is a reasonable man and argues reasonably, he speaks from a biased viewpoint, a viewpoint that is determined to find reasons for opposing the postal savings bank. The banker, whether he receives savings deposits or not, looks with suspicion upon any attempt to put the government in the banking business. It is, from his viewpoint, paternalistic and an invasion of private rights, which he is apt to regard as higher than public rights. There is no private right that is higher than public rights. The safeguarding of private rights has gone so far in this country that public rights have been almost totally ignored. The good of society has been sacrificed to a false doctrine of the sacredness of private rights.

The Herald ventures the prediction that if the pending bill becomes law, the people will patronize the postal savings banks abundantly; that millions of dollars will come out of hiding; that the increase in deposits due to the postal bank will be only in a small degree, and that but temporarily, at the expense of private banks; that the postoffice will find no difficulty in getting local banks to accept its deposits; that the money will, generally speaking, remain at home and be available as a foundation for local credit, to the increase of business activity; and that ultimately, as the postal bank depositors are attracted by the higher rates of interest offered by the private banks, the latter will be gainers and not losers by the proposed new system.

HOW THEY FOOL THE PEOPLE.

The other day the Armour Packing company, yielding to the demand for publicity, made a statement of its earnings which, as interpreted by J. Ogden Armour, showed that its net profits do not exceed 9 per cent on its capital.

This was in answer to the charge that the beef trust, of which the Armour Packing company is a part, squeezes inordinate profits out of the people through its control of food distribution.

Now 9 per cent on an honest capitalization, while it is very satisfactory, cannot be called excessive, especially in a business which necessarily fluctuates to some extent. If the Armour Packing company were making but 9 per cent on its honest capitalization, the country would have to look elsewhere to locate the blame for the high cost of living.

But while the capital stock of the Armour Packing company is $20,000,000, its surplus is $70,000,000. In making its statement the company added these two items together and called its capitalization $90,000,000. Its net earnings were $7,127,000, which is less than 9 per cent upon $90,000,000.

But where did its surplus come from? Not out of the air. It was not coined by magic. It came out of surplus profits, The people who have been paying high prices for meat not only paid the dividends on the $20,000,000 actual capital, but they piled up that enormous surplus of $70,000,000, and now the Armour people expect them to pay 9 per cent dividends on that, too.

The corporation thus fools the people, or tries to. It seeks to make the people believe that its earnings are represented by its cash dividends. It may refuse to pay any dividends at all, putting its earnings in the surplus, and then seek sympathy by declaring that it earns nothing. Yet sooner or later it declares a stock dividend out of its surplus, and therefore the people must pay dividends on the increased capitalization.

The real test of the Armour company's earnings would seem to be the ratio its annual net earnings bear to its actual capitalization. If that method is applied, the earnings last year were better than 35 per cent; which is by no means a modest return upon the capital invested.

By deft manipulations of capital, surplus, stock dividends, etc., the great corporations which control the distribution of the necessaries of life have contrived to confuse the popular mind. If the Armour company, for instance, were paying all its earnings out in dividends, and if its capital represented the actual worth of its plant, the dividends would be so enormous that the people who pay this heavy bill would revolt against the trust's oppressions. But, as you see, a little juggling of figures makes it appear that the company's earnings are a modest 9 per cent, and surely nobody can object to that. Yet the fact remains that on its own figures the Armour company's earnings are more than three times what they need be to make that company a prosperous concern. And the difference between what is necessary for profitable business and the amount that makes these enormous earnings is the fruit of a Special Privilege which the government hasn't yet got around to regulating.

LEARNING TO A PURPOSE.

If the cost of living is to continue its present flights, in which it makes Paulhan and the Wright Brothers look like crawlers upon the earth, the young women of the Duluth normal school who are "learning, as was related in a local story in The Herald last night, to feed nine people with 60 cents, are being taught things that are very much to the purpose. And so far as the cost of living is concerned, you can strain your eyes to the breaking point without seeing a sign of hope on the horizon.

In any event, this knowledge will be of great value. If these young women become teachers, as they intend, they will be able to teach the mothers of a coming generation how to feed their families on the wages of the coming fathers. If, by chance, Cupid should step in and put a period to their teaching careers, they will be able to make the salaries of the fortunate young men who win them span the gulf that yawns for those who cannot make wages equal the cost of living.

The menus given are tempting enough, and we are assured that they contain all the food elements needed to keep the body healthful and efficient. The story is a triumph of the domestic science department. More power to it! May the time come when its influence will embrace all the public schools, and when teachers are as zealous in teaching girls how to make cheap, satisfying and nourishing meals, and the boys how to do things that will win the price of those meals, as they are now to teach the three R's.

POLITICAL MANAGER AT PUBLIC EXPENSE?

Wade Ellis of Ohio, who achieved fame and earned the gratitude of the Republican powers that be by discovering the new doctrine that the tariff should provide "a reasonable profit for the manufacturer," has resigned his place as assistant to the attorney general in order to take charge of the party's affairs in the borough of Ohio.

Since, as a rule, no salary attaches to the office of political manager, there may be speculation about how Mr. Ellis can afford to change a salaried place for a non-salaried place. That is all explained in the same news item: "Mr. Ellis, though severing the relationship that has existed, retains a connection with the department as a prosecutor. He will continue to look after the interests of the government in certain anti-trust cases upon which he has been engaged."

Doesn't that look a little like as though the Republican party were abusing its power by paying its political managers out of the federal treasury? Its general manager, Mr. Hitchcock, is now employed as postmaster general, though the duties of that office do not prevent his finding time to act as supervisor over the distribution of government patronage, not only in his own department but in others. That is bad enough; but isn't it going it a little strong to keep the state managers of the party on the pay roll as well?

A SIGN OF PROGRESS.

Only a few years ago the campaign to do away with unsightly poles and overhead wires upon the streets of Duluth was little more than a pleasant dream. Today it is well advanced, and the time when it will be realized is not far away. One concern alone has taken down more than a thousand poles within the year. Within a few days the large and disfiguring poles have been removed from West First street, and that thoroughfare, the coming business avenue, looks as clean and sightly as a man who has just had a haircut, shave and shampoo.

Like all other improvements of its kind, the fight to put the wire underground met with bitterest opposition on the start, but now it is having the co-operation of the public utility companies, and without much fuss or feathers, without any heated agitation or conflict at all, the poles are disappearing rapidly. As such things should be, the movement has been attended by reasonableness on both sides. The city has not been unduly oppressive in its requirements, and the public utility companies have not resisted any more than might be expected. The removal of the poles is a large factor in the making of a sightlier Duluth, and it is good.

THE PUBLIC DRINKING CUP.

The Wisconsin board of health has announced a rule prohibiting public drinking cups on railroad trains, in railroad stations and in the schools. This may seem like a "cranky" notion; but nobody with enough imagination to picture the possibilities there are in drinking after people whose mouths swarm with the germs of a horde of diseases, some of them unspeakable, will fail to see that it is a wise and salutary regulation. Microscopic examinations of public drinking cups after a few days' use reveal enough to convince the most prejudiced that the Wisconsin board of health knows what it is doing, and that other states should follow its example.

HOUSEWIFE REPLIES TO MR. YOUNG.

To the Editor of The Herald:

I would like to say a word in defense of the many housewives, whose thrift and intelligence have been questioned by Mr. Young, manager of the Cudahy Packing company, in an article which appeared in your columns recently. First that I would state that I am a friend and neighbor of Mr. Young's, and if I took him half as seriously as he seems to take himself, I might feel insulted at the imputation he has placed on the modern housewife. But I don't, so this article is all in good part, and may be taken in the same spirit in which I took his. Mr. Young reminds me somewhat of the character of Mr. Bowser, who you all are probably more or less familiar with, but for the few who perhaps have forgotten who Mr. Bowser is, I would say that he is one of those who is always telling his wife just how it is done, and usually getting himself into such a mess that in the end he always has to call upon his wife to extricate him from his difficulties. In this case, I think Mr. Young will be glad to call his wife to his assistance, for he has certainly "gotten in wrong" with the ladies.

It seems to me a little unfair to insinuate that most housekeepers give very little thought or attention to the matter of economical housekeeping. Now, I will venture to say, and I feel that I am in as good position to judge as Mr. Young, that at least ninety per cent of the housewives spend twice as much time, not only in planning a meal, but in preparing it as well, as they did five years ago. Now why? Simply this; most of us dislike to meet our husbands at the door each evening and announce that meat has gone up again today and that the allowance will have to be decreased to meet the extra price. No, we try to struggle along with the same old allowance, and yet set a table that at least will not call forth criticism from our husbands. Then again, we spend more time in the preparation of the meal, because, if we are going to serve up something we have been forced to buy because it is a little cheaper than the thing we would like to serve, it at least must be well prepared, and we leave very little of that to the tender mercies of the maid. And so I insist that most housewives spend a great deal of time and thought in preparing their meals. As Mr. Young is talking of something he obviously knows a little about, we will have to forgive him on that point. But there are some things I have not yet gotten the consent of my mind to forgive him for. First; for those terrible recipes, which, if we were tempted to try, would certainly necessiate the luxury of keeping a dog to try them on before we would dare to set them on the family table, thereby incurring the expense of a dog license as well as the board of the dog, which poor people, in this day, have long ago forsworn as a needless expense. Then again, how are we to forgive Mr. Young for being so careless in the use of his figures, when he quotes the prices of meats, a subject he ought to know something about? If he does not know that the prices of even cheap cuts are higher than the prices he gave us in the paper, I would suggest that he give up the time he devotes to writing articles on household economics, and apply himself exclusively to his price lists.

If Mr. Young is seriously trying to become benefactor and really trying to tell the people of moderate income, how to get along with the present prices, I think he would scarcely come so wide of the mark if he would think out some way to make it possible to obtain some of the better cuts of meat instead of spending so much time in teaching us how to make cheap, palatable, because I am sure by the time we have acquired a taste for "soap scraps," the price of that article will have soared beyond the reach of all except the predatory rich.

WHY VETO IT?

To the Editor of The Herald:

The statement in last evening's paper that Mayor Haven is likely to veto the franchise granted the Canadian Northern Monday night by the council, came as a shock to me. I hadn't considered the possibility of his taking such a position. How he can consistently veto that franchise passes my comprehension. There is every reason why the railroad should be encouraged to come into Duluth. The only objection is the shape of protests from a handful of West Duluthians. All that I can commend is their "stick-to-it-iveness," which is certainly out of the ordinary. From my way of looking at it, the interests of every Duluthian will be best conserved by the entrance of the Canadian Northern over the route selected by their engineers. If there is any other route available which supplies a satisfactory grade I have not heard it mentioned. Many tentative routes have been suggested, it is true, but where are the authentic figures to back the statements of those who are protesting so hoarsely against the road? Really, Mr. Editor, I do not see how anyone, particularly the chief executive of a city such as Duluth, can even contemplate putting a stumbling block in the road's way. I can't understand it, and if anyone does, I would like to hear his or her reasons.

DU LHUT.

Duluth, Feb. 9.

DULUTH IS THE MARKET.

Thief River Falls Press: We wish to call the attention of the farmers in this locality to the fact that they will have a new and larger market for their crop of 1910 than has been their fortune to have for any crop that has been thus far produced. By the time that this crop is ready for market, our city will be directly connected with Duluth, as well as with the net work of cities and villages in the mining districts of St. Louis county. This will open up a direct market for all kinds of vegetables, meats, poultry, hay and feed, and put the farmers of this city in direct touch with one of the greatest mining centers in the world. Few of us realize that within the borders of St. Louis county are located iron mines which produce one-third of the world's production of iron at the present time, and are greatly increasing their output, so it is estimated that by the end of this year they will be giving the world one-half of its iron product. Taking advantage of the situation in iron, moneyed interests are at present busy constructing smelters and factories so that a very large percentage of the raw material produced in this section will be turned into a staple article within the borders of our own state. Considering these facts, any one looking into the future with a prophetic eye cannot help but see the Duluth of today a mere village compared to the Duluth twenty years hence. This being the case, all real estate having direct connection with a city of such proportions will necessarily rise to its true value under the intense and diversified agricultural system. What we would like to see is that every farmer would get busy not only in milking cows and feeding more hogs, but raising more grain, more hay, more potatoes, more meat and poultry; in fact, everything that this mining and manufacturing center must have and will have. It will be your privilege to furnish it. If you do not, some one else will.

The Work of One Dollar.

New York American: A dollar invested at the beginning of the Christian Era at 6 per cent, the compound interest included, would by this time have produced a sum of money of which the market value of all property, real and personal, which exists upon the entire globe would be but a trifling fraction.

THE WEATHER.

Jack Frost put his icy hand on Duluth last night and the beautiful weather of the past few weeks has gone. Real winter weather conditions prevail today with the mercury far down in the tube, and the biting wind is particularly uncomfortable after the fine days that have just passed. The lowes temperature last night was 4 deg., but tonight a low mark of from 10 to 15 deg. below zero is predicted.

A year ago today was cold and a sixty-mile gale added to the severity of the conditions.

The sun rose this morning at 7:22 and it will set at 5:23, giving ten hours and one minute of sunlight.

Mr. Richardson makes the following comment on weather conditions:

"A cold wave of considerable intensity has developend in the Northwest during the past twenty-four hours attending high pressure areas overlying Manitoba and the Rocky mountain region. Much colder weather prevails in the western lake region, the Northwest and from the Mississippi valley westward to and including the Rocky mountains, zero temperatures occurring in Wyoming, North Dakota, Saskatchewan, Manitoba, Western Ontario and Northern Minnesota. The Lake Superior disturbance has moved its center to Ohio, its southeasterly movement being attended by light snow or rain in the lake region and Red river and Mississippi valleys, and rain over the Ohio valley and Southeastern states. Rains have developed in Pacific coast districts.

"Zero temperatures will occur at the Head of the Lakes tonight and Thursday."

Following are the maximum temperatures for twenty-four hours and the minimum for twelve, ending at 7 a. m. today:

A hundred kingdoms shall decline,
A hundred battlefields shall suck
Their glut of sacrificial wine;
The Buddhist priest shall meditate
Where now cathedral crosses gleam;
The sons of Genghis Khan shall bring

The shrill muezzin's chant shall chime
At evening with Ben Ezra's bells;

Big Grafters and Little Grafters.

Judge Lindsey in the Survey for February: One of the things that has impressed me in ten years' experience in Denver's juvenile court is the amazing difference in the attitude of the several classes of our people in what I have called the little fight and the big fight. I found it much like Heney's experience in fighting graft in San Francisco. He had the entire public with him when he prosecuted the little grafters, but he had the business world and much of the power of the church against him when he fought the big grafters. It was so in our fight for the child, and it was this that at first puzzled me—though it does not puzzle me now as it did in the first days of our fight against the chief enemies of childhood. Did they really believe they were its friends, as they pretended? The concrete is often so much more powerful than the abstract.

Keep Tab on Your Feet.

He donned his fur-lined overcoat,
He polished up his tile,
A new cravat exposed to view—
The latest scream in style;
He stuck his chin out, proudly,
As he two-stepped down the street.
Just then his heels went sliding, and—
Like this he took a seat!

The things he said, on rising, were
Not pleasant, nor polite,
His hat was much the worse for wear,
His ulster 'twas a sight;
He fumed and swore, and hurried on,
For he was vexed with fate.
Just then his heels flew up again—
He cut a figure eight!

His face grew red, his hair was mussed,
His anger 'twas intense,
He swore he'd sue the city for
Its shameful negligence;
Somewhere, there was an ordinance,
Forbidding things like this—
Bang! went his heels again, Kerflop!
He sat with emphasis!

MINNESOTA OPINIONS.

A Pitiable Spectacle.

Fairmont Sentinel: The Sentinel is really sorry for the editor wearing a collar who thinks he may lose his little postoffice if he does not shout strenuously in season and out for the grand old party of Cannon, Aldrich, Taft & Co.

Use Ballots, Not Boycott.

Little Falls Herald: The meat boycott is, as has been pretty well defined, an attempt to punish the stomach on account of misuse of brain power. Undoubtedly most Americans eat too much and too fast, and some abstinence from meat may have helpful results so far as health is concerned. But it tariff-protected trusts are to blame for high prices, and very likely they are at least guilty, as a Southern jury one said, of contributory dilligence," why don't the voters use their brains at election time, instead of now punishing their stomachs?

A Tawney Organ's Mistake.

St. Peter Herald: "The insurgents need a Lincoln," says Ray Stannard Baker in the American Magazine. We agree with Ray on the main proposition, but not for the same purpose. Lincoln expended his greatest energies and devoted his best years to the task of smashing insurrection, and were he alive today he would be busy exposing the hypocrisy of some of these latter day insurgents.—Albert Lea Times-Enterprise.

Maj. Edwards is a convincing writer, but he will have some trouble making the average man believe that the great emancipator would have been found allied with such trust tools as Taft, Aldrich and Cannon.

No Doubt About That.

Madison Independent Press: As the days go by it looks more and more like John Lind as the Democratic candidate for governor. John Lind would make a hard proposition for any man to go up against. Further than that he would make a good chief executive.

No Country Newspaper Trust.

Princeton Union: About the only fellows who have not so far formed a gigantic trust are the country newspaper publishers. But they could never agree to live in peace and harmony,—as it is absolutely necessary for trust magnates to do,—anyway. A country newspaper trust would exist about three days.

Should Have no Opposition.

Foley Independent: We do not believe that any one can be found to make the run for congress against Mr. Lindbergh for the simple reason that it would, at best, be a forlorn hope. Mr. Lindbergh is stronger with his constituents today than ever before and any attempt to dislodge him will end in failure.

Easy for John Lind.

Le Sueur News: Minnesota politicians are an envious lot of men. If each can not have the best office he is opposed to all others having it. This means that John Lind will win in a walk, if he walks in the direction required.

No Harm in That.

Sandstone Courier: The fall election campaign is only just beginning, but it looks as though the several factions of the Republican party would rather see a Democrat elected as governor than a member of any other faction of their own party.

Too Hot to Hold.

Austin Transcript: It is manifest that a rapidly increasing number of congressmen, with an eye on their constituents, are beginning to apprehend that sticking to Speaker Cannon is like hanging on to the business end of a red-hot poker.

"She gave me hard water to wash in."

"A little borax would have softened it."

"Nothing but fire would have softened it; it was frozen."

Boston Transcript: Caller—How pleased you must be to find that your new cook is a stayer.

Hostess—My dear, don't mention it. She's a stayer, all right, but unfortunately she's not a cook.

Judge: Miss Goldbonds—If father should allow us to marry, count, what would be the outcome?

Count de Brokeski—Ay, my dair Miss Goldbonds, zat, you know, would depend entirely on ze income.

"Yes," replied Mr. Sirius Barker, "the American eagle is mighty lucky. Any bird that isn't good to eat has a right to congratulate itself these days."

Louisville Courier-Journal: "May I kiss your beautiful baby?"

"Certainly, madam. One moment, please. Nurse, fetch me the antiseptic gauze."

Cleveland Plain Dealer: "What is the oldest form of literature?"

"I dunno, but I guess some of the musical comedy jokes must reach back pretty nearly that far."

Cleveland Leader: "So many prize fights end with 'a blow on the jaw.'"

"Of course. In prize fighters that's the part of the body that is overtrained."

London Opinion: "Well, Effie, dear, I hope you've been a little mother to your brother while I've been out."

"Oh, yes, I have. I've smacked him quite a lot!"

Chicago News: Doctor—Johnny, I see the pills I gave you have made you well again. How did you take them—with water or with cake?

Small Johnny—I used them in my pop gun to shoot at the cat.

Detroit Free Press: Baron Munchausen had just heard of Dr. Cook's performance. "Ah," he sighed, as he rolled over in his grave, "faking has improved wonderfully since my time on earth."

Christian Register: Suffragette—What is a party without women?

Mere Man (flippantly)—A stag party.

Suffragette—Exactly. And what sir, would this nation be without women but stagnation?

Philadelphia Record: Wigg—Who originated the idea that the longest way round was the shortest way home?

Wagg—Some taxicab driver, I suppose.

Judge: "How do you suppose she ever landed that stunning husband?"

"Why—er—he's a collector of antiques."

MANY WANT JOBS.

No Lack of Applicants for Hibbing Letter Carriers Positions.

Hibbing, Minn., Feb. 9.—(Special to The Herald.)—The examination of applicants for clerks and carriers for the local postoffice began this morning with fifteen applicants. In former years it has been almost impossible to obtain enough names to take the examination to make it worth while, but this year there are more than enough and Secretary Lilliblade is more than delighted with the prospect of securing a number of good carriers and clerks. The examinations are being held in the council chambers in the city hall. The salaries attached to the positions are $600 the first year, increasing each year until the maximum of $1,000 is reached.

EVELETH HIGH EXAMS.

Returns Have Been Received and Delinquents Must Work Hard.

Eveleth, Minn., Feb. 9.—(Special to The Herald.)—The report cards for the term's work have been received by the pupils of the high school classes and those failing to get an average of over seventy-five for the five months' work fell below grade and will have to work extra hard to make up the deficiency in order to pass the subjects in June.

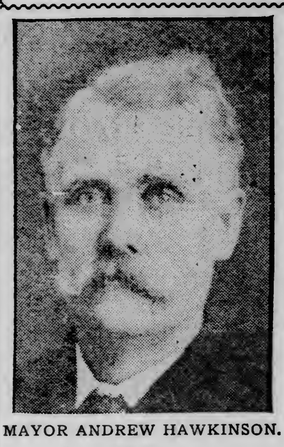

The freshmen class enjoyed a sleighride last evening to Virginia, which was a success in every particular.

Good work is being done by the students of the junior and senior classes in the wood-turning department of the manual training classes, which started last September.

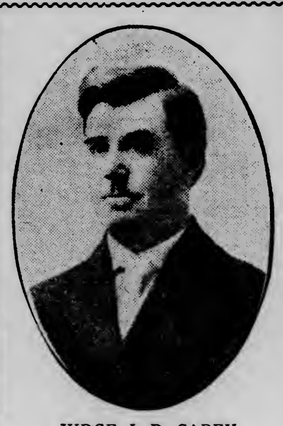

Hibbing's New Theater.

Hibbing, Minn., Feb. 9.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Healy theater, Hibbing's new playhouse, is nearing completion. HAWKINSON BEATS EATON FOR MAYOR BY 120 VOTES

MAYOR ANDREW HAWKINSON.

JUDGE J. P. CAREY.

CITY TREASURER W. B. PRATT.

MICHAEL BOYLAN, First Ward Alderman, Who Polled Big Vote.

Virginia, Minn., Feb. 9.—(Special to The Herald.)—The hottest municipal election in Virginia's history and the first held under the new charter ended last night in the re-election of Mayor Hawkinson by 120 majority over W. H. Eaton and the re-election of City Treasurer Pratt. Municipal Judge Carey and Michael Boylan, alderman in the First ward, by big majorities. A. C. Osborn, H. O. Johnson and E. C. A. Johnson were elected aldermen-at-large, while these aldermen were chosen in the six wards: First, Mike Boylan; Second, A. Staff; Third, Fred Mollan; Fourth, J. L. Kimball; Fifth, Albert Heritage; Sixth, Frank Webber.

Eaton Made Fine Run.

Mayor Andrew Hawkinson's majority was not as large as had been predicted, and the surprise was that Former Mayor W. H. Eaton made the good run that he did. It was predicted that Eaton would poll a large vote in the Second ward and carry the First by a small majority, but in the Second his big vote was a surprise to the friends of Mayor Hawkinson. Eaton carried the Second and Third wards, but the other four wards went to Hawkinson by good sized majorities.

Judge James P. Carey showed great strength in this campaign, defeating his opponent, Louis M. Osborn, by an overwhelming majority of 492.

The big surprise was in the First ward where Michael Boylan was re-elected by one of the biggest majorities ever chronicled in the ward, defeating the two candidates opposed to him by a majority of 104 votes. Alderman D. W. Elmquist was defeated for re-election in the Third ward; Alderman N. J. Smith, defeated by J. L. Kimball in the Fourth ward, and A. L. Heritage won out against three other candidates in the Fifth. Alderman Frank Webber pulled off a stunt in the Sixth ward that was quite a surprise to the people of the city. He defeated his opponent, Emil Johnson, by 92 votes.

A. C. Osborn, president of the council, was returned by a good sized majority, but Alderman E. D. McNeil went down to defeat against a very strong opposition for alderman-at-large, Edward C. A. Johnson and H. O. Johnson winning out with A. C. Osborn in the race for aldermen-at-large.

W. B. Pratt, present city treasurer and who was up for re-election, made a splendid run against three candidates, Conrad Mattson, F. C. Whiting and F. J. Hughes, getting more votes than all three of his opponents. Below is the votes given by wards:

Stop Women And Consider

This Fact—that in addressing Mrs. Pinkham you are confiding your private ills to a woman—a woman whose experience with women's diseases covers twenty-five years.

The present Mrs. Pinkham, daughter-in-law of Lydia E. Pinkham, was for years under her direction, and has ever since her decease continued to advise women.

Many women suffer in silence and drift along from bad to worse, knowing well that they ought to have immediate assistance, but a natural modesty causes them to shrink from exposing themselves to the questions and probable examinations of even their family physician. Such questioning and examination is unnecessary. Without cost you can consult a woman whose knowledge from actual experience is great.

MRS. PINKHAM'S STANDING INVITATION:

Women suffering from any form of female weakness are invited to promptly communicate with Mrs. Pinkham at Lynn, Mass. All letters are received, opened, read and answered by women. A woman can freely talk of her private illness to a woman; thus has been established this confidence between Mrs. Pinkham and the women of America which has never been broken. Never has she published a testimonial or used a letter without the written consent of the writer, and never has the company allowed these confidential letters to get out of their possession, as the hundreds of thousands of them in their files will attest.

Out of the vast volume of experience which Mrs. Pinkham has to draw from, it is more than possible that she has gained the very knowledge needed in your case. She asks nothing in return except your good will, and her advice has helped thousands. Surely any woman, rich or poor, should be glad to take advantage of this generous offer of assistance. Address Mrs. Pinkham, care of Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass.

You'll Do Better at Kelly's

Here It Is At Last

The Domes of Silence, or patent Invisible Castors, are bright little Steel Domes, which enable all furniture to glide SOFTLY, SILENTLY and SMOOTHLY over carpets or any kind of flooring.

They are quite different from the old, unsatisfactory wheel castors, which, as a rule, are only used for heavy arm chairs and sofas.

THE DOMES OF SILENCE, OR PATENT INVISIBLE CASTORS

on the contrary, may be fitted in an instant to any kind of furniture. They are most delightfully comfortable when used on all chairs and tables, and are most marvelously effective for Cabinets and heavy Wardrobes. Have no wheels and need no screws or nails. The lady of the house can apply them herself to light furniture, with a gentle touch of the hammer. For heavy furniture, if placed underneath, the weight alone fixes them permanently in position.

They are so simple, it is a marvel they were not thought of before. They cannot get out of order, save all strain on furniture legs, a matter of utmost importance where valuable furniture is concerned, and obviate all wear and tear on the carpets. The cost is practically nominal. The fitting may be done in a few moments; and the delightful sense of ease and quiet comfort they bring to a home is a real revelation to those who try them for the first time.

Trial of Jackson McPherson Is Continued Before Judge Ensign.

In a calm, composed, quiet manner, Jackson McPherson, accused of the murder of his shipmate, Otto Frey, on the steamer North Lake, Sept. 22 last, went on the stand in his own behalf in district court this morning, when the case was resumed before Judge Ensign.

Because of the loss of many of his teeth at the front of the mouth, McPherson's testimony is often hard to understand, and this morning he was asked to repeat himself many times. His language while for the most part, good, is more or less unnatural. He seems to be forcing himself to speak in an unnatural manner, and he frequently hesitates and begins again.

Only at the latter part of his testimony did he show any signs of being nervous. When asked to describe the quarrel in the bunk house he twitched his hands in a nervous manner, and several times choked as though the words stuck in his throat.

While the defense has as yet, not admitted the killing, there has been no attempt to deny it. It will in all probability be brought out before McPherson leaves the stand. The defense is trying to show that Frey was the aggressor all the way through, and that McPherson simply acted in self-defense.

His Life's Story.

The accused man told his life's story. He was, according to his testimony, born in Scotland in 1868. When but a lad, he came to the United States. Since the time he left his home in Scotland, he has been a wanderer. He has visited nearly every country on the globe, and home was where ever he hung his hat. He has traveled the United States from one end to the other and worked at almost anything he could get to do. He has served in both the English and the United States navies. He has sailed on salt water and last summer was his first experience on the Great Lakes.

According to McPherson's testimony, the first he had ever seen of Frey was in the shipping office in Duluth. This was after he had taken a position on the North Lake. He went aboard the boat at Cleveland.

McPherson told of his acquaintance with Frey and how they had struck up a friendship and how they traveled about a good deal together when the ship was in port.

On the morning of the quarrel, which resulted in Frey's death, both men were off duty until 12 o'clock, when their watch began. McPherson told of the gathering in the saloon, the handkerchief incident and how Frey seemed to take the matter to heart and abuse him (McPherson). According to the story told by the witness, he took the abuse without even answering, a greater part of the time. When Frey saw him aboard the boat he said that he was greeted with: "Hello you damned thief, are you back?" Even this salutation McPherson denies answering.

He says, however, that later he told Frey that he had apologized to all the men that he could find and that he would do the same to Thatcher as soon as he could be found.

McPherson says that at dinner on the day the crime was committed, Frey kept heaping abuse upon him and finally McPherson said: "Let the matter rest until after dinner. We will get together and settle it then."

The next incident that happened was in the bunk house. The men were alone. Frey exclaimed that he had never yet seen a salt water sailor who was not a crook. McPherson claims that he said nothing. The first that he knew of real trouble, he claims, was when Frey's fingers closed on his neck. They clinched and McPherson, according to his story, succeeded in shaking him off. He stood on the defense and from the other side of the narrow and rather dark compartment, Frey threw a hardwood stool which caught McPherson on the upper part of the abdomen, knocking the breath out of the body. Frey followed up the throwing of the stool and clinched with McPherson, who claims that at that moment he was lying back on the bunk unable to move as the result of the stool which had hit him but a second before. It was then that he reached under himself and drew out the revolver. Taking aim at the left arm about at the wrist, he fired.

At this point noon recess was taken by the court. This afternoon the witness continued with his story of the quarrel. After the recital, he will be cross-examined by County Attorney John H. Norton.

The State Rests.

The state rested this morning after the remainder of the sailors and others who knew of the quarrel, had been examined. Attorney Whipple for the defendant, explained to the jury the case as seen from the other side, and stated that the prisoner would try to prove self-defense.

McPherson's memory is remarkable. He remembers everything no matter how trivial and he gives the time of day, the date, and the month. He has the dates firmly fixed in his mind and can give the dates of personal history for years back.

He speaks of "fore" and "aft," "port" and "starboard," and many other nautical terms and is familiar with boats of all descriptions. He described the steamer North Lake in detail.

As McPherson is the principal witness for the defense it is quite probable that the case will go to the jury by Thursday night.

He is very willing to tell all he knows while on the stand and he frequently wanders off the point and has to be interrupted by the attorneys.

SALOON MEN LOSE APPEAL

Federal Supreme Court Affirms Judge Amidon in the Anderson Case.

Decision Means Government Has Right to Close Indian Country Saloons.

Fergus Falls, Minn., Feb. 9.—(Special to The Herald.)—The saloon men have lost their fight against the order of government officials closing saloons in the so-called Indian country, in a portion of Northern Minnesota, as the Anderson test case has been decided by the supreme court of the United States in favor of the government contention. Fred Anderson was convicted and sentenced to four months in jail and pay a fine of $100 by Judge Amidon last November. The saloonmen decided to appeal the case and the result has just been announced in the shape of a mandate from the highest court in the land directing that Judge Amidon's sentence be carried out.

History of the Case.

When the government ordered the saloons in the neighborhood of the reservation closed, Anderson and several others resisted, asserting that the government had no right to interfere in cases where license had been granted by the local authorities. The federal court in this city returned indictments against Nich Kessler, Robert Bolleu, Fred Glass and John Miller of Mahnomen and J. H. Quinlan and Fred Anderson of Calloway.

Anderson was tried, convicted and sentenced, and the other cases were continued, pending the result of an appeal, which could be made directly to the supreme court, for the reason that the construction of the provisions of a treaty was involved. The supreme court, in decisions handed down years ago, had sustained the contention of the government, but the attorneys for the liquor men hoped to be able to secure a reversal of this decision in view of present conditions.

Similar Case Is Decided.

The appeal papers were accordingly filed, but since that time, the supreme court has decided a case that went up from the state of Washington, in which similar questions were involved. This decision fully sustains the right of the Federal government to enforce Indian treaty provisions in territory that has since been organized into states and counties, and affirms previous decisions along this line.

After examining the decision, Anderson's attorneys concluded that it would be useless to prosecute the appeal further, and they have accordingly abandoned it, and the supreme court hands down a mandate for Anderson's commitment. It is not probable the government's right to keep liquor out of any part of the territory covered by the Indian treaties, will again be questioned.

PRESIDENT McVEY DELIVERS ADDRESS

Former Member of Minnesota Tax Commission Addresses County Boards.

Grand Forks, N. D., Feb. 9.—(Special to The Herald.)—The meeting of the County Commissioners' Association of North Dakota, in progress here, is one of the best attended ever held.

Today's program was especially interesting, an address by President F. L. McVey being the first number. He spoke on the care of the county poor. Prof. J. E. Boyle spoke on methods of taxation; Attorney T. R. Bangs gave an address on the selection of personal property taxes, and A. I. Hunter and Dean Crouch gave addresses on good roads.

Tuesday evening the members of the association were the guests of the Grand Forks Commercial club banquet. The event was a big one, over 200 plates being laid. The association's meeting comes to a close Thursday, the selection of the next place of meeting and election of officers taking place at that time.

BURGLARS TAKE EGGS.

High Price Articles Look Good to Law Breakers.

Minneapolis, Minn., Feb. 9.—(Special to The Herald.)—Two cases of fresh eggs, $30 in cash and checks to the value of $100 formed the booty of a bold burglar at the dairy of Godfrey Anderson, St. Louis Park. The burglary evidently took place Sunday night while Anderson was asleep. Monday he discovered that the money had been taken from the bureau drawer, entrance being made through the window.

Outside he found his bankbook and a blank check where the man had dropped it. The eggs were stolen from the barn.

In his complaint to Sheriff Otto Langum, the dairyman particularly bewails the loss of the eggs.

NEW ROCKFORD HAS A COMMERCIAL CLUB.

New Rockford, N. D., Feb. 9.—(Special to The Herald.)—With the running of the Great Northern survey through this city, thus placing New Rockford on the new Ayr to Surrey line, and the proposed incorporation as a city, the business men have organized a Commercial club, thus hoping to realize through the many opportunities that will be offered for branching out. Donald Niven was made the temporary president of the club while J. H. Johnson was made temporary secretary.

At the organization meeting the proposition was very thoroughly discussed and it was deemed advisable to perfect the club at once that work might be started as early as possible. New Rockford hopes to be able to make great forward strides by reason of the running of the new line through here.

RESERVE OPENING HAS MADE THINGS LIVELY.

Plaza, N. D., Feb. 9.—(Special to The Herald.)—The prospects of opening the Fort Berthold Indian reservation for settlement shortly have had the effect of making things boom in this district. The farmers have taken up the idea of progress to a great extent, and one of the most important moves now proposed is the organization of a telephone company that will supply service for this entire section.

A meeting has been called for Saturday, when the matter will be thoroughly discussed. Farmers' telephone lines in sections as new as is the Plaza district are few and far between, and this fact makes the local enterprise of more than ordinary importance.

McEWEN PUNCTUAL.

Hurries to Make Speech Three Weeks Ahead of Time.

St. Paul, Minn., Feb. 9.—(Special to The Herald.)—State Labor Commissioner McEwen is prompt above everything else. He hurried out of his office at the capitol Monday to attend a ministers' meeting at the First Baptist church that had been scheduled for Feb. 28. Before starting he complained that he had been unable to prepare an address because of absence from the city.

He found the church deserted upon his arrival there and when he called called up the office to verify the date, he was told that he still had three weeks left in which to prepare the speech.

DELAHUNT EXONERATED.

Former Manager of Ishpeming Brokerage Office Wins Out.

Ishpeming, Mich., Feb. 9.—(Special to The Herald.)—Thomas J. Delahunt, who managed the Wallace H. Hopkins brokerage office in this city for some time, and who was indicted with Hopkins in the United States court for Illinois two years ago, has been honorably discharged by Judge Landis and has been exonerated of all complicity in the Hopkins fraud.

This action was taken on motion of Assistant United States District Attorney Robert W. Childs. Mr. Childs informed Judge Landis that there was no evidence to support the allegations against Dr. Delahunt. On the contrary, Mr. Childs said, the evidence taken at the trial of Hopkins showed that Mr. Delahunt had done everything in his power to keep the affairs of the Hopkins corporation straight and square. In no instance, Mr. Childs informed the court, was Mr. Delahunt party to the frauds for which Hopkins was found guilty. The evidence, furthermore, disclosed the fact that the transactions which led to Hopkins' trial and conviction were in every instance carried through during Mr. Delahunt's absence from Chicago and particularly while Mr. Delahunt was confined in a Milwaukee hospital recovering from a serious operation.

ENDS LIFE WITH RAZOR.

Ramsey County, N. D., Court Clerk Commits Suicide.

Devils Lake, N. D., Feb. 9.—(Special to The Herald.)—Desperate over continued ill health, Thomas Torsen, clerk of the Ramsey county court, cut his throat with a razor and when found in the barn back of his house by his daughter was dead. Thorson was 50, highly respected and in good financial circumstances. He was several times county treasurer, and later had two terms as county clerk. He had a wife and two daughters, the wife and youngest daughter being in California for the winter. Thorson complained lately about ill health. It is believed the suicide was the result of a sudden fit of insanity.

CHILD FINDS DEAD

Servant in Minneapolis Household With Hand Clutching Bottle.

Minneapolis, Minn., Feb. 9.—(Special to The Herald.)—When Grace Harrington, one of three children who had been left in the care of Gerda Bork, 40 years old, housekeeper at the Harrington home, 1787 Knox avenue south, went to the housekeeper's room yesterday, she found Miss Bork dead in bed, with a partially filled bottle of chloroform in her hand. Calling to her two younger sisters, the child fled in terror from the house.

The children are the daughters of F. T. Harrington.

Dickinson, N. D., Feb. 9.—(Special to The Herald.)—After being fined $100 for beating his wife, Matthias Schoeberle, a farmer residing near Richardson, was placed under a bond of $500. Schoeberle's anger was aroused when he asked his wife to get him an early breakfast. He arose, to find her writing a letter, and when he took her to task for neglecting the breakfast, she threw down the pen in anger. This further enraged him and he picked up a chair, with which he dealt her a blow over the head. Miss Cota, a school teacher boarding at the place, summoned a physician and the sheriff, and both principals were thus given immediate attention.

WANT ROAD TO COME IN

Mayor and West Duluthians Talk Compromise With Canadian Northern.

Haven Says He Will Act for Best Interests of the City.

Apparently Mayor Haven still intends to exercise his veto power on the Canadian Northern franchise, but he says that he will not do so with any intention of keeping the road from entering Duluth.

A delegation of the West Duluth objectors headed by David Sang, visited the mayor this morning. After a long conference, which lasted until nearly 12:30, it was announced that an effort will be made to make a compromise with the road.

Mr. Sang and the mayor stated that the Canadian Northern has another route surveyed which has been pronounced by the company engineers as satisfactory, and the veto power will be used to have the railroad come in over the other route.

The other route runs higher up the hill in West Duluth but below the tracks of the Duluth, Missabe & Northern. As surveyed the route skirts the hill and approached the tracks of the ore road, coming close to them at Central avenue. There the turn is made downwards towards Forty-eighth avenue and under the Northern Pacific tracks and the Oneota street bridge.

The statement in The Herald last night that the mayor had decided intentions of vetoing the franchise granted by the council brought a storm above his head. That the statement was correct received additional confirmation from reliable sources this morning.

But the mayor says if he should exercise the veto power it will be only in the interests of the city, and not with any idea of keeping the road out. He believes that it ought to come to Duluth, but is not convinced that the route laid through West Duluth, as described in the franchise, is the only feasible route. He states that those who are objecting are entitled to consideration. He would not make any positive statement, reiterating what he said yesterday to the effect that the ordinance granting the franchise has not yet reached him.

The West Duluth delegation did not ask the mayor to keep the road out of the city. They repeated that they want it to come in over a route which will not spoil the residence district. After the conference the mayor said that he believed the problem could be solved satisfactorily to all parties concerned if the hill route is utilized by the company.

The delegation remained firm in its intention to fight the road in the courts should the mayor veto the franchise and the council pass it over his veto as it now stands. They stated that they have plenty of money to fight, and will carry it to the highest courts.

GIVES $800,000 TO THIS VICINITY

River and Harbor Bill Will Be Reported to the House Next Friday.

Washington, Feb. 9.—(Special to The Herald.)—The river and harbor bill is practically completed and it is thought now that it will be reported to the house Friday, just previous to adjournment. Representative Miller said today that he understands that the bill will carry an appropriation of $800,000 to be expended in the vicinity of Duluth—$500,000 for dredging the harbor and $300,000 for completing the breakwater at Superior.

It was hoped by Congressman Miller that he could receive some definite report from Duluth as to the progress which has been made upon the steel plant, so that he might have something tangible to lay before the committee regarding this project and the necessity for an immediate appropriation to deepen the channel to twenty feet. Mr. Miller says he has written and wired for information, but as yet has not received a reply. When the bill comes into open house, Mr. Miller, if he is supplied with sufficient data, will endeavor to secure an amendment carrying an appropriation to deepen the channel leading to the steel plant.

The total appropriation in the bill now is close to $40,000,000. It contemplates ultimate expenditures that are likely to reach $600,000,000.

WISSAHICKON IS AT DUCK ISLAND

Freighter Has Been Raised and Is in Shelter for the Winter.

Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., Feb. 9.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Anchor line package freighter, Wissahickon, which stranded on Outer Duck island in the middle of December in a heavy gale and snowstorm, was laid up for the winter Monday morning in Duck Island harbor. The vessel was raised by the Great Lakes Towing company, which had been working on her over a month.

The vessel lay in an exposed position, and continued unfavorable weather greatly hampered operations. On several occasions she was ready to be pulled off when a storm came and the water had to be put in again.

Throughout the exceptional cold of Saturday night and Sunday wreckers worked steadily, and Monday morning the steamer was pulled off by tugs General and Thompson.

After laying the Wissahickon up in Duck harbor, with four fishermen aboard, the wreckers left for Detour, arriving there this morning. The freighter is reported to be in quite good condition.

WATER WILL SAVE COAL

Fuel May Be Conserved By Developing Water Power, Says Cokefair.

Duluth Engineer Gives Interesting Talk to Men of Endion Church.

"The development of the water power of the country is to be the salvation of the rapidly decreasing coal supply," was the statement made by F. A. Cokefair of the Men's Clug of the Endion M. E. church last night. Mr. Cokefair, who was chief engineer of the Great Northern Power company here during the preliminary and construction period, and who is now a director in the company, spoke to the men on water power development in general and especially on its relation to the conservation of the coal supply in the country.

The men's club of the church was permanently organized last night. It will have a supper once a month and some man identified with the commercial and industrial life of Duluth will be asked to speak to the members on the subject with which he is most familiar. The talk by Mr. Cokefair last night was the first of the series and it was especially interesting on account of the wide interest that is being taken throughout the country in the subject of water power development and conservation of natural resources.

Mr. Cokefair called attention to a recent report of the department of the interior, in which it was estimated that 50,000,000-horse power in water power could ultimately be developed in the United States and by the use of storage reservoirs, that could be increased to 200,000,000-horse power, the extreme limit of ultimate development. At the present time, he said, the water power developed in this country amounts to but 5,500,000-horse power, so that the possibilities for the future are great. The development of the latent power, he said, is impracticable at this time on account of the great difficulties attendant to the work and the immense expense connected with it.

Government estimates, Mr. Cokefair says, place the known supply of coal in the United States now at 2,000,000,000 tons. The present consumption of coal, he said, is 500,000,000 tons a year, and if the rate of consumption were maintained, the available supply would be exhausted in 4,000 years. However, he said, since 1850, the coal consumption of the country has doubled each ten years, so that if that that rate were maintained, the coal supply would be exhausted in 150 years.

"The estimated 50,000,000-horse power, which it is estimated could be developed in this country is equivalent to the power that can be produced by 500,000,000 tons of coal," he said. "As the present consumption of coal is 500,000,000 tons yearly, if all the water power in the country were developed, it could care for the work now being done by coal. With storage reservoirs, the water power are almost unlimited. It could do four times the work that is now being done by coal."

"The development of water power is being frowned upon by the government and many people," he continued. "But I regard the development of the water power of the country as the salvation of the coal supply and in line with a policy of conservation."

Coming nearer home in his discussion, Mr. Cokefair described the Great Northern power plant and the development of the power here. He said it is one of the ten largest plants in the United States, having a capacity of 40,000 kilowatts at present, which may be doubled by the use of storage reservoirs. The possibilities of water power in Minnesota were described, Mr. Cokefair telling his auditors that only 500,000 to 600,000-horse power could be developed in the state. At present, only 110,000-horse power has been developed.

He went into the history of water power development in the United States, telling his hearers that hydro-electric plants have come into existence in the last twenty-five years and are still novelties. If the water power of the country is to be developed, he said, the people must be about it, for long years of preliminary work and immense expenditures of money are necessary for the development. If the fuel supply is to be conserved, he said, the country must turn to water power, for no other fuel can replace coal, solar engines are merely experimental, while water power is perpetual, proven and ready for development.

A general discussion followed Mr. Cokefair's talk.

SHORTS ARE COVERING

Decline in Coppers Is Checked and Shares Have Advance.

Covering by shorts and buying by people who were glad to help the shorts along, however much the bears may have desired to go it alone, caused stocks to advance sharply today. Jobbing accumulation by investors and small speculators who were prepared to scalp the market on the bulge aided in the upturn.

The covering by the shorts was practically forced by foreign buying which made Americans strong and buoyant in London, and when the market opened on this side the strength of the foreign market was reflected in quotations of from 1 to 2 points higher than yesterday's close in the leading metals and some of the industrials.

Amalgamated and Anaconda had been tipped for a drive but the foreign buying shut off all possibility of a raid, and the bears practically were forced to cover. Some traders think there is a chance of the short sellers getting squeezed but that the majority seem inclined to the belief that the bears have conducted their campaign in a masterly manner and that their retreat will be well covered. There is a big short interest in the market and its ability to get out safely will have an important bearing on the developments of the next few days.

Some traders think the raid is about over and that the bears will get out of the market as soon as possible, delivering a few parting volleys now and then to warn the pursuers not to press too closely on their heels. Others look for further declines, believing that the bear interests are not in a position to retreat and that they have no desire to do so. These people consider the outlook bearish and think the element now in the saddle will continue to ride there.

Boston metal experts have predicted 15 per cent copper within the next few weeks, but there is a tendency to take their statements with considerable modification. The Copper Producers' association, according to a report sent out from Boston today, will show a decrease in the world's visible of 40,000,000 pounds compared with about 11,000,000 pounds for December. The total world's surplus is about 400,000,000 pounds. Some people think this estimate of 40,000,000 pounds is too large, but others believe it to be reliable.

The local market was moderately active, about 16,000 shares changing hands, of which nearly 12,500 were in Rawhide Royal at 6c. Butte Ballaklava sold at $10. Cactus at $4.37½. Copper Queen at 62@60c. Live Oak at $19.87½, down ⅛ point, Shattuck at $19.62½. Zenith at $1.06¼ up to $1.12½ and back to the opening sale. O. A. Hoffman received a telegram today from Butte giving the January output of Tuolumne mine in January at 2,350 tons averaging 310 pounds of copper to the ton, or 728,500 pounds. Silver values amounted to $5,491.

The shaft at the Amazon-Montana is down 100 feet, according to W. T. Smith, president, and C. T. Fitzsimmons vice president, who have returned from the mine. The property is in the Corbin-Wickes district of Montana.

"Three shifts," said Mr. Smith, "are working on the shaft. An electric hoist and air compressor are used. The first crosscut will be driven at a depth of about 250 feet to intersect the vein which has been opened up to a depth of 85 feet. The vein in the tunnel is six feet wide and contains shipping ore which averages about $24 to the ton. The net profit will be about $14 per ton. The vein contains lead, silver and gold.

"We have built our own power line from the Robert Emmet, a distance of one and two-thirds miles. We are right on the main line of the Great Northern, which means that we are always in a position to ship either to Butte or to Great Falls. We have in addition to a complete electric plant for operating the property, a carpenter and blacksmith shop, with good accommodations for the men. The old gentleman who owned the Amazon group before we got control tried with the aid of his sons, without capital, to make a mine and but for the need of pumps and other machinery I guess he would have succeeded. He shipped three cars of ore from near the surface, but capital was required to develop the property, and this has been provided. We expect that the Amazon will give a good account of itself."

CONVICTED MAN CONFESSES ALL

Grafton, N. D., Feb. 9.—(Special to The Herald.)—This morning Frank Miki, convicted last night of murder in the second degree, made a complete confession of guilt.

Quarrels over the parentage of a 2-year-old boy led up to the murder of the child. On last Friday when Mrs. Miki threatened to have him arrested he also attacked her and choked her to death in the same manner that he had done away with the child.

The confession means that Miki will be given a second trial this time for killing the child and he will receive either a life sentence or death on the gallows.

SUES FOR FALL INTO HOLD OF STEAMER.

Claiming negligence on the part of the Lake Carriers' association and G. A. Tomlinson, Lester Elmer this afternoon began suit in district court for $10,000 for injuries alleged to have been received when he fell into the hold of the steamer Hartwell at Superior last June.

The case was begun this afternoon before Judge Dibell. The plaintiff claims negligence on the part of the owner and the Lake Carriers' association in that the hatch was not covered and that also the light was not sufficient.

As a result of the accident he claims that he had sustained severe injuries to the spine and that several ribs were broken. He fell about twenty-five feet.

In addition to the $10,000 he asks $316 as special damages.

WILL GET PAID FOR BEATING

For taking a beating at the hands of M. W. Lee, a local stockbroker, J. M. Michols will recover $125 as damages. A jury in the district court brought in the verdict shortly after the noon hour today.

The case began yesterday before Judge Dibell of the district court.

One of the plaintiff's thumbs was crushed during the scuffle. The trouble arose over an article which appeared in a weekly paper, published at the time by Mr. Michols.

GIVES 4,000,000 ACRES FOR HOMES

Washington, Feb. 9.—More than 4,000,000 acres of public lands which were included in the forest domain were thrown out today and will be available for homestead settlement. This result was accomplished by the action of President Taft in approving the plans formulated by Gifford Pinchot for the reclassification of forest lands.

It has been found that millions of acres of land which were tillable were being held back unintentionally in the forest domain. In the state of Idaho alone more than 400,000 acres were so included. The plans for the elimination of these lands were initiated by Mr. Pinchot last summer.

The elimination is not yet complete, and three-tenths of the total public forests is yet to be reclassified. It is impossible to estimate how much more land will be available for settlement when the reclassification is completed.

Crookston, Minn., Feb. 9.—(Special to The Herald.)—Harry Quesnelle, a switchman in the Great Northern yards in South Crookston, in stepping from a freight car, stumbled over a low switch this morning, one arm falling across the rails, the car wheels completely severing the right hand.

GREAT NORTHERN WILL BUILD MONTANA BRANCH.

St. Paul, Minn., Feb. 9.—(Special to The Herald.)—L. W. Hill, president of the Great Northern, has authorized the statement that a branch railroad will be constructed this year from Montak, N. D., to Glendive, Mont. The exact route has not been decided, but in a general way it will follow the Yellowstone river from its junction with the Missouri to Glendive.

PLANS BIG COUNTY OPTION CONVENTION.

St. Paul, Minn., Feb. 9.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Anti-Saloon League of Minnesota today announced definite plans for its county option convention at the Auditorium in St. Paul, March 2. The committee expects a very large attendance at the convention. Twenty street cars already have been chartered for bringing over the Minneapolis contingent.

Among those who have agreed to deliver addresses are Former Attorney General E. Young, J. F. Jacobson and Joel P. Heatwole of Northfield. Governor Eberhart has been invited to deliver the address of welcome to the delegates, but has not yet replied.

FEUD MURDERS MAY LEAD TO LYNCHING.

Pittsburg, Pa., Feb. 9.—A feud among Italian miners which has for months terrorized the residents of Midway, a mining town near here, culminated today in the killing of three men. Two men believed to have done the shooting have fled. The dead:

JOHN PANELLI, aged 29 years, married.

MIKE MANIA, aged 28 years, married and

TONY YALLI, aged 35 years, single.

The populace is aroused to a fury and a lynching is not improbable. If the fugitives, one of whom is John Marks, a grocer, and the other Tony Puchy, a miner, are captured and brought to Midway.

SPORTING NEWS OF THE DAY

BLUE-EYED SON OF SWEDEN AND BLUE-EYED SON OF IRELAND IN GREAT BATTLE FOR SKI HONORS

Will Settle Supremacy in Duluth and Coleraine —That Nelson-Wolgast Fracas—Hackenschmidt a Has Been.

(BY BRUCE)

Up Coleraine way there is open warfare between two great and enterprising races. The Scandinavians and the Irish are all "het" up over the prospect of the defeat of their representatives in the coming test of skill. It is all over the superior ability of Barney Riley and Sigrud Karlson.

From the paste at hand it would be supposed that Sigrud is one of those mild boys with placid blue eyes, which look right at you and smile. We have seen Barney spy the skis often enough to know that he is filled with paprika and is as dashing as Chauncey Olcott ever liked to be, even in his younger days.

Therefore the race for supremacy will be the merrier between the quiet one of a quiet race, and the peppery one of a race that has not in the past been noted for silences that extended into the painful period.

But it is to be hoped that the win of one of the rivals will not start a race riot. Let the best man win and let the good Hibernians and the descendants of the Vikings meet in cheerful song and merriment after the meet, at both Duluth and Coleraine, for there will be merriment a plenty at both places, and cheer to the Celt or to the Viking.

It should be a great old meeting—one of the most unusual in the world of athletics, for it is seldom that one finds the Irishman, versatile as he is, taking up the sport of the ski jumper.

In addition to their rivalry for the amateur championship of the country, which will be fought out at the national ski tournament at Coleraine, Barney and Sigrud will be seen at the tournament to be held here next Saturday.

For seasons past Barney Riley has been one of the cards of the ski sport. He is as Irish as a potato, and for that reason the very fact that he should have taken up the ski sport proved a scream. He has been getting better each season, until the present year he is one of the strong candidates for the amateur championship. As practically the same riders will compete at Duluth as will enter the big tournament at Coleraine, the showing of Riley and Karlson here will be watched with a great deal of interest.

Up Coleraine way many of the members of the Blaen Ski club are picking Karlson as the winner of the amateur honors. Down at this end of the ski country we believe we are going to have something to say about deciding the amateur championship, as well as the professional class which we know will be well taken care of by at least two Duluth riders.

There is Arnold Olson of the Superior Ski club, who is going to have something to say about the championship, and if the jump made by some of the Duluth amateurs the past week have been correctly reported, there are a couple of mysterious riders to be reckoned with Saturday.

Never before in the history of skiing in this part of the country has there been so much interest taken in the sport as there is at the present time. The national and the big Duluth tournaments coming so close together has aroused a degree of interest in the great winter sport that has not been known for a long time.

Several of the wholesale houses of this city have also taken it upon themselves to stimulate interest in the coming meet. Several of the largest of the Duluth houses will be closed Saturday so as to permit their employes to attend the meet.

Perhaps there is no sport of any kind that has done so much as to advertise Duluth as the sport of ski riding. The holding of a big tournament here is one of the best advertisements for the city, just as the holding of the national tournament at Coleraine is going to be a very great advertisement for that little city.

The fact there is no sport of any large number of strangers in the city Saturday will add to the advertisement Duluth will receive from holding of one of the biggest tournaments in the country.

If Ad Wolgast doesn't learn better manners he certainly should not be allowed to wander from peaceful and rather sleepy old Milwaukee. Frisco is entirely too dangerous a place to trust a child with the temper of Adolph in.

It all came about when Battling Nelson, a diplomat and politician of experience, made some taunting remark regarding the pride of Boerville. The discussion was over the articles of the coming fight between the champion lightweight of them all and the pride of Tommy Andrews' town. Nelson let fly a leading remark. Instead of cackling and stalling, this Wolgast person let it come full on the temper. Then he tore in. He peeled his coat, rose and offered to lick the Battler right there. He is an amateur or he would not offer to fight for money. He shook a quivering fist under the somewhat battered nose of the champion and begged for action.

SIGRUD KARLSON,

Right here the Battler showed how he became wealthy. He merely waited until the storm had somewhat abated, never batting an eye, then he came through with a proposition.

"Let us two go into a room and lock the door," mildly suggested the Battler. "I will bet $5,000 against $2,000 that I will be the first one to come out."

Kind friends stopped the argument.

Unless this Wolgast person is much tougher than the beef that got Gen. Egan into serious difficulties, he has no business on earth in trusting himself in a locked room with the Battler, especially when there is $7,500 outside waiting for the first man out.

One of the greatest wrestling matches in the country should result the present week in the meeting at Seattle of Henry Ordemann, the big Minneapolis grappler, and Dr. B. F. Roller, who will endeavor to win some lost laurels from the Minneapolis blacksmith.

Last summer Ordemann beat Roller in the match in which the doctor was thrown so hard he was unable to continue the match. They wrestled an hour in Minneapolis and neither man was able to gain a fall. The contest the present week will be to a finish. It will be a sort of elimination contest, for the man winning it will be ranked as the wrestler next to Gotch in this country; that is, of the American artists.

Never before in the history of wrestling has the game enjoyed so much popularity as it has the present season. They have learned that where the people are satisfied that they will be given square matches and a run for their money they will patronize the sport. Let faking be started, and the game will be killed as dead as it was some three or four years ago.

The wrestlers should take well the present prosperity of the game to heart. If most of the leading spirits of the sport are possessed of brains and common reasoning powers, they will exert their influence to keep the game free from the faking and double-crossing element. There is no better and surely no more scientific sport than wrestling, when the matches are conducted on the square.

The old maxim of Abraham Lincoln, "You can't fool all the people all the time," is one that applies forcibly to wrestling. Give the public good matches and a run for its hard-earned money, and they will patronize the best matches; start faking, and the game is all through.

A very good proof of this very condition has been shown in Duluth.

Another elimination match will come Monday evening in Chicago, when Yussiff Malmout and Zbyszko will meet for the privilege of meeting Frank Gotch in a finish match. The winner of the bout will unquestionably have the right to demand a meeting with the champion.

On the form shown in Duluth Zbyszko should have no great trouble in beating the Turk. Zbyszko really looks the real goods, and there are many wise followers of wrestling who believe the match between Gotch and the challenger will be one of the hardest and most desperately fought matches ever held in the world.

J. H. Herman was in a reminiscent mood after the match here last Friday. He was the business representative of Gotch at the time of the match with Hackenschmidt. He was telling his impression of the match, often referred to as the greatest ever wrestled in this country.

"Hackenschmidt is yellow," began Herman. "He showed that in the match with Gotch. I honestly don't think that Hack could ever beat Frank, and I don't think that Frank could have thrown the big Russian that night in Chicago. Hack was surely one of the most powerful men this world has ever produced. Gotch is the most tricky and most resourceful.

"Well both men were ready to quit. Hack was the first to come through with the proposal. Here it was shown how quick the mind of Gotch worked. He told the tiring Russian that he had not begun to get tired as yet. He was tired, though, and in my opinion could not have thrown Hack.

"Frank put all the steam he had in roughing it with the Russian and took all the heart out of him. You have to hand it to Gotch. He is one of the smoothest, cleverest wrestlers we have ever produced.

"Hack wouldn't meet Zbyszko in London. Both wrestlers had their money posted. They had agreed on a $5,000 side wager. Then Zbyszko came to London, ready for the match. Hack got his lamps on Zbyszko one day as the Pole was working out. He got one look at his arms and back and chest, and he called the match off. That is why I have always thought, or knew, that Hack was yellow. He was one of the greatest athletes in the world, but he didn't have the heart of Gotch, or the heart that Zbyszko will prove he possesses.

"Hack at the present time is far from the man he was the night he wrestled Gotch in Chicago. His challenges to Gotch are simply for advertisement. He will never meet a good man again."

FLYNN STAYS THE LIMIT

Sam Langford Shows Poor Class in Bout With Fireman.

Los Angeles, Cal., Feb. 9.—Jim Flynn not only stayed to the limit of ten rounds of fierce fighting with Sam Langford here last night, but won the newspaper decision over the negro. Charles E. Eyton, who refereed the contest said after leaving the ring that Flynn had the best of the fight from start to finish.

Flynn went after Langford like a demon in the first round and had him backing up until pressed against the ropes. Langford fought his way back to the center of the ring and squaring himself, put a right on Flynn's cheek that brought blood. Flynn crouched low throughout the fight and repeatedly rushed into clinches.

In the second round Flynn caught Langford in the center of the ring and wrestled him to the floor. Langford was up instantly fighting back, but in this exchange at close quarters as in all others which followed, Flynn seemed to have the better of it.

The fourth, fifth and sixth rounds were all Flynn's.

In the ninth round Flynn after receiving a hard right on the neck retaliated with a right straight from the shoulder which landed on Langford's sore eye.

Langford's long arms were going like flails, but he did not land.

They rushed together furiously at the beginning of the tenth, but Langford was forced to break ground. The round ended without Langford having had an opportunity to land any of his famous right swings.

Throughout the fight Referee Eyton was repeatedly forced to separate the men.

SOPHS DEFEAT SENIORS.

Upper Classmen Lose By Score of 23 to 12 in Basket Ball Game.

Yesterday afternoon the sophomore basket ball team of the Central high school inter class league defeated the seniors by the score of 23 to 12. At the end of the first half the score was even up, 9 to 9.

Play was fast throughout. Both teams exhibited better play than would be expected from class teams. Osman and Mars played splendid games for the sophomores. Arthur Helmer and Ben Nelson played hard for the upper classmen, but their team failed to keep pace with them.

The lineup:

Sophomores	Position	Seniors.
Cook	forward	Nastland
Osman	forward	Thorburn, Merritt
Mars	center	A. Helmer
Jeronimus	guard	Nelson
St. Claire	guard	Mather

The contemplated trip to Madison to take part in the interscholastic basket tournament for the northwestern championship, has been given up since the defeat by Blaine. The team will be partially recognized and an attempt made to win all of the remaining games on the schedule.

PERSON AND THE POLE.

Wrestler Will Go to Minneapolis and Meet Zbyszko in Exhibitions.

Yesterday Chris Person received a wire from J. H. Herman, manager of Zbyszko, asking the Duluth heavyweight to come to Minneapolis and meet the Pole in two 15-minute exhibitions at the Dewey theater Minneapolis. Person will meet Zbyszko tonight and tomorrow night. The Pole will attempt to throw Chris once in fifteen minutes.

Over the telephone yesterday Herman stated it was the great exhibition that Person put up against Zbyszko that led him to engage the Duluth man for two short bouts in Minneapolis. Herman added that Ordemann was the only wrestler in the Twin Cities capable of giving Zbyszko a good argument, and Ordemann is in Seattle at the present time, waiting for his match with "Doc" Roller.

ADAMS BEAT NORTHERNS

Victory Puts Last Year's Champions Out of Pennant Race.

Big Duluths and Adams to Play Three Games for Title.

Standing of the Teams.

	Played.	Won.	Lost.
Big Duluths	4	4	0
Adams	4	3	1
Hunter's Parks	4	2	2
Northern Juniors	4	1	3
Fairmonts	4	0	4

Last year's champions of the City Amateur Hockey league, the Northern Juniors, were last night put out of the penannt race in the league by their defeat at the hands of the Adams seven, by a score of 2 to 0.

The game was for blood, as the team that lost would be virtually out of the race for the flag. The Adams showed the best team play the aggregation has exhibited the present season, and although the Northern Juniors fought hard to bring victory their way, they were outplayed by the West end boys.

H. Grenner shot the first goal after ten minutes' of the first half had been played. The play from the referee's whistle was fast and snappy. A. Grenner scored the second net shortly after with a neat feint and lightning shot.

No scoring resulted during the remainder of the game. The play became strenuous at times and maintained a fast clip throughout. The last year champions struggled desperately to stave off defeat, but the Adams were too fast for the unfortunate Northerns.

The post-season championship series between the Big Duluths and Adams will begin next Friday night.

The lineup last night:

Adams.	Position.	Northerns.
Nelson	g	Feetham
Erickson	p	Holgate
E. Nelson	c. p.	R MacCrea
E. Olsen	c.	Harbison, Taylor
A. Grenner	r.	Caulkins
H. Grenner	l. w.	S. MacCrea
A. Olsen	r. w.	Taylor, Kerns

Referee—Roy Deetz. Timekeepers—Clark and Anderson. Goal referees—Conley and White. Penalties—A. Grenner, two minutes, illegal checking; E. Nelson, two minutes, tripping. Goals—A. Grenner, H. Grenner.

COULD AGREE ON BUT ONE MAN

Policy for $10,000 Will Be Written on Eddie Smith's Life.

San Francisco, Cal., Feb. 9.—For the first time in the history of the ring, the life of a man selected to referee a fight will be insured to protect the fighters against loss. According to Nelson's manager, a policy calling for the payment of $10,000 to Battling Nelson and Ad Wolgast in the event of the death of Eddie Smith of Oakland, who will referee the lightweight championship battle between the two pugilists on Washington's birthday, will be written tomorrow. Five thousand dollars will go to each boxer should Smith die. Smith was the only man out of seven whose names were suggested upon whom all parties concerned could agree.

THE FIGHT SITE IS UNSETTLED

Rickard and Gleason Will Meet in Frisco to Decide.

Salt Lake City, Utah, Feb. 9.—Tex Rickard and Jack Gleason, promoters of the Jeffries-Johnson fight, joined in the following statement: "The location of the battleground for the Jeffries-Johnson contest is still unsettled. We will meet in conference at San Francisco next week and positive announcement of the location will be made not later than Feb. 20. It is purely a matter of business with us. We both know now what Salt Lake has to offer and we will meet in San Francisco to look over the different sites there."

MORAN WINS OVER MATTY BALDWIN

English Pugilist Gets a Clean Cut Victory Over Charlestown Fighter.

Boston, Mass., Feb. 9.—Owen Moran of England won a clean-cut decision over Matty Baldwin of Charlestown, in twelve rounds at the Armory Athletic association last night. Baldwin was able to best his opponent in but one round, the ninth, when Moran seemed to slow up. The Englishman used his left to good advantage in jabbing and hooking Baldwin.

Honors Divided.

Buffalo, N. Y., Feb. 9.—Wille Hoppe and Ora Morningstar played two games of 18.2 balk-line billiards here yesterday, each taking a game. The afternoon score was Hoppe, 300; Morningstar, 185. Evening game, Hoppe, 357; Morningstar, 400.

TO RETIRE TO RANCH

Jeffries Will Close His Road Tour With Hibbing Engagement.

Gotch Will Have Match With French Champion in Duluth.

Yesterday Manager C. A. Marshall received word from Harry Frazee's representative that Eveleth has been placed on the bookings of the famous Jeffries-Gotch combination, and four towns will be played by the troupe the last two days it is on the road.

Superior will be played Saturday afternoon; Duluth, Saturday evening; Eveleth, Sunday afternoon, and Hibbing, the last stand of the famous combination of athletes, will be played Sunday evening.

The troupe will break up at Hibbing. Frank Gotch has written to the sporting editors of the Kansas City papers that he will be free Feb. 13, and that he will get back into some big matches in the near future.

Gotch will be seen in Duluth next month in a finish match with Raoul de Rouen, the big 220-pound French champion, and he has also a finish match booked for Kansas City. Then there is the coming match with Zbyszko, which will probably be the critical point in the sensational career of the big Humboldt farmer.

As for Jeffries, he will join his wife at Helena, where she is awaiting his coming at the present time. Mrs. Jeffries is not very well, and it has been the illness of his wife that has caused Jeff impatience over the lengthening of the tour.

Jeff will leave for his ranch immediately after the Hibbing engagement. He will go hunting, and after laying a foundation for the strenuous work he will go into the hardest kind of training for the big battle with Johnson.

Bonspiel Opens.

Winnipeg, Man., Feb. 9.—The twenty-second annual bonspiel opened here last night with 190 rinks entered, including two each from St. Paul, Minneapolis, Duluth and Butte, Mont.

ATHTELIC MEET SUCCESSFUL

Close competition was the rule at the indoor meet held at the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium last evening. The most exciting event was the half mile race, which was won in the very good time of 2:19 2-5 by Ed Mapp. The time is very good considering the number of laps to the distance and the hard surface of the track.

A fair crowd was in attendance and the meet was successful. The events resulted in the following winners:

100-yard dash—Peters, first; Dunning, second; Dahlgren, third; time, 12 seconds.

Half mile run—Mapp, first, Merritt, second; Miller, third; time, 2:19 2-5.

220-yard dash—Peters, first; Dormeyer, second; Clark, third; time, 28 2-5 seconds.

Running high jump—Hobberstad, first; Clark and Dahlgren tied for second; distance, 4 feet 11 inches.

440-yard dash—Bailey, first; Dunning, second; time, 63 2-5 seconds.

Pole vault—Sexton, first; Bethune, second; distance, 7 feet, 10 inches.

Mile run—Sexton, first; Dormeyer, second; time, 5:09.

MOTOR BOAT ASSOCIATION.

Call Sent Out for Meeting of Motor Boat Owners.

A call for a meeting of motor boat owners will be sent out within the next few days, when the association of boat-owners at the Head of the Lakes will be formed. At the meeting a committee will be appointed to formulate racing rules and to make a schedule of races to be held during the coming season. The program for the first meeting includes a number of important considerations for the owners of motor boats.

It is believed the season will start with at least ten new motor boats on this side of the bay. Several Duluthians indicated the present week that they were thinking of ordering new boats.

Officers will be elected at the meeting scheduled for either this week or the first of next week. It is believed the organization will be formed under the auspices of the Duluth Boat club.

CHUCK O'CONNELL WRITES.

Little Duluth Fighter Matched to Fight Kid Jackson in Montana.

Chuck O'Connell, the little Duluth featherweight, who, has been in the West since the fight game closed up in the city last year, is matched to meet Kid Jackson, at Miles City, Mont., Feb. 17. The bout will be for twenty rounds and the boys will weigh in at 120 ringside.

Chuck also writes that Forsyth, Mont., has offered a purse of $400 for a battle between Potts and Ulrich. Chuck says he has seen the offer and happens to know that it is genuine.

The other night in Miles City Chuck went on in a preliminary with a fighter weighing, according to Chuck, 152 pounds. The little Duluth man had him backing up, again referring to Chuck's letter, when in his zeal and lust for victory he hit him low and lost the decision.

The little fellow writes that the game is going well in the West. Maurice Thompson beat the St. Paul Kid the other night, and is anxious to get on with Potts or Ulrich.

Chuck says two or three good words for Duluth, and also comes through with the information that Maurice Thompson is a former Duluth boy.

FEW PLAYERS SIGNED.

Cummings, Young and Neelon Only Old Men Signed for Coming Season.

Manager Kuehnow has received the signed contracts of "Cy" Young, Al Cummings and Smiling Pete Neelon. So far these players are the only ones to return their signed contracts for the coming season. No holdouts are expected in the local club, however.

No further word has been received from President Elliott and no definite information has been received as to the time of the league meeting. There has been no further information as to the probable new members of the league. Mankato and Red Wing, according to the papers around the league circuit, seem to have the strongest following.

MARKET IN A REACTION

Tuesday's Advance in Wheat Prices Is Not Maintained.

Options Slump Under Dull Trading---Flax Also Closes Lower.

Duluth Board of Trade, Feb. 9.—The wheat and flax markets closed lower today than yesterday. There was very little trading and the session was dull. May wheat opened at $1.11⅛, advanced to $1.11⅝, declined to $1.11⅛ and gained ¼c, then slumped sharply to $1.10⅞, closing at that price bid. July was $1.10⅞ nominal at the close. Offerings were made earlier in the session at $1.11⅜ and later at $1.10⅞.

May flax opened with bids at $2.16, sold at $2.17, lost ½c and declined to $2.15¾, gained ¼c and closed $2.15¾ bid. September was $1.68 bid. The decline toward the latter part of the session was accentuated by offerings presumably from people who had bought on the recent bulge.

The Northwestern markets at midday were strong compared with yesterday, but the market soon succumbed to the pressure of bearish influences. Short sales helped to force values lower.

The near option in American markets closed: Chicago, ½c off; Minneapolis, ⅜c off; New York, ⅜c off; Winnipeg, ¼c off; Kansas City, ¼c off; St. Louis, ⅜c off.

There was little news today to influence the market and it was dull with light trading, most of which was of an outside nature. The opening was weak but prices became firmer and then eased off. The buying movement which carried values upward yesterday was not in evidence today to any great extent. There is considerable wheat held by longs at Chicago while most of the professionals in the Northwest are on the short side, for the time being at least. There are a few chronic bulls who believe that their judgment will be confirmed on the long pull. Any unloading of the long holdings probably would cause a severe break in the market.

The cash demand was poor. Buyers held aloof from the market, especially the country mills. The city mills bought only moderately. Cash at Minneapolis was 1@2c over May for No. 1 northern and in Duluth cash equaled May. At Chicago the cash demand was negligible, very little spot wheat being sold. The flour demand is not breaking any records and some millers say it is poor even for this time of the year. The average of reports however, places the demand at slightly higher than is usual for this time of the year. There is little or no export business.

Southwestern millers are grinding considerable wheat. The shipments from Southwestern markets have been running in excess of receipts, and although the cash situation is easier in sympathy with other markets, yet the conditions that govern the cash market are much more favorable than in the Northwest. Recent heavy sales of wheat for export to Mexico help to strengthen the cash situation in the Southwest.

The foreign markets were somewhat spotty. Liverpool closed ½d higher to ¼d higher. Australia offerings were large and the Russian shipments were heavy and the outlook is for increased Russian exports. La Plata parcels were offered at an advance. Manitoba offerings were more liberal.

Stocks in the Northwest are increasing, although not as rapidly as last week. The increase at Minneapolis in the last four days has been 400,000 and at the Head of the Lakes 118,000 bu in three days. Receipts today were about four times the receipts on the corresponding day last year. Railroad service is seriously delayed and a storm which is now moving over the Northwest will aggravate the situation. The outlook is for continued heavy receipts.

The crop of weather reports from the West and Southwest came in with increasing volume today. The sentiment was considerably mixed. A wire from Columbus, Neb., said that the condition of wheat is good and about 10 per cent is marketed. The mills and elevators have full stocks and the movement is light. Great Bend, Kan., wired: "Twenty-five stations in the counties of Barton, Rush, Ness, Lane, Scott, Pawnee, Edwards, Hodgman and Ford show an average of 15 per cent of old wheat in farmers' hands; thirteen report condition of growing crop fair; ten report good; and two say is is too early to form an opinion. A wire from Kansas City said: "Bad damage reports from Oklahoma, Eastern Kansas and east of Missouri. Only 15 per cent of wheat in farmers' hands according to reports from nine of the best counties in the state." Springfield, Ill., sent the following: "Number of reliable farmers and elevator men in this vicinity report wheat badly damaged and in some places entirely killed where there is no snow covering."

A dispatch from Chicago said that the entire Ohio river valley is covered with snow, thus precluding crop damage for the present. Reports insist that there has been some damage in Missouri and Kansas by alternate freezing and thawing where the growing plant is uncovered and other news messages was optimistic in their tenor. One report said that the general condition of the plant is excellent, that moisture is plentiful and that the damage to the growing crop has not been above normal. Where the weather had been most severe there has been a thick snow covering except in isolated spots.

MARKET GOSSIP

A. W. Frick, vice president, and C. F. Macdonald, secretary of the Duluth Board of Trade returned this morning from a meeting of the council of the North American grain exchange at Chicago. Stephen H. Jones, president of the board, returned yesterday.

Practically all of the grain exchange of the United states are members of the association. The next meeting of the council will be held in September in New York city. The produce exchange will be the host.

Some traders are interested in the report of Herbert Knox Smith, commissioner of corporations who, in a report recently issued, declared that hedging is a necessary adjunct to trading. He denounced speculation in futures but said that trading in options of future months is necessary to the life of the grain trade. Legitimate hedging, he said, is a preventive of speculation.

A cable from India says that there has been little or no rain in the last week, but that the outlook for crops is still favorable. In the Punjab vermin has caused some damage.

The council of American grain exchanges will work against possible legislation by congress against dealing in futures. The object of the organization, which was tentatively formed last fall and which held its first regular meeting in Chicago this week, is, according to the constitution: "To increase the efficiency and extend the usefulness of exchanges trading in agricultural products; promote uniformity in customs and usages; facilitate the adjustment of business controversies and differences that may arise between members of the various exchanges; encourage wise and helpful legislation; enlighten the general public as to important services rendered by exchanges in handling agricultural products, and cultivate reciprocal relations between the trade of North America and other countries."

Farm reserves on oats are about 30 per cent of last year's crop in the leading producing states, as shown by 1,000 reports. Holdings in country elevators average from 6,000 to 22,000 bu in the various states.

Broomhall cabled—"At the start the wheat market was steady with values ¼@⅜d higher, being affected by the firmness in American cables yesterday and lighter Canadian offers. Following the opening the market developed a heavy undertone and prices declined ⅝@¾d with offerings larger and general dullness. Australian offers large with predictions of continued liberal shipments from Russia and larger shipments from Argentine again this week. Just before midday there was some covering and values gained ⅛@¼d on the decline. Cargoes in distant positions are offered at 1½@3d advance and La Plata shippers are inclined to an advance of 3d with no selling pressure.

Corn was steady at the start and ⅛d higher, being affected by the firmness in America yesterday. Later the market was neglected. Wheat cargoes arrived off coast 2, and awaiting orders 5. Wheat cargoes in distant positions, steady, sellers asking 1½@3d advance. Corn, quiet, unchanged. The Argentine future markets have been closed for two days, holiday."

Chicago wired—"Cash wheat dull with weak tone. One receiver has 4 cars Wisconsin winter wheat for which he bid $1.20 yesterday, best bid today, $1.15. General run of hard and No. 1 northern unchanged. Cash corn steady and weak to 1c lower. Large grade good, No. 1 ha ssold at 8½c under May. Cash oats steady to ¼c higher."

Bartlett-Patten wired—"The milling demand continues poor for wheat. If it were not for our small stocks and fear of manipulation our market would decline. We do not care to be long on wheat, but would advise great caution in getting short on any break. Some few complaints of the winter wheat coming from Kansas but we think without good reason so far. St. Louis reports wheat belt covered with snow through the Ohio valley, which cannot mean any damage at present. Stocks of corn in Chicago increased heavily this week. Demand is poor. We do not believe present prices can be maintained."

Kansas City wired—"A little snow at Wichita, Kans., none between there and Kansas City.

St. Louis wired—"Unfortunately for the crop killer, this section has a deep covering of snow."

Minneapolis received 34 cars of oats, 35 of flax and 53 of corn. Cash wheat in that market eased off toward the close and offerings of Minnesota No. 1 northern were made at ½c over May just before the close. Flour shipments were 66,127 bbls. Total wheat stocks amount to 5,319,968 bu.

The government's report will be issued at 2 o'clock March 8 showing the condition of corn, wheat and oats March 1.

Durum was ¼c off, rye was unchanged, oats and barley were the same as yesterday, oats closed ¼c off and high durum was 98¾c.

THE CHICAGO MARKET.

Light Offerings Make Wheat Firm and Prices Go Up.

Chicago, Feb. 9.—Light offerings gave firmness to the wheat market today. After prices opened unchanged to ¼c lower, a rally speedily followed that crowded figures up ¼@½c. May going from $1.10⅜ to $1.10¾@1.10⅞. In the first hour all the futures steadied close to the higher levels.

Small stocks were the principal bullish factor. May opened at $1.10⅜@.10⅝, unchanged to ¼c lower.

The market dragged later in the session, May going down to $1.10. The fluctuations were from ½@⅞c. The close was weak at nearly the low point of the day, with May at $1.10⅛, ½c lower than yesterday's final figures.

In the corn pit, firmness in wheat added strength to the trading which started steady to ¼c higher and in the first hour advanced from ¼ to ⅝c, then went up from 66⅛c to 66½c. Opening figures for May were 66⅛c, unchanged from yesterday's close.

Lower prices for cash corn were a drag on the market in the final half of the session. May fell off to 65¾@65⅞c. The close was weak at a trifle above the low points with May at 65⅞c, ¼c lower than the final figures yesterday.

Oats were firm at the start, initial prices being from ⅛c lower for September to a shade to ⅛c higher for the nearby months. Influenced by other grain, the market advanced in the first hour ⅛@¼c. May traveled from 46½c to 46¾c after opening at 46½c to 46c, a shade to ⅛@¼c higher.

Provisions opened steady to a trifle easier. A fair demand gave some firmness in the early trading, pork advancing 10c, the other products barely holding their own. Opening prices for the May were: Pork, $22.45; lard, $12.25; ribs, $11.87½@11.85.

THE MINNEAPOLIS MARKET.

Wheat Opens Lower and Easier Tone Governs Trading.

Minneapolis, Minn., Feb. 9.—As a result of foreign markets' refusing to respond to our advance in wheat, May opened today ¼c lower than yesterday's close. Liberal receipts tended to make the market easier. May fluctuated in the narrow range of ¾c from high to low and closed ¼c lower than the opening. There was some profit-taking on the advance. The market showed a stubborn tone. Local elevator stocks increased 400,000 bu for four days. Minneapolis received 419 cars, compared with 37 cars a year ago; Duluth, 51 cars, against 30, and Winnipeg 138 cars against 46 cars.

May opened $1.10¾; high, $1.11¼; low, $1.10½@1.10⅝; close, $1.10⅝. July opened $1.10⅝; high, $1.10⅞; low, $1.10⅛@1.10⅜; closed $1.10⅛@1.10⅜.

Cash wheat was a trifle easier today. Demand was good for only the choice arriving in cars that can be reloaded with flour for Eeastern shipment. No. 1 northern sold for ¾@2c above the May option and No. 2 northern for 1½c under to the even May. Closing prices on track: No. 1 northern, $1.10⅞@1.12⅛; to arrive, $1.10⅞@1.11⅝; No. 2 northern, $1.08⅞@1.10⅜; to arrive, $1.08⅞@1.09⅞. No. 2 wheat, $1.04⅞@1.09. No. 3 yellow corn, 57¾@58¾c. No. 3 white oats, 44½@44¾c. No. 2 rye, 74¾@75¾c.

Millstuffs—Shipments, 1,235 tons. There was no change in the situation. Demand continued good, shipments heavy and prices firm. Bran in 100-pound sacks, $23.00@23.50.

The flour market was steady today. One of the big mills reported large sales during the past two days, but this seemed to be the exception rather than the rule. Shipments continued heavy, demand fair and prices firm. Shipments, 66,127 bbl. First patents in wood f. o. b. Minneapolis, $5.40@5.60; second patents, $5.20@5.40; first clears, $4.35@4.45; second clears, $3.10@3.40.

Flax—Receipts, 55 cars; year ago, 2; shipments, 6. Demand was strong for both spot and to arrive at 1c above the Duluth May option. Closing price, $2.16½.

Barley—Receipts, 75 cars; year ago, 11; shipments, 51. The market was steady today. Demand was good for both feeding and malting grades. Prices were unchanged. Closing range, 58@65c.

New York Grain.

New York, Feb. 9.—Close: Wheat—May, $1.18; July, $1.08⅞; May corn, 75c; July, 75c.

Liverpool Grain.

Liverpool, Feb. 9.—Close: Wheat—Spot dull; No. 2 red western winter, no stock; futures steady; March, 8s 1¾d; May, 7s 11¾d; July, 7s 10¼d. Corn—Spot steady; new American mixed, 5s 6½d; do, old, 5s 8½d. Futures dull; March, 5s 6½d.

ADVANCES IN STOCKS

Congestion of Buying Orders Causes Violent Rise at Opening.

Market Holds Quite Steady and Closes Buoyant and Active.

New York, Feb. 9.—A congestion of buying orders caused violent advances at the opening of the stock market today. Great Northern preferred rose 2½, Chesapeake & Ohio 2⅜, Southern Pacific, Reading and American Smelting 2¼, Union Pacific, Rock Island and New York Central 2, United States Steel preferred 1⅝, Atchison and Consolidated Gas 1¾, and St. Paul, Denver & Rio Grande, Baltimore & Ohio, Interborough-Metropolitan preferred, Northern Pacific and Canadian Pacific 1¼@1½. There were 10,000 shares of United States Steel sold at 76½@76⅞, with following sales at 77, compared with 75¼ last night.

Realizing sales made only a slight impression on prices, and after an interval of quiet, the market again briskly started up, rising fractionally above the opening prices. Union Pacific gained 3 points, Chesapeake & Ohio 3½, and Great Northern Ore certificates 3¼.

There were fractional additions to the advance before profit-taking sales gained weight enough to carry prices backwards. Selling was not followed at the decline and the market came to a rest. Bonds were firm.

The market closed buoyant and very active. Heavy buying of the New York Central on the annual earnings statement started prices upwards again. Bears bought to cover on an enormous scale. New York Central was carried up 3 points, as were Southern Pacific, Atlantic Coast Line, United States Steel and Interborough Metropolitan preferred. Reading, Union Pacific and Amalgamated Copper gained 4, Westinghouse Electric 4⅝, Utah Copper 4¾, Corn Products preferred 4¾, and Anaconda 3¾, American Smelting 3⅞.

WEDNESDAY, FEB. 9, 1910.

BUTTE-ALEX SCOTT—Mine looking better than ever before. Big ledge of high grade ore opened up and some shipments are being made. Everybody knows that present price of shares is a big joke and any time that the crowd wants the price up a few dollars all they have to do is throw a little money into the market. The real market on the part paid is about $5, the other about $8.

ST. MARY'S—Should be picked up at present time for Minneapolis people are now having much to do with the market and a general buying movement may start any minute, the same as it did on Calumet & Montana.

CENTRAL VERMILION — Looks good and iron stocks are now attracting a lot of attention. We advise the purchase of all good issues on this slow market. Buy them when they are cheap and sell them when they are high.

The Cotton Market.

New York, Feb. 9.—Cotton opened steady at an advance of 6@15 points, a better response to cables showing of Liverpool being prevented at first by overnight selling orders, attributed to the influence of yesterday's break. As soon as this liquidation had been absorbed, however, the market firmed on bull support and Southern buying, with prices during the middle of the morning ruling about 11@20 points net higher around 14.94 for May. Business was quite active. Buyers were encouraged by larger spot sales in Liverpool and by a more general Southern demand, supposed to reflect interior spot conditions and early new crop prospects.

HE DROPPED 12,000 FEET

Duluth Man Tells of Exciting Aerial Journey in Germany.

Sun's Warmth Saved Occupants of Balloon From Violent Death.

A 12,000-foot drop from far above the clouds to the earth in a dirigible balloon, by the merest bit of good fortune escaping with life and limb, was the thrilling experience of Dr. John Jackola of this city, who has just returned from a year's absence in Germany.

It came about through an invitation, one of the cordial kind, and then a dare. A man will refuse an invitation when he will not accept a dare. When Dr. Jackola began to think over the invitation he informed his friend, Dr. Brinkmann, who has since lost his life and who was one of the most daring and reckless aviators in Europe, that perhaps when the time came, he would not make the trip.

It was here that the doctor dared Dr. Jackola to make the trip. It was the dare that proved the downfall of the Duluth doctor, and he accepted the invitation.

The ascent was made about 7 o'clock in the evening. The atmospheric conditions were almost ideal. The dirigible balloon rose like a peaceful dove, and the doctor began to think of all the pleasure he had missed in his life.

The next morning there were signs of a storm. It was here that the three men should have decided to come to earth. But they were all in the air, so to speak, and they refused to see the coming danger. Suddenly the sun blazed forth in all its reflected glory, expanding the gas bag of the big balloon and taking it up into the heavens at a terrific rate of speed.

All of the ballast had been thrown overboard, because of the fact that during the night the bag had contracted and was capable of carrying little weight. Here they were tearing heavenward at a greater speed than most men hope to ascend, and there was but little ballast in the car.

A consultation was held—there were two doctors—and it was a case where doctors agreed. It was decided to keep on ascending. Then the wind began suddenly to increase, and a dark cloud made its appearance. The balloon was 12,000 feet above the earth and still ascending. Then suddenly the sun was overcast, the air grew suddenly colder and the bag of the balloon began to contract.

Suddenly the balloon began to drop. "Throw out the ballast!" was the command Dr. Brinkmann shouted at Dr. Jackola. The doctor grabbed the sand bag and attempted to throw the contents overboard. The sand flew straight up into the air, making a rattle like shot on the big bag of the balloon.

The balloon with three men was dropping down to earth with such terrific rapidity that the sand flew straight up into the air, outdistanced by the swift drop of the car and its occupants.

Then came a realization of their plight. They were absolutely helpless to check the speed of the falling car. Wine bottles, cooking utensils, personal baggage, everything of any weight whatever, was thrown into the vortex of the swiftly rushing current of air, some of the heavier objects even being carried upward by the rush of air and the fact that the balloon was dropping at a terrific speed.

There seemed no hope. Dr. Brinkmann realized even better than the other two men the hopelessness of their position. Daring aviator of the air, that he was, he was also struck with the nearness of their probable destruction.

Then suddenly, as if fate relented, or had been playing some grim joke, the sun came out. Slowly but surely the gas in the bag began to expand with the heat and the dizzy speed of the dropping balloon was checked somewhat.

But the balloon was at this time very near the earth. Though the checking of the speed undoubtedly saved the lives of the three men, the car struck the ground with such terrific impact as to stun its occupants.

Dr. Jackola received a sprained knee and his foot was crushed under the car. He was black and blue all over his body from the shock of the fall. The other two men were injured and badly bruised.

Dr. Jackola says it was the appearance of the sun that saved their lives, for if the car had struck the earth even a little harder, they would have been killed, probably instantly.

Dr. Brinkmann won second prize in one of the James Gordon Bennett prize contests. He later crossed the Alps and was found dead near Trieste, not far from the Adriatic sea.

While in Berlin Dr. Jackola worked at the Royal surgical university, where he was an assistant at the university clinic. He was the assistant surgeon to Dr. Bier, who is making great progress with a new method of applying anaesthetics.

Instead of giving a patient anaesthetics, as is the practice in this country today, Dr. Jackola says the practice in Germany today is to apply anaesthesia locally. It is applied to the parts that are to be operated upon. It is used with success, according to Dr. Jackola in amputations, kidney operations, and in fact, in all operations. The parts to be operated upon are rendered senseless to pain but the brain of the patient is not deadened or rendered unconscious.

This new method does away with danger from chloroform poisoning, and also does away with the dangers in kidney operation, according to Dr. Jackola, where chloroform is especially to be avoided.

Dr. Jackola says that many of the operations of Germany are being made under the new process. From what he saw of the results while in the clinic at Berlin, he is inclined to believe in its efficiency.

MORE PERMANENT CURES OF ASTHMA

Success of the New Specific, Ascatco, Is Almost Beyond Belief.

Sufferers from asthma who expect to avail themselves of the new specific, ascatco—the success of which has been so remarkable—are reminded that the preliminary test treatment is sent free of charge to anyone who will write to the Austrian Laboratory, 32 West Twenty-fifth street, New York City. In December, Mrs. Mary Christopher, 371 Ontario street, Chicago, Ill., reported that the cure she experienced three years ago has been permanent and that she has not had a single attack of asthma since. Mr. M. J. Linders, 600 Lafayette avenue, Bridgeport, Conn., also reported his complete recovery from asthma after suffering twenty years. He says he could scarcely work a day when afflicted, but has not lost one day's work since the asthma left.

Actual experience bears out every claim made for ascatco, that it is a constitutional remedy which effectually rids the system of all traces of asthma. Taken in small seven-drop doses, twice daily, at home, it does not interfere with regular duties.

The genuine ascatco for the full treatment may now be procured here at the Lyceum Pharmacy and W. A. Abbett's in Duluth, the A. E. Holmberg Drug company in Superior and other leading drug stores, in both the 50 cent and $2 sizes.

OVERRUN BY THE REBELS

Province of Matagalpa Is Scene of Depredations By Both Armies.

Americans Are Heavy Losers Through Hostilities of the Nicaragua Forces.

Managua, Feb. 10.—Matagalpa province is overrun by revolutionists, who are moving toward Muymuy. This section is occupied largely by American-owned coffee plantations, which have been seriously damaged by the depredations of recruiting parties sent out by the government. The danger to American interests is doubled now that Gen. Chamorro's forces also are in the district.

Despite repeated protests made by American Consul Olivares, American plantations have been raided and left bare of laborers, who have been drafted into the government army. As a result the coffee crop is in danger of being a total loss. The property of the San Francisco Coffee company is at the mercy of the raiders.

The coffee plantation owners complain of the hostility of the local and military authorities in Matagalpa province, particularly of Gen. Porto Carrero, who, disregarding the orders of President Madriz and Minister General Baca, is subjecting the Americans daily to persecution. Fear for the safety of these Americans has been expressed by Consul Olivares to Madriz, and the latter has promised them protection.

ROBBERS WORK AS POLICE SCRAP

St. Louis Has Had Over Seven Hundred Robberies in Three Weeks.

St. Louis, Mo., Feb. 10.—While the police department has been busy for the last three weeks investigating itself because of a shortage of between $17,500 and $25,000 in the Relief association funds, criminals have been having a merry time, for the twenty-one days ending last night 728 robberies have been entered on the police records. Included in the list of crimes for the period are 149 burglaries, 485 robberies by sneak thieves and 23 highway robberies.

The examination of the books of the Relief fund is not yet complete. Discovery of several promissory notes for large amounts and signed with the names of men high in the department has placed these men on the defensive. They declare that the signatures are forgeries.

John Healy, secretary of the Relief fund, is under $10,000 bonds to answer Feb. 23 any charge that may be made against him.

TEN MEN GO BACK TO WORK IN FARGO

Ranks of Striking Switchmen Are Broken---More May Give Up Fight.

Fargo, N. D., Feb. 10.—(Special to The Herald.) The first break in the ranks of the striking switchmen at this point has occurred, and ten men are back at work. They reported voluntarily at the office of the superintendent and all were assigned to positions. Forty-two men had gone out at this point. It is expected that at least a dozen more will apply for reinstatement.

The break was unexpected by both sides, and the leaders of the switchmen feel confident there will be no further disintegration. They claim the men who returned to their jobs were originally opposed to calling a strike. It is claimed there have been no other men in this territory returning to work.

Arbitration Looked For.

Chicago, Feb. 10.—A conference of the railroad managers committee and representatives of the Switchmen's union of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen was held today, but no decision was reached. It is said that the conference may continue for several days and that the entire case will be reviewed.

The railroads have refused a wage increase to the switchmen of eighteen Chicago railroads. The men, by an overwhelming majority, have voted to strike. The railroads have offered arbitration and it is generally believed that will be the outcome.

MAY BE CLEARED BY NAVY COURT-MARTIAL

DR. A. H. ROBNETT.

Washington, Feb. 10.—It is expected that Assistant Secretary Winthrop will dispose promptly of the court-martial cases of Paymaster George P. Auld and Surgeon Ansey H. Robnett, recently tried at the Charlestown navy yard, Boston, on charges of conduct unbecoming officers and gentlemen. In the case of Paymaster Auld nothing more than a severe reprimand is looked for. It is not believed that the court has found Surgeon Robnett guilty. Dr. Robnett's fiancee, Miss Dorothy Hecler of Evanston, Ill., testified in his behalf at his trial.

NO DOCTOR FOR SICK CHILDREN

Colorado Agent Makes Parents Admit One After Three Deaths Occur.

La Junta, Colo., Feb. 10.—Charging that the death of three children was due to the refusal of the parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. B. Messenger, to obtain medical aid, C. L. Selley, representative of the board of child and animal protection, has taken legal steps to overcome the religious beliefs of the parents. As a result, he has secured the installation of a physician and nurse in the Messenger home, where two other children are seriously ill. A sixth child is said to be just recovering from a long sickness. Three died of diphtheria.

DEAD MAN PLAYS JOKE ON HEIRS

They Open Box Sixty-Five Years Too Soon, But Find No Treasure.

Memphis, Tenn., Feb. 10.—Instead of the contemplated treasure, the heirs of the late Karl Joseph Specht found only papers of a personal and historical nature, when they forced open a wooden casket deposited by Specht a quarter of a century ago.

And the opening of the casket was premature, it developed, the instructions found within the box, which was encased in lead, indicating that the casket should not have been opened until 1979, instead of yesterday. After the family documents were distributed the box was resealed and redeposited to remain intact until sixty-five years hence.

KEEPS AFTER STORAGE MEN

New Jersey Prosecutor Is Confident He Can Get Indictments.

Federal Report Shows Less Livestock Handled in the Last Year.

New York, Feb. 10.—Spurred on by Judge Swayhee's charge that a combination to store food stuffs for the purpose of advancing the price is an overt act, the Hudson county grand jury today continued its investigation of the big cold storage warehouses of Jersey City. In view of the court's dictum that any combination to raise prices is a conspiracy, Prosecutor Garven counts on securing indictments that he believes will check the alleged cold storage system whereby high prices are maintained in season and out.

Agitation Simmers Down.

Agitation in New York city against high meat prices has simmered down until the only remedy now in view locally is the cold storage regulation ordinance before the board of aldermen. No action on this measure is probable for a week at least. Meat prices at Lent's beginning remain about stationary, but eggs and butter are showing a disposition to decline. This is believed to be due to seasonal reasons and not to the agitation for lower prices, which seems to have been considered ineffective in the forms it had taken during the last few weeks, and to have been largely abandoned.

Less Livestock Sold.

Washington, Feb. 10.—One contributing cause to the high price of meat, according to a report of the department of commerce and labor, issued today, is the fact that livestock re-

WHITE FLOUR PUT ON TRIAL

Kansas Millers' Case Is Resumed in Court at New Orleans.

New Orleans, La., Feb. 10.—Involving the facts as to the color of flour, the case of the United States against the Aetna Mills & Elevator company of Wellington, Kan., was resumed today in the United States district court here. This morning's proceedings marked the actual opening of the trial, which will determine for the first time the right of millers to employ processes for the bleaching of flour.

Officials of the pure food department claim that a desirable character of whiteness in flour has been attained in many instances by an unwholesome chemical treatment. Many millers contend that certain bleaching processes are in no way deleterious to the health of the consumers.

If the government should win, it is pointed out, white flour will become a thing of the past and will give way to a product of yellow or golden color,

COMMANDER IN THE SPANISH WAR DIES

CAPT. ALEXANDER SHARP.

NAVY LOSES COMMANDER

Capt. Alexander Sharp Dies of Typhoid Fever at Washington.

Had Made Fine Record in the Battle of Santiago in 1898.

Washington, Feb. 10.—Capt. Alexander Sharp, president of the navy inspection board and recently commander of the battleship Virginia, died today at the naval hospital in this city from typhoid fever. He was born in White Haven, Mo., in 1855.

With the death of Capt. Sharp passed one of the gallant commanders of the American vessels during the famous battle of July 3, 1908, otherwise known as the Battle of Santiago, which resulted in the destruction of Cervera's fleet.

When Theodore Roosevelt was assistant secretary of the navy, Capt. Sharp, then a lieutenant commander, was his naval aide and was of the greatest assistance in advising his chief in the days of the intense strain and preparation preceding the war with Spain.

Commanded the Vixen.

Upon Mr. Roosevelt's resignation to become lieutenant colonel of the Rough Riders, his young naval aide pleaded for active service at sea and finally managed to obtain command of one of the converted yachts, rechristened the Vixen. The little vessel did splendid service during the blockade on the

SIXTY-FOUR ARE ACCUSED

Big Wyoming Coal Land Fraud Case Is Being Investigated.

Government Seeks to Cancel Titles to Thousands of Acres.

Lander, Wyo., Feb. 10.—Sixty-four defendants in alleged coal land frauds against the government appeared today at the United States land office in this city, in cases brought by the government for the cancellation of titles to coal lands said to be the most valuable in Wyoming.

The cases involve 9,500 acres in the mineral district north of Lander and appraised by government experts at nearly $1,500,000.

The government alleges that these lands were filed upon by "dummy" entrymen for the benefit of the Ow Creek Coal company and the Northwestern Coal company, which are controlled largely by New York capitalists. The two companies are reported to be associated with the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy railroad. The cases are commonly known as the "Gebo coal-land fraud cases," as Samuel W. Gebo, George W. Dally, Rufus P. Ireland and others are alleged to have been instrumental in obtaining the titles to the lands involved.

Investigated for Years.

The cases have been under investigation by federal land agents for three years. An injunction suit was brought

ANTI-CLERICAL IS SPANISH PREMIER

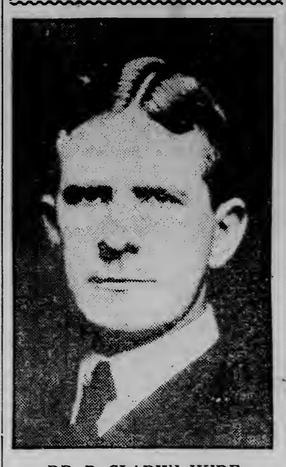

King is Believed to Have Outwitted Intriguers Among Conservatives.

Madrid, Feb. 10.—The assumption of the premiership by Jose Canalejas y Mendes, the Radical and Anti-Clerical, has caused great surprise among the reactionaries, who had assumed that when Moret fell, King Alfonso would institute a more moderate rather than a more radical regime. The impression prevails that the king has outwitted the intriguers by boldly confiding the government to Canalejas for the purpose of giving to the country a clear idea of his sincerity in the role of a constitutional sovereign.

The revision of the concordat of 1851 and the reduction in the number of religious orders will be a feature, it is expected of the new cabinet policy.

The Manana, a Social-Liberal organ, says that the imperious necessities of the times brought Canalejas to power. The El Paiss, Republican, expresses great gratification at the advent of a man with advanced views, but fears that the new premier will not be given sufficient latitude and that he will retire within the year to be succeeded by Antonio Maura, the leader of the Conservatives and former premier, who was displaced by Moret.

ALLEGED POISONER IS NOT UNDER ARREST

DR. B. CLARKE HYDE.

MRS. HYDE.

Kansas City, Mo., Feb. 10.—No arrests in the Swope case, following yesterday's verdict of the coroner's jury, are expected today. The jury found that Col. Swope, the millionaire, died as a result of strychnine given him by Dr. Hyde, but the verdict did not charge felonious intent.

A grand jury will be asked to take up the case and a warrant will not be sworn out probably until that body has made recommendations.

Dr. Hyde was physician to the Swope family, and his wife was one of the heirs to the fortune which was left by the several members of the Swope family who died in quick succession.

BIG BEEF PROBE IS NOT ENDED

Grand Jury in Chicago Continues to Call on Packers' Men.

Chicago, Feb. 10.—There will be no return of indictments in the federal grand jury's investigation into the methods of the "beef trust" until the entire probe is finished. So the government officials said today. The gathering of evidence concerning the relation of the National Packing company to the New York Butchers' Dressed Beef association is apparently unfinished as local witnesses were again called into the jury room today.

It is said the jury has decided upon its action in the Eastern angle of the case.

A department manager of Swift & Co., and the head of the accounting department and two clerks of Armour & Co., were subpoenaed today.

HALF MILLION A YEAR TO BUILD EMBASSIES.

Washington, Feb. 10.—The house committee on foreign affairs has decided to report favorably the Lowden bill providing for the expenditure annually of a sum not exceeding $500,000 for the erection of American embassies abroad.

Stockholm, Feb. 10.—The riksdag today appointed M. Norstroem and M. Soeverlund, members of the city council, as representatives of Sweden at the hygiene congress to be held in Washington.

CALL PLATT AS WITNESS

Both Sides in the New York Senate Bribery Case Want His Testimony.

Moe's Record at Groton Is Said to Be Under Investigation.

Albany, N. Y., Feb. 10.—That Former United States Senator Thomas C. Platt has been subpoenaed as a witness was declared today by counsel for both sides in the Allds bribery case, now being investigated by the New York state senate. They declare that a deposition by him will not be regarded as sufficient.

Hiram G. Moe's ordeal was not over when the investigation continued today. Moe is the man who says he carried $6,000 from Frank Conger, vice president of the American Bridge company and distributed it among three legislative leaders here, including Jotham P. Allds, now president pro tem of the senate. Mystery as to the identity of the other two legislators is a feature of the investigation, which the senate is conducting as a committee of the whole.

UNION MEN ARE FINED $500 E

Three Chicagoans Sentenced for Conspiracy to Do an Illegal Act.

Chicago, Feb. 10.—Martin B. Madden, former president of the building trades council; M. J. Boyle, an official of the electrical workers' union, and Fred Pouchot, former business agent of the metal workers' union, were sentenced to pay a fine of $500 each today, following their conviction on May 29 of conspiracy to do an illegal act. A motion for a new trial was overruled.

STRIKE VOTE MAY TAKE TWO WEEKS

Building Trades Men Go Slow on Proposal to Quit Work.

New York, Feb. 10.—Building trades workmen are making haste slowly in deciding whether to call a strike that will halt the extensive construction programme mapped out for this city the coming season. Voting on the question of striking in sympathy with the striking steamfitters went on today, but leaders of the building trades unions said that it probably would be two weeks before the balloting was completed.

Employers declare that a hostile move by any of the labor organizations will be followed by a lockout.

About 150,000 men will be involved if a building trades war breaks out.

CASTRO'S NAME CONJURES UP OLD REBEL SPIRIT OF LATIN RACES

Washington, Feb. 10.—The little coteries of South and Central Americans in Washington—the small nightly gatherings of the junior Latin-Americans, to whom the merc hit of revolution is as breath in the nostrils—has been thrown into a state of violent agitation by the news of Castro's arrival in the Canaries. Some of them compare his movements with those of Napoleon on his return from Elba and predict a general uprising of the Venezuelans to welcome the ex-ruler.

But the older men, better acquainted with conditions in Venezuela, smile incredulously and with a shrug of their shoulders predict disappointment and defeat for the old dictator if he cherishes the idea of overturning the present government in Venezuela and establishing himself again as the head of the state.

His Finances Are Low.

The reasons for this belief were set out by one of the South Americans briefly as follows:

Castro's finances are at a low ebb. It is true that he has large properties in Venezuela, but these are heavily encumbered and it is certain that the existing government of the county incumbered and it is certain that upon them by passing title to a would-be purchaser.

Then, he must find a base of operation for the organization of a revolution, the Canaries being entirely too distant for that purpose. The existing governments would not permit him to use places nearer home.

The Venezuelan congress recently elected will meet at Caracas in April to elect a permanent president. There is no doubt that, if his health permits, Gen. Gomez, now provisional president, will be the man chosen.

PRINCETON MAY LOSE GIFT OF $500,000 THROUGH DISSENSIONS

Princeton, N. J., Feb. 10—Determined to bring about harmony in the relations among the several parties at odds, the trustees of Princeton university met in special session today to take up the questions of site and administration of the graduate college, which have been a matter of controversy for some time. Rumors of resignations continue.

First inkling of the dispute was given in President Wilson's report to the board of trustees on Jan. 13. After mentioning the fact that a $500,000 gift had been received last May from William Cooper Procter, '83, of Cincinnati, with the proviso that an equal amount be raised by May 1, 1910, and that the "Prospect" site be abandoned and a site satisfactory to the donor be chosen, the report presented certain difficulties which have arisen in attempting to use that money and the bequest of Mrs. Josephine Thomson Swann, which now amounts to $330,000. The difficulties are:

First, Mrs. Swann's will directs that the building for which her bequest was meant shall be erected "upon the grounds of the said university."

Terms Are Just Opposite.

Second, Mr. Proctor contributed his gift for the purpose of providing a place of graduate residence, which shall be set apart exclusively for graduate students, while Mrs. Swann's will explicitely directs that the rooms in the John R. Thompson graduate college are to be rented "at the best prices they will command" to graduates, seniors and junior students of the university. President Wilson doubts whether any building set apart for the exclusive occupancy of graduate students should be administered upon an income-bearing basis.

A special committee of five was appointed on Jan. 13 by the board of trustees to consult further with Mr. Proctor and secure an adjustment of the difficulties, but in the meantime he withdrew his gift.

It was on reading the book prepared by Dean Andrew F. West of the graduate school, who is opposed to placing a graduate college on the campus and believes in a segregation of graduate students, that Mr. Proctor, his life-long friend, volunteered the gift.

Factions in the board of trustees and the alumni therefore arose, supporting President Wilson and Dean West respectively.

TELEPHONE FROM AUTOS

Some Duluth Machines May Be Equipped With Wireless Instruments.

Old Excuse of "Car Broke Down" Won't Work Hereafter.

"Have you a telephone in your automobile, and may I use it?"

Don't be surprised if that question is asked this summer, when you stop your auto in some out-of-the-way place. A man with the wireless telephone is in town, and he says in the East it is very common for autos to be fitted with telephones.

Charles A. Blanchard is the man who will do the demonstrating in this city. He is making arrangements at the present time to show to those interested here just what the wireless telephone can do.

But if the wireless is installed in a number of Duluth automobiles, what will happen to the excuse about the machine breaking down? That was one of the very best of the time-honored excuses, when one was late, very late, and couldn't think of any more original excuse than the old one about the machine getting stalled.

Mr. Blanchard says experiments have proved that a wireless telephone message can be carried 1,000 miles. He also states that the use of the wireless is quite common in the East. He says it is used by railways, commercial houses, and, in fact, by nearly every industry that at present finds use for the telephone that communicates its message by wire.

A series of public exhibitions of the powers of the new telephone will be given here as soon as Mr. Blanchard can make the necessary arrangements.

Under the system of the wireless, Mr. Blanchard says it will be quite impossible for your neighbor to hang over the receiver of the party line and tell a lot of things about "that horrid so and so woman," the next day.

Mr. Blanchard is registered at the Lenox and will remain in the city until after the demonstrations of the instrument are given.

BELLE OF SOUTH SIDE

Defendant in Suit Brought By Duluth Woman Famed for Beauty.

Lawyers Refuse to Talk of the Charges in the Case.

The suit of Mrs. Josephine Ash of Duluth against Miss Margaret White of Chicago in the Cook county district court, for $25,000 for alienation of the affections of Mrs. Ash's husband, Charles R. Ash, is attracting considerable attention, both here and in Chicago, where the parties are known. It is said that Mrs. Ash has gone to Chicago, but the action is not expected to come on for trial for some time. Oliver S. Andresen, who is acting as attorney for Mrs. Ash, says his position in the matter is such that he cannot give out any of the detailed facts or allegations.

The Chicago Inter-Ocean has the following in regard to the case:

"Miss Margaret White, well known South Side beauty and daughter of William F. White, a wealthy real estate dealer with offices in the Marquette building, yesterday was made defendant in a suit for $25,000 damages for alleged alienation of affections, filed by Mrs. Josepaine Ash of Duluth, Minn., wife of Charles R. Ash, wealthy lumberman and landowner.

Sensational Charges.

"Few facts in connection with the suit were made known by Attorney C. E. Beerly, who filed the bill on behalf of Attorney Oliver S. Andresen, a Duluta lawyer. It is said that the charges are sensational and involve meetings in New Orleans and other Southern cities.

"At the White residence, 4310 Oakenwald boulevard, yesterday the place was darkened. The family kept in seclusion and refused to see visitors. Friends of the South Side girl refused to affirm or deny the charges.

"According to Attorney Beerly, the case is one of a pretty and vivacious girl whose attractions proved greater than those of the wife of the lumberman.

"The lumberman sold out a large part of his interests in Duluth two years ago, receiving more than $100,000," said Attorney Beerly. "He went to New Orleans then and met Miss White. He told Mrs. Ash that he would send for her and their four children in a short time, but has never done so. While Ash was in the South he met Miss White frequently. They were seen together in New Orleans on numerous occasions.

"The attorney said that Mrs. Ash is at present in Duluth with her children. They have been living there since the lumberman is said to have deserted them three years ago.

Was in Limelight Before.

"Miss White for several years has been a reigning beauty on the South side. So marked are her attractions that five years ago, when she made trips to the spas at Carlsbad and Ostend, she was honored by nobility. Miss White is a stately woman, of decided athletic build, and has gained some fame as a golf and tennis player and swimmer.

"In 1904 she gained some notoriety through her declaration that she was engaged to marry Jake Weimer, former star pitcher on the Cub ball team and now owned by the New York Giants.

"Three days after Miss White's declaration that she was engaged to the ball player he was married to Miss Laura Trumbull, daughter of George T. Trumbull, a wealthy Chicago man. The marriage took place on Sept. 14, 1904.

"Weimer and his wife lived together only three days. The wife discovered that he had been divorced from his first wife, a daughter of J. H. Utterback, a Des Moines, Iowa, banker. The second wife is a Catholic, and as divorces are not sanctioned by the church, she left him."

DIVORCE IS DENOUNCED

Father Corbett Says Evil Is Shaking Foundations of the Country.

"The civil law is responsible for the inundation of this country by corruption and immorality," said Rev. T. J. Corbett, pastor of Sacred Heart cathedral, in his sermon on "Marriage and Divorce," at the first of the Lenten devotions in the cathedral last night. "The civil law is responsible for the evil that is shaking the foundations of the nation. It is responsible for the breaking up of homes, the separation of children. Why, it is getting so now that young men and young women hardly know who their parents are.

"You young woman and you girl, you would be slaves, serfs, whims of man, if the Catholic church did not stand behind you. The Catholic church lost England because it stood behind one woman and her marriage rights. It would do the same again, for its rule in regard to marriage is a rule that has no exceptions. 'What God has joined together, let no man put asunder,' is Scripture and the Catholic church cannot change it. There is but one agent that can dissolve the marriage bonds. That is death."

Father Corbett dwelt at length on the sacred nature of the marriage contract and the duties it imposes. He explained the laws of the church on matrimony and the changes that became effective last Easter.

PRISONERS ACCUSE SHERIFF OF GRAFT.

Hurley, Wis., Feb. 10.—(Special to The Herald.)—A sensation has been sprung here in the shape of ugly charges against Sheriff Walters and a committee that investigated them demanded the sheriffs immediate removal.

Two prisoners, who were charged with a felony, pleaded guilty and were given a fine, which they paid. They now make affidavit that they had paid the sheriff $200 for his fees for conveying them to Waupun and for their board as a consideration of his getting them released.

THREATENED VETO HAS AROUSED BITTER PROTEST

Business Men Strongly Urge Mayor Haven to Sign Railroad Franchise.

Claim Veto Would Cause the Road to Abandon Its Plans.

Tremendous pressure is being brought to bear upon Mayor Roland D. Haven to induce him to sign the Canadian Northern franchise, granting the road permission to come into the city over the route surveyed through West Duluth.

The most prominent men in the city are writing or calling upon the city's chief executive to protest against his vetoing the ordinance passed last Monday night. The business interests are crying out against a threatened action which they declare will work much harm to Duluth.

They seem to be absolutely satisfied that if the Canadian Northern doesn't get the franchise substantially as it now is, the road will either go to Superior or not come at all. They say that should it be forced to condemn its way into Duluth it will set a precedent which will be bad, particularly when other roads want to enter the city.

The mayor is having it pointed out to him strongly that if the road accepts the franchise it is granting all that it can reasonably be asked to concede. The assessment clause is emphasized, as it was in the Wisconsin Central and the Soo cases. The franchise also terms the Oneota street bridge, under which the road will pass, a viaduct. This makes it necessary for the road to stand all the expense of replacing it and keeping it in condition. The present bridge is about worn out and would have to be rebuilt in a few years. Steel and stone or concrete must be used in making all street crossings between Fifty-ninth avenue and Grand avenue. In exchange for the three acres of park property taken in crossing Fairmont park the franchise provides that the railroad shall give the city ten acres in the same vicinity. Terminals, roundhouses and machine shops are also called for under the franchise passed by the council last Monday night. The use of the Zenith 'phone the owners of which pay a gross earnings tax to the city, is made mandatory. All other roads coming into Duluth over the Canadian Northern tracks are bound to accept the same terms as the Canadian Northern. The city is also well protected as to damage suits and the delay of traffic or the obstruction of the streets. The time limit is three years. Later, it is said, the road will extend its line to Chicago from Duluth, giving Duluth a third line direct to the big Windy City.

The statement is emphasized that the mayor should not allow the protests of a faction in West Duluth to interfere with the best interests of the entire city. A large part of West Duluth also says that it is not opposed to the entrance of the road over the surveyed route and that the franchise should be allowed to go through as it now is. The West Duluthians, who are protesting, say that they want the road to come in, but that they believe another route could be selected which would do less damage. One of the delegates, who called on Mayor Haven yesterday, said that if he were satisfied that the route in question were the only practicable one, he would do all in his power to facilitate its entrance.

Sentiment among the aldermen favors the franchise. A number of them were at the city hall yesterday before starting on the inspection trip to the new contagious hospital. They did not appear disposed to talk freely of the matter, but some of them believed that should Mayor Haven veto the franchise, the council would pass it over his veto. This would require eleven votes and the franchise got thirteen votes last Monday night. Both West Duluth aldermen voted against the franchise.

The mayor had no statement to make on the subject this morning. He has received the franchise, but wants to consider the matter. However, he does not appear to be so strongly in favor of vetoing it as he was Tuesday, when the announcement was made in The Herald that his intentions were to veto the franchise. The correctness of the assertion is evidenced by the numerous delegations, which have been calling upon him to induce him to change his mind and by the careful attention he is giving to their presentation of the case. The mayor wants to be "shown." That is the position he has taken, and what his action will be seems to be as unknown to him as to the rest of the city.

MANY EMIGRATE ACROSS BORDER

American Farmers Are Numerous in the Canadian Northwest.

J. J. Hoar of Moline, Ill., a guest of the Lenox, representing a large farm implement house of Moline, is en route to Winnipeg, where his firm has received a large contract for plows for Canadian trade.

Mr. Hoar says the present season will be the biggest in the history of Canadian immigration, and that in addition to the large number of people who will come from Europe, there will be a large number of farmers who will leave their farms in this country and go to Canada.

To substantiate his statement regarding the heavy influx of farmers to Canada, Mr. Hoar points to the increased orders for American farm machinery. He says special trains of American machinery have gone to Winnipeg to be distributed throughout the Western wheat growing provinces, and that many train loads of American machinery will be sent across the line.

Mr. Hoar states that the land of Western Canada is being taken up by the best class of farmers at an amazing rate, and that the time limit of low prices for Canadian land is nearing the end.

A SURPLUS NEXT YEAR

Power Company's Report Shows a Deficit for the Year 1909.

Company Can Double Its Business With No Further Expenditures.

The property of the Great Northern Power company, which operates the big hydro-electric plant at Thomson and furnishes power for the traction and electric light companies of Duluth and Superior and for numerous other enterprises, is valued at $7,835,164.08, according to the annual report filed with City Comptroller W. S. McCormick yesterday.

The gross earnings of the company last year amounted to $337,928.99, while the expenses were $387,654.32, the year's operations, showing a deficit of $49,725.33.

Better things are looked for this year, however.

The company is now selling 22,000 horse power, regularly, which is a little more than half of the capacity of the plant as it stands. The permanent improvements at the plant, such as dam, etc., were made for developing a capacity of 100,000 horse power. The rated installation of equipment is 30,000 horse power, capable of carrying 40,000 horse power, connected load. Thus, with no further expenditures for equipment, the company will be able to almost double the amount of business it is doing at present, and with only the expenditure of the cost of equipment, the full capacity of 100,000 horse power may be developed with the improvements already made.

The report is looked upon by those interested in the plant as an excellent one, considering the length of time the plant has been in operation and they are certain that the next annual report will show a surplus.

MEET DEATH IN FLAMES

Two Indian Children Are Burned Before Their Mother's Eyes.

Before the eyes of their grief-stricken mother, two Indian children, a 5-year-old girl and a 6-month-old infant boy were burned to death yesterday, when a small tar paper cabin, a half mile from Gordon, Wis., occupied by the family of Frank Naud, was destroyed by fire.

The bodies of the children are burned almost beyond recognition. Today they were taken to Gordon, and they will be sent to Solon Springs, the former residence of the Naud family. The children will be buried together in the Indian cemetery near Solon Springs tomorrow afternoon.

The mother of the children had left them in the cabin for a few minutes while she stepped over to a neighbor's place a rod or so distant. While she and Mrs. Joseph Bell, her neighbor, were holding a conversation, she heard the cries of the imprisoned children.

Rushing to the cabin she found that it was afire. As yet the flames had not secured the upper hand, but it was too hot for the woman to gain an entrance into the burning shack. Time and time again she was forced back by the flames.

The little girl was too frightened to leave the burning building or had become suffocated by the smoke. Marshall Arcenault of Gordon noticed the fire and fearing something might be wrong hastened at once to the scene.

He found the frantic mother desperately fighting to get her children out of the building. Grabbing an ax he tore off one side of the small cabin. But he was a few minutes too late for it revealed only their charred corpses.

Naud went to Gordon a few months ago to work for Joseph Bell, a lumberman of Chippewa Falls, Wis. His home is at Solon Springs. The only surviving child is attending an Indian school at Ashland.

The case of Emery Van Hove, a South end man arrested for the alleged purchase of game, was continued for a week, when it came up yesterday.

Only Two Days Left.

Monday the police officials will start on their annual roundup of those who have not yet paid the required taxes. Providing payment is not forthcoming, personal property may be siezed by the officer to satisfy the amount demanded.

OFFERS PRIZE TO STUDENTS

West Duluth Pupils Will Compete for Wallace Oratorical Trophy.

Considerable interest is being manifested at the Duluth Industrial high school at West Duluth over the proposed oratorical or declamatory contest for a silver trophy cup that Dr. C. J. Wallace of Superior has offered to the students of the high schools at the Head of the Lakes.

The trophy is a handsome one and has just been ordered from the Eastern silversmiths and is expected to arrive some time next month. Although no rules have been adopted by the schools which will compete for the prize, a number have been proposed by Dr. Wallace, the donor of the trophy.

Four schools would be represented, Irving Industrial at West Duluth, Central high school of Duluth, and the Bialne and Nelson-Dewey high schools of Superior. Each school would have a team composed of a declaimer and an orator, making a total of eight speakers, the contest to be held annually alternating between Duluth and Superior.

Dr. Wallace suggests that the cup be competed for for ten years, the team making the greatest number of points at each contest holding it for the school year. The school whose team has won it the greatest number of times will come into permanent possession of it at the end of the period.

At a recent conference of the principals of the four schools Supt. Benfeld of the Duluth schools and Supt. Maddock of the Superior schools, the suggestions of Dr. Wallace were favorably considered. It will, however, require two or three more conferences to decide upon a definite set of rules for the affair.

At the West Duluth school a preliminary contest may be held in April to choose representatives for the annual contest, which will probably be held late in the semester.

WILL BE HEARD IN ST. PAUL FIRST

Symphonic Fantasy By Schilling Is to Be Played There Tuesday.

St. Paul, Minn., Feb. 10.—(Special to The Herald.)—St. Paul will have a real first night next Tuesday evening at the Auditorium, when Conductor Rothwell will present to his audience a new work which never has been heard on the Western continent before. It will be the symphonic fantasy "Meer Cruss" (Thaletta) by Max Schilling, and will take the place of the usual symphony concert of the evening. The new work is a great favorite in Europe.

The symphonic fantasy is written in one movement of wonderful charm and power. Dr. Schilling is head director of music in the Royal opera at Stuttgart. He was the friend and teacher of Conductor Rothwell for several years.

When Mr. Rothwell was abroad last summer he spent a few days with Dr. Schilling at his villa near Stuttgart. Schilling presented a score to Mr. Rothwell, who was so impressed with it that he wired to Leipsic for the orchestration. He brought it to America for use in St. Paul without saying anything about it. About ten days ago he distributed the orchestration to his men and rehearsals began.

Several Eastern critics are coming to St. Paul to hear the performance.

Two Men Trying to Save a Drunk From Freezing Are Accused of Robbing Him.

Aurora, Minn., Feb. 10.—(Special to The Herald.)—John Hill, a Finlander, swore out warrants against four Austrians Tuesday, charging them with assault

At the trial Hill swore that he was lying along side the road near Stephens, partly under the influence of liquor and that the Austrians tried to rob him. The accused produced evidence that they were only trying to assist Hill to his feet so that he would not freeze to death and that Hill fired four shots at them from a revolver. The case was dismissed for lack of evidence.

Joe Slaiba was arrested charged with being drunk and disorderly, masquerading in woman's clothing and resisting an officer. He was fined $10 and costs.

RUNAWAY YOUTHS TAKEN IN BUTTE

Virginia Boys Who Left Homes Are Returned From Western City.

Virginia, Minn., Feb. 10.—(Special to The Herald.)—The two young lads, John Sisel and Bruno Johnson, who ran away from home a few weeks ago, have returned, having been apprehended at Butte, Mont., by the chief of police of that city. On the way to Butte the boys had a varied experience, beating their way at times on freight trains, part of the way walking and stopping at farm houses whenever night overtook them, and seemed to enjoy the trip immensely. They rode into Butte on a freight train and no sooner had they landed than they were taken in custody by the police, who had previously received a description of the boys and were on the lookout for them. The boys when they left here had something like $25 between them and through careful financing still had a little change left when they reached Butte. However, their enthusiasm to enter the lists of the wild and woolly West riders have somewhat abated, and the boys say they are now perfectly satisfied to remain at home with the "old folks."

SALOON MEN WILL ENFORCE THE LAW

Grand Rapids Liquor Dispensors Form a Protective Association.

Grand Rapids, Minn., Feb. 10.—The saloon keepers of Grand Rapids have organized an association. Officers were elected and a set of bylaws adopted. The general object of the association is to promote the welfare of the liquor dealers of this and other villages, and see to it that the state closing law is strictly adhered to.

One of the rules of the association requires that all of the liquor dealers of Grand Rapids be notified to pay strict attention to and observe the state closing law, and that if any one is caught violating it, the matter will be taken before the village council by the association, which will ask for an immediate revocation of the license of the offender.

There has been much talk since the closing of the saloons at Deer River, about some of the neighboring towns having to close up, and it has been freely intimated that Grand Rapids is the next town to be placed on the "dry list." As the result of the talk, the local saloonists are taking every precaution and some of the duskier looking strangers sometimes have a little trouble getting drinks about town.

It will require seven or eight years to do the stripping of the Buffalo & Susquehanna property and it is probable that more land will be added within the next few years to the eighty acres now owned by the company.

The Winston-Dear company will at once secure a standard gauge outfit, including four new standard steam shovels and eight or nine 90-ton locomotives. Camps will be constructed at once. It is expected that actual operations on the stripping contract will begin in a few months.

HOT ON TRAIL OF TELEPHONE TRUST

Independents May Call J. P. Morgan as Witness in the Hearing.

New York, Feb. 10.—The galaxy of lawyers from Cleveland, Toledo, Indianapolis, St. Louis and other cities who are here in the interests of the minority stockholders of the United States Telephone company, the Cuyahoga Telephone company and other supposedly independent companies in the Middle West, expect to prove that R. L. Day & Co., the New York bankers, sold the control in those companies to interests allied with the American Telephone & Telegraph company.

It was proved yesterday in the depositions taken for the Ohio courts that Day & Co. contracted to buy the control for the American company, but officers of the latter testified that the option was not exercised and that Day & Co. sold the stock to some one else.

Morgan May Testify.

J. P. Morgan is expected to be a most important witness in a day or two.

W. H. Remick, a member of the banking firm of R. L. Day & Co., who negotiated the option of more than $7,000,000 for the American Telephone & Telegraph company, testified today that he had telegraphed to F. H. Goff at Cleveland to have the minority stockholders' suit there delayed until Remick could dispose of the minority shares here. The witness admitted that advice to get a delay in the Cleveland proceedings was given him by Chief Counsel Leyrett of the American Telephone & Telegraph company.

REFUSED TO CUT RATES

Soo Road Would Not Reduce Fares for Duluth Excursion.

But Plans for Entertainment of Visitors Will Be Carried Out.

The fact that no reduced fares could be secured for the excursion over the new Soo line to Duluth, may cut down the size of the crowd expected, but the excursion is coming just the same.

At first the Soo road officials declined to run the train, as they wanted to wait until they could unload the passengers in their own depot here, but the members of the committee of jobbers, which has the matter in charge, went direct to the president of the road, and secured an order from him to run the train.

An effort was then made to secure a reduced fare for the trip, but the Soo officials claimed that they could not violate the agreement with other roads regarding the 2-cent rate, and that they could make no cut for the excursion. This fact may reduce the size of the excursion, but the plans will be carried out.

The excursion is due to arrive in Duluth tomorrow at noon, running in over the Omaha tracks. The excurionists will be met at the depot with a band, and in the afternoon a reception will be held at the Commercial club. An orchestra will play during the afternoon, and there will be speeches of welcome by the mayor and prominent business men. Saturday afternoon the visitors will all be guests of the Duluth jobbing houses at the ski tournament on the Chester park hill, and they will return to their homes tomorrow evening.

The members of the committee, which has had charge of the arrangements for the excursion, were unwilling to postpone it until the opening of the new depot, as they feared the Twin City jobbers would step in and plan an entertainment for the merchants in the new towns along the line of the Soo road, and they wanted to see Duluth first in the field.

IMMENSE LAND SALES.

North Dakota Realizes Large Sum From Two Counties.

Bismarck, N. D., Feb. 10.—(Special to The Herald.)—Land Commissioner Macdonald has returned to Bismarck from a trip to Foster and Eddy counties, where he conducted land sales. These sales aggregated about $600,000, which will still further swell the school fund of the state. The prices of the land and ran all the way from the minimum of $10 an acre as high as $38 per acre, the greatest part selling at from $15 to $30 an acre.

As showing the rapid advance in land, it can be stated that most of the lands offered at the last sale were offered at the last previous sale and went without buyers. The farmers are now anxious to get more land and very little was left unsold.

The same conditions prevail in other parts of the state. Lands that were left unsold at the last sales are snapped up eagerly at largely increased prices now, and it has only been two or three years in some cases since the same land would not bring their appraised value at an auction sale.

Details of the recent fighting are reaching here slowly, but it is impossible as yet to send out anything like a complete story of recent events, as provisionals are exercising precaution regarding the circulation of news reports.

KENTUCKY STARTS SCANDAL PROBE

Senate Committee Inquiring Into Charges of Bribery in Liquor Fight.

Frankfort, Ky., Feb. 10.—The senate committee is chosen to investigate the rumor given voice here before the state anti-saloon league by Senator Watkins of Union county, "dry" leader of the senate, that "certain members of the upper branch of the Kentucky assembly had been bribed by the liquor interests," began work today.

The investigation is expected to provoke much bitterness and it is openly declared among the legislators that if Watkins fails to produce proof sufficient to substantiate the charges alleged to have been made, his seat in the senate will be declared vacant.

All the newspaper men at the capital, together with members of the senate and house and a number of outsiders, have been summoned to appear before the committee.

TOWNS ON NEW LINE ARE BOOMING

Western Mesaba Has Great Future Says Keewatin Official.

The towns along the extension of the Great Northern railroad to Grand Rapids are feeling the effects of the opening of the road in new activity, according to P. A. McEachin, village clerk of Keewatin, who is in Duluth today. All of the towns are booming, Mr. McEachin says and Keewatin is particularly lively.

Keewatin has a great future, says Mr. McEachin. Though the town has been in existence only three years, it has a population of over 500 people and a valuation of $3,000,000. The Forest, Mississippi and St. Paul mines are opening and drilling is being carried on all along the new line. The Oliver Iron Mining company has a drill camp of ten men near Keewatin and the people in the towns along the line believe that some big strikes will be made.

The extension, which was opened about two months ago, touches Keewatin, Nashwauk, Calumet, Holman, Coleraine, Bovey and Grand Rapids, all in Itasca county.

TOOTH IN HIS LUNG.

Los Angeles, Cal., Feb. 10.—R. W. Pell has secured a judgment for $3,000 against Dr. A. W. Shaw, a dentist, on the allegation that the dentist in extracting three teeth let one of the molars slip down into Pell's lung. For two years thereafter, according to the complaint, Pell was treated for tuberculosis, but the real cause of his shattered health was finally revealed when a paroxysm of coughing ejected the tooth from the lung.

COMMITTEE FINALLY INDORSES GARDEN PLANS

But No Steps Are Taken to Carry Them Through.

Money Needed May Yet Be Raised Through Private Sources.

The result of the meeting of the public affairs committee of the Commercial club to consider the garden project of John G. Williams, was simply a formal indorsement of the plan suggested by Mr. Williams, and the assurance that the members of the committee would do what they could privately, to promote the prosperity of the Duluth Garden company.

The original plan of Mr. Williams, when presented to the committee was referred to a special committee with instructions to investigate it thoroughly and report whether or not it could be recommended as a good business proposition to the people of Duluth. This committee reported that the plan could not be recommended as an investment unless the owners of land along the line of the proposed railroad would guarantee the road against loss for the first few years of its operation. This, it was believed, could not be secured, and the report of this committee was tabled. It was then proposed to shorten the railroad to four miles, making it extend only to the end of the lands of the Duluth Garden company. This plan was referred to the executive subcommittee, and the report of that committee last evening, enthusiastically indorsed the plan, but no steps were taken to carry it out.

As the matter stands at present, everybody approves of the plan, but there are no active steps being taken to carry it out, in a public way at least.

John G. Williams was not present at the meeting last evening, and is out of the city today. Mr. Craig, who has been closely associated with him, stated this morning that he hoped that means would yet be found to carry the plans through. He said that he was unable to give out any information at present, but it is understood that the plans will be taken up by a number of public spirited men, independent of the committee, and that the money will be raised to build the first four miles of the road, and begin the garden project.

The Committee's Report.

The report of the committee, which was adopted last night, is as follows:

"To the Public Affairs Committee—

A critical stage has been reached in Duluth's development, requiring the application of new methods and the creation of new agencies to further the systematic growth of the community.

"Whereas, in the last three years marked attention has been paid by this organization to the backward state of agriculture in this section, it appears to us that the time is now ripe for putting to practical use the information that has been gained and the experience that has matured. It is vital to the continued growth and well-founded prosperity of the city that this handicap of untilled land be overcome. The agitation here and elsewhere concerning the cost of living points to agricultural development as the first solution of a grave problem. The early completion of the steel plant and the expected arrival of kindred industries makes Duluth's need more pressing. The fact that the attention of the state is turned to the development of Northern Minnesota, and that the shrewdest observers of the movements of population predict that the next tide of migration will roll in this direction, bear upon the necessity of measures to take advantage of these tendencies.

"The time is oportune for a carefully studied, broadly planned, thoroughly executed scheme for settling the agricultural lands immediately about Duluth and cultivating its resources hitherto neglected. The successful execution of such measures would increase the means and enhance the comfort of those now here, would make the field for new industries more inviting, would add materially to the commercial population, would advance the value of all real property, and would in every way contribute to the good fortune of the municipality and its residents.

Much Already Done.

"Much has hitherto been accomplished. Farm experiments, extensive and small, have demonstrated the richness of the soil, the salubrity of the climate, the exceptional favor of well distributed rainfall, the peculiar gift of natural fertilization through clovers and similar plants, the special fitness of this region for certain branches of husbandry, the success of intelligent agricultural methods in this locality; and scientific studies confirm the results reached by empirical methods, and even the rudest attempts at agriculture have brought surprising returns.

"But because of the seeming intractable nature of much of the surrounding country, the obstacle of the hill which environs the city, the popular misapprehension in regard to soil and climate, settlement has been retarded and Duluth today stands practically in the midst of the same wilderness that confronted the pioneers forty years ago, except that the timber has been removed to a large extent. To overcome these hindrances it is evident that new methods must be devised.

A Concrete Plan.

"There has recently been laid before your committee a concrete proposal for such an undertaking. Your committee upon its first psresentation expressed its approval of the general policy which it embodied and this committee here reiterates the view that those are the lines on which relief from present burdens is to be expected and by which an outlet for undeveloped energies of the community is to be found. Necessarily the details must be determined by the corporation that is formed to carry out the project. The scale of operations, the methods of construction, the plan of management, cannot be disposed of in advance.

More recently there has been laid before your committee a letter signed by Stephen H. Jones, A. W. Hartman, Julius H. Barnes, W. I. Prince and others, setting forth in brief the matters herein contained and inviting the support of this organization to the furtherance of the ends proposed.

In Hearty Sympathy.

"In full accord with the purpose of the proposition submitted by John G. Williams, in entire agreement with the findings of the special committee to which it was referred for examination, and in hearty sympathy with the communication in regard to market gardening above metioned, your committee begs leave to recommend the adoption of the following resolutions:

"Whereas, the agricultural development of this section is of first importance for the wholesome growth of this city and the increase of its commerce and industries upon the basis of the surest prosperity.

"And whereas, natural conditions are exceptionally favorable for profitable husbandry.

And whereas, the agricultural possibilities of this section have been proved by the work of this organization, by the practical efforts of settlers and model farms and by the scientific verdict of eminent specialists in agriculture.

"And whereas, the general condition of these lands require intelligent exploitation backed by ample means to make a field for economical production that will be attractive to the best class of settlers and skilled cultivators:

"Be it resolved, therefore, That the serious consideration of the matter of preparing suitable lands for market gardening with appropriate transportation facilities be urged upon all persons having an interest in the future of the city.

"That the services of this body are cordially offered in obtaining or shaping any information that may benefit the project.

"And that the efforts so far made to reduce the proposition to definite form, are heartily seconded by this organization.

"W. B. PATTON,
"E. P. TOWNE,
"B. P. NEFF,

A Common Cold.

We claim that if catching cold could be avoided some of the most dangerous and fatal diseases would never be heard of. A cold often forms a culture bed for germs of infectious diseases. Consumption, pneumonia, diphtheria and scarlet fever, four of the most dangerous and fatal diseases, are of this class. The culture bed formed by the cold favors the development of the germs of these diseases, that would not otherwise find lodgment. There is little danger, however, of any of these diseases being contracted when a good expectorant cough medicine like Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is used. It cleans out these culture beds that favor the development of the germs of these diseases. That is why this remedy has proved so universally successful in preventing pneumonia. It not only cures your cold quickly, but minimizes the risk of contracting these dangerous diseases. For sale by all druggists.

TO BUILD ROAD AT FLOODWOOD

County Commissioners Decide on Highway Near Island Lake.

The road which G. G. Hartley some time ago requested the county commissioners to build between Island lake and the Floodwood station of the Great Northern railway will soon be constructed. The county commissioners decided to build the road after a visit to Floodwood yesterday. Work will begin early in the spring.

The new road will be about three and one-half miles long. It will connect with a highway which Mr. Hartley has built from his farm at Island lake toward Floodwood.

With one exception the entire board with Mr. Hartley, went over the ground yesterday, and on their return, Chairman Neil McInnis said that the road will be built.

DIRECTORY OF AMUSEMENTS

WHERE TO GO TONIGHT.

LYCEUM—The Yankee Doodle Stock company in "St. Elmo."

"The Traveling Salesman."

"The Traveling Salesman," James Forbes' comedy, which will be the attraction at the Lyceum on Monday and Tuesday, is the first play written that takes the thoroughly American character, the "drummer," as a central figure. That Mr. Forbes' delineation of the knight of the grip is true to life is well evidenced by the fact that it has received the indorsement of the United Commercial Travelers and the Travelers' Protective association.

"In Arizona."

At the Lyceum on Sunday afternoon and evening, the Yankee Doodle stock company will repeat the Western melodrama, "In Arizona," the play in which they were first seen in Duluth.

CRANSTON TAKES HAND IN THE GAME

Replies to Ireland's Statement on the Fairbanks Episode.

Washington, Feb. 10.—Replying to the statement issued by Archbishop Ireland, in which that prelate attacked the work of the Methodist Episcopal church in Rome, and defended the action of the Vatican in not receiving former Vice President Fairbanks because he addressed a Methodist congregation in the Eternal city, Bishop Cranston of the Methodist Episcopal church declared yesterday that the Methodist church is working openly and honestly in Rome; that it does not take advantage of the poor, as Archbishop Ireland alleged, and that Mr. Fairbanks by his action "both taught and exemplified true catholicity."

"Even had they been a disreputable lot to whom Mr. Fairbanks spoke," said Bishop Cranston, "the precedents of the Vatican do not indicate that high moral tests are invariably applied to persons who are granted audience at the Vatican."

As to the charge that the Methodist church in Rome is taking advantage of the poor, Bishop Cransten said, "Italy is full of poor people for some reason, but not all who come to us are poor. We do not use the confessional, nor charge for baptism or the other sacraments recognized by us,, nor do we have any stated fees or costly church buildings. If the poor find our services helpful and attractive, they are free to come."

POINTS BENEFITS TO CORPORATIONS

Commissioner Smith's Report Advocates Federal Supervision of Big Interests.

Washington, Feb. 10.—Great interstate corporations can be brought under a permanent federal supervision through a system of regular reports to a federal agency in a rational effective way which will involve no drastic action, but on the contrary will forestall it.

Such is the conclusion drawn in the annual report of Herbert Knox Smith, commissioner of corporations, to the secretary of commerce and labor. Coming closely upon the heels of the administration's federal incorporation bill, which has been presented to both houses of congress, Commissioner Smith's recommendations are of unusual interest.

"Publicity will improve the standing of our corporate securities both at home and abroad," Mr. Smith declares, "and will help to give to our business machinery that foundation of fairness and openness and public confidence which it must have if it is to be a permanent factor in our national advance.

Will Bring Them Together.

"It will bring together the government and the corporate manager in conference and co-operation which alone can serve to adjust continuously the complex and changing relationship between our business forces and the public welfare."

Mr. Smith contends that, already under public condemnation, made possible by facts plainly stated, great corporation abuses have been abandoned. He asserts that a gigantic system of of railroad rate discriminations has been wiped away and numerous forms of commercial oppression diminished. Corporate managers themselves, declares Mr. Smith, are frankly advocating a more open accounting.

"The issue is national," the report continues. "Action by the Federal government is imperative under its unquestioned power, and the creation of the Federal government was for a national control of national business. Those directing the great corporations have deliberately nationalized them in size and scope; they cannot now be heard to object to a centralized control which they themselves have made necessary."

Grades of Sand and Pebbles.

The handling of sand and pebbles for industrial purposes is a great industry in many parts of the country, and especially in New Jersey, where it is handled by great plants that are as complete in their way as a plant for the production of more precious substances of the earth's formation. Golden grain belt beer possesses the food value of hardy barley and hops that builds up the body and strengthens the nerves. Dont wait; order a case today. IN THE DAY'S WORK AT WASHINGTON

Give Meyer a Chance.

Washington, Feb. 10.—The long drawn out dispute in the house committee on naval affairs over the subject of indorsing the plan of Secretary Meyer for the reorganization of the navy is practically settled, it is said, and the committee will take action next week which will be in effect a tentative approval of the secretary's ideas. The appropriations for 1911 will be made under the old system, but Secretary Meyer will be vested with authority to distribute the expenditures as he may see fit. This will avoid giving sanction of law to the Meyer plan, and at the same time give the secretary the opportunity of trying out his reorganization idea for a year.

Senate Favors Park.

The bill providing for the establishment of the Glacier National park in Northern Montana was passed by the senate. If created the park will be located along the national divide just south of the international line between the United States and Canada, and will adjoin a similar reservation of the Canadian government on the northern side of the boundary.

Postal Bank Bill Held Up.

Because Senator Bailey is not ready to make the speech in opposition to the postal savings bank bill of which he has been given notice, the measure probably will go over until next week. All amendments acceptable to the committee have been adopted. It is now expected the bill will pass the senate early next week.

Crawford As Peacemaker.

With the purpose of preventing conflict between the federal and state courts, Senator Crawford of South Dakota, has introduced a bill prohibiting the issuance of injunctions by the federal courts to prohibit the enforcement of statutes when the state authorities take prompt action to test their validity.

For New Federal Code.

President Taft has given his approval to the bill introduced in the house by Representative Madison of Kansas providing for the appointment of a commission of five lawyers to prepare a code of precedure to expedite business in the courts of the United States.

JENKINS TO BE JUDGE.

Former Wisconsin Congressman to Go to Porto Rico.

Washington, Feb. 10.—Former Representative John J. Jenkins of Superior, Wis., has been selected for a federal judgeship in Porto Rico. He will succeed Judge B. W. Rodey, formerly of New Mexico. Judge Jenkins will enter upon his duties in the island on May 1. The Wisconsin man served in congress seven terms. He was succeeded by Irvine Lenroot. Judge Jenkins was chairman of the house committee on judiciary for many years.

Gaynor Names Committee to Look Into City Record.

New York, Feb. 10.—Mayor Gaynor has appointed John A. Hennessy, William J. Ellis and James F. Sullivan a committee to inquire into the management of the City Record, the official bulletin of the administration, and to report on the "abuses, extravagance and dishonesties" which have grown up in connection with the contracts for furnishing the city with stationery and printers' supplies. The expenses of the board of City Record per annum have amounted to about $1,750,000.

Mr. Hennessy is managing editor of the New York Press, which, although a Republican paper, was active in support of Mayor Gaynor during the late campaign. Mr. Sullivan is now secretary and formerly was president of the Amateur Athletic union. Mr. Ellis was formerly confidential secretary to Mayors Grant and Gilroy and later served as an assemblyman.

LIGHTS ON LAKE AVENUE.

Ornamental Standards May Be Placed on Way to Boat Club.

A movement is on foot under the leadership of John A. Stephenson for lighting Lake avenue south with ornamental lamps such as are being installed on East Superior street, West First street and Third avenue west. Seventy-five per cent of the property owners on the west side of the avenue have signified their willingness to pay their share of the cost and a petition will be circulated in a few days to secure signatures of the east side of the avenue.

There is heavy travel on Lake avenue, especially in summer during the boat club activities and the lights would make the avenue between Superior street and the aerial bridge much more attractive. The standards to be placed on Lake avenue will be of the same design as those which will be selected soon for East Superior street and West First street.

ROOSEVELT SENDS FRIEND AFRICAN LION'S CLAWS.

Galsgow, Mont., Feb. 10.—John Willis, who lives on the Big Dry river, has received some lion claws from Former President Theodore Roosevelt. The claws were taken from lions killed by the Roosevelt party now hunting in Africa. Mr. Willis is an old friend of the former president and has been in constant communication with him since he left home.

PLENTY OF LUMBER.

Western Man Says There Is Enough for 150 Years.

Burlington, Iowa, Feb. 10.—Before the thirteenth annual convention of the Southeastern Iowa Lumbermen's association here yesterday V. P. Brockman, secretary of the Pacific Coast Manufacturing association, said there is no prospect of a shortage in the lumber supply in this country. He declared that on the Pacific coast and in the South there are sufficient forests to supply the demand for 150 years. The following officers were elected: President, C. C. Gardner, Wellman, Iowa; vice-president, M. C. Howe, Mount Pleasant, Iowa; secretary-treasurer, W. O. Riddle, Mediapolis, Iowa.

TEN-CENT CHECK IS GOOD FOR $254.25.

Philadelphia, Feb. 10.—In common pleas court here a jury has held the Pennsylvania Railroad company liable for the full value of baggage lost in a 10-cent package checking room at one of its stations in New York. The judge said the company had assumed the responsibility for safekeeping, and its failure to do so amounted practically to a violation of contract. He therefore permitted the case to go to the jury, which rendered a verdict of $254.25, the full amount of the claim with interest. The company will appeal.

SAYS FLAX PAYS MORE THAN WHEAT.

Detroit, Mich., Feb. 10.—"The Northwestern farmer should raise more flax. There is more money in it than in wheat," declared H. A. Gardner of Philadelphia in an address before the Master House Painters and Decorators, who are in convention here. In bearing out his statement, Mr. Gardner referred to a shortage last year of 12,000,000 gallons of linseed oil, the product of about 4,000,000 bushels of seed. The increase in the price of linseed oil from 40 to 90 cents a gallon is due he said, to the shortage of the flax.

What an Edison Phonograph will do for you

Think what it means to have an instrument that will play equally well one of Harry Lauder's rollicking songs or a beautiful aria by Slezak, Martin or Constantino; that will play band music which will make you march, and that will play waltzes and two-steps in a way that will make you dance.

Think of an instrument which such a man as Victor Herbert selects from all others as the one to have his exclusive service and for which his own orchestra plays. That is the Edison Phonograph.

Then consider how small an amount of money will buy one—$12.50 to $200.00—and you will see why no one need be without an Edison Phonograph, just as no one would be who has ever really heard it.

Edison Phonographs - - -	$12.50 to $200.00

THE EVENING STORY

THE DREAMERS

By Sylvia St. John.

There was once a boy who took a dreamy-eyed, pure souled girl for his wife. The vision of death, cold and naked, of eternity, terrible and never-to-be-ended, had cast a sudden pall over his world, and his soul, smitten with the emptiness of its delights, reached out for something real—something that would endure. He found the girl. She had waited for her lover—the strong man of her dreams—all her life. True, it was but a little tale of childish years at best, and when the boy—the boy with the soiled soul and the sin-smeared life—told her of his love (and indeed, he thought that he loved her), she questioned not, but gave herself to him, glad and free.

For a little while all was well. The boy kept the memory of the shroud, the marble brow, the pulseless breast, the nameless terror of the hereafter; and the girl wife, so calmly unafraid, was love and life to him.

But slowly the vision faded. The din of the world broke in upon him—the noise of the tumult that he loved. Clamorous voices called to him, and would not be denied. The girl wife, with her artless love, her transparent sincerity, her dreams and her absurd ideals, became hateful to him. He called her a hypocrite, but he knew in his soul that he lied.

Of all this, he told her nothing, and she, sweet soul, being a dreamer, dreamed on. She dreamed that his love for her, like her love for him, was rooted in infinity, and had neither beginning nor end. However, changed he was, and O, he was changed! However her heart might grieve over him—and, O, the grief was bitter! One thing she never questioned—his unchanging love.

It was hard for the boy, these years, harder than for her. He had to endure her love, when every fiber of his being loathed her. The chain that bound him to her dragged heavily.

He wondered sometimes that he did not break it, once for all. But he could not; there was human goodness in him still; something of the primal man—man before the fall. Children were in the home, and each one was a mighty link, forged by nature, to hold him in the toils—he loved and hated them. The wife, too—the girl of dreams—he loathed her, yes—yet there was the jealousy of possession—she was his—his to protect and care for, though despised. Still the girl dreamed on, and sickened him with her kisses.

But the day of awakening was at hand—awakening for both. He, too, was a dreamer, though his dreams were of evil direct.

She was brushing his coat one day, caressing it as if it were a living thing, and sighing softly to herself, when a paper dropped from one of the pockets. She took it up—it was an envelope, addressed in his handwriting to one whom she knew well.

A sudden pang smote her through the heart. She opened the letter—there were fresh violets in it—and read—only a word or two, but enough! Ah, God! The girl who had kept her girl heart and her dreams through the long years would never dream again! She was a woman, now, with a woman's knowledge, and her infinite capacity for suffering.

How long she sat there, conscious only of a mortal wound, a dull throbbing in her ears, a blindness in her eyes—she never knew. A careless whistle aroused her. The boy had come back for the forgotten letter. There sat his wife, and the letter had fallen at her feet. She stooped and handed it to him; and as she lifted her eyes to his, he saw that there were no dreams in them, but only memories.

"You have read it," he said, mechanically, not as a question.

"Yes."

"It is all over, then," he said. There was an accent of despair in the words. He had lost her, and with instant realization he knew that in earth and heaven there was nothing so dear to him. Her simplicity, her sincerity, her sweet unworldliness were jewels worth the ransom of a soul, now, to the fool who had despised them. But it was too late. There was a fire smouldering on the hearth. He raked the coals together and threw the letter in the midst, violets and all, watching with a fierce delight as it shriveled into ashes.

At last he turned his fixed gaze from the hearth. He moved toward her and took up his hat, holding it in his hand as a chance caller might, before he went away. Yet he delayed, as seconds ran into minutes. He could not go until she knew, though it was too late now. But his tongue failed him—the ready tongue, so glib at lies, halted at the truth.

"I cannot ask you to believe me," he said—the words were heavy, indistinct, but truth spoke in them; "I have lost all claim upon your confidence; but I love you—you only. I have been mad—besotted—but—I love you now. I ought to be sorry for you, but I am thinking of myself. I shall never look upon your face again. Oh! my God!"

He had awakened from his dream of sinful pleasure. The boy had grown to be a man in that hour, and knew that in all the world there was no one so good, so beautiful, so altogether to be desired, as the wife he had despised.

"Good-by," he said, with despair in his voice, and would have passed out, but she stayed him with a gesture.

"Wait," she breathed, difficultly. "God give me light!" And crossing to her room she shut the door. Like a criminal who knows the verdict, and yet, perforce, awaits the sentence of the judge, the man sank into a chair.

The little children cried in vain for mother that night. The eldest, a girl with her mother's dreamy eyes, gave them bread and milk, and hushed them to sleep.

Down on her knees, the stricken woman crouched, not praying, but waiting for light—longing, hoping, but resigned to God's will, whatever it might be. Must she condemn him—now, when he loved her? The broken marriage law witnessed against him. He had despised and rejected her—a wife of youth—but oh, she loved him! Must she send him away, homeless, without a wife or children — where there would be none to watch for his comfort—none to be glad of it just for love's sake? Could the good God require of her this merciless justice? When she sent him away she took from him his last hope of a renewed life, and doomed him to sink lower. Oh, if she might but keep him, guard him, love him, forget the broken law! Women never forgave this sin—women who loved righteousness and hated sin. She would obey God, though she perished—though he perished, which was infinitely more terrible to contemplate. But, oh, if she might forgive him!

There was the written Word—with sudden, trembling hope she rose from her knees and got her Bible from the table. She opened it and laid her finger, at random, on a passage. At first she dared not look. When she did, her face, red with weeping, blanched white. God had indeed spoken—her finger pointed to a section of the old law, Lev. xx:10.

There was no appeal from that—the words seemed spoken in her ear—he must die. It was the law. The struggle was ended—she could not fight against God.

Once again she read the dread sentence, fingering each word as a child might, and this time a reference, in finer type caught her eye. It was John viii:3. With trembling, uncertain fingers, she found the reference and, awed and humbled, read again that wonderful story of divine forgiveness. She read it through, to the great absolution, "Neither do I condemn thee; go and sin no more." He, the pure God, the anointed Christ, could forgive, for His great love. Surely, then, she might, nay, she must. Sobbing with awed joy she fell upon her knees and broke into thanksgiving.

Day was breaking when she stepped into the outer room. Her husband sat huddled up in a great arm chair, before the fireless grate. He had fallen into an uneasy doze. Love, love unutterable was in her eyes as they rested on him and noted the marks of suffering on his face. Noiselessly she kindled the fire, and when the light and the returning warmth awoke him to a sense of renewed comfort she was standing before him, her loving arms outstretched.

"Neither do I condemn thee," my darling, my darling!" she cried, and falling on her knees, she hid her face upon his breast.

What of the years before them? Will he, as the memory of that bloody agony grows dim, take that divine forgiveness as a light thing, or will he, indeed, "sin no more?"

Will the world seem void—unanswering—now that she faces it with awakened eyes? Will she look backward longingly to the, to the Land of Dreams, and forget to "march breast forward" with those who "fall to rise?"

Who dare say? Yet, marvelous as life or death, is the mystery of forgiveness — limitless as eternity—fathomless as the heart, is the miracle of love.

WHY YOU ARE THIN; HOW TO GET FLESHY.

Discusses Causes of Thinness and Gives New Method of Increasing Weight and Rounding Out the Form.

Prescription Accomplishes Wonders.

A treatment which any one can prepare cheaply at home, has been found to increase the weight, improve the health, round out scrawny figures, improve the bust, brighten the eyes and put new color into the cheeks and lips of any one who is too thin and bloodless. It puts flesh on those who have been always thin whether from disease or natural tendency on those who by heavy eating and diet have in vain tried to increase; on those who feel well but can't get fat; and on those who have tried every known method in vain. It is a powerful aid to digestion, nutrition and assimilation. It assists the blood and nerves to distribute all over the body the flesh elements contained in food, and gives the thin person the same absorbing qualities possessed by the naturally fleshy.

Everybody is about the same, but certain elements and organs of blood and nerves are deficient and until this is corrected, thin people will stay thin. The nutrition stays in the body after separation by the digestive functions instead of passing through unused, when this valuable treatment of blended medicines is used. Practically no one can remain thin who uses it, for it supplies the long felt need.

Mix in a half pint bottle, three ounces of essence of pepsin, and three ounces of syrup of rhubarb. Then add one ounce of tincture cadomene compound (not cardamom.) Shake well and take a teaspoonful before and after meals. Drink plenty of water before and after meals. Drink plenty of water between meals and when retiring. Weigh before beginning.

The program for the free concert to be given at the auditorium of the Masonic Temple Sunday, Feb. 13, at 3:30 p. m., follows:

Organ—
a. Grand March Processional: "Fete de Jupiter" ..... Gounod
b. "Songs Without Words"..... Mendelssohn
1. "Spinning Song." 2. "Spring Song." ..... Mendelssohn

Vocal solo—"To the Evening Star" from "Tannhauser" ..... Wagner
Royal G. Wilson.

Organ—
a "Polonaise Op. 40 No. 1"...Chopin
b "Nocturne, Op. 27 No. 2"...Chopin c "Concerto, in C-minor, Rondo Vivace ..... Chopin

Vocal—
a. "The Monthly Rose"....Bulenberg
b. "The Brier Rose"....Bulenberg
Royal G. Wilson.

Organ—
a "The Last Chord"..... Sullivan
b Overture, "Semiramide"...Rossini

The program offers some exceptionally attractive numbers. Mr. Wilson has made judicious selections. The "Evening Star" is especially susceptible of fine interpretation and the others are dainty and tuneful.

For the organ the list of composers comprise those best known in concert programs. The magnificent march by Gounod with which the program is introduced is a stirring and stately composition. Following it are two of Mendelssohn's most popular "Songs Without Words." The "Spinning Song" with its whirl of notes and simple melody not very pronounced, and the beautiful "Spring Song" probably the most melodious of all, are in sharp contrast to the march. The third number comprises four Chopin compositions. The polonaise with its march like swing, the exquisite nocturne and the brilliant concerto are examples of the versatility and skill of that composer. The concerto is a marvelous composition, full of melody and brightness. Sullivan's "Last Chord" and Rossini's greatest success the "Semiramide" overture concludes this remarkable program, which begins at 3:30 p. m.

Men Are as Helpless as Children

When Taken Suddenly Ill—Here is a Common-Sense Safeguard.

Big, strong man is as a helpless infant when he is suddenly ill. The sturdiest man in town usually loses his self-control and is utterly unable to regard his condition, with the common sense that characterizes his everyday actions.

For example: He comes home tired, eats a heavy dinner, and sits down to read and smoke away a quiet evening.

Suddenly he notices a weight on his stomach, then sharp pains, and a feeling of suffocation. Thoughts of "heart disease" rush over him, and in his agony he fears the worst.

His trouble was acute indigestion brought on by overloading his tired stomach.

A couple of Dyspepsia Tablets would have given him instant relief—would have saved him hours of suffering.

Carry a package of Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets in your vest pocket, or keep them in your room. Take one after each heavy meal and indigestion will not bother you.

Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets remedy stomach troubles by supplying the one element, the absence of which in the gastric juices causes indigestion and dyspepsia. They aid the stomach to digest food and to quickly convert it into rich red blood and material necessary for overcoming natural body waste.

We know that Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets are and what they will do. We guarantee them to relieve indigestion and dyspepsia. If they fail we will refund your money. Three sizes: 25 cents, 50 cents and $1.00. Remember you can obtain Rexall Remedies in Duluth only at our store—The Rexall Store. E. M. Tredway, 108 West Superior street.

DIES ON WAY TO THE CITY

Medical Aid Is Secured for Charles Clark Too Late.

Death Comes While Victim Is Being Driven in From French River.

Stricken suddenly with a strange illness while unloading a sleigh of machinery near French River, six miles beyond Lakeside, about 9 o'clock last evening, Charles Clark, 65 years old, of 2011 West Superior street, died before his companion, George Booker, could drive him back to the city.

The body of Clark lies at the undertaking parlors of Olsen & Crawford, 2010 West Superior street, where Coroner McCuen will conduct a postmortem, probably this evening, to determine the cause of death. No funeral arrangements for the aged man have been made as yet.

Clark is supposed to have died while tucked in the sleigh under a number of heavy robes at about Nineteenth avenue east. When Booker examined him as he was approaching the downtown section of the city, he found his face cold. A physician was called and he was pronounced dead.

Clark and Booker started out yesterday afternoon to haul a load of machinery to French River. Clark was apparently in good health, and according to Booker, showed no symptoms of the strange illness until after he had arrived at their destination.

Clark complained that he was not feeling well and said that he was weak. Booker told him that he would hurry back to town, where he could consult a physician. Clark died on the return trip. He was conscious until the last, according to Booker.

Booker resides at 315 North Forty-fifth avenue west. Mr. Clark is survived by a wife, two children of his own and two stepchildren.

BIG SUM SPENT FOR LARGESS

San Francisco Chinese Celebrate Opening of Their New Year.

San Francisco, Feb. 10.—With joss sticks smoldering before many josses, firecrackers popping incessantly in gaily decorated and brilliantly lighted streets, and spending more money than in many seasons, Chinatown is celebrating what promises to be an unusually prosperous new year. According to the manager of the Canton bank $60,000 has been changed into quarters by the well-to-do Chinese for largess to the poorer cousins and servants. China lilies in bulb and bloom are being lavishly distributed, along with lychee nuts and the sweet candy so dear to the Oriental palate.

Mayor McCarthy's recent proclamation deciding that the Chinese may follow their "legitimate gambling games," has added to the joyful spirit of the celebration.

ceipts for the year 1909 at seven leading interior markets of the United States were the lowest since 1904.

The total livestock receipts for the year 1909 in these markets aggregated 39,546,725 head. The receipts of hogs for the last year fell off particularly. For each of the four years pervious to 1909 the hog receipts had been in excess of 19,000,000 head, totaling more than 22,000,000 in 1908 and falling to 18,834,641 last year.

Cattle receipts in these markets for 1909 were 9,188,212, which, while comparing favorably with those of the previous year, fell below the totals for the three years before 1908. Sheep fell below those in 1905 to 1907, but compared favorably with 1908.

Million Less Hogs.

Receipts of hogs at the Chicago market for 1909 show a decrease of 1,627,674 as compared with the year before, or a decline of 19 per cent; receipts at Kansas City decreased 17 per cent; receipts at Omaha, 12 per cent; at St. Joseph, Mo., 28 per cent, while the decline at St. Louis was only 4 per cent.

While the total number of cattle receipts at these seven principal markets was larger than the year before, the 1909 cattle receipts at Chicago, 2,929,865 head, fell below the 3,000,000 mark for the first time since 1902.

Goats' Flesh for Lamb.

Provision dealers deny today that turkeys are ever kept in storage for two years and put on the market when they are mouldy from age, but admit that poultry is sometimes held from six to nine months and that goats' flesh has been sold for lamb. This testimony was adduced at a public hearing before the committees on laws and legislation of the board of aldermen.

A delegation of dealers is fighting the proposed ordinance on account of the expense it would entail, and which, they said, ultimately must fall on the consumer.

SERVICE IS GREAT NEED

More Important Even Than Rates, Says Duluth's Traffic Manager.

Package Car Now Running Between Duluth and New York.

"Good and reliable service even more than rates, is what the wholesale merchants of a city want from a railroad," said G. Roy Hall, Duluth's traffic manager, in reporting on the work of the traffic committee at the meeting of the public affairs committee of the Commercial club last evening.

"A little discrimination may be absorbed by a wholesale house, and it may prosper in spite of it, but it is the service that counts. The jobber who can rely upon prompt service, and can assure his customers that they will get their orders filled promptly, is the man who will get the business and keep it, and that is one of the points we are working on especially."

Mr. Hall reported that a package car is now in service between Duluth and New York. The first car left New York on Feb. 1, and reached Duluth on the sixth day out. The second car made the trip in five days, which is the scheduled time. This amounts almost to an express service, and will give Duluth firms complete satisfaction in shipments from New York to this city.

Efforts are also being made to extend the scope of the package car service, wherever it can be shown to be profitable. Whenever it can be shown that there is sufficient regular business between Duluth and any other city, an effort will be made to have the roads put on a package car making daily or semi-weekly trips. This insures prompt service and is much more satisfactory than any other method of shipping goods in less than car lots.

Mr. Hall also reported that the two rare old antinques in the line of sleeping cars, which have been in service between Duluth and the West, have been discarded, and that two more modern sleepers will be put on.

mitted today that the cross-examination of Moe was prolonged yesterday for the purpose of holding him over until today. The purpose of this is clear. Until Senator Conger, under compulsion, filed his bill of particulars when the investigation opened Tuesday, the defense were not sure that Moe would testify. When he took the stand Tuesday afetrnoon and related his astounding story, little time was left them in which to investigate his record. Agents of Allds were rushed to Groton, it is supposed, and it was to await their report that Allds' lawyers kept Moe as a witness until today.

The testimony of Senator Benn Conger, who was expected to take the stand when Moe finishes, probably will be brief.

Not Mere "Corruption."

Conger and his friends hold that the bridge interests were "held up" by certain legislators and were obliged to "deliver." Such a proceeding, they contend, is far different from deliberate "corruption," in which overtures come first from the briber.

G. B. Williams of Syracuse was the first witness called to the stand today.

Few witnesses, even in a criminal case, have endured such an assailment as that which Martin W. Littleton, Allds' attorney, directed yesterday afternoon at Moe. James W. Osborne, Conger's counsil, tried hard to save his witness, and against the attack Moe shielded himself as best he could. Pressed to recite countless details of his actions, he replied:

"I can't remember."

Asked why he was willing to be the instrument of a bribe-giver, he declared that not until after the money had been delivered to Allds and his colleagues did he know the purpose for which it was intended.

Attorney Osborne admitted that the American Bridge company did raise a corruption fund in 1903.

NEW TERROR FACES CHERRY MINE MEN

Bursting of Steam Pipe Shakes Nerves of the Searching Parties.

Cherry, Ills., Feb. 10.—A new terror was furnished today to the men who are trying to clear the St. Paul mine and remove the dead. Just as the big new pump was about to be started to eject the foul seepage water from the 500-foot level, a four inch steam pipe burst, throwing great volumes of scalding steam into the 350-foot vein.

The men are working under a nervous tension because of the constant possibility of accidents and by reason of the memory of the fire that killed nearly 300 companions.

A roar of the steam as it hissed from the fractured pipe filled the apprehensive laborers with fear, and drove them from their work for a few minutes. No one was hurt, but the pumping will be delayed several hours.

A Handy Home-Made Remedy For Coughs and Colds.

A cold or cough often comes on quickly. This simple remedy, if kept handy, will nip it in the bud. Although inexpensive, there is nothing better at any price. It usually stops a deep-seated cough in twenty-four hours, and is splendid for hoarseness, whooping cough, chest pains, bronchitis, etc. Granulated Sugar Syrup.....13½ oz. Pinex ..... 2½ oz.

Make a plain syrup by mixing one pint Granulated Sugar and ½ pint of warm water; stir for two minutes. Put 2½ ounces Pinex in a pint bottle and fill up with the sugar syrup. Take a teaspoonful every one, two or three hours.

None of the weaker pine preparations will work in this recipe. Use the real Pinex itself, which is the most valuable concentrated compound of Norway White Pine Extract, and is rich in all the healing elements of the pine. All druggists have it or can easily get it on request.

This recipe makes a full pint of unequaled cough syrup—enough to last a family a long time—for only 54 cents. It is equally good for children and adults, and has a pleasing taste.

Strained honey can be used instead of the syrup, and makes a very fine honey and pine tar cough syrup.

THE CANADIAN NORTHERN FRANCHISE.

In taking proper time to study the ordinance granting the Canadian Northern railroad admission to Duluth, Mayor Haven is using reasonable precaution in the exercise of his public duties. In vetoing that ordinance, in view of all the circumstances, he would be flying in the face of reason and justice. The Herald refuses to believe, therefore, that Mayor Haven has the remotest idea of not signing the ordinance.

The matter has been pending a long time. It has been threshed out thoroughly before the city council. Both sides have had full and ample hearings. There are those who object to the proposed right-of-way into the city, but so would there be those who would object to any other right-of-way. After giving plenty of time, and hearing all the arguments and evidence, the city council approved the franchise by a vote that was nearly unanimous, and in doing so it acted rightly, and for the best interests of the community.

It is important that Duluth should have this new railroad. The city should not, of course, make undue sacrifices to get it, but it has not been made to appear that it is making any undue sacrifice whatever. Duluth wants that railroad, and getting it, at this present moment, depends upon Mayor Haven's signing the ordinance. The Herald cannot conceive the possibility that he will fail to do so.

THE BEMIDJI CONFERENCE.

Duluth and St. Louis county will be fully represented at the conference of Northern Minnesota interests at Bemidji next week. Other counties are showing proper interest, and it is to be hoped that every county and every community in every county of Northern Minnesota will be represented there by its most aggressive and most public spirited citizens.

Northern Minnesota's need is great—almost as great as the state's neglect of that need. The inertia of neglect can be overcome, and aggressive and effective action set afoot, only by an organization such as that which can be made at Bemidji.

Nor should it be forgotten there that as the reason of the state's neglect is Northern Minnesota's grossly unfair representation in the legislature, the first and most important step is reapportionment.

THE PARCELS POST.

The rural free delivery costs the postoffice department $27,000,000 a year more than it brings in, and its cost is more than five times greater than its receipts.

The rural delivery wagons carry an average of twenty-five pounds per trip, when they could carry 500 to 700 pounds each way.

If the parcels post were adopted in this country—and this is the only civilized country on earth that does not have a parcels post—these rural delivery wagons would carry heavier loads, and the enormous deficit in the rural delivery service would be turned into a profit.

Yet there is no parcels post system in this country, the rural delivery system is operated at a loss, and it is proposed to make magazines and newspapers more expensive by increasing the mail rate on them to make up the deficit.

John Brisben Walker has prepared an article on this subject from which a few pertinent facts are extracted, as follows:

Germany will carry a 100-pound trunk for one-third of a cent a pound, while this country thinks 1 cent a pound is too little for magazines.

Canada, a country as wide as the United States, found that half a cent a pound was too much for carrying newspapers and magazines, and it has reduced the rate to a quarter of a cent a pound and the postoffice department is making money.

In Germany consumers can buy butter and cheese from the producers and have them sent by parcels post; in this country we have put the consumer into the power of all sort of combinations that pay the lowest possible price to the producer and charge the consumer the highest possible rate.

If the average rural delivery wagon were carrying 500 pounds a trip at 1 cent a pound the rural delivery service would yield a great profit instead of resulting in a great deficit.

The postoffice department complains that 1 cent a pound is too little for carrying newspapers and magazines; yet the express companies underbid it and charge only half a cent a pound to carry newspapers and magazines from New York to Buffalo.

The price complained of by the postoffice department is really so excessive that the American News company, which supplies magazines and newspapers to branches or agents all over the country, is obliged to ship 75 per cent of its output by express and freight because it is cheaper.

Under the present system, when a storekeeper in a small town needs a piece of goods he sends to his wholesaler, the wholesaler sends to the jobber and the jobber sends to the manufacturer. The order in returning may break bulk several times, and the cost of transportation and handling is excessive. If there were a parcels post system everything could be done by mail, and the manufacturer could ship by mail directly to the storekeeper, with a great saving in time and transportation expense.

Mr. Walker asserts that a rate of 1 cent a pound would yield handsome profits to the postoffice department, though this is assuming, of course, that the postoffice paid the railroads what it is worth to handle its business. His figures prove his statement so far as estimates can prove it, and he makes an exceptionally strong case for the parcels post.

But a case for the parcels post can be made any day. What is needed is something that will bestir congress to provide a parcels post.

DULUTH MUST BE FED.

The Williams garden plan having secured the approval of the public affairs committee of the Commercial club, it now needs action that will make it effective. The land must be bought and cleared and divided into suitable tracts, and the trolley line that is to convey its products to market must be built. These things require money, and now that everybody approves of the idea that the rich nearby soil should be made to provide Duluth with the food at reasonable prices of which it is so much in need, undoubtedly there will be found men with both money and public spirit who will put into the plan the financial breath of life.

Those who do so will be doing double-edged good. Making all reasonable allowances, and providing for all reasonable contingencies, the plan offers a profitable investment; so they will be putting their money into a paying enterprise. But far more important still, the plan will develop the fertile nearby soil, will provide opportunities for men of industry to coin their muscled intelligence into good incomes, and will provide for Duluth the cheap and good living that it needs so sorely. It will rescue this city from the oppression of high prices evolved out of a combination of long distance freight hauls and the middleman's tax. It will point the way to cheaper living, to the placing upon the nearby soil of an independent and productive population that will patronize Duluth industries, and to the emancipation of Duluth households from the tyranny of high prices.

THE NEW ORDER DEMANDS NEW METHODS.

There is a good deal of sound logic and sound sense in the annual report of Herbert Knox Smith, United States commissioner of corporations, and in some respects, notably in its reference to "commercial pirates," it is a reminder of the Roosevelt administration. How harshly that phrase breaks upon the solemn hush of the present administration!

In effect the commissioner says that the corporation is the accepted machinery for handling the commercial forces of the country. It has concentrated enormous power in the hands of a few men, and at the same time it has lessened their personal responsibility for the proper use of that power. The sense of personal obligation to the community is submerged in vast corporate entities. Restraint must take the place of the old personal responsibility, and that restraint must take the form of supervision and publicity.

The issue is national. Though the corporations are the creatures of the states, their business is national. The great corporations have deliberately nationalized their business; therefore the control must be nationalized to cope with them. There is now a wide border line between state and federal activities, upon which great corporations seem to defy both with impunity and profit. There must be no such border line.

There are two types of corporation managers. One bases success upon increasing the efficiency of his organization; he eliminates wastes and shares the gain with the people by giving better service at lower cost. This type of corporation manager builds up the nation's industrial strength. The other type succeeds not by its own merit, but by crippling the efficiency of his competitors; by railway rebates, by unfair competition, by commercial oppression, by monopolizing public rights for private gain; not by giving better service, but by unfairly preventing others from giving any service at all. "If this process continues it will surrender the control of our commercial forces to the commercial pirate, to the injury of the nation and the ruin of individuals."

For the sake of honest business and the honest business man who is a valuable public servant, for the sake of humanity and for the sake of free government, for the sake of public confidence in the processes of business, this latter sort of corporation manager must be rigidly restrained. His opportunities for harm must be taken away from him by government regulation and by publicity of his affairs. The remedy proposed by the commissioner of corporations is federal control of interstate business and full provisions for publicity of the affairs of big business. This is to the end that corporations which deal fairly and openly may enjoy the confidence that is their right, and not share in the obloquy due those which transgress.

These recommendations are just, clearsighted and progressive. Business is interstate, and control must be interstate to be effective. Control in the interests of the people must come, or a long-suffering people will turn at last and in their blind rage they may resort to unpleasant alternatives.

Business has been master too long. It must be made the servant, and the sooner it is shown its proper place and taught how to behave, the better for the comfort and peace of the republic and its people.

THE THIRD AMENDMENT.

Upon the unofficial returns, the third charter amendment was adopted by a few votes. Upon the official returns, it failed of adoption by a few votes. The discrepancy obviously is due to a clerical error in transcribing the returns from one precinct, where the official returns showed twenty less votes for the amendment than did the official returns. The vote on the other amendments shows clearly that the unofficial returns are correct, and the official returns incorrect.

It seems to be the plain duty of the city officials to see that the will of the people is not frustrated by an obvious clerical error. Such steps as are necessary to prevent that should be taken, even if they involve a recount of the vote on the amendments. The third amendment creates a fund for the maintenance of street pavements, and Duluth needs such a fund very much. Without maintenance, the average life of a pavement is, say, ten years. With proper maintenance, its life can be made thirty or forty years. The amendment provides a measure of economy founded on sound business judgment. The city authorities should not permit it to fail for lack of proper attention. That would be allowing a stupid clerical error to defeat the will of the people.

POLICE WARD IN HOSPITAL.

To the Editor of The Herald:

Has any provision been made in the new hospital at Fourteenth avenue west for what might be called emergency cases? That is, men who are picked up in the street and haven't the necessary money to go to the other institutions in the city? If the city hasn't looked after this feature it should be attended to without loss of time. There are a large number of men taken sick on the streets who get no proper care because Duluth hasn't a place where they may be sent. The same is true of some men hurt in accidents.

A. M. F.

Duluth, Feb. 9.

Provision has been made for a police ward in the new hospital. It is located on the ground floor and will be fitted with a complete set of surgical instruments and other necessary appliances.—(The Editor.)

CLAIMS MISSTATEMENT IN WATER BOARD'S REPORT.

To the Editor of The Herald:

Believing that The Herald and the board of water and light commissioners have been deceived in reference to certain statements and figures contained in the annual report of the department just published, and also that neither of you would intentionally be guilty of foisting upon the public incorrect information or misrepresentation of the facts, I therefore am constrained to direct your attention to a gross misstatement in said report. I have reference to the expenditure of some $6,000 for the repair of the West Duluth reservoir, which was charged to construction account and not deducted from the earnings, as claimed.

An examination of the comptroller's records for the months of October and November will show that the aggregate cost of the repairs amounts to about $8,000 and was charged to "construction account."

With only a casual glance through the report I have run across many other glaring misstatements which will bear investigation and discussion. Very truly yours,

WILLIAM CRAIG.

Duluth, Feb. 9.

"GRANDMA AND THE WELL" APPLIES HERE.

To the Editor of the Herald:

That story you related the other evening about grandma falling down the well, and the steps taken to get her out, applies to more than one condition in Duluth. One condition where it is pat, is in regard to the hockey rink. Everybody in Duluth wants a hockey rink, it seems, and nearly everybody believes it would pay. The only trouble seems to be in getting it started. Your sporting editor keeps pounding away at it, and for five years has been urging the need of a hockey rink to father winter sports in Duluth. But during the summer time we don't need it, and in the winter it is too late to build it. The result is the same as in the case of the lazy negro and his leaky roof.

That rink could be used in the summer for big gatherings and entertainments like the proposed automobile show. You could stage wrestling matches there, and all kinds of sporting events. It could be made to pay expenses during the summer with automobile shows, pure food shows, political meetings and other gatherings of this character, and in the winter hockey games and skating races and pleasure skating should return a good revenue. It would do for a Duluth auditorium until an auditorium could be built. Why not start a stock company and let all Duluth own the rink? Down in Cleveland the rink managers have to engage instructors to teach the people to skate. Here in Duluth they learn to skate almost as soon as they do to walk, and yet we haven't a good skating rink in the city. Duluth ought to be able to hold a big winter carnival that would make the Mardi Gras at New Orleans look like a side show.

Ballad of Sore Places.

In years gone by I used to stand
Close by the fire at eventide,
While mother scrubbed to beat the band
Upon my bare and tender hide;
And oh, the way I squirmed and tried
To save the spots she hunted for!
No matter where she touched, I lied—
"Don't touch me there—that place is sore!"

On head or heels, on foot or hand,
On sunburned back or ticklish side,
On dark-gray-spots she closely scanned
And rubbed until I nearly died,
With elbow-grease galore she plied
The soapy rag, until I swore
I'd never bathe when grown, and cried:
"Don't touch me there—that place is sore!"

The greatest martyr in the land,
The victim of a mother's pride
I was—alas, for high and grand
Resolve to howl till pacified!
Whene'er my mouth was opened wide
That schooling rag its lesson bore—
That soap-soaked tongue refused to chide,
"Don't touch me there—that place is sore!"

L'Envoi.

O Time! Thy toll is not denied,
Since mother washes me no more!
But 'round my heart 'twill aye abide,
"Don't touch me there—that place is sore!"

Having Fun in the Table.

Youth's Companion: It is astonishing to one who has not studied the subject thoughtfully to learn how completely under the control of the nervous system, or, rather, of the emotions, the entire digestive apparatus is.

It is a matter of everyday experience that the appetite is under the subjection of the feelings, although not of the will. The impulse to celebrate any good news by a dinner is founded upon the fact that when one is pleased and elated, hunger is excited. In early times this hunger was gratified on the moment, just as the accompanying thirst too often is now, but the modern man usually defers his eating to a suitable occasion.

The loss of appetite caused by bad news or misfortune of any kind is too well known to need more than mention. Worry or physical fatigue will often act in the same way. The same causes that destroy the appetite will arrest or greatly retard the process of digestion. It is a matter of common experience that any disagreeable occurrence during or just after a meal will stop digestion and may bring on a bilious attack, with headache, nausea, and a coated tongue. Concentration of the mind or anxiety will act in the same way.

On the other hand, as the appetite is stimulated by good news and mental elation, so digestion is favored by whatever promotes gayety and high spirits.

"Laugh and grow fat," like so many popular sayings, is an expression which contains much truth. Dyspepsia is a malady that will seldom be found in the family where the dinner gives occasion for cheerful talk and mirth, and where all worry and "disgruntlement," and especially quarreling, are under a ban.

Every member of the family should make it an absolute rule to put worry and all thought of business or study aside for the moment and come to the table prepared to be light hearted and gay. This is not only as a moral duty, but rests upon the very physical reason that his appetite will be better, and his food will taste better, and will be better digested.

THE WEATHER.

Clear cold winter weather was enjoyed today by Duluthians. The threatened blizzard did not materialize, and the weather man looks for warmer weather tomorrow, with possible snow flurries.

A year ago today Duluth was just shaking off a blizzard.

The sun rose this morning at 7:21 o'clock and will set at 5:24, making nine hours and fifty-seven minutes of sunlight.

Mr. Richardson makes the following comment on weather conditions:

"The Manitoba high pressure has moved its center to the Upper Mississippi valley, causing decidedly colder weather in Western and Southern Minnesota, the Mississippi and Ohio valleys and the lake region. Zero temperatures prevail in Manitoba, Ontario, the Eastern Dakotas, Western and Southern Minnesota, Iowa and Northeastern Michigan, the coldest being 20 deg. below zero in the Red river valley. The Ohio valley disturbance caused rain or snow in most districts east of the Mississippi river and its center has advanced to New England. A slight depression that has advanced from British Columbia to Northwestern North Dakota is attended by much warmer weather to the northward of Colorado. The barometer continues high in the Far West. Indications favor milder weather at the Head of the Lakes tonight and Friday."

Following were the maximum temperatures for the last twenty-four hours and the minimum for the last twelve ending at 7 a. m.:

"TRUST TAFT"—WHY?

Omaha World-Herald: "Trust Taft." This is the message Senator Burkett sends his constituency in Nebraska in the form of a speech delivered before the Nebraska Republican club in Washington.

Trust Taft—and don't worry, or fret, or get mad, or think for yourself; just trust Taft. It is the voice of the sluggard, the coward, the trimmer. To the distracted hosts of Republicanism it comes from many quarters. But it comes loudest and most earnestly from just two sources—from those who want to hold the sinking ship together till they can reach shore just once more, like Burkett, and from those who have placed their entire and unquestioning trust in Taft to do all he can to beat down insurgency and hold the prow of the old ship pointing directly toward the north star of torvism.

"Trust Taft," says Aldrich, "trust Taft," says Cannon, "trust Taft," says Ballinger, "trust Taft," say the trusts, —and "trust Taft," echoes Burkett.

But why should the plain people trust Taft? Why should honest Republicans trust him?

They did "trust Taft," and he helped make Cannon speaker.

They did "trust Taft," and he helped fasten the Cannon rules anew on the house.

They did "trust Taft," and he hailed Aldrich as "the leader of the senate."

They did "trust Taft," and he declared for the central bank of issue.

They did "trust Taft," and he helped defeat the income tax.

They did "trust Taft," and he signed the Aldrich tariff act, and declared it "the best tariff ever passed."

They did "trust Taft," and he put Ballinger, the crony and attorney of the land thieves, in charge of the lands the thieves were plotting to steal.

They did "trust Taft," and he discharged Glavis and Pinchot, who were honestly trying to protect the public domain against powerful conspirators.

They did "trust Taft," and he put Knox and Nagel and Wickersham and Dickinson in his cabinet—trust lawyers all of them.

They did "trust Taft," and he appointed Lurton to the supreme bench.

They did "trust Taft," and now he is trying to fasten a federal incorporation law on their backs for a saddle on which private monopoly can ride them to death.

The did "trust Taft," and now he is getting ready to burden them with a shipping subsidy.

How much longer must they "trust Taft?"

And how much longer, if they continue to "trust Taft," will they be able to pay the heavy price that comes as a penalty for trusting Taft?

How would it do for the American people to begin trusting their own judgment and conscience awhile, just for a change?

Physical Defects Make Delinquents.

The physician plays an important part nowadays in determining what shall be done with boys and girls brought before juvenile courts. Judge Baker of Boston writing in the February Survey, says that after the probation officer reports to the judge about the boy's family and environment the boy himself is carefully looked over for indications of feeble-mindedness, poor eyesight, deafness, adenoids, etc. If there is any reason to believe that the child is feeble-minded, he is taken to a specialist and if there are indications of physical defects, he is handed over to a dispensary. The whole method of dealing with delinquent children has turned from the idea of punishment to the scientific method of prevention.

TWENTY YEARS AGO

Taken From the Columns of The Herald of This Date, 1890.

Duluth capitalists have organized the Duluth Motor Line Improvement company and will build a motor line from the end of the street railway company's line to the new cemetery. The company has a capital stock of $600,000 and is composed of the following: A. R. Macfarlane, R. M. Hunter, G. G. Hartley, M. J. Forbes, H. M. Peyton, J. A. Willard, A. S. Chase, Joseph Sellwood, J. D. Stryker, S. L. Seldon, J. H. Upham, Sincoe Chapman, J. D. Howard, Joseph Mannheim, Cochran & Walsh, Coffin & Warner, Clinton Markell and several others. It is expected to have the line completed by next May. At first the cars will be run by a motor, but when the Duluth Street Railway company puts in its electrical plant the cars for the extension will be operated by the same power. A large amount of land has recently been purchased in 51-14, in the vicinity of Rice lake, which is to be converted into a summer resort eventually. The motor line will be extended to that point.

At a meeting of the county commissioners yesterday the salary of the county superintendent of schools was fixed at $100 a month.

From August, 1886, to January, 1890, Minnesota has contributed to the Irish National league $5,014, and Wisconsin has given $6,666.

At the meeting of the West Duluth law class last evening the following officers were elected: C. W. Hoyt, president; Worrell Clarkson, secretary and treasurer. L. S. Thomas delivered an entertaining lecture on "Commercial Paper."

MINNESOTA OPINIONS.

Friendly Advice From Frank.

Fairmont Sentinel: If certain Republican editors do not like Governor Eberhart it would strike a disinterested observer that the least they can do is to keep silent. Their course cannot fail to result in party disruption.

The Occasionally Virtuous.

Walker Pilot: Some people are so constituted that it takes a war to cause them to realize their duty to their country, and a revival meeting to make them faithful to their God.

Newcastle Needs No Coals.

Big Falls Compass: More state swamp land for Minnesota.—News Item. Please put it in Fillmore county. Koochiching county has enough.

Good Hunting in America.

Ogilvie Sentinel: What doth it profit a man if he round up an opaki in an African jungle when an elephant is trumpeting with rage right in the middle of the capital of the United States?

People Fight, While Trusts Profit.

Minneota Mascot: Under the impression that they were performing a patriotic duty, the rank and file of the Republicans and Democrats have been fighting each other for fifty years. They started out by dividing on matters of principles, but as these problems from time to time adjusted themselves, the division became more and more a matter of office, a matter of spoils, a matter of whose cock should do the crowing on the day after election. In this way the people have been fighting each other while the trusts and "interests" have been winking the other eye, filling their money bags and shouting "sic'em." The people are beginning to see the folly of all this. They are beginning to see that their party loyalty is being used as a weapon against themselves by those interests to whose advantage it is to keep the attention of the people concentrated upon something, anything, but themselves.

Men Still Are Brothers.

Albert Lea Tribune: One is often tempted to think that the dollar has obliterated faith, hope and charity in this country. But the generosity to the Paris sufferers shows we are not yet ready to cast aside the brotherhood of man as unnecessary baggage.

Victory Through the Ballot Box.

Hutchinson Leader: The eyes of every voter who reads are open to the robberies and extortions that are practiced on the American people by the high tariff system, the trusts and the transportation companies. Several magazines for years past have through the articles of able writers probed these iniquities to the bottom and reform newspapers have told the story again and again. The public knows it all and knows that the way is open through the ballot box to right the wrongs. The trouble is, the people are tricked by a lot of slippery men of brains who manipulate the machinery of both parties and take upon themselves the job of making laws for honest men. And not until honest men wake up and get busy in politics will there be any shaking off of the hold which greed and selfishness have on the nation.

It's the Principle, Not the Man.

Cass Lake Times: The "standpat" interests in congress seems to be about ready to heave Uncle Joe over the bank into eternal oblivion for the sake of peace with the insurgent faction, but they insist on the election of a man of their own ilk, probably Tawney or some other man who can be depended upon in emergencies. It is barely possible that such a slaughter will bring peace and unite the whole party, but highly improbable. The insurgents are not fighting Cannon personally, it's "Cannonism" they are after and are fully satisfied that "Cannonism" voiced by another would be equally pernicious.

Pointed Paragraphs.

Chicago News: A truth-telling woman has but a few femine friends.

No, Cordelia, all sharp men are not in the sharper class.

All things that no one else wants come to those who wait.

There are two sides to every question—your side and the wrong side.

A girl likes an honest young man—if he isn't too honest to steal a kiss.

How many people do you know who can repeat the ten commandments

The woman who tells everything she hears generally adds a little bit more.

A man never realizes how many faults he has until he has been married two or three years.

Our idea of a stingy woman is one who declines to waste thread sewing on her husband's clothes.

Once in a very great while we meet a girl who knows how to handle a man as well as a young widow does.

There are almost as many ways for a woman to use up stale bread as there are ways for a love affair to get sidetracked.

Reflections of a Bachelor.

New York Press: Even a crazy man would have more sense than to read the novels women like.

For anybody to appreciate advice he always has to pay more for it than it's worth.

The worst of getting out of trouble is there's so much more to get right into again.

The reason a man wants to pay more for his cigars than he can afford is so he can say he paid still more for them.

A woman never goes to a railroad ticket window without hoping it might happen to be the day for bargain sales.

I Will Bless the Lord.

Psalm xxxiv., 1-10: I will bless the Lord at all times: His praise shall continually be in my mouth.

My soul shall make her boast in the Lord; the humble shall hear thereof, and be glad.

O magnify the Lord with me, and let us exalt His name together.

I sought the Lord and he heard me, and delivered me from all my fears.

They looked unto Him, and were lightened, and their faces were not ashamed.

This poor man cried, and the Lord heard him, and saved him out of all his troubles.

The angel of the Lord encampeth round about them that fear Him, and delivereth them.

O taste and see that the Lord is good: blessed is the man that trusteth in Him.

O fear the Lord, ye His saints; for there is no want to them that fear Him.

The young lions do lack, and suffer hunger: but they that seek the Lord shall not want any good thing.

A MOMENT WITH THE WITS.

Pittsburg Post: "I don't think the book will dramatize well."

"Why not?"

"The hero has a good many mental struggles, but them kind of combats don't go well on the stage."

Kansas City Journal: "There is no place in the world for me."

"Why not?"

"Nobody understands me."

"Then there is a place in the world for you. Get a job as a train announcer."

Houston Post: "What was your husband saying to you last night?"

"Nothing."

"Why, I was sure I heard him talking to you for over an hour."

"You did."

Lippincott's Magazine: "Do you like my new hat?" asked Mrs. Brooke.

"Yes, indeed," replied Mrs. Lynn. "I had one just like it when they were in style."

Galveston News: The friends that one buys are nearly always damaged goods.

Syracuse Herald: "Were you embarrassed when you proposed to me, Tom?"

"Awfully; I owed over $10,000."

Puck: "I ain't insultin' of yer—I tell yer I'm simply callin' of yer a liar, and yer are one!" Friendly relations resumed.

Boston Transcript: Nuwed — Ah, matrimony, my boy, matrimony is the oasis in the desert of life.

Old Grouch—Huh! A mirage!

New York Press: "Life is just one blamed thing after another."

"No. It is one thing before another."

Punch: Prospective Lodger—Oh, we shan't want much for meals!

Landlady—I do 'ope, sir, you an't one o' them 'erbaceous boarders!

Pele Mele: "How is your last book of poems going?"

"Like hot cakes."

"Ah, two a penney, eh?"

Cleveland Leader: "My wife always forgives my faults."

"I've got you skinned to death."

"How?"

"My wife forgets mine."

Detroit Free Press: "She asked me what 'igloo' meant."

"Well?"

"And I couldn't tell her. I'm not up on baby talk."

Louisville Courier-Journal: "Is the pen really mightier than the sword?"

"Nothing to it. You don't see any homes for disabled poets."

Boston Transcript: She—Did you see many fresh faces at the opera the other night.

He—Oh, yes. Some of them had only just been made that evening.

The Attitude Toward Yellow Journalism.

Francis E. Leupp in the February Atlantic: A young man just graduated from college, where he had attracted some attention by the cleverness of his pen, was invited to a position on the staff of the New York Journal. Visiting a leading member of the college faculty to say farewell, he mentioned this compliment with not a little pride. In an instant the professor was up in arms, with an earnest protest against his handicapping his whole career by having anything to do with so monstrous an exponent of yellow journalism.

The lad was deeply moved by the good man's outburst, and went home sorrowful. After a night's sleep on it, he resolved to profit by the admonition, and accordingly called upon the editor, and asked permission to withdraw his tentative acceptance. In the explanation which followed he inadvertently let slip the name of his adviser. He saw a cynical smile cross the face of Mr. Hearst, who summoned a stenographer, and in his presence dictated a letter to the professor, requesting a 500-word signed article for the next Sunday's issue and inclosing a check for $250. On Sunday the ingenuous youth beheld the article in a conspicuous place on the Journal's editorial page, with the professor's full name appended in large capitals.

The Absent Guest.

Here's to the face we may not see,
Here's to the vacant chair—
He's joined the Great Minority
In wedlock and despair.
No more he pays ten bones a plate
For festive joys like this;
A better feast—a cheaper rate—
Alas, poor fool!—are his!

No venerable imbecile
Talks him to slumber sweet;
No after-dinner vawdavil
Plays to his upturned feet.
He'll miss the wit that 'round us flows
All mellow in its age;
On him no seltzer-bottle throws
The squirted persiflage.

No circling arms will hold him straight
On his ballroomward way;
No cop's club beat from out his pate
The dawn-light roundelay.
Tomorrow he will go downtown
And find his job still there!
Here's to the gyved, unheaded clown—
Here's to the vacant chair!

—Chester Firkins in Puck.

The Optimist.

His vision pierces through the veil of cloud
And views the genial sun behind it all:
He scans the dewy, rose-tinted dawn
Beyond the midnight's all-pervading pall.

He hears a shout of triumph, loud and clear
Amidst the direst murmurs of defeat;
In all the bitterness and gall of life
He seeks and finds a little that is sweet.

—Will H. Greenfield.

FARMERS ARE IN SESSION

Organization of Producers' Co-operative Market Association Being Effected.

Representatives of the many farming clubs about Duluth were in session at the Duluth Commercial club today for the purpose of forming a permanent organiation to be known as the Producers' Co-Operative Market association.

Nearly all the farmers' clubs are represented and those which have not representives present have written letters indorsing the organization and promising to do what they can to make it a success. They all wanted to be counted in on the proposition, which they are all enthusiastic over.

The question was brought up at the last meeting of the County club. The County club heartily indorsed the proposition, which was the outgrowth of the investigation of market conditions made by the late O. H. Simonds and his committee.

Today officers will be elected and an executive committee appointed. The committee will immediately select a manager who will take over the matter of marketing the produce of the farmer. There are at present 50,000 bushels of potatoes listed, and it is expected that as soon as the proposition is fairly under way all the farmers will list their roots and other products through the association.

T. W. Hugo entertained the visitors at the Commercial club at luncheon, on behalf of the public affairs committee, and afterwards spoke briefly to the assembled delegates. Mayor Hiaven also spoke his word of encouragement. Prof. C. E. Colter of the University of Minnesota was to give the principal address of the afternoon.

ARE ERRATIC BUT STRONGER

Copper Shares Have Better Tone, Many Issues Scoring Advances.

The copper market was erratic today with a fairly strong undertone. The opening was strong, the shorts covering and the other side helping them to buy. Toward noon there was slight profit-taking and the shorts jumped on the market again, forcing it lower than at the opening. A slight reaction at the close sent prices up but most values closed lower than at the opening and about on a par with yesterday's close, some being slightly stronger.

The bear campaign appears to be losing its effect and a scalping market seems the outcome for a few days until conditions become settled again. The market is now chaotic and extremely nervous. It is in a dangerous position for the speculators who are not sailing close to the wind.

The metal situation was strengthened by the report of the Copper Producers' association that stocks decreased about 43,000,000 pounds in January. This figure applies only to the United States. It is believed that an increase in European stocks will cut down this total decrease as applied to the world's visible supply, which is about 300,000,000 pounds.

The local market was active with a strong undertone.

Butte-Alex Scott sold at $1 for the part paid; Butte & Ballaklava at $19 up ½ point; Caetus at $4.87½; Copper Queen at 60 cents, and Live Oak at $19.87½ and up to $20.12½ on Eastern buying due to flattering reports from the property. Shattuck sold at $19.50, Warrior at $11.37½, Zenith at $1.12½, Butte & Superior at $2.68¾, $2.75 and $2.81¾, Calumet & Corbin at 75 cents, Calumet & Montana at $1.25 and $1.25½, Calumet & Sonora at $21.50 up ½ point and down to $21, Chief at $2.12½, Cliff at $1.50, Keating at $2 and $2.06½, Rawhide at 7 and 6 cents, San Antonio at $7.50 and $7.87½, St. Mary's at 30 cents, North American at $2.87½, and Amazon-Montana at $2.75 and $3 and then up to $3.25, a total advance of 50 cents for the day.

Amalgamated sold at $74.75 up to $75.12½, and down to $73.62½ and up to $74; Superior & Pittsburg at $14 down ½ point; Butte-Ballaklava on the Boston exchange at $9.37½ and $10; Giroux at $9.87½ up ¼ point and back to the opening; Lake at $80 down 1 point, up to $80.50 and down to $79.87½; Steel common at $78.75, down to $77.87½; Ojibway at $10, up ¼ point, and North Butte at $35.75, up ¼ point and down to $35.50.

The development shaft of the Cannon Mining company, near Tower, has shown up twenty-six feet of hematite. The ore is in an outcropping and the shafthouse was erected over it. If the developments warrant, the experimental shaft will be made permanent. On account of the hardness of the formation, it is difficult to put a hole down. It is possible that a shaft will be sunk about sixty feet distant and drifts will be run to the vein.

THE VETO WOULD DELAY BUILDING OF COAL DOCK

The vetoing of the Canadian Northern franchise by Mayor Haven might cause the M. A. Hanna Coal company to delay building its dock at West Duluth for a year, or until such time as it could see the way clear to proceed, according to what William Collins of St. Paul, vice president of the company, told Mayor Haven in an interview today.

"The Canadian Northern line from Duluth to Winnipeg would be something like forty-five or fifty miles shorter than the present line from Port Arthur to Winnipeg," said Mr. Collins. "During the past season, 2,000,000 tons of coal were handled at Port Arthur and Fort William, practically none of which was used east of Winnipeg.

"The freight rate on coal from Port Arthur and Fort William to Winnipeg is 50 cents per ton less than from Duluth and Superior to the same point. With the Canadian Northern having a shorter line from here to Winnipeg, it would have to cut its rate down to at least the rate from Port Arthur and Fort William, which would give Duluth a share of the business now going through Port Arthur and Fort William. What applies to coal naturally applies to other commodities. We have all the railroad lines in Superior, except the Canadian Northern and the two range roads, and the prospects for Canadian business was a large factor in inducing us to purchase the site we have acquired for our West Duluth dock. If the Canadian Northern should be held up or shut out of the city, the fact would seriously interfere with our plans and might induce us to postpone construction for a year at least."

FIVE-DECKER IS REGISTERED

New Goodrich Boat Given Official Number By Customs Office.

The Alabama, now under construction at the Manitowoc, Wis., shipyards for the Goodrich Transit company, of which Walter M. Thompson is the Duluth agent, is the only five decked steamer on the books of the Duluth collector of customs. Although the Goodrich boats all run in Lake Michigan, they are registered here, and on application of the company an official number has been given the Alabama.

The new boat will be a freight and passenger boat, with a gross tonnage of 3,000 tons and a net tonnage of 1,943 tons. It will be 250 feet in length, 45.5 feet in breadth and 17 feet between decks. The crew will consist of from twenty-five to 168 men and the boat will be propelled by machinery of 2,000-horse power.

There are between 400 and 500 boats registered in the Duluth office, but the Alabama is the only one with five decks.

AN EMBLEM IS WANTED

A prize contest will be launched by a joint committee of the Duluth and Superior Commercial clubs, offering inducements for the best suggestions for an emblem, embracing both of the cities at the Head of the Lakes.

The contest will be open, not only to people residing in Duluth and Superior, but from neighboring towns and cities. President W. I. Prince of the Duluth Commercial club and President B. C. Cooke of the Superior Commercial club will each name three members on the joint committee.

As soon as the committee men have been named, the rules of the contest will be announced. Prizes for the best suggestions will be given. An effort will be made to interest high school students to send in drawings of emblems.

It is expected that the committee will be announced in the near future.

HYDROGRAPHIC OFFICE INSPECTED.

Commander B. F. Hutchinson of the United States navy is in the city today, having official business with the United States hydrographic office. His trip to Duluth is for the purpose of inspecting the local office, as he is connected with that branch of the government's work at the present time.

At one time Commander Hutchinson was executive officer on the U. S. S. St. Louis. Today he was busy inspecting the local government hydrographic office. Commander Hutchinson stated that he found things in such excellent shape here that there was little for him to do. He paid a high compliment to Capt. Swenson of the local government office for the manner in which he has conducted this branch of the government service.

The commander will leave tomorrow for Houghton.

CHIEF WITNESS IN CONGER'S DEBT

Testimony in Hearing of New York Bribery Charges Favors Allds.

Albany, N. Y., Feb. 10.—Since 1897 Hiram G. Moe, chief witness for Senator Benn Conger in the latter's efforts to prove that Senator Jotham P. Allds accepted a $1,000 bribe, has been under financial obligations to the Conger family. Moe admitted today at the senate investigation of the charges that he now owes Benn Conger, as executor of the estate of Frank Conger, $3,600. In addition to this sum, the two Groton banks, which the Conger family control, hold Moe's notes for $3,000.

When the investigation had dragged from the witness this catalogue of his obligations to Allds' accuser, Allds' attorneys announced that the cross-examination was over. Conger's legal staff immediately took the witness in hand to offset the damaging effect of this latest revelation.

Testimony Favors Allds.

For the first time since the investigation began the testimony today showed decidedly in Allds favor. Moe was forced to tell of a secret expedition to the assembly side of the capitol last night to study the layout of the assembly corridors and committee rooms where he said he paid Allds the $1,000.

When Mr. Osborne took up redirect examination he first brought out the fact that the witness was still deacon and trustee of the Baptist church in Groton, where Moe was a Sunday school superintendent five years ago.

Mr. Osborne produced the New York drafts which originally represented the $3,000 alleged bride money and showed that they were "cleared" on April 23, 1901. This was to prove Moe's assertion that he had been in Syracuse to cash them the day before.

LANGLEY MEDAL PRESENTED TO WRIGHTS.

Washington, Feb. 10.—The Langley medal of the Smithsonian institution was presented today to the Wright brothers. The medal was created in 1908 in commemoration of Prof. Langley and his work in aerodromics.

Orville and Wilbur Wright both were at the presentation, at which Chief Justice Fuller, as chancellor of the institution, presided. Vice President Sherman also was there. Prof. Graham Bell and Senator Lodge made brief addresses and Chief Justice Fuller then presented the medals, one to each of the brothers, who smiled and bowed.

Wilbur Wright, after some urging, made quite a speech, in which he said that when the Wright brothers had perfected their commercial flying machine organization they intended to go back to research work and announce some startling discoveries. He declared there was research work awaiting which could keep six men busy a life time.

THREE CUPS FOR $6,000.

Strand: Incidents that impress one most in the course of one's auctioneering career are generally in connection with surprises, joyful or disappointing, in the values of articles put up for sale. Thus I should quote as very interesting a sale at Rutland Gate, where there were only the remains of the furniture, a firm having been allowed to take what they chose to their rooms. It was accordingly after the nature of a rummage sale, but in one cupboard, which had been overlooked, were what the junior clerk described as "three silver cups." The auctioneer was sitting in his office when a gentleman drove up in a hansom cab, anxious to speak about these cups, for which he offered no less than $1,500. The auctioneer was so much surprised that he thought his visitor must have some reason for this high bid, and he wisely determined not to take the first offer he received. "Oh I don't think they will take that," he said, and with his answer, the gentleman had to be content. An expert was called on to examine the so-called cups, and he discovered them to be in reality, sixteen-century chalices, for which he himself made an offer of $2,100. The three "cups" were subsequently sold for $5,750, but it was only by the slightest chance that they had not gone for a mere song.

WATCH RECOVERED FROM RIVER.

London Standard: John Norris, a former chief constable of Coventry, was the possessor of a historical Tay Bridge watch. This was engraved with a view of the Tay Bridge and was inscribed as follows: "The Tay Bridge Disaster, December, 1879. This watch lay in the river Tay for six weeks; it stopped at time of the accident, remained silent many days, started again and worked nine hours under water.

It was a gold keyless lever which had been lent to Mr. Beynan, an artist of Cheltenham, who was drowned. A charge of dynamite was afterward used with a view of raising the body from the river and this doubtless started the watch again.

That Postal Deficit

Postmaster-General Hitchcock reports that the Post-Office Department loses $64,000,000 a year in the business of carrying second-class mail (magazines and periodicals).

There is not a deficit of $17,000,000, as the department alleges, but actually a surplus of more than $10,000,000, when the specific loss on free rural delivery is taken into consideration, and the department's figures of $64,000,000 loss on second-class matter are wrong by more than $60,000,000.

THE SATURDAY EVENING POST

for February 12th devotes its editorial page to this subject, showing the injustice of the recommendation to raise the rate on all magazines and periodicals—but not on daily papers or the country weeklies.

One fact: In the year ended June 30th, 1908, the weight of second-class matter compared to 1907 *de*creased 18,000,000 pounds. The postal expenditures *in*creased $18,000,000. There is something in it besides second-class matter.

Look for a dozen more facts in this week's (date of February 12th) number of THE SATURDAY EVENING POST.

PINE COUNTY TOWN SCORED

Public Examiner Finds Books Are Being Kept Improperly.

St. Paul, Minn., Feb. 10.—The town of Fleming, Pine county, comes in for a scoring at the hands of the state public examiner, J. N. Gaynor, special examiner, investigated the books of the town officers and reported to Examiner Anton Schaefer that the records are mixed and lack clearness.

He found that one man was drawing money from the town under the name of Frank J. Olson and Frank Olson.

The records to March, 1908, fail to show the bills were paid. Other bills are drawn 'for town expenses' and still other bills are improperly itemized, says the inspector. The officers, he finds are paid $2.25 a day, whereas their own resolutions call for but $2. C. Lindstrom claims Gaynor has drawn money for mileage improperly.

Frank J. Olson is reported to have been paid $2.25 for work for the board and $3.25 for work for the town, the work being done on the same day.

This Week's Sunday School Lesson

WRITTEN FOR THE HERALD BY REV J. S. KIRTLEY, D. D.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON: FEB. 13. Matt., vi., 19-34. The Passion for Money and the Dread of Tomorrow.

FOREWORD.

We are still in that great "Sermon on the Mount" and the thought of the Master moves right on through the questions of almsgiving, prayer and fasting to two points of very special interest to us of this money-mad and nervous-stricken age.

THE LESSON.

I.

Money. 19-24.

"Lay not up for yourselves treasures upon the earth, where moth and rust consume, and where thieves break through and steal: but lay up for yourselves treasures in heaven, where neither moth nor rust doth consume, and where thieves do not break through nor steal: for where thy treasure is, there will thy heart be also. The lamp of the body is the eye: if therefore thine eye be single, thy whole body shall be full of light. But if thine eye be evil, thy whole body shall be full of darkness. If therefore the light that is in thee be darkness, how great is the darkness! No man can serve two masters: for either he will hate the one, and love the other; or else he will hold to one, and despise the other. Ye cannot serve God and mammon."

HEART. The heart follows its treasures, whether they are in heaven or on earth or in the ground. Three things may be said about money. It can be made or inherited by the million and yet not be one's chief treasure. I say it can be, not that it always is. Often one is deceived as to his motives and purposes in seeking it. Second, it can be converted into the highest and holiest thing on earth—into mind and heart and hope and comfort and peace and sympathy and love—when those who possess it use it for those ends, in a Christ-like way. Paul said we must all be industrious and make money so that we shall have something to give to those who are in want. But they may want education and gospel and opportunity as well as bread and meat and clothes. Third, it can be laid up in heaven, when we use it so as to fit people for heaven, as Jesus assures us, in the parable of the shrewd steward, that we can so use it that the objects of our kindly service will be waiting to welcome us to our eternal home. The love of money is at the root of every kind of evil.

EYE. The eye may have a dim vision for truth and love and honor, when it has looked too long at one false object. It may have a double vision when it tries to look at two objects at a time, money and God. Money may dim the view of God. The "evil eye" was first of all a miserly eye. If one tries to keep an appreciative eye on God and money equally they do not come to a common focal point and blend in one object. The eye is no longer single. Conscience and love and unselfishness are surrendering to enemies. The mind is darkened as it tries to look out in that abnormal fashion.

HEAD. A double-headed affair is a monstrosity, even if the two heads are partners. If one recognizes God or his master, he can only think of money as an instrument with which he can render some kind of service to God. If money is his master, he has no taste for God. If it is a servant, we can use it to please Him as Matthew and Zaccheus and Mary and Martha and Lazarus did. It requires only a small amount of money to master some people.

II.

Anxiety. 25-34.

"Therefore I say unto you, be not anxious for your life, what ye shall eat, or what ye shall drink; nor yet for your body, what ye shall put on. Is not the life more than the food, and the body than the raiment? Behold the birds of the heaven, that they sow not, neither do they reap, nor gather into barns; and your heavenly Father feedeth them. Are not ye of much more value than they? And which of you by being anxious can add one cubit unto the measure of his life? And why are ye anxious concerning raiment? Consider the lilies of the field, how they grow; they toil not, neither do they spin; yet I say unto you that even Solomon in all his glory was not arrayed like one of these. But if God doth so clothe the grass of the field, which today is, and tomorrow is cast into the oven, shall He not much more clothe you, O ye of little faith? Be not, therefore, anxious, saying, What shall we eat? or, What shall we drink? or, Wherewithal shall we be clothed? For after all these things do the Gentiles seek; for your heavenly Father knoweth that ye have need of all these things. But seek ye first His kingdom and His righteousness, and all these things shall be added unto you. Be not, therefore, anxious for the morrow, for the morrow will be anxious for itself. Sufficient unto the day is the evil thereof."

UNFILIAL. God is Father; therefore we need not be distressed. He supplies the wants of birds and flowers; can He neglect His children? He provides for birds, though they do not sow nor reap nor gather into barns; could He fail to take care of His children when they do sow and reap and gather? He cares for the birds when they exert their little powers of forethought, as in migrating to suitable climates at the right season and in building nests; will He not care for His children when they exert their greater powers of forethought, adaptation of means to ends and skillful use of opportunity? Let the sowing, reaping and gathering go hopefully, trustfully on.

The flowers which abounded in wild profusion in Palestine, of which the lily was the type, grew into a beauty even more splendid than that which adorned Solomon when he came forth in his royal state, although they did not toil nor spin. Their glory is a growth from within; his an addition from without. Theirs is part of themselves; his was purely external. Theirs was perfect, the fruit of life; his imperfect, the work of men's hands. That is what God does for soulless flowers that do nothing for themselves, that live out a short day and are withered; how can He fail to do the needed thing for His children, who have souls, who have means of doing much for themselves and who will live on through the eternities?

INJURIOUS. Fretful anxiety enervates. It does nothing for us.

HEATHENISH. We are not orphans. The heathen do not see beyond the present and even in the present do not think of God as Father. With our treasures in His care and our wise and loving Father's hand upon us, how can we descend to their level?

USELESS. Two reasons make all unhappy forebodings sinfully useless. One is that we can infallibly secure all things needed anyhow—by seeking first the kingdom of God and His righteousness. The rulership of God in His righteousness guarantees everything else, as the larger includes the lesser. The striving and the agony will be not about the future, but about subjecting our obstinate and stupid selves to the sway of God. In that primary search for the first things we show the wisdom that will work for tomorrow and content with our Father's arrangements that make the morrow a success.

The other reason is that no amount of anxiety can change the future.

We cannot tell what it will be; the dreaded storm may not break upon us at all; the unexpected may come from unexpected quarters. Dread of it will not prevent its coming; will diminish the pleasures of the present; will unfit for doing the duties of the present. The morrow will not only bring its own troubles, but it will bring the grace that will strengthen us to meet those troubles. "Every day brings its own troubles and to anticipate is but to double them." It is sufficient to leave each day's trouble in the day to which it belongs, without borrowing it to add to the troubles of today. "The worst misfortunes are those which never arrive." We do violence to today by bringing into it tomorrow's ills. We weaken our power to bear today's burdens when we put our stupid shoulder under tomorrow's. God never overloads us, but our anxiety does. Forethought is right, but must never become foreboding. The future may properly influence us, not the future of our confused and foolish fears, but the future of glory along the path "which shineth brighter and brighter unto the perfect day."

WHAT THE MASTERS SAY.

Wealth is the slave of a wise man, the master of a fool.—Seneca.

Learn and practice the art of the Celestial chemistry: Not, like the mediæval alchemist, seeking to transmute all things into gold, but like Christ Himself, transmuting earth's gold into heaven's charities. Serve God—God only—by a skillful, generous, Christian use of mammon, and then even mammon, unrighteous as it is, will serve you, turning the recipients of your bounties into heavenly welcomers on the day of judgment.—Boardman.

The escape from the service of mammon, therefore, is not through negations and self-denials, not through voluntary poverty and renunciation of property, but through serving God in His kingdom of righteousness. It is not idleness to which Jesus calls His own, but a diligence which is no longer controlled by motives furnished by mammon.—Thompson.

PERTINENT QUESTIONS.

1. Why is it possible to give only all or nothing to God?
2. Why does a true servant of God become a better money maker?
3. Should there be any legal limit to accumulating wealth?
4. What would be the immediate effect of a complete consecration of all our wealth to God?
5. Why does calm confidence in God lead to industry rather than indifference?

SCOUTS IDEA OF HARM FROM COMET

Prof. Hussey of Ann Arbor Says Life Will Not Be Affected.

Ann Arbor, Mich., Feb. 10.—Prof. W. J. Hussey, astronomer of the University of Michigan, ridicules the idea that any danger to life might result when the earth passes through the tail of Halley's comet.

"All comets are of the same chemical nature," said Prof. Hussey. "The earth has passed through comets before and no bad effects have been felt. The comet is 14,000,000 miles away, and the gas from it will not be sufficient to produce any noticeable effect. It will be like adding one molecule of gas to a large room. There cannot be any possible danger even to an insect. You will find fifty times more of the same gas in any chemical laboratory."

MUST SHUN THE BOWL.

Iowa Officials Can Be Ousted If They Get Drunk.

Des Moines, Iowa, Feb. 10.—The Iowa supreme court yesterday upheld the constitutionality of the Cosson removal law which provides that public officials may be removed for intoxication. The decision confirms the ouster of A. H. Handerson as mayor of Marengo. The court holds that the question of drinking goes to a man's qualification for office, and that even though this habit is an issue in the election and the people decide for him, he still can be ousted for that very fault.

NEGRO "BISHOP" SENT UP FOR THREE YEARS.

Baltimore, Md., Feb. 10. — Denounced as a menace to society and an imposter, Jonas Smuelt Sturdevant, negro bishop of the "Holy Church of the Living God, the Pillar and Ground of Truth" and leader of the "Holy Ghosters," has been sentenced to jail for three years. Sturdevant was convicted of having assaulted and beaten Mrs. Rose Denmored, one of his white "disciples."

She told a revolting story of life spent in quarters occupied by white women, over whom the negro apparently had complete mastery.

TWO CHILDREN PERISH

In Fire at Jamestown, N. D., While Parents Are at Funeral.

Jamestown, N. D., Feb. 10.—While James Ellenberger and his wife of McClusky were attending a funeral in a nearby church, their two children, aged 6 and 2 years, were burned to a crisp in their home. The fire is believed to have been caused by matches with which the elder child was playing. When the flames started, it appears, Arthur, who was at play, crawled under the bed where Willie was sleeping. The children's mother is delirious from the shock. The little ones are said to have been locked in.

HE SQUEEZED HER HAND.

Declared Plaintiff in Mankato Breach of Promise Suit.

Mankato, Minn., Feb. 10.—Because, she says, he frequently caught hold of her, squeezed her hand, told her what a fine girl she was and that he believed they were made for each other, Miss Martina Herper of Minneapolis, who acknowledges 47 years, demands $10,000 damages for breach of promise in a suit now in course of trial against Patrick McTighe, a wealthy widower, aged 57 years.

McTighe denied any intimate friendship with the plaintiff and especially any proposal of marriage.

Mrs. Norley Baines told of being introduced in November, 1908, at a Maccabee ball, to McTighe and Miss Harper, who were represented to be an affianced couple, and she said their coming wedding had been spoken of.

Miss Herper told of her engagement to McTighe, and of how he had proposed on the St. Peter drive. He had been very attentive all the fall and winter, and affectionate.

"How did he show affection?" was asked.

"He would catch hold of me and squeeze my hand and would tell me that I was a fine girl, and that I just suited him, and that he thought that we were made for each other. This was an every day occurrence.

WANT SALOONS CLOSED.

Element in Cass Lake Desires to Have Matter Voted Upon.

Cass Lake, Minn., Feb. 10.—(Special to The Herald.)—A petition signed by fifteen residents of Cass Lake has been presented to the village recorder asking that the voters be given an opportunity to determine whether or not it is the sentiment that the saloons should be wiped out. It is certain now that the question will come up for a vote but the sentiment at the present time seems to be in favor of retaining the saloons. Cass Lake has only three saloons. The village is deriving an annual revenue of $4,500 from them.

LAKOTA BANK SHORTAGE.

Defunct Concern Owes Its Depositors $98,400.88.

Lakota, N. D., Feb. 10.—Three hundred depositors in the defunct People's State bank met here Tuesday afternoon and decided by resolution that Bank Examiner Oliver Knudson should remain in charge of the bank pending reorganization. The exact shortage was stated by the bank examiner to be $98,400.88.

In spite of rumors that the meeting would be demonstrative, nothing sensational developed and the business was disposed of quietly.

The depositors elected an executive committee to represent their interests with a view of recommending some local man for temporary receiver. In all probability the receiver will be G. A. Kellogg.

NEWS OF THE NORTHWEST

SLAYER WILL STAND TRIAL

Wholesale Murderer of Family Cannot Work the Insanity Dodge.

Believe Ruckheim Who Killed Wife and Children Feigns Insanity.

Fergus Falls, Minn., Feb. 10.—County Attorney Anton Thompson has had an interview with William Ruckheim, who murdered his wife and four children in the town of Effington last Friday, and has decided to swear out a warrant charging him with murder in the first degree. He announces further that he will prosecute the case vigorously.

It has been generally supposed that Ruckheim would be adjudged insane and committed to the hospital here, but the county attorney is convinced that he is responsible for his acts, and that there may be more back of the crime than has yet come to light.

Similar Crime Went Unpunished.

An almost identical crime was committed in the town of Otter Tail several years ago, and the man who committed it went to the hospital for a short time; was then discharged, and has since been enjoying his liberty. Another crime of the same nature was committed in the town of Tansem about two years ago, and the murder was immediately brought to the insane hospital here.

It is thought by the authorities that Ruckheim may be feigning insanity with a view to securing an equally easy escape from the gallows.

Unless blood poisoning results seriously, Ruckheim will be brought to this city in a few days, and he will be confined in jail.

RAILROADS STOP SHIPPING BOOZE

Walker, Minn., Feb. 10.—(Special to The Herald.)—All Northern Pacific and Great Northern agents have received instructions from the head offices to accept no beer or other liquor for shipment to points in Indian reservations and other restricted territories.

The order effects the towns of Walker, Cass Lake and Backus and practically wipes out all saloons in the towns adjacent to the Leech Lake reservation.

LUMBER CAMP REVIVALS

Are Being Held in Upper Peninsula By Chicago Evangelist.

Houghton, Mich., Feb. 10.—(Special to The Herald.)—Rev. Moore, a Chicago evangelist, arrived at Chassell Monday and that night began holding a series of revival services at Worham, the palatial lumber camp of the Worcester Lumber company. The evangelist was brought to Worham through the good offices of Mrs. Clarke, wife of the camp foreman.

Rev. Mr. Moore will hold meetings all week in the eating camps, the big log dining hall where the ninety male employes of the camp take their meals. He was given earnest attention by a majority of the men Monday night, and it is believed his efforts will have good effect.

FIND UNIQUE SKELETON.

Prehistoric Bones of Unknown Animal Dug Up Near Williston.

Williston, N. D., Feb. 10.—While on a hunting expedition in the western part of the state recently, Dr. W. F. Crafts of Devils Lake, and a party of friends explored an island in the Missouri river, some thirty miles above here.

In a depression in the island, partially filled with rocks, logs, bones, bark and other debris, their attention was attracted to some bones of peculiar formation. They proceeded to do some excavating and this disclosed a portion of a peculiar skeleton of some prehistoric creature. The head and possibly a portion of the terminal vertebrae are missing, but all of the dorsal, lumbar, and a part of the cocygial vertebrae, the ribs and the sternum are intact, firmly articulated and in a fair state of preservation. So far as can be discovered, the skeleton differs from anything "in the books."

TO TEST MICHIGAN LAW.

Requiring Non-Resident Wholesale Liquor Men to Have License.

Houghton, Mich., Feb. 10.—(Special to The Herald.)—Theodore C. Swenson of Superior, Wis., representative for the William Bergenthal company of Milwaukee, wholesale liquor dealers, who was arrested two weeks ago for selling liquor without a Michigan state license, arrived in Houghton to appear at his hearing before Justice Croze.

No action was taken in the matter, an adjournment for two weeks being decided upon.

The arrest, it will be remembered, is under the provisions of the Warner-Crampton act, which makes it necessary for foreign wholesale liquor houses to take out a license, under a fee of $500 paid to the auditor general, in order to do business in Michigan. The Bergenthal company considers the law unconstitutional, claiming that its license in Wisconsin permits it to do business anywhere in the United States.

BUY ASHLAND DOCK.

Interest of Keystone Bought Presumably By Duluthians.

Ashland, Wis., Feb. 10.—(Special to The Herald.)—The interest of the Keystone Lumber company and Judge Cochran in the Co-Operative coal dock was sold Tuesday afternoon to R. H. Hackett, of Oshkosh.

This interest was a mortgage and interest and costs, making the consideration of sale $25,00. It is understood that Mr. Hackett represents the lien claimants, the dredge company of Duluth, J. H. Bell, and others, their purpose undoubtedly being to get squared away and then sell out to some large coal company, probably the J. C. Ayers people who are operating the dock at the present time. The property had already been advertised for sale and if the deal had not been consummated it would have been sold at sheriff's sale on the 10th.

This clears up all of the affairs of the Co-Operative Coal Dock company and the present owners own the property without any lien or mortgage whatever.

There has been considerable talk of late of the great improvements that were to be made on this dock and the sale consummated today undoubtedly is the first step in the direction of making this dock one of the best coal docks on the chain of lakes.

FOOL WAGER IS FATAL.

Upper Michigan Man Drinks Quart of Whisky and Dies.

Hancock, Mich., Feb. 10—Betting a friend that he could drink a quart and a half of brandy at one "sitting," John Cortopassi of the Franklin won his wager Sunday, but lost his life in the effort, and died Monday morning before he could collect the forfeit.

Cortopassi and a friend, it is said, were boasting of their capacity for liquor, when the wager was made Cortopassi emptied a quart and a pint bottle on the bet, and immediately was thrown into terrible pain. After about eighteen hours of torture he died, all efforts made to save his life proving futile.

The authorities were notified of the death and its causes, and it was at first proposed to conduct an autopsy. An examination, however, proved that the statements of the dead man's friends were correct, and the investigation was dropped.

DEFENDER OF MOTHER ACQUITTED OF MURDER.

Menominee, Mich., Feb. 10.—(Special to The Herald.)—"Not guilty" was the verdict of the jury in the circuit court yesterday in the case against August Schwartz, aged 17, who last Christmas shot and killed Anton Braderski, who seven years before eloped with young Schwartz' mother from Marinette. It was the first murder trial at which Judge Flannigan, the new judge of the Twenty-fifth district had presided.

A tale of abuse and ill treatment at the hands of the man whom she had forsaken family and caste for, was developed when the boy's mother took the stand in his defense.

Records were introduced to show that Braderski was a desperate character, that in a fit of temper he had shot one man's ear off and had been arrested for various assaults.

It was alleged that he was in the habit of threatening the members of his family with knives and guns and that it was while he was advancing upon Mrs. Schwartz with a knife that he was shot by the boy.

Health and Beauty Aids

BY MRS. MAE MARTYN.

Mrs. Ruth O.: There can be no possible excuse for a woman of your age neglecting her complexion. It is a duty you owe yourself to look as youthful and charming as possible. I would not encourage you to use face powder; it rubs off too easily, shows too readily and does no permanent good. The use of a good lotion made by dissolving four ounces of spurmax in half a pint of hot water and adding two teaspoonfuls of glycerine will take away that coarse, sallow, oily look to your skin and make it soft, pink and youthful. This lotion is an excellent beautifier and whitener and will last longer than powder. It is splendid for cold sores, freckles, pimples and preventing chapping in the winds.

M. L. T.: Your case is by no means a hopeless one. Many people, like yourself, are troubled with dandruff, itching scalp and falling hair, due to a germ disease of the scalp. This can easily be corrected by using a quinine hair tonic made from one ounce quinzoin dissolved in one-half pint alcohol, then adding one-half pint cold water. Brush your hair thoroughly and rub this tonic twice a week into your scalp and it will do wonders for you. It will promote a vigorous growth of hair and keep it glossy and from becoming coarse and the ends splitting. Do not scratch the scalp with the finger nails. Use a brush to remove the loose dandruff.

Jennie W.: To hold your own in society or business, you must feel right as well as look right. If you get rid of the languor and "always tired out" feeling you complain of, you are almost certain at the same time to be freed from the pimples, blotches and sallow complexion. A clear, smooth and soft skin is impossible when the blood is impure or deficient, the digestion faulty or the liver inactive. A good general system tonic is made as follows: Get from your druggist one ounce of kardene and one-half pint of alcohol. Dissolve the kardene and a half teacupful of sugar in the alcohol and add enough boiling water to make a full quart. Take a tablespoonful before each meal and on retiring. This tonic acts beneficially upon the stomach and liver, helps to assimilate your food and throw off impurities in the system, thus striking at the very roots of a sickly, pimply complexion.

Constance: Right now is the best time of the year to get rid of those facial blemishes, such as freckles, tan, skin pimples, etc., which come to us during the summer time. But you should not use soap on the face very often, as it makes the skin dry and hard. I recommend the use of a good greaseless face cream, which can be made by dissolving one ounce of almozoin (get it at any druggist's) in one-half pint cold water, and add two teaspoonfuls glycerine. Stir and let stand an hour or so. It is inexpensive and you will find its regular use will improve your skin wonderfully. It keeps the skin soft and satiny, smooth and moist. Almozoin cream jelly is a fine and soothing cleanser and will prevent blackheads, premature wrinkles, and when used as a massage cream will restore color to dark, sallow skin.

Mrs. E. S.: You will not need to wear your glasses constantly if you will treat your eyes with a good, strengthening eye tonic. Dissolve an ounce of crystos in a pint of water and drop one or two drops in each eye daily. This tonic is very strengthening to tired, weak and inflamed eyes, and will make your eyes clear and sparkling. It is fine for granulated eyelids and does not smart the eyes. You will find it very soothing.

Mrs. P. B. E.: It is very easy to be seen that you are entirely too stout for your height, and your superfluous flesh must be a great worry to you. Even though you have tried so many flesh-reducing remedies that did no good, I want you to try this formula. It has helped a great many and is harmless. Buy at any drug store four ounces parnotis and dissolve it in a pint of hot water. Take a tablespoonful before each meal for a few weeks, and I am sure you will be pleased with the results.

A. F. L.: Soap should never be used on the hair. It does more harm than good. It causes light streaks in the hair, brittleness, and leaves the scalp harsh and dry. If you wish to have your hair look bright and healthy, let soap and inferior ready-prepared shampoos alone. A good shampoo costs no more than a poor one. The most reliable shampoo I have ever used is made by dissolving a teaspoonful of canthrox in a cup of hot water. This shampoo cleanses the hair and scalp thoroughly, and leaves the scalp fresh, elastic and free from any irritation. It makes the hair soft and lustrous. Canthrox makes a particularly fine shampoo during the winter months, as it drys quickly. You can buy canthrox from your druggist or get a canthrox shampoo at almost any first-class hairdresser's.

SPORTING NEWS OF THE DAY

MIKE MURPHY MUST LOOK TO LAURELS WHEN FITZPATRICK INVADES THE EFFETE EAST

Princeton Has a Great Trainer Coming Out of the West—Bob Dunbar Is Missed at Winnipeg.

(BY BRUCE)

Down at Yale there is a tradition which says that the teams coached by the great Mike Murphy are the hardest teams in the world to beat. Out in the wholesome West there is also a tradition. The tale of the West is that Keene Fitzpatrick's teams are the hardest teams in this great section of the country to defeat.

There are two great trainers in this country who stand head and shoulders above all of the trainers of the college athlete. These two men are the great Mister Murphy and the idol of athletic Michigan, Keene Fitzpatrick.

And now Fitzpatrick is going to leave us. He is going to fold his tent and steal away in the night. He is going to Princeton, and you may be sure that the Tiger institution is getting one of the greatest trainers of athletes in the whole world.

In 1903, the year Minnesota and Michigan fought out that memorable battle at Northrop field, which ended in a tie score of 6 to 6, it was patent to the observer that the Michigan men were in much better shape than the Minnesota men. Minnesota men took out time repeatedly and they left the game from time to time.

There was a difference on the Michigan side. The men were trained to the minute, and it was only this splendid training that enabled Yost's men to hold Minnesota to an even game. Had the Gophers had as great a conditioner of men in charge, it is possible that there might have been a different story.

Not only does Fitzpatrick train the members of the football team, but he also coaches and trains the members of the Michigan track team. That the athletic record of the Wolverines is so high, is due largely to the great ability of Fitzpatrick.

A great trainer is indeed a rare man in this world. Trainers of thoroughbreds receive princely salaries. Trainers of college athletes also receive a very good salary, if they can produce the results. Now, Murphy and Fitzpatrick have always brought the results. Therefore they are both receiving high salaries; higher, in fact, than many of the business men with furrowed brows, who sit in the office chair from early until late wishing, oh, how devoutly, that their wives were not quite so extravagant.

The departure of Fitzpatrick will come as a great surprise. Most of the followers of college athletics in the West believed he was wedded to Michigan. The salary that Princeton will pay him is undoubtedly a very high one. Good college trainers receive more than most members of the faculty. Princeton probably came in heavily to see the cards Keene holds.

That college will not be in the least disappointed, for the man who has been in the West so long—so long, in fact, that he seems one of us—is considered just as great as the great and only Mike Murphy, famous at Yale and now famous at Pennsylvania. If Princeton has any track team material this spring, and you are a college man and are interested in such things, go out and make a bet that Princeton finishes one, two, three in the Eastern intercollegiate meet. Honest!

Up in Winnipeg, when the stones began to roar an old follower of the sport will have to scratch himself and blink his eyes, just to make sure that he is witnessing one of the big bonspiels.

The reason—Bob Dunbar will be missing.

Here at Duluth it did not seem like a regular, honest to goodness "spiel" without Bob. For years he has been the most familiar figure on the ice. Every visitor to the rink was always shown the great and only Bob Dunbar. He was the star attraction of every bonspiel he played in.

That the St. Paul wizard should miss two of the biggest bonspiels in one season, is something unheard of. It is nothing less than scandalous. There will be many a bonny old Scotchman at the Winnipeg "spiel" who will long for Dunbar with tears in his eyes for the memory of the events of the past.

Truly, without Dunbar the average bonspiel in the Northwest seems as incomplete as a good old Irish dinner without onions.

Joe Thomas the fighter—or, rather, who was not so very long ago a corkling good fighter, is going to marry a sister of Jimmy Gardner. It might also be stated that the lady in the case is a sister of George Gardner's. The lady has also another brother who is a fighter. If poor, old Joe has gone as far back as most us think he has, he will be awfully light in the lookout cabin if he starts anything with wifey. A lady coming from such a prominent pugilistic family as the Garner house, could hardly help learning by unconscious imitation, some of the tricks of the trade.

It required quite a spell for the news to come—but like the man who carries the ice, it has come at last.

It is about Robert J. Fitzsimmons. It is awfully hard to keep a good man down, and it is also hard to keep some people's names out of the paper.

They say that one of the reasons Fitz was beaten by the Lang party was because he was bitten in several sections of his anatomy by a mongoose. The little mongoose is some biter, at that. Fitz was taking the little animal out to let it cut its teeth on a juicy snake steak, when the small piece of fighting machinery grew tired of waiting for delicacy. It turned on poor old Fitz, and before the yells of the greatest of them all attracted help, the snake fighter had made several trademarks on the freckled body of the blacksmith.

Now that the long delayed and also relayed truth has come out, it is very probable that Fitzsimmons will be given another chance. Hugh McIntosh can fix it.

• • •

It might be asked, politely and with the utmost courtesy, if under the proposed new rules, football can not be played just as well by correspondence. Why not get an international game by cable?

• • •

In the attitude of Messrs Rickard and Gleason, there is ample opportunity for the National Peace society to try out its hand.

After his battle at Milwaukee the other night with one Jimmy Clabby, Mike (Twin) Sullivan is reported as saying that he did not want to do all the fighting for the family, but wished to give Jack (Twin) and also Brother Dan a chance. Mike said the same thing after the Ketchel fight. Look it up and see why he said it. He is generous—anyone would be under the circumstances.

E. J. McCullough, advance agent for the James J. Jeffries' troupe of athletes, was in the city yesterday. Mr. McCullough is an open-countenanced chap, with a ring of Celtic honesty in his voice. He says James J. will win on the coming Glorious Fourth. Gentle readers, play this information as you see fit.

Pursuing the subject of Jeffries further, for nobody would ever think of pursuing James J. in the flesh, Brother Mac came to the surface with the information that the big Buffalo was at the present time as light as he was the evening he soundly thrashed Akron Gus Ruhlin in five rounds. He also says that the Big One is in good condition, will be fit to fight for a kingdom when the day we all celebrate, in different ways, opens. Mr. McCullough is so cheerful, so open-faced and so pleasing, that it is very hard to believe Jeff is not in the best of condition—after listening to McCullough. We will all have the chance to use our own bright little optics Saturday night and exercise that thing called judgment.

HOBBLES PUT UNDER THE BAN

Use Will Gradually Be Restricted and Finally Abolished in 1915.

New York, Feb. 10.—Beginning with the season of 1915 no hobbles shall be used on racing horses and up to that time the device is to be gradually eliminated. This decision was adopted by the Twenty-fifth Congress of the National Trotting association yesterday. "Hobbles," says a new rule, "shall not be used in races or in performances against time on 2-year-olds, or under in 1910; on 3-year-olds or under in 1911; on 4-year-olds or under in 1912; on 5-year-olds or under in 1913; on 6-year-olds or under in 1914; after which time hobbles shall be barred."

No action was taken by the association on the request from the stewards of the Grand circuit that horses shall be eligible to start on half-mile tracks in classes four seconds slower than on mile track records.

It was decided that trotting associations in Ohio might join either the National association or the American association as they desired.

Section 1 of rule 4 was marked as follows: "In all purses five entries are required, and two to start, unless otherwise specified."

It was also decided that "if only one of the horses entered for a purse shall appear on the course, he shall be entitled to his own entrance money and to one-half of the entrance money received from the other entries for said purse."

Representatives of 381 tracks that are interested in trotting horses on the Grand circuit attended the meeting. President P. P. Johnston of Lexington, Ky., presided. Johnston was re-elected as president and the association adjourned until its next biennial session in 1912.

ALL STARS WILL MEET LEAGUERS

Team Representing Military League to Play Newt Randall's Aggregation.

What should prove the greatest indoor baseball game played at the Head of the Lakes the present season, or, in fact, for a number of seasons past, will be played Feb. 22 between the famous All Stars of this city, one of the crack teams of the state and a team selected from the Military league.

Capt. "Babe" Bennett of the pennant winning Company A team has chosen what is supposed to be the strongest team that can possibly be selected from the ranks of the league players. A determined effort will be made to tear the championship of the Head of the Lakes and the northern part of the state from the keeping of the All Stars.

Bennett, captain and catcher of the strong Company A team, will also act in that capacity on the All League team. He has chosen Lee of Company A and "Kid" Harris of Company I team as the pitchers of the team. Wagner, the crack first baseman of Company E, will play the initial sack; Schaeffer of Company A, second; Charles Porter of Company C will perch at third; McCauley of Company A will be at left short and H. Foster of Company C will be at the other side of the diamond in right short; Kentfield, one of the star fielders of the league, will play center field and Clark or Jones will hold down the other outfield position.

The team will start practice immediately and will hold practice games every evening before the game with the All Stars. Bennett has chosen the heaviest hitting team possible from the league ranks, for the All Stars are generous with the willow.

The game will be played the evening of Washington's birthday and will be followed by a dance. The contest will probably be the last of the season's indoor baseball games, unless a game is arranged with some of the crack teams of the Twin Cities.

MINNEAPOLIS QUINT COMING

Central Basket Ball Team to Meet Five From West High.

The athletic management of the Central high school announced today that a game of basket ball had been secured with the West high school of Minneapolis for a week from Saturday, the game to be played in this city. The coming of the crack basket team of Minneapolis should be quite the event of the local basket ball season.

The Aitkin high school basket ball team will play Central the coming Saturday. The game will be played in the boys' department gymnasium. A game has also been scheduled for the first team of the Y. M. C. A. The game will be played in the big gymnasium of the association, some time next week.

A shakeup will be made in the Central quint with the intention of increasing both the speed of the individual play and also the team work. If Central hopes to defeat the strong Minneapolis five it will have to show better form than it has shown in the games played so far the present season.

Practice will be held every day next week in preparation for the game with the Minneapolis five.

PARRES HEARD FROM.

Wisconsin Fighter Offers to Stop Curley Ulrich in Ten Rounds.

Jack Parres, who was soundly beaten by old Tom McCune at Port Arthur a year ago, and was also given a most unpleasant rough house reception by Art Allard of Lake Linden, has the temerity to offer to stop Curley Ulrich in ten rounds.

The only question there should be is whether this Parres party, about the worst excuse of any fighter who ever subsisted upon hot air, has the nerve to think he could make Ulrich extend himself.

Not only is this Parres a cheese when it comes to fighting, but he has the earmarks of the kind that doesn't care whether the public gets a run for its money. He is all through as a fighter, though he never got a very good start, and he should be the first to know it.

WILL FORM CREW.

Duluth Athletic Club Will Place Four on Water Next Season.

If present arrangements are carried out, the Duluth Athletic club will have a crew on the water the coming season. The club will probably place a four on the water for the first season, and if the rowing in the new club proves successful, an effort will be made to organize and eight.

Rowing will be tried as an experiment in the club. If the necessary amount of enthusiasm is shown and the club members desire to enter into the rowing game, the club may apply for a membership in the Western Rowing association.

At the present time it is planned to get members of the club who have had considerable experience in rowing, and organize a four. The men will be coached by members of the club. They will row simply for the sport and also to see whether rowing can be made a success in the club. If a four is organized in the Duluth Boat club some informal races may be held.

LEAGUE MAY BE REVIVED IN EAST

Big Colleges Look With Favor on Basket Ball Again.

New York, Feb. 10.—The Intercollegiate Basket Ball league, which went out of existence in 1907, will probably be revived for the season of 1910 to 1911, according to an announcement made here today. The prospective membership includes Yale, Princeton, Columbia and Pennsylvania, with the possible addition of Cornell and Harvard.

The league was suspended at a time when basket ball was attracting unfavorable attention because of its roughness. The collegians believe that by next season, the rules committee will have worked up a game that will meet all requirements.

BONHAG HOLDS MANY RECORDS

New York Athlete Made Thirty New Marks During Year 1909.

New York, Feb. 10.—The latest compilation of American athletic records, given out here today, credits George V. Bonhag of the Irish-American Athletic club, New York, with no less than thirty-one American running records, thirty of which were made during the season of 1909.

C. M. Daniels of the New York Athletic club holds practically all the individual swimming records and figures also in several record relay teams. Daniels holds forty-three records, made at various times during the last few years.

SAMMY DOESN'T LIKE LOS ANGELES.

Los Angeles, Cal., Feb. 10.—Embittered by the decision against him in his battle with Jim Flynn Tuesday night, Sam Langford says he will leave Los Angeles tonight, never to return. With his manager, Joe Woodman, the black fighter will go to San Francisco to arrange for contests with Jim Barry and Ketchel.

PLANNING TO DROP DULUTH

Rumor Says Superior and Duluth May Be Out of Circuit.

O'Brien Completes Schedule for Spring Practice Games for Sox.

There is a story coming from reliable sources in the southern part of the state that both Duluth and Superior will be cut out of the Minnesota-Wisconsin league the coming season, and that a circuit will be formed of teams from Wausau, Chippewa Falls, Eau Claire, Winona, La Crosse, Red Wing, Mankato and Rochester.

At present the source of the story cannot be given. Baseball officials of this city know nothing about it, and when informed of the rumor, Manager Kuehnow stated that it was news to him. He will get into communication with President Elliott today.

The proposed circuit would be something like the old Wisconsin State league.

The delay in calling the meeting of the magnates of the Minny league, together with the various rumors of new towns entering the league, and also the failure of President Elliott to visit this part of the territory, would give some color to the story.

If Duluth were cut out of the league it would mean that there would be no professional baseball for this city the coming season. Amateur and semi-professional baseball would be the nearest approach to league baseball.

It is expected that some definite information of the status of the league's affairs will be received the present week. A meeting of the magnates cannot very well be postponed further.

Manager Kuehnow has signed J. Gaudlitz, a catcher of the Lake Shore league. The man comes to the White Sox fold with a recommendation, both as a hitter and a fielding catcher. He was considered the best receiver in the Lake Shore league last season.

In a letter from Darby O'Brien, Manager Kuehnow has received the completed itinerary of the spring training trip of the Sox. The following dates have been secured by the Irish Poet: Canton, Ohio, April 12 and 13; Wheeling, W. Va., April 14 and 15; Mansfield, Ohio, April 16 and 17; Dayton, Ohio, April 18 and 19; Marion, Ohio, April 20 and 21; Lima, Ohio, April 22 and 23; Fort Wayne, Ind., April 24; South Bend, Ind., April 25 and 26; Rockford, Ill., April 27, 28, 29, 30, and first of May; Oshkosh, Wis., May 2 and 3. From there the team will probably go to one of the Southern league towns to open the season, providing no changes are made in the circuit.

ULRICH LOSES DECISION TO LEWIS AT FARGO.

Fargo, N. D., Feb. 10.—(Special to The Herald.)—After fifteen rounds of fierce slugging in one of the toughest fights ever seen in the Northwest, Jack Lewis of Memphis won the decision over "Curley" Ulrich by a shade last night. Lewis was at least fourteen pounds heavier than Ulrich. Both men took a great gruelling.

INJURIES TO FIGHTER FATAL

Harry Gilmore, Sr., and Five Other Men Arrested By Police.

Chicago, Feb. 10.—Albert Wilkowski died in a hospital last night following injuries received the previous night in a ten-round boxing match. The police took into custody, pending the outcome of a coroner's inquest, Harry Gilmore, the veteran boxer; George McCarthy and George Leatham.

The bout took place in Gilmore's academy with McCarthy as Wilkowski's opponent. Leatham was one of the seconds. The men fought with two-ounce gloves. The rounds were fast and furious, the spectators being mostly pupils of boxing at the academy. Cheers went up as the men fought, each with a good chance of victory. At the tenth round the men finished in apparently good condition, but shortly afterwards Wilkowski collapsed. He complained of severe pains and was taken to a hospital. His death followed twenty-four hours later.

Others taken into custody were James Barry, a bantamweight pugilist, who is said to have been one of the referees; William Sullivan, McCarthy's second, and Vincent Brue, a pugilist.

Wilkowski was known as "Jack Coburn" of Grand Rapids. Physicians said he died of a fractured skull.

It was said the fight was "pulled off" without the knowledge of the police and in violation of the city ordinance. The spectators were attracted to the academy by the announcement of an "exhibition" match. As a result of the fatal affair the police have been instructed to stop all such bouts.

RUGBY IS INDORSED.

Former Columbia Star Would Substitute Game for Modern Football.

New York, Feb. 10.—Rugby football as a substitute for the game now played in American colleges, has received another vote of indorsement from J. P. Conover of St. Paul's school, Concord, N. H., a former Columbia star and an ex-member of the rules committee. He says:

"The few men who have played genuine rugby and who have followed every move in the development of our modern game, know that there is no remedy but to abolish interference utterly and go back to a natural game, such as rugby."

WRESTLING MATCH.

Oredeman and Dr. Roller to Settle Near Supremacy Title at Seattle.

From the number of inquiries received by the sporting department of The Herald in regard to the Ordeman-Roller contest it would seem that the impression has gone abroad that the men met last night. There was a story that the men would meet last night, but it originated through a mistake in the date by Jack Curley, manager for Dr. Roller.

The men will meet this evening in Seattle, Wash., Dr. Roller's own town. Advices from Seattle state that there are quite a number of followers of wrestling in Seattle who are picking the big Minneapolis Norweglan as the winner of the contest.

The winner of the match can be classed as the next best wrestler to Gotch, of at least all the American mat artists.

WILL PRESENT CUPS.

Emblems of Yachting Victories Will Be Awarded at Skippers' Dinner.

Formal award of the cups and trophies won during the past summer by the skippers of the Duluth Boat club will be presented Friday evening at an informal dinner to be given at the Spalding hotel. Dinner will be served at 6:45.

George Holland, skipper of the Scud; Dr. Frank Lynman and the Pierce brothers will be awarded cups. Plans for the coming season will also be made. Tickets may be secured from Charles Brewer.

CHAMPION HOPPE COMING.

Boy Billiard King Will Be Seen Here in Exhibition.

Ora Morningstar and Willie Hoppe will give an exhibiton of billiards in this city Feb. 21. Charles Tennes, manager of the two billiard players, was in the city yesterday and completed arrangements for the local appearance.

Hoppe recently played all around the veteran Morningstar in their match game at Pittsburg. Since then the two men have been playing exhibition games in various cities of the country. They will play both afternoon and evening. The exhibitions will be played at the Majestic billiard parlor.

Cass Lake Against Bagley.

Cass Lake, Minn., Feb. 12.—(Special to The Herald.)—Arrangements have been perfected for a game of basketball between the Bagley and Cass Lake high schools here next Saturday evening. Both teams have been playing excellent ball and a good game is looked for.

Polo Team From India.

New York, Feb. 10.—Far away India will probably send a team of championship polo players to America to compete against the stars of the East and West. The team will be composed in India, but will include also one or two native players. The plan is said to have the endorsement of the Calcutta Turf club and of the Maharajah of Cooch Behar, who is an enthusiastic follower of the sport.

PINCHOT MAKES ACCUSATION

Says Law Has Been Prostituted in Cutting of Training of Rangers.

New York, Feb. 10.—Gifford Pinchot, deposed chief forester of the United States, but still loyal to his policies as president of the national conservation commission, defended the rangers of the forest service in a speech delivered before the National Arts club in New York last night and bitterly assailed the action of George P. McCabe, solicitor of the department, who as temporary chief, after Pinchot's dismissal, took action to abolish the collegiate training of foresters at government expense. This action Mr. Pinchot describes as "a secret attack upon the service, prostitution of the law, a method so effectively used by special interests against the people, and a cruel and needless loss."

McCabe Makes Reply.

Washington, Feb. 10. — "Absolutely untrue" is the manner in which George P. McCabe, solicitor for the department of agriculture, characterized the charge made by former Chief Forester Gifford Pinchot that he (McCabe) had shut off the instruction of forest rangers without consulting any one in the forest service. Believing that such expenditure was not legally permissable, Mr. McCabe said, he brought the matter to the attention of the chiefs of the various divisions of the service. He said:

"Secretary Wilson suggested that the affair be ledged with the comptroller of the treasury, which was done. His ruling was according to the law, stripped of sentiment. When it was received, the abolishment of education of government employes at government expense followed."

Mr. E. A. Kelley, Belvidere, Ill., writes us: "I am an ex-engineer with 22 years active service to my credit. About three years ago my kidneys were affected so that I had to give up my engine. First I was troubled with severe, aching pain over the hips. Then followed inflammation of the bladder, and specks appeared before my eyes. A sample of Foley's Kidney Pills that I tried so benefited me that I bought more. I continued to take them until now I can safely testify they have made me a sound and well man." To the Common Council:

Your joint committee on Streets, Alleys and Sidewalks and Finance, to which was referred recommendation of the Board of Public Works, that an additional $50,000 of permanent improvement revolving fund bonds be issued, find that according to the annual report of the Board of Public Works the estimated cost of the work already petitioned for to be done this year exceeds the total amount expended in the year 1909, and it is claimed by said Board of Public Works that unless the additional bonds are issued that many necessary improvements will be delayed. Notwithstanding the probability of said delay in making improvements, your committee would be opposed to the issuance of said bonds if it appeared that the present year was an exceptional year, and that the present revolving fund would take care of the improvements under ordinary circumstances. By the original charter adopted in 1900 the limit of the revolving fund was placed at $100,000 and $89,000 of bonds were sold. It soon became apparent that this was insufficient to meet the requirements of the fund, and an amendment to the charter was adopted in 1902, authorizing the issuance of $50,000 of additional bonds. In order to avoid the interest charges on this amount the issuance of said bonds has been postponed until the present time. In the opinion of your committee the conditions of the present year are not temporary, but the demands on the revolving fund will be continually increasing as the city grows, and we are of the same opinion as is the Board of Public Works that the work of the city would be seriously handicapped unless available funds are provided for the making of improvements. We therefore recommend the adoption of the following:

W. S. MOORE,
J. E. FOUBISTER,
JOHN HOGAN,
LUCIEN MERRITT,
PETER OLSON,
Committee.

Resolved, That the city attorney is hereby directed to prepare and return to this council an ordinance providing for the issuance, form and sale of $50,000 of bonds for the permanent improvement revolving fund.

Alderman Moore moved the adoption of the resolution, and it was declared adopted by a unanimous yea vote of all present, on roll call.
Passed Feb. 7, 1910.
Approved Feb. 9, 1910.

WHEAT HAS AN ADVANCE

Duluth Leads All the American Markets in the Upturn.

Flax Is Quiet, Options Scoring a Fractional Advance Here.

Duluth Board of Trade, Feb. 10.—Wheat scored a sharp advance today, Duluth May leading all other markets with an upturn of 1⅜c over yesterday's closing price. Higher cables caused a strong opening and speculative activity, scare reports concerning the growing crop which induced buying in July option, covering by shorts who tried to buy back what they sold yesterday, a slightly improved export demand, and the congested condition of the near option, all combined to produce a pronounced upturn.

May opened at $1.11¼ bid, sold at $1.11⅜, $1.11½, $1.11⅝, $1.11⅞, then at $1.12⅛, down ⅛c and up to $1.12⅜, closing $1.12⅛ asked. July opened at $1.11¼ with no trading, went to $1.11⅜ nominal, and sold at $1.12¼ and closed at that price asked. Trading in wheat was only moderate.

The flax market was quiet. May opened at $2.16, lost ¼c and regained the opening and advanced ½c, closing $2.16½ asked. September was $1.68 nominal, unchanged. There was no trading in the July and October options.

The near option in the American markets closed: Chicago, 1¼c up; Minneapolis, 1⅜c up; New York, 1¼c up; Winnipeg, 1c up; Kansas City, ⅝c up, and St. Louis 1¼@-c up.

Durum closed 1⅜c up, being high at 99⅜c. Rye and barley were unchanged, oats closed ⅝c up. Cash equaled May.

The market opened⅜c up this morning May being that much higher at the opening than the closing bid price yesterday. Cables unexpectedly were much stronger, Liverpool closing ¼@⅝c higher. The foreign situation was stronger on reports of lighter Argentine shipments, liberal buying by the continent and less pressure to dispose of Argentine and Australian cargoes.

Sentiment in the American markets is badly mixed. The professionals at Chicago were on the bull side and on account of the low stocks there and the congested condition of May, due to an oversold condition, they were able to keep prices well under control. The situation in that market today was purely speculative. Trading was comparatively light but because of the restricted stocks it was easy for the pit crowd to hold up the market. In the Northwest, the professionals appear to be on the short side. They sold heavily on yesterday's decline and today they did little but sit around and wait for the market to subside, which it didn't. There was very little short covering here, although in Minneapolis some people helped the millers bull prices by buying back what they sold yesterday. The millers were about the only legitimate bulls in the Northwest. The market was dull and trading was light, the professionals being in a waiting attitude. Most of them accepted the bulge as natural after yesterday's break and were of the opinion that the market was top heavy and prices were due for a decline.

The domestic demand today was only fair, so far as the Northwestern markets were concerned. The city millers bought moderately and the country millers took very little of anything. Cash premiums strengthened. No. 1 northern being taken by mills in Minneapolis at 2c over the near option Cash equaled May. Line elevators report a light movement from the farmers. The small country receipts are not figuring in the situation just now as there is an immense quantity of grain in transit to be cleaned up. As soon as the country elevators get rid of their stocks the position of the farmer will be a more pronounced factor, however. The receipts today were somewhat lighter than the general run in the last three or four weeks. This was due mostly to the inability of the railroads to handle the stuff. In some portions of the Northwest the temperature ranged from 10 deg. above zero to 20 deg. below, and the extreme cold seriously hampers transportation. Duluth is about the warmest place in the Northwest.

Flour sales which were said to be unusually heavy in the fore part of the week have taken a slump. It was reported that the Minneapolis mills sold 1,497,000 barrels of flour in January, breaking all records for that month.

Export business in Manitoba continues moderate. Bids at Winnipeg and Montreal have been out of line. The Southwest is selling wheat for export to Mexico. Shipments from Kansas City and St. Louis are in excess of receipts, reflecting to some extent the movement to the southern republic. This demand has a tendency to strengthen cash values in those markets. It is reported that all of the supply at St. Louis has been sold for shipment.

Owing to the crop scare rumors some speculators bought July wheat today. The demand had a beneficial effect on the near option. While a majority of traders believe that the condition of winter wheat is satisfactory yet the speculative element is inclined to take advantage of the annual crop scare rumors which are floating in from various parts of the country. Any authentic news of material damage to the growing crop would undoubtedly breed a widespread wave of bullish enthusiasm that would cause a general buying movement of considerable intensity. Most of the reports come by way of Kansas City and St. Louis. Nebraska reported through a Kansas City house, that the damage to the growing crop in that state is most serious than was first believed. Some messages said the damage in various portions of the state reached 25 per cent and in a few instances 50 per cent. Kansas has reported considerable damage in isolated places but Secretary F. D. Coburn of the Kansas agricultural department, who probably knows more about the condition of the crop than anyone else, is quoted as saying that the damage is only nominal and that the crop, from present indications, will be a bumper one.

Regarding the condition of the crop, Price Current said, "Some freezing and thawing in the past week without essential disturbance of the generally favorable position of the wheat crop, which is in good shape for meeting adverse weather conditions, with little exception."

Liverpool—The wheat market at the opening was affected by the lower American cables yesterday and values were ⅛@⅜d lower. Later and during the remainder of the morning session the markets was well supported and with offerings light prices advanced ⅜@½d. Support was stimulated by the forecast of lighter shipments from Argentine and the reported liberal sales to the Continent yesterday. There was decidedly less pressure to sell Argentine and Australian cargoes and parcels and some fears are expressed regarding the outlook for the American crop. The market at midday showed a firm undertone with prices⅛@⅜d higher than yesterday. Corn was easy at the start and ½d lower later declined an additional ½d on the poor demand and larger stocks here and favorable Argentine weather. Wheat cargoes arrived off coast nil and awaiting orders four. Wheat cargoes in distant positions steady with less offerings. Corn steady with a fair demand.

THE CHICAGO MARKET.

Wheat Opens With Recovery From Losses of Wednesday.

Chicago, Feb. 10.—Wheat practically recovered in the opening trades today the net loss recorded yesterday. Furthermore, the market quickly added ⅛@⅜c to the initial gain. Light offerings and scattered buying from commission houses and shorts gave impetus to the advance. May rose from $1.10¼ to $1.10⅞@1.11 in the first hour and steadied close to the high level. Opening figures were a shade to ½c higher, with May at $1.10¼@1.10⅝.

On a strong demand, the market continued to advance throughout the session. The gain on all the futures was ⅝@1c. May went up to $1.11⅝. The close was strong at nearly the high point, with May at $1.11⅝, a price 1½c higher than yesterday's final figures.

Covering by shorts gave an upward trend to corn. Opening figures were unchanged to ½c higher. The strength of wheat helped along in the first hour an advance of ¼@⅝c, May moving up from 65⅞c to 66⅝@66½c. Opening figures for May were 65⅞@66c, unchanged to ⅛c higher than the previous close.

The market kept to its upward trend, prices advancing ¾@1c. May touching 66⅞c. The close was strong at nearly the high point with May at 66⅜@66⅞c. This was ⅛@1c higher than yesterday.

Oats also showed firmness, induced by the strength of other grain. The market opened a shade to ⅛c higher, in the first hour prices held within narrow limits, May advancing from 46⅜@46⅝c. Opening figures for May were 46⅜@46½c.

Provisions, after an easy start, with most of the futures declining 2½@5c, developed firmness on a good demand, supplemented by the grain strength. Prices advanced 5@12c, May pork going from $22.42@22.55. Opening figures for the May products were: Pork, $22.42; lard, $12.20; ribs, $11.85@11.82.

THE MINNEAPOLIS MARKET.

Wheat Turns Firmer on Falling Off in the Receipts.

Minneapolis, Minn., Feb. 10.—The falling off in receipts made the wheat market firmer today, an unexpected advance in Liverpool added to the strength. May opened ⅜c higher than yesterday's close and after fluctuation in a range of 1@1⅛c, closed ⅞c higher than the opening. It is expected the Argentine shipments this week will show a decrease. ADVANCES IN STOCKS

Started Upward With Broad and Active Demand Throughout List.

Pressure to Sell Affected Some Stocks and Close Was Irregular.

New York, Feb. 10.—Prices of stocks started upward today with a broad and active demand throughout the list. The gains extended to a substantial fraction for most of the active speculative stocks. Republic Steel showed a gain of 2⅜; National Lead, 1¾; United States Rubber and Utah Copper, 1½; Wabash preferred, 1¼, and Central Leather a point. Wells-Fargo sold at an advance of 11 points.

A slight reaction was soon overcome, the standard railroad stocks rebounding to their best figures at the opening, while a number of industrials sold well above that level. National Lead got up 3 points. Allis-Chalmers preferred 2⅝, Pullman 2, American Locomotive 1½, Norfolk & Western, Consolidated Gas and Interborough Metropolitan preferred 1¼ and Reading, Union Pacific preferred, Southern Railway preferred, Cleveland, Cincinnati, Chicago & St. Louis, the Iowa Central stocks, Amalgamated Copper, American Smelting, American Car, Tennessee Copper, American Beet Sugar, American Hide & Leather preferred and American Woolen 1. The demand subsided at the advance.

There were sharp advances in Norfolk & Western of 2¾, Rock Island 1⅝, United States Rubber 3¾, National Biscuit 2½, American Steel Foundries and Pressed Steel Car 1½, and Union Pacific, Chicago & Alton, Chicago Great Western, Denver & Rio Grande, Pittsburg, Columbus, Cincinnati & St. Louis, General Electric, American Agricultural Chemical, Virginia-Carolina Chemical and Sloss-Sheffield Steel 1. In other stocks there was increasing pressure to sell. United States Steel, Amalgamated Copper, American Smelting and Chesapeake & Ohio were placed a fraction under last night and other gains were largely impaired. Bonds were firm.

The market closed irregular. Norfolk & Western was pushed up 4 points in the final hour. Louisville & Nashville, 2½, Wheeling & Lake Erie first preferred, 1¾, and Northern Pacific, Atlantic Coast Line, American Telephone & Telegraph and American Car preferred, 1. Advantage was taken of the sustaining efforts to sell the general list again. The decline stopped short of the earlier low levels. Utah Copper, Canadian Pacific and American Sugar fell 1, and International Pump, 3. There were some brisk rallies in the final dealings.

New York stock quotations furnished The Herald by Piper, Johnson & Case.

FATE RESTS WITH JURY

The Trial of Jackson McPherson Is Rapidly Drawing to a Close.

County Attorney Norton Makes His Last Argument for Conviction.

The case of Jackson McPherson is about ready for the jury.

This morning McPherson, who was on the stand a greater part of the day yesterday, finished his testimony and County Attorney John H. Norton made his address to the jury.

Mr. Norton called attention to the weak parts of the testimony of the defendant and made a strong talk for conviction.

This afternoon Attorney Whipple for the defendant will begin his address to the jury and if he finishes in time the jury will be charged by Judge Ensign and sent out late this afternoon.

McPherson is charged with the shooting of his shipmate, Otto Frey, on board the Mutual Transit company's package freighter North Lake on Sept. 22 last. The men were alone at the time of the trouble. They had quarreled during the day on which the shooting took place. McPherson claims self-defense.

The trial has been on before Judge Ensign since Monday.

PLAYED ROLE OF THE SPY

Husband Is Fined For Molesting Wife Against Court's Orders.

Thought That Wife Was Entertaining Other Men Too Freely.

For having spied on his wife and unceremoniously entered her home via a trap door located in the attic of the house, William H. Sansam, a retail meat dealer, was this morning fined $1 by Judge Dibell of the district court. Sansam was under orders of the court to keep away from his wife until the divorce proceedings instituted some time ago are settled.

Sansam was brought before the court to show why he should not be held in contempt for disobeying the orders of the court.

Saturday night he went to the house next door to the one occupied by his wife and their three small children, to pay the rent. After this transaction he and Richard Hancock climbed to the attic and looked down through the trap door. Mrs. Sansam and her sister, Miss Goldie Wise, were entertaining two young men, Daniel and Jack O'Leary. The peepers did not make known their presence and went quietly away.

Sunday night they went back and the men were again there. Sansam dropped through the trap door and opened the front door for a policeman, who had been called.

Mrs. Sansam claims that the young men were rooming at her house and that they were there properly. The policeman saw no reason to make arrests and went away.

This morning the case was continued with the result stated. The whole affair was thrashed out and many neighbors testified. It seems that in the vicinity of the Sansam home, 731 West Third street, the surrounding residents have taken sides with one party or the other and everybody was willing to tell what he knew and then guess a trifle.

"Of course, it was none of my business," was a common remark with the women who testified, but one woman did admit that she had pecked under the blind—but just for a moment. She saw the men there a number of times, and it was common talk about the neighborhood.

The women claimed that Mr. O'Leary was there a great deal, while Mrs. Sansam said that she had met him but a few days previous to the trouble in court. He claimed that he drove a delivery rig for a local dry cleaning house, and that he was there on business each time. The women who testified, after having timed his stay, stated that delivery men did not linger in their houses for an hour at a time.

In fining Sansam, Judge Dibell said: "Sansam directly violated the orders of the court. On the other hand, Mrs. Sansam's conduct is not especially praiseworthy. I hereby order him in the future to keep away from the house at all times other than he is allowed there for the purpose of visiting his children."

The hearing took the entire morning.

RAILROADS

TRAINLOAD OF IMMIGRANTS

Advance Guard of Great Movement Said to Be in Prospect.

A special train of immigrants came in yesterday from the Copper country. There were over 180 in the party. Some of the members of the party went to the range, where they will be employed in the mines, it is understood, and others went on to Canada.

The train of yesterday is the first train of immigrants from the Copper country the present season. Many of the immigrants on yesterday's special were immigrants that came over from the old country only recently and have been landed at Canadian ports, coming from Montreal via the Canadian Pacific and South Shore.

Local immigration officials say the early arrival of the special train of immigrants is only the advance guard of the heavy immigration that will pour into the Northwest the present season.

Employes Laid Off.

Several office and traffic employes of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railroad, have been laid off by that company. Whether the letting out of a number of the officials is because of the dull season of the traffic year, or whether it is because of an economical policy upon the part of the officials of the company, cannot be learned in local railway circles. It is stated here that officials of the passenger department of the road have felt the effect of the recent order with especial force.

Blanchard Visits Duluth.

E. C. Blanchard, general superintendent of the Northern Pacific, is here this morning. All today Mr. Blanchard was in busy consultation with K. M. Nicoles, superintendent of the Lake Superior division of the Northern Pacific. Mr. Blanchard said he had nothing to say for publication. It is understood that Mr. Blanchard is here on routine business, and is simply going over the affairs of this division with Mr. Nicoles.

MUST TELL THEIR CAMPAIGN EXPENSES.

H. W. Chendle, city clerk, is sending notices to the officials elected Feb. 1, that they must file affidavits of their election expenses with him before they can take office. The law requires that candidates do this within thirty days, but their terms begin March 1, or in less than thirty days from the time they were elected. The same provision applies to all treasurers of campaign committees.

POLICE CLAIM THAT GEORGE BOOKER MAY HAVE KILLED CLARK

Stepson of Man Who Died on Way to Duluth Is Arrested.

Autopsy Shows Ribs of Dead Man Broken as If By Blows.

Explanation Offered By the Prisoner Fails to Satisfy the Officers.

SAYS SON IS INNOCENT.

Mrs. Charles Clark, mother of George Booker, under arrest in connection with the death of Charles Clark, her husband, stoutly maintains that her son is innocent of any crime. With tears in her eyes and a broken voice, she declared that the arrest of her son by the police was an outrage.

"My boy hasn't got a dishonest hair in his head," she said. "He loved my husband, just the same as a son would love a father. Never has a cross word passed between them. They were together much of the time, and I refuse to believe the things that my son is accused of."

Mrs. Clark stated today that her husband had been suffering from a bad rupture for over thirteen years, and that he was not well on the morning he left home. Besides George Booker, Clark is survived by three children of his own: Spencer, Bert and Lois, who reside with their grandmother at Cheboygan, Mich.

Bertie Booker, another stepson, resides at Twenty-first avenue west. The funeral will be held Saturday.

George Booker, 25 years old, a teamster, was arrested by Chief Troyer and Detectives Terry and Toewe this morning, on suspicion of having murdered his step-father, Charles Clark, 65 years old, who died in a sleigh on the way to Duluth from French River, Wednesday.

Extremely suspicious circumstances surround the old man's death, and the authorities are satisfied that Booker knows more about it than he has yet told. The investigation is being pushed, and plans were made this noon to visit the scene of Clark's death, in the big Franklin automobile this afternoon.

Clark died while being hauled to Duluth in a sleigh by Booker. The post-mortem examination at the undertaking rooms of Olson & Crawford in the West end last night showed that he had six broken ribs and a fractured

HITS BULL'S EYE AND DROPS DEAD

Veteran Shoots Better Than Youngsters and Dies of Excitement.

Washington, Pa., Feb. 11.—"How's that for a bull's eye?" said Levy T. Proctor, a Civil war veteran, as he turned from a target at which he shot.

As the words left his lips he dropped, a lifeless heap, on the floor.

Proctor, who was 75 years old, was entertaining friends at his home with a rifle contest. He was widely known as a marksman and after some of the younger folks had tried their skill he made the best shot of all. Excitement over the contest is said to have brought on heart failure.

HYDE AFTER DAMAGES

Doctor's Arrest Is Followed By Great Activity in Civil Actions.

Alleged Prisoner Is Found to Have Been Excellent Chemist.

Kansas City, Mo., Feb. 11.—Dr. B. C. Hyde was arrested late yesterday, charged with the murder of his wife's millionaire uncle, Col. Thomas H. Swope. Today the struggle by lawyers was intensified to obtain the depositions of important witnesses in the damage suit brought by Mr. Hyde against John G. Paxton for alleged slander.

In this civil suit Dr. Hyde demands $50,000 actual damages and $50,000 punitive damages because Mr. Paxton wrote to Stewart S. Fleming, and executor of the Swope estate at Columbia.

Howard Little Is Electrocuted for Sextuple Murder in Virginia.

"Handsomest Man in the State" Convicted of Brutal Crime.

Richmond, Va., Feb. 11.—Howard Little, who murdered Mrs. Betsy Justis, her son-in-law George Meadows and the latter's wife and three children in their home near Hurley, Buchanan county, last September, was put to death in the penitentiary here today. He was electrocuted just at dawn.

Little confessed last night to Rev. J. R. Johnson, pastor of Venaeble Street Baptist church, that he killed George McKinney in Eastern Kentucky several years ago, and to several other crimes for which the prisoner had not been tried, but the nature of which Mr. Johnson would not disclose.

To the minister Little denied having committed the sextuple butchery which led to the electrocution.

Most murderers are executed for single murders; Howard Little has seven to his account. There were six at once in the wholesale butchery for which he was sentenced to die in the electric chair here today:—a man, two women and three children—Mrs. Betty Justis, George Meadows, Mrs. Mead-

EX-BOXER FINED FOR AN ASSAULT

Rival Insurance Agent Says George F. Mason Spit in His Eye.

Denver, Colo., Feb. 11.—George F. Mason, insurance solicitor and one time an amateur boxer of considerable reputation, who is said to have boxed with Charlie Mitchell, was yesterday fined $10 and given a reprimand by Judge Allen in the district court. Mason, who was convicted on the charge of assault and battery, had eschewed encounters under Queensberry rules, according to the complainant, W. A. Holdman, a fellow insurance solicitor. The latter declares that Mason "slapped his face and then subjected him to the humiliation of spitting in his eye."

The alleged assault occurred in a downtown life insurance building. Holdman's version of the encounter, told on the witness stand, was greeted by a round of laughter in which court officials, attorneys and spectators joined.

In delivering sentence Judge Allen intimated that the place for a "scrapping man" was in the roped arena, and not in public offices.

SOLONS VISIT COLD STORAGE

Columbus, Ohio, Feb. 11.—The legislative food probe committee started out today to investigate the market houses and cold storage plants of Columbus. All the markets in the city were visited. The cold storage plants also were thoroughly inspected.

THE JURY IS STILL OUT

Fate of Jackson McPherson Is Hanging in the Balance.

Accused Man Is Confident of an Acquittal, But Is Worried.

The jury in the case of Jackson McPherson, charged with the murder of Otto Frey aboard the Mutual Transit company's package freighter North Lake, was still out at 2 o'clock this afternoon.

The final argument in behalf of the accused man was made yesterday afternoon by Attorney Whipple and Judge Ensign charged the jury.

McPherson is confident that he will be acquitted, although the continued absence of the jury seems to worry him some. Just at present it looks like a disagreement. This, McPherson says, would be very disappointing, as he hopes for an acquittal.

The case was very brief. It began Monday last. All the first day was given over to the selection of a jury and the taking of evidence began Tuesday morning. Thursday night the evidence was all in, the attorneys had made their closing arguments, and the jury had been charged and sent out.

McPherson and Otto Frey, the man who was shot, were friends. They quarreled in the bunk house of the steamer about the noon hour on Sept. 22. McPherson says that he acted in self-defense. The state claims that he deliberately shot his former friend in cold blood. There were no witnesses to the shooting.

County Attorney John H. Norton and his assistant, Attorney Warren E. Greene, appeared for the state, while Attorney Whipple acted for McPherson.

Sensational rescues of life featured the spectacular fire which totally gutted the building occupied by the Schulze Bros.' harness and saddlery business and the McClellan Paper company on Michigan street, east of Lake avenue, this morning. The losses will amount to about $190,000, covered by about $100,000 insurance.

The lives of four men who had been cut off by the flames, which spread with lightning-like rapidity, were saved in the most remarkable manner yet recorded in Duluth.

FOUR MEN SAY THEY KNOW THE CLOTHES

Think Skeleton Is That of Girl Who Disappeared Last April.

San Francisco, Cal., Feb. 11.—Jewelry and clothing worn by the girl whose skeleton was found on Mount Tamalpais Feb. 3 were identified yesterday by four men as having belonged to Anna Jensen, a domestic who was employed in a local boarding house and who has not been seen since April 1, 1909. These men, who lived at the boarding house conducted by Miss Helma Carlson, are positive in the identification.

The four men now live apart, and none was aware of the fact yesterday that the others had connected the Tamalpais mystery with the Jensen girl.

An effort will be made to trace the movements of Miss Jensen after leaving the boarding house last April.

CLAIM THEY WERE INDUCED TO SELL

Wells-Fargo Stockholders Say Somebody on the Inside Tricked Them.

New York, Feb. 11.—Charges that certain of the "insiders" in the Wells-Fargo Express company, knowing in advance that the 300 per cent "melon" would be cut, had tricked stockholders out of holdings will be laid before the interestate commerce commission. One of the alleged victims has prepared a charge that an agent for some insiders traveled about the country prior to the melon-cutting and induced stockholders to part with holdings just a little above the market price, but far below the figure to which the stock jumped when the melon was announced.

FOREMAN OF FAMOUS ARMSTRONG JURY DIES.

MAYOR HAVEN WILL SIGN RAILROAD FRANCHISE

Fairbanks Sees Deputies.

Rome, Feb. 11.—Former Vice President Fairbanks occupied a seat in the diplomatic box during today's sitting of the chamber of deputies.

Agreement Is Reached at Conference Held in City Hall.

Compromise Route Suggested By Mayor Will Be Considered.

Through the efforts of Mayor Haven, who says that he has sought all through to see that the best interests of the city were served, the warring factions over the franchise to the Canadian Northern Railway company to come through West Duluth, were brought together this morning on a compromise proposition that pleases everybody concerned, locally, and that is thought to be attractive enough to please the high officials of the railway committee, when it is submitted to them.

As the proposition now stands, Mayor Haven will sign the ordinance granting the franchise, but he will do so with the understanding on the part of both the railway company and the West Duluth property owners, that if the plan submitted by the mayor as a compromise can be worked out from an engineering standpoint, it will be adopted.

The new plan was broached to the railway's local representatives and representatives of the protesting West Duluth people, and at a conference held in the council chamber of the city hall this morning, it was explained in detail by the mayor. After the conference Mayor Haven said that both Mr. Hazen,

TOO BUSY TO TALK ABOUT $7,000,000

Lawyer Tells How J. P. Morgan Figured in the Telephone Purchase.

New York, Feb. 11.—In a determined effort to prevent the attorneys for the Ohio and Indiana independent telephone companies from calling J. P. Morgan to the witness stand in the hearing before a notary here, his counsel today revealed just what the famous financier had to do with the $7,000,000 deal. It shows how easily and quickly financial matters are handled in Wall street.

"H. P. Davison, a partner in the Morgan firm, was the only one who knew of the transaction," said one of Mr. Morgan's lawyers. "After Mr. Davison had made all arrangements, he sought Mr. Morgan to tell him about it and obtain formal consent. Mr. Morgan had just left his office, but Mr. Davison caught the financier's taxicab at the curb, and through the window of the vehicle told Mr. Morgan the principal details and that the Morgan firm was to pay R. L. Day & Co. $7,245,000 for the Ohio and Indiana companies. That was the first and only thing Mr. Morgan ever heard of the subject. But he said to Davison: 'All right; go ahead with the deal and close it up. I'm in a hurry now to keep a luncheon appointment.'

"That is all Mr. Morgan knows about it."

"SOMEBODY BLUNDERED"

Nicaraguan Provisionals Suffer Severe Repulse as Result of Error.

Gen. Blandon Is Killed and Misread Order Leads to Disaster.

Bluefields, Nicaragua, Feb. 11.—Gen. Blandon, killed in the recent battle between the forces of Madriz and Estrada, died as he held in his hand Gen. Luis Mena's order to stand and fight. A misinterpretation of this order by another officer is held by the Provisionals to be responsible for the retreat of the Estrada troops, following a repulse by the government forces at Santa Clara. The insurgents do not admit defeat, and declare that the way to Managua is open to them.

It is explained that Gen. Mena had not expected to defeat the enemy with his small force, but planned to keep

NO MORE GREEK LABOR SCANDALS

Great Northern Railway Will Establish Own Labor Bureau.

The Great Northern Railway company will establish its own employment offices as a result of the recent scandal caused by dishonest agents and the so-called interpreters. The first office will be started in St. Paul, and it is expected that it will soon be followed by another in Duluth, although there has been no announcement to that effect.

It was recently discovered that the employment agents had been scalping thousands of passes which they were supposed to give to laborers going out to work for the company. The interpreters were found to be charging the laborers large sums in the aggregate by assessing each laborer part of his wages, without giving any return for the money. The matter was investigated by the state labor authorities and found to be worse than had been imagined. With the employment of the laborers under their direct control the officers of the company believe that they can remedy the glaring evils shown up by the investigation.

HER STOCKING RIPPED.

And the Poor Widow Lost Savings of a Lifetime.

Los Angeles, Cal., Feb. 11.—Mrs. Thomas McNallen of 419 Central avenue, lost $1,160 while alighting from a car at Sixth and Central.

Mrs. McNallen is a widow with three small children to support. She had worked and saved to buy a home. The money lost represented everything of value she owned. She carried the money in a small purse in her stocking.

As she stepped from the car her stocking ripped and the purse dropped to the street.

WOMAN RECLUSE.

Who Pretended Poverty, Is Found to Be Worth About $40,000.

Findlay, Ohio, Feb. 11.—While pretending poverty, Mrs. Emily A. Carmen of Bradner, worth about $40,000, was found a few days ago in her little hut, in a critical condition, and when her stockings were removed from her at the directions of a doctor, more than $6,000 in money and gilt-edged securities were secreted in them. The inventory of her estate, which has just been filed, includes two farms worth about $30,000, cash $2,643, diamonds $600, and other property, $1200.

CUT OFF FROM DRAPER WEALTH

Kentucky Belle, Divorced Wife of Son, to Contest Will.

Boston, Mass., Feb. 11.—Mrs. Lily Duncan Draper, divorced wife of George O. Draper, whose father, the late William F. Draper, cut off her two children in his will disposing of an estate valued at $6,000,000, will contest the document on behalf of the children.

The latter were cut off in the will of their grandfather owing to the fact that their mother, who was the daughter of Major Henry T. Duncan, formerly mayor of Lexington, Ky., brought the name of the Draper family into the divorce court.

Mrs. Draper and her two sons, who will become millionaires in the event that the will is broken, are now at Aiken, S. C. From that city comes the word from Mrs. Draper that she would do all that was possible to protect the rights of her children. Other grandchildren shared well in the will.

Gen. Draper always believed that the Kentucky belle was in the wrong in her marital troubles, and being a consistent man carried the ill-feeling to his grave. Mrs. Draper, however, takes an entirely different view of the situation and declares that her sons were not to blame for her divorce.

At present she is receiving alimony of $3,500 a year, and on this amount she is compelled to support her children. Owing to the prominence of the Draper family in this state a contest over the will would create a court sensation, and many secrets concerning the trouble between the Kentucky belle and her former husband, who is a brother of Governor E. S. Draper would be bared.

SOLD THEIR CATTLE

And Nebraska Farmers Will Now Begin Fattening Fish.

Minature, Neb., Feb. 11.—Two Nebraska farmers disgusted with the profits of feeding cattle, are arranging to fatten fish instead of steers, and the ponds and irrigation ditches of the western part of the state are to be stocked with members of the finny tribe.

Frank Young and Eric Johnson of this place, has just returned from South Omaha, where they sold cattle they have been feeding 60-cent corn. The margin of profit was so small they failed to buy several carloads of "feeders" to fatten, but instead arranged with Fish Commissioner O'Brien to send them all the fish to which they are entitled and will secure other fish in the East as soon as their ponds and ditches open.

Mr. Young was former owner of a big fish pond at Seward, Neb., and conducted it many years at a profit. The irrigation ditches make ponds between the hills and are themselves adapted to fish culture. Bass, pickerel, pike and perch are to be used, and some trout will be put into the clearer ponds and ditches.

EARLY SCULPTURE FOUND.

Archaeologists Estimate Its Age as Nearly Ten Thousand Years.

London, Feb. 11.—Pictures of pieces of crude sculpture which archaeologists have assigned to 6000 to 8000 B. C., were shown at the Royal institution the other day by the Rev. G. H. W. Johns, who gave an address on "Assyriology." One of the fragments discovered represented, he said, the heraldic device of a town called Lagash, which showed two eagles tearing an animal.

Describing the big "find" at Susa, Mr. Johns stated that the objects constituted a deposit of the foundations of a great temple. They included hundreds of gold, silver, lead and bronze objects, statuettes, jewelry and an enormous quantity of stone and clay objects, as well as precious stones. Their beauty and variety were enormous, and all apparently belonged to one period, 1800 B. C.

Among the articles discovered were children's toys, which the youngsters had evidently been permitted to put with the deposit as a votive offering.

"STORAGE BATTERIES."

Duluth Engineers Will Discuss Them at an Open Meeting.

The National Association of Stationary engineers, Minnesota No. 3 of Duluth, will have a special open session in the audience room of the Builders' exchange, No. 501 Lyceum building, this evening, and the subject of "Storage Batteries" will be discussed. Details of the construction of the plate; the mechanical action of the cell; types of storage batteries; advantages of storage battery installations; methods of charging and discharging batteries; instructions regarding operation of storage battery systems, with brief review of the use of lead burning outfits, will be the subject of the evening, and since it is to be an open meeting, any one interested in the matter is cordially invited to be present. William P. Bear, of the Northern Electrical company, will be the principal speaker of the evening.

SUPPOSEDLY DEAD SON COMES HOME

Colorado Woman's Sorrow Is Turned Into Rejoicing.

Greeley, Colo., Feb. 11. — Lamentation, turned to rejoicing today at the home of Mrs. Hannah Sellwood Wilsen, when her son, W. H. Sellwood, supposed to have met a violent death at Colusa, Cal., last August, appeared unexpectedly.

Last summer a skeleton found near Colusa was identified as Sellwood by portions of a letter found nearby, which had been written by Mrs. Wilsen. Sellwood, who travels for a New York jobbing house, had seen none of the accounts of his supposed death and for the first time today learned of his mother's grief.

New York, Feb. 11.—Mayor Gaynor has directed the suspension of two more policemen, pending trial on charges of brutality, this time to a woman. He took the case out of the hands of Police Commissioner Baker and made all investigations personally, through the commissioner of accounts. "We must get rid of all ruffians on the police force," he wrote Commissioner Baker.

Aged Man and Wife Take Morphine and Die Together.

Hamilton, Ohio, Feb. 11.—A suicide pact between octogenarians was revealed here today. Henry Stubernack and his wife Mathilda were found dead. The bodies were discovered by a son-in-law. Stubernack was 80 and his wife only four years younger.

A week ago the couple had stated to their family physician that they intended to commit suicide. Examination of the corpses showed that they had swallowed large quantities of morphine.

ATLANTIC CITY WANTS AVIATORS

Has Invited Famous Flyers to Attend Meeting at That Place.

New York, Feb. 11.—Atlantic City is the latest candidate for aviation honors. New York promoters have launched a plan for a big meeting to be held there in June. About $50,000 of the necessary $200,000 already has been pledged.

The promoters say that there is no place in the United States better suited to aeronautic trials than Atlantic City. It has a stretch of land three miles in length and a mile wide in which to operate the machines, and there are no obstacles to bother the operators. The surrounding country is level, and although there are strong winds, these blow steadily for long periods from one direction or another.

Invitations to compete have been extended to Pauihan, Curtiss, Blerlot, Farman, Latham, Capt. Kelly of London and to Baroness de la Roche, the daring woman aviator. Ex-President Roosevelt will be invited to open the meet.

J. J. ASTOR AND HIS WIFE MAY MAKE UP

Woman's Lawyers Let Day for Final Action in Divorce Go By.

New York, Feb. 11.—Lawyers in the suit brought by Mrs. John Jacob Astor for divorce from Col. John Jacob Astor had nothing to say today regarding the report that the Astors may be reconciled.

The report arose from the failure of Mrs. Astor's counsel to apply within the last three days for a confirmation of the interlocutory decree of divorce granted by Justice Mills. It is the custom for counsel to apply at the earliest moment to the court to make final the decree of divorce. Mrs. Astor is now in Europe and Col. Astor left the city yesterday.

The divorce proceedings were conducted last fall before Justice Mills and no names were mentioned that would make difficult a reconciliation.

INVESTIGATION IS HELD IN SECRET

Kentucky Legislative Scandal Probed Behind Closed Doors.

Frankfort, Ky., Feb. 11.—The senate committee named to investigate the alleged insinuations of Senator J. J. Watkins that four members of the upper branch of the Kentucky assembly had been bought by the liquor interests of the state, met again this morning. In addition to Watkins, whose examination, it was announced, would be concluded today, a number of newspaper men have been summoned to appear before the committee.

The inquiry is being conducted behind closed doors in the senate retiring room, and not even the sergeant-at-arms is permitted to be present during the questioning of witnesses.

JURORS GO WHERE BODY WAS FOUND

Suburban Excursions Are Feature of Trial of Dr. Fritch.

Detroit, Mich., Feb. 11. — Suburban explorations are making an unusual feature of the manslaughter trial of Dr. George A. Fritch, charged with causing the death of Miss Maybelle Millman of Ann Arbor last fall. Today's program took the jury and court officers to Grosse Isle, sixteen miles down the river where the last of the three gunny sacks containing the girl's dismembered body was found. Yesterday the jury and the defendant were taken to Ecorse creek, where the first sack was discovered.

Counsel for the defense directed the attention of the jurors especially to the mouth of a sewer discharging into the creek near the bridge from which the defendant is alleged to have thrown the sacks into the water at midnight from an automobile.

Up to the present time the testimony for the prosecution has been largely a repetition of that given at the preliminary hearing.

MIRACULOUS ESCAPE.

Fair Operator Crawled From Monoplane's Wreck Without a Scratch.

Paris, Feb. 11.—Mlle. Helen Dufrieu, the French actress who is learning to fly, had a miraculous escape at Issy les Moulineaux while practicing with her Santos Dumont monoplane. The ground was very muddy, and the machine failed to rise. The aviatress pushed the elevating lever as far as it would go, and the aeroplane shot up into the air almost perpendicularly, and after reaching a height of thirty feet veered to the left and fell with great violence to the ground. The propeller struck the earth first, and the machine stood on its head. To the amazement of the onlookers, Mlle. Dufrieu crawled from beneath the debris of the monoplane without even a scratch.

ZENITH CITY WELCOMES HER NEWEST NEIGHBORS

Excursionists From Towns Along Soo Line Arrive in Duluth.

Will Be Guests at Public Reception and Ski Tournament.

With a shrill shriek, as if to add to the importance of the occasion and to draw attention to its coming, the first passenger train over the new Brooten branch of the Soo pulled into the Omaha depot at 12:35 this afternoon, laden with excursionists from the towns along the new branch.

The drive wheels upon the engine had barely come to a standstill when the Third Regiment band blared out a welcome to the newest neighbors of Duluth. From the very first the visitors were made to feel at home.

The train was made up of five coaches and they were all comfortably filled. It is estimated that there are about 200 people in the party. More were expected, but the refusal of the Soo road to give reduced fares kept the attendance down. But every village along the new branch of the Soo has sent its representatives here, and members of the reception committee were busy repeating the names of the towns that Frank Granville, general salesman for the F. A. Patrick company, who accompanied the excursionists to the city, gave as he introduced the merchants to the committee of jobbers which met them at the depot.

When the introductions were over and the citizens had been made to feel that their welcome to the city was of the cordial and whole-souled kind, the visitors formed behind the band and marched up town. After marching down Superior street as far as the St. Louis hotel, they were shown to their hotels by the members of the reception committee.

A public reception will be held this afternoon at the Commercial club at 2 o'clock. Various forms of entertainment have been arranged for this evening.

Tomorrow morning the visitors will be shown the jobbing district of the city and the in afternoon they will attend the ski tournament. The visitors will be the guests of the city, and every attention will be paid to their comfort and entertainment while here.

Mayor Haven and others will speak at the public reception this afternoon.

OPEN LAND IN MINNESOTA

Over Twenty Thousand Acres to Be Made Available for Settlement.

Government Will Release Areas Now Held in the Forest Reserve.

FROM THE HERALD WASHINGTON BUREAU.

Washington, Feb. 11.—Through the efforts of Congressman Miller, something like 20,000 to 30,000 acres of lands now embraced in the Minnesota forest reserve, will be taken from this reserve, and put upon the market for sale and settlement.

The lands in question lie along the Deer river and Cass lake. These lands have been cut over, the timber removed, and the proceeds of such sales turned in to the fund for the Chippewas.

The lands have been reported "thoroughly withdrawn," in order to give Indians now holding allotments within the Minnesota forest reserve opportunity to move and take in lieu thereof timber lands in the adjacent territory. The Indians thus far have not availed themselves of the opportunity, and it has been decided to throw them open to white settlement and development.

THE STORY OF THE PEANUT SHELLS.

As every one knows, C. W. Post of Battle Creek, Michigan, is not only a maker of breakfast foods, but he is a strong individualist who believes that the trades-unions are a menace to the liberty of the country.

Believing this, and being a "natural-born" scrapper for the right, as he sees it, Post, for several years past, has been engaged in a ceaseless warfare against "the Labor Trust," as he likes to call it.

Not being able to secure free and untrammeled expression of his opinions on this subject through the regular reading pages of the newspapers he has bought advertising space for this purpose, just as he is accustomed to for the telling of his Postum "story," and he has thus spent hundreds of thousands of dollars in denouncing trades-unionism.

As a result of Post's activities the people now know a whole lot about these organizations; how they are honeycombed with graft, how they obstruct the development of legitimate business, curtail labor's output, hold up manufacturers, graft upon their own membership, and rob the public. Naturally Post is hated by the trades-unionists, and intensely.

He employs no union labor, so they can not call out his men, and he defies their efforts at boycotting his products. The latest means of "getting" Post is the widespread publication of the story that a car which was recently wrecked in transmission was found to be loaded with empty peanut shells, which were bein shipped from the south to Post's establishment at Battle Creek.

This canard probably originated with President John Fitzgerald of the Chicago Federation of Labor, who, it is said, stated it publicly, as truth.

Post comes back and gives Fitzgerald the lie direct. He denounces Fitzgerald's statement as a deliberate falsehood, an underhanded and cowardly attempt to injure his business, having not the slightest basis in fact. As such an effort it must be regarded. It is significant that this statement about "the peanut shells" is being given wide newspaper publicity. In the "patent inside" of an eastern country paper I find it, and the inference naturally is that labor unionites are insidiously spreading this lie.

An institution (or a man) which will resort to moral intimidation and to physical force; that will destroy machinery and burn buildings, that will maim and kill if necessary to effect its ends, naturally would not hesitate to spread falsehood for the same purposes.

We admire Post. While we have no enmity toward labor unions, so long as they are conducted in an honest, "live-and-let-live" kind of a way, we have had enough of the tarred end of the stick to sympathize thoroughly with what he is trying to do. He deserves support. A man like Post can not be killed, even with lies. They are a boomerang, every time. Again we know, for hasn't this weapon, every weapon that could be thought of, been used (and not simply by labor unions) to put us out of business too?

I am going to drink two cups of Postum every morning from this time on, and put myself on a diet of Grape-Nuts. Rally for Post!—Editorial in the American Journal of Physical Medicine.

HALF MILLION FOR DULUTH

Miller Is Sure River Harbor Bill Includes That Amount.

Washington, Feb. 11.—(Special to The Herald.)—The house this morning agreed that upon adjournment today it would not meet again until Monday noon. This action seems to preclude submission of the river and harbor bill and the report thereon until Monday. Two items of interest to Duluth are certainly in the bill, namely, the appropriation of $500,000 for dredging the harbor and $300,000 to complete the breakwater at Superior.

Representative Miller said today that he is reasonably certain that his items providing appropriations for surveys for further improvement of the Mississippi river from Brainerd to Grand Rapids, for dredging at Pine Knoll, for the examination of Rainey river and for removal of obstructions, and examination of conditions at Knife river, with a view to building a breakwater, all have received favorable consideration at the hands of the committee.

REGARDS ACTION AS CHALLENGE

Bishop Hartzell Speaks Again of Fairbanks Episode at Rome.

Washington, Feb. 11.—Bishop J. P. Hartzell, Methodist missionary bishop of Africa, who intends to sail for Algiers next Wednesday, bade farewell today to the president. The bishop has been in this country for some time endeavoring to raise a missionary fund for the conversion of the 20,000,000 Mohammedans on the north coast of Africa. The bishop has been assisted in this work by ex-President Roosevelt and President Taft.

Mrs. Hartzell accompanied her husband on his visit to the White House. His attention upon leaving being directed to the Fairbanks episode, he said:

"For the pope to require all who are received by him to refuse to speak to any Protestant organization in Rome, even if active members of such an organization, means a world-wide challenge to Protestantism, which will be accepted. It will hasten the day when all Protestant governments will require that Greek and Roman Catholic governments shall extend the same religious liberty to Protestants under their flag which Greek and Roman Catholic church people enjoy under Protestant flags."

Statement by Falconio.

"There is surely no foundation for the statement which has gone broadcast, that one must act as a Catholic while in Rome if he hopes to be given an audience with the pope," declared Mgr. Falconio, papal delegate to the United States, in expressing his regret at the Fairbanks incident at Rome.

"Many times I have given letters of introduction to Protestant ministers who went to Rome and I am sure the holy father enjoyed their visits. But you know, Rome is the parish of the holy father and there was nothing else for him to do under the circumstances."

HUSBAND AND WIFE ARRESTED

Clash Over Disposition of Children and Policeman Steps in.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Heenan were arrested by Patrolman Brouillette at 1515 Garfield avenue this morning charged with disorderly conduct. Mrs. Heenan declares that her husband, against whom she started divorce proceedings last fall, came to her place to take her three children away from her.

At the station she explained that he came home drunk and started to abuse her. She said that she was afraid of him and went to a hotel to spend the night. This morning she was told that he was going to take the children from her home. Summoning a policeman she went to the house. She says that she met him at the door and was so angry that she struck him in the face, starting a fight. The policeman took both of them to the police station.

Their difficulties will probably be settled in municipal court this afternoon. Mrs. Heenan said that she had let the divorce case rest in the hands of a local attorney, but that she now intends to push it. She wants sole custody of the children. In her action last fall she alleged cruel and inhuman treatment.

Cuyuna to Incorporate.

Cuyuna, Minn., Feb. 11.—(Special to The Herald.)—A petition has been circulated this week for the incorporation of the village of Cuyuna. The territory sought to be included is fractional sections 29 and 30 and sections 31 and 32, all lying south of Rabbit lake.

MUCH ACTIVITY AT THE KENNEDY MINE

Cuyuna Range Property Is Being Equipped With Up-to-Date Machinery.

Brainerd, Minn., Feb. 11.—(Special to The Herald.)—The permanent air compressor is now being installed at the Kennedy mine at Cuyuna to drive drills used in mining the ore. The new Sullivan hoist is being shipped in from Moose Lake. It will be a ten-ton hoist, handling two five-ton skips. The present boilers are all bricked in and the steel smokestack will be put up the latter part of this week or the first of next.

The 90-foot steel head frame for the big shaft will be in place and ready for business by March 1. The working force at the mine has been increased to about 125 men and that number will be doubled by fall. There is about 12,000 tons of ore in the stockpile and it is being added to daily. A steam shovel and three dummy engines are grading the yards at the mine, which will contain room for fifty cars. The shovel is also preparing a place for the big coal trestle. The coal will all be dumped direct from the cars into a chute leading to the engine house, so as to avoid any handling of the fuel, except to shovel it into the fires. The company also has a dozen two-ton train cars on the way for use underground.

EDITORS AT FARGO.

The North Dakota Scribes Are Being Entertained Friday.

Fargo, N. D., Feb. 11.—(Special to The Herald.)—Fargo is entertaining the editors of the state today. The forenoon session was devoted to the address of President Alex Wright, editor of the Oakes Times. The chief points he made were the beneficial results of the organization during the past few years in a business way, and especially at the last legislative session. He strongly urged all master printers and publishers to join the organization.

Three speakers addressed the association this afternoon—Messrs. Baker of Fargo, Jordan of Cogswell and Theis of St. Paul. After the addresses the rest of the afternoon was devoted to the business session and the election of officers.

At 6 o'clock this evening there will be a banquet for the editors given by the local press. After a few responses to toasts the editors will be the guests of one of the local vaudeville houses.

DEED DECLARED NULL AND VOID

Woman Claimed Paper Was Stolen From Desk in Her Home.

The deed to certain lands in township 56, north range 12 west, St. Louis county, held by Frederick Schuknect was this morning declared null and void by Judge Dibell of the district court.

Irene Rosenburgh was the former and present owner of the property. In June 1908, she entered into a written contract with Frederick Schuknect, whereby he was to clear the northeast quarter of her farm, and in payment for his services, he was to receive a deed to the northwest quarter.

Positive that he would make good on the work and that it was only a matter of time until she would have to make over the part of her farm promised to him, she had the deed made out and locked it in her dresser.

She claimed the deed was stolen and it was found schuknect was in possession of it. His work of clearing up that portion of the farm stipulated was never even begun, she testified.

Mrs. Rosenburgh at once took steps to get back her land. The case has been dragging on in the courts since 1908.

BUTTER AND EGGS LOWER

The Decline in Price Begun a Week Ago Continues.

Poultry Is Higher---Potatoes Are Very Plentiful and Price Sags.

Butter and eggs continued to decline this week while cheese, held firm.

Eggs are cheaper than at any time this season. The decline started early in the week and the total depreciation thus far has been from 3 to 6 cents a dozen on fresh candled eggs and about 1 cent on the better grades of storage stocks. Storage eggs the latter part of last week were 23½@26 cents a dozen. This week they are quoted at 22 cents. Fresh eggs are selling wholesale at 28 cents a dozen compared with 29@32 cents this time last week.

The fresh egg market has sustained a hard blow. Levels are the lowest of any quotations reached this season. Buyers have not been inclined to make extensive purchases on a declining market. There has been no indication when the slump in prices was to stop and purchasers have bought sparingly.

A partly demoralized egg market in the East cost its influence on the trade in the Northwest and was partly responsible for the downward trend in prices. The receipts of fresh laid eggs from nearby sources, Southern Minnesota and the Southwest have been one of the chief factors in forcing down prices. The dealers have endeavored to keep the market free from accumulations and when the buyers showed any hesitancy in taking hold, they were offered concessions and every inducement to stimulate the demand.

With fresh eggs declining in price so rapidly, dealers have had little opportunity to dispose of storage goods. storage eggs in the Northwest are higher than elsewhere, because of the comparatively small supply of fresh eggs in the Northwest. Other places being nearer production have greater supplies of fresh eggs.

Creamery butter prices declined, falling off 2 cents from 31 cents to 29 cents. Dairy butter held its position and was stronger selling now at 28 cents compared with 25@26 cents this time last week. The break last week was all along the line. This week only creamery grades succumbed. The market was weak and some dealers thought that further declines would be necessary before the market recovered its equilibrium. Buyers have been convinced that prices were too high and they have held themselves well in hand.

The cheese trade has been moderately good. Prices were well sustained as supplies pressing on sale were of such small volume that dealers had no difficulty in maintaining quotations at a firm level. Supplies were not accumulated as the demand was well up to the receipts.

* * *

Poultry values are slightly higher. This is due probably to the demand for poultry from some folks who stopped eating other kinds of meat. Springs are commanding 18 cents, hens 17½ cents, and turkeys are selling at 25 cents a pound. Geese are quoted at 16 cents and ducks at 18 cents. Meat prices are weaker due primarily to the drop in prices in the livestock market. Beef is selling at 6½@10 cents a pound, mutton at 9½@10 cents, pork loins 13 cents, veal 8@11 cents, lambs 13@14 cents, and lard at 14 cents. Veal values held at a stationary level, poorer grades being slightly firmer.

The potato market has been depressed and prices are comparatively low. Stocks are heavy and receipts plentiful. Buyers have been aware of their advantage and they have attempted to pound the market, pressing insistently for favorable terms. They have not been taking more stock than was needed in the immediate future. This kept the market from rallying.

* * *

Head lettuce has been in great demand. Retailers have disposed of large quantities and the street has been searched for available supplies so that delivery could be immediate. Cucumbers have met with a brisk inquiry and fancy string beans, new beets, turnips and carrots have sold freely at steady to firm prices.

* * *

Cabbage has been in good demand and there has been a liberal supply on hand. The same is true also, of celery. Mushrooms have had a better sale at reduced prices. Other vegetables have met with only an indifferent demand and were pressed on sale at sagging prices. Arrivals from the South have been fairly generous.

* * *

The demand for strawberries is not large but it seems to be increasing. Stocks are quickly absorbed. The general quality of the berries is good although a fair percentage of the arrivals came too green for immediate consumption.

* * *

California oranges have met with a good inquiry and have sold at firm prices. Offerings of Florida oranges have been heavy but stocks have been kept moving and prices have held firm. Lemons have been selling slowly and grapes have been neglected. Apples have had a fair demand and have held at a steady level. Pineapples have met with a fair sale.

More From Vanderbilt.

New Haven, Conn., Feb. 11.—A gift of $100,000 to Yale university by Alfred G. Vanderbilt of New York was made known last night. The gift will be applied toward the general university endowment and is part of a subscription of $250,000 for this purpose. Mr. Vanderbilt has thus far given $175,000 and, it is understood, will complete the amount before the close of the year.

THEY GROW HAIR

Certain Ingredients if Properly Combined, Stimulate Human Hair Growth.

Resorcin is one of the most effective germ destroyers ever discovered. Betanaphthol is a most powerful, yet absolutely safe germicide and antiseptic, which prevents development of germ matter, and creates a clean, healthy condition.

Pilocarpine, although not a coloring matter or dye, is an ingredient well established for its power to restore natural color to human hair.

Borax, because of its well-defined softening and cleansing properties, is most useful in the treatment of scalp and hair diseases. Glycerine acts as a stimulant to the hair bulbs, and has a soothing, healing and nourishing influence. Alcohol is indispensable in medicine because of its antiseptic, stimulating and preservative qualities.

Rexall "93" Hair Tonic is chiefly composed of these ingredients, which are compounded in a peculiar form, and we believe it is the most effective remedy known to medical science for scalp and hair troubles generally. We personally guarantee it to eradicate dandruff and scalp irritations and to grow hair, even though the scalp in spots is bare of hair, providing of course there is life and vitality remaining in the hair roots.

We want every one troubled with scalp disease, dandruff or loss of hair to try Rexall "93" Hair Tonic. If it does not remove dandruff and promote a growth of hair to the satisfaction of the user, we will without question or quibble return every cent paid us for it. This guarantee is printed on every package. It has effected most satisfactory results in 93 out of 100 cases where put to a practical test.

Rexall "93" Hair Tonic is entirely unlike and in every particular different from anything else we know of for the purpose for which it is recommended. We urge you to try it at our entire risk. Certainly we could offer no better guarantee. Two sizes, 50 cents and $1.00. Sold in Duluth only at our store—the Rexall Store. E. M. Tredway, 108 West Superior street.

GAYNOR BOOM TO START IN MISSOURI

New York Mayor Is Regarded There as Good Leader for Democrats.

New York, Feb. 11.—Mayor Gaynor is likely presidential timber in the eyes of some Missouri Democrats. He has received a letter inviting him to attend a dinner in Springfield, Mo., on April 16, the 107th anniversary of the birth of Thomas Jefferson, and the invitation intimates that he is looked upon in Missouri as the national leader of Democracy in 1912.

The mayor has not yet signified his assent, but it is understood that arrangements are under way to launch his boom whether he attends or not. Those acquainted with the movement here say that Col. Henry Watterson has been asked to propose the toast "Has New York Another Tilden?" and that Former Judge Augustus Van Wyck has been asked to answer "Yes."

Verdict for Plaintiff.

A jury that had been out twenty-seven hours late yesterday afternoon brought in a verdict of $2,750 in favor of A. C. McCutcheon against the Virginia & Rainy Lake company. The case hinged on an accident that took place when in trying to right a truck McCutcheon fell to a lumber pile some twenty-five feet below the track sustaining as a result injuries to his back. The case was tried before Judge Cant but Judge Ensign received the verdict.

ADJOURNS TO MONDAY

Ballinger-Pinchot Investigation Is Delayed at Request of Brandeis.

Ballinger's Attorneys Are Expected to Put Glavis on the Grill.

Washington, Feb. 11.—After a session lasting less than an hour, during which the future conduct of the case was informally discussed, the Ballinger-Pinchot congressional investigating committee today granted the request of Attorney Louis D. Brandeis for an adjournment until Monday next at 10 a. m.

It was after an adjournment of more than a week, occasioned by the appointment of counsel for Secretary Ballinger and other accused officials of the interior department, that the Ballinger-Pinchot congressional investigating committee, of which Senator Nelson of Minnesota is chairman, met today to continue consideration of the controversy which has waged since the day Mr. Ballinger took the oath of office and has resulted in several dismissals from the government service.

In anticipation of a searching cross-examination of Louis R. Glavis, the principal witness for the "prosecution," there was a great rush for seats when the doors of the palatial general committee room in the senate office building were thrown open this morning. It was to permit counsel for Secretary Ballinger to prepare for this cross-examination that the committee took so long an adjournment. Glavis was about to be excused with little or no cross-examination when the committee requested the secretary of the interior to employ counsel.

Ballinger Has Lawyers.

John J. Vertress of Nashville, Tenn., Democrat, and warm personal friend of President Taft, is associated with Carl Rasch of Montana as the counsel for the "defense" or "the other side," as the committee calls it. Opposed are four attorneys representing Mr. Glavis, Gifford Pinchot and others. It appears that Mr. Vertress and Mr. Rasch are not retained by the government for the purpose of this investigation, but are privately employed and their fees paid by Secretary Ballinger.

During the adjournment the committee has received from the land office and the interior department a vast quantity of documents called for by the "prosecution." The daily reports of field agents for periods of two or more years are among the papers which had to be sifted out of the files and forwarded to the committee. Now all of the documents received will be put in evidence.

POULTRY SHOW BROUGHT TO CLOSE

Fourteenth Annual Exhibition Was Best Ever Held in Duluth.

The best show ever given by the Duluth Poultry association came to a close last night.

During the ten days of its run it was visited by many Duluth people. Some liked the show so well that they visited it a second time. The attendance as well as the show itself was the best ever and the members of the association are well pleased with the success of their fourteenth annual display. There was much more floor space and it was all occupied with birds of a higher class than at previous shows.

There were nearly 600 birds on exhibition, a good third over the number entered last year and last year's show was considered very good at the time. A great part of the prizes were captured by Duluth birds.

The out-of-town owners left with their birds for their homes this morning.

Last night the largest crowd that attended during the show week was on hand and the big cackle exhibition closed.

EBERHART AT BEMIDJI.

Governor Visits Beltrami Capital to Attend School Dedication.

Bemidji, Minn., Feb. 11.—(Special to The Herald.)—Governor Eberhart arrived here today from Sauk Center where he spoke last night and this afternoon and evening will participate in the dedication of the new $50,000 high school building.

A detail of militia from Company K met the visitor at the depot and escorted him to the Hotel Markham for lunch. This afternoon the governor will be escorted to the auditorium of the new high school where he will be introduced by A. H. Joster, secretary of the Commercial club, for the dedicatory address. The directors and other school officers will occupy seats on the platform.

The program for the exercises this afternoon follows:

Overture, "William Tell," Masten's orchestra; invocation Rev. C. E. White; history of the building, G. M. Torrance, clerk school board; violin solo, "Serenade," (Schubert), Mrs. C. R. Sanborn; presentation of building, J. P. Lahr, president school board; acceptance, P. J. Russell; dedication reading, Supt. A. P. Ritchie; music, "The Heavens are Telling," from "Creation," chorus, (trio), Miss Hanson, Messrs. Lucas and Rood; dedicatory address, Governor A. O. Eberhart; informal reception on second floor.

UPHOLDS WILSON'S ACTION.

Board of Trustees of Princeton Lets Proctor Gift Go.

Princeton, N. J., Feb. 11.—The board of trustees of Princeton university, taking up the graduate college controversy yesterday, sustained President Woodrow Wilson's position that no acceptance of a proffered gift shall impair the power of the board of trustees "to control the organization, development and conduct of the graduate work."

Neither Dean Andrew F. West nor President Wilson, conspicuous figures in the dispute relating to the offer of $500,000 by William Cooper Proctor, '83, of Cincinnati, would issue any statements. The rumors of resignation proved groundless and indications are that while the graduate college question has by no means been finally settled, the ideas of Dean West and Mr. Proctor in the matter were disapproved by the committee.

Briefly the committee's report indicated that a majority of the members of the faculty committee in the graduate school disagreed with Mr. Proctor. With such a disagreement, the board by its report shows that the acceptance of the gift and its conditions would have been difficult of accomplishment. The withdrawal of the gift, therefore, is looked upon as equivalent to a necessary rejection.

COAL LAND OBTAINED BY CANADIAN NORTHERN.

Winnipeg, Feb. 11.—Backed by J. Pierpont Morgan and associate in New York, the Canadian Northern railway, represented by Mackenzie and Mann, it was announced here last night, has obtained possession of the great coal mines and coal bed areas of the Dunsmuir interests on Vanvouver island, for $11,000,000.

Part of the project is the erection of steel and iron works on the island. Five millions and a half dollars are to be spent in further developing the mines.

INDIAN AGREEMENTS.

Taft Sends Perfected Provisions to Congress.

Washington, Feb. 11.—Agreements concluded with certain tribes of Indians for the commutation of their perpetual annuities under treaty stipulations have been transmitted by the president to congress together with a draft of a bill providing for the ratification of the agreements and making the necessary appropriations.

Those transmitted include the agreements with the Oneida tribe of Indians of Wisconsin, the Foxes of the Mississippi tribe of Oklahoma and Iowa, the Pottawattamie tribe of Kansas and Wisconsin and the Pawnee tribe of Oklahoma.

Capitalization of the perpetual annuities of the tribes named on the basis of 5 per cent interest and the deposit of the funds in the treasury is provided for in the agreement.

The appropriations in the draft of the bill are $20,000 for the Oneidas; $20,000 for the Foxes; $180,758 for the Pottawattamies, and $600,000 for the Pawnee tribes.

UNION ORGANIZER IS PUMMELED BY MINERS.

Huntington, Va., Feb. 11.—A. T. Deck of Wellstown, Ohio, an organizer for the United Mine Workers of America, is dying, the result of injuries inflicted by a band of miners at Loup Creek, who are said to be opposed to the organization.

After beating him into insensibility, the assailants placed him on a railroad track near Harvey, where he was found by miners. Deck says he recognized his assailants and arrests are expected.

Constipation Should not be neglected. It leads to more serious troubles. It shows that the important functions of the liver are imperfectly performed. The best medicine to take for it is the mild, gentle and purely vegetable cathartic

Helped Build Lincoln's Cottage Only 35 Years Old in Spirit

MR. ANDY LEWIS FILLINGER, 85 Years Old

Mr. Andy Lewis Fillinger, of Danville, Ill., Who is 85 Years old and helped to build a cottage for Abraham Lincoln about 1855, says he has been using Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey since that time as a tonic medicine with entire satisfaction. He feels like a man of 35.

A short time age Mr. Fillinger wrote: "As I now remember I began using your medicine as a tonic and stimulant in about 1855, or at least at the time I was building Abraham Lincoln's house in the city of Springfield, Ill., and I have continued its use until the present day with beneficial results.

GREENWAY IS ENTHUSIASTIC

John C. Greenway of Coleraine, superintendent of the Canisco district of the Oliver Iron Mining company, is in the city today. Mr. Greenway is a leading mover in the arrangements for the national ski tournament, which will be held in Coleraine Feb. 19 and 20. He is more than enthusiastic over the progress that has been made by the committee on arrangements.

"The slide has been completed," said Mr. Greenway this morning, "and we are assured of having the greatest tournament that was ever held in this country. Saturday will be the amateurs day, and there will also be the cross-country run on skis. Sunday will be the big day for the professionals. Elaborate preparations have been made for the entertainment of the visitors. It is expected that a large number of visitors will attend the tournament. We expect a very large attendance from Duluth."

Mr. Greenway says indications for the present year's mining operations are very good in his district. It is very quiet at the present time, according to Mr. Greenway, but there is every reason to believe that the coming season will be a very prosperous one.

JUNIPER ALE IS NOT MALTED LIQUOR.

"Juniper ale" is not a malted liquor, and consequently is not subject to the United States internal revenue tax on liquors manufactured and distributed in the United States, according to a decision filed by Judge Page Morris in United States court today in the case of The United States vs. C. J. Johnson. The case was heard last September and created considerable interest on account of the contention of the government that "juniper ale" was a malted liquor, and the contention of Johnson that it was a "soft" drink not subject to the tax. Judge Morris' decision filed today settles the mooted question.

The government brought suit for $400, claimed to be the amount of the internal revenue tax due on 40 barrels of the beverage manufactured and distributed.

COPPERS HAVE BETTER TONE

The copper market was stronger today and there was a good undertone. The short interest has been materially reduced and traders were more confident of a better market than for some time. The character of trading was good, although the volume of business in the face of two holidays was light. The report of the Copper Producers' association had an excellent effect and the metal situation is in better shape than for some time.

President Taft will speak before the Republican club of New York city tomorrow night and his remarks are expected to be "reassuring." The advance today discounted partly the optimistic statements which the chief executive is expected to make. He is expected to say that predatory corporations will be prosecuted and that they need expect no commiseration from the government, but that legitimate business has nothing to fear. Wall street, which first favored the corporation bill, now appears to be opposed to it and traders hope the president will appease their fears.

Labor difficulties were smoothed to some extent when concessions were made to structural iron workers in the East, their wages being advanced to $5 a day.

The foreign markets were strong and their firmness had a good effect on this side. The foreigner has been attracted to American investments by reason of prevailing low prices.

The local market was in a good technical position. Of the 5,945 shares which changed hands, 4,610 averaged about $4 a share and 1,305 shares were traded at under $1. The trading was broad but light and the character of the action was excellent. The public came into the market more generally than for some time.

Butte-Alex Scott, part paid, sold at $4.50 down to $4 37½; Butte-Ballaklava sold at $0.87½ here and $10 in the East. MAY ASK RECOUNT IN ONE PRECINCT

Attorneys in the city do not think that it will be necessary to recount all the votes in the city to determine whether or not the third proposed charter amendment was lost. The amendment gives the council power to levy not to exceed 1 mill for a fund to keep the streets and avenues in repair. It is a supplement to the wheelage tax.

The official count last Monday night showed that it had lost, although the first returns, which are still believed to have been correct, showed that it carried. The margin was but two votes. It is believed that a contest can be started in the courts against the count of one single precinct, saving much time and expense. This likely will be done. The matter is now in the hands of the city attorney.

NEW CASE IS SUBSTITUTED

The case of the Oneida Realty company against Fred Von Baumbach, collector of internal revenue, and Otto Gaffert, deputy collector of internal revenue for this district, a test of the excise tax provision of the new tariff law, was dismissed in United States court today and a case substituted in which Oscar Mitchell is the plaintiff and the Clark Iron company, John G. Williams, William Alden Smith, Emily J. Clark, Charles R. Slight and Frank Jewell as directors, Frank Jewell as president, John G. Williams as vice president and Charles R. Slight as secretary and treasurer of the company, are defendants, was substituted.

The new case is of the same nature as the Vermont test case, which is now pending before the United States supreme court.

Mr. Mitchell, as a stockholder in the Clark Iron company, seeks an injunction against the company and its officers to prevent them from making a return to the United States government of the affairs of the company and the profits during the year 1909, as required by the new law. The grounds on which the injunction is asked are almost identical with those set forth in the case brought on behalf of the Oneida Realty company. It is set forth that the law is unconstitutional and that the filing of the returns would work irreparable wrong to the stockholders, by making public internal affairs of the company, which are considered inviolate.

Mr. Mitchell asks that a temporary injunction be granted, restraining the officials of the company from filing a return, and also that a permanent injunction be issued prohibiting the filing of returns at any future time.

SUPERIOR IS CRUSHED UNDER TRAIN

James Knox, 30 years old, a half-breed Indian, who was an uncle to the two Knox children, who were burned alive in a little cabin near Gordon, Wednesday, was fatally injured last night at Gordon, while attempting to catch the Twilight limited, bound for Duluth.

Bruised and bleeding, with his legs badly crushed under the wheels of the moving train, the unconscious form of Knox was later picked up by the train crew and placed in the baggage car. It was the intention of the train crew to take the injured man to a hospital in Superior.

Before the train arrived at Solon Springs, Knox died without regaining consciousness. Solon Springs is the home of the unfortunate man, and he was left in care of the authorities there. His relatives have taken charge of the remains.

Knox went to Gordon as soon as he heard of the misfortune of his brother.

SUPERIOR WOMAN STRUCK BY ENGINE.

Frank Knox, who lost his children in the fire Wednesday. He attempted to get on one of the coaches of the Twilight limited when it passed through Gordon. In doing so, he missed his hold and fell under the wheels.

Mrs. Duncan McDonald of 2428 Oakes avenue, Superior, is at St. Mary's hospital as the result of injuries, which she sustained about 6 o'clock last evening when she was struck by an engine, while crossing the Omaha and terminal tracks on Hughitt avenue.

The woman was hurled to the frozen ground beside the track with sufficient force to render her unconscious for several hours. A train had blocked the crossing and she was compelled to wait. When the last car passed, she rushed behind it stepping directly in front of an engine going in the opposite direction.

She jumped forward but not quickly enough to avoid a glancing blow from the locomotive. She is expected to recover.

WEIRD JOB ON WISSAHICKON

Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., Feb. 11.—(Special to The Herald.)—After suffering considerable hardship, the wreckers who have been working on the stranded freighter Wissahickon on Outer Duck island, have arrived here. They are happy to be on terra firma and get a good square meal.

According to a member of the party, the releasing of the Wissahickon was one of the queerest marine incidents of years. The pumps had been going Saturday and Sunday and everything was in readiness for a pull on Monday morning. A man aboard the Wissahickon went on deck about 3 o'clock in the morning and was surprised to note the absence of the accustomed grinding sensation. Sounding showed that the vessel was in several fathoms of water. They were several miles out and in great danger that a squall might spring up and overturn the crippled vessel. About daylight they were sighted by tugs in shore and were taken in tow and brought to Duck Island harbor, where the vessel was resunk. The lighter Reliance lays alongside with a cargo valued at $200,000. The remainder, with the exception of two pianos, was thrown overboard.

The Wissahickon is in bad shape. Her frame is badly sprung.

MAY ASK RECOUNT IN ONE PRECINCT

Attorneys in the city do not think that it will be necessary to recount all the votes in the city to determine whether or not the third proposed charter amendment was lost. The amendment gives the council power to levy not to exceed 1 mill for a fund to keep the streets and avenues in repair. It is a supplement to the wheelage tax.

The official count last Monday night showed that it had lost, although the first returns, which are still believed to have been correct, showed that it carried. The margin was but two votes. It is believed that a contest can be started in the courts against the count of one single precinct, saving much time and expense. This likely will be done. The matter is now in the hands of the city attorney.

NEW CASE IS SUBSTITUTED

The case of the Oneida Realty company against Fred Von Baumbach, collector of internal revenue, and Otto Gaffert, deputy collector of internal revenue for this district, a test of the excise tax provision of the new tariff law, was dismissed in United States court today and a case substituted in which Oscar Mitchell is the plaintiff and the Clark Iron company, John G. Williams, William Aiden Smith, Emily J. Clark, Charles R. Slight and Frank Jewell as directors, Frank Jewell as president, John G. Williams as vice president and Charles R. Slight as secretary and treasurer of the company, are defendants, was substituted.

The new case is of the same nature as the Vermont test case, which is now pending before the United States supreme court.

Mr. Mitchell, as a stockholder in the Clark Iron company, seeks an injunction against the company and its officers to prevent them from making a return to the United States government of the affairs of the company and the profits during the year 1909, as required by the new law. The grounds on which the injunction is asked are almost identical with those set forth in the case brought on behalf of the Oneida Realty company. It is set forth that the law is unconstitutional and that the filing of the returns would work irreparable wrong to the stockholders, by making public internal affairs of the company, which are considered inviolate.

Mr. Mitchell asks that a temporary injunction be granted, restraining the officials of the company from filing a return, and also that a permanent injunction be issued prohibiting the filing of returns at any future time.

SUPERIOR IS CRUSHED UNDER TRAIN

James Knox, 39 years old, a half-breed Indian, who was an uncle to the two Knox children, who were burned alive in a little cabin near Gordon, Wednesday, was fatally injured last night at Gordon, while attempting to catch the Twilight limited, bound for Duluth.

Bruised and bleeding, with his legs badly crushed under the wheels of the moving train, the unconscious form of Knox was later picked up by the train crew and placed in the baggage car. It was the intention of the train crew to take the injured man to a hospital in Superior.

Before the train arrived at Solon Springs, Knox died without regaining consciousness. Solon Springs is the home of the unfortunate man, and he was left in care of the authorities there. His relatives have taken charge of the remains.

Knox went to Gordon as soon as he heard of the misfortune of his brother, Frank Knox, who lost his children in the fire Wednesday. He attempted to get on one of the coaches of the Twilight limited when it passed through Gordon. In doing so, he missed his hold and fell under the wheels.

SUPERIOR WOMAN STRUCK BY ENGINE.

Mrs. Duncan McDonald of 2428 Oakes avenue, Superior, is at St. Mary's hospital as the result of injuries, which she sustained about 6 o'clock last evening when she was struck by an engine, while crossing the Omaha and terminal tracks on Hughitt avenue.

The woman was hurled to the frozen ground beside the track with sufficient force to render her unconscious for several hours. A train had blocked the crossing and she was compelled to wait. When the last car passed, she rushed behind it stepping directly in front of an engine going in the opposite direction.

She jumped forward but not quickly enough to avoid a glancing blow from the locomotive. She is expected to recover.

WEIRD JOB ON WISSAHICKON

Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., Feb. 11.—(Special to The Herald.)—After suffering considerable hardship, the wreckers who have been working on the stranded freighter Wissahickon on Outer Duck island, have arrived here. They are happy to be on terra firma and get a good square meal.

According to a member of the party, the releasing of the Wissahickon was one of the queerest marine incidents of years. The pumps had been going Saturday and Sunday and everything was in readiness for a pull on Monday morning. A man aboard the Wissahickon went on deck about 3 o'clock in the morning and was surprised to note the absence of the accustomed grinding sensation. Sounding showed that the vessel was in several fathoms of water. They were several miles out and in great danger that a squall might spring up and overturn the crippled vessel. About daylight they were sighted by tugs in shore and were taken in tow and brought to Duck Island harbor, where the vessel was resunk. The lighter Reliance lays alongside with a cargo valued at $200,000. The remainder, with the exception of two pianos, was thrown overboard.

The Wissahickon is in bad shape. Her frame is badly sprung.

NEWS OF THE NORTHWEST

TO LIMIT SUFFRAGE

North Dakota County Commissioners in Favor of Constitutional Amendment.

Would Permit Only Persons Paying Their Taxes the Privilege of Voting.

Grand Forks, N. D., Feb. 11.—(Special to The Herald.)—Selecting Minot as the place for the 1911 meeting and electing officers, the County Commissioners' Association of North Dakota, adjourned late yesterday, after meeting here three days.

The new officers are: President, J. F. Jaberg, Barnes county; vice president, A. A. Seeley, Cavalier county; secretary, M. A. Wisness, Benson county; treasurer, L. R. Abbott, Ward county; directors, G. W. Kelly, Cass country; Nels Peterson, Sargent county; C. M. Washburn, La Moure county; James Murphy, Grand Forks; D. W. McKenzie, Stark county.

The resolutions ask that the state legislature at its next session take steps to establish a permanent, nonpartisan and expert tax commission, whose duty it shall be to investigate conditions, recommend changes of law, and administer the taxing machinery of the state. The work of the North Dakota tax association is commended.

Must Pay Taxes to State.

The resolutions then declare in this language that suffrage should be denied those failing to pay their taxes:

"Whereas, the stability and very life of our government depends upon the careful and wise use of the ballot; and

"Whereas, this is a privilege which should be more carefully safeguarded in our great state.

"Therefore, be it resolved, that the state legislature at its next session should take the proper steps looking to the amendment of our Constitution, limiting the right of suffrage to those citizens who have paid their taxes."

IS HURLED DOWN AN EMBANKMENT

Alex Rogers of Poupores' Siding Struck By Train Near Floodwood.

Brookston, Minn., Feb. 11.—(Special to The Herald.)—Alex Rogers, a resident of Poupores' Siding, was struck by an eastbound train on the Great Northern at about 9 o'clock Monday evening, and badly injured.

Mr. Rogers had transacted business in Floodwood Monday afternoon and in the evening he started to walk to his home, a distance of probably eight miles. He was nearly a mile from Floodwood when the train overtook him. He stepped from the track, but not soon enough, and the engine struck him, and threw him down the embankment, where he laid until 6 o'clock the next morning, when the section crew found him.

He was loaded on the handcar and taken to Floodwood for medical aid. Examination by a physician showed that one arm had been broken at the wrist, one of his knee caps was badly torn, and he was badly bruished about the head and body. It will be several weeks before Mr. Rogers is able to be around again.

Princeton Shippers Happy.

Princeton, Minn., Feb. 11.—(Special to The Herald.)—The potato men breathe easier this week. The arrival of several strings of freight cars has relieved the congestion, and more cars are in sight. Great Northern officials are straining every nerve to improve the situation, and several hundred cars are promised within the next two weeks.

WOMEN OF MIDDLE AGE

Need Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Brookfield, Mo.—"Two years ago I was unable to do any kind of work and only weighed 118 pounds. My trouble dates back to the time that women may expect nature to bring on them the Change of Life. I got a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and it made me feel much better, and I have continued its use. I am very grateful to you for the good health I am now enjoying."—Mrs. SARAH LOUSIGNONT, 414 S. Livingston Street, Brookfield, Mo.

The Change of Life is the most critical period of a woman's existence, and neglect of health at this time invites disease and pain.

Women everywhere should remember that there is no other remedy known to medicine that will so successfully carry women through this trying period as Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from native roots and herbs.

For 30 years it has been curing women from the worst forms of female ills—inflammation, ulceration, displacements, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, and nervous prostration.

If you would like special advice about your case write a confidential letter to Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass. Her advice is free, and always helpful.

BRINGING IN FURS.

Trappers Around Thief River Falls Are Doing Finely.

Thief River Falls, Minn., Feb. 11.—(Special to The Herald.)—Local fur dealers are doing a brisk business this winter. Trappers are frequently arriving in town from the woods east of the reservation and from the small streams north with their packs of furs. This city has been for many years the outfitting point for trappers, who operate in the territory northeast of the city and for a sales place for the disposal of their products.

EDITOR RAISES OBJECTION.

Refuses to Pay Personal Taxes When Living on Unallotted Lands.

Thief River Falls, Minn., Feb. 11.—(Special to The Herald.)—Gus Beaulieu, editor of the Tomahawk, printed on the White Earth reservation, refuses to pay his personal property tax, claiming that as the reservation is not allotted, the state and county government cannot collect their taxes.

TO VOTE ON SALOONS.

Petition Circulated in Isanti to Learn People's Wishes.

Isanti, Minn., Feb. 11.—(Special to The Herald.)—A petition was circulated this week to have the license question voted upon at the Isanti village election to be held on Tuesday, March 8.

The question will also be voted upon at Braham next month. In both villages the result was very close last year, Isanti going "wet" by a majority of ten votes, and Braham remained "dry" by a majority of nine.

Cambride is generally considered to have become a dry town, but Isanti and Braham are very uncertain, a change of a half dozen votes being sufficient to change the result in either village.

Two years ago every saloon in Isanti county was voted out of business, and during the past year 4 small village has had the only saloon in the county, with the license at $2,500.

NORTH BRANCH CREAMERY.

Establishment of New Industry Seems to Be Assured.

North Branch, Minn., Feb. 11.—(Special to The Herald.)—It is now practically assured that North Branch will have an up-to-date creamery this spring. A. J. Ingersoll of Maple Plain, Minn., who has expressed himself willing to put in a plant here, came to North Branch again Monday and in company with Theodore Thompson began making a thorough canvass of the country to ascertain the number of cows which could be secured to furnish the necessary cream and milk.

The first day out a large territory west of the village was covered and something over 175 cows were obtained. This is a very good showing and makes the creamery practically an assured thing.

Brainerd, Minn., Feb. 11.—(Special to The Herald.)—Funeral services were held today in St. Francis Catholic church for William H. Koop, aged 27, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. MRS. LEDBETER AGAIN HAS BEEN INDICTED.

Mankato, Minn., Feb. 11.—Mrs. Grace Ledbeter, acquitted of the murder of her husband after a sensational trial, has again been indicted, this time for assaulting her husband, H. J. Ledbeter, with weapons unknown to the jury which wilfully and feloniously caused his death.

As she had no money to hire counsel the court appointed C. J. Laurisch to defend her.

It is taken for granted that Mrs. Ledbeter's attorney will try to have the indictment set aside on the ground that she has once been in jeopardy. This would bring up at once the question of the legality of her trial in December.

Fraternal Prescription For Nervous Wrecks.

(From "Medical Reports.")

Thousands of men, nervous wrecks, have found the following "fraternal prescription" a blessing and a boon. Such men lack aggressiveness, they are timid, nervous, easily discouraged, lacking in self esteem and confidence. They suffer from cold extremities, thin watery blood, nervousness, sleeplessness, frightful dreams, trembling hands and limbs, unsteady gait and an absolute inability to perform the ordinary natural and rational acts or duties such as any healthy normal man can.

A vigorous man works, plays, eats and sleeps always with the keenest enjoyment. The greater his exertions are, the stronger becomes his appetite and slumbers.

The nervous man seems always tired and worn out. Retiring brings no relief. Sleep brings no refreshment, all because of an abnormal condition of the nervous system, brought about by—well, no matter what—the desire is for relief and freedom with rich, red blood surging through the body supplying the sensitive nerves with all the power of sensation, so that sleep is refreshing, food is delicious, work is play and play is pleasure.

This treatment is thorough, simple and correct. The ingredients are used in filling various prescriptions and can be obtained of any well stocked druggist and mixed at home without embarrassment or questions.

Obtain three ounces of syrup sarsaparilla compound in a six ounce bottle. To this, add one ounce of compound fluid balmwort and let stand two hours. Then add one ounce of tincture cadomene compound (not cardamom), and one ounce of compound essence cardiol. Mix, shake well and take a teaspoonful after each meal and one when retiring until a vigorous, bounding new health takes hold of the tired, exhausted nerves. Only a few weeks' treatment will astonish, and rejuvenate, because the treatment is the right thing at the right time, and contains no deceptive opiates.

HAAS WINS ON APPEAL

Supreme Court Settles the Ramsey County Assessorship Contest.

Lower Court's Ruling Affirmed in Duluth Log Company Case.

St. Paul, Minn., Feb. 11.—(Special to The Herald.)—Charles L. Haas wins in the Ramsey county assessorship case.

The supreme court this morning handed down a decision sustaining Judge Oscar Hallam of the district court, who ruled in favor of Haas and against William C. Smith, the previous assessor, who was ousted March 12 last by the mayor, aided by Detective William Springer.

The question involved in court was whether Henry G. Haas, president of the common council and brother of Charles L. Haas, was entitled to a vote in electing the county assessor. H. G. Haas voted for his brother, together with the mayor, while County Auditor E. G. Kramer voted for Smith. Without Henry G. Haas' vote the result would have been a tie and Smith could have held over, as he contended he was entitled to do.

The decision of the supreme court was unanimous.

Among other decisions were:

St. Louis County Case.

St. Louis County-Duluth Log company, appellant vs. John C. Hill Lumber company, respondent.

Plaintiff brought an action to recover the price of three carloads of No. 1 white cedar shingles sold to defendant. Two cars were accepted and paid for. The third car was not accepted because of inferior grade and quality, and because they were not made by plaintiff. Defendant counter claimed for the difference between the market value of the other two cars as contracted for and on the third car for the difference between the contract price and market value.

It is held: That the contract as to the three cars was separable so that defendant's payment and plaintiff's acceptance of payment for two cars did not prevent defendant from defending in an action to recover the purchase price of the third car nor the plaintiff from beginning such an action. McGrath vs. Cannon, 59 Minn., 457, followed and applied.

The evidence reasonably supported the findings of the trial court that the agreement was to furnish plaintiffs No. 1 white cedar shingles and good shingles; that in point of fact the shingles were not plaintiffs and were practically worthless; that defendant did not accept the third car, but notified plaintiff of his refusal to accept the goods as shipped. Affirmed.

Itasca County Case.

Itasca county—Anna McVeigh, as administratrix of the estate of John McVeigh, deceased, appellant, vs. Minneapolis & Rainy River Railroad company, respondent.

An action by an administrator to recover for loss of services for negligence in causing the death of an employe.

The court did not err in granting a new trial on the ground that amount recovered was excessive. Affirmed.

ULTIMATUM FROM THE IRISH PARTY

English Cabinet Receives Note While Planning the King's Speech.

London, Feb. 11.—The terms of the king's speech with which the new parliament will be opened were finally agreed upon today at an adjourned meeting of the cabinet. Subsequently the ministers dispersed, several going to the country for the week end, so that there will be no further conferences before Monday.

The cabinet had before it today a sort of ultimatum from the national directory of the United Irish league, modelled on the lines of John Redmond's speech of last night. The communication pointed out that pledges would be required regarding the lords' power to veto and concerning home rule for Ireland. Such pledges are named as a condition of Nationalist support on the budget and the general work of the parliamentary session.

Mr. Redmond left Dublin for London today to lend his personal influence in the furtherance of these demands.

CONTINUANCES ARE NUMEROUS

Forty-Four Jury Cases Continued to March Term of Court.

With the finish of the trial of Jackson McPherson yesterday afternoon, the jury trials for the January term of the district court were over.

Forty-four cases have been continued until the next term, which begins March 2. There were also many court continuences. From now on the few cases to come up during the remainder of the term will be settled by the court.

With the forty-four cases that were continued and the cases regularly on the calendar for March, the next term will be a busy one.

The present term has been very slow. Some of the attorneys have been ill, witnesses have held up other cases and other trials were not ready to be brought before the court for various other reasons.

Judge Ensign remarked this morning before a group of attorneys, none of whom were ready to proceed with their cases, that he was always able to get cases for two or three days hence, but that there are never any cases for the present.

OULAHAN TO CONTROL SUN'S NEWS DEPARTMENTS.

New York, Feb. 11.—Richard V. Oulahan, for many years at the head of the Washington bureau of the New York Sun, has been transferred to the New York office to assume direct charge of all news departments of the Sun Printing & Publishing association, according to announcement made today by the publishers. Contrary to first reports, he will not assume the place of the late William M. Laffan, who was publisher of the Sun. Mr. Oulahan has long been a prominent figure among the newspaper men of the national capital. He is vice president of the Gridiron club.

QUEER LETTER IS RECEIVED

North Dakota Man Wants to Engage in Peculiar Business.

The county auditor receives some queer letters. He is accustomed to receiving letters that seem to mean very little and with the aid of his long experience in the office he is now able to decipher most everything and get some sense out of it.

This morning Mr. Halden's brows were knitted. Clouds of very heavy smoke encircled his head and he was in deep meditation. He read and re-read a letter written on paper of ordinary tablet variety and the longer he read the more knitted became his brows and the thicker the smoke.

Here is what the auditor was trying to get some sense out of:

"Cordelia, Po. O. Boteneau, co.
"North Dakota.

"Mr. Auditor, Duluth, Minn.,

"Dear Sir—I expect to form a company for poultry hogs and dairy business also farm produce this spring if terms are satisfactory. I wish sanction of the county commissioners of St. Louis county. Later also for a stock company of which a part of the shares will be advertised and sold to push the enterprise. I want to know when the commissioners meet again. Please give me the name and address of a lawyer to aid the enterprise, yours respectfully, "CHARLES MUNDELL."

The auditor gave it up. He says he'll give the man permission to raise hogs, if he'll promise never to ask another favor.

BOMB OUTRAGE LAID TO FRENCH STRIKERS.

Graulhet, France, Feb. 11.—A formidable bomb which had been ingeniously concealed within the brick wall of the residence of a leather manufacturer exploded today, showing the house, shattering the windows, and breaking statuary and pictures within. Other houses within a radius of 100 yards felt the shock, their windows being broken. No person was injured. The outrage is attributed to leather workers who have been on strike for a month.

POLITICAL SENSATION.

teeman Asks for Statement.

North Dakota Democratic Committ-

Fargo, N. D., Feb. 11.—(Special to The Herald.)—Something of a sensation developed here this afternoon when it was learned that the Democrats yesterday in their executive sessions had passed a resolution, with only two opposing votes, demanding a statement from William Collins of Bottineau, national Democratic committeeman, of his receipts and expenditures during the past two years.

The national committeeman is in no way responsible to the state committee for his actions or expenditures, and the resolution is construed as made merely for the purpose of embarrassing Collins.

If you will read the editorial page in this week's (date of February 12) number of

THE SATURDAY EVENING POST

Edition 1,575,000 Copies

you will find it clearly proved from the Post-Office Department's own reports, that it is totally unnecessary to put any additional tax on magazines and periodicals, and that a deficit of $17,500,000 is not chargeable to the periodicals.

* * * * * * * * * "For instance, the Post-Office Department is charging $13,821,100 of the cost of rural free delivery against the second-class mail. Now, rural free delivery was established as a matter of Government policy, and we believe in it, but it is not fair to charge one dollar of this expense against the magazines. It is undoubtedly of benefit to the daily newspapers, but the Department is trying to exempt them from an increase in rate. The magazines do not need or want once a day or twice a day deliveries on these rural routes.

"Page 256, Postmaster's Report, 1908, says: 'Franking privileges weighed 4,555,634 pounds. They certainly cost the average price of all mail in all ways. And Governmental matter for Departments other than the Post-Office weighed 18,644,010 pounds.'

"This report says that if the matter was charged at postal rates it would yield a revenue as follows:

Second-class	$ 531,560.94
Franked matter	3,987,546.44
Government matter	16,362,131.95
Total credit due Department . . .	$20,881,239.33

"And that awful deficit disappears.

"It is impossible that a business of over $200,000,000 should not offer an opportunity for enormous savings. And a business like that of our great Postal Department, with endless ramifications, must offer endless opportunities.

* * * * * * * * * "No Postmaster-General entering his position to-day, with all the duties befalling a Cabinet official besides running his Department, no matter how great his intelligence or how fine his training, can grasp the details of this enormous business before he disappears. There is no time given to him to find these opportunities to save expense. The affairs of the Department must, for the most part, be administered by those under him."

Given a chance they would save in business economies more than the alleged deficit of $17,500,000.

We ask Congress to give us a Director of Posts—as recommended by the joint Congressional committee of 1907, an officer who shall be non-political, and whose term of service shall not be subject to political changes, and who shall conduct the workings of the Post-Office Department with the efficiency, economy and business-like methods which distinguish high-class American business enterprise.

HYDE AFTER DAMAGES

Tenn., a letter containing statements which Mr. Hyde charges were maliciously untrue.

Mr. Paxton has been summoned to appear at the office of Frank P. Walsh, Dr. Hyde's leading attorney, to give a deposition in the case today. It was believed Mr. Paxton's testimony would occupy several hours. Members of the Swope family also had been subpoenaed by Mr. Walsh.

Hyde Forces Ahead.

At the present time the Hyde forces seem to have obtained an advantage in the taking of depositions. Paxton's attorneys can take no depositions today, having subpoenaed witnesses to testify in another civil suit which was brought by Dr. Hyde, but which was dismissed yesterday as a part of the strategy of the Hyde attorneys.

The testimony of Dr. Chase Jordan of Kansas City, Kan., who at one time prescribed medicine for the Swope family, may be injected into the deposition-taking. Every effort has been made to subpoena Dr. Jordan, but he is ill with pneumonia and the subpoena officers so far have failed to reach him.

Since Dr. Hyde's arrest, the records of William Jewell college, a Baptist institution, at Liberty, Mo., from which he was graduated in 1892, have been searched. It developed that Hyde's record as a student was excellent, and that he was popular with both his instructors and class-mates.

Expert in Chemistry.

Dr. H. G. Parker, present head of the department of chemistry at William Jewell college, who was a class-mate of Dr. Hyde, says that as a student of chemistry, Hyde was one of the best in the class and that the defendant completed all the chemistry offered in the school. Dr. Hyde was elected president of the alumni association of the school last year.

LIKE JEKYL AND MR. HYDE

ows and three children of the latter couple, all killed together in Buchanan county one night last fall.

Like Jeykl and Hyde.

Little was no ordinary "low browed" criminal. He bore an excellent reputation in the community in which he lived and a number of friends still believe in his innocence. His character appears to have been strikingly on the Dr. Jeykl-Mr. Hyde order, to one side being attributed the atrocious crime which brought him to the shadow of ignominious death; the other being of such a nature as to hold the friends who stood by him until the last.

Little is described as one of the handsomest men in the state—more than six feet in height, weighing 236 pounds, and being, in short, a more than ordinarily fine specimen of physical manhood. He held the position of United States marshal for the Eastern district of Kentucky for a number of years. Except for his association with women, he carried himself generally without reproach. He was a sort of rural "Don Juan," however, and himself declared that "women had been his ruination."

Pardoned for One Killing.

It was while in the office of United States marshal that he shot and killed George McKinney in Eastern Kentucky, and was sentenced to a life term in the Kentucky penitentiary. He was pardoned after a shot period, and moved back to Virginia, where he was made foreman by a large lumber company at Hurley, Buchanan county.

While in this position he lived with the family of George Meadows. Mrs. Little and her children lived in the same house. Mrs. Little is alleged to have been present when the murders were committed, but she was not allowed to testify in the case.

It was alleged by the prosecution, and believed by the jury, that Little, coming home one night, killed the three Meadows children. Mrs. Justis and Mrs. Meadows with an ax, and shot George Meadows as the latter ran from the house.

Next morning the Meadows home was found in ashes. Dead bodies, or rather the partly burned fragments of them, met the eye on almost every side. The victims were found in various postures, indicating that some of them at least had made terrible struggles to save themselves.

Planned Flight with Woman.

Robbery was established as the direct motive for the crime. It was known that the ill-fated family had kept a good deal of money in the house, and that Little afterwards appeared to have plenty. It is believed that he intended to leave Virginia with his latest woman friend. At one time there was talk of lynching him, but public anger cooled, especially as Little was promptly convicted.

Originally the man was sentenced to die Jan. 7, but Governor Swanson respited him in order that the case might go to the court of appeals. That tribunal however, sustained the conviction.

"SOMEBODY BLUNDERED"

the government forces engaged so that the enemy would draw reinforcements from Acoyapa, only ten miles distant, and thus be unable to send an augmented army against Gen. Chamorro in the province of Matagalpa. This purpose was effected, but the plan did not work out exactly as he hoped. There was considerable confusion among the insurgent officers, and the advantage of the subsequent situation was in doubt.

Soldiers Showed Courage.

It is plain, however, that the Provisionals took the heavier fire of the enemy with courage, and acquitted themselves well so far as personal bravery was concerned.

A review of the details shows that the campaign was well planned and energetically furthered. While Gen. Chamorro was operating in the province of Matagalpa, where he has since occupied the capital, Gen. Mena, with only 150 men and no field guns, attacked the enemy, 600 strong and entrenched at a hill commanding Las Caritas.

Deceived regarding the strength of the Provisionals, the enemy fell back, taking a stand at Santa Clara. Gen. Mena pursued. Fighting continued on Feb. 3 at long range and with no great daunage done.

At 9 o'clock on the following morning the Provisionals made a desperate attack upon the fortified position of the enemy, being reinforced by the timely arrival of Gen. Blandon with 200 men and one Maxim gun.

Had Been Reinforced.

The enemy's position was in the form of a semi-circle. The government troops had been reinforced over night by 200 men and two Maxim and two Hotchkiss guns. These guns were well placed and, using smokeless powder, could not be discovered definitely by Gen. Mena.

The latter's right wing, including Gordon's American sharpshooters, took an exposed position within the nemy's semi-circle, while the insurgent left wing was sent to the rear of the enemy at the right of the steep hill. During the forenoon the fighting was chiefly between Mena's left and the enemy's right, the latter repulsing every attack. Col. Conrad of the Provisionals commanded the Maxim gun, which was posted in an exposed position, 500 yards from one of the enemy's Maxim's and 200 yards from the other.

In Range of Fire.

Back of the insurgents' guns was a little group composed of Gen. Blandon, the members of his staff, and the half dozen men of Conrad's gun crew. The enemy's nearest Maxim and one of the Hotchkiss guns had a perfect range on this little party, and mowed down the heavy vegetation by which the Provisionals were partly concealed.

It is considered marvelous that Col. Gabriel Conrad escaped injury so long as he did. Two of his men were wounded early in the fight, one being shot in the leg and the other in the arm. Gen. Blandon constantly exposed himself as he searched the position of the enemy with his binoculars in an effort to find their guns. At 2 o'clock in the afternoon he received a bullet through the brain.

The fall of Blandon was a great misfortune to the Provisionals. He had just received and read orders from Gen. Mena instructing him to hold the hills when the enemy's nearest Maxim, having been moved farther to the left, began raking the hitherto half-sheltered spot.

Misread the Order.

Gen. Blandon's body was accompanied to the rear by Col. Roche, who declared that Mena had ordered Blandon to abandon the right wing and reinforce the left wing, which had been unable to make any progress against the government's position. Col. Conrad dismounted the gun and the column began to move for a new position, in plain sight of the enemy, which quickly took advantage of the situation.

Gen. Mena saw his mistake, and, galloping to the front of the moving column, ordered it back to its original position, which it was instructed to hold at any cost. But the time lost was fatal. Those who reached their former position found the enemy with two Maxim guns at distances of fifty and 100 yards, under cover and pouring a murderous fire upon the position which the Provisionals were attempting to hold.

Col. Conrad directed his Maxim upon the nearest enemy, meanwhile receiving the cross-fire of the government's three Maxim guns. Conrad's chief assistant was shot through the arm and his ammunition tenders were wounded.

Conrad a Hero.

Conrad was compelled himself to place cooling water upon the gun jacket and to adjust the ammunition belts unaided. His Nicaraguans behaved themselves bravely, but were simply unable to reach the gun position in the face of the hail of bullets. Conrad's chief helper, though wounded, did not move from the side of his chief, and only showed the injury when Conrad angrily demanded assistance. A moment later a bullet tore into Conrad's abdomen, but pursued a downward course, cutting the flesh only.

Gen. Mena, recognizing the cost of his mistaken order, ordered a retreat. Four Nicaraguan insurgents performed a brilliant exploit in saving Conrad's gun after their commander had staggered to the rear.

Cuts Pension Estimates.

Washington, Feb. 11.—The pension bill carrying $155,674,000 has been reported to the house from the committee on appropriations. It represents a cut from the estimates of the department of only about $175,000. The appropriation is about $5,000,000 less than last year.

MINNESOTANS ARE BENEFITED

The Conditions for Obtaining Homestead Rights in Northwest Are Made Easier.

Washington, Feb. 11.—Regulations extending until May 15 the time for homesteaders to establish residence on lands in several Western states, have just been promulgated by the interior department, in accordance with an act rencently passed by congress. The extension refers to all entries, as well as soldiers' declaratory statements, made in North Dakota, South Dakota, Idaho, Minnesota, Montana, Nebraska, Colorado, Wyoming and New Mexico after June 1, 1909.

If any payments are required, as in cases where the lands were formerly within Indian reservations, the act operates to extend the date the payment becomes due until the entry is made.

A leave of absence of three months from Jan. 23, last, is permitted these homestead entrymen, but those who avail themselves of this privilege claim residence during their absence from their claims, and the period of residence under either commutation or five-year proofs is not shortened by the act.

PERILOUS FEAT

Of "Dare-Devil Bill" Thrills the New Yorkers.

New York, Feb. 11.—He started upward from a wigwam-like structure of steel beams which is 430 feet in the air at the corner of Liberty and Nassau streets—the top of the Liberty tower, the latest of the new buildings to reach up out of lower Manhattan Island toward the sky. He inched his way up a seventy-foot pole, which was some twelve inches in diameter at the butt and tapering to five inches at the top, 505 feet above the street. Then he tied himself fast and hauled a bucket of paint up after him and got on his job. It was to paint the pole and place a ball ten inches in diameter on top.

This was why thousands of New Yorkers, from fur-coated bankers to messenger boys, stood around on downtown corners, leaving all other business aside and gazed up into the air watching the steeple-jack at his work.

This steeple climber is William Hill, known as "Dare-Devil Bill" among his fellows. He is 23 years old and a bachelor. He is 25 years old and a pounds.

HEALTH BILL NOW COMING

Congress Will Be Asked to Guard the People's Life.

President Will Urge Creation of Bureau of Public Health.

New York, Feb. 11.—Calling upon all Americans to urge congress to prevent loss of life and health by creating a national bureau of public health, leaders of the American Health league announced in this city today, after a meeting of their executive committee, that legislation would soon be introduced to this end at Washington on a non-partisan basis. Responding to general demands for such a scientific check to the preventable disease and death that is now known to cost the nation $1,500,000,000 in life and labor each year, officers of this organization are making every effort to have law speedily made of their recommendation, that was contained in the platform of the three leading parties in the last presidential campaign and has been advocated by leaders of every political faith ever since. President Taft has just assured representatives of the American Medical association and American Health league, they declare, that he is heartily in favor of this plan. If the people of every section of the land will declare themselves on this vital question in the next few weeks, it is asserted, Uncle Sam may soon be brought to give the same attention to the physical welfare of human beings that he now does to that of sheep, cattle, hens and hogs.

Drug Habit.

Showing the immediate need of a federal health bureau to warn the people of this country of the dangers that menace their vitality in the most common walks of every day life, the American Health league is calling attention to drugs as well as diseases with which every American may come in harmful contact through lack of knowledge of the principles of personal hygiene. Numerous forms of drug habits are becoming more prevalent everywhere in the United States than most people realize, its officers assert. The dangers of cocaine, morphine and opium have been prominently brought before the public by the American Health league and vigorous efforts are being made to control and minimize their sale. In a recent address at Washington Dr Harvey W. Wiley called attention not only to these drugs, but also to the general use of caffeine, which he asserts is the most common habit-forming drug in this country, where over $60,000,000 pounds of coffee containing it are consumed each year, according to recent statistics, besides temperance drinks in which caffeine is sometimes found.

Might Check Disease.

Tuberculosis and many other dread diseases might be checked and avoided in America through the educational activities of the proposed national bureau of health, it is pointed out. Fully 100,000 of the deaths due each year to the great white plague in this country could be prevented, the American Health league declares, while systematic activities by the government might result in lengthening the average life in this country as much as fifteen years. When congress is brought to realize the benefit to human life that must follow the creation of a national health bureau, this project of the people should be at once assured, it is predicted.

"No political consideration should enter into the action of congress on the health bureau bill that we are urging, because the whole people and every one of the principal parties have already indorsed it," said an officer of the American Health league today. "Factional feeling and party lines must be wiped out in approaching so undeniably important a humanitarian measure, we believe. If every American, who prizes human life and health, will join us in urging the creation of this highly necessary bureau to increase the nation's vitality, the success of the movement will be assured."

Won't Need a Crutch.

When Editor J. P. Sossman of Cornelius, N. C., bruised his leg badly, it started an ugly sore. Many salves and ointments proved worthless. Then Bucklen's Arnica Salve healed it thoroughly. Nothing is so prompt and sure for Ulcers, Boils, Burns, Bruises, Cuts, Corns, Sores, Pimples, Eczema or Piles. 25c at all druggists.

SQUABBLE OVER CAPITAL.

Parliament Finally Chooses a Site in New South Wales.

Sydney, N. S. W., Feb. 11.—At last the vexed question of the site for the federal capital has been finally disposed of by the passage through both houses of parliament of the bill providing for the acquisition of the Canberra territory in New South Wales. It has taken a long time to adjust the differences of the advocates of various more or less suitable localities. Even now, political and commercial interests have intervened to prevent the selection of the most convenient location, although there is no reason to suppose that the Canberra site is not capable of providing for the construction of a fine city.

Over 1,000 square miles of territory have been granted for the purposes of the city and for water supply, and there is a further grant of land for a railway to run from Queanbeyan to Jervis, on the coast, a distance of about 170 miles through what is described as very poor country. An ample frontage to Jervis bay has also been granted for naval purposes.

The territory is from 1,500 feet to 2,000 feet above seal level, and it is thought that sufficient provision for water supply and power purposes can be obtained, though the cost may be considerable.

NUNS RESIST ROBBERS IN VALIANT BATTLE.

Lisbon, Feb. 11.—A remarkable conflict is reported to have taken place at the convent at Pocalrente between the nuns and a band of robbers. A notorious set of brigands infest that district, and during Sunday night they made a raid on the convent, which is situated in a lonely position five miles from the town, with the object of despoiling the church of its gold and silver ornaments, tapestries and paintings. The nuns, however, received timely warning, and barricaded the windows and the doors. They also armed themselves with old fowling pieces and pistols, and made a courageous resistance, keeping the robbers at bay.

Meantime the authorities in the adjacent town had been advised and a force of civil guards were immediately dispatched. They reached the convent just as the brigands had managed to force one of the back doors.

The guards fired a volley, killing two and wounding three, whereupon the remainder fled towards the mountains, where pursuit was useless. Three of the nuns were injured.

A THOUGHT FOR TODAY.

Reputation is what men and women think of us; character is what God and the angels know of us.

—Thomas Paine.

NEW MEMBERS OF THE FAMILY.

The completion of the Soo railroad links with Duluth by ties of common interest a large and rich section including some of the richest territory in Minnesota. Today Duluth is entertaining representatives of this new addition to its commercial family, and the occasion is an important one to Duluth and to the people who live along the new line of railroad.

It is well that the opening of commercial relations is thus marked by a friendly visit which involves a chance to get acquainted. The business that will be done by the Soo railroad over its new line is going to be mutually profitable. Duluth is the proper and natural market for the products of this rich region, and these communities thus become a part of the market for Duluth's industrial output. It is a good idea, therefore, that folks who are going to do business together in harmony and agreement and mutual profit should preface their business relations by a social gathering, which is the nature of the occasion that Duluth celebrates today.

Welcome, therefore, and thrice welcome, to Duluth's new neighbors who are its guests today. Just a few months ago Duluth and these visitors were utter strangers, separated by a lack of communications as widely as though they were in far distant states. Today, by the magic link of steel rails, they are made close neighbors; and it is to be hoped that the outcome of today's gathering will be that they will be close friends, now and hereafter.

THE OPEN MARKET.

Not less important than the cultivation of the nearby soil is the duty of providing a place where its products may be exposed for sale. The development of agriculture near Duluth has lagged quite as much because of a lack of facilities for marketing as for any other reason. When Duluth suddenly awoke last summer to the need of doing for itself, the lack of marketing facilities was the first discovery. There was no way for the producer to reach the consumer except through Michigan street, and Michigan street preferred to do business in its own way, which didn't involve bothering with nearby products. The discovery resulted first in an outburst of spleen against Michigan street, which wasn't wholly deserved, and then in a determination to provide the facilities which Michigan street fails to provide. The result is the public market project which came to a head in Duluth yesterday by the formation of the Producers' Co-operative Market association, and which will, within a short time, be providing a place where farm produce can be bought and sold, equipped with an organization that will work in the common interest of producer and consumer.

This successful movement, which throughout has had the earnest co-operation of the Duluth Commercial club and of the farmers in adjoining counties, is fully as important as any other pending detail of the broad scheme of a Greater Duluth. Without it the Williams garden plan, which also is highly important, could not succeed. Without it all efforts to encourage the cultivation of the soil of Northeastern Minnesota would be futile, for there is no great fun in raising farm produce without proper facilities for getting it to the consumer.

A COMBINATION THAT FAILED.

The combination, as a measure of self-protection and mutual profit, appears to be not for the consumer. Everybody who profits by the consumer's humble desire to live can combine, and within their combinations can fix prices that yield handsome profits even if they do flay the consumer to his bare bones; but if the consumer tries to gain for himself the benefit of combination, all the powers of business pounce upon his luckless head and proceed to beat his brains out.

For instance, there is the story of the government clerks at Washington who formed a co-operative association to buy food at wholesale and sell it to their members at cost. Pretty scheme, it was, too. There were enough clerks in it to make the orders big enough to be attractive to wholesalers. It appealed to the membership of the association because it enabled them to get around the retailer's profit, and to live more comfortably upon their salaries. Also, it enabled them to play better the universal Washington game whereby every $900 clerk tries to live on the scale affected by the $1,200 clerk, every $1,200 clerk tries to keep up appearances with the $1,500 clerk, and so on up.

This was three years ago, and for a time the scheme worked beautifully. Then it struck a rock and foundered. The other day some of the clerks who had benefited by it told a congressional investigating committee how it happened that the scheme came to grief.

Anybody can guess what happened. It was an inevitable outcome of it, as everybody will see who knows how far the business of combination has gone among those who supply the people with the necessaries of life. The retailers, when they found how far the thing had gone, took it up, pulled its nose, slapped its face, and then tore off one of its legs and beat it to death.

Their method was simplicity itself. They found out who the wholesalers were that were selling goods to the association, and then their various organizations notified the wholesalers that if they did not stop it, they would be boycotted. Oh, they didn't put it quite so baldly as that, of course. They use language much more parliamentary than "boycott". But that is what it came to.

The first obstacle came from the bakers. They wouldn't sell bread to the association even over their counters, because the grocers' association had threatened to stop trading with them unless they ceased selling to the clerks. One baker braved the grocers for awhile, but he gave in when his business had been cut in two by the grocers' boycott. It was the same with most of the others, except that the meat trust, the sugar trust and the cracker trust refused to let the smaller combinations of tradesmen interfere with their business; but the association couldn't live on meat, crackers and sugar, so it quit.

Clearly, everybody can combine but the consumer. He mustn't.

THERE IS NO NEED OF HURRY.

President Taft is wise in announcing that he does not propose to press his federal incorporation law to speedy enactment, and that it is offered now merely that it may be made the basis of discussion out of which enlightenment and definite knowledge may come. The step is radical and important, and it is not one to be taken in a hurry. It involves principles that it is well to think over thoroughly before they are made into law.

Business is interstate, and many now believe that if it is to be controlled effectively, the control must be national. Yet the states have always held exclusive power of creating corporations, and to provide that the federal government may create them goes a long way toward breaking down the barriers between the present federal form of government and a truly national form. It may be that that will have to come. It may be that to cling too jealously to the doctrine of state's rights will expose the nation to evils far worse than any involved in the merging of sovereign states into a compact and coherent nation; yet nevertheless the change would be a radical departure from the principles on which the government was founded.

Because the states began as free and independent parts of a coalition in the common interest is not, of course, a convincing reason why they should retain that position. To make that reason sufficient is to be slavishly devoted to the doctrine of "whatever is is right", to commit the nation to a policy of "let it alone", and to crook a cringing knee to the god of things as they are. If change must come, let it come; but a change so complete, a change which would be a mere entering wedge for still greater changes in the same direction, should be taken only upon the matured conviction that it is the only way to solve the pressing problems that perplex the people.

It will be well if the federal incorporation bill be laid aside for thorough study, while congress proceeds with legislation regarding which there is no doubt.

THE FREE SEED STUPIDITY.

About this time begins the annual government farce of free seed distribution. Tons of packages of seed will be shipped out by mail at government expense, and scattered over every congressional district in the country by senators and congressmen in the hope that the favor will touch a warm spot in the hearts of the grateful beneficiaries of this generosity at government expense, and result in improving their own political interests.

And while the government is using its mail service for this absurdly wasteful and improper purpose, the postoffice department is so hard up that it is refusing to establish necessary rural delivery routes, and it is talking of increasing the second class mail rates in a way that would bring about dearer newspapers and magazines.

The free seed graft—it is no better than that—came about naturally enough. The department of agriculture constantly experiments with seeds and plants, and constantly evolves new and more desirable varieties. In the early days, occasionally a congressman would get a few of these choice seeds and send them out to his district. They made a hit, and the practice grew. Presently the demand for free seeds outgrew the supply, so congress made provision whereby the department of agriculture goes into the market each year and buys from regular seed dealers an enormous quantity of seeds. These are made up in small packages and sent out. The fiction that this is experimental work is kept up by a label on the package which requests those who get the seeds to report results; but nobody bothers about reporting, and when reports are made the department pays no attention to them.

Often the quality of these seeds has been a scandal. Corrupt contractors have palmed off on the department inferior seeds, mixed with the seeds of weeds. Sometimes these government seeds have come up, and sometimes they haven't come up; often when they did come up the results were amazing.

At present, probably, the quality of the seeds is fair. They are nothing out of the ordinary, but are about the same sort of seeds you would buy from a regular dealer. But farmers who select their seeds carefully, and who test the seeds they buy, will not risk any of their soil in using these government seeds, but throw them away or give them to the boys to play with.

It is estimated that about 250 carloads of mail matter originate in this free seed distribution; and that means a heavy expense to the government, not only in buying the seeds but in distributing them. The country has been aware for some time that the free seed distribution is a farce, and attempts are made in congress to defeat the appropriation every year. Yet the congressmen cling jealously to this petty graft, so the postoffice department will be burdened again this year with a heavy expense which helps increase its deficit, and which does nobody on earth the slightest bit of good. In fact, it does harm; for if the agricultural department were relieved of this burden of distributing free seeds it would have that much more money and time to devote to purposes really useful.

WHY NOT ?

A butcher, writing to a trade publication, says: "Another reason for the high cost of meat is the tariff on dressed beef, which I understand is 12 per cent ad valorem, which means to the consumer an average cost of about 16 cents on every dollar's worth of meat purchased. Why not abolish this tax on the American workingman?"

Why not, indeed? Yet this is not the only tax on the American workingman. There are others that should be abolished. The reasons why they are not abolished are three: The Republican party, Senator Aldrich and Speaker Cannon.

THE OPEN COURT.

(Readers of The Herald are invited to make free use of this column to express their ideas about live topics of general interest. Letters should not exceed 300 words—the shorter the better. They must be written on one side of the paper only, and they must be accompanied in every case by the name and address of the writer, though these need not be published. A signed letter is always more effective, however.)

A FIFTY-FOOT FRONT AND CONTENTMENT.

To the Editor of The Herald:

Perhaps living out here in the suburbs, where you can get away from the hurly-burly for a little while, get your feet on the kitchen stove, light a pipe and think while you watch your good wife wash the supper dishes—she won't let me wipe them for her—gives a man a little different outlook on life. A man who watches a football game from the side lines often sees many little incidents that the player will miss, or at least does not have time to ruminate upon.

Here in this great rich country of ours, we have men turning themselves into veritable mill horses, grinding away ten and twelve hours a day, year in and year out, and not being able to get enough ahead to find a silver lining in the cloud of life, while others can squander thousands on the most useless luxuries.

We will let ignorant men, who can hardly spell their own names, vote, and refuse the same right to women we think enough of to marry.

We raise enough beef to feed England, and that beef is sold cheaper there than it is in Chicago, where the cattle are killed.

We pay homage to a big, brutal prize fighter, and reimburse him for showing off his beef and muscle, at a greater rate than we pay our president.

We cheerfully shower riches on a composer of ragtime jingles, while the real musician starves to death.

We follow all kinds of freak religions, profess all number of freak beliefs, and let dry rot afflict our good old-fashioned Christianity.

We imprison a man six months or a year for stealing a watch from a drunken companion, and make a man who loots an empire, a cabinet minister.

We bow the social knee to the ignorant boor, who chugs serenely by in his limousine, and snub the man of fine mind or keen sensibility who lives next door, because he carries his own laundry, instead of standing off and agreeing to divide the pot.

We spend millions to send missionaries to China when probably 25 per cent of our people are living in squalor and vice.

We spend countless millions on battleships and standing armies, when the men ought to be out digging the soil and producing food for those who are hungry, and adding something to the wealth of society.

We help maim a workman in our industrial plants, and then watch the lawyer and the corporation fight it out to see who will get the price of the leg or the arm.

We spend millions to investigate the diseases of animals and plants to the thousands we spend to investigate the diseases of men.

We support countless bodies of lawmakers passing new laws every day in the year, almost, when no man living could learn one-thousandth part of the laws now existing, not one-tenth of which will ever be enforced.

We license saloons to sell whisky, and use the money to hire policemen to arrest the men who get drunk on the whisky.

We think the man who lives in two steam heated rooms and a bath a scale above the man who gets out into the suburbs, buys his own little frame house, or builds it with his own hands, and supports his family by an honest day's toil with his hands.

Get a home of your own out in the suburbs, where you can get away from the smoke and dirt for a time, get a garden to dig in, a grate fire to look at on winter evenings, and you get a new outlook on life. Go to Woodland if you have to, but get out in the suburbs and get a home of your own.

Your old friend, A LAKESIDER.

Duluth, Feb. 10.

For Lincoln's Birthday.

The steadfast soul; the calm, clear brain that planned
His country's weal; the gentle, rugged hand
That freed three million slaves by stroke of pen;
The great, strong heart that held but love for men;
A memory more sweet, more bright than Fame—
All these we pledge in pledging Lincoln's name.

Treachery.

Kansas City Times: This is a plea for the widows and orphans. They are being deserted and injured by their friends. The desertion and injury are no new thing; but the repetition of such a grievous offense compels a protest. Here is Wall street hammering down stocks, or refusing to support stocks, when the brokers know that every fall in value bitterly wrongs the widowed and orphaned holders of that stock.

Is chivalry among our stock brokers dead? Are the captains of finance and industry wholly heartless? Has gratitude abandoned entirely their bosoms? How often have the widows and orphans saved the day for the brokers, and the captains, and the interests generally!

These gentlemen never fail to place a widow or an orphan between them and the fire of a square deal. "Look out!" they have shouted when the people were going to shoot a special privilege full of holes. "You'll hit a helpless widow or a tear-stained orphan!" And how often have the rugged yeomanry hearkened to the appeal! Is that plea only for the plain people and the lawmakers? Will Wall street let a stock fall and hit a widow or crush an orphan merely because Wall street will lose money by supporting it?

Facts seem irresistibly to answer, "Yes; it is too true." The very thought is ignoble. It not only injures the widows and orphans. It even lessens the force of the "widows and orphans" plea.

The Dream and the Deed.

The Dream is the babe in the love-lit nest,
And the rollicking boy at play;
The Dream is the Youth with the old, old zest
For the rare romance of a day.
Then the Deed strides forth to the distant goal
That has dazzled since life began;
For the Dream is the child of the rampant soul—
But the Deed is the man!

The Dream is the peak that is seen afar,
And the wish for the eagle's wings;
The Dream is the song to the beckoning star
That the world-waif fondly sings;
Then the Deed comes crowned with the strength and skill
That doth perfect a golden plan;
For the Dream is the child of the Sovereign Will—
But the Deed is the man!

The Dream is the mask that would make men fair,
And the boast that would count them brave;
The Dream is the honors that heroes wear
And the glory that high hearts crave;
Then the Deed gives battle to pride and pelf
As only a conqueror can;
For the Dream is the child of the Better Self—
But the Deed is the man!

No song was so sweet, and no star so bright
As the Dream of the Nazarene;
From Virgin's bosom to Calvary's height,
It sang and it shone, serene.
Then the Deed proclaimed Him King of His Kind
As the blood of the Martyr ran;
For the Dream was the child of the Master-mind—
But the Deed was the Man!

THE WEATHER.

Below zero weather hasn't come yet, for the lowest temperature last night was 2 deg. above, but the weather man promises colder weather for tonight and the mercury is expected to go below the zero mark. This fair weather and snappy air isn't very uncomfortable for those accustomed to the winter climate of the North and the possibility of lower temperatures isn't causing much fear and trembling.

A year ago today was clear, cold and snappy.

The sun rose this morning at 7:20 and it will set at 5:26, giving ten hours and six minutes of sunlight.

Mr. Richardson makes the following comment on weather conditions:

"Slight barometric depressions have moved their centers from Northwestern North Dakota to western Lake Superior and from Western Texas to Alabama, respectively, during the past twenty-four hours. These disturbances caused rain or snow in Southern states, the lake region Red river valley, plateau districts and Oregon, together with milder weather in the Red river, Lower Missouri and Mississippi valleys and western lake region. The Mississippi valley high pressure has advanced to New England attended by much colder weather in North Atlantic states, while the far western area of the same character has moved its center to the Western Dakotas, causing colder temperature in the Western Dakotas, Montana and Western Canada.

"Indications favor zero weather at the Head of the Lakes tonight."

Following were the maximum temperatures for twenty-four hours and the minimum for twelve ending at 7 a. m., today:

The Liberty of the Press.

The Spirit of Freedom speaks:
Over my chosen land,
By day and by night,
I have set watch and ward—
A Voice and a Light,
So that all men may know,
That all men may see;
Thus do I covenant
Mankind shall be free.

The Press and the People—
What is the news the paper brings? A chosen man and great
Has proven false to the public weal and plotted against the State;
And one we honored above the rest and placed in the judgment seat
Has made a mockery of the law, brought justice to defeat;
Greed is clutching the toiler's throat, extorting a meed of gold;
For love of power and pride of place, virtue is bought and sold;
By stealth, in silence, crime robs and slays, vice spreads its deadly blight!
How shall the people be warned and saved with never a voice nor light?

The Spirit of Freedom speaks:
Priceless the heritage
To guard and to keep
Lest men be bound again,
Lest women shall weep.
If ye be true to me,
O children rejoice!
No one may quench the Light
Nor silence the Voice!

Bitter Cold.

Chicago Record-Herald: "So she treated you coldly?"

"Coldly? Say, I'd have had to have a sextant and an artificial horizon to be able to find out what latitude I was in if I had been there for that purpose."

TWENTY YEARS AGO

Taken From the Columns of The Herald of This Date, 1890.

Permits are issued to F. B. Daugherty and E. S. Upham for two frame dwellings on adjoining lots on the corner of First street and Fifteenth avenue east to cost $6,000 each.

The first number of the Lake Superior Catholic has made its appearance and looks fine typographically.

The Society of Christian Endeavor of the Congregational church at West Duluth has selected the following officers for the ensuing six months: Miss Margaret Bowen, president; F. S. Cowen, vice president; M. L. McMinn, secretary and treasurer.

There is likely to be music when the city election returns are canvassed. T. T. Hudson, who has looked into the matter, says there have been several violations of the new election law. It is claimed there were 106 votes counted in the first precinct of the Third ward, which should have been thrown out, as the names were scratched or otherwise wrongly marked.

Two sidewheel ferries, large enough to be used by teams and wagons will be built to run between Duluth, West Superior and Connors Point. Capt. Murch, fleet captain of the Northern line, is heavily interested.

F. C. Bowman, Judge Spencer and Moses Stewart, Jr., were elected members of the chamber of commerce at yesterday's meeting. A letter was received from the St. Cloud Business Men's association, charging the railroads with discrimination in favor of St. Paul and Minneapolis against Duluth. "We are not able," the letter says, "to buy goods from Duluth, because the railways will not give us a just rate."

MINNESOTA OPINIONS.

Want Men, Not Manikins.

Warroad Commonwealth: Halvor Steenerson is due to learn that the people have pretty largely ceased to regard party; that when they elect a man to congress it is to do what they want done, and not to trot around the congressional ring under a party whip.

The Working of the "System."

Winona Independent: The bear element in the New York stock exchange is beating down prices on steel and copper stocks because of distrust of the industrial business and political outlook." How do you account for that in this period of "unprecedented prosperity?"

Badger Herald-Rustler: If the wives who are obliged to account to their husbands for every cent they get, were to turn the tables by demanding an audit of the tobacco and beer expenses things would be different.

Tell It to Taft.

Le Sueur Sentinel: At the beginning of an election year it might be well to remind politicians of all parties of the truth of this statement of Grover Cleveland's: "Party honesty is party expediency."

Only One Vacancy.

North Branch Review: We like Frank Kellogg and believe that he is generally popular with Minesota people, who recognize his brilliancy and worth. However, there is only one seat in the senate to be filled next winter and it looks as though Mose Clapp has the call for another term.

A Bit of Real Wisdom.

Walker Pilot: It keeps some people poor trying to convince others that they ain't.

Depositor Should Have Security.

Austin Transcript: The guarantee of bank deposits is all right and we are confident will become general, and it will be a success after proper legal means are devised to protect the banking business from the gambling banker.

Put Them on Record.

Foley Independent: Good roads and reapportionment are the paramount issues in Minnesota, today. It almost seems that the two are inseparately linked together and before one can be satisfactorly settled it will be necessary to dispose of the other. While it is yet early, no time should be lost in grooming the right sort of men for the legislature.

Jadam's Wrong Hunch.

Elk River Star-News: J. Adam Bede thinks the "thoughful people" of Minnesota believe the new tariff bill is all right. J. Adam should come home and get his ear to the ground.

Nothing Like Time Yet.

Sauk Rapids Sentinel-Free Press: It would be a severe blow to some people if Mr. Taft should prove himself the master down in Washington after all.—Ortonville Herald-Star.

Severe may be the word to describe the kind of blow it would be, but it isn't a marker to the word that would properly indicate the sort of surprise that would result if Taft should "prove himself master."

A MOMENT WITH THE WITS.

Fliegende Blatter: Debtor (to shop girl)—It's an outrage for your employer to have you present this bill here at the railroad station in the presence of all these people! Tell him I'll attend to the matter as soon as I get home—and now give me a kiss, they want done, and not to trot around the congressional ring under a party whip.

Cleveland Plain Dealer: "I saw you talking with Mrs. Featherly. She seemed excited."

"Yes; she was putting up the same old grumble."

"What's her grievance?"

Chicago Evening Post: "Here's a new lullaby," says the composer.

Pictures of Memory.

Among the beautiful pictures
That hang on memory's wall,
Is one of a dim old forest.
That seemeth best of all.
Not for its gnarled oaks olden,
Black with the mistletoe;
Not for the violets golden
That sprinkle the vale below;
Not for the milk-white lilies
That lean from the fragrant hedge,
Coquetting all day with the sunbeams,
And stealing their golden edge;
Not for the vines on the upland
Where the bright red berries rest,
Nor the pinks, nor the pale, sweet cowslip
It seemeth to me the best.

I once had a little brother
In the lap of that dim old forest
He lieth in peace asleep.
Light as the down of the thistle,
Free as the winds that blow.
We roved there the beautiful summers—
The summers of long ago.

But his feet on the hills grew weary,
And one of the autumn eves
I made for my little brother
A bed of yellow leaves.
Sweetly his pale arms folded
My neck in a meek embrace,
As the light of immortal beauty
Silently covered his face;
And when the arrows of sunset
Lodged in the tree-tops bright,
He fell in his saint-like beauty,
Asleep by the gates of light.

Therefore, of all the pictures
That hang on memory's wall,
The one of the dim old forest
Seemeth the best of all.

EIGHTH DISTRICT POLITICS

By Frank M. Eddy in the Minneapolis Tribune.

There is much dissatisfaction in the Eighth district at the present time with Clarence Miller, and this is partly the result of unavoidable circumstances and partly the result of his own conduct.

Few people, even residents, realize the importance of the Eighth district. It is empire in domain, multitudinous in its resources, polyglot in its population and one of the most difficult to represent satisfactorily of any in the United States. Its mines are inexhaustible; timber supply immeasurable; shipping interests immense; jobbing interests second only to the Twin Cities; labor and labor affairs cut a tremendous figure; soon it will be one of the great manufacturing centers of the nation; its agricultural resources are not to be sneezed at, and natives of thirty-three foreign countries, not counting St. Paul, have a respectable representation in its diversified population.

Many of these interests conflict in a legislative way and the different groups of nationalities hold widely divergent views as to what is proper and beneficent legislation, and a man in order to be able to satisfy all these conflicting elements would have to be half divine or two-thirds devilish, and Clarence Miller is neither; he is only human, and very human at that.

The Eighth district has always had a notable representation in congress. First, the brilliant Towne, a nation-wide character; then the scholarly Judge Morris, ranking high among the ablest, followed by the versatile Bede, who, whatever rank may be accorded him as a legislator, certainly had a remarkable faculty of keeping himself and the district represented in the limelight. The district, its affairs and its representatives, have been kept in the forefront of public attention so long that its residents have come to regard any representative who fails to keep it on the front page, next to pure reading matter, all the time, as more or less of a failure. This is a difficult matter to accomplish unless a man is a demagogue or a genius.

• • •

In the primary campaign of 1908, the Eighth district, in common with the rest of the country, suffered from a virulent attack of that newspaper-created malady, "Cannonitas." Miller had a breaking out of it about the mouth, and as his opponent defended Cannon, Miller made much political capital and many votes by telling of the direful things he would do to "Uncle Joe" and his gang of bad men when he got down to the capital, and the anti-Cannonites confidently expected to see the speaker hunt his hole and his tyrannical committee on rules annihilated as soon as their champion arrived in Washington.

There is no question of the sincerity of Miller's denunciation of Cannon and Cannonism in the primary campaign, but on his arrival in Washington, like all new members, he learned several things. He learned there were 206 other Republican members; that they were in the habit of holding a caucus, and that all Republicans were expected to attend and abide by the decision of the majority; that the Democrats had the same curious custom; that a party man who fails to do this is regarded as outside the pale of the party, and need not expect and will not receive any assistance from his party associates, and that a partyless man was a lonesomer individual than a Chippewa Indian at a Sioux war dance. When he learned these he did the only sensible thing there was for him to do. He participated in the caucus and abided the decision of the same.

This gave those individuals who believe a congressman ought to commit political hari-kari, in order to satisfy newspaper clamor a chance to yell that "Clarence" was a turncoat and they have made the most of it. But it did not injure him among the sober, level-headed business element who cling to the old-fashioned doctrine that majority rule is popular rule and that a congressman is elected to do things and not to make a holy show of himself.

There is some talk of Bede contesting the nomination. There is nothing in it. Bede is mighty popular in the district, but he is not strong. Everybody likes him, everybody has a good word for him, but nobody wants him for congressman. Bede with his keen perspicuity realizes this and he won't be a candidate now or in the future. The country is to be congratulated on this result. On the lecture platform he is a thing of joy—as a congressman —?

• • •

Mr. Miller will be renominated and re-elected, mark that down, and his future will depend on his future. If he makes good he can stay in congress as long as he likes. The chances are he will make good. He is young and youth is a mighty valuable asset.

There are too many old men in congress; it is gray with tradition and bald with precedent. Youth uses the whip and spur and age the checkrein. The country is demanding more whip and spur-a-tiveness and less checkrein-a-tiveness in legislation.

Mr. Miller has a fine appearance and is a masterly orator. These things all count.

It remains to be seen if he possesses the gumption to get there. The absolutely essential bonhomme that will draw his colleagues to him and inspire them with a desire to aid him. If he has not he better close his career at the close of his next term.

He must step up among the leaders or step down and out. The Eighth district has been too ably represented to be satisfied with just an ordinary member of congress.

OLD MAID'S STRANGE WILL.

Six Nephews and Nieces Inherit Property Under Peculiar Conditions

Vienna, Feb. 11.—An extraordinary will has been left by an elderly unmarried lady who recently died in Vienna. Her property, amounting to about $250,000, is to be divided between her three nephews, now aged 24, 27 and 29, and her three nieces, aged 19, 21 and 22, in equal parts on the following conditions:

The six nephews and nieces must all live in the house formerly inhabited by their aunt, with the executor, a lawyer. None of the nephews is to marry before reaching the fortieth year, nor the nieces before their thirtieth; the share of the one so marrying will be divided. Further, the six legatees are admonished never to quarrel. If one should do so persistently the executor is empowered to turn him or her out of the house and divide the share. The executor is himself forbidden to marry or to reside elsewhere than in the house with the legatees.

The old maid is said to have made this peculiar will because her nephews and nieces continually worried her by asking her to give them money to enable them to marry—requests she always refused.

IS PLAYING FOR PROFIT

Wall Street Having Another Ghost Dance, That Is All.

Powerful Men Will Gather in Securities at Cheap Prices.

New York, Feb. 11.—Since the break in stock prices upon the exchanges one hears every now and then some person who has been nipped by the squeeze which is going on, or is in sympathy with those who are allowing the manipulators to push down prices, say that it looks as if business was getting duller and things are not looking so bright as they did a few months ago.

There is not a shadow over general business at this time that either slows down its activities or darkens future prospects.

Wall Street has its methods and plans that are far removed from the best intrests of the masses of the people and are designed and practiced for the interests of those who wield the power in security circles.

But Wall Street does not intend to create a panic or start a trade disturbance. It is simply playing for profit to the powerful operators. If by breaking down prices they can pick up gilt-edged stocks at a lower range of values, and at the same time they can, through fear of business depression, halt administration policies they oppose, they consider those objects worthy of all the attention which they are now giving them.

Merely a Ghost Dance.

Wall Street is having a ghost dance, that is all. It will never attempt a war dance, for it realizes full well what the result would be in view of the present sentiments of the people of the United States.

The powerful men will gather in at cheap prices the securities of the railways which are earning big percentages of profits, and the political effect which they will have on lawmakers and executive departments will be all to the good of the order.

The revenues of the government keep increasing, and it is now apparent that the deficit for the year ending June 30 will be but very small, and it is possible that none will be shown. That does not indicate any lull in trade.

Lord Rothschild of England stated a few weeks ago that when there was a brisk demand for diamonds in the United States there were very few unemployed people there. I doubt if I could quote a more eminent or reliable authority on business than the head of the house of Rothschild.

To make this assertion stronger we have it acknowledged as correct by the leading financiers of the United States. For years diamonds have been the first article to feel the effects of industrial depression, agricultural misfortune or financial distress. Their sales immediately drop off in amount and their values are reduced.

Diamonds Are Going Up.

While Wall street is trying to assume the gloom of a national undertaker and is ordering crape and cypress in case Taft puts through the Roosevelt policies, let us see what diamonds are doing in New York and the country.

On Thursday of last week the American Diamond Cutters' association was granted an advance of 12½ per cent in wages of its members by the diamond merchants of this city.

Charles A. Keene, whose establishment is on Broadway within three blocks of Wall street, and who is one of the best known diamond dealers, said: "It will mean that the cost to each customer will be from $5 to $10 a carat more than at present.

"There is an extraordinary demand in America for diamonds. This country now takes 70 per cent of the output of the world and the percentage is increasing. I think the demand is due to the prosperous condition of the people."

The imports of diamonds for January, 1910, were much larger in value than for the same month in 1909. The increase just allowed in the wages of the cutters in itself tells of the boom now going on in the business.

Let us examine how the cash of the country stands in comparison with prior years at this time. The circulation is many millions of dollars greater in amount than it was twelve months ago according to the latest report of the treasury department.

Gain of Millions Reported.

Fourteen national banks in Chicago at close of business, Jan. 31, reported a gain in their deposits of $6,658,218 since last official report, Nov. 16, 1909. Their total deposits were the greatest ever reached, being the enormous sum of $411,604,953.

The annual reports of twenty savings banks in Brooklyn show an increase in their deposits of more than $14,000,000 for the year ended Dec. 31, 1909, and they have added a clean $1,000,000 to their surplus accounts, which now aggregate in the twenty banks $22,000,000.

To show the activity and increase of the railway business right here in the state of New York it is only necessary to refer to the official reports of the movements of cars for 1909. In the month of December, 1909, 20,000 more cars were hauled in what is known as Western New York territory than were handled in January, 1909, an increase of more than 30 per cent in the comparison of the two months named.

A telegram from Pittsburg stating that the Westinghouse company had sent out six agents to gather 300 expert workers, especially those skilled in the manufacture of automobile motors, is another item that knocks out the idea of any dullness in general trade.

The telegram also stated that the leading auto builders are calculating upon building a total of 150,000 automobiles during the present year, and that contracts for more than $1,000,000 worth of rubber work for autos had been let in that city.

Must Be a Demand.

Ten years ago there were not 10,000 autos in the United States, and unless these shrewd, bright auto manufacturers had the demand for the number of machines they would not be making such large contracts or planning the enormous output they are doing.

Let us take the construction of buildings and ascertain what is doing over the country in that line. For the year 1900 reports from fifty-nine of the leading cities of the United States show a gain of 24,153 in number of structures as compared with 1908, and an increase in total values of structures of 41 per cent. Out of the fifty-nine cities but seven reported decreases in building.

Last week the largest single shipment of coffee ever made between New Orleans and Kansas City was sent through. It consisted of sixteen carloads of coffee from Brazil—4,000 sacks—and the aggregate weight was more than 500,000 pounds.

In railway affairs last week it may be mentioned that the order of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad for steel rails to the value of over $2,000,000 was not a bear argument.

Neither did it tend to show dull trade in the future when General Manager Bury of the Canadian Pacific railway, announced that his company would spend $30,000,000 in Western Canada for extension, bridges, shops and double tracking the main line.

Canadian Affairs Bright.

It did not help the plans of those who would threaten prosperity through the stock market decline to have Hon. George P. Graham, minister of railways in the dominion, to announce in the Canadian parliament that the government was ready to commence the construction of the railway to Hudson bay next spring.

These encouraging announcements by Canadians are in marked contrast to the jeremiads of some of the financiers and operators of this city.

This country always will be suspicious of the sincerity and unselfishness of those who would pose as professional guardians of its honor, safety and prosperity.

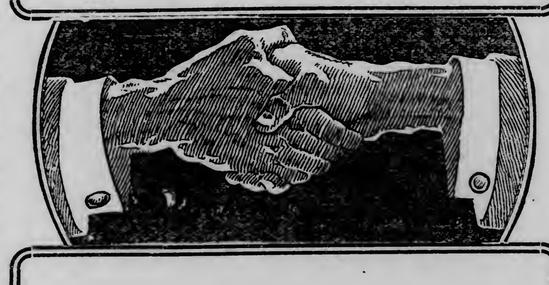

The people, the masses of the people, neither want nor need guardians, and would not go to Wall street for them if they did need them. Much has been made on the outside of the calling of loans made by banks on stocks collaterals.

The public should know that there is no more effective method of reducing stock values than by having banks call loans, and neither is there a more direct and effective method to tumble the desired securities into the open maw of the financial sharks who await the action of the calling banks. It is a recognized play of the game that is always running in Wall street and its subsidiary branches throughout the country.

CURES ECZEMA QUICKLY

New Discovery Has Revolutionized the Treatment of Skin Diseases.

Nothing in the history of medicine has ever approached the success of the marvelous skin remedy known as poslam, which, it is safe to say, has cured more cases of eczema and skin diseases than any remedy ever offered for these ills.

The success of poslam is not at all surprising when it is considered that even a very small quantity applied to the skin stops itching immediately and cures chronic cases in two weeks. The very worst cases of eczema, as well as acne, herpes, tetter, piles, salt rheum, rash, crusted humors scaly scalp and every form of itch, yield to it readily. Blemishes such as pimples, red noses, muddy and inflamed skin disappear almost immediately when poslam is applied, the complexion being cleared over night.

Every druggist keeps both the 50-cent size (for minor troubles) and the $2 jar, and either of these may be obtained at the Lyceum Pharmacy and W. A. Abbett's in Duluth and the A. E. Holmberg Drug Co., in Superior, as well as other reliable drug stores.

But no one is even asked to purchase poslam without first obtaining an experimental package which will be sent by mail, free of charge, upon request, by the Emergency Laboratories, 32 West Twenty-fifth street, New York city.

GOTHAM NOT IN DANGER

New York Declared to Be Proof Against All Flood Tides.

Rector's Famous Night Restaurant on Upper Tenderloin Closed.

New York, Feb. 11.—No floods, freshets or tidal waves can ever bring this metropolis to the sad state of Paris, according to engineers who have just completed a special examination of the rocky shores of Manhattan island and for the authorities here. With the exception of one slight depression in the surface of the water front of one small section of the upper island, Gotham is declared to be proof against all the flood tides that could ever be rolled up against it from the waters of the Atlantic or the Hudson. While the lowlands of the mainland shore sections of Greater New York might be deluged with great damage by unusual conditions such as have laid low the life of the French capital, the city experts declare, the people of this inner island need never fear flood from that cause. While hundreds of thousands of dollars are being raised here for the relief of stricken Paris, this special announcement of local safety from similar deluge is a real relief to the public.

Peril of the Parks.

Scores of private detectives have been set to patrolling the parks and public playgrounds where panic stricken parents of this town fear to trust their children since the arrest of a madman charged with shooting innocent boys at play. As the probing of this shooting tragedy goes on, the revelations of the dangers to which youngsters may be subjected from lunatics at large are each day alarming all mothers and fathers more and more. Dangerous characters by the dozen, who have roamed the playgrounds at will for weeks, are being found in the search to fix the guilt in this one case. It is admitted that sudden madness might have driven any one of these murderous wayfarers to attempt to kill the romping children among whom they constantly passed. While private guards are now looking out for the boys and girls of wealthier families, the police are preparing to take emergency measures to rid the public parks of this menace to child life.

Rector's Revels.

For the first time in the twelve years that the rich have revelled away within its walls, Rector's famous night restaurant lies today dark and empty. A padlock has ben put upon the decorated doors out of which the gilded crowd used to stream each morning, leaving behind thousands of dollars in exchange for viands and rare wines. Other modern night palaces are being erected all about the site of old Rector's, which will now remain only a name to New Yorkers. With the closing of this resort, the last of the lobster refectories of the older days has disappeared from the upper Tenderloin. In its day, this gay center of night life used to serve single suppers that cost many hundreds of dollars to select little parties of noted bon vivants. Its rooms were always gay, its patrons jolly and many a man-about-town will miss the atmosphere of its regular revels.

Great Giving.

With $750,000 donated in one day last week to charities, and many millions more counted as contributions for the last fortnight, the record for all philanthropic giving in the history of this city has been broken. After three years in which all funds for good works lay at the lowest ebb, leaders in every charitable organization are now finding their appeals met by a response as bountiful as it is general. From thousands of New Yorkers for whom charity has been foced to begin at home during the last few lean years, regular subscriptions to every form of philanthropy are today being reported. No surer sign of real prosperity than this rise in charity giving is known by the economic experts here. Bad times always begin by a decrease in donations, they assert, while good times are only assured when beneficence is at the maximum it has reached today.

Waiters Wail.

Rising to deny what they seem to consider an insult, the army of waiters about this town are indignantly denying a recent court statement by the wife of one of them, that over $100 a week is to be made in tips at the swell hotels. According to the men behind the napkin, they earn only about $20 a week in wages, while their fees never aggregate over $2 or $3 after sixteen long hard hours of servers of this town complain of the system of this town complain of system of fines for flicking food and breaking crockery, that they assert makes their labors anything but productive. By the public that pushes silver into the palms of these men constantly, however, their statements are being taken with a grain of salt.

President Helps Orphans.

Hundreds of orphans have been helped by the President of the Industrial Orphans' Home at Macon, Ga., who writes: "We have used Electric Bitters in this institution for nine years. It has proved a most excellent medicine for Stomach, Liver and Kidney troubles. We regard it as one of the best family medicines on earth." It invigorates all vital organs, purifies the blood, aids digestion, creates appetite. To strengthen and build up pale, thin, weak children or rundown people it has no equal. Best for female complaints. Only 50c at all druggists.

SWISS FORM TRUST TO CONTROL SNAIL OUTPUT.

Geneva, Feb. 11.—A snail trust has been formed in the canton of Soleure, and if the negotiations succeed, the trust will cover the three principal snail raising cantons of Soleure, Vaud and Neuchatel. Soleure alone exported snails to the value of about $10,000 to Paris in 1909, and could not supply the demands of the French provinces.

The French seem to prefer Swiss snails to home grown ones. The wholesale price for snails in this country is about 12 cents a dozen, and the trust wishes to raise the price and the quality of snails next winter season, as well as to extend the "farms," in order to supply the ever-increasing demand both in France and Switzerland.

WOMAN LAWYER

Will Run for Governor of New Hampshire on Suffragette Platform

Boston, Mass., Feb. 11.—Staid old New Hampshire, where it's worth a man's life to be anything but a machine Republican, has been treated with a sensation.

Mrs. Marilla M. Ricker, lawyer, leader in the suffragist movement and a disciple of Ingersoll, has announced herself a real candidate for governor.

Her platform, with one great huge plank, calls for women's rights.

Mrs. Ricker is highly educated, is known throughout the state and, aside from that, has money, which is often the chief asset in a political campaign. She declares she is a candidate because she has paid taxes without representation too long.

SCHOOL EXHIBIT IS NEARLY READY

Virginia's School Display for Japan Exposition Soon to Be Sent.

Virginia, Minn., Feb. 11.—(Special to The Herald.)—Supt. Lafayette Bliss has been entertaining the teachers and students a the Roosevelt auditorium by giving weekly lectures and showing stereopticon views of his subjects, using about 100 slides for each lecture. He nas already lectured upon astronomy, geology and physical geography.

Supt. Bliss is preparing an elaborate Wasnington's birthday program which will be rendered at the Roosevelt auditorium on the night of Feb. 22. The program will consist of literary and musical numbers and the general public will be invited.

A large consignment of new books have been added to the high school library. The list consists of works on art, science, history, literature and reference books.

The exhibit being prepared by the pupils of the manual training, domestic science and kindergarten departments of the public schools for the world's fair to be held at Nagoya, Japan, is nearly ready for shipment. The exhibit is superior to that shown at the state fair last year, and which exhibit won the beautiful silver cup.

The attendance at the night school has nearly reached the 300 mark, and is attended largely by men who are employed about the mines and mills of the city. The night school is absolutely free to all who desire to attend, books also being furnished free of charge. The school is open five nights in each week and the hours are from 7:15 to 9 o'clock. An afternoon session is also held for the benefit of those who are employed at night. The pupils, who are mostly of foreign birth, are much interested in the nightly talks on civil government given by Supt. Bliss, and are enthusiastic in their endeavor to learn the ways of the country of their adoption.

POTATO MARKET IS TO BE DISCUSSED

Important Gathering to Be Held at Grand Rapids Saturday.

Grand Rapids, Minn., Feb. 11.—(Special to The Herald.)—There will be a meeting here Saturday in connection with the potato culture and potato marketing will be taken up.

At the present time there are large quantities of potatoes in the neighborhood which have not been marketed. It is estimated there are many bushels of potatoes in the bins of this locality. The marketing of these potatoes is one of the questions which will be discussed at the meeting.

Another matter which will be discussed will be the erection of a potato storage building in which the farmers can deposit their potatoes, and from which a carload may be sold at any time that there is a demand or that the prices get so that the farmers want to sell. Such a depot would improve the market at this place, as it would make a place where dealers might apply to get fixed out any time they would want a supply.

Uniformity of seed will also be discussed. The meeting will be held at the village hall at 2 o'clock.

LOYAL LIBERTY LEAGUE.

Will Establish a Branch in Hibbing in a Few Days.

Hibbing, Minn., Feb. 11.—(Special to The Herald.)—In the course of a few days Messrs F. Buckley and L. Shaw of Minneapolis will be in Hibbing to install a branch of the Loyal Liberty league. These gentlemen, together with the secretary, Bert O'Connor, of the state association, will initiate the lodge, the purpose of which is to teach the saloon men the proper way in which the saloon should be conducted and to impress upon their minds that whatever reforms are to come should come through themselves in order to do the most good to both themselves and the towns in which they are conducting their business.

Mike Somers, who has been in Duluth the past few days on business, returned home last evening.

W. R. Spensely, assistant cashier of the Merchants and Miners State bank received a telegram yesterday telling him of the serious illness of his father. Mr. Spensely left for Galena to be present at the bedside.

Capt. George O. Sullivan and Rev. Durant left yesterday for Virginia to resume their duties as jurymen.

R. L. Berdie, who has been in Hibbing the past few days attending to business matters, returned home to Duluth yesterday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Flanagan, who were recently married, returned home yesterday evening from their honeymoon trip and were met at the depot by a crowd of friends who wish to show their well wishes by seeming to make all the noise possible.

LA VOIE WINS DAMAGE CASE

Involved Two Cedar Contracts and Resulted in Verdict for Plaintiff.

Grand Rapids, Minn., Feb. 11.—(Special to The Herald.)—A case requiring six days to be tried and involving many matters of interest to loggers and operators in cedars, has just been concluded in the district court by the jury finding for the plaintiff in the case of John La Voie against D. Dumas.

The case involved two contracts between La Voie and Dumas, one made in February, 1907 for getting out some logs, poles and posts, and one made in November, 1907 for getting out some ties. Dumas claimed that by a verbal agreement, the two contracts had been cancelled, and a new contract for getting out all of the material was entered into in December, 1907.

It was shown that the plaintiff delivered to Dumas material to the value of $3,300. Dumas denied the receipt of the material, and alleged that he had paid labor bills and furnished supplies to La Voie to the amount of about $2,200.

The material was delivered in Goose lake in rafts, and was taken from there by a steamboat owned and operated by Dumas. The plaintiff showed an inspection of the material in Goose lake made in April, 1908, which was admitted into the evidence. Dumas attempted to base his defense on a yard inspection made in June 1908, when the material had been hauled up from the river into the yard, but this scale was not admitted.

Numerous specific questions were submitted to the jury, who returned the verdict for the plaintiff for practically the full amount for which he sued, $3,300, which was the difference between the amount of the material delivered and the supplies and labor account of Dumas against La Voie.

MUST AGAIN VOTE ON SCHOOL BONDS

Virginia Will Have Special Election on Saturday, March 5.

Virginia, Minn., Feb. 11.—(Special to The Herald.)—The school board has decided to issue a call for a special election Saturday, March 5, to vote on the proposition of bonding the district for $150,000 to complete the new technical high school. Through a technicality the vote taken last year has been declared illegal. Last year the vote carried to bond the district in the sum of $125,000, but as matters have arisen which demand more money, it is proposed to make this issue for $150,000. It is proposed to issue the bonds in blocks of $1,000 to run for ten years and draw 5 per cent interest, $15,000 of which is to be taken up annually after 1911. If the proposition carries, it is the hope of the board to sell the bonds at a premium.

The election will be held at the Roosevelt high school and the polls will be open from 2 o'clock in the afternoon and close at 8 o'clock in the evening.

It is expected that work on the new technical high school, which was begun last fall, will be resumed about the first of March. The contractors have until the first of August this year to complete the building, which is designed to be one of the handsomest and largest on the range.

The hearing of Alez Zygoski, arrested for stealing some merchandise from the Eddy livery, on the charge of petit larceny, was adjourned to Feb. 16.

RECEIPT FOR WARDING OFF AGE.

Fat is commonplace—middle aged. It stamps a woman as unquestionably past the period of youth. Hence it lessens her influence. She may charm still—by nimbleness of wit—but that indefinite fascination a fine figure wields has fled from her.

For ever? No! for it can be regained, and that easily. Youth as expressed in the straight front, the lissome hip, the wavy outline, is not beyond recall. Let any woman who is too well filled out, take a Marmola Prescription Tablet after each meal and at bedtime. The sprightliness of youth will come back to her. Off will go the fat, uniformly and smoothly, revealing the foundation of the lost youthful form beneath.

Try this method. No exercising or dieting is necessary to take off a pound a day. The Tablet will do it alone. No wrinkles or haggard lines will form; instead the health, the brightness and the litheness will increase. The Marmola Prescription Tablet is absolutely non-injurious (being made of the famous fashionable formula ½oz. Marmola, ½ oz. Fl. Ex. Cascara Aromatic, 3½ oz. Peppermint Water); and it is also inexpensive, a large case, enough to show results, costing, at any drug store, or direct from the Marmola Co., 491 Farmer Bldg., Detroit, Mich., only 75 cents.

LUMBER WORK IS BOOMING MESABA

Extensive Operations of Kileen Lumber Company Is Having Effect.

Aurora, Minn., Feb. 10.—(Special to The Herald.)—The village of Mesaba, eight miles east of here, is securing a new lease on life, principally on account of the Kileen Lumber company operating camps in that vicinity.

The company has two logging camps and one cedar camp and employs about 300 men in all. Camp 1 is a sleighhaul camp and is in charge of John Dinen. The longest haul is about five miles and the logs are being drawn to the Duluth & International Railway railroad.

The company has 5,000,000 feet of logs on skids at this camp and has thirty-six horses employed in the hauling.

At camp 2, in charge of John Shae, the logs are hauled direct by rail and 4,000,000 feet have been shipped so far this season. The pine at this camp is so thick that a good deal of it had to be cut to enable the building of the camp.

The camps are up-to-date and differ greatly from the old time lumber camps. The food put up for the men is as good as can be found in private homes.

The men from these camps, together with the miners from the Adriatic, Knox and Speing mines, are making the little village of Mesaba a period of prosperity.

The St. Clair interests will put two diamond drills to work south of Mesaba next week.

SLIPS OFF, HAVING BOTH FEET CRUSHED.

Aurora, Minn., Feb. 11.—(Special to The Herald.)—What might have been a fatal accident happened at Kileen's camp, five miles east of here Thursday, when George Dedtrick fell under the runners of a sleigh loaded with logs and had his toes on both feet crushed to a pulp. Dedtrick was engaged in shoveling snow under the runners at a bad spot in the road and the teamster becoming impatient, yelled at him to hurry up. Dedtrick became excited and slipping on the ice road fell feet foremost under the sleigh. He was taken to Mesaba and from there to Two Harbors to be treated at the hospital.

It will be 25 by 65 feet, one-story, and will be used as a photo studio.

POLICE CLAIM THAT GEORGE BOOKER MAY HAVE KILLED CLARK

breast bone, with one rib penetrating the lining of the lungs. Dr. J. A. Braden, Dr. C. L. Haney and Dr. J. W. Ekblad, who performed the autopsy, say that the man could not have lived twenty-four hours with such injuries. The right chest was clotted with blood, which also had hindered the heart action.

Takes Arrest Coolly.

Booker took his arrest coolly. He told the police and others who talked to him that Clark's death must have been the result of an accident. He declared that while standing before a fire which they had built at French River to keep warm, Clark suddenly complained of being ill. He said that as he spoke he toppled across the fire and into some bed springs which were lying on the other side. Booker said that the wooden sides of the springs were lengthwise, and that Clark's chest struck on the boards.

Then, he says, Clark complained of being thirsty, and he went after water. By that time, he says, Clark was standing up and told him that it would be no use, making a 28-mile drive back to Duluth that night. About an hour and a half later, Booker said at the station today, the old man claimed he was worse and that they had better go back to the city.

Taking Load of Machinery.

The men were taking a load of machinery to Johnson's camp at French River. The sleighing to the point they turn into the woods is bad, so they hauled sleds out with them. They had the runners in the bottom of the wagon. Clark says he changed to the sleigh immediately and started back. He asserts that he tried to get doctors on the way back, but that wherever he tried to get to a telephone the places were closed.

"We won't come back in this sleigh in the morning. We'll hire a sleigh out there to take us into the woods" were Clark's last words, according to Booker.

The next time he turned around to talk to him, he says, he found him dead.

The physicians said today that Clark could either have met his death through an accident or that his injuries might have been the result of a severe kicking. The coroner probably will hold an inquest this afternoon or evening to delve further into the details. Until all doubt is removed Booker will be held at Police headquarters.

Booker is said to have been arrested in West Duluth last fall on an assault charge.

Booker was arersted today at Clark's residence, 2611 West Superior street. He offered no resistance and when asked to make a statement this morning, seemed to be willing to talk about the matter. He denied that they were drunk or had been drinking much. He admitted that they had taken a drink in a saloon on Michigan street near First avenue west before they started, which was about 1:30 o'clock Wednesday afternoon. He also confessed that they had a bottle with them, but said it was only half a pint and that nobody could get drunk on that amount of liquor, even though he drank it all.

Adjournment is Granted.

Washington, Feb. 11.—Justice Wright today in the supreme court of the district of Columbia, granted an adjournment of two weeks in the mandamus proceedings instituted against the joint congressional committee on printing by the Valley Paper Company of Holyoke, Mass.

DULUTH WHOLESALE DISTRICT SCENE OF FIRE AND SPECTACULAR RESCUE

ful of fresh air, they saw no escape except to take chances of jumping four floors into a mass of wood and iron piled on the ground beneath them. Almost unable to see for the black smoke pouring out around them, they suddenly perceived the big iron arm of a derrick swing up towards them. It had been put in the vacant lot adjoining Schulze Bros. by the Lanquist & Illsley company and as good fortune would have it, there was steam in the engine room. Hearing the cries of the men in the blazing building Engineer McKenzie lost no time in calling the derrick into play. Slowly and surely he pivoted it around to the window. As it bumped against the wall one man jumped on it. Then it swung away. Again it was brought back under the window. Another man crawled onto it. The third time it was shoved into place. The other two men reached it this time. Clinging to the sides they were lowered safely to the ground.

The firemen took two from the windows of the top floor who would have burned to death had they not taken their lives in their hands and jumped. They perched their ladders on the piles of logs stacked near by, and had no difficulty in bringing those endangered to safety. The names of the men taken out on the derrick are: Adolph Duesch, George Garten, William Brophy and Walter Carlson. The names of those who came down the ladders were not learned.

Origin Unknown.

The origin of the fire is a mystery. No one was able to learn what started the disastrous blaze. It spread rapidly and within a few minutes of the time it was discovered by an employe it was blazing fiercely. When the firemen reached the scene the entire interior was a roaring furnace.

Starting in the basement, the flames shot up an open elevator shaft almost in one huge leap. The stock was worse than kindling, being filled with grease and oil, and highly combustible. The firemen hardly had their hose connected before the top story was burning as badly as the basement. All the apparatus in the central part of the city was summoned. A dozen streams of water were turned into the building. In some instances in order to get pressure three or four jointed hoses were shot through the same nozzle. This caused the injury to Fireman J. W. Wells. The nozzle of the hose he was trying to hold blew off, causing the men to lose control of the hose, which whirled like a huge serpent, striking him full in the chest. A couple of others were knocked over, but escaped without being hurt. Part of the big crowd watching the battle with the flames was drenched.

The harness factory and the paper company were separated only by a frame partition, which offered no resistance to the spread of the flames. In half an hour it was seen that the paper company's building was doomed as much as the harness shop. The officers of the company said this morning that their stock is a total loss. The salvage company covered a large part of the stock on the first floor, but it was hardly thought that this would do any good.

Smoke Very Dense.

The smoke was black and dense and hung over the lower side of the city and the lake's edge like a pall. The sun glowered like a massive ball of fire through the smudge. The people on Michigan street watching the blaze were obliged frequently to cover their faces or get up on the viaduct, the smoke was so heavy. At times the men and women in the crowd couldn't see one another's features.

Fire lines were established by the police to keep the people out of danger. The danger was increased by the network of live wires strung on poles on both sides of the street and the Judges F. O. Adamson, Erick Koskey and John Dudley; clerks, August Tillmans and Walter Karkeet. The Zimmerman place was designated as the polling place. The election is on March 8.

the railway's division engineer, and the two city engineers were pleased with the proposition, and if a survey, which will begin tomorrow morning, proves to the satisfaction of all parties the feasibility of the plan it will go through.

Mayor Haven declined to outline the plan in detail, but he would say that, if carried out, it would remove the principal objections to the route as it is at present laid out. The bulk of the objections made to date have been against the crossing of Cody street at an agle and the crossing of Grand avenue in a depression. Under the mayor's plan, the crossing of Cody street would be entirely eliminated from the plans and Grand avenue would be crossed without a depression. The only changes necessary would have to be made in the route from Fifty-sixth avenue west to the docks at Forty-ninth avenue. Further than that the mayor would not go into detail.

Plan Is Practicable.

"The trouble with all propositions that have been made thus far is that they have not been practicable from an engineering standpoint," said the mayor after the conference this morning. "This is an engineering problem and it must be treated as such. I believe that the plan that was worked out this morning is feasible and practicable and will be satisfactory to all parties.

"Mr. Hazen, the division engineer of the railroad, refused to commit himself definitely, but he did say that the plan as outlined, if it can be proven sound by a survey, will undoubtedly receive the indorsement of the railroad officials and be adopted, for it not only removes the principal cause of objections on the part of the West Duluth people, but Mr. Hazen says it is desirable from an engineering standpoint and from the railroad's point of view, for it will not only allow the road to come into Duluth on amicable relations with everybody, but it will cut out the Cody street crossing, which has caused the engineers much worry, and will save thousands of dollars in construction charges."

The feasibility of the plan can not be determined before the time for the disposition of the ordinance by the Mayor expires, but the mayor will sign the ordinance under some sort of a tentative agreement, suitable to all parties.

"I never wanted to antagonize the railroad company," said Mr. Haven. "All of this consideration of the question has been to the end that some plan might be worked out whereby there would be less damage to private property, so that the railroad company would still be allowed to come in and so that the best interests of the city would be served. I have never believed that the railroad company should be kept out, for no railroad can enter a city without some property being damaged, but I believe that the broad policy of the greatest good to the greatest number should be followed.

"However, I believed that a compromise should be worked out if at all possible and I believe we have worked it out. The West Duluth aldermen are pleased with the plan, the railroad engineers and other representatives of the company here are pleased and now we have them working together to a common end. While everybody is warring, while hands are raised and antagonism is in the air nothing can be accomplished. When we have everybody working together, making suggestions, looking to accomplish the desired end with the least damage to everybody, I believe we have reached the end for which we should always work. Duluth needs the Canadian Northern and the Canadian Northern needs Duluth and we should get together and work out a plan so we will each get what we want with the least damage to the other. The plan as proposed gives the West Duluth people all they want and a little more and I believe they will be satisfied.

"The ordinance is the best railroad franchise ordinance in the state of Minnesota and I believe it should be signed."

Those present at the conference this morning were Mayor Haven and City Engineer T. J. McGilvray, representing the city; N. J. Upham and Mr. Hazen representing the railway company and Aldermen Foubister and Getchell representing the West Duluth people.

MARKET ASSOCIATION IS PERMANENTLY ORGANIZED

Farmers Join Hands to Market Their Produce in Duluth.

Delegates Know Just What They Want and Get It.

Duluth's market association is organized.

Citizens of Duluth were given an object lesson in how to do business, by a little group of St. Louis county farmers yesterday afternoon. There was no surplus conversation; no haste, no dilly-dallying, no needless delay. The twenty or more farmers gathered at the Commercial Club rooms yesterday afternoon—each one representing a farmers' club—knew exactly what they wanted and they got it. When the meeting adjourned at about 7 o'clock last evening, the Producers' Co-Operative Market association was formed, and $130 was paid into the treasurer, as the fees from twelve farmers' clubs, each club representing at least fifteen farmers. A board of directors had been elected with instructions to go ahead and hire a manager for the association, and a complete set of rules governing the association had been adopted. Within a month, it is hoped, a manager will have been employed, a public market will have been opened in the Armory, and the association will be doing business.

Knew What They Wanted.

The delegates from yesterday's meeting came to the meeting with a thorough knowledge of what they wanted. They had carefully studied the rules adopted by the temporary organization which was formed when the County club met here last month. These rules had been thoroughly gone over and discussed at the meetings of the farmers' clubs, and the delegates knew what ground they expected to take. There were some points that were not clear to them, and they wanted these explained. Each rule was taken up in its order, and discussed from all sides, and adopted. When they had completed their work, they had made but very few changes in the original by-laws, and these were unimportant ones, but they understood the rules of the new organization thoroughly.

Officers were elected as follows: President, L. H. Bugbee, Wrenshall; treasurer, E. A. Schulze, Duluth; secretary, John Stone, Pardee; directors, E. A. Schulze, C. P. Craig, A. B. Hostetter, Duluth Commercial club; C. L. Goodell, Barnum; Louis Christiansen, Sandstone; J. H. Peterson, Meadowlands; Ludwig Mosebach, Oskey; Adolph Solen, Nea; A. J. McGuire, Grand Rapids; B. A. Beck, Cromwell.

The confidence which the visitors displayed in the integrity and good will of the Duluth Commercial club was one of the most pleasing features of the gathering. They were perfectly willing to have the management of the affairs of the new association rest entirely with members of the local club, trusting implicitly in their attitude on the question of the development of St. Louis county lands.

"This confidence in our good will is something we should do everything in our power to keep," said one Duluth man who attended the meeting. "It is a great asset for a city to have, to know that the farmers around it have every faith in the city and the fairness of its citizens."

"The new organization will not attempt to do much warehousing at first. Produce will be shipped into Duluth in carload lots and distributed for the most part from the cars. The surplus stock will be taken to the market in the armory and sold there.

"The association will not do business direct with the farmers, but with the farmers' clubs. For instance, John Jones at Adolph will not ship in fifty bushels of potatoes and 100 bushels of rutabagas. He will co-operate with the other members of the Adolph Farmers' club and they will make up a car of produce to be consigned to the Duluth Market association. The manager takes charge of this car when it arrives and disposes of it to the best possible advantage.

Watch Conditions.

The most important part of the manager's work will be to watch market conditions, and tell the farmers what to ship and how to ship it. For instance if Mr. Jones' beets come in with several pounds of dirt attached to the roots of each beet, the manager will tell him in future to send in his beets clean. If Mr. Olson of Embarrass sends in his potatoes partly spoiled or sprouting, or with too many small ones mixed in, the manager will tell him why there was not a market for them. The manager will also keep in touch with market conditions, and tell the shippers the proper time to send in their produce. If there is a scarcity of potatoes, he may order a carload shipment in from one of the shipping points. If the market is glutted with potatoes, he may advise the shippers to hold their stocks for better market conditions.

Open Every Day.

The public market in the armory will not be open two days in the week for three weeks in the year, with two or three farmers attending on each market day, but it will be open every day in the week, for every week in the year. Under the old system it was impossible to arouse any interest in the market. The housekeepers were not sure of finding the market open on the days they visited it, and the farmers were not sure of finding buyers there for their goods when they came. It is believed that if the housekeepers know that the market is open every day in the week they will form the habit of patronizing it, and the farmers will also form the habit of bringing in their produce.

The new association has already 50,000 bushels of potatoes in sight. The delegates who were present at the meeting yesterday, stated that the members of their various clubs had stocks of potatoes aggregating 50,000 bushels, which they were ready to ship in, and the first duty of the manager of the new association will probably be to find a market for these potatoes.

The question of selecting a manager is a most important one. He must be a thoroughly capable business man, and yet the new association is not in shape to pay a very large salary at the outset. The board of directors will have to take up this problem, and the members are now open to receive applications.

The by laws and rules of the new organization, as adopted yesterday afternoon, are the same as those adopted by the temporary organization last month, with but one or two minor changes.

ITS EFFECTS LAST FOR DAYS

Quinine as an Anaesthetic When Used in Surgical Practice.

Kansas City, Mo., Feb. 11.—Out of the fever-infected jungles of the backwoods of Arkansas has come a medical discovery which may revolutionize surgical practice.

An anaesthetic, which the faculty of the University of Kansas medical college declares is superior to any other in medical knowledge—one which throws stovaine into the class of short-lived sensations, and which, they insist, will eliminate cocaine from use as a local anaesthetic—is the gift to the world of Dr. Henry Thibault of Scott, Ark.

This new anaesthetic is quinine—common quinine—which has been used for years as an internal medicine, but which never was known until recently as a pain killer.

The most startling claims are made for the new agent. The effect of quinine, when injected locally, lasts for days, so that if tonsils are removed, or bones are cut from the nose, there is no after pain for many days. Cocaine loses its power shortly after the operation.

Quinine is absolutely safe, as quarts of it may be used without poisonous effect, it is declared. Cocaine has a toxic effect, save in small doses.

Quinine hardens the tissues into which it is introduced, preventing hemorrhages after operations. Cocaine does not do this.

The absolute vindication of these claims has just been announced by Dr. Arthur B. Hertzler, assistant professor of surgery in the University of Kansas medical college at Rosedale; Dr. Ford B. Rogers of the college dispensary and Dr. Roger B. Brewster, special investigator. The results made public by these doctors are the fruits of six months of experiments in the college hospital and in the hospital at Halstead, Kan.

VIENNA'S POISON MYSTERY.

Army Officer Charged With Killing One of His Comrades.

Vienna, Feb. 11. — Notwithstanding the growing impatience of the public, the military judicial authorities continue to maintain absolute silence concerning the course of the investigation against Lieut. Hoffrichter, who was arrested two months ago on suspicion of having attempted—in one case successfully—to poison a number of staff officers with capsules containing cyanide of potassium.

The accused officer is strictly segregated, and has not yet been allowed to communicate with his family or with the legal adviser whom they entrusted with his defense. The investigation has been characterized by some singular features, which, should they prove to have been superfluous, might justly be described as repulsive.

Today it is reported that the military authorities and the police are seeking to identify another officer, who attempted to purchase cyanide of potassium and a medicine for filling capsules in Vienna early last November.

CANCER GERMS KILLED

By Freezing Induced Through Solidified Carbon Dioxide.

Philadelphia, Feb. 11.—A new method of treating cancer of the skin, by freezing, was demonstrated to Philadelphia physicians by Dr. Ralph Bernstein, who has been practicing his original method of treatment for two years in this city. Liquid air has been used for experimentation before, but Dr. Bernstein's method of using solidified carbon dioxide is unique.

He produced at the meeting of the Tri-County Medical society a number of cases and made clinical demonstrations on them with the freezing mixture. The parts were frozen from three to five minutes. This process of freezing killed the cancer germs. At intervals of three weeks the operation is repeated.

Dr. Bernstein described at length his numerous cases, both in private practice and clinical practice. "Solidified carbon dioxide is a painless method of curing skin cancer without the use of the knife," he said. "It does not leave a scar, the cancerous growth, after six weeks or more, vanishing and leaving the cutaneous structure in perfect condition.

"The patients treated by me have their skins, surrounding the cancers, protected by chamois skins. The carbon dioxide is forced from a tank directly on the cancer, and this treatment, repeated once or twice, completely cures. As a rule the patients feel no pain."

CARRIE NATION NEED NOT PAY $100 FINE.

Washington, Feb. 11.—The fine of $100 recently imposed in the police court here on Carrie Nation, for smashing a number of bottles of whisky at the Union station buffet, has been set aside in the district court of appeals in an opinion by Chief Justice Shepard. The court decided that the information should have been quashed because it contained no allegation of the value of the property destroyed.

Over-Eating Worse Than Starvation

Seven Deaths Arise From This Cause To One of Lack of Food.

A Trial Package of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets Sent Free.

An English medical observer claims that for one death to starvation there are seven from over-eating.

His investigation is appalling and leads one to believe that among the Anglo-Saxon race over-eating is a national crime.

This investigation proves over-eating to be the cause in ten cases out of twelve of dyspepsia, indigestion and stomach trouble.

These diseases bring on decay and decline of the other organs and death ensues because of an inability of the system to furnish proper nourishment to the dying and afflicted parts.

When one over-eats one exhausts the gastric fluids, throws undigested food into the intestines where it creates poison and germ life and is finally absorbed in a putrid state or thrown from the system in a decaying form.

Stuart's Dyhpepsia Tablets will overcome the ill effects of gluttony and irregular eating. They will digest an abnormal amount of food and will not leave the stomach until everything has been digested.

A single one-grain ingredient of these tablets will digest 3,000 grains of food and in this proportion is seen how even gluttony can be overcome or at least its most harmful effects removed.

Make up your mind to try Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets for one week. Take a tablet after each meal and upon retiring at night. Every druggist carries them in stock; price 50c. If you have a druggist friend ask his opinion. Send us your name and address and we will send you a trial package free by mail. Address F. A. Stuart Co., 150 Stuart Bldg., Marshall, Mich.

STORY OF THE SWOPE CASE, IN WHICH DR. B. CLARK HYDE WAS ARRESTED ON MURDER CHARGE

Kansas City, Mo., Feb. 11.—That the "Swope case," in which Dr. B. Clarke Hyde was arrested late yesterday on a charge of murdering the aged millionaire by poisoning him, will prove to be the most sensational yet, recorded in the story of crime in Missouri, seems to be indisputable. It is a story such as rarely is heard outside the most grossly exaggerated novels—a story, apparently, of deliberate breeding of disease in a family so that three members of it died in quick succession, and of the administration of deadly poison to hasten the work begun by the fever germs.

Such, at least, is the aspect of the case as it is viewed by the police and the prosecuting attorney. The motive is but another expression of the old, old phrase—"The love of money is the root of all evil"—for, it is pointed out by the prosecutor, two of these deaths brought to the wife of Dr. Hyde a greater interest in the fortune of the old man whose death was described by Miss Pearl Kellar, a nurse, before the coroner's jury this week.

Death of Col. Swope.

The death of Col. Thomas H. Swope on Oct. 3 last was attended by circumstances which mystified the millionaire's family and close friends. Dr. Hyde, who had treated Col. Swope during his last hours, signed the death certificate, giving apoplexy as the cause of his demise.

When in December an epidemic of typhoid fever raged in the Swope household, during which eight persons were stricken and one, Chrisman Swope, died under conditions that caused much apprehension among the attending nurses, John G. Paxton, the executor, and Mrs. Logan Swope, mother of Chrisman, instituted a vigorous investigation.

Dr. Edward L. Stewart came forward with the statement that on Nov. 10 Dr. Hyde had secured from him an active typhoid culture. After Dr. Stewart had divulged this information Dr. Hyde was placed under the constant surveillance of detectives.

Secured a "Typhoid Culture."

Dr. Stewart, in telling this story to the attorneys of the Swope estate and to Prosecutor Virgil Conkling, explained that a typhoid culture consisted of a test tube filled with a media on which the typhoid bacteria lived. This media was covered with a healthy growth of bacteria. The test tube given Dr. Hyde, he said, contained an algal media and millions of the minute typhoid bacteria.

Dec. 20, Dr. Hyde himself suffered an attack stated to be typhoid fever, which added to the complications of the case. Dr. Stewart later supplied the prosecuting attorney with some interesting evidence bearing on Dr. Hyde's illness.

"When Dr. Hyde became ill," said Dr. Stewart, "I was asked to make an examination of his blood for typhoid. He asked that I make the Widal test. This will show typhoid fever if the blood which is examined suffered from the disease several years before. An examination of the blood of Dr. Hyde showed a faint trace of typhoid.

Result of the Test.

"I then asked permission to make the culture test. This is an absolute test for typhoid if it is actively present in the blood when the blood is taken from the patient."

Dr. Stewart said that although Dr. Hyde's blood was placed side by side in his incubator with blood taken from a typhoid patient in a Kansas City hospital, it remained absolutely sterile of typhoid and contained no typhoid germs.

After it was decided that the bodies of Col. Swope and Chrisman should be disinterred Mr. Paxton and Mrs. Logan Swope recalled Dr. Hyde's insistence that he be permitted to act as physician for the family, although Dr. G. T. Twiman had for years served in that capacity.

Dr. Hyde prescribed for Col. Swope during the latter's illness. The patient was given a digestive capsule on Oct. 3. Twenty minutes later, while reading a newspaper, he went into convulsions. His neck and limbs stiffened and he groaned in great pain.

Spoke of the "Medicine."

He rallied long enough to say:

"I wish I had not taken that medicine."

Then with great effort the dying man gasped: "I wish I were dead."

He died a few minutes later.

Miss Kellar, a nurse, was alone with Col. Swope when the convulsions began. She said the patient's face was pale throughout and that she was amazed upon hearing the malady had been diagnosed as apoplexy.

Only two days before, James Moss Hunton, Col. Swope's cousin, and named as an executor of the Swope will, had died of apoplexy in the presence of several persons. In this case there was every symptom of apoplexy. Dec. 2 the nurses attending Chrisman Swope, who was being treated for typhoid fever, were surprised when he also had convulsions and became unconscious, exactly as his uncle had done two months before. Chrisman Swope died Dec. 6.

Series of Illnesses.

Miss Margaret Swope, Chrisman's sister, also had convulsions in a milder form. Her illness was diagnosed as typhoid fever.

On Dec. 4, Miss Cora Dickson, governess in the Swope home and a cousin of Col. Swope, and Miss Coppage, a negro servant in the Swope home, both were stricken with typhoid.

Dec. 5, Steward S. Fleming of Maury county, Tenn., nephew of Col. Swope, who was visiting at the Swope home, was taken ill, typhoid fever being given as the cause.

Dec. 9, Miss Sarah Swope, 15 years old, a niece of Col. Swope, became ill of typhoid fever, and on Dec. 11 Miss Stella Swope, another niece of Col. Swope, also was stricken with the same disease.

On Dec. 18, Miss Lucy Lee, daughter of Mrs. Logan Swope, was afflicted with typhoid fever four days after her arrival from Europe. Dr. Hyde had gone to New York and accompanied the young woman home and had treated her in the early stages of her illness.

Nurses Were Aroused.

The five nurses employed at the Swope home became so aroused by the manifestations in the diseases prevailing there that they finally notified Mrs. Swope they would all leave unless another physician be secured. Then Dr. Twiman was summoned and resumed his work as the family physician.

Shortly thereafter Dr. Hyde himself was stricken.

Later the body of Chrisman Swope was secretly exumed and that of Col. Swope was taken from its tomb. After an autopsy had been held the stomachs of the two dead men were forwarded to Chicago and analyzed by Doctors Haines, Hektoen and Vaughan.

Dr. Hyde, in a statement made soon after the investigation began, said:

"Col. Swope died of apoplexy. There is no doubt about it. It was as plain a case of apoplexy as I have ever seen. Col. Swope was getting old and feeble. He had been sick for more than three months of old age, lack of appetite and senility. Only a few weeks before his death he had a severe fall.

"Mr. Hunton's death was also due to apoplexy. He had the same symptoms and was affected almost exactly the same as was Col. Swope."

Is Minister's Son.

Dr. Bennett Clark Hyde is the son of Rev. Dr. G. W. Hyde, a retired Baptist minister of Lexington, Mo. Dr. Hyde was born near Bunceton, Mo., forty years ago. He was graduated from Wentworth military academy, Lexington, Mo., in 1889, and then entered University medical college, Kansas City. After securing his degree he began the practice of medicine here.

Dr. Hyde's name has previously figured before the public.

In August, 1897, Dr. Hyde, then police surgeon of Kansas City, was ousted from office because of alleged inhuman treatment of Annie Clemens, a negress who had attempted to commit suicide, and who had come under his care at the police station.

Dr. Hyde's name appeared even more conspicuously in the newspapers in the winter of 1898-9, when he was charged with grave-robbing. At this time Dr. Hyde was demonstrator of anatomy at the University medical college. The accusation was made by Sam McClain and Charles Perry, negroes, who had been arrested on suspicion. Perry confessed that he and his companion had robbed the grave of Michael Kelly in St. Mary's cemetery at Independence, Mo., and sold the body to Dr. Hyde.

Accused of Grave Robbing.

It developed that many graves around Kansas City had been robbed. Perry admitted these robberies and again implicated Hyde, who was arrested. The case never came to trial and finally was dismissed March 4, 1899. Dr. Hyde protested and said he wanted a complete vindication.

In 1895 attention was again directed toward Dr. Hyde when it became known that he had clandestinely married Miss Frances Swope, a niece of Col. Thomas H Swope, on June 21 of that year, at Fayetteville, Ark., and against the wishes of her mother, Mrs. Logan O. Swope. As a result of the marriage Dr. Hyde and his wife's family were alienated until a short time ago, when a reconciliation was brought about.

Following the announcement of Dr. Hyde's marriage to Miss Swope, Mrs. Sarah H. Frank of Kansas City brought suit against Dr. Hyde asking damages for breach of promise to marry. This case was settled out of court.

Dr. and Mrs. Hyde have a modest home in a fashionable part of the city and move in the best circles. They have no children.

Estate Worth $3,000,000.

The estate of Col. Thomas H. Swope was valued at $3,000,000. It consisted of improved Kansas City real estate in the heart of the business section, besides much out of town property.

During his life Col. Swope proved himself a great benefactor to Kansas City, where he had amassed his fortune. His most conspicuous gift was Swope park, 1,354 acres of beautiful wooded land, one of the finest and largest recreation grounds in the Middle West.

Ten nephews and nieces survived Col. Swope at the time his will was filed. Seven were in the family of Mrs. Logan O. Swope, his sister-in-law.

At the death of any one of these nephews or nieces the bequests under the will reverted to the residuary part of the estate and the surviving relatives shared equally in it. Hence by the death of Chrisman Swope his share passed to the residuary estate.

At the death of James Moss Hunton his share also reverted to the estate.

MAKING BASEBALL PLAYERS LAUGH IS A NEW PROFESSION--ONE MAN HAS MONOPOLY ON IT

Mathewson Turns Author—Coffroth's $1,000 Wager—Other News and Gossip of Sportdom.

(BY BRUCE)

Making baseball players laugh in order that they may forget their troubles and play better baseball is a comparatively new profession. At a glance you can see that it is capable of being developed into one of the high arts.

Last season Arlie Latham was engaged as coach by the management of the New York Nationals. Just the other day it was announced that the comedian had been re-engaged for the coming season. That goes to prove that at least the officials of the New York club believe that the efforts of the funny man had the desired effect.

Latham was perhaps the funniest baseball player that ever lived. Once he was one of tht greatest third baseman who ever guarded the difficult corner of the diamond. He was a member of the famous old St. Louis Browns, which under the leadership of the great Charley Comiskey, won four straight pennants for St. Louis.

But long after he ceased to be even a big league baseball player, Latham continued funny. He is a clown, a player to the bleachers; a man who has the crowd with him before the game is five minutes old.

The officials of the New York club hit upon the idea of Latham jollying the players. He was engaged. He got a bump right at the start. He tried his Doctor Humorous pills on Cy Seymour, and the veteran outfielder thereat licked the funny man. Seymour was suspended, and thus encouraged, Latham has been even funnier since the Seymour incident. Maybe the other players, profiting by the Seymour encounter, believed it was the better policy to laugh at the jokes of Arlie. Anyway, he has been with the Giants for some time.

When Eddie Foy gets so old that he cannot play at the first-class houses any more, why would it not be a good idea for the manager of some team that was in the depths of despond, to engage the veteran comedian to greet the players at the dinner hour, or perchance at the breakfast hour, or again at supper, after the stings of defeat, and say with comical face and wry grimace: "Forsooth, they have moved uncle's grave to make a lime kiln." That would get a rise out of the baseball men and would show them, that after all is said and done, life is filled with sunshine.

You see, Arlie has done quite well in his laugh-making profession. Nat Goodwin has encountered numerous difficulties in securing a play. The theater goers seem to be forgetting about him. We humbly suggest that he might set the members of some despondent baseball team to laughing, and incidentally playing better baseball.

Latham was on the stage, "once." It is not considered good etiquette to mention the fact to even a comedian like Latham. He was out with Papa Anson in "A Runaway Colt." Just how much Arlie was out, has never been figured out. Anson's acting was so terrible that it was the talk of the National league. Latham wasn't much better. But evidenly Latham has struck his gait. Anyway a man does not always have to be really funny to get a laugh in New York.

As a medium for printing pictures of Otto C. Floto, sporting editor of the Denver Post, the page of that paper serves a very good purpose—for Floto.

ANXIOUS TO SEE "JEFF"

Duluth Fans Awaiting With Impatience the Arrival of Fighter.

Tomorrow evening at the Lyceum theater, Duluth fight followers will be given the opportunity of seeing in just what condition James J. Jeffries, retired and undefeated world's champion, is

The tour of the big fighter has been the most triumphant tour ever made by any fighter since the era of prize fighting. John L. Sullivan, for twelve long years the idol of the istic followers of this country, has made some memorable tours, but in no way could his reception be compared to the ovations that have greeted Jeff in every town, roadside hamlet, and city.

There is a consuming curiosity upon the part of the people to see what kind of shape the big fellow is in. Can he come back? Even the staid business man is asking himself the question of the hour. They say he has never gone, so that it will be unnecessary for him to come back. That is a question that will be left to the judgment of the fans.

In this day and generation the fight fan is getting wise. He does not put that implicit confidence in everything he reads. He wants to see for himself. Perhaps that fact has accounted for the clamor and wild scramble to get at least a glimpse of the wonderful mountain of bone and brawn, a man almost superhuman in strength and indifference to the fistic efforts of mere puny man—James J. Jeffries.

Jeff and his retinue are scheduled to reach the city either tomorrow noon or after the matinee in Superior tomorrow afternoon. Rooms at the Spalding have been engaged for them, and the management of that hotel may as well prepare for a large and gaping crowd, for everywhere the big fighter has stopped upon the present tour, his hotel has been the scene of a near-mob. In Omaha, Seattle and Salt Lake City Jeff had to escape out of one of the rear entrances, so great was the crowd that filled the lobby and trailed out into the street, blocking the front entrance.

Duluth has felt the "spirit" like other cities. There is already an air of expectancy. "When does Jeffries get in?" That question has been asked of The Herald fifty times within the past day.

CURLEY IS HOME AGAIN

Ulrich Says Lewis Battle Was the Toughest of Career.

Curley Ulrich is back from Fargo, where he gave Lewis of Memphis, a man weighing fourteen pounds more than himself, a gruelling fight for fifteen rounds. According to Curley the fight was one of the hardest he has ever engaged in during his rather busy career.

"I noticed that Jack Parres has offered to stop me within ten rounds," said Curley. "That would be about the softest proposition that I have ever tackled. I am ready for Parres any time he wants to fight. Let some club make an offer for the fight and you will find me ready."

Curley brings to the front the ancient controversy with Potts, by stating that a club not so very far from here stands ready to offer a purse for the fight. He says he will fight Potts from ten rounds up, under straight rules, and will make a substantial side bet on the outcome of the fight.

Curley also volunteers the information that several western clubs have been anxiously angling for the fight, but despite their efforts Potts has shown no inclination to gird up his loins and sally forth to battle.

WRESTLERS ARE PULLED APART

De Rouen Is Too Rough and Gets Kick in Ribs From Referee.

Omaha, Neb., Feb. 11.—The police were called into the ring to separate the contestants in last night's wrestling match between Raoul De Rouen and Jess Westergaard after they had been wrestling twenty-three minutes and Referee Griswold gave the fall to Westergaard on a foul. The big Frenchman was behind and grasping Westergaard by the hair, slammed the latter's head to the floor violently several times. Referee Griswold attempted to make De Rouen desist when the latter struck at Griswold, who in turn sent a stinging kick to the Frenchman's ribs and called the police.

The second bout was a gruelling match in which Westergaard excelled, and after tiring the Frenchman out, rolled him onto his back with a half-Nelson and head hold.

ROLLER DEFEATS HENRY ORDEMANN

Minneapolis Wrestler Thrown Once and Loses Second Fall on Foul.

Seattle, Wash., Feb. 11.—Dr. B. F. Roller of this city, last night defeated Henry Ordemann of Minneapolis, in a wrestling match.

Roller won the first fall after an hour and six minutes of hard work, finally throwing Ordemann with a half-Nelson and crotch hold. After 34 minutes of wrestling for the second fall, Roller was awarded the decision on a foul. The referee held that Ordemann used an unfair hold in throwing his leg across Roller's head and neck, and disqualified him. The ruling raised a storm of protest from the crowd, but without avail. "Kid" Herman refereed.

CHAMPIONSHIP SERIES OPENS

Big Duluths and Adams Will Play Off for Hockey League Trophy.

Tonight the Adams and Big Duluth hockey teams will engage in the first of a series of games to decide the hockey championship of the city league. Zenith Council, No. 40, United Commercial Travelers, and Company C, indoor baseball teams, will meet at the Armory tomorrow evening. The knights of the grip have the strongest team in the history of the local organization, and the game promises to be close and filled with interest.

At the last initiation of the commercial travelers some very fast baseball players joined the organization. These players have strengthened the team materially, so that at the present time the mileage destroyers claim to have a very fast nine.

The game will be followed by a dance. There will be a full orchestra and a general good time is expected.

LASKER HOLDS TITLE.

Chess Champion Draws With Challenger at Berlin Tournament.

Berlin, Feb. 11.—Dr. Emanuel Lasker of New York retains the title of chess champion of the world. His series of ten games with Carl Schlechter of Vienna, who challenged him for the title, resulted in equal scores, each winning one game, and eight games being drawn. The final game lasted three days and seventy-one moves were made. If drawn, Schlechter would have been the champion. A great crowd watched every move and there was an outburst of cheering when Dr. Lasker won. Both players were given an ovation. Arrangements are proceeding for another match.

CHARLES GUSTAFSON BEATS SHEPPERD.

Dick Shepperd of Pipestone, Minn., was defeated at Winnipeg by Charles Gustafson, middleweight champion wrestler of Canada. The Canadian won in two straight falls. Young Miller, the wonderful little wrestler of St. Paul, who is at the present time recovering from an attack of blood poisoning, may meet the winner.

Attell vs. Conley.

Portland, Or., Feb. 11.—Monte Attell of San Francisco and Frankie Conley of Kenosha, Wis., were matched to fight forty-five rounds in Los Angeles Feb. 22, at 116 pounds ringside. The boys were to have fought a ten-round bout here this month.

DULUTH BOY IS STARRING ON COLLEGE HOCKEY TEAM

FRANK CRASSWELLER, JR.

Young Frank Crassweller, son of Attorney Crassweller of this city, and a former member of the Duluth Central high school football team, as well as a high school baseball player and star hockey player, is making a great name for himself in intercollegiate hockey circles of the East.

The Duluth youngster is considered the best player on the Cornell hockey team, a team that defeated Yale by the score of 3 to 1 Saturday evening at St. Nicholas rink, New York city.

In commenting upon the game, the New York papers say: "Crassweller, right wing of the Cornell team, played the star game of the evening. He scored the first net for his team, and later in the game brought the spectators to their feet by one of the cleverest plays ever witnessed in an intercollegiate hockey contest.

"He secured the puck from behind his own goal and carried the rubber all the way down the ice, shooting a lightning shot from one side of the rink. The young man is considered one of the very best college hockey players in the East."

MANSLAUGHTER MAY BE CHARGE

Coroner's Jury Recommends That Wilkowski's Opponent Be Held.

Chicago, Feb. 11.—That Aloise Wilkowski, 21 years old, was killed by a blow on the head in a prize fight held in the boxing academy of Harry Gilmore, a well-known pugilist, last Thursday night, was the verdict rendered by the coroner's jury. The jury recommended that Joseph McCarthy, Wilkowski's opponent, be held to the grand jury on a charge of manslaughter. Gilmore and the promoters and seconds of the fight were recommended for prosecution.

Wilkowski engaged in a 10-round bout with McCarthy with 8-ounce gloves. They fought furiously, it is said, and after Wilkowski had retired from the ring, he became unconscious. He died at a hospital a day later. The police declared they not only did not know that the fight took place, but that they had not been informed of the result of the fight until the next day.

BOY BESTED EAGLES.

Tried to Carry Off Youngster, But He Used Club.

Laporte, Pa., Feb. 11.—Ten-year-old Ira Cunningham, son of a farmer in a remote section known as Ringdale, had to fight with two huge bald eagles for his life, and he will carry the marks of their talons to the grave.

On Thursday he was returning home from school when two eagles swooped down upon him, knocking him down and attacking him with great fury. They repeatedly sank their talons in his shoulders and tried to carry him away. The boy fought pluckily and, getting hold of a club, resisted the birds so sturdily that they abandoned the attempt and sailed away.

Since the Christmas snow this whole section has been snowbound and the eagles have found little prey. They have carried off a number of sheep.

S.S.S. HEALS OLD SORES

Every old sore is an external symptom of a depraved or polluted condition of the blood. These festering places on the flesh are kept open and in a state of irritation because the circulation is continually discharging into them the impurities and morbid matters with which it is filled. This polluted condition of the blood may be the remains of some constitutional trouble; the effect of a long spell of sickness, which has left the blood stream weak and germ-infected, or because the natural refuse of the body, which should pass off through the proper avenues, has not all been eliminated and has been absorbed into the circulation. External treatment may cause the place to scab over temporarily, but the blood is not made any purer by such treatment, and soon the sore will return or break out at another place and be as bad or worse than before. S. S. S. heals old sores by removing every particle of impurity from the circulation. It goes down to the very bottom of the trouble and so completely changes the circulation that there is no longer any impurity to drain through the sore, but the place is once more nourished with rich, healthful blood. S. S. S. heals the sore from the bottom, the skin regains its natural color, and when S. S. S. has thoroughly cleansed and purified the blood the place is permanently healed. CONCERNING WOMAN.

The suffragette craze has struck Duluth. It has been the fad of fashionable life in England and the Eastern part of the United States, but it has up to the present had hard sledding in Duluth. But it has come at last, and "the younger set" of fashionable life have taken it up. And so it is a sure go.

The way that the notions of these young persons who in other more critical and harsh communities have been called militant females, has shown itself, is not in burnings and by throwing stones through plateglass windows, and shrieking in unlovely voices, "votes for women!." Not so; not in the very least. The way the announcement was made is the very latest in suffragette methods, by a suffragette party.

It's done like this. You, through the medium of the telephone, that wonderful little instrument that has done so much for the progress of nations and the eternal damnation of individuals, that little thing of nickel and wires that will get you in instant communication with him of whom you think—maybe, that little irritating, maddening arrangement that will let you yell your fool head off without getting a single response—well—when you give a suffragette party you use the telephone. If central is feeling well and friendly she only asks you three times for the number you wish and then after teaching you patience by allowing you to wait without disturbance for some little time she says the number has been changed on that line and she leaves you again to undisturbed thoughts that are truly inexpressible and unprintable. But eventually the dulcet tones of him you seek is heard on the wire, and if you are a member of the suffragettes you say "If you have no other engagement I'd like you to go to dinner with me, and there'll be a little dancing afterward."

Almost any gentleman will say "yes." And some, if they've been brought up especially well, will add "thank you."

Then all the person who would have rights for women has to do is to see that he gets flowers on that evening, and arrange for the music and a carriage, although father was especially generous in most cases at the recent local suragette party, and allowed daughter to use the limousine to get her particular young man to the party, and arrange for the decorations and favors to the honored guests, and then, of course, see that his program was filled and that he danced only with the girls that he particularly favored.

The suffragette party was a great success. Only since that a few of the guests of that evening have been wondering. Have they placed themselves irrevocably in a position where they must favor votes for women and all that sort of thing? Hang it, you know, they rather think that woman's place is the home and she would jolly well better stay there. Of course, women are all right, you understand, but they'd better leave votes and things like that alone.

But meanwhile Duluth's younger fashionable set is glorying in a freedom hereinbefore unenjoyed. They can ask men to dinner-dances and get them to go, too, you bet!

"THERE! THERE!"

An Expression No Mother Should Use.

Personally, I have always believed that mothers ought to be more polite to their babies than they often are, writes Thomas L. Masson in the American Baby for February. Some mothers—and especially mothers on railroad trains—always insist upon feeding their babies rubber. No self-respecting mother would eat rubber herself as a steady diet. Mothers themselves lean towards nourishment. Yet, when they are on trains they delight in encouraging the rubber trust publicly. If any trust is to be encouraged, it ought to be done privately, and where other people who are reading the papers cannot hear what is going on.

Politeness, even in an American public vehicle, of course can be carried too far. We all realize that. But to a young and inoffensive baby, I really think that it ought to be encouraged on the part of young mothers. No mother would take up the man on the next seat, and holding him in her arms—no matter how undersized or nervous he was—bounce him up and down on her knees. It's mean of her to do it to her own baby.

One of the most distressing things that young mothers do, is to say, "There, there," to their babies. If any woman, no matter how strangely beautiful, should come up to me in a railway station, or even in her home, and say "There, there!" I should resent it immediately. I claim, as an American citizen, that no one in this broad and ostensibly fair and well-meaning land has any right to say "There, there!" to any one else.

I am perfectly well aware that the provocation is always great. I have felt like saying "There, there!" several times to people I knew and wanted to get even with, but, being a perfect gentleman, I have always refrained.

And I claim that no mother is a perfect lady when she does it to her baby.

She does it, of course, because she wants to give every one the idea that she is familiar with the baby. She wants to convey the idea that she knows all about him, and that she is on such easy terms with him that she can say anything she likes.

This, of course, is just like a woman. Just because he can't do anything about it himself, she takes a mean advantage of him. No man, no honest, hearty, whole-souled man, would do a thing like that.

I have known several babies to grow to be absconders, gamblers, burglars, magazine poets and congressmen, just because their mothers insisted upon saying "There, there!" to them on railroad trains, when they couldn't defend themselves.

Mrs. Hardiman was trembling violently when she reached the top of the stairs, to the left of which was the door opening into the anteroom of Trenner's office. Several persons passed her, and one or two looked back half-curiously into the woman's white face and tell-tale eyes. It was the supreme hour of her life, she felt. It was to be the culmination of months of an almost too daring experiment; but if through the risk, her art should triumph, she might count as nothing the breath of gossip that was already beginning to stir insidiously.

The office boy was not on duty. She knocked timidly on Trenner's private office door. There was no response, and she rapped again. Still no answer, and the blood tided to her face. Here was an unlooked-for difficulty. She dropped into a chair and glanced about the room a little bewildered. What if she should be defeated after all her plans!

There was a number of amateurish sketches done in oil with which Trenner had chosen to ornament his walls, and Mrs. Hardiman amused herself by walking about from one to the other, trying to decipher the subjects. In the corner of each were the initials E. H. T. His wife, in all probability. She remembered having heard that Trenner had married some years ago, but that for an as yet undiscovered reason, he was not living with the woman at present. Half the people said it was because she was crazy; the other half said they were not surprised that she was unable to live with a husband like him. Mrs. Hardiman confessed herself supremely indifferent upon the question.

Presently a shadow cut across the light in front of her and she turned with a little startled gesture that was unavoidable.

Trenner came into the room with his customary air of deliberation and stood drawing off his gloves placidly.

"Will you be busy for the next half-hour?" Mrs. Hardiman asked, as he questioned her with his uplifted brows.

"I am never busy—with the prospect of your company before me," he answered, laying his hat on the table and moving toward the door of his office.

Mrs. Hardiman dismissed his triteness with a little gesture of impatience and followed.

"I want to ask you a question," she began without preface, the belligerence of her attitude at once unmistakable.

She hesitated a moment, scrutinizing him through half-shut lashes, her lips compressed.

Trenner endured her eyes for awhile, but presently began to be uncomfortable and prompted her.

"Well?" he said.

"Have you been misinformed in regard to me?" she asked, in a cold voice.

"I have never been informed of you at all," was the stiff reply.

"Then I was personally responsible for your act of yesterday?"

"We are all personally responsible for what happens to us, are we not?"

The woman was silent for a moment. Her wits, usually keen and quick, threatened to desert her in the hour that she wanted them most. After a pause, she spoke again:

"I am afraid, though, that you have made a mistake. A—a miscalculation."

"I think not. A man seldom does—under certain conditions."

Mrs. Hardiman felt the blood flame to her face in a scorching wave.

"Men are profound egotists," she cut in sharply, "and I demand an apology for your conduct toward me."

Trenner smiled, recrossed his knees and sat up quite straight in his chair.

"My dear lady," he said, with a great deference, "if I have offended you, I most humbly beg your pardon."

"If. You are sure of it, are you not?" She bent toward him excitedly.

"I—well, perhaps I ought to be, but I'm not," he returned, candidly, his demeanor nettling the woman almost beyond endurance.

"You took advantage of me—of the situation," she cried.

"How is that?" he questioned, with a faint show of interest.

"The office boy was—there—in the next room. I was obliged to keep silent, lest there should be a misconstruction," she cried.

"I was not aware that I did anything to occasion your indignation," he persisted, imperturbably.

"That is not true," she jerked out, struggling hard to keep her mastery.

Trenner shrugged and laught softly. "Again I beg your pardon," he repeated, with mock humility.

Mrs. Hardiman bit her lips, her fingers clenching themselves in her lap.

"You are perfectly aware of the fact that you—that what you tried to do was against my will?" she went on, breathing tensely.

"I don't think it was," he responded, toying with his watch fob.

"You are most insolent!"

Trenner caught his breath under the look she gave him, temporising a bit.

"You have made the mistake, Mrs. Hardiman, of confusing the spiritual and the material. There is no spiritual," He made the announcement in a tone of finality.

After a moment she replied, lamely: "The question now is neither material nor spiritual in aspect. It involves simply an abstract—fact."

The other laughed again, and shook his head.

"Aren't you talking just little disconnectedly?" he asked, indulgently.

"I think not. I am quite confident of my ground."

There was a long silence. When she looked toward Trenner again, he was running his fingers reflectively through a tawny mass of coarse, yellowish hair that gave to his face a distinctly leonine type of expression.

"I shall always consider that you placed me in a false position," she remarked, angrily.

"Still, you will have to admit that you confess yourself unable to cope with circumstances."

"The office boy, for instance," she hurled back.

There was another silence. Trenner was the first to break it.

"Well, have you found out all you wanted to know?" he inquired.

"All, and more. My experiment has been most successful. I owe you an untold debt." She gave him a sphinx-like look.

Trenner's lips parted in an involuntary smile.

"I thought you'd come up here and explain it all," he observed.

Mrs. Hardiman swallowed her rage and covered it up with a little quick laugh.

"That was my intention," she agreed, rising.

Trenner preceded her to the door and held it open. He said nothing, and the woman did not speak either, or look back.

When Mrs. Hardiman gained the open air, she drew a deep breath of relief. She felt faint and dizzy and wretched. The encounter she had had with Trenner left her more than physically weak; it had seemed to take something vital forever from her life. The experiment into which she had plunged blindly for the sake of her work had proved a little more than she had been able to grapple with. Trenner had—to be sure—showed himself all that she had wished and intended—the exact opposite of the romantic amerist who might have met her reproaches with weak asseverations of his love and penitence. But she felt conscious of a keen sense of moral hurt.

When she reached her own gate, she was worn out and spiritless. She ran upstairs to her room and flung herself, face down, on a lounge, a burning sense of mortification pervading her being. Presently, a rush of tears came to her relief and she sat up, refreshed. After all, though his hands had touched hers, he had not kissed her as he would have done, had not some last remnant of superior will-power preserved her in the extreme moment from that pollution.

After a while her husband came into the room looking for her, and she jumped up excitedly and threw her arms about his neck.

"Dick," she cried, hysterically, "you must take me away from here, somewhere—anywhere—for a time. I've worn my nerves to a shred over this last story, and I mean to burn it up. I shall never write another line as long as I live!"

TRY FLOUR CASE AT NEW ORLEANS.

New Orleans, Feb. 11.—Judge Foster in the United States district court today decided that the so-called "bleached flour" case, or the hearing of the petition of the government against the Acme Milling company of Kansas, should be tried in this court and not at Council Bluffs, Ia. Many modern milling methods are involved.

Decision Affirmed.

The decision of Judge Morris of the United States court, entered Sept. 5, 1908, to the effect that the Ionia Transportation company is entitled to recover $1,400 damages and $471.22 unpaid freight from the Lehigh Valley Coal company was upheld by the United States circuit court of appeals, the mandate having been filed with the deputy clerk of the United States court here today.

A BUILDING IN DULUTH

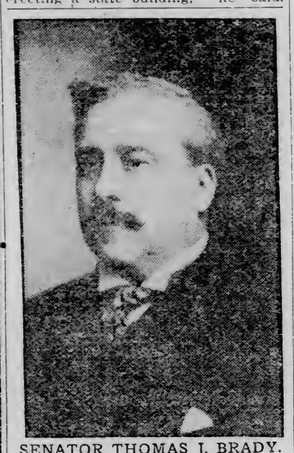

State Should Erect a $250,000 Structure Here, Says Senator.

A Good Friend of Duluth Offers a Timely Suggestion.

"Duluth should have a state building," said State Senator Thomas J. Brady, who is in the city today.

Senator Brady is known as "the friend of Duluth" by Duluth senators and representatives. They always felt they could count on Senator Brady for support in any fair measure introduced for the advancement of the interests of Duluth or Northern Minnesota.

"You have enough state officers up here now to make it worth while erecting a state building," he said.

SENATOR THOMAS J. BRADY.

"The state should construct a building, costing about $250,000, which would be an addition to your grouping plan here near the courthouse. All the state officers in Duluth could then have offices in one building, and the state would save anywhere from $1,500 to $1,700 in office rent monthly.

"Unless you stop to think a minute you don't realize how many state offices there are in Duluth. There is the labor department, the oil inspector, the dairy inspector, the game and fish wardens, the state board of health, the surveyor general of logs and lumber, and all the various grain departments.

"Then every once in a while some state examining board comes up here to hold an examination, and rents a room for a few days.

"All this rent could be saved if the state erected a building here. Duluth should get after it."

BLUE EARTH MAN HURT IN WRECK

Ora Bishop Injured in Collision on the Wabash in Iowa.

Des Moines, Iowa, Feb. 11.—Three persons were injured, one perhaps fatally, in a head-on collision of two Wabash passenger trains near here today. Engineer William Rucker of Moberly, Mo., was badly crushed and will likely die. Ora Bishop of Blue Earth, Minn., and George Dearth of Des Moines also were injured.

Cure for Liquor Habit

Give Orrine and Destroy All Desire. Sold Under Guarantee.

Orrine is the most successful cure for the liquor habit that the world has ever known. It is a home treatment, given without publicity, detention from business or loss of time, and is absolutely guaranteed if the simple directions on each box are carefully followed. So remarkable have been the changes wrought for suffering drinking men by Orrine that leading ministers, charity workers, philanthropists and druggists everywhere recommend the treatment. Thousands of endorsements have been given for the remedy.

Read this one from the Quaker Drug Co., Seattle, Wash.: "During the past five years we have sold thousands of packages of ORRINE, and have never heard it spoken of except in highest terms of praise. We have dozens of people come to us and state that ORRINE has cured them, or their husbands, or dear ones from the curse of drunkenness. ORRINE is one of the few articles on the market that we can conscientiously recommend to our customers, and we do so daily feeling that we have done what to us seems a duty as well as a service."

Orrine is prepared in two forms. No. 1, a powder, absolutely tasteless and odorless, given secretly in food or drink. Orrine No. 2, in pill form, is for those who wish to cure themselves. Orrine costs only $1 a box. In every box is a guarantee which entitles you to a refund of your money if Orrine fails to effect a cure. Write for Free Orrine Booklet (mailed in plain sealed envelope) to Orrine Co., 457 Orrine Building, Washington, D. C. Orrine is for sale in this city by W. A. NO AMERICAN RINKS PLAYING

Bonspiel at Winnipeg Is Running Along Slowly This Week.

Winnipeg, Man., Feb. 11.—(Special to The Herald.)—As far as the American rinks are concerned the bonspiel is dragging along very slowly. None of them are playing in the two morning draws today.

Stocking, Duluth, beat Ball of Dauphin last night in the Tettley competition by a score of 12 to 9, having the game virtually his own way. The Duluth men are feeling in fine shape now and hope to carry off some of the silverware. The annual banquet will be held on Tuesday evening next and commencing Monday there will be six draws daily.

BRANCH OFFICES:

WILL DISCUSS THE FRANCHISE

West Duluth Commercial Club to Hold Important Meeting.

When the West Duluth Commercial club meets this evening, it is probable that the action of Mayor Haven in announcing his intentions of signing the ordinance granting a franchise to the Canadian Northern railroad, will come in for discussion.

The West Duluth Commercial club has twice gone on record against the entrance of the road over the particular route selected by its engineers. Committees were appointed and instructed to confer with the city engineer as to the possibilities of the road coming in on a different route.

It was at the instigation of the Commercial club that the mayor and a number of other city officials took a trip over the route selected and over several of those proposed. The club committee also held conferences with the members of the Duluth Real Estate exchange.

Besides taking up the Canadian Northern question, the club will also hear a report from the public market committee. The committee drew up resolutions asking the city to have the city lots at Ramsey street and the Northern Pacific right-of-way set aside for this purpose. The resolution was presented to the council by Alderman W. B. Getchell.

Other committees are also to be heard from at the meeting this evening. One was appointed to ask the Northern Pacific to lower its fare between West Duluth and the site of the new steel plant. Another committee is expected to report as to what the street car company will do in regard to placing "owl cars" on the West Duluth street car lines.

New Members Admitted.

Three new members were admitted last evening at a meeting of the Salter Club of the Plymouth Congregational church, Fifty-fourth avenue west and Bristol street. They were Ethel Gibbons, Hermann Hanson and Leland Mohaupt. At the business meeting, Miss Lillian Hacker was elected organist. Refreshments and a program followed. Miss Katherine Gardener gave a number of musical selections.

AMONG THE CURLERS.

McAuley and Miller in Finals of the Commercial Club Event.

The West Duluth curlers are much interested in the bonspiel which opens tomorrow, part of the games being played at the West Duluth rink and the others on the ice of the Duluth club.

The following is the drawing made for the West Duluth rink: Miller vs. Dinham, Zauft vs. Hall, Clark vs. Feetham and Rockwell vs. Bradley. The playing will begin at 9 o'clock at the West Duluth club.

Six other rinks from the Western Curling club will participate in the affair at the Duluth club. They are McAuley, Wade, Hewitt, Evered and Meldahl.

Tonight the finals in the West Duluth Commercial club event will be played by the McAuley and Miller rinks. Play will also be resumed in the Buckley and Hendrickson events.

Last evening, in the Hendrickson event, Wade was the winner in a game with Olson. The score was 16 to 12. In the Buckley event, McAuley lost to Ellis, 13 to 9, and Miller took a game from Rockwell by a score of 13 to 8.

ARRANGE FOR "SURPRISE."

Competition Between Men and Women of Merritt M. E. Church.

At a meeting this afternoon, the women of the Merritt Memorial M. E. church, Forty-sixth avenue west and Halifax street made preparations for their part of a "surprise" entertainment which will be given at the church Feb. 18, a week from this evening.

The men of the church will also take a part in the entertainment under the auspices of the Men's club. The competition is growing strong in the contest. The side that puts up the best entertainment will be given a supper at the expense of the losers.

The meeting this afternoon was held at the home of Mrs. Grace Merritt of 4611 Oneota street.

NEW PLAYGROUND.

Eight lots have been purchased by the park board at West Duluth to be used as a public playground. The purchase is in the First division and includes lots 1, 2, 3, 4, in block 38 and lots 1, 2, 3, 4, in block 39.

The playground will be located just opposite the Irving school. But little improvement will be required to get the lots into shape for installing the playground apparatus. Swings, turning bars and other apparatus will be put in. It is expected that the improvements will be made in the spring.

Entertains Society.

Miss May Norlund of 102 North Fifty-third avenue west entertained the Young People's Society of the Swedish Finnish Evangelical Lutheran church at her home last evening. Games were played and refreshments were served. About thirty were present.

West Duluth Briefs.

E. H. Farman of Knoxboro, N. Y., was in West Duluth this morning on a business trip.

The confirmation class of Our Savior's Norwegian church will meet with the pastor, Rev. J. A. Ejerke, at the church, Fifty-seventh avenue west and Wadena street, tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock.

Miss Kate Macbeth of Proctor entertained the Christian Endeavor Society of the Westminster Presbyterian church at her home last evening.

James Stibbs has started a new industry at West Duluth in which canvas gloves will be manufactured. The factory has just been started at 4102 West Third street.

Albert Hanson is erecting a residence at 5510 West Eighth street. Ground has been broken for the new building.

Rev. Gustav Oberg, pastor of the Swedish Finnish Evangelical Lutheran church, Fifty-third avenue west and Wadena street, is in Ashland. He is expected to return tomorrow.

Lenten services will be held this evening, commencing at 7:30 o'clock at the St. James' Catholic church on Fifty-third avenue west. Rev. Father Lynch will deliver a sermon.

It is expected that the committee on arrangements for the semi-centennial celebration of the founding of the Merritt M. E. church will meet some time next week to make arrangements for the affair which will be held early in April.

THE CLOSE WAS LOWER

Market Has Fractional Decline on Heavy Offerings and Light Demand.

Flax Is Dull But Firm, Closing at a High Point.

Duluth Board of Trade, Feb. 11.—Wheat closed fractionally lower today in all American markets. The longs fed out holdings, the cash demand was poor and premiums were easy. May opened at $1.12⅜, gained ⅛c, sold at $1.12⅜@1.12⅝ and declined to $1.11⅞@1.12 and closed $1.12 bid, ¼c under yesterday's close. July sold at $1.12½ around the opening and declined to $1.11⅞-12 and closed $1.12 bid.

The flax market was dull with little trading. May opened at $2.16 bid and sold at $2.16½ and then at $2.17, closing $2.17 bid.

The near wheat option in North American markets closed: Chicago, ¼@⅜c off; Minneapolis, ¼@⅜c off; New York, ⅜c off; Winnipeg, ⅜c off; Kansas City, ⅛c off; St. Louis, ⅛c off.

The market opened firm on higher cables. Liverpool closed ½c higher which caused the American markets to advance fractionally at the opening over yesterday's close. Duluth May was ⅛c up from yesterday. The option went to $1.12⅜ but there was nothing in the market to hold it up and prices began to decline. The advance caught a lot of resting orders from farmers to sell wheat to arrive and this helped to check the advance and start prices downward.

The foreign market was stronger on account of a demand by short sellers. La Plata offerings were dearer and Argentine shipments were disappointing. Shipments from Argentina this week amount to 3,136,000 as compared with 2,608,000 last year. The demand was slightly improved. Duluth sold Manitobas for export, chiefly to the continent. Winnipeg reported a few sales. New York wired that the export business is negligible and that there are no cargoes leaving even with penny freights.

The situation in the Northwest from a cash standpoint was weaker. The demand was poor and premiums were inclined to be soft. Receipts show a big falling off from last week, chiefly on account of the inability of the railroads to handle the stuff. Last week the increase in stocks in the Northwest was more than 1,000,000 bu. The increase at Minneapolis this week is 656,000 bu and at the Head of the Lakes the increase is estimated at 225,000 compared with nearly 500,000 bu. last week. The situation was strengthened by the position of the Chicago market which is easily controlled. These supplies are small and closely held and some speculators are inclined to take advantage of the bullish crop reports floating in from the Southwest. Natural conditions prevailed, however, and the Chicago market eased off with the rest. Northwestern markets, which have been subject directly to more bullish influence in the recent bulge, have been from ¾c to 1c above Chicago.

There is a considerably short interest in May and the option is liable to be oversold any time. The bulge yesterday helped to clear the atmosphere. When the market started to decline today there was some short selling both from professionals and the outside. The crop reports continue to be mixed. The market looks to be a scalping proposition. Prices, according to the bears, continue too far above an export basis, the milling demand is comparatively slow, primary receipts are large and the foreigner is practically independent of the United States. Stocks are still small, however, and are closely held, a condition which is a menace to the short seller.

Crop reports are varied. The Modern Miller says prospects in the Southwest and Southeast are favorable. Snow wired from Storing, Kan., that he had motored through Reno and Rice counties and that he found no basis for claims of wheat damage. Tops, he said, are brown and frosted, but the inside leaves are green and the roots and crown seem sound. Seeding was late and the fall growth smaller than usually above ground. The roots seem deep. More than the usual amount of snow fell and the soil has held the moisture. Herkeimer, Kan., wired that wheat near there had been damaged from 20 to 50 per cent. Goodland, Kan., reports 60 per cent damage from freezing and thawing. Half the wheat between Harper and Topeka, Kan., according to one report, has turned brown and looks dead. Some claim the roots are alive, however. It seems that many of these reports come from people who are long on wheat and some from farmers who would like to see higher prices. A Kansas City wire to Bigg, Barrell & Co. said that wheat south of the Kaw river is excellent and that rumors of crop damage, except in isolated portions, will not be sustained.

Shipments from the Southwest are heavy. Stocks are good, however. St. Louis has 200,000 bu more wheat in stock than this time last year. Heavy sales have been made to Mexico, and traders think the Southwestern mills have to become heavy buyers of wheat.

Country offerings at Northwestern elevators have decreased sharply. Farmers are not selling more than half of the stuff they are taking to storage points. The farmer will soon be a bigger factor than ever in the wheat market. Receipts at the leading markets, some traders think, reached a high mark last week and will now show a falling off.

MARKET GOSSIP

In a recent speech in the senate, Mr. McCumber of North Dakota said the farmers are not getting a fair share of the high prices which food products command. Contrasting prices received by the farmer with those paid by the consumer, he said that a 4-year-old steer which in North Dakota would bring $70, would sell for $2,500 when retailed at senate restaurant-steak prices. He declared that a bushel of wheat which brings the farmers 90c retails for $3 or $4 when made up into bread and sold at 5c a loaf and at $37.50 when served in a high-class restaurant

The Modern Miller said: "Winter wheat top growth in many sections looks bad but investigation in a number of instances shows a strong root growth. Claims of damage continue to be heard but growing weather is necessary to reveal the plant's condition. In Southwest and Southeast prospects favorable. A greater acreage than ever is under wheat in Texas and Oklahoma."

THE CHICAGO MARKET.

Wheat Opens Generally Steady to Somewhat Higher.

Chicago, Feb. 11.—On a fairly good demand, wheat prices at the opening today were generally steady to ¼c higher. In the first hour, somewhat liberal offerings caused the market to sag slightly, the futures resting at about yesterday's closing figures. Opening figures for May were $1.11⅝@1.11⅝, and the early fluctuations kept within that range.

Corn advanced slightly after opening unchanged to ⅛c higher, but in the first hour fell to about the opening level. The recession was due to improved offerings. May on the advance went up to 67½c from 66¾c. Opening figures were 66¾@66⅞c to 66⅝@67c.

Oats followed the course of corn, opening from unchanged to ¼c higher, advancing about ½c on good demand and dropping back to the opening. Larger offerings in the first hour caused the downward slide. May went up from 46⅞ to 47¼c. The opening for May which was at 46⅜@46⅞c was unchanged to ¼c higher.

Stimulated by the strong market for live hogs and by analysis of estimates crediting high prices to shortage of products, provisions advanced all around. Pork took the lead with an increase of 12½c to 22½c, making a record price of $22.85 at the opening. Other products advanced from 2½c to 10c. Opening figures for May: Pork $22.75@22.85; lard, $12.35@12.40; ribs, $11.97@12.02.

THE MINNEAPOLIS MARKET.

Wheat Opens Stronger. But Turns Weak on Profit-Taking.

Minneapolis, Minn., Feb. 11.—Light local receipts and firmer foreign markets made wheat stronger during the early session today. May opened ½@⅝c higher than yesterday's close and after fluctuating in a range of ⅞c from high to low, closed ⅝@⅞c below the opening. The weakness in the late session was caused by profit-taking. Local elevator stocks of wheat increased 650,000 bu for the week as compared with an accumulation of 427,000 bu last week. Minneapolis today received 206 cars of wheat as compared with a holiday a year ago; Duluth 47 cars against a holiday, and Winnipeg 143 cars against 56 cars.

May opened with $1.12⅛@1.12⅜; high, $1.12⅛@1.12⅜; low, $1.11⅛; close, $1.11½@1.11⅝. July opened, $1.12@1.12⅛; high, $1.12⅛; low, $1.11¼; close, $1.11¼@1.11⅜.

STRENGTH IN RAILROADS

Pacifics and Reading Were Leaders of the Stock Market.

Realizing Sales Near Close, Which Was Heavy and Reactionary.

New York, Feb. 11.—The opening movement of prices of stocks today was sluggish and irregular and dealings were light. The copper industrials were heavy. International Harvester preferred declined 1¾. Amalgamated Copper and American Sugar, American Smelting ⅝. United States Steel opened unchanged and then ran off ½. Pullman sold at an advance of 2, Utah Copper 1¼, and Norfolk & Western and Toledo, St. Louis & Western preferred 1.

Buying orders were placed in the principal stocks at recessions, and the whole list advanced in a striking manner. United States Steel rallied a point and Amalgamated Copper made up most of its loss. Railroad stocks were the leaders of the market, the strength displayed by the Pacifics and Reading having a good influence on the whole list. Prices were below the highest at the end of the hour.

There were wide movements in a few stocks but the general market became almost idle. Offerings were scanty and prices hardened. American Express sold at a decline of 5. Bonds were firm.

The market closed heavy and reactionary. The rise was considerably extended in the final hour when Reading got up 2¼, Wabash preferred 2, Southern Pacific 1⅛, American Car, American Sugar and Westinghouse Electric 1½, and some others a point or more. Realizing sales made a material impression on the advances.

New York stock quotations furnished The Herald by Piper, Johnson & Case.

SAYS "IMMUNITY" ADMITS GUILT

Unique Feature Arises in the Trial of Heike Sugar Fraud Case.

New York, Feb. 11.—To show that his claimed "immunity bath" had been a thorough and complete process, Charles R. Heike, secretary of the American Sugar Refining company, appeared again today before the United States circuit court in the continuation of his trial on the underweighing conspiracy charge.

The case is an absolute novelty in the federal courts, being only approximately paralleled by the "beef trust" immunity case in Chicago. Heike claims amnesty on the conspiracy charge because he testified before a grand jury regarding subjects which he says are covered in the indictment returned against him. The prosecution disputes this.

Federal Prosecutor Stimson declares that if Heike's contention is not upheld, the government will move for sentence on the ground that a plea of immunity is a confession of guilt.

Heike was on the stand as the first witness when adjournment was taken yesterday and was recalled when court opened today.

THREE ARRESTED AS TRAIN ROBBERS

Postoffice Inspectors Nab Two Suspects in St. Louis---All Deny Their Guilt.

St. Louis, Mo., Feb. 11.—Three men suspected of having robbed a Missouri Pacific train on the night of Jan. 21 near Eureka, Mo., are in the custody of postoffice inspectors in St. Louis. They are W. W. Lowe, S. W. Emerson and George Ebeling. James Lowe, a brother of W. W. Lowe, also is under arrest as a suspect.

W. W. Lowe and S. W. Emerson were arrested Wednesday in a raid under the direction of Chief Postoffice Inspector Dickson, in a room in the Granite building, in the heart of St. Louis, where the pair were promoting a mining company. Ebeling was arrested in Hot Springs, Ark. He had been watched here by the postoffice inspectors. The prisoners deny their guilt.

The Missouri Pacific announced that the robbers obtained $155.

EDUCATORS OF NORTHERN MINNESOTA GATHER HERE

Ninth Annual Convention of Teachers Opens in Duluth.

"Efficiency of Public Schools" the Theme Under Discussion.

The ninth annual meeting of the Northeastern Minnesota Educational association opened here today, with educators in attendance from nearly every town in this section of the state. The boards of education in all of the towns gave their teachers full opportunity to attend the meeting and profit by the suggestions of men high in educational circles, and the exchange of ideas in the discussions which will follow the set addresses.

The range schools closed at noon yesterday and every train yesterday afternoon and last evening brought scores of educators to the city. More came this morning and when the first session was called to order in the Central high school this afternoon, the attendance was probably the largest a meeting of the association has ever had. The Duluth schools closed at noon today to allow the local teachers to attend the first meeting.

E. A. Freeman of Grand Rapids, president of the association, is here to preside over the meetings. Miss Ruth Cole of Coleraine is secretary and Principal S. A. Foster of the Industrial high school here, is treasurer.

The addresses at the meeting this afternoon were given by Dr. S. A. Boyer of the Duluth board of education and William Her Crane, formerly superintendent of schools at Marshalltown, Iowa. The general theme of all addresses and discussions at the meetings will be "The Efficiency of the Public Schools" and the addresses this afternoon were on that theme, Dr. Boyer speaking on the health of teachers and pupils and Mr. Crane on the teachers' understanding of boys and girls.

Medical Inspection.

Dr. Boyer discussed the results of medical inspection in the Duluth schools and gave practical suggestions to teachers in schools which have no medical inspection as to what they can do toward increasing the efficiency of their work by proper attention to their own and their pupils' physical needs.

Mr. Crane is a man of rich and successful experience in dealing with boys and girls and he is an interesting and instructive speaker. His address was based on experimental knowledge and sound reasoning and he gave the teachers something to think about.

This morning was given over to visiting the schools of Duluth and the visiting educators scattered all over the city. Each had some line of work in which he took special interest to inspect in Duluth. Some went to the normal school, others to the Central high school, others to the Industrial high school in West Duluth and others to the grade schools.

Tonight, the visiting teachers will be guests at a reception to be given in the Commercial club rooms. Prof. A. F. M. Custance has prepared the following program for the evening: "The Old Brigade," Barri, by Scottish Rite Quartet; "Under the Willow" Foster, by Master Donald Alexander; "Trip to Fairyland," Blake, A. R. Bjorkquist and quartette; reading, by Miss Long; "Ask Me No More," Custance, Don Cole; "I Know a Bank" Park, Miss Alice Sjosellus; "Colon Town," Rogers, by C. O. Applehagen; "An Open Secret," Custance, by Scottish Rite Quartette.

The closing general session of the meeting will be held at 10:30 o'clock tomorrow morning in the assembly hall of the Central high school. President L. C. Lord of the Illinois normal school will speak on "Efficiency of the Public School as Related to the Recitation," and Charles S. Mitchell will speak on "Efficiency of the Public Schools from a Layman's Standpoint."

Officers for the year will be elected at the closing meeting.

TROUBLE BREWING IN MOROCCO AGAIN

Mulai Hafid's Attitude Toward the Powers Promises Complications.

Paris, Feb. 11.—A special to the Matin from Fez, Morocco, says that the attitude of Sultan Mulai Hafid toward the powers, and in particular France, foreshadows grave complications. He refuses to confirm the French loan negotiations of his commission and is making many arrests. The French consul has protested against the developments and the military mission has suspended its instruction of the Moroccan army.

WOULD SETTLE AT CHERRY.

St. Paul Company Proposes to Avoid Damage Suits.

Cherry, Ill., Feb. 11.—Widows and other surviving relatives of the nearly 300 miners killed in the St. Paul mine are discussing an effort by the company to settle out of court all damage suits resulting from last November's mine fire. The proposal for settlements was brought to Cherry by State's Attorney Eckert of Bureau county.

It was proposed to pay a minimum sum of $800 to relatives of unmarried men, and a maximum amount of $1,200 to widows with six or more children.

It is planned by the St. Paul Coal company, it was announced, to mortgage the Cherry mine for $300,000 to pay the damages contemplated under the company's proposal of settlement. Heirs of rescuers who died in the attempt to save lives of miners also would share in the settlement money.

News of the offer spread fast and some protests were voiced.

A mass meeting of those concerned will probably be called.

Miss Frances Wheeler, a nurse, who was stricken with diptheria, Tuesday, has been quarantined today.

Injunction Is Secured Against Former Duluth Man in Minneapolis.

Minneapolis, Minn., Feb. 12.—Alleging that Michael W. McDonald, the wealthy lumberman and promoter of Minneapolis, is using the funds and royalties of mining companies promoted by him to settle his obligations, Ambra Ella Hamilton, who a year ago had McDonald arrested on a charge of bigamy; his wife, and David E. Bell, the guardian of his children, have had him restrained temporarily from handling the affairs of these companies.

An order to show cause has been issued by Judge Smith of the Hennepin county district court why the order should not be made permanent. The restraining order also mentions A. A. Hobbs, McDonald's guardian, and Miss Katherine Peterson.

Mr. Hobbs was appointed by the district court as McDonald's guardian after his release from custody last March on a warrant sworn out in Kansas City, Mo., by Miss A. E. Hamilton, who claims to have married him in 1905 in Ontario.

Lived In Duluth.

Governor Johnson refused to honor the requisition, and McDonald was released after spending several days in the Hennepin county jail. Soon after his wife applied to the probate court, and a guardian was appointed for McDonald. At the time of the trouble McDonald told Governor Johnson that he had been sued for $250,000 by Ambra Hamilton, and that he had made a settlement by paying her $140,000. It is this settlement that is mentioned in the present case. McDonald formerly lived in Duluth.

BEFORE THE GRAND JURY

Swope Case Is to Be Investigated in All Its Details.

Representative Body of Men Chosen to Make the Investigation.

Kansas City, Mo., Feb. 12.—A new chapter in the Swope mystery was begun today, when the grand jury began what promised to be a most thorough investigation of the now complicated case.

The jury is as representative a body as ever has been summoned to act in Kansas City. The members are bankers, merchants and farmers. Two were chosen from Independence, Mo., the home of the Swopes.

Every detail of the death of Col. Thomas H. Swope; of James Moss Hunton, a cousin of the dead millionaire, and of Chrisman Swope, the nephew, as well as the illness of nine members of the Swope household who wer stricken with typhoid fever, will be gone into.

The men summoned yesterday by Marshal Mayes to act as jurors appeared in the criminal court at Kansas City this morning before Judge Ralph S. Latshaw to take the oaths and be charged concerning the duties in hand.

HEAD OF CHURCH WHERE MR. FAIRBANKS SPOKE

REV. B. M. TIPPLE, D. D.

When ex-Vice President Fairbanks went to the American Methodist Episcopal church on the Via Firenze in Rome to address his fellow Methodists, he found the American flag flying before the entrance to the church. The Stars and Stripes are always flying before the American church, which is the only non-ritualistic American church in the Holy City. Rev. Bertrand Martin Tipple, D. D. is the pastor of the church. He has been in charge of it since October, 1909, and has made extensive improvements. There is a large attendance at the services. At the opening service for 1910, there were Americans from twenty-seven states in the audience.

New York, Feb. 12.—New York city and state, in common with many other cities and states throughout the country, is today honoring the memory of Abraham Lincoln, born on Feb. 12, a year more than a century ago. The day has been a legal holiday in New York state for fourteen years.

The principal event scheduled for the day in this city, is the annual Lincoln dinner of the Republican club, at which President Taft will deliver the principal address. Republicans from far

ONE CRUSHED AND FIVE HURT BY COAL

Thousand Tons of the Fuel Falls on Workmen at Pottsville, Pa.

Pottsville, Pa., Feb. 12. — While loosening a small mountain of prepared coal which had become frozen in the storage yards of the Philadelphia & Reading company at Landingville, near here, six workmen were buried today by a sudden slide of a thousand tons of the fuel. One of the half dozen was crushed to death. The other five were rescued badly injured. The men had excavated under the coal and were thawing it with a stream of cold water when, without warning, the great mass gave way.

ZOO ANIMALS DO NOT LIKE BOYCOTT

Lions, Tigers and Wolves See No Advantage in Cutting Off Meat.

Pittsburg, Pa., Feb. 12.—The lions, tigers, wolves, and other carnivorous animals at the Highland park zoo have joined the meat boycott, and according to Supt. George W. Burke they do not take kindly to it. The animals fought and snarled because meat has been taken off their bill of fare.

This has become necessary because of the high prices and the small appropriation allowed by the county. Supt. Burke says that dog biscuits and zoological pastry has been offered the wild beasts, but they cannot be fooled. To feed meat, it is explained, would exhaust the appropriation before the end of the fiscal year, and the park management then would be at a loss to procure food for their charges.

AMERICANS AMONG DEAD

Three Are Said to Have Died in Wreck of the Chanzy.

Escape of Sole Survivor Is Regarded as Almost Miraculous.

Marseilles, France, Feb. 12.—It is believed today that the only Americans aboard the ill-fated French steamer General Chanzy that went down off the north coast of the island of Minorca on Wednesday, with a loss of 156 lives, were Miss Elsie Henry, aged 28 years, address unknown; Leon Derenda, and possibly Derenda's partner, a man named Green, though there is doubt whether the latter was an American or an Englishman. Derenda is said to have come from San Francisco, and is also said to have lived at Portland, Or.

The three Americans were members of a vaudeville combination bound on a tour of the colonies. Derenda and Green are described as jugglers and acrobats. Among the other performers in the combination were several Englishmen, including a man named Nestor and the "Two Strakleys," barperformers. The Strakleys came from Antwerp, but their nationality is not known as passengers from the colonies are not required to name their home country. The most prominent of the artists was Francis Dufor, a music

LETTER TELLS OF COMING DEATH

Woman Dying of Gas Poisoning Knows Only That "Something Is Wrong."

Cleveland, Ohio, Feb. 12.—Lying on the floor, face downward, her arms stretched toward the door she could not reach, Mrs. Caroline Pretzer was found dead in her home last night.

On a table was a letter which she had been writing to her brother, the Rev. Frederick Kretz of Brooklyn, N. Y. The last lines that she had written read:

"I am beginning to feel very tired. Something is wrong."

Here the writing wavered. The last words were almost illegible.

"I am getting ill," she had written, "I am unable to write more tonight." The words trailed off irregularly downward—"I must put it aside, com—"

Apparently at this point she had arisen from her chair and tottered toward the door for aid, had fallen and died. She had been asphyxiated by the fumes of natural gas.

BOOKER'S RECORD.

Arrested July 6, 1905, for second degree assault. Acquitted Sept. 25, 1905.

Paid a fine of $6 for disorderly conduct June 3, 1905.

Arrested on Nov. 12, 1905, on suspicion of having robbed Albert Osling of 2532 West Superior street.

Other arrests for minor offenses.

The outlook for George Booker, arrested by the police on suspicion of having murdered Charles Clark, his stepfather, 65 years old, is black.

There is every indication that he kicked the old man to death in a frenzy of furious anger. The injuries of the dead man are terrible and Booker's record in police circles is none too good.

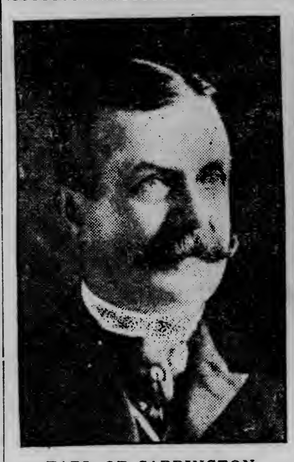

All the facts discovered by the police and the county attorney in visiting the scene of Clark's death point to Booker's guilt. No living person knows the true facts except Booker. There were no eye witnesses. The two men were alone on a desolate road in the woods. They had been drinking. The belief is that they quarreled and that Clark, being older and weaker, lost his life in the furious assault which followed.

The authorities declare that no man could have sustained the injuries received by Clark had he fallen half a dozen times. They declare that they have not the slightest doubt that Booker killed Clark by driving his heavy boots into his stepfather's body.

Both the police, the physicians, and the county attorney, assert that he could not have lived any length of time after he was so awfully wounded. The statement was made at headquarters this morning that Clark did not die in the sled, from all indications.

FIVE BREWERIES LOSE LICENSES

Temperance Workers Win Victory in Washington County, Pa.

Washington, Pa., Feb. 12.—There will be five breweries less in Washington county this year, as a result of Judge J. A. McIlvaine's ruling in the license court. Heretofore there have been nine, but five fell under the ban because of the activities of the Anti-Saloon league and temperance organizations.

Judge McIlvaine gave as his reason for refusing the breweries licenses, carelessness in conducting the business and turning it over to persons unfit to be intrusted with the sale of intoxicating liquors.

SNOW AGAIN COVERS EAST

Storm Does Some Damage to Small Boats Off Sandy Hook.

New York, Pennsylvania and Tennessee Under Heavy Fall of Snow.

Pittsburg, Pa., Feb. 12.—Floundering through snow seventeen inches deep, people here this morning found trolley lines crippled, all traffic on the railroads delayed and the city streets well-nigh impassable. From almost every community in Western Pennsylvania, West Virginia and Eastern Ohio came reports of suspended traffic and snow-blocked highways.

Forecaster Pennywitt predicted that there was considerable more snow to come, although the precipitation was already the greatest since Dec. 17, 1890, when twenty-two inches was recorded.

Throughout the night the Pittsburg railways struggled to keep lines open, but shortly after midnight many of the suburban routes were abandoned, and all attention was given to clearing the city streets. Hundreds of men were pressed into work on the electric plows, but sufficient labor could not be obtained to clear all lines.

Storm Hits New York.

New York, Feb. 12.—What promised to be another of the winter's traffic blocking snow storms stopped at daybreak today. A turn in conditions at that time brought about a cessation of the fall, and left about four inches of snow on the level in this city.

Two fishing vessels were victims of the storm's fury. They were blown ashore on Sandy Hook in the early

TELEPHONE DEAL DECLARED VOID

Exclusive Connection Contract Is Ruled Against in Pennsylvania.

Harrisburg, Pa., Feb. 12.—The state railroad commission, in a decision announced today in the complaint of the Consolidated Telephone companies of Pennsylvania against the exclusive contract between the Bell Telephone company and the Slate Belt Telephone company, rules that exclusive contracts are illegal, and strongly recommends that there be an interchange of local business.

The decision, which is the first to be given by the commission in a telephone case, will have far-reaching effect. The Slate Belt and the Consolidated formerly had an agreement, but later there was made between the former and the Bell a contract which, the complaint alleged, prevented connections with any company except the Bell.

Illegal and Invalid.

In the decision the commission says: "The convenience of the patrons would be best served if the lines of all telephone companies were connected and each subscriber of every company thus furnished the facility for telephone service to all points on all lines from his own telephone, and not be compelled, as at present, to maintain a number of telephones if he desires general service."

The commission holds that the exclusive connection contract is "illegal and invalid" and "plainly violative of the oft-declared policy of the state that public service corporations shall not discriminate in their service or charges, and shall connect and interchange business with all similar companies."

JACKSON M'PHERSON GUILTY OF MURDER IN SECOND DEGREE

Jury Returns Verdict After Forty-Three Hours of Deliberation.

Life Imprisonment Is Only Penalty Possible Under Verdict.

Sailor Is Surprised and Says He Will Seek New Trial.

After being out forty-three hours a jury in the district court this morning returned a verdict of guilty of murder in the second degree, in the case of the state against Jackson McPherson for the shooting of Otto Frey aboard the steamer North Lake Sept. 22 last.

There is but one punishment under the law for second degree murder—life imprisonment.

As the verdict was read McPherson showed no signs of emotion. After the reading he freely expressed his surprise. That he was confident of acquittal there was no doubt, for before the verdict was brought in he smiled when seen by a reporter and said: "I am almost dead sure of acquittal."

For some seconds after the reading he seemed to be dazed, so great was his surprise, and his voice trembled just a trifle as he said: "It is pretty hard lines. If a man is not allowed to defend himself, what could a man do under circumstances such as I was placed in? Oh, well, we are not through yet, and I hope for another trial."

The jury, since it went out, has been arguing on the degree of the crime. There was never any doubt in the mind of each man but that McPherson was guilty. The vote stood six to six until this morning. Six stood for second degree murder and six held out for manslaughter.

The verdict of the jury was the source of some surprise about the courthouse, the general opinion being that McPherson would be acquitted.

WANTS LIMIT ON USE OF ARMORIES

Col. Weaver Says They Are Employed Too Much as General Halls.

Washington, Feb. 12.—Impairment of the efficiency of the organized militia by the use of the armories in certain states for non-military purposes, is charged in advices on the subject received by the war department. The appropriation of armories to a large extent for such civic purposes as fairs, exhibitions, meetings, civilian athletic contests, etc., it is alleged has seriously interfered with armory instruction, to the detriment of efficiency in this branch of the military service.

Col. Weaver, chief of the militia division of the war department, has brought the subject to the attention of the adjutant general, citing for guidance of others the laws of several states which throw the needful restrictions around the use of armories.

The military codes of Massachusetts, Michigan, New York and Washington are referred to as being properly constructed in this respect, and Col. Weaver expresses the hope that provisions of like nature may be introduced in the laws of the states where armories are too freely used for other than military purposes.

IS MURDERED FOR REVENGE

Charles Wiltshire of Chicago Found Dead With Thirty-Seven Wounds.

Three Italians Are Under Arrest---Stiletto Sheath Is Identified.

Chicago, Feb. 12.—Revenge is believed to be the motive for the murder of Charles Wiltshire, a wealthy glove manufacturer, who was found dead last night in his factory with thirty-seven stiletto wounds in his body.

About a month ago Wiltshire caused the arrest of two Italians for having sold him stolen property. One was sentenced to serve a term in the house of correction and the other was dismissed. It is the belief of the police that the free man, who is now in custody, planned to murder Wiltshire for revenge. The belief is substantiated by the fact that a stiletto sheath which was found near the dead man's body has been identified as the property of a brother of the suspect.

Killed While Locking Factory.

Wiltshire's body was discovered near the front door of his factory. The front door padlock and keys were found near his body. This indicates that he was attacked while closing his factory. The police are working on

OLD LOGGING ROAD MAY HAUL PRODUCE TO DULUTH

Abandoned Line May Be Used to Supply Duluth Market.

Will Tap a Rich Farming District Containing 4,000 People.

A project which will soon be taken up by the Commercial club at the suggestion of George Rupley involves the taking of a census to determine whether the operation of freight and passenger trains between the present terminus of the Minnesota & North Wisconsin railroad and the Zenith City would be profitable.

Indirectly the scheme is a part of the comprehensive and highly important movement to reduce living costs in Duluth by providing the farmer of Northeastern Minnesota with a market at the Head of the Lakes, with efficient transportation facilities for his agricultural and dairy products and with an adequate and economical system of distribution.

The Minnesota & North Wisconsin railroad extends between Scanlon, Minn., and a point about twenty-five miles northeast, near the Duluth & Iron Range line from Two Harbors to Ely. The road is owned by the Brooks-Scanlon Lumber company, which has finished logging in the territory served by it. The road runs parallel with the shore of Lake Superior at an average distance of eight miles from it. On both sides are some of the finest dairy and agricultural lands in Minnesota.

In the territory served by the railroad are about 4,000 people. The federal census of 1900 showed the population to be 1,682, and the state census of 1905 gave the population as 2,506. Mr. Rupley believes that a census now would show an increase of at least 4,000. This does not mean, however, that 4,000 people are producing a surplus of dairy and agricultural products. Many are not. They cannot get their stuff to a market, which is within almost shouting distance of them. This problem of transportation is the key to the situation.

The Brooks-Scanlon line crosses the Duluth, Missabe & Northern and the two roads are connected with rails. The officials of the Missabe, who have always been in the front rank of any movement to advance the prosperity of Duluth or Northern Minnesota, are favorable in their attitude to a plan which will bring about the transportation of dairy and agricultural products over the Brooks-Scanlon line into Duluth by way of the Missabe's tracks, it is said. The problem of receiving and distribution is being solved by the organization of the farmers' co-operative association.

The many farmers along the Brooks-Scanlon line are ready to join the co-operative society. Some of them have. Their business would be taken care of in the same manner as produce from other portions of Northwestern Minnesota shipped by members of the society. This phase of the question is one of the most simple, for it has been solved in theory. It will soon be demonstrated by practice.

Want to Be Shown.

The Brooks-Scanlon company is not engaged in public philanthrophy. It is a public-spirited corporation, however, and when Mr. Rupley broached his scheme it received favorable attention. "Show us that if we operate this road for several years, experimentally, it will eventually return a profit," was the reply.

Mr. Rupley carried this message to the Duluth Commercial club. The public affairs committee heard the message and lost no time in preparing to take up the proposition and push it to a working conclusion. Mr. Rupley wants the agricultural department of the Commercial club to obtain statistics, which will show how many acres each farmer has tilled, how many acres he owns, how many acres are available for immediate cultivation, how much stock the farmers own, what they have raised, what the land is capable of growing, the nature and number of their agricultural instruments and other data concerning the farms along the Brooks-Scanlon road. This suggestion is looked upon with favor by the public affairs committee and it will be carried into effect.

This proposition differs to some extent from the scheme to place a colony of truck gardeners along an interurban road to be constructed between Duluth and the Jean Duluth farm, although it will not interfere with it in the slightest.

The character of farming along the Brooks-Scanlon road and the proposed interurban line varies. Farms which will be served by the interurban road will be small truck farms capable of highly intensified farming, and supplying the Zenith City with produce and garden truck. The farms along the Brooks-Scanlon line are from 10 to 200 acres. Many are 100 acres and others larger. These farms are in a country characterized by Former Governor Hoard of Wisconsin as one of the finest dairying regions in the world, from a standpoint of natural possibilities. These farms would be expected to help supply the Head of the Lakes with milk, butter, eggs and cheese and with the heavier crops, such as rutabagas and potatoes, while the truck gardens near Duluth provided the lighter stuff which can be grown profitably on small tracts.

The federal census of 1900 showed the following townships tapped by the Brooks-Scanlon line to have the following population: Solway, 115; Hermantown, 625; Canosia, 221; Rice Lake, 231; Friedenburg, none; Gnesen, 248; Normania, 48; Town of Duluth, 194. The state census showed the following population: Solway, 139; Hermantown, 900; Canosia, 1235; Rice Lake, 396; Friedenburg, 77; Gnesen, 308; Normania, 101; Town of Duluth, 350. This shows a total increase in poulation from 1,682 in 1900 to 2,506 in 1905.

It is expected that the agricultural department of the Commercial club will show these farmers, individually, how to grow the maximum amount of stuff on their farms and how to get the best results from dairy herds. A campaign of education, it is expected, will be promulgated by meetings in every schoolhouse which will be addressed by A. B. Hostetter, superintendent of the club's agricultural department; A. J. McGuire of Grand Rapids, who has charge of the state's experimental station there by well known educators from the state agricultural school and by C. E. Brown of Elk River, F. B. McLeran of Wrenshall, and other well known agriculturalists of Northern Minnesota, who have been successful in their chosen work.

Neither Mr. Rupley nor any of those who are helping to create a new food supply for Duluth, own any land along the Brooks-Scanlon road. Their motives are purely patriotic, although they are selfish enough to see that they are as well as every other Duluth citizen, will benefit from lower prices of food, and from the coming of manufactories which would be expected to locate here if a cheap and plentiful supply of food could be assured for the employes.

This proposition will dovetail with other similar projects, all tending to bring about increased prosperity for the consumers of Duluth.

JOHN WENBERG VISITS MINE

Hibbing Citizen Wires Indorsement of Arizona Mascot.

Stockholders of the Lake Superior & Nevada Development company will be pleased to read the following telegram from Mr. John Wenberg of Hibbing, who recently went to Arizona to examine for himself and friends the Arizona-Mascot mine. In order that they may fully appreciate the meaning of the telegram it will be well to bear in mind that nothing but the best of reports have been made concerning this property, and that according to these reports, this mine has millions of dollars' worth of ore in sight, and that it is really one of the biggest and best mines in the district.

Engineer Olund, who has had charge of the development work there, has always been insistent that the "Arizona-Mascot" was a tremendously rich proposition, and one which would make the company very rich. And Capt. Isaacson, after a personal inspection last November, reported that the work done by Engineers Olund and Smith on this property, had developed millions of tons of fine ore, and that all the company needed to put it in the dividend class was a mill on the property.

In view of this, Mr. Wenberg's telegram will be joyfully read by all interested, and especially by those who know how absolutely reliable and trustworthy Mr. Wenberg is. The telegram was dated at Crown King, Ariz., and follows:

Crown King, Ariz., Feb. 9, 1910.

A BLACK WOLF'S HIDE.

When some woman buys the black wolf hide that was shipped from Duluth yesterday she will pay a nifty sum for it. A silver thread ran down the middle of the wolf's back, an unusual marking. Dan Cronin, a trapper, bought it from a farmer near Grand Lake for $75 and sold it for $150 to a local furrier. The furrier probably got a profit of $75 or $100 and by the time the hide reaches the "consumer" somebody will pay a fancy price for it.

PAY TRIBUTE TO LINCOLN

Anniversary of His Birth Is Being Observed in Duluth.

Grand Army Members Hold Camp Fire at Memorial Hall.

Today is Lincoln's birthday.

The day is being fittingly observed throughout the city in many ways.

While no public exercises have been planned, the event is being celebrated by the closing of the banks, the board of trade, the stock exchange and the county and city offices. The wholesale houses are closing early that their employees may have at least a part of the day to themselves. Tomorrow, however, Lincoln's life will be the theme of many sermons in the Duluth churches.

Many informal Lincoln parties have been planned and in the sport and amusement line there are attractions in plenty, to pick from.

The big ski tournament at Chester hill will probably attract the largest crowd of the day.

There is a big city bonspiel in progress for the championship of the city, of curling. The games are being played at both the Duluth and Western curling club rinks and they occupy the attention of many. There is also skating at both rinks, and at all the free rinks.

There will be three performances of vaudeville at the Bijou theater, and at tae Lyceum James J. Jeffries, Sam Berger and many other well-known professional athletes will appear in an athletic exhibition.

At the Armory tonight the United Commercial Travelers will play the Company C team at indoor baseball. The game has been popular in Duluth this winter and a large crowd will undoubtedly attend. The game will be followed by an informal dance.

This evening in Memorial hall at the courthouse building the Joshua R. Culver post, G. A. R., will unite with the women of the Women's Relief Corps in holding a Lincoln memorial campfire. WAS CHARLES CLARK KICKED TO DEATH BY HIS STEPSON BOOKER?

Good grounds exist for the statement that Clark died on the ground a short distance from the spot where he fell, mortally hurt. When he toppled over his head probably struck the bed springs on the other side of the fire, with his legs in the blaze, as Booker says. But the statement that he had a hard time getting out of the fire is absurd. Clark is a small man, about 5 feet 4 inches tall and weighing less than 150 pounds, while Booker is a big, husky man who could easily toss twice the weight from one place to another.

Examination shows that the wagon and the goods it contained were badly scorched. The hay in the bottom of the vehicle was likely ignited by a match, Booker says that a lucifer set it on fire. Only he claims he lighted it, while the police theory is that Clark lighted it.

Away from any habitation, where they could get food it is a reasonable supposition that the two decided to boil a pot of tea to use with their lunch. The theory is advanced that Clark went to look for the tea or the pail and struck a match to find it in the dark. He set the hay on fire, is a possibility. Partly under the influence of drink, and naturally quick-tempered and of a surly disposition, the police say that Booker flew into a rage. Forgetting himself in his raving they state that he probably vented his brute strength upon his aged stepfather, who was unable to shield himself from the rain of powerful blows which fell upon him dealt with the vengeance of a madman. When Clarke fell to the ground the police say that Booker only grew more furious and drove his boots into his inert body, or jumped upon his chest with both feet, adding the fierce strength of his powerful muscles to his weight.

Realizing that he had gone too far, the authorities say that Brooker sat around in all likelihood in an effort to revive the senseless mass at his side. They believe that he may have melted snow to get water to resuscitate his victim. But they do not think that Clark ever recovered consciousness or spoke a word after the time he toppled over senseless. They state that Clark probably thought his best chance of escape was to take him back to town and fix up a story about his falling over the bed spring. It is not probable that he realized the extent of Clark's injuries. Nor is it likely that he knew enough of the ordinary procedure in such cases, to realize that the authorities would open the man's body to ascertain how badly he was hurt. He probably figured that the funeral would take place the next day or two, and that he would be able to get off scot free without even being brought into police headquarters to await the action of the officials.

The condition of Clark's body is such as to prevent any one from thinking that the injuries could have been received by simply falling across a fire on to a set of bed springs on the other side. Three ribs are broken on one side. The breast bone is smashed. Another rib in his back is cracked and driven into the lung, causing a big flow of blood. The last alone, would have filled the lung with blood in a very short time, shutting off breath and stopping the action of the heart. Across the top of one arm is a cruel welt, such as might have been inflicted by a blunt instrument wielded by a strong man. Both his shins are raw and bruised. One side of his face is skinned and his hand is lacerated, probably from dragging on the ground. He has another bruise on his forehead, but it is claimed that that was there several days before he started on the fatal ride Wednesday afternoon. There is another slight cut below his eye.

Clothes Burned.

His clothes bear out Booker's story that the lower part of his body fell into the fire. They are burned below the waist line and not above. Part of the overalls and his trousers are scorched through, but not his underwear, showing that he did not lay over the flames any great length of time. Booker says that they built two fires, but the police found the remains of three fires, which they had built with hay to warm themselves while they unloaded the wagon.

The condition of the wagon and the goods show that the fire in it must have burned merrily. The seat of one of the chairs is burned out, the side of a barrel, which they had on, was badly charred and almost one side of the wagon box was burned out. Other contents of the wagon show that they did not escape.

Booker does not seem to be greatly worried. He does not realize the enormity of the crime which he is accused of having committed. Probably he does not know how much the authorities have discovered.

The crime of which he was accused nearly five years ago was most brutal. The police say that he hurled a big rock from the cliff at Fifteenth avenue west on to the head of a Greek July 4, 1905. He is claimed to have been fifteen feet up the side of the cliff and to have struck the Greek in the back of the head. The man's skull was fractured, but because of a remarkable constitution he recovered. Booker was tried for assault in the second degree and acquitted. He was arrested for assault two days later on a farm back of Carlton.

Clark's funeral will be held Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the undertaking parlors of Olson & Crawford of 2019 West Superior street. The interment will be at Forest Hill cemetery.

HERMANN CASE GOES TO JURY

Portland, Or., Feb. 12.—Instructions to the jury which for five weeks has been trying Congressman Binger Hermann on a charge of conspiracy to defraud the government of part of the public domain were delivered today by Judge Charles E. Wolverton in the United States district court. Judge Wolverton covered exhaustively every phase of the evidence. The instructions contained 20,000 words.

The charge sets forth that it is sufficient to show that a natural understanding has been arrived at by two or more persons to complete a conspiracy. So long as a conspiracy continued and the parties engaged in an unlawful scheme, they must, be declared, be deemed as still confederating together, and if any overt act is shown to have been committed within three years of the date of indictment that overt act is sufficient to support the indictment.

Judge Wolverton said that intent, while an important ingredient of a conspiracy, could seldom be directly proved. Therefore direct evidence was not required. It was not necessary to prove, to make the conspiracy complete, he continued, that Hermann either directly or indirectly benefited.

The Bisbee Review says that there is absolutely no truth in the rumors that the Calumet & Arizona and the Superior & Pittsburg have lately reduced their working force or that their output has decreased in the slightest.

At the Calumet & Arizona shafts, nothing of importance has happened lately except the starting of a new level at the 450 Mag shaft, to get back over the ore found in the cave on the 550-foot level. This has just been started.

At the Superior & Pittsburg, the Briggs shaft has been sunk to the 1,200-foot level, where it encountered water and sinking is temporarily stopped until arrangements can be made to pump it off. This will be done in the course of a day or two.

Important developments have been made in the ore bodies at the Junction shaft, south of the shaft from the 1,500-foot level to the 1,300-foot level. The 1,300 ore body has proven to be much more extensive than seemed probable at first, and the same is true of the 1,500-foot level ore. In this shaft several hundred feet of ore have been cut in new drifts during the past few weeks.

At the Cole shaft an important find of ore was made in the 109 crosscut on the 100-foot level. It is an entirely new ore body in undeveloped ground and while it has been crosscut in only one direction, it is so far assured, from its appearance of making a splendid addition to the ore reserves here. The ore is an oxide with the copper present as carbonate, and is very similar to the ore found in the thirty-six stope, on the same level. The latter was one of the richest carbonate stopes ever found in the entire district.

At the Cole shaft work has also been started on the 1,400-foot level, in an endeavor to get out under the fine showing on the 1,300-foot level east of the shaft.

GREAT MEN AND BEER BREWING

WHENEVER this great nation needed the assistance and personal services of strong, patriotic men to further the cause of liberty and humanity or to repulse invasions and oppressions, the brewers and their friends were among the first to respond.

History tells us that many of the best men of their time were connected with the business, such as Wm. Penn, who caused the erection of the first brewery in Pennsylvania, or Samuel Adams, the acknowledged father of the Revolution, who managed his father's brewery at Boston, or Patrick Henry, the jovial host of Williamsburg, Va., who made the famous speech: "Give me liberty or give me death." And the immortal Lincoln, when accused by his rival, the great Douglas, in one of their famous debates, of being engaged in the traffic, turned the tables by saying: "The difference between Douglas and me was that I was doing the selling and he was doing the drinking."

Surely the brewers and their friends have always been foremost in promoting public welfare, and according to Andrew D. White, the great statesman, they have done more for real temperance than their fanatic opponents can ever do.

WEST END NEWS

DEMOCRATS CELEBRATE

West End Club Holds Banquet Following Victory at Polls.

Speakers Predict That Party Will Also Win State Campaign.

Duluth Democrats celebrated the party victory in the recent city election last night at a West end hall, the occasion bringing out one of the most notable gatherings ever held under the auspices of the City Democratic club. The attendance was nearly 150.

Speakers at the meeting pointed out the victory of the Duluth Democrats in the city election, as the first step in what was freely predicted would be a state-wide victory. Occasionally references were made to national politics, but the main theme under discussion was the coming city administration.

Mayor-elect M. E. Cullum, the first speaker featured his talk with a few remarks on law enforcement and what would be expected of him during the next two years. Along this line he said in part:

"I shall try to do the right thing in every case. I shall endeavor to enforce the laws, fairly and squarely and without persecution of any person. The enforcement shall be in absolute fairness to every person living in Duluth.

"I shall also attempt to decrease immorality, crime and other things that injure a community, as much as possible. I do not consider it my duty to do the impossible and abolish immorality and crime, but I shall attempt at least to bring them as nearly to the vanishing point as possible.

"I can hardly be expected to enforce the laws to the letter with a mere handful of officers. If a community expects such an enforcement, it would require an officer to every two men. The impossibility of enforcing the law to the letter might be shown in the curfew ordinance, the law regarding expectoration in public places, etc.

"Laws and ordinances of these kinds, if enforced to the letter, would mean personal persecution. In my opinion, the golden rule and the ten commandments were conceived in a spirit of fairness and that is my idea of law enforcement. The laws should be conceived, or at least enforced, in a spirit of fairness."

Dr. Cullum took occasion to thank those present for the support given him in the campaign. He said that he could easily understand now how he happened to win, because he had a bunch of loyal supporters behind him. "I can say, tonight," said Dr. Cullum, "that with no exception have I any feeling of vindictiveness against a single man."

The doctor stated that he had made a number of personal enemies during the campaign and that he had won some of his old enemies back and that he hoped to retain them as friends. He said that his motives were honest, and that he would always try to do the fair and square thing even if he failed to accomplish his end.

McEwen Speaks.

W. E. McEwen, state labor commissioner, gave a rousing speech on the favorable outlook for the Democrats of the state in the coming fall campaign. He characterized the victory of the Duluth Democrats as a remarkable one and pronounced it as a step ahead for the Democrats in the coming state fight.

"I would like to see the coming administration a brilliant one. Where good government is given at the lowest possible cost," said Mr. McEwen "I would like to see it so, that the people of Duluth will send it back for another one just like it."

He, then, spoke of the coming state campaign.

"When our late Governor Johnson spoke for that land from which no one returns," he said, "all of us naturally felt that we had lost a great leader of men. We felt somehow as if the tide would turn against us, and that the state would go back to the rule of the timber ring, the railroad gang and the monopolists."

He stated that although he had been mentioned as a candidate for governor he had no ambition to become the chief executive of the state, but he said that he did have an ambition to see good government.

"Governor Johnson," he said, "gave Minnesota prestige throughout the whole country. We must look for another leader to take up his unfinished work. Look to John Lind, who I believe is Minnesota's greatest citizen, today. If Lind declines, I would suggest, a man like Hammond, who is a giant, physically and intellectually."

Mr. McEwen concluded his talk with an arraignment of the trust rule, saying the government of the people had deteriorated into a government of the trusts, by the trusts and for the trusts. The high protective tariff also came in for a scoring at the hands of the labor commissioner.

A "Gold Brick."

Andrew Nelson, attorney, was another speaker. He asserted that Mayor Haven and his administration had handed the people of Duluth a "gold brick," and that they found it out was shown by the election returns. "The reason that Dr. Cullum was elected," said the speaker, "was because the people don't believe in special privileges any more. Mayor-elect Cullum does not chase rainbows. He is down on the ground with the rest of us."

Mr. Nelson predicted that Governor Eberhart would not be returned for the second term. "I was surprised," said Mr. Nelson, "that when the comet appeared in the skies the other night the governor did not make a criticism because its tail was not on straight. That is about the only thing that he hasn't found fault with, and he must have missed that."

Representative Thomas J. Brady of St. Paul was present and made a few remarks, urging a better organization among the Democrtas of the city and stating that the standard set by the Democrtas of Duluth was one to be looked up to by other cities of the state.

Talks were also given by Dr. R. R. Murray, William L. Bernard, aldermanelect in the Seventh ward; Frank Cox, the unsuccessful candidate for alderman in the First ward; Frank Jordan, alderman-elect in the Third ward; John Hogan, Fifth ward alderman; J. D. Bergstrom, elected on an independent ticket in the Sixth ward; and H. P. Curren, alderman-elect in the Fourth ward.

Charles E. Dice, president of the City Democratic club, presided over the gathering. A brief business session of the club was held before the speechmaking. Lunch and cigars followed.

BURGLAR FLEES FROM CHILDREN

Two children, aged 14 and 10 years, respectively, put a burglar to rout in a West end home last night, while their parents were at church.

They were Albin and Oscar Peterson, the two sons of Mr. and Mrs. John Peterson of Nineteen-and-a-Half avenue and Fifth street.

When their parents left the house they instructed the little fellows to go to bed, but the boys forgot all about this and, instead, played around the house.

While engaged at their fun one of them heard some one moving about downstairs. At first they thought it to be their mother and father returning.

Running downstairs, they were surprised to see a masked man. The burglar turned and made for the rear door. Nothing was taken from the house.

INJURED MAN LIES NEAR TRACK

Lying prostrate on his back at one side of the street car tracks at Twenty-ninth avenue west, with his arms and legs almost frozen, and suffering from a number of bad scalp wounds and head bruises the unconscious form of Jolly Burke, 45 years old, was found by passengers on a westbound Superior street car early this morning.

As the man was in a serious condition, he was taken to the Duluth hospital at Central avenue and Bristol street, where medical attention was given him. He was brought in about 1 o'clock and did not regain consciousness until 9 o'clock this morning. He then gave his name to the hospital authorities and said that he had a sister living in the West end.

Burke is thought to have been under the influence of liquor at the time of the accident and he does not offer a good explanation for his injuries. When it was suggested to him that he might have been hit by a street car, the man said that this was not the case, but claims that he stumbled and fell on the frozen ground.

Edna Osterberg Dies.

Edna, the 1-year-old daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Alfred Osterberg of 29 North Twenty-ninth avenue west, died this morning. The funeral will be held Monday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock from the family residence, with interment at Forest Hill cemetery.

The debris will be removed and the foundation will be used for the present church hall, now on the avenue, which will be moved shortly to the site of the old church.

It is expected that the work of building the new church will start in early summer. The hall will be used as a church until the new edifice is erected.

C. M. Harron Dies.

Carl M. Harron, 48 years old, of 2025 West First street, died this morning of tubercular meningitis, after an illness of several months. Mr. Harron lived in the West end for the past nineteen years. He is survived by a wife and four children. The funeral arrangements have not been made.

A special song service will be held tomorrow at the Swedish Mission church, Twenty-first avenue west and Second street, when the chorus of sixty voices of the Ladies' Aid society will sing. Solos will be given by Mrs. J. J. Daniels and Mrs. Emily Sundeen. Rev. J. J. Daniels, the pastor, will deliver a sermon on "She Hath Done What She Could."

Roy Hanson, the 11-months'-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Hanson of 212 North Twentieth avenue west, died yesterday afternoon of meningitis. The funeral will be held at 1:30 o'clock, Monday afternoon, from the family residence, with interment at Park Hill cemetery.

Several local traveling men are members of the national association and Mr. Henderson does not expect much trouble in organizing the local branch. He will also attempt to have a Bible placed in every guest room of Duluth hotels.

CHILD IS SAVED BY BARKING DOGS

Leeds, N. D., Feb. 12.—(Special to The Herald.)—Wandering from the home, and only on a nightrobe, Clyde Crary, only 3 years of age, son of Dr. and Mrs. E. J. Crary was found some time later in a snow drift.

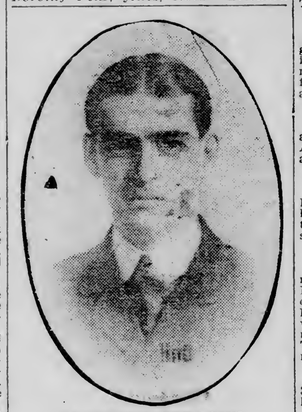

A couple returning home late from a dance were attracted to the drift by the barking of dogs and there discovered the child. The boy had been left at home by the parents with an elder sister. When the little fellow went to sleep he was given no more attention, but he awakened after his sister had retired and wandered out.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

The Zenith board held a meeting Wednesday, the first since the Christmas vacation, and the members will be busy from now until the 1910 Zenith appears.

Mr. Sprague, to whom this year's publication will be dedicated, attended the meeting and made a short talk to the board in which he assured the members that this year's Zenith would undoubtedly be a success. He urged them to put every effort into the book, as it will mean much to the class after graduation.

Committees were appointed some time ago, but Mr. Sprague suggested a few changes and with the help of Clifford Thorburn, editor-in-chief, appointed the following committees: Art committee, Lois Fee, Elizabeth Mitchell, Francis Dickerson and Robert Buck; society, Constance Mitchell, Gladys Segog, and Florence Boden; athletics, Russel Mather, Arnold Bery, Ernest Merritt and Lawrence Boyle; individual writeups of the members of the class, Beulah Magner, Alma Strand, Lucy Nightingale, Constance Mitchell, Ernest Merrett, Russell Mather and Lawrence Boyle; arrangement, Elizabeth Mitchell, Callie Merritt, Gladys Segog, Frances Dickerson, Robert Buck, Robert Donaldson, Lloyd Greene; class history, Dorothy Peik; jokes, Ruth Erickson and Archie McDermid; organizations, Callie Merritt, Margaret Cant and Helen Mahon; chronicles, Marjorie Harrison; criticisms, Helen Mahon, Ruth Erickson and Lloyd Greene; debating, Lloyd Greene.

DE WITT C. SPRAGUE,
To Whom the 1910 Zenith Is Dedicated.

The Zenith will also contain a welcome to Mr. Buck, which will be written by Robert Donaldson, president of the class.

Mr. Sprague and Clifford Thorburn will oversee all the work and will work as much as possible with all the departments.

"Der Schillerbund" (the German club) will give a play some time in the near future, but as yet, the date has not been announced.

Alexander Wilhelm's one-act comedy, "Einer Muss Heiraten," is the play to be given, and the members of the club who are to take part are working hard in preparation for it. Stanley Lamb will take the part of Wilhelm Zorn; Harry Weston, of Jacob Zorn; Louise Coe, of Gertrude, and Bessie Quimby, the part of Louise.

Miss Dengler, president of the club, is coaching the players, and she is well pleased with the way in which the pupils are performing.

* * *

Mr. Castance is much disappointed in not being able to begin the class play, but on account of the illness of Miss Taylor he is unable to start. If Miss Taylor is unable to attend school Monday, Mr. Castance will begin preparations, but says he will have a difficult time without Miss Taylor's assistance.

* * *

A week from next Friday night the debating team will hold a debate with the Cloquet high school team. Mr. Brackett is working hard with the Duluth boys and is confident of winning.

Prof. Olson, who coached the Pine City team which defeated Duluth last year, is coaching the Cloquet boys, and is as confident of victory as is the Duluth coach.

Duluth will have the affirmative side, and the question for debate is: "Resolved, That Minnesota adopt the initiative and referendum."

* * *

There were a large number of visitors in the class rooms yesterday on account of the teachers' convention being held here. The science department was especially popular, eight teachers having visited it in the morning.

Prof. Rogers, the science instructor in the Hibbing high school, was especially interested in the science work here and spent much time both Thursday and Friday inspecting the laboratory.

The chemical laboratory is somewhat small for the chemistry pupils, but with the completion of the new addition to the school now under construction, the students hope to have one of the best laboratories in the country with accommodations sufficient for all.

Mr. Gibson has been busy the last few weeks cleaning and rearranging the biology laboratory and it now looks like a newly equipped room.

The fire yesterday caused quite a sensation at the school and many of the pupils went to witness it during their vacant periods.

Not only the fire but also the teachers' convention gave the pupils a little vacation yesterday. A meeting was held at 2 o'clock and in order that the assembly hall might be used, the sixth hour class did not recite.

* * *

The sophomores postponed their sleighride, which was to have been held last night. If enough snow falls the ride will be given next week.

* * *

The seniors felt rather blue over their defeat by the sophomore basket ball team Tuesday, but if they can win from their rivals, the Juniors, they will finish the season satisfied.

* * *

The report cards were given out yesterday and the indications are that only a very small number are on the list of failures. A special advanced algebra class will be held every day after school to give the seniors who failed a chance to make it up. Mr. Buck will have charge of the class.

Will Canvass Returns.

There was an error discovered on the third amendment which causes it to be lost, according to the official count, although it is believed that it received the desired number of votes. It is believed that the difficulty will be solved by instituting proceedings in court against the precinct where the error was reported. This, it is claimed, can be done, thus saving a recount of the entire city.

OBITUARY

Madame Periwinkle (Mrs. Suzanne Martin), one of the strongest and most pathetic figures of the American stage, died in Cincinnati, Feb. 11, convinced to the end that the jeering audiences that greeted her a generation ago really acclaimed her the greatest actress of her time. Twenty years ago, Mrs. Martin, her mind unbalanced by the loss of her husband, conceived the idea that she was a great actress. A cynical manager, foreseeing a unique feature for his house, encouraged the belief, and "Madame Periwinkle" appeared in vaudeville. She could neither sing nor dance, and her costume was made up of weird, ill-fitting odds and ends, but again and again she appeared before crowded houses and received the jeering plaudits as genuine appreciation. The novelty at last wore off and her feeble brain gave way entirely. She was 61 years old.

John F. Ferry, a noted ornithologist connected with the Field museum of Chicago, died in Chicago, Feb. 11. Mr. Ferry has made several expeditions along the coast of the Caribbean sea and the Gulf of Mexico. He was a graduate of Yale and was at one time connected with the Smithsonian institute.

Z. G. Simmons, multi-millionaire, well known throughout the country, died suddenly Friday night at Kenosha, Wis. Mr. Simmons was an honorary member of the national G. A. R. He was also noted for his generosity in a philanthropic way. Mr. Simmons' death resulted from kidney complaint which had troubled him for a long time.

Mr. Simmons was interested in many business enterprises. He was active in early railroad and telegraph construction, a railroad from Manitou Springs to the summit of Pike's Peak, Colo., being one of his projects. Mr. Simmons was 82 years old.

OVER 65,000 TRAINS WOULD BE NEEDED TO TRANSPORT FREIGHT HANDLED IN DULUTH-SUPERIOR HARBOR IN 1909.

Alfred E. Watts, statistician of the United States engineer's office, has compiled some interesting statistics on the freight received at and shipped from the Duluth harbor during the past year. Mr. Watts has placed his figures on comparative bases that give clearly an idea of the immensity of the commerce carried on at the Head of the Lakes.

The total amount of freight received at and shipped from Duluth-Superior harbor by water during the year 1909 was 32,529,301 tons. According to Mr. Watts' figures, this freight, if carried by rail, would require 1,301,172 cars, loaded with twenty-five tons each, to transport it.

If divided into trains of twenty cars each, there would be 65,059 trains, requiring 65,059 locomotives to haul them. There would be required, also, 65,059 cabooses.

Allowing forty feet for each car, sixty feet for each locomotive and thirty feet for each caboose, these trains, if coupled together in a continuous line, would reach a distance of 57,902,190 feet, or 10,966 miles or three and one-third times the distance between New York city and San Francisco.

If coupled together as one train, and run at the rate of thirty miles per hour, these engines, cars and cabooses would require fifteen days, five and one-half hours to pass a given point.

The total number of boats of all classes arriving at, and departing from Duluth-Superior harbor during 1909 was 13,259, and their combined net registered tonnage was 35,150,934 tons of 100 cubic feet each.

The average net registered tonnage of each boat was 2,651. The average length of such a boat woud be 350 feet. Thirteen thousand, two hundred fifty-nine boats of 350 feet length each, if placed end to end, would reach a distance of 4,640,650 feet, or 879 miles, or from Duluth to Cleveland, Ohio, with 45 miles of ships to spare.

By an act of congress 100 cubic feet constitutes a registered ton of a ship. As statcd above, the net registered tonnage of all boats arriving at and departing from Duluth-Superior harbor during the navigation season just closed, amounted to 35,150,934, or 3,515,093,400 cubic feet. This space represented in the form of a column, with a base equal to the dimensions of one of our city blocks, would have a height of 29,292 feet, or more than five and a half miles.

IMPORTED "WIVES" ARE WHITE SLAVES

Los Angeles, Cal., Feb. 12.—The government's efforts to put an end to the white slave traffic brought about the arrest here yesterday of Matilda Famo and J. C. Bateman, Belgians, who have been conducting a small hotel in this city. The two have claimed to be man and wife, but it is alleged that the man has been making periodical trips to Belgium and bringing back with him each time as his wife a woman of that country, who subsequently was sold into white slavery here. It is said that seven other warrants are out for persons alleged to be engaged in the traffic in this district.

MAKE SEVENTY-THREE MILES AN HOUR IN STRIPPED CHASSIS, ON ICE TRACK

A new record for auto speeding at the Head of the Lakes was established this week, when Frank A. Chambers of 2210 West Third street, in company with Alex Cosgrove and G. F. Pearson, two West end men, held the remarkable speed of seventy-three mils per hour on an ice track on St. Louis bay, last Sunday.

The chassis of a 60-horse power, 4-cylinder car was used. The body of the car was taken off, as was also the running board and mudguard. Large sprockets, used for racing only, replaced the small ones on the rear wheels. A special seat, for racing purposes, was used by the occupants of the car.

A picture of the car and its occupants after the run, is shown above. At the wheel is Mr. Cosgrove. Mr. Chambers sits at his side and Mr. Pearson at the rear. A remarkable thing in connection with the test, made Sunday, is that both Mr. Chambers and Mr. Cosgrove held to the same speed. Mr. Pearson acted as timer.

Several tests were made, both on the ice and on some of the roads in the outlying districts of the city.

The only difficulty in running on an ice track, according to Mr. Chambers, is in stopping the car, which skids along on the slippery surface for some distance before it comes to a dead stop. Chains are used for the ice track.

Mr. Chambers, who is spending the winter with his parents at the West end, holds a position as a demonstrator with an automobile concern at Portland, Or. Three years ago he was employed by the Mutual Auto company of this city. Later he worked for a large Chicago concern and from there he went to the coast.

Mr. Chambers, who has had seven years of experience in the automobile business says he expects to return to the coast in a few weeks. He has been engaged to run a 45-90-horse power Stearns car at the Portland auto races which will take place on July 4.

Mr. Cosgrove also expects to leave for the West in a short time to accept a position with the same concern, where Mr. Chambers is employed. He has had a number of years' experience in the business and is now employed by a local concern. Mr. Pearson is an electrician and one of the proprietors of the National Electric company at 1825 West Superior street.

The car shown in the picture is owned by a Lakeside man.

Blood Poison can never be cured with mercury or potash. You might as well know this first as last. Medical authorities say so. The most these drugs can do is to drive the blood poison back into the system and smother it for several years. Then when you think you are cured, pitiful mercury symptoms will break out, and you find that your bones have been rotting all the while. Your teeth will begin to loosen and your tissues, glands, brain and vital organs will show the terrible destructive power of the mercury and potash. Locomotor Ataxia, Paralysis, Imbecility and Premature Death are then almost inevitable. Any medical authority will corroborate these statements. VISITORS FROM SOO LINE TOWNS SHOWN THE SIGHTS

Taken Through Wholesale District and to Ski Tournament.

Leave for Homes Well Pleased With Visit to Zenith City.

In the thousands of folks at the ski tournament on Chester hill this afternoon were about 150 guests of Duluth. Their feet may have been a little cool and now and then an ear may have tingled, but these discomforts were forgotten in the excitement of seeing Ole Fiering or John Evenson do a flip flop through space without landing on an eyelash.

Yes, indeed, those folks from along the Soo line between here and Brooten enjoyed themselves, even if some die not go to the ski jump in every day shoes and derby hats.

Under the guidance of representatives of the Duluth jobbing interests, the visitors took a jaunt through the wholesale district this morning and were properly impressed. Most of them are merchants and buy in the Zenith City. Some had never seen all of the wholesale houses, however, but most of them had been in that district before.

Some of the out-of-town folks had a look at the new Soo passenger station, which will be a handsome structure. It is being put up at Superior street and Sixth avenue west.

This afternoon the visitors went to Chester hill in street cars and sleds to see the big ski tournament. Some of the city's guests had never seen a real ski tourney before and they were delighted with it.

The visitors were entertained with figures and data and proofs of how the Duluth ski jumpers could outleap anything in breeches, that ever tried to fall off a hill with skis on its feet. Moose Lake has a ski jumper or two, but the visitors politely admitted that the Zenith City lads were probably the best little fair-haired leapers in the Northwest.

The city's guests were shown a good time at the Commercial club last night. Mayor Ha en told them Duluth was glad to see them and that their friendship is wanted. "We want your friendship and support in helping to build up a harmonious community in Northeastern Minnesota," he said.

B. P. Neff told the visitors about the Duluth Commercial club and said that Frank Gravel, who went down the Soo inviting folks to Duluth, had done a good job. Mr. Neff referred to the women visitors also, and outdid himself on this theme.

E. L. Millar said this town has the coldest warm weather, and the warmest cold weather on the map. He told how nature had fitted this country for home lovers, and spoke of the work of the pioneer in creating homes. C. T. Menke of Moose Lake thought the wholesale business of Duluth would be increased at least 100 per cent if the Northeastern portion of the state were settled as it should be.

"We like Duluth," he said, "and all of us believe that one day it will be the biggest city in the Northwest. We admire the class of business men in Duluth."

C. F. Broker of New Munich said his town traded here, although the Twin Cities have a slight advantage in freight rates. J. C. Persons of Onami told the Commercial club members to come to that town next summer and fish in Onami lake. Other speakers were Dr. Swenns of Waukon, C. A. Getling of Lake Henry, C. F. Hartman of Pierz, and Frank Gravel, chairman of the meeting.

"You want good goods," said Mr. Gravel, "and we want good patrons. You have products to sell and Duluth is ready to buy them."

After the ski tournament this afternoon, the visitors will leave for their homes. They are all well pleased with the treatment they received in Duluth, and Duluth was glad to have them.

DOINGS AT THE NATIONAL CAPITAL

Washington, Feb. 12.—Neither branch of congress was in session today, Lincoln's birthday.

Chases Land District.

By an executive order issued yesterday by the president, material changes are made in the boundaries of the South Dakota land districts. All Cheyenne and Standing Rock lands to be opened to entry on May 2 will, by this order, be included in the Aberdeen and Lemmon districts. It also throws all the lands in the Bismarck district and some of those in the Lemmon district into the Aberdeen district. The change was made to enable the state of South Dakota to make certain school selections.

There is, however, a bill now in congress to place the lands which the president's order includes in the Aberdeen district in a new district, with a land office at Lebeau. If the new district is not created, entries will be made at Aberdeen and Lemmon; but if the bill passes, persons to whom numbers have been assigned will have to go to Aberdeen to choose from both districts, and later make entry at Lebeau or Lemmon.

House Passes a Bill.

The diplomatic and consular bill was passed by the house yesterday. It carried an appropriation of more than $5,770,000.

Bennett Bill Passed.

The senate passed the Bennett "white slave" bill which had previously received the sanction of the house. The measure was so amended as to eliminate the interstate regulations originally contained in the bill, the object of the senate being to divorce the immigration feature of the question from all others.

Denial by Dodge.

Food Inspector Dodge declares he never testified to the congressional investigation committee on the cost of living that beef, unwholesome and ready to fall to pieces was served at the White House during President Roosevelt's administration. What Inspector Dodge did testify to, he says, was that venison was bought for the White House during the administration of one president was not used by the steward until it was ready to drop to pieces.

Wanted—Stenographers.

Despite the general idea that government jobs are hard to obtain, Uncle Sam just now is having difficulty in finding men to fill them. The civil service commission is finding it especially difficult to get men stenographers. There are plenty of women candidates, but the commission wants men.

Blame the Railroads.

Representatives of humane societies and live stock associations were before the house committee on interstate and foreign commerce yesterday protesting against the manner in which the railroads handle livestock en route to market. One witness declared that 100,000 head of stock were taken from the cars dead every year, as a result of inhumane handling. A bill was before the committee fixing a minimum rate of sixteen miles an hour at which the railroads may transport livestock shipments. Shippers told the committee today that frequently the rate was less than two miles an hour on an average.

"Would Breed Competition."

Because an independent steamship line to the Isthmus of Panama on the Pacific coast would enter into competition with trans-continental railroads, was given as a reason for the rejection by Secretary of War Dickinson of an offer made to the government by a syndicate of Baltimore.

The details of the offer were given to the senate committee on interoceanic canals by B. N. Baker, former president of a Baltimore line, in the hearing of the Flint-McLachlan bill for the establishment of a government-owned line on the west coast.

Mr. Baker said that when the Pacific Mail Steamship company gave notice that it would insist upon receiving 70 per cent of the joint rate on business via the isthmus, instead of the 50 per cent it had received for a number of years, he offered to put on a line, if he was given a mail contract for a number of years similar to those given to other lines. Such a line as he proposed to establish, said Mr. Baker, would have connected with the government vessels between New York and Colon.

"Why was your offer rejected?" asked Senator Bristow. Mr. Baker replied that the secretary of war was of the opinion that he had no jurisdiction in the matter. He added that he understood Postmaster General Hitchcock would have favored the plan if it had met with the approval of the head of the war department.

"The whole thing here is that the United States does not intend to do anything that would hurt the transcontinental railroads," ejaculated Mr. Bristow.

River and Harbor Bill.

Waterway projects throughout the country at a cost of $12,355,276, of which $7,206,430 is for continuing contracts, are provided for in the river and harbor appropriation bill which was reported to the house yesterday by the committee on rivers and harbors. The bill will be called up in the house Monday in an effort to press the measure to passage.

The total amount required to complete adopted projects, except the Mississippi river, totals up $70,829,100, and for the Mississippi $17,501,650 from the mouth of the Missouri to the mouth of the Ohio; $18,500,000, thence to St. Paul, and $59,559 from St. Paul to Minneapolis.

Besides this, the cost of projects which congress presumably intends to complete, having started then, makes a total of $177,617,400, which "congress may be considered as committed to."

On the Lake Harbors.

The Great Lakes, the Detroit river and numerous Western sections receive great attention. Among the projects of $50,000 and upward are:

Ohio—Toledo harbor, including Maumee river, $145,000; Lorain, $129,389; Cleveland, $325,000; Fairport, $150,000; Ashtabula, $115,000; Conneaut, $144,900.

Michigan—Manistique, $750,000; South Haven, $50,000; Muskegon, $70,000; Harbor of Refuge at Harbor Beach, $100,000; Detroit river, $560,000; Detroit river, Livingstone channel, $630,000; Marquette, $100,000.

Minnesota—Duluth and Superior, $500,000.

The Hawaiian Proposition.

The senate committee on Pacific islands has reported in favor of submitting the Hawaiian prohibition question to a popular vote of the people of the islands.

FRENCH RETURN FROM FAR SOUTH

Expedition Under Charcot Did Not Reach the South Pole.

Punta Arenas, Chile, Feb. 12.—The French Antarctic expedition steamer Pourquoi Pas, with Jean M. Charcot, head of the expedition, on board, has arrived here. The Frenchmen did not reach the South Pole.

The French Antarctic expedition, headed by Dr. J. M. Charcot, sailed from Havre, Aug. 15, 1908, for Punta Arenas, Dec. 17, 1908. The expedition reached the Island of Deception on Dec. 22, and from that point, the last report of the party was sent.

Dr. Charcot expected to be absent about two years. The primary aim, it was said at the time, was not to reach the South Pole, but rather to make scientific observations.

Dr. Charcot's staff includes M. Bougrain, who was to make the astronomical observations; M. Rouch, a specialist in meteorology and oceanography; M. Godefroy, who was to study the hydrography of the coast and the tides; M. Gourdon, geologist, and Dr. Jacques Liouville, marine zoologist and botanist. Six automobile sleds were depended upon to assist the expedition to make its way well into the interior. The Pourquoi Pas registers 800 tons, and with 500 horse-power engines, is capable of making ten knots an hour.

CHANCE FOR POE.

Writer Has More Friends Among Hall of Fame Electors.

New York, Feb. 12.—Edgar Allen Poe may yet find a niche in the Hall of Fame. The senate of New York university yesterday filled fourteen vacancies caused by death in the board of 100 electors which passes upon nominations. The names of the new electors have not yet been given out, but it is understood that they constitute an accession to the ranks of Poe's admirers.

Poe failed of election five years ago by nine votes, though he gained six votes over the ballot of 1900. It is generally conceded that the competition of Lowell and Whittier, both of whom were elected in 1905, cost him many votes. His name has been placed in nomination again under what are considered more hopeful conditions. The next ballot will be on Oct. 1 next.

Two Menominee Deaths.

Menominee, Mich., Feb. 12.—(Special to The Herald.)—John Daley, a well known resident of Menominee, who for many years has been superintendent of the Menominee Shingle company, is dead.

Isaac Marcoullier, Sr., aged 83 is dead. He has been a resident of Menominee for twenty-two years.

TELLS HOW TO BLOW STUMPS

A. J. McGuire Says That Dynamite Is the Best Method.

Blowing Fifty Stumps Considered a Very Fair Day's Work.

A. J. McGuire, head of the state experimental farm at Grand Rapids, Minn., gave an interesting lecture on removing stumps from new farming land at the Y. M. C. A. last night.

Mr. McGuire said that he had tried all methods of removing stumps, and that as a result of his investigations along this line he found that dynamite was the quickest, easiest and least expensive method. The speaker showed stereopticon views indicating how much easier the work can be done in this way. He took the audience all through the process, showing the correct method of boring and the proper amount of the explosive, taking into consideration the size of the stump.

Mr. McGuire said that the old belief was that but few vegetables would grow in Northern Minnesota. It was thought that the soil was absolutely worthless for gardening and that there was little use in trying to farm the north country. "This has been proven absolutely untrue," said Mr. McGuire. "We have the best sort of soil; the summer season is long enough for almost everything we wish to raise; and no better farming country exists."

The Grand Rapids man told of the success of a farmer at that place. The man came to the place with but little money and plunged into debt for his land. In three years time he had a fine farm, had made the final payment on it and had taken his entire family to Seattle for a vacation.

Mr. McGuire said that fifty stumps a day was a fair average where dynamite is used. He had blown that many in a day himself and had no doubt that there were many men who could easily beat that record.

The speaker said that while dynamite is more expensive than it should be, the explosive does the work so well and so much time is saved by its use, that it proves cheaper in the end. He thought the price should come down, however.

After the land has been cleared the best plan is to seed it to clover as in no country in the world will clover grow so rank as in this part of the state. It provides feed for the cattle and makes the ground fertile.

A. B. Hostetter of the Duluth Commercial club showed views of farms near Duluth before and after the improvements had taken place. He cited many instances of men who had got a good start on the land with very little money at their command.

F. B. McLeran, a Wrenshall farmer, spoke briefly.

MILLER STOPS BILLS.

Prevents Favorable Report on Indian Depredation Measures.

Washington, Feb. 12. — Representative C. B. Miller of Duluth yesterday headed a fight in the house committee on Indian affairs against the so-called Indian depredation bills. The committee was evenly divided on the bills, but Mr. Miller's fight virtually resulted in an adverse decision.

The bills, if reported favorably and passed, would have entailed the paying out of between $4,000,000 and $5,000,000. The bills were framed to expedite and enforce the payment of numerous claims against the government for damages resulting to property holders from Indian depredations in Western and Northwestern states. These claims have been pending for many years and the payment of them would inure primarily to the benefit of certain attorneys, who are trying to collect them.

HOME CORPORATION OFFICERS ARRESTED.

New York, Feb. 12.—Girard Dean, president; Alfred B. Osgood, treasurer, and Thomas F. Wright, secretary of the Home corporation, a company chartered to build homes for persons of moderate means, were locked up yesterday, following a police raid on the company's Broadway headquarters. The prisoners are charged with using the mails in furtherance of an extensive scheme to defraud. The Home corporation has been doing an immense business, according to the authorities. It employed ten clerks and advertised extensively, offering to build bungalows and cottages at a price said to be less than the cost of the material. It was this offer that caused the investigation.

CLEAR-HEADED.

Head Bookkeeper Must Be Reliable.

The chief bookkeeper in a large business house in one of our great Western cities speaks of the harm coffee did for him:

"My wife and I drank our first cup of Postum a little over two years ago and we have used it ever since, to the entire exclusion of tea and coffee. It happened in this way:

"About three and a half years ago I had an attack of pneumonia, which left a memento in the shape of dyspepsia, or rather, to speak more correctly, neuralgia of the stomach. My 'cup of cheer' had always been coffee or tea, but I became convinced, after a time, that they aggravated my stomach trouble. I happened to mention the matter to my grocer one day and he suggested that I give Postum a trial.

"Next day it came, but the cook made the mistake of not boiling it sufficiently, and we did not like it much. This was, however, soon remedied, and now we like it so much that we will never change back. Postum, being a food beverage instead of a drug, has been the means of curing my stomach trouble, I verily believe, for I am a well man today and have used no other remedy.

"My work as chief bookkeeper in our Co.'s branch house here is of a very confining nature. During my coffee-drinking days I was subject to nervousness and 'the blues' in addition to my sick spells. These have left me since I began using Postum and I can conscientiously recommend it to those whose work confines them to long hours of severe mental exertion."

QUOTES BIBLE TO SUPREME COURT

Negro's Brief Against Jim Crow Cars Bristles With Quotations.

Washington, Feb. 12.—Lincoln's birthday finds newly on file in the supreme court of the United States the brief of a negro lawyer, who bases his protest against the "Jim Crow" passenger car of the Chesapeake & Ohio railroad in Kentucky not so much on legal decisions in secular courts, as on citations from the Old Testament.

J. Alexander Chiles has brought a case to the court in which he claims he was deprived of his rights as an interstate passenger in traveling from Washington to Lexington, Ky., on a through ticket, by being required, at Ashland, Ky., to take a coach designated for negro passengers. On the defense that this requirement was in keeping with a regulation of the railroad, the lower courts dismissed Chiles' suit against the railroad company.

Brief Quotes Bible.

Recently Chiles, who is himself a lawyer and associate counsel, heard that an attempt would soon be made in the supreme court to have the appeal dismissed, and his brief is in opposition to such dismissal. It concludes:

"The plaintiff, therefore, having, in our judgment, indisputably and incontrovertibly established each proposition herein, and knowing that this court is the highest court of justice in this great government, ordained to establish justice, insure domestic tranquility, etc., (preamble of Constitution of the United States), and believing also that from many of the decisions already rendered, that it delights to keep judgment and to do justice etc. (Isaiah 56:1, Micah 6:8, Rom. 13:1 to 7), upon the record, in causes brought before it, and for purpose, and we trusting, depending and relying upon God, from Whom cometh our help (Ps 27:1), the God of justice; and believing further that the record and the law sustain our contention and that this court has the unqualified right to entertain this writ, and then to re-examine the judgment of the state court, and thereafter to affirm, revise or reverse the same, as in its wise judgment, justice demands. Therefore we do now, in conclusion, state that in our humble judgment, that the said motion to dismiss the writ ought not to be granted; but to the contrary, that the relief duly sought for by plaintiff should be granted.

Mr. E. A. Kelley, Belvidere, Ill., writes us: "I am an ex-engineer with 22 years active service to my credit. About three years ago my kidneys were affected so that I had to give up my engine. First I was troubled with severe, aching pain over the hips. Then followed inflammation of the bladder, and specks appeared before my eyes. A sample of Foley's Kidney Pills that I tried so benefited me that I bought more. I continued to take them until now I can safely testify they have made me a sound and well man." TRADE REPORTS ARE RATHER CONFLICTING

New York, Feb. 12.—R. G. Dun & Co.'s Weekly Review of Trade today says:

Reports of trade conditions are somewhat conflicting, and there is considerable confusion of opinion as to whether the disturbance in the financial markets has any relation to future business prosperity.

While much activity still prevails in the finished branches of iron and steel, the dullness in pig iron is becoming more pronounced. This is especially noticeable in the demand covering the second half of this year, which has fallen off abruptly in some instances, but the producers have opened negotiations for a round tonnage of Bessemer iron for delivery during the next three months.

Many buyers are in the dry goods markets but their operations are generally conservative, although steady. Jobbers are doing almost an average season's business but have fallen short of the expectations of great activity. The lack of animation continues in cotton goods, save on fall lines opened at very close figures.

Export trade is quiet, owing to the differences in values at home and abroad. Leading lines of fancy dress goods have been opened for fall on the same price basis as now current for late spring trade. Large corporations are seeking a full business and have made close prices with that end in view. The finest qualities of domestic men's wear have been opened for fall advances ranging from 5 to 10 points and values are regarded as more attractive than those of foreign goods. The yarn trade continues quiet.

The shoe market is a waiting one. Since the departure of buyers from Boston, new contracts have been infrequent, although manufacturers look for larger orders at any time. The market on all varieties of domestic hides is very dull. Sales effected were at declines of half a cent and buyers are not disposed to take more except at further reductions. Pronounced weakness here is beginning to affect values abroad. The entire leather market is very dull. Shoe manufacturers and other buyers continue to hold off and are looking for considerable reductions. Prices at present, however, are only weak in spots.

INGERSOLL'S WIDOW WINS.

Another Step Finished in Long Suit Over Services.

Boston, Mass., Feb. 12.—Legal services of the value of $170,000 rendered by the late Robert G. Ingersoll are recognized in a decree by Judge Hammond of the Massachusetts supreme court. Mrs. Ingersoll, widow of the former lawyer and orator, is benefited by the decision affirming the decree of the probate court directing a distribution of the Massachusetts portion of the estate of Andrew J. Davis, a former copper mine owner of Butte, Mont., by whom Col. Ingersoll was retained as an attorney. The estate of Massachusetts is valued at $500,000. The case, which has been in litigation for many years, will now go to the United States circuit court.

MINNESOTA BOY HURLED FROM TRAIN.

La Porte, Ind., Feb. 12.—Two boys, riding from Toledo to Chicago on a Lake Shore freight train, were thrown from a coal car by a brakeman while the train was running twenty miles an hour. Such, at least, was a dying statement to Coroner Osborn yesterday of H. E. Capps of Atlanta, Ga., who is at the Holy Family hospital with skull fractured and both legs broken.

Capps' companion, who was either Edward Tarnaski, 132 North Central avenue, Willow River, Minn., or O. W. Hanson, 2929 Dupont avenue, Minneapolis, Minn., was killed, having received a fracture of the skull. The coroner is investigating. The dead boy was 20 years old and the one dying is 17.

LAURA BIGGAR MUST PAY $75,000

Mrs. Hendrick Gets Big Verdict in Suit for Alienation.

New York, Feb. 12.—A verdict of $75,000, said to be the largest ever rendered in an alienating suit, has been awarded to Mrs. Charles C. Hendrick of Brooklyn against Laura Biggar, the former actress, accused of alienating the affections of Mrs. Hendrick's divorced husband, Dr. Charles C. Hendrick. Mrs. Hendrick sued for $100,000.

Neither the defendant, who is said to be in California, nor Dr. Hendrick appeared at the trial, but were represented by counsel. Both were indicted several years ago for conspiracy in connection with a sensational contest to win control of the $1,000,000 estate of Henry M. Bennett, a Pittsburg theatrical manager. Laura Biggar was acquitted and Dr. Hendrick convicted, but he later secured a new trial and was freed.

Mrs. Hendrick then secured a divorce, naming Laura Biggar as co-respondent, and later brought the alienation suit.

NAVAL OFFICERS ARE RELEASED

Modified Decisions Made in Cases of Auld and Robnett.

Washington, Feb. 12.—Assistant Secretary Winthrop of the navy department has passed upon the cases of Paymaster George P. Auld, United States navy, and Past Assistant Surgeon Ausey P. Robnett, who were charged at a ball recently given in Boston by a naval officer with conduct unbecoming officers and gentlemen, in assaulting Dr. Cowles, a civilian. In the case of Auld the loss of numbers adjudged by the court is remitted, and he is ordered released from arrest and restored to duty. The findings of the court and sentence, however, are approved.

In the case of Robnett the sentence is mitigated to a loss of two numbers in his grade, and he is ordered released from arrest and restored to duty. The sentence of the court was that each officer should lose five numbers in his grade.

CLEAN OUT PEST HOLES

State Health Board Will Regulate the Lodging Houses.

The state board of health has formulated regulations for lodging houses which will go into effect shortly, according to a communication received by the city clerk. The rules will apply to the entire state, and if carried into effect, will have a salutary effect upon some places in this city. Investigation after investigation has shown conditions so vile in some Duluth lodging houses that it is surprising that human beings have consented to go inside them. But they flock into them. Some small rooms have bunks or beds for ten and fifteen men, and night after night they crowd into them. There is no artificial ventilation, and fresh air seems to be feared like plague, the windows being kept shut day and night. Attempts have been made to have them cleaned up. They may have done some temporary good, but the effects have not been lasting. In a short time they are as bad as they ever were. The city has too little money to keep inspectors on the heels of the proprietors constantly, and as soon as they think it's safe, they drop back into the old methods.

Ship With Perforated Sails.

Some time ago the idea was advanced that if a number of small holes were made in a ship's square sails, allowing the wind to rush through, the usual accumulation of dead air would be prevented and the sails would draw better. For refreshments after "a sail," nothing is more refreshing than Golden Grain Belt beer and it is a universal favorite. Its clear, sparkling purity and wholesome tonic properties make it an ideal drink.

MAKE GAMBLING IN FOODS A CRIME

German-Americans of Cleveland Have Cure for High Cost of Living.

Cleveland, Ohio, Feb. 12.—That the anti-meat boycott does not get at the root of the real cause of the prevailing high prices of foodstuffs is the opinion of the Cleveland branch of the German-American alliance, expressed in resolutions adopted at a recent gathering. It was decided to call a mass meeting to start a nation-wide movement to influence congress to remove the tariff on foodstuffs as the real means of lowering prices, and to enact a law making gambling in foodstuffs a crime punishable alone by imprisonment.

The German-American alliance is taking no part in the anti-meat boycott.

WILL HEAR ABOUT GUGGENHEIM LAND

Ballinger-Pinchot Committee to Get Information as to Alaska.

Washington, Feb. 12.—When the Ballinger-Pinchot congressional investigating committee resumes sessions Monday, it is said that there will be present a representative of Daniel Guggenheim prepared to introduce evidence both documentary and oral to show the exact amount and character of the Guggenheim holdings in Alaska.

The statement has been made in some quarters that the Guggenheims were striving for the control of Alaskan coal and mineral lands, railroads and boat lines, and that the Cunningham group of coal claims was closely identified with the Guggenheim interest.

Just when the committee will hear this testimony is problematic. It has been determined that when one witness is called his story will be completed before any other phase of the controversy is taken up. This has caused some delay, but it is believed that beginning with next Monday the inquiry will be pushed rapidly forward.

For a time at least, daily sessions will be held. Witnesses who have been brought long distances to the city, are to be called as early as possible.

and near are in the city for this dinner, which will be held at the Waldorf-Astoria.

Business Houses Closed.

Many business houses, particularly in the Wall street district, are observing the day by closing their doors. More than a hundred public meetings and lectures are on the day's program in various parts of the city. The speakers include Governor Robert B. Glenn of North Carolina; George B. Cortelyou, former secretary of the treasury; President Melancthon Stryker of Hamilton college, and Generals Daniel E. Sickles and James Grant Wilson, both intimate friends of Lincoln.

Present Life Size Portrait.

Mason City, Iowa, Feb. 12.—Mrs. Della R. Henry of Kansas City, Mo., national president of the Ladies of the Grand Army of the Republic, today presented to the Sons of Veterans' Memorial university here a life size St. Gaudens portrait of Abraham Lincoln. The presentation was a feature of the exercises held in celebration of Lincoln's birthday. Mrs. Henry's address was warmly applauded.

"I present this portrait," she said, "in the name of the 50,000 women of the Ladies of the Grand Army of the Republic who are bound by the ties of blood and marriage to the noble men who went forth at the call of Lincon to battle for the Union in the great struggle from '61 to '65."

IS MURDERED FOR REVENGE

the theory that the murderer planned to slay Wiltshire while no aid was near.

The men under arrest are Lorence Bartell, 24 years old, and Frank and Chris Ebbole. The police say that the stiletto sheath found beside Wiltshire's body is the property of Chris Ebbole. Neither of the men arrested would make a statement.

Sheath is Identified.

Chris Ebbole was drawn further into the case when his wife and daughter, unaware of the murder, identified the stiletto sheath as belonging to him. His daughter told the police she had found the stiletto and sheath some time ago, and gave them to her father. Both said that Ebbole carried the stiletto in its guard when he left home last night.

Chris Ebbole, the third suspect, was arrested shortly before noon. He denied any knowledge of the murder and declared that he was out of the city at the time the crime was committed.

PRESIDENT TAFT TO MEET WOODRUFF AND OTHER PARTY CHIEFS

taches to the utterances made tonight.

Will Meet Party Leaders.

The meeting with the New York party leaders will be at a reception this afternoon in the home of Lloyd C. Griscom, the newly elected president of the New York Republican county committee. Mr. Griscom was in Washington recently and invited the president to meet the county leaders. Mr. Taft said he would be glad to do so. Since that time, however, the conference has assumed larger proportions. Governor Hughes accepted an invitation personally extended by Mr. Griscom.

At the White House it was insisted that the event at the Griscom home today is purely a "reception" and not a "conference."

Miss Della Torrey, president Taft's aunt, accompanied him to New York, as did Mrs. Taft, Mrs. McCagg, Mrs. Charles Anderson and Senator Crane.

The president traveled in the private car Olivette, said to be the smallest and least pretentious in the Pullman service. He was to have used the Courier, but the latter car unfortunately got mixed up in a Florida wreck a few days ago and was put out of commission.

Council Fires Are Lighted.

Dayton, Ohio, Feb. 12.—Added numbers of Republicans of Ohio arrived here today for the reorganization of the state executive committee and for the amalgamation of the clubs of the state as a preliminary to a vigorous campaign this fall in which national interest will be reflected.

The meeting of the state committee, where Wade Ellis is to be elected chairman, is to be held this afternoon. The twenty-fifth annual meeting of the Ohio League of Republican clubs, at which the new league is to be formed, began this morning.

It is understood that no change will be made in the state executive committee except as to the chairmanship. Informally it was said that W. H. Phipps is to remain as secretary, instead of being displaced by Howard Mannington, is said to have promoted greater assurance of a harmonious reorganization.

Leaders seem to doubt today that a quorum of the state central committee will be present. The only members who it is known will be absent are Peter W. Zurr and Fred Bader of Cincinnati. They have not sent proxies.

Will Wait For Roosevelt.

New York, Feb. 12.—The ground plan for the coming Republican gubernatorial campaign in New York will be sketched in detail this afternoon, when President Taft and Governor Hughes join in conference with Lloyd C. Griscom, president of the Republican county committee, and representatives of the party in the state. Senators Root and Depew and State Chairman Woodruff have been invited by Mr. Griscom to attend.

While gubernatorial timber is to be measured up, no candidate is likely to be selected until the return of Col. Roosevelt from Africa, for the Republican organization looks largely to the former president to aid in the coming election. Reports have it that President Taft favors for governor Frederick C. Stevens, now head of the state canal system; but this is not generally credited, for the reason, local politicians said today, that President Taft, while taking a leading interest in New York political affairs, would hardly name the man to run. No very definite information is expected to be made public following the conference.

Twelve Hundred Covers.

Twelve hundred covers have been laid for the Lincoln day dinner tonight at the Waldorf-Astoria. Two hundred women will dine in an adjoining room and come in for the speaking. Rev. Dr. Michael Clune of Syracuse will make the Lincoln address.

The speakers will be President Taft, Governor Hughes and Governor Port of New Jersey. Speaker Cannon was invited to attend, but may not be present.

SNOW AGAIN COVERS EAST

hours and only heroic work on the part of the lifesavers prevented a disaster to the men on board.

From one vessel, the Franklin D. Nelson, eight men comprising the entire crew, were safely landed. The Nelson, it is feared, will prove a total loss.

Boat Blown High on Beach.

Shortly after the Nelson struck, the schooner Libby was blown hard and fast on the sands of the Hook. She had nine men on board, and the life saving crew at the station got them safely to land after a hard struggle. The Libby was blown so high on the beach that it is believed she can be saved.

Dispatches from the Northeastern counties of the state report the storm there as the most severe since 1888. The fall of snow has been heavy, and the cold is severe.

Tennessee Is Blanketed.

hall performer, who was very popular in Paris.

His Second Wreck.

Among the other victims was Second Engineer Lorenzetti, who was a survivor of the La Bourgogne disaster. At that time he was picked up after having drifted for days in an open boat. Capt. Cayol of the General Chanzy was considered by his employers, the French Trans-Atlantic Steamship company, one of the most experienced and careful of officers.

Incoming captains agree that the weather experienced recently was the worst in their experience. News of other wrecks was received today. The schooner Mathilde, from Dunkirk, which left Port de Bouc, France, Feb. 4 for St. Pierre, Liquclon, was wrecked last Wednesday in about the same spot as the Gen. Chanzy. The fate of the schooner's crew is unknown.

Bodies Floating Ashore.

Palma, Island of Majorca, Feb. 12.—Bodies were floating ashore today from the wreck of the Gen. Chanzy. The community posted men along the coast to watch for bodies and small boats. The boats were looked for in the desperate hope that some of those aboard the steamer might have escaped.

Marcel Rodel, the Algerian customs official and only known survivor, was still unable to give a lucid account of the disaster. When the boat went down he clung to a piece of wreckage and was washed ashore. When tossed on the rocks he was rendered insensible, and remained in this condition throughout the night. Reviving in the morning, he wandered about aimlessly most of the day, finally stumbling into the village of Ciudadela thoroughly exhausted and almost demented. From his rambling story the authorities first learned of the disaster and rushed help to the nearest land point. They found only a mass of wreckage piled up on the coast.

The villagers say that even if the small boats had been launched the tiny craft would not have survived in the sea that raged Wednesday night.

Will Erect Lighthouse.

The Spanish officials announce that a powerful light will be erected on the north of Minorca island, in the hope that further wrecks at this dangerous place may be avoided.

Owing to the difficulties of communication between the villages in the absence of telegraph lines, no details of the wreck reached here today. Hope remains that others from the vessel might have been picked up from the small boats.

The route of the Algerian boats is particularly treacherous in bad weather. The steamers Ville de Rome and the Isaac Pereire were wrecked on the same forbidding coast. The General Chanzy missed the pass between the islands of Minorca and Majorca, being either blown out of her course or rendered helpless by the breaking down of her engines or the loss of her propeller.

Many Reports of Accident.

The place where the vessel struck is known as "Llosa." Some reports have it that the steamer broke in two, and sank at once after she had struck, and others that an explosion on board occurred. The heavy loss of life is attributed to the probability that during the howling tempest all of the passengers and such of the crew as were off duty were below. Other explanations are that the vessel struck with such force that several bulkheads gave way simultaneously and that the ship filled and sank in the seething waters before a single small boat could be lowered. The escape of Rodel is considered almost miraculous.

Broken to Pieces.

Paris, Feb. 12.—Advices received today by the French Trans-Atlantic Steamship company say that the loss of the General Chanzy occurred on Wednesday night, while the vessel was running before a terrible storm in the vicinity of the Balearic islands in the Mediterranean. When the vessel struck a reef north of the island of Minorca the shock was terrific, and the ship was literally broken to pieces.

Of the vaudeville people among the passengers, Nestor was a Frenchman, and the two Strakleys were Belgians, according to theatrical people. The latter say that the only American performers were Miss Elsie Henry and the team known as Derenda and Green, acrobats.

Considering the seaworthiness of the General Chanzy and the experience of Capt. Cayol, shipping people believe that the steamer must have become unmanageable through the breaking down of her engines or the loss of her propeller. The General Chanzy went ashore near Bergen in 1896, at which time she was hauled off by the German corvette, Griffen. For the assistance on that occasion President Faure subsequently expressed his thanks to Emperor William.

Crookston Commercial Club Starts Ball Rolling for Fine Play House.

Either Local Capital Will Build It or Outsiders Given Bonus.

Crookston, Minn., Feb. 12.—(Special to The Herald.)—At a meeting held last evening by the Commercial club, attended by other citizens also, to determine whether all effort should be centered in the erection of an opera house, a Y. M. C. A. or an armory, it was decided practically unanimously to erect the opera house and then take up the other propositions.

A committee consisting of J. W. Wheeler, W. S. Lycan, A. D. Stephens, L. W. Larson and Sam Rosenthal was named, and at a special meeting of the club to be held next Monday evening two propositions will be submitted by them for the construction of a modern opera house costing between $35,000 and $40,000, one by a joint stock company of local people, the other for the raising of a $10,000 bonus to be given some outside concern to erect the play house.

Winnipeg Man's Offer.

C. P. Walker of Walker Bros., Winnipeg, who own the "Bread Basket circuits," which includes Winnipeg, Grand Forks, Fargo, Brainerd and other places, and formerly included Crookston, has already made a proposition to erect a $35,000 opera house for a $10,000 bonus, and a Twin City concern has made a similar proposition.

Plans will be fully decided upon Monday and all preparations made to have the construction work started as soon as the frost is out of the ground in the spring, so that bookings can be made for the early fall attractions.

BIG DITCHING MACHINE.

To Be Used on Eastern End of Marshall County Ditch.

Thief River Falls, Minn., Feb. 12.—(Special to The Herald.)—A. R. Arpin of the Northern Drainage company of this city has made arrangements for the construction of an immense dredge ditcher, which he will use on the eastern end of the Marshall county ditch. This ditch is known as No. 20 and extends from the Thief river east into Beltrami county, a distance of some fifty miles. The laterals with the main ditch will require at least 100 miles of excavation. The machine, which has been ordered, is similar to all the others which are being used in these drainage projects. It will float in the ditch which it digs and will be operated day and night, using its own electric lighting plant. Farmers are now hauling in 900 tons of coal, which is being distributed along the route of the ditch for the use of the machine. The company is paying the teamsters $4 per ton for the transportation of the fuel, and the settlers find this a convenient method of making a few dollars during the quiet winter months.

Sure Remedy For Coughs and Colds

What To Do In Quickly Curing Even The Worst Cases Without Doctor's Aid.

It isn't necessary to run to the doctor every time you get a cough or a cold, neither do you need to dose and dope yourself with poisonous, brain-dulling opiates and dangerous drugs, such as so many of the so-called "cough cures" contain. Just do as the doctors do. Use the same sort of treatment they prescribe. Take a little gentle laxative and send or go to the drug store for a bottle of Salubrin, which the best doctors say should be used in all affections of the throat, lungs and air passages because it's safe and cures a cold up right quick and to stay cured. Salubrin is standard preparation originated by great doctors in Sweden and now listed in official hand books of drugs authorized for use by physicians.

Salubrin is sold everywhere by druggists for 50 cents per bottle. Just get a bottle today and use it as directed, and see your cold just simply vanish.

CAN THIS MAN READ YOUR LIFE?

The rich, poor, exalted and humble seek his advice on Business, Marriage, Friends, Enemies, Changes, Speculations, Love Affairs, Journeys and all Events of Life.

MANY SAY HE REVEALS THEIR LIVES WITH AMAZING ACCURACY.

Free Test Readings Will be Sent for a Short Time to all Herald Readers.

Has the veil of mystery that has so long shrouded the ancient sciences been raised at last? Can it be that a system has been perfected that reveals with reasonable accuracy the character and disposition of an individual, and so outlines the life as to assist in avoiding errors and taking advantage of opportunities?

Roxroy, a man who has for twenty years been delving into the mysteries of th oc ult, making a scientific study of th various methods of reading the lives of people, seems to have reached a higher round in the ladder of fame than his predecessors. Letters are pouring hourly into his office from all parts of the world telling of the benefits derived from his advice. Many of his patrons look upon him as a man gifted with some strange, mysterious power, but he modestly asserts that what he accomplishes is due alone to an understanding of natural laws.

He is a man of kindly feeling toward humanity, and his manner and tone immediately impress one with his sincere belief in his work. A huge stack of grateful letters from people who have received readings from him adds to other convincing proofs a to his ability. Even astrologers and palmists admit that his system surpasses anything yet introduced.

The Rev. G. C. H. Hasskarl, Ph. D., pastor of St. Paul's Evangelical Lutheran church, in a letter to Prof. Roxroy, says: "You are certainly the greatest specialist and master of your profession. Every one consulting you will marvel at the correctness of your detailed personal readings and advice. The most sceptical will consult you again and again after corresponding with you once."

If you wish to take advantage of Roxroy's generous offer and obtain a free reading, send your date, month and year of birth, state whether (Mr. Mrs. or Miss) and also copy the following verse in your own handwriting:

I have heard of your power
To read people's lives,
And would ask what for me
You have to advise?

Be sure to give your correct name, birth date and address and write plainly. Send your letter to ROXROY, Department 54B, No. 177a Kensington High street, Loadon, W., England. BIG DULUTHS WIN FIRST Adams Team Defeated By Score of 3 to 1 in Championship Game.

Teams Show Best Form of Season---Play Fast and Rough.

Last evening the Big Duluths scored the first victory in the deciding series for the hockey championship of the City Amateur league by defeating the Adams team by the score of 3 to 1.

It was by far the best contest seen on the West end rink the present season. Both teams were at their best; the team work was the best that either team has shown the present season, and in addition some very clever playing was done on both sides.

Cummings proved the star of the contest. The Big Duluth center scored two of the nets for his team and his play at times was the most brilliant that has been seen on a Duluth rink for many seasons.

The first goal of the game came not so very long after the game had opened. Cummings, receiving the puck from Ostergren in the center of the rink, carried it down the ice, by clever feinting and dodging got by two of the Adams defense players, and shot one of the prettiest goals made on the Adams rink during the season.

Cummings' net was the only puck caged during the first half. After the first goal the Adams team braced and gave an exhibition of aggressive and clever playing that threatened to result in several goals. The great playing of Goal Woods of the Big Duluths saved his team from being scored upon several times during the rally of the West end boys. He made several sensational stops. For a large part of the half the puck was in the danger hole of the Big Duluths' goal.

At the beginning of the second half, in a hot scrimmage in front of the Adams' goal, Cummings shot the second net.

Kelly made the third tally, taking the puck by some clever individual work. He carried the puck down to the Adams' goal, lost it, then recovered and shot a quick goal.

H. Grenner scored the lone tally for the Adams. There was but a few minutes left to play when the West Ender shot the net. He made a difficult shot for the goal, the puck bounced from a defense man right in front of the net, and Grenner simply shoved it through.

The second game of the series will be played Tuesday evening.

The lineup:

Adams	Position	Big Duluths
Nelson	g	A. Woods
Ed Nelson	p	Kelly
Erickson	c p	G. Wood
A. Grenner	r	Cummings
E. Olsen	c	Bartlett
A. Olsen	r w	Wharton
H. Grenner	l w	Ostergren

Referee, Roy Deetz; goal umpires, Clark and Whittle; timekeeper, Anderson; penalties, Erickson, 2 mins. Ed Nelson, 1, Ostergren, 2, Cummings, 5, A. Grenner, 5.

YOUNGSTERS WIN FLAGS

New Blood Responsible for Capture of Many Baseball Pennants.

Too Much Importance Attached to Winter Trading of Players.

(By Bozeman Bulger.)

New York, Feb. 12.—The cry for trades and the clamor for new talent in baseball grows louder as the teams have begun to announce their spring training plans and the anxiety of the fans will continue to grow until news begins to dribble in from the South. In two more weeks the Giants leave for Marlin and a week later the Highlanders hike off for Georgia. At the same time Brooklyn starts her annual pilgrimage to Hot Springs. And none of them has made trades that will upset the nation.

Outside of the acquisition of Criger by the Highlanders, no trades have been made for the reason that nothing of value was on the market.

In connection with this clamor for winter trades it might be well for the fans to bear in mind that a single player developed by any one team will do more toward winning a pennant than all the trades in the world.

The baseball public is often misled by what is supposed to be the great advantage in winter trades. As a rule, and baseball history will prove it, these midwinter deals have had comparatively little influence on the winning of pennants. It is the development of young players that raises the flags.

Fans Get Impatient.

Fans get impatient during the off-season and wonder why this and that manager does not make deals that will bring good men to help in the winning of a pennant. It is nonsensical to think that a manager is going to trade off a good player if he can avoid it. Good players are scarce. It would be just as foolish to trade off a good player as it would be to trade for a bad player. The logical conclusion, therefore, is that players must be developed.

If baseball lovers will go back over the history of the game they will find that every pennant has been won by the unexpected development of young players. Ninety-eight per cent of the baseball players of the big leagues are in the same class so far as ability on the diamond is concerned. The sudden acquisition of a star player gives a team that much increase in playing ability and in a season of 154 games the added power will count enough in percentage to carry the team over the mark. That is the way pennants are won and if this statement is doubted there are plenty of facts to prove it.

When Baltimore won the pennant many years ago the team was laughed at when the season started. Ned Hanlon had a lot of untried youngsters on the bench in the persons of McGraw, Jennings, Keeler and Kelley. They all suddenly developed and became wonders.

The old-timers of that famous team merely served as a balance power. It was these four youngsters who won the pennants. Their strength lasted for four years and they kept on winning. The team then disintegrated and the power vanished.

When the Giants won their first pennant under McGraw it was due to the unexpected development of Arthur Devlin as a wonderful third baseman and a hard hitter. At the same time Roger Bresnahan came to the front as a great catcher as well as a hard hitter. That wonderful increase in playing power with veterans like Donlin, McGann, Dahlen, Browne and Gilbert to back them up sent the Giants to the top like a shot. The next year they were still strong enough to win. The old fellows finally began to drop out and away went the strength.

Chicago followed on the heels of the Giants as champions from the sudden development of "Miner" Brown as a great pitcher. He had worked in St. Louis before, but had never been regarded as a wonderful artist in the box. Then Johnny Evers suddenly poked his head above all others as a second baseman and a thinker on the base lines. Joe Tinker was on the other side of the diamond to hold him in balance. Up went the Cubs, and toward the end of the season the pennant became easy. A trade also helped Chicago, in that it gave them Steinfeldt at third and Sheckard in left field. These two veterans held things safe while the youngsters forged to the top.

Chicago's strength lasted for three years, and then the machinery began to break down. The first cog in that wonderful wheel to drop was Kling. The rhythm of the things was gone. Archer was substituted, but a patched up machine, as a rule, never runs as well as the original combination.

Adams to the Front.

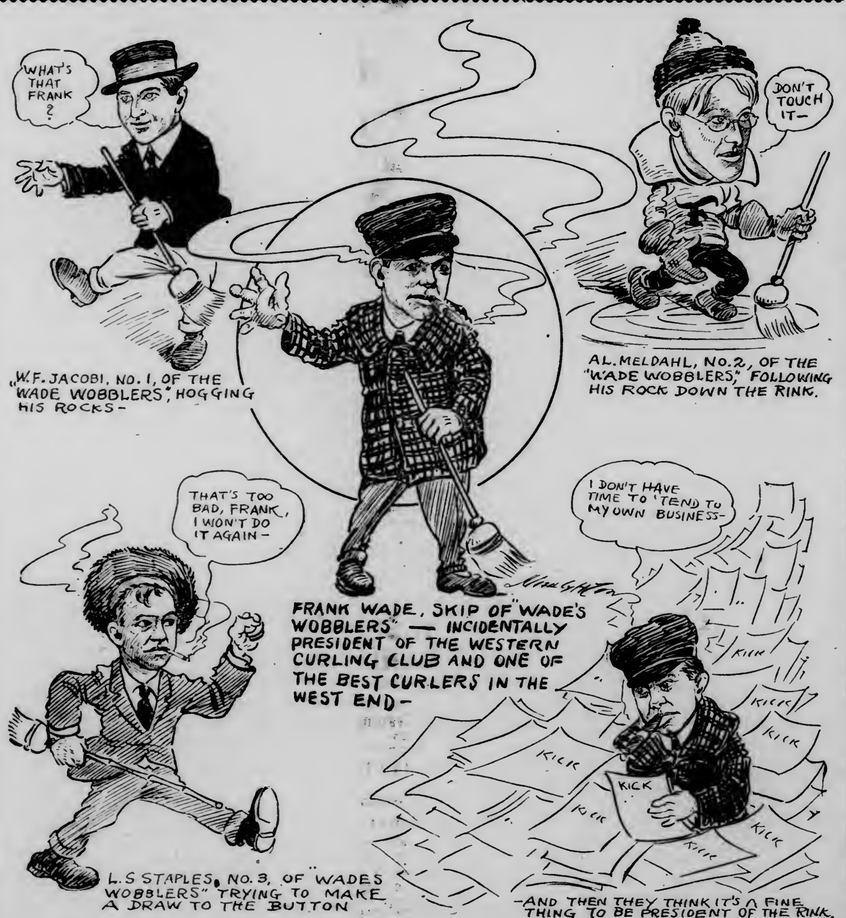

Pittsburg rose the first time on the shoulders of Hans Wagner, Tommy Leach and Fred Clarke. With the same men on the team it fell. Their return to the championship last season was the result of the sudden and unexpected development of young talent. Hyatt came forward as a great pinch hitter and Adams stepped out as a pitching marvel. Toward the end of the season Adams practically carried the Pittsburg club on his shoulders. In the early part of the season he was used as a game saver. That is, he was always sent in at the finish when his predecessor was weakening. In that way they discovered his marvelous curves and control. What he did during the world's series is well known.

As a further proof of the assertion that it is the development of youngsters that brings a team out of the rut we might point to the Boston Americans. From the bottom they came up on the shoulders of Speaker. This youngster proved himself one of the best hitters that ever broke into the big league, and it was due to this sudden development of strength that the Boston Americans began to climb.

The Philadelphia Americans took a sudden shoot upward upon the strength of Eddie Collins and Pitcher Krause. When the Athletics appeared here in the early spring the public actually felt sorry for them. Connie Mack had a lot of "bush leaguers" on his hands, and for a while they most certainly played a picturesque brand of "bush league" ball. But when the youngsters began to develop the team was in the fight for the pennant.

Trades are all right in their way, but after all the manager must pick his pennant-winning ammunition from the "bush league."

CHANGES NOT IMPORTANT

New Baseball Rules Are But Little Different From Old.

Umpire Must Announce Names of All the Substitute Players.

Because it is his motto to prevent the dove of peace from ever having a chance to get in even forty winks, President Murphy, of the Chicago Cubs, has taken objection to the new rules committees at Pittsburg last week. Since none of the changes is of a revolutionary character, there is really no necessity for Murphy or any one else to get blue in the face in protesting against their enactment.

The changes made in the rules were adopted after careful thought by some of the best equipped men on rules in the country, the joint committee being made up largely of former players, umpires, and baseball writers. That so few changes and none of a radical nature were adopted proves how nearly perfect the present game of baseball is. At the same time the joint committee found some points that needed altering, and they altered them, each change being made for the good of the sport.

One change was made purely for the benefit of the spectators. This was that when a new player is put into the game "the captain must notify the umpire and the umpire must announce it to the spectators."

The captain or the umpire can be fined $5 for failure to obey this rule. The thought that naturally arises here is: Who is to "squeal" on the umpire when he fails to do his duty in this respect?

Rule a Good One.

The rule is a splendid one. Time after time new players have been put in a game without the spectators having the slightest idea who he was. Frequently scorers have yelled themselves hoarse trying to get the umpire to announce the substitute. Now the umpire must do so or forfeit $5, and some of these officials who have been very negligent in this respect will be more careful in the future. There are some umpires, like O'Loughlin, Connolly, and Evans, of the American league, and Keen, of the National league, who have been very thoughtful in announcing substitute players, but there are others who act as if they thought the game was played for their special benefit, who will not relish the change.

Once in a while an umpire will introduce a bit of comedy into an announcement of this kind. A couple of years ago when New York was playing at Columbia college park, Moriarity, now third baseman of the Detroit Tigers, was sent in to bat. "Silk" O'Loughlin was the umpire.

"Silk" turned to the grand stand, took off his mask, made an impressive pause, and then how those syllables rolled off his tongue!

"Mo-ri-air-ity!" shouted "Silk," with emphasis—decided emphasis— on "air," while the crowd let out a roar of laughter.

The rule that each captain must deliver his batting order to the umpire at the home plate is also a good one. Heretofore the umpire had to go to each team's bench for the batting order, and frequently some player started an argument over an incident in a previous game which provoked trouble. Then, too, the rule will save a few minutes, and should result in games being started on schedule time.

Subs to Blame.

It is President Lynch's idea that much of the trouble during games is caused by substitutes on the bench yelling at the umpires. There is no doubt that substitute players start a lot of mixups. It is not a manly thing to do, but many players, from the time a game starts, make themselves human chatterboxes by yelling continually at the umpire. The latter, whose mind should be on the game, is distracted by trying to recognize some particular voice so that he can punish the individual, and thus arguments with the players on the field result. On numerous occasions substitute players have deliberately got into arguments with the umpire so as to be ordered from the bench to the clubhouse. This scheme will not work any more, for a fine of $10 goes with such a punishment i nthe future. This rule should not only cause better discipline among the players, but it should also improve the umpiring by permitting the "arbitrators" to attend strictly to the game instead of having to watch the men on the bench.

While nothing radical has been done by this year's rulemakers, the new rules should improve the tone of the game to a considerable extent.

STAPLES DEFEATS LONG PRAIRIE.

The Staples high school basket ball team defeated the Long Prairie high school team by the score of 21 to 8 Thursday evening. Blanchett and McDonald acted as umpire and referee respectively.

Illini Defeats Missouri.

Chicago, Feb. 12.—The University of Illinois track team defeated the University of Missouri last night at Urbana in decisive fashion. Rohrer of Illinois set a new local mark for the half-mile of 2:04 1-5.

Pittsburg Signs Seventeen.

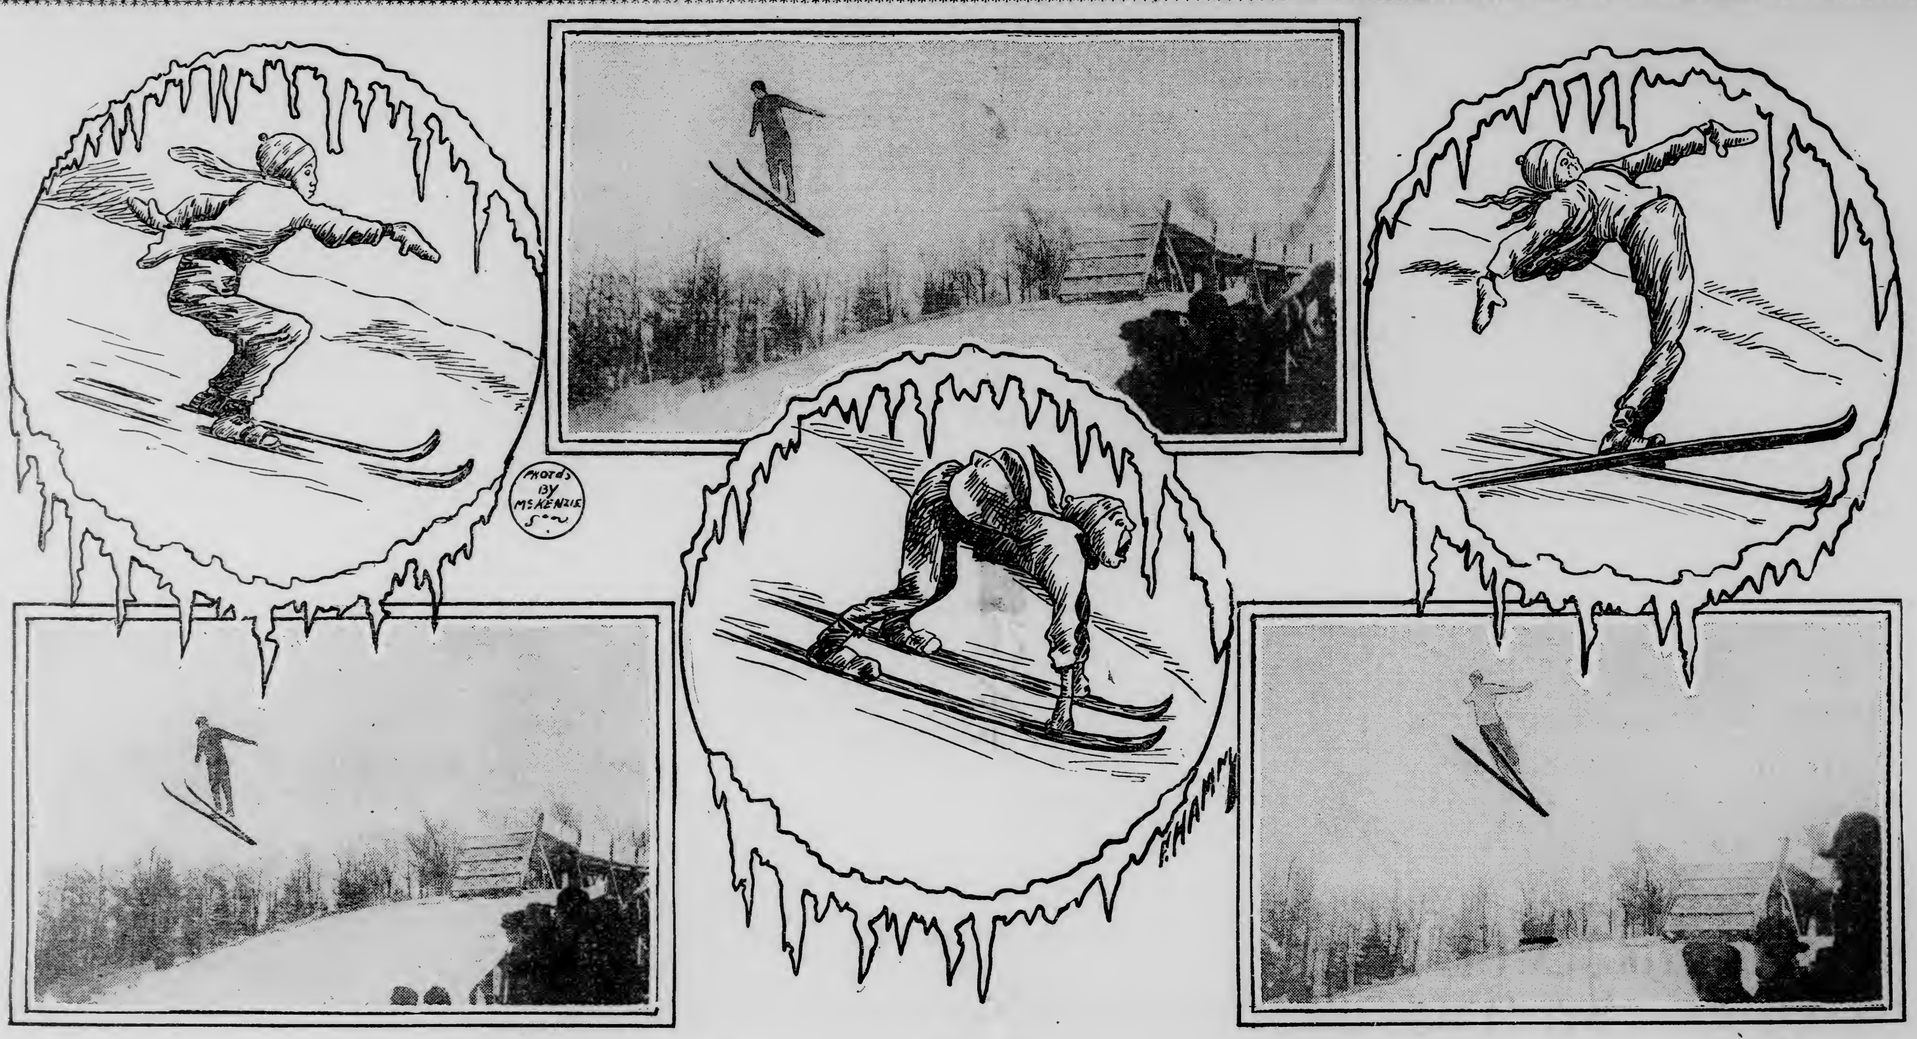

Pittsburg, Pa., Feb. 12.—Seventeen players for the Pittsburg team are now under contract. The latest addition to the world's champions is Bayard Sharpe of Westchester, Pa., who was drafted from the Newark team of the Eastern league. He will be tried out at first base with Jack Flynn.

MORDECAI BROWN JOINS THE COLONY OF HOLDOUTS—OTHER LIVE GOSSIP OF SPORTDOM

A Big Day's Sporting Program for Duluth—How Weston Showed Up Policeman.

(BY BRUCE)

None of us ever thought that such a country-bred person as Mordecai Brown would ever get the ways of the city folk. But, by gosh, he's gone and done it! Just like handsome Christy Mathewson, who wears fancy waistcoats and boutles a cane at times, homely, old Mordecai is holding out for an increase in salary.

It is whispered that only a paltry $500 stands in the way of the three-fingered wonder signing his contract for the coming season. With a $2,000 raise Miner Brown would be about the highest paid hurler in organized baseball.

Time was when Miner Brown would have gasped at the mere mention of $2,000. But as comes of a streak that can greatly accept itself to circumstances. Here he has gone along these years riding in Pullmans and eating in first-class cafes—pronounced "cafe" in Terre Haute, where Brown was reared—and has gradually grown used to the whole thing.

Then last fall the great Cub pitcher went to Cuba. There he imbibed some of the ideas of liberty that almost caused a revolution in Cuba not very many months ago. He came home, and now he is just raising Cain over the question of salary.

If Kling comes back and Brown stays out, where would C. Webb Murphy be the gainer? No one seems disposed to answer. Murphy wants both Brown and Kling, and he wants them very badly. He wants to win the pennant, and it does not look as if he could win it without the valuable services of the two star battery men.

It is to be hoped that the question of $ does not keep the former coal miner out of the game. He will have to mine a lot of coal before he can make one-half of the salary he is getting for striking out the opposition batters.

MORDECAI BROWN.

Some of Brown's old Terre Haute friends kind of reckon as how the excitement of last season's pennant fight may have turned the head of the pitcher, "jest a lettle mite." Their suspicions are founded upon the fact that the three-fingered one would go airshipping. "Durned moonshine," they say down Terre Haute way.

The Miner thinks there is a great future in aviation, and says he is thinking seriously of going into the business. A pitcher like Ames of the New York Giants, or Marquardt of the same team, who are up in the air a great deal of the time, might take to aviation naturally, but Brown was ever a steady going pitcher, always right down near the earth, therefore his friends have some justifiable cause for suspicion when the old boy makes an announcement appertainin' to airships and the likes.

George A. Barton, sporting editor of the Minneapolis Daily News, and a chap with lots of local color, has the following message to give forth to the world:

"Permit me to introduce to you my new assistant sporting editor, George A. Barton, Jr. He arrived at 9:20 o'clock Sunday night and weighed eight and one-half pounds, bedside. So many proud fathers have told of the wonderful sayings of their offspring that we do not intend to tell you many of the marvelous doings of the Barton youngster. However, believe me or not, the first thing he said after the nurse dressed him, was, "On the level, pop, do you think Jeff has a chance with the black man?"

Next—Frank A. Force.

There will be much sport upon the local slate today. This afternoon you can go out to the ski tournament and see some of the sport that most football players, despite their reputation for general recklessness, would fight shy of. It is a sport that looks fine from the bleachers. It looks quite different from the top of the lofty slide.

Then in the evening we have those two great and justly well known athletes, James J. Jeffries and Frank A. Gotch. They will show in the evening at the "opery" house.

The two famous athletes arrived at Superior this morning, both glad that their strenuous tour is nearly at an end. Jeff really and sincerely hates crowds and fuss and travel. He likes the woods, a good dog, and a gun. His soul is country bred and has never been thoroughly city broke.

The sport program is quite elaborate for the day.

And talking about Old Man Weston, the ancient pedestrian, who is at the present time walking across the country, Mr. Perry, the new proprietor of the Spalding hotel, tells a good story about him.

"Weston came through Canton when I owned a hotel there," said Mr. Perry. They sent a reception committee, one of those happy-to-meet-you committees, to meet the old man. On the committee were two policemen.

"After a while we all beheld a very funny sight. There was an old man, looking very much like a G. A. R. veteran, hiking up the street with long and steady strides, and half a hundred men and boys running along back of him. Some of the original reception committee were spilled along the wayside. Two managed to follow in the wake of the aged walker, their tongues hanging out of their mouths. The two policemen never did finish.

"Weston made a little speech and gave a lecture on physical culture, but he refused to shake hands with the great crowd that greeted him. He declared that it would waste his strength. He is a smart old man. He has one peculiarity—I won't tell you what it is."

Johnny Kling may go on the vaudeville circuit. Charles Webb Murphy says Kling is a bad actor.

Sam Langford has secured a return battle with Fireman Jim Flynn. Take a tip—don't bet on the Flynn end.

* * *

Henry Ordeman may be Champion Gotch's opponent in a Kansas City match.

* * *

Sailor Jack, the local welterweight wrestler, may secure a match with Dick Shepperd. The sailor boy will stack up against Mauritz Harris in the near future.

* * *

Billy Papke has reached Paris. With the flood and Billy on hand, there will be much doing in the gay capital.

* * *

Orator Jim O'Rourke has quit baseball after thirty-seven years of strenuous service. He has a son in the American association. In a year or two they will be asking if the old man can "come back."

* * *

A manager of a Galveston theater has informed Jeff the proper way to knock Johnson out. Why doesn't he use the inside information himself?

* * *

Dan Patch will be raced the coming season. Dan is the canine Pattl of the harness horse world.

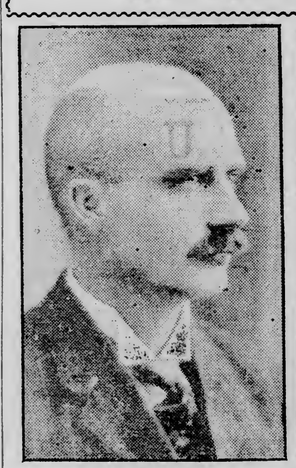

* * *

Job is the name of the county attorney of Salt Lake City. He is all "set up" over the prize fight controversy. He evidently lacks the patience of the other Job.

* * *

Convent Bell is the name of a California racehorse. There might be a justifiable suspicion that the filly is a ringer.

RUSH ON AT FACTORIES

Americans Want More Automobiles Than Can Be Manufactured.

The Federal Auto Law Is Claiming the Attention of Congress.

"I wonder if our new car will be here on time."

This is a common question with newly made automobile owners in Duluth and well may they ask it, for never in the history of the industry have the several factories been so busy and over rushed with orders.

It seems to the men who are building automobiles, that every man, woman and child in the country is anxious to own one. They all want them delivered at once. That is the part that worries the factory manager. The big factories are working day and night. In many of them there is not a noon hour and their machinery is in perpetual motion itself. There are big shifts of men ready to take the place of those who are quitting for the day and yet the great American public is not satisfied.

Twice as many cars will be made this year as were last season, and yet the demand continues and more orders are taken each day than can be filled.

Duluth is in on the rush. There are probably as many owners in the Zenith City as there are in any city of like size in the entire country. Between two and three hundred new machines will be seen on the streets this spring. They have been arriving all winter. They are coming every week, but the greater number of them will come from the East when the navigation season opens.

It has been a splendid winter for automobiling and a number of the machines have been kept in constant use. Those who have put their machines away have regretted their action. More and more is Duluth becoming an all the year around automobile town. It is likely that next season a majority of the cars will be kept on the street during the winter. The fact that at this time, with the growth of the business, it is possible to get a limousine top for almost any make of car, helps greatly in keeping the car in use the year around.

Duluth dealers report the inquiry more than good. They say that nine-tenths of the people who look at cars are placing their orders.

The Rhodes Motor company is about to open a salesroom in the center of the down town district. This will be the first salesroom maintained in the city.

There are, these days, no tours being taken out of town, all the cars in the city being devoted to use on the streets. Those who have tried to get out of town, have found the roads in poor condition and have turned back.

Knipper's Mexican Record.

Billy Knipper, the famous driver of Chalmers racing cars, who is now in Mexico, where he gained fame last spring second only to the bull fighters by piloting the flag-to-flag pathfinding car, has set his first record for "non-stop" driving and hill climbing. A special from Mohler & De Gress, Chalmers agents in the City of Mexico, says:

"Knipper has made his first record run—that from Mexico City to the city of Toluca and return. The distance is forty miles, up over the mountains. In the first twenty-five miles the road rises to an altitude of 11,000 feet. Toluca itself is at an elevation of 7,500 feet. Total elapsed time was 2 hours and 45 minutes; actual running time, 1 hour and 16 minutes to Toluca, 1 hour and 18 minutes returning."

Knipper was accompanied by Mr. German Towle, an automobile enthusiast of Mexico City.

Why Tires are Up.

The advance in rubber has been phenomenal. One rubber dealer says that automobile users seem to think that the tire manufacturers are imposing on them with exorbitant prices, where as the cause lies in the wonderful increase in the price of crude rubber. This is shown by the following statement:

During the year 1909 the world's output of crude rubber increased about 18 per cent and the price advanced about 200 per cent. Imports of crude rubber from all sources to this country in the year 1897 amounted to 35,574,449 pounds, of a total value of about $22,274,000. This year imports will nearly double those of 1897, with a cash value of more than five times the value of the 1897 importations.

Crude rubber sold as low as 67 cents a pound for fine Para in 1908. The price had advanced to $2.15 a pound about Oct. 1, 1909.

It is generally agreed among importers and manufacturers that prices will remain high during the coming season, although such high prices as those prevailing for the past year have undoubtedly stimulated production, which may eventually result in lower prices.

Auto Sleigh is Invented.

Tacoma, Wash., Feb. 12.—Several Alaskans working together have invented an auto sleigh which they believe will solve the problem of Alaskan winter transit from White Horse Bend and Valdez to Dawson, Fairbanks and Iditarod.

They have spent $4,000 building the first auto sleigh, which was completed here and was shipped to Valdez this week. The machine is fifteen feet long, painted black and somewhat coffin shaped. It will seat eighteen passengers.

Every part of the machinery is enclosed. Should it become stalled in an Alaskan blizzard, passengers will be as secure as if at home. The machine now has front wheels of steel. In Alaska these will be changed for sleigh runners. Rear wheels will be exchanged for specially constructed steel wheels with corrugated tires. The gear is cogged inside the rear wheels under a new patent of the machine's constructors.

It is claimed that power applied to the rear wheels will propel the machine, the front runners adding both speed and ease to motion. The engine has 60-horse power. If the machine proves entirely satisfactory, three more will be built.

DONLIN MAY PLAY.

Outfielder Confers With Owner Brush Over Terms of Contract.

New York, Feb. 12.—"Mike" Donlin and John T. Brush, president of the New York Nationals, had a conference today at which contract terms for the coming baseball season were arranged staisfactorily to both Donlin and the club. Donlin is considering a theatrical offer and will inform the New York club on or before March 10, whether he will play ball this year or retire from the diamond.

News of the Theater

AT THE LYCEUM

"The Traveling Salesman," the Comedy That Kept New York Laughing for a Year Coming — Stock Company Fills Out Week.

James Forbes' latest comedy, "The Traveling Salesman," which scored such an enormous success at the Gayety theater, New York, and at the Illinois theater, Chicago, will be presented under the direction of Henry B. Harris at the Lyceum Monday and Tuesday evenings.

The action of the play starts at Grand Crossing, in the railway depot, just before noon on Christmas day. The villagers waiting for their trains, the impertinent baggage man, the gossipy widow, and the pretty ticket seller, Beth Elliott, and the irrepressible drummer, Bob Blake, are introduced and the weaving of the plot is begun. The acquaintance of Bob Blake and Beth Elliott ripens rapidly, and Beth invites the salesman to share her lunch, after that their eternal friendship is sealed.

It has been made known previously that Beth is owner of a section of apparently worthless land to be sold on the following day for unpaid taxes. The girl is unaware of the fact that the railroad is about to build a spur line and that her property will be needed for that purpose.

Martin Drury, a capitalist, and Franklin Royce, his tool, and also the pretended admirer of Beth, know of the prospective increase of the property and they plot to buy it when it is put up for sale.

Beth tells Blake about her property and that she is unable to save it. Later in the evening, Royce joins Blake and three other salesmen in a poker game at the hotel. Blake, during the game, learns from Royce the scheme to bid in Beth's land, and he decides to be the first person on hand at the sale in order to bid in the property for Beth. When Blake is announced as the purchaser, Royce goes to Beth and attempts to poison her mind against Blake by making her believe that Blake has acquired her land for the purpose of selling it to the railroad company at a large advance in price. He advises her that there is still a chance to save her property, because a tax deed does not become valid for six months. Drury and Royce then make the girl an offer of $5,000 for her land. She is on the point of accepting when Blake arrives on the scene. Blake tries to explain, but Beth, who has been influenced by Royce and Drury, refuses to believe him.

Later, with the help of Beth's friend, Mrs. Babbitt, the village gossip, he succeeds in getting an audience with Beth, and explains that he merely paid the taxes to save her land, and succeeds in convincing her of his honorable intentions, the depth and sincerity of his affection and finally wins the girl and thwarts the two schemers.

The company which Mr. Harris will send to this city is the original New York and Chicago aggregation of talent and includes Mark Smith, James O'Neill, Jr., Clifford Stork, Lawrence Sheehan, Theodore Kehrwald, Daniel Jarrett, Guy R. Hoffman, Emmett Shackleford, Robert Hamilton, Miss Miriam Nesbitt, Miss Diana Huneker, Miss Marion Stephenson and Miss Virginia Hamilton.

The Stock Company.

On Wednesday and Thursday nights and Wednesday matinee next the Yankee Doodle Stock company will present at the Lyceum a modern melodrama dealing with life in New York City's slums and entitled "The Dangers of Working Girls."

On Friday and Saturday nights and Saturday afternoon the company will close its engagement at the Lyceum with the rural comedy melodrama entitled "The Great Doveraux Case."

The scenes are laid on a New England farm and in New York city and the plot deals with the fortunes and misfortunes of a boy and a girl, one the son of a farmer and the other a waif found by the boy's father on his farm and adopted.

"In Arizona" will be the offering at the Lyceum tomorrow afternoon and evening. It is a cleverly written tale of the Southwest. The plot centers around the adventures and misadventures of a young ranch owner who meets a pretty girl, the daughter of an army officer stationed in Arizona.

Lyceum Notes.

Henry Miller will present "The Great Divide," the "long awaited 'great American play,'" as some leading New York critics have called it, at the Lyceum this month.

Miss May Robson will be seen in her great New York success, "The Rejuvenation of Aunt Mary," at the Lyceum very soon.

Wherever Miss Robson has appeared in this quaint play crowded houses have been the rule. In Aunt Mary, Miss Rouson has a play that is fitted to her like a glove. Her expression of the yearning tenderness of the childless old lady rises at times to a height that is almost tragic. The play is full of bright comedy lines, novel situations and that wholesome sweetness that appeals to everyone.

* * *

A startling electric novelty which will be seen in the third act of "The Girl Question," which comes to the Lyceum on Feb. 25 and 26, under the management of H. H. Frazee, is the phantom chimes. They are introduced first in the chorus of the song, "I Hate to Work on Monday," sung by twenty-four pretty girls seated at typewriters and clicking off an accompaniment to the words of the song. The chimes, by means of electrical attachments, are made to ring all over the house, under the seats, up in the gallery, on the walls, etc., making the most novel effect which has ever been presented.

AT THE BIJOU

"A Horse on Hogan," a Roaring Comedy Offering Will Be the Feature of the Vaudeville Bill for the Coming Week—Program of All Feature Acts.

The bill of vaudeville that will be offered at the Bijou, commencing Monday matinee and continuing all week, will be right up to the standard with only high-class attractions of the feature kind. The bill will be one of the best that has been offered at the popular theater this season. There will be varied styles of amusement, including singing, comedy, dancing, instrumentalists, aerialists and gymnasts.

The bill will be headed by Walter Le Roy and Florence Clayton, who are two of the best known and cleverest vaudeville entertainers that have ever appeared before the footlights. They have been a feature act for years and have appeared in every first-class theater of America and Europe where vaudeville is played, and have always been the headline attraction. Their act is a comedy sketch entitled "A Horse on Hogan," and it is said to be the funniest act in vaudeville.

A gymnastic feature will be Mlle. Nadje, who will introduce a sensational novelty, the same as she performed at the Alhambra theater in London for three months. This is Nadje's second tour of American vaudeville. She was recently engaged to appear for ten weeks on the Sullivan & Considine circuit, after which she returns to Europe to fulfill a year's contract on the continent. Nadje is considered the best formed woman of the European stage. Women of Duluth who are interested in physical culture should see Nadje. She is 18 years old, very pretty and as unaffected as a school girl. She has appeared before royalty in different capitals of Europe.

Newell and Niblo will present a musical offering of classical and popular selections, such as is seldom heard in vaudeville. Their selections are rendered in a manner which makes the act exceedingly attractive and appealing.

What is considered to be one of the cleverest singing and dancing acts that has been in Duluth for some time will be J. Hunter Wilson and Effie Pearson. They are both well-known musical comedy favorites. Mr. Wilson will be remembered as the principal comedian with the New York production of "Alaska," while Miss Pearson has been a shining light with the Weber & Fields forces in New York for several seasons. Their vaudeville offering so far has been a big success. They offer a singing and dancing oddity that is different from the usual run of singing ing and dancing acts.

A feature in the novelty line will be Max York's dogs. This is one of the best canine acts in the country, being picked to appear at the New York Hippodrome for a run, where a clever trained dog act was required in the Hippodrome's big production. Mr. York has a troupe of five fox terriers which perform a series of tricks that are truly remarkable.

Earl Morse will sing for his illustrated song the now popular song hit entitled "Redhead." The slides of this song are said to be exceptionally good. The moving pictures will be all new and exclusive subjects portrayed by the new 1910 motograph.

Matinees are given daily at 2:45 and night performances at 8 and 9:30. Seats may be reserved by either telephone. A special program for school children will be given at the matinee Saturday at 2:30. All scholars under 14 years of age are admitted for 5 cents. Performances are given on Sunday afternoon and night.

GOSSIP OF THE RIALTO

Billy Burke in "Mrs. Dot"—Annie Russell as "Viola" — Spiritualistic Drama in "The Watcher" — "The Heights" Finely Acted—"Just a Wife," Eugene Walter's New Play.

NEW YORK, Feb. 12.—With Maxine Elliott at Daly's, Ethel Barrymore at the Empire and Miss Billie Burke at the Lyceum, almost all the pretty gazelles — to quote from Willie Collier's "Lucky Star"—of the American stage are in town. Of Maxine Elliott, I have already written all I dare, though I may add that the critics this time have been inordinately kind to her and have helped her to success in "The Inferior Sex." Miss Burke has opened an engagement in "Mrs. Dot," which is the third or fourth of the light-waisted London society comedies which W. Somerset Maugham has written. At the Empire, Miss Barrymore made her reappearance for the first time since the birth of her child, in Lucro's "Midchannel." The same night Frank Keenan appeared at the Savoy in a drama called "The Heights." At the New theater, Annie Russell gave her first performance of Viola in "Twelfth Night," the opening last week, and "The Watcher," a spiritualistic drama by Cora Maynard, was offered at the Comedy theater the following evening, with Percy Haswell featured.

Mr. Maugham attracted immediate interest when John Drew last season presented his "Jack Straw" here, and this interest was increased when Miss Barrymore followed afterward impersonated the heroine of "Lady Frederick." This year we have had Marie Tempest in "Penelope," and Miss Burke in "Mrs. Dot," and the novelty of Mr. Maugham's ingenuity is in danger of wearing off. It is apparent that he draws pretty much everything he offers the public from the same pattern. There is no question of his ability to be amusing. He draws his London society types with marked skill, and no one can surpass him in writing smart dialogue, but his complications are exceedingly weak, and he seldom succeeds in creating a really suspensive moment. Some of the critics have blamed Miss Burke for the failure of "Mrs. Dot" to create the same sensation here that it did in London, with Marie Tempest in the role, for London delighted in the piece for a year or more. But in London, the people figuring in the comedy are more or less familiar types, while New York has no ulterior interest of the anature. Miss Burke is extremely charming in the title role, and it was her personal attractiveness that had a good deal to do with insuring the play a hearty reception at the hands of the public.

The simplicity of the plot is apparent when the reader is told that Mrs. Dot is the nickname of a rich brewer's widow, who is bent on marrying an impecunious young man, who loves her devotedly, but is in the embarrassing situation of having engaged himself to Nellie Sallenger. Lady Sallenger is at first opposed to the match for financial reasons, and she is about to put her maternal foot down on the arrangement, to the infinite joy of Mrs. Dot and her Gerald, when Gerald's elder brother is killed in India. This reverses the whole order of things and upsets the well-laid plans of himself and the vivacious Mrs. Dot. Gerald not only inherits his brother's title, but also his wealth, and Lady Sallenger at once makes up her mind that Gerald is a legitimate catch and too precious to be lost to Nellie.

Fortunately Mrs. Dot, besides being very vivacious, very wealthy and very charming generally, is also ingeniously enterprising. She makes up her mind to have Gerald in spite of his engagement, and to that end invites Lady Sallenger, Nellie and Gerald to spend a week at her palatial villa on the Thames, hoping to find a way to break the engagement, and determined to leave nothing untried to secure her happiness.

Her method of accomplishing this result is somewhat disappointing, but her expedient is colored with many interesting shades and furthered by numerous absorbing incidents and delightful characterizations by the playwright. It consists simply of getting Nellie and an egotistical young cub of a nephew interested in each other and giving them the opportunity at the right time to elope, for which she not only furnishes the motor car, but also a substantial annuity ot keep them. Thereupon, without much further ado, Gerald takes her in his arms and the play is over.

A far more intense drama is "The Watcher," by Cora Maynard, which, in spite of a certain theatricalism, has its good qualities and was admirably acted by Percy Haswell, Catharine Countiss, Thurlow Bergen and John Emerson. The play deals suggestively with spiritualism, but the interest is strong without this extraneous element, and the third act climax was sufficiently thrilling to tingle the nerves of any reasonable creature without an appeal to spooks and direct materializations.

Felice Kent is alone in the house at night when her former lover, Joe Worden, enters. Felice is now married to George Kent, and Worden is the accepted suitor of her sister-in-law, Vivian Kent. Prompted by jealousy and, I fear, a constitutionally wicked heart, Felice locks the door, drops the key down her corsage and insists on Worden making love to her. Worden, however, proves himself a perfect Joseph, and demands that she unlock the door. Felice, of course, refuses, and presently her husband and Vivian return and demand entrance to the room. The situation is self-apparent. Worden and Felice are caught under circumstances that point to their guilt. Felice makes matters worse (for Worden) by declaring that he came there uninvited, and in a fit of frenzy declares that she was his mistress before her marriage to Kent. With this scene, the third act closes. All through the play runs a streak of philosophy that there is life after death. In the first act Vivian's mother dies, she who has taught her two children to believe in a future spiritual existence. Vivian twice communes with her mother's spirit, and as Vivian Percy Haswell was truly delightful in the manifestations of the faith that is in her. The mother's unseen presence manifests itself again in the last act. It is the morning after. Sleep and spiritual influence of the dead mother have claimed the nerves of all save the unregenerate George, gamester and cigarette smoker. Worden calls and prevails upon Felice to tell Vivian the truth, to-wit: That he called the night before during the absence of Vivian at a party, to give George a helping hand after a debauch and hours at the poker table, where he was caught cheating. She admits they were once engaged, and she threw him over because he was poor and George Kent at that time was the son of a rich man. Her dream was doomed to be shattered. George's father left his family penniless, and Worden began to grow rich out of copper. Jealousy inspired her to try to break up Vivian's engagement to her old lover, and it was not Worden who locked the door.

This, the repentant Felice confesses, not only to Vivian, but to her husband as well, George, cheat, gambler and drunkard, tries to blow his brains out. Just as he is about to pull the trigger his eyes dilate, and expression of awe steals over his face, the pistol drops from his hand and explodes, and when the others come rushing in, they behold him gazing into vacancy with staring eyes. He has at last seen the vision of his mother.

There is a partial adjustment of the tangled domestic affairs in the little household in the last act. The play closes with the suggested hope that both George and Felice have been spiritually purified by the intangible presence of the beloved mother and that Vivian and Worden may find eventual happiness.

The presentation gained much by the splendid acting which was done, aside from Percy Haswell, by Catharine Countiss as Felice, John Emerson as George Kent and Thurlow Bergen as Worden. A good character bit was done by Marion Ballou as an Irish house servant. The cast consists of those five only, except a nurse in the first act who is only seen, and the action takes place in one room in a New York flat.

One of the handsomest productions ever made on any stage was given to "Twelfth Night" at the New theater, last week, and the performance in some respects was capital. Annie Russell's Viola lacked dash and confidence, however, and she drew the character in rather neutral colors. Her sweet, plaintive manner affronted the critics, who took her severely to task for essaying the role. Her work nevertheless suggested enough to warrant the belief that she will grow into the part with a few more performances and merit a more favorable verdict. Louis Calvert was excellent as Sir Toby Belch and Ferdinand Gottschalk made a hit as Sir Andrew Aguecheek. One of the best performances was given by Jessie Busley as the mischievous Maria, whose spiritual detriment turns Malvolio into one of the most ludicrous figures

New York has not this season attended a better acting performance than it did at the Savoy, with Frank Keenan, J. Harry Benrimo, Mrs. Charles G Craig and Frank Mills, in "The Heights." The play is an idyl of primitive passions in modern setting, by William Anthony McGuire, a young Chicago newspaper man, who betrays the influence of Ibsen in dealing with abstract conditions in a concrete manner.

The piece is in three acts, the first taking place in a London lodging house and the other two in an Alpine hut. Incidental to the story, a realistic mountain snow storm is represented and the effect is shown of a boulder loosened from the mountain side, crashing down the roof and smashing the windows. This takes place as Georgia Warren tries to escape from the hut rather than pass the night there as the only companion of Joe Moreau, the Alpine guide, who threatens to obstrude his attentions upon the distressed heroine against her will.

Miss Warren has turned her back upon sordid London and her shattered ideal of a man to find the children of nature on the heights. This suggests the title. She mistakes the lights of Joe Moreau's hut for those of the inn. A storm springs up. She warms herself by the fire and requests the guide to conduct her back to the inn. Instead, Moreau locks the door and proceeds to make free with her. The storm is momentarily increasing in violence. Even when he makes a pretense of complying with her wish and throws open the door a perfect hurricane of whirling snow and rocks dashes her in the face. But when he takes her in his arms to kiss her, the desperate girl seizes a knife and attempts to kill herself.

This evidence of the girl's heroic virtue staggers the hardened cynic. The last ultimate son of a nobleman, who has traveled the pace in London and Paris and at last come back to his native mountains with his faith in women nearly destroyed, he is amazed to find in this English girl the purity which he has not known any other woman to possess. The girl faints. Moreau picks her up and lays her tenderly on the couch by the fire, covers her up with a rug and steals out into the night and the storm.

The next morning she finds him before the door. There is a scene between the two, in which he declares his love and tells her of his life and regeneration. Her own purity has purified him. But the girl, too, has had her conscience awakened. She remembers her shattered ideal of a man back in London, who loved and then shocked her by his sinful passion, driving her to the heights.

The lights! There, too, dwell vice and lust. She has been hard on the other. She might have reformed him, as she has this stranger, whom she cannot love. She leaves Moreau's hut, where she has had a new revelation of human nature, and gives Moreau to think over his blighted hopes and herself inspired with charity for the two men who have loved her.

As fate will have it the second man enters the hut. He has followed the girl to the inn and believes her lost in the snow storm. Moreau thinks of killing him, but in the act of raising his knife Miss Warren and a guide enter opportunely to thwart Moreau's purpose. The lovers are reunited, and the curtain falls with Moreau gazing after the retreating form of his loved one from the open door into which the sun is streaming.

The play is unique in its manifestations of the elemental passions. The first act is largely comedy, introducing two interesting personages aside from Miss Warren and her lover, Richard Sidney. One is the garrulous fat landlady, admirably played by Mrs. Craig, and the other a slangy American chorus girl, in which Frank Keenan's daughter, Hilda, making her first appearance on the professional boards, scored an instantaneous hit. The role of Miss Warren is charmingly portrayed by Willette Kershaw. Keenan's performance of Joe Moreau and Benrimo's work as the rascally Italian guide, Pietro Paccio, dominate the interest in the second act. Keenan's characterization is drawn on bold, well defined lines, and forms a conception of unusual power. Benrimo's interpretation was marked by a hummer and a rugged force that was delightful. In a drinking and card scene between the two men, where Pietro plays with double cards and Moreau cows him into fawning servility, the men gave as good an example of acting as one is likely to see on the American stage in a decade. The play is superbly staged by Henry B. Harris.

Eugene Walter's new play, "Just a Wife," in which Belasco is staring the playwright's wife, Charlotte Walker, was produced at the Belasco theater last week. There are but six characters in the cast and two scenes, the garden of John Emerson's house on the Long Island Sound, and the interior, and the story it tells is of a young wife neglected by her husband for another woman. He is a man of national prominence and believes himself indebted for his rise to the woman who is not his wife. The marriage was a marriage of convenience, really to cloak his relations with Eleanor Lathrop. But matters take on a new aspect when Eleanor, inflamed by jealousy, follows her lover to his wife's domicile and finds herself confronted by the neglected wife. The old duel is not introduced. The wife asks her husband's mistress to stay to lunch till the next train starts back for the city, and completely humiliates the intruder, and at the same time wins her husband's love. I shall probably have something more to say of this performance in my next letter. The play was listened to with intense interest and has some exceedingly dramatic scenes, though lacking the action and movement of "Paid in Full" and "The Easiest Way." The dialogue is classic in some passages and the play is good literature. It was admirably played by Charlotte Walker as the wife, although her manner showed the result of training at the hands of her manager and lacked its usual spontaneous initiative. Amelia Gardner was excellent as Eleanor and Ernest Glendinning gave a spirited performance in the part of the wife's brother. Edmund Breese is the husband and Bobby North, the vaudeville actor, has the part of a friendly Yid, a chum of the brother, who typifies the Hebrew aggressiveness, although his prominence in the cast is not clearly explained.

Miss Zaidee Appleton, daughter of George A. Appleton of New York city, for many years manager of Nat Goodwin and at present acting in a similar capacity for Miss Maxine Elliott, is reported to be engaged to Reginald H. Mair of 175 Ashmont street, Boston, one of Mayor Hibbard's secretaries.

Miss Appleton is a member of Klaw & Erlanger's "Ben Hur" company, scheduled to fill an engagement at the Boston theater later in the month. Miss Appleton has been with the organization for three years interpreting the important role of Tirzah, sister to Ben Hur. It is stated that Miss Appleton will be married shortly after the company arrives in Boston and will retire from the stage at the end of the "Ben Hur" engagement at the Boston theater.

MAY BUCKLEY HAS TROUBLES

Heroine of "Cameo Kirby" Leaves Husband—He of the Soul Kiss in Real Life Said to Be So Awfully Cruel.

Pretty little May Buckley, who is well-known here, and who was last seen not long ago at the Lyceum theater in "Cameo Kirby," in support of Dustin Farnum, had a mess with her husband, Charles Sabine. That there should be a domestic tragedy here seems impossible, but this is the story as it appears in a Denver newspaper, the News:

"Heavens! May Buckley obtains a divorce on the ground that her husband was cruel to her. If a man who gives his fiancee a soul kiss, lasting six minutes by the clock can be cruel to his wife, what can we expect of men who do not kiss at all?

"This was the tenor of the exclamation that went the rounds of the smart set, when it was learned that May Buckley (our May), the pride of Elitch's gardens during several seasons, and the pet of Denver society, was, in San Francisco, granted a divorce from Charles Walter Martin Sabine, whom she married at the witching hour of midnight under the apple trees at Elitch's on June 27, 1908.

"Although the news of the divorce caused a sensation, the fact that the pretty actress got the decree on the ground of cruelty, brought the greatest surprise.

"'I can't scarcely believe that handsome young Englishman could have treated May cruelly,' said one of her Denver friends.

A Handsome Couple.

"Of course, when she was here last August, and opened the Broadway in "Cameo Kirby," her husband was not with her. Dustin Farnum was heading the company, and every one said they made such a handsome couple on the stage.

"Never, apparently, was there a more idealic love match than that of Martin Sabine and May Buckley. When he arrived to claim his bride on June 23, his first act on stepping from the train was to pick up his little fiancee and greet her with a soul kiss that lasted six minutes by the clock at the union station. When the news of that enduring kiss became noised abroad through the city, it caused the breaking of several engagements, it is said, because the young men could not come up to the standard set by the Englishman.

"'He certainly must love her,' quoth the disconsolate maidens, 'or he would not kiss her so enchantingly.'

"That Buckley-Sabine kiss was put down as the supreme test of true love, and the swains who failed had solitaires to sell cheap.

"Then came the romantic marriage under the apple trees, when the couple swore eternal love under the stars, and it was deemed that in comparison with this affair all others sank into insignificance as far as romance and true love was concerned. No one had a doubt but they would bill and coo the rest of their lives and that never a harsh word would be spoken on either side.

Suit Not Contested.

"According to the dispatch from San Francisco, the suit was not contested, but no further details were given, and the friends of the charming actress are awaiting letters from the coast in the hope that thereby they will learn the real reasons for the divorce.

"The marriage of Sabine and Miss Buckley in 1908 was a real society event in Denver. Sabine had met her while both were appearing in "The Right of Way" the previous year. He was the son of an English admiral and he was evidently much in love wth May. At least the famous kiss at the union station was so taken to indicate. The ceremony was performed by Justice William H. Gabbert, in the presence of the company and a number of prominent Denver people, the words which united them being pronounced at midnight.

"Every one prophesied a happy married life 'until death do us part,' but it seems this was not to be, because he of the intense and lasting kiss was cruel.

"Miss Buckley will finish the theatrical season with Dustin Farnum in 'Cameo Kirby.'"

WHAT CONGESTION MEANS TO ITALIANS

One Third of the Inhabitants of America's "Little Italies" Are Destined to Die of Tuberculosis—How New York City is Meeting This Situation.

By R. L. BREED.

(Exclusive Service the Survey Press Bureau.)

New York is the home of more Italians than any other city in the world, with the exception of Naples and Rome. "Little Italies" they call those colonies of strangers in America, and no logbook can tell the distances these wanderers have come; for they have not alone left behind them 6,000 miles of the earth's circumference, but they have moved from under Italy's Southern skies to New York's congestion; from work on the land, with plenty of fresh air, they are now, by the thousands, laboring beneath the land, in tunnels or subways or mines, in the pressure of two or three atmospheres.

These facts make clear one of the too often overlooked phases of Italian immigration—the effect upon the Italians themselves. Whatever be the facts about the Black Hand, there is no doubt at all about the existence or the power of the white plague among Italians. Physicians and social workers understand that at least one third of the Italians who come to our American cities, under present conditions, are destined to death from tuberculosis; for death and disease are always more prevalent among rural people settled in the cities than among city-born people themselves. The immigration reports show that the largest percentage of the Italians coming to our shores are between the ages of 14 and 45 years. Thus the period of the greatest prevalence of tuberculosis, among all races from 14 to 45 years, exactly coincides with the age of the majority of Italian emigrants.

The Italian laborer brings health, strength, often sturdy youth, and is capable of undertaking the hardest work, but too often six months' life in the tenements, or in the construction camps, suffice to turn the sturdy youth of Calabria, the brawny fisherman of Sicily, the robust woman of Abruzzi, into the pale, flabby, undersized creatures of whom we see so many in "Little Italy." For among the Italians, as among other peoples, the death rate from tuberculosis is in inverse ratio to their individual incomes. But awakened America is beginning to appreciate these children of Italy, who have come to her in such throngs, and is beginning to understand how much this melting-pot of America needs this Southern stock, with its love of beauty and grace, in addition to its German, Irish French and Swedish elements.

A new committee has been formed in New York City to undertake the work of saving those vastly capable Italians from the scourge of tuberculosis. This committee is composed of some of the most influential members of the Italian-American colony, physicians and scholars, trained in Roman universities, business men who have attained eminence and wealth in their adopted country, together with prominent social workers of the Charity Organization society. Lloyd C. Griscom, formerly ambassador at the Quirinal, is chairman.

The committee plans to divide the colony into districts, disseminate information concerning tuberculosis through circulars and pamphlets and, through the distribution of a very attractive Venetian Poster, notify the Italians in each district of the location of the nearest free tuberculosis clinic. A campaign is also planned for the better ventilation of the homes and workshops of the people; to furnish weekly service to the Italian newspapers showing the progress of the work; to establish lectures, illustrated with stereoptical slides, before the Italian churches, clubs and labor organizations; to hold tuberculosis exhibitions, in the heart of the Italian colony, and to investigate the peculiar needs of the Italian tubercular poor; the establishment of special clinics, the appointment of Italian doctors, nurses, etc.

An intelligent Italian workman summed his fellow emigrant's needs the other day as 'a chance to work and kindness." New York, which has furnished these rural Italian laborers crowded tenements in which to live, bidden them work in tunnel or aqueduct or mine, now realizes that thousands of these new-comers have fallen prey to tuberculosis. And it is very likely that this committee on the Prevention of Tuberculosis Among Italians, will not only shew the Italian's need of strength and sympathy, but also our own need of those elements which these Italians, fresh from the sunny hills and green fields of Tuscany and Sicily, may furnish to our national character.

New York has not this season attended a better acting performance than it can at the Savoy, with Frank Keenan, Fanny Addison Mrs. Charles G Craig and Frank Mills, in "The Heights." The play is an idyl of primitive passions in modern setting, by William Anthony McGuire, a young Chicago newspaper man who betrays the influence of Ibsen in dealing with abstract conditions in a concrete manner.

The piece is in three acts, the first taking place in a London lodging house and the other two in an Alpine hut. Incidental to the story, a realistic mountain snow storm is represented and the effect is shown of a boulder loosed from the mountain side, crashing down the roof and smashing the windows. This takes place as Georgia Warren tries to escape from the hut rather than pass the night there as the companion of Joe Morgan, the Alpine guide who threatens to obstrude his attentions upon the distressed heroine against her will.

Miss Warren has turned her back upon social London and her shattered home of a man to rear the children of better on the heights. This suggests to Morgan that he abandon the flights of Joe Morgans but for those of the inn. A storm springs up. She warms herself by the fire and rejects the guide when he would lead her back to the inn. Instead, Morgan locks the door and proceeds to make free with her. The storm is momentarily increasing in violence, even when he makes a pretense of leaving. As he does rad throws open the door a perfect hurricane of wind, snow and rocks dashes her in the face. But when he takes her in his arms she kicks open the door, the girl seizes a knife and attempts to kill her.

The revulsion of the girl's heroic character restores the unfevered cynic. He becomes Sir Geoffrey, a nobleman, who has made the pace in London and has come back to his native heath with his faith in women restored, he is amazed to find in the English girl the purity which he has not known any other woman to possess. The girl faints. Morgan picks her up and lays her tenderly on the couch. In the she covers her up with a rug and steals out into the night and the storm.

The next morning she finds him before the fire asleep. It is a scene between two in which he declares his passion for her as the life and redemption. Her own purity has purified him, but the girl, too, has had her conscience awakened. She represents to the battered hulk of a man have known, who loved and then shocked her by his sinful passion, driving her to the heights.

There is, too, the vice and lust. Sue has been held on the cast. So might have reformed him, but the stranger, whom she did love. She scores Morgan's hut, when she had a new revelation of the depths to which Morgan could think to drag his blighted hopes and herself, parted with charity for the two men she had loved her.

As fate will serve it the second man carries the hut. He has followed the girl to the cabin and believes her lost in the snow storm. Morgan thinks of killing him, but in the act of raising his knife Miss Warren and a guide enter, together to thwart Morgan's purpose. The lovers are reunited, and the curtain falls with Morgan gazing after the retreating form of his loved one from the open door into which the sun is streaming.

The play is unique in its manifestations of the elemental passions. The first act is merely comedy, introducing two interesting personages aside from Miss Warren and her lover, Richard Sabey. One is the garrulous fat landlady, admirably played by Mrs. Craig, and the other a stagey American chorus girl, in which Frank Keenan's daughter India, making her first appearance on the professional boards, scores an instantaneous hit. The role of Miss Warren is charmingly portrayed by Willette Kershaw. Keenan's performance of Joe Morgan and Benjamin's work as the rascally Italian guide, Pietro Bacello, dominate the interest in the second act. Keenan's characterization is drawn on bold, well defined lines, and bespeaks a conception of unusual power. Benjamin's interpretation was marked by a humorous and natural flair for the wise delightful. In a clinking and cold scene between the two men, where Pietro plays with double cards and Morgan cows him into fawning servility, the men gave us good example of acting as one is likely to see on the American stage in a decade. The play is superbly staged by Henry B. Harris.

Eugene Walter's new play, "Just a Wife," in which Belasco is staring the playwright's wife, Charlotte Walker, was produced at the Belasco theater last week. There are but six characters in the cast and two scenes, the garden of John Emerson's house on the Long Island Sound, and the interior, and the story it tells is of a young wife neglected by her husband for another woman. He is a man of natural prominence and believes himself addicted for his rise to the woman who is not his wife. The marriage was a marriage of convenience, really to clear his relations with Eleanor Lathrop. But matters take on a new aspect when Eleanor, inflamed by jealousy, follows her lover to his wife's domicile and finds herself confronted by the neglected wife. The old duel is not introduced. The wife asks her husband's mistress to stay to lunch till the next train starts back for the city, and completely humiliates the intruder, and at the same time wins her husband's love. I shall probably have something more to say of this performance in my next letter. The play was listened to with intense interest and has some exceedingly dramatic scenes, though lacking the action and movement of "Paid in Full" and "The Easiest Way." The dialogue is classic in some passages and the play is good literature. It was admirably played by Charlotte Walker as the wife, although her manner showed the result of training at the hands of her manager and lacked its usual spontaneous initiative. Amelia Gardner was excellent as Eleanor and Ernest Glendinning gave a spirited performance in the part of the wife's brother. Edmund Breese is the husband and Bobby North, the vaudeville actor, has the part of a friendly Yiddish chum of the brother, who typifies the Hebrew aggressiveness, although its prominence in the cast is not clearly explained.

The shifting of opera singers finds Charles Gilibert, who once sang at the Metropolitan opera house, taking the part of the sacristan in "Tosca" at the Manhattan opera, while Gianoli-Galletti, who for two years has been one of the principal buffos of the Manhattan, sings the same part at the Metropolitan. Gianoli-Galletti sang the role several hundred times, and his impersonation is famous both in Europe and the United States. He is a master of make-up as well as of operatic comedy.

MAY BUCKLEY HAS TROUBLES

Heroine of "Cameo Kirby" Leaves Husband—He of the Soul Kiss in Real Life Said to Be So Awfully Cruel.

Pretty little May Buckley, who is well-known here, and who was last seen not long ago at the Lyceum theater in "Cameo Kirby," in support of Dustin Farnum, had a mess with her husband, Charles Sabine. That there should be a domestic tragedy here seems impossible, but this is the story as it appears in a Denver newspaper, the News:

"Heavens! May Buckley obtains a divorce on the ground that her husband was cruel to her. If a man who gives his fiancee a soul kiss, lasting six minutes by the clock can be cruel to his wife, what can we expect of men who do not kiss at all?

"This was the tenor of the exclamation that went the rounds of the smart set when it was learned that May Buckley (our May), the pride of Elitch's gardens during several seasons, and the pet of Denver society, was in San Francisco, granted a divorce from Charles Walter Martin Sabine, whom she married at the witching hour of midnight under the apple trees at Elitch's on June 27, 1908.

"Although the news of the divorce caused a sensation, the fact that the pretty actress got the decree on the ground of cruelty, brought the greatest surprise.

"'I can't scarcely believe that handsome young Englishman could have treated May cruelly,' said one of her Denver friends.

A Handsome Couple.

"Of course, when she was here last August, and opened the Broadway in 'Cameo Kirby,' her husband was not with her. Dustin Farnum was heading the company, and every one said they made such a handsome couple on the stage.

"Never, apparently, was there a more ideal love match than that of Martin Sabine and May Buckley. When he arrived to claim his bride on June 23, his first act on stepping from the train was to pick up his little fiancee and greet her with a soul kiss that lasted six minutes by the clock at the union station. When the news of that enduring kiss became noised abroad through the city, it caused the breaking of several engagements, it is said, because the young men could not come up to the standard set by the Englishman.

"'He certainly must love her,' quoth the disconsolate maidens, 'or he would not kiss her so enchantingly.'

"That Buckley-Sabine kiss was put down as the supreme test of true love, and the swains who failed had solitaires to sell cheap.

"Then came the romantic marriage under the apple trees, when the couple swore eternal love under the stars, and it was deemed that in comparison with this affair all others sank into insignificance as far as romance and true love was concerned. No one had a doubt but they would bill and coo the rest of their lives and that never a harsh word would be spoken on either side.

Suit Not Contested.

"According to the dispatch from San Francisco, the suit was not contested, but no further details were given, and the friends of the charming actress are awaiting letters from the coast in the hope that thereby they will learn the real reasons for the divorce.

"The marriage of Sabine and Miss Buckley in 1908 was a real society event in Denver. Sabine had met her while both were appearing in "The Right of Way" the previous year. He was the son of an English admiral and he was evidently much in love wth May. At least the famous kiss at the union station was so taken to indicate. The ceremony was performed by Justice William H. Gabbert, in the presence of the company and a number of prominent Denver people, the words which united them being pronounced at midnight.

"Every one prophesied a happy married life 'until death do us part,' but it seems this was not to be, because he of the intense and lasting kiss was cruel.

"Miss Buckley will finish the theatrical season with Dustin Farnum in 'Cameo Kirby.'"

WHAT CONGESTION MEANS TO ITALIANS

One Third of the Inhabitants of America's "Little Italies" Are Destined to Die of Tuberculosis—How New York City is Meeting This Situation.

By R. L. BREED.

(Exclusive Service the Survey Press Bureau.)

New York is the home of more Italians than any other city in the world, with the exception of Naples and Rome. "Little Italies" they call those colonies of strangers in America, and no logbook can tell the distances these wanderers have come; for they have not alone left behind them 6,000 miles of the earth's circumference, but they have moved from under Italy's Southern skies to New York's congestion; from work on the land, with plenty of fresh air, they are now, by the thousands, laboring beneath the land, in tunnels or subways or mines, in the pressure of two or three atmospheres.

These facts make clear one of the too often overlooked phases of Italian immigration—the effect upon the Italians themselves. Whatever be the facts about the Black Hand, there is no doubt at all about the existence or the power of the white plague among Italians. Physicians and social workers understand that at least one third of the Italians who come to our American cities, under present conditions, are destined to death from tuberculosis; for death and disease are always more prevalent among rural people settled in the cities than among city-born people themselves. The immigration reports show that the largest percentage of the Italians coming to our shores are between the ages of 14 and 45 years. Thus the period of the greatest prevalence of tuberculosis, among all races from 14 to 45 years, exactly coincides with the age of the majority of Italian emigrants.

The Italian laborer brings health, strength, often manly youth, and is capable of undertaking the hardest work, but too often six months' life in the tenements, or in the construction camps, suffice to turn the sturdy youth of Calabria, the brawny fisherman of Sicily, the robust woman of Abruzzi, into the pale, flabby, undersized creatures of whom we see so many in "Little Italy." For among the Italians, as among other peoples, the death rate from tuberculosis is in inverse ratio to their individual incomes. But awakened America is beginning to appreciate these children of Italy, who have come to her in such throngs, and is beginning to understand how much this melting-pot of America needs this Southern stock, with its love of beauty and grace, in addition to its German, Irish French and Swedish elements.

A new committee has been formed in New York City to undertake the work of saving those vastly capable Italians from the scourge of tuberculosis. This committee is composed of some of the most influential members of the Italian-American colony, physicians and scholars, trained in Roman universities, business men who have attained eminence and wealth in their adopted country, together with prominent social workers of the Charity Organization society. Lloyd C. Griscom, formerly ambassador at the Quirinal, is chairman.

The committee plans to divide the colony into districts, disseminate information concerning tuberculosis through circulars and pamphlets and, through the distribution of a very attractive Venetian Poster, notify the Italians in each district of the location of the nearest free tuberculosis clinic. A campaign is also planned for the better ventilation of the homes and workshops of the people; to furnish weekly service to the Italian newspapers showing the progress of the work; to establish lectures illustrated with stereoptical slides, before the Italian churches, clubs and labor organizations; to hold tuberculosis exhibitions, in the heart of the Italian colony, and to investigate the peculiar needs of the Italian tubercular poor, the establishment of special clinics, the appointment of Italian doctors, nurses, etc.

An intelligent Italian workman summed his fellow emigrant's needs the other day as 'a chance to work and kindness.' New York, which has furnished these rural Italian laborers crowded tenements in which to live, hidden them work in tunnel or aqueduct or mine, now realizes that thousands of these new-comers have fallen prey to tuberculosis. And it is very likely that this committee on the Prevention of Tuberculosis Among Italians, will not only show the Italian's need of strength and sympathy, but also our own need of those elements which these Italians, fresh from the sunny hills and green lands of Tuscany and Sicily, may furnish to our national character.

CORDOVA DRILL IN GOOD ORE

Still in Granite-Porphyry Carrying Chalcocite in Commercial Quantities—Showing Similar to That on Inspiration—Live Oak Work Progressing.

Globe, Ariz., Feb. 12.—The churn drill working on the west end of the Eureka group of claims belonging to the Cordova Copper company and near the Jennie shaft which is put down on the line between the Jennie and Osceola claims, about 100 feet from the line of the Inspiration Copper company's property, has sunk to a depth of 298 feet and is still in granite-porphyry carrying chalcocite in commercial quantities. Sulphides were first encountered in this drill hole at a depth of forty feet and from the 120-foot point down the ore has been of commercial grade. The drilling which has thus been initiated on the west end of the Cordova property will be continued indefinitely to thoroughly prospect the Eureka group of claims in 200-foot squares. From the scene of present drilling operations, the work of prospection will advance toward the eastern boundary of the property, and should eventually develop ore tonnages assuring the future of the Cordova Copper company.

At the Sullivan shaft on the east end of the Eureka group, drifting is being continued on the 475-foot level. The new drift recently driven from the main one at a point 350 feet east of the shaft is fifty feet long. This drift runs north. The face of the drift carries chalcocite that gives promise of an ore body being developed.

Development work with a force of about forty men at the Live Oak mine is progressing rapidly on the 300-foot level, where five drifts are being driven and one raise is being put up. Drift No. 308, driven west, measures 248 feet; west drift, No. 310 is 187 feet long; south drift No. 311 measures 90 feet; drift No. 312, which is being driven east, is 38 feet long; drift No. 313, which runs west and which was begun about a week ago, is about twenty-one feet in length. This drift was driven from the sulphide tunnel south of the shaft. The raise being put up at the junction of drifts Nos. 306, 309 and 310, measures 83 feet. The average percentage of copper shown by the samples assayed during the past week is 2.58.

As soon as the necessary equipment can be secured, prospecting of the Live Oak property with Star churn drills will be commenced. The drill work will be initiated west of the present underground workings and will probably be continued over a large part of the Live Oak property.

RICH STRIKE AT THE QUEEN

Eva Vein of Copper Queen Bisected at Depth of 500 Feet—Fissure Shows Three Feet of High Gold Quartz.

Salmon, Idaho, Feb. 12.—I. A. Gable, foreman of the work at the Copper Queen, was in Salmon a few days ago on hasty business. He says the underground movements there are progressing well, that the large hoisting station is about completed, and the shaft on the Queen vein has been started.

This shaft and station are 1,038 feet from the main entrance to the mine, and the vein at this point is more than thirty feet between walls. Sinking for the present is by hand, and they are making two feet a shift. But all the machinery is assembled, and it is thought that before many days the air compressor and hoist, electrically driven, will be in motion, and mining will move much faster.

This week the crosscut encountered the Eva vein, to tap which the main tunnel has been extended 350 feet beyond the Queen vein. The fissure, where cut, shows three feet of high grade gold quartz, a large sample of which was shown at the Herald office. On the surface, the same vein is exposed at intervals for a half mile, where it carries high grade ore from one to three feet in thickness. As soon as the crosscut had run through it, the miners started drifting northward on the vein. At the cutting of the Eva vein, the face depth is 500 feet.

The ore in the Eva vein is a glistening quartz carrying iron sulphide, which accompanies the gold. In some oxidized portions the gold is visible to the eye. Half of the vein is hard quartz, while the other half is softer ore. The vein is persistent and strong, and its discovery at such depth makes it a most valuable asset of the Copper Queen property.

LARGE ARIZONA ZINC MINE

Golconda Shipped in Year Just Closed 7,100 Tons of High-Grade Ore, Which Averaged 46 Per Cent, Netting $136,000.

Kingman, Ariz., Feb. 12.—Figures just completed by Manager Boyle for the production of the Golconda mine in 1909 show the tremendous proportions which zinc mining has assumed in Mohave county. From this mine alone there was shipped last year 7,100 tons of ore, netting $136,000. The ore averaged 46 per cent, making a total of 6,532,000 pounds of zinc actually produced, as against 631,000 pounds, or one-tenth as much, the preceding year. The Golconda is now shipping 900 tons of 45 per cent ore per month, or at the rate of about 8,000,000 pounds of zinc per annum, and the management estimates a similar rate of production from the adjoining Tub mine, where the preparations for mining of the past few months are about completed. Shipping will be started from the latter in a few days, and with the ore already on the dumps and exposed in the mine Mr. Boyle expects to bring its output to that of the Golconda within ninety days.

A remarkable feature of the steady output of the Golconda is that to date it has resulted entirely from the first lift of 235 feet. The mine is developed to a depth of 335 feet and the ore shoot exposed on the bottom level is wider and longer than ever, but no stoping has been attempted in this 100-foot block because of the difficulty in handling the large volume encountered without suitable machinery. Such machinery is being installed and will be operated from a central compressor plant on the Tub property. Ground in the latter is considerably harder than it is in the Golconda, and mining will be conducted with machine drills.

Work is just started on the Prosperity tunnel, which will cut the Golconda ledge 165 feet below the present bottom level and do away with hoisting. The problem of transportation, which more than anything else has limited production, is still unsettled.

As yet the railroad has taken no further action on the four-mile spur, a survey for which was made several months ago. In case it is not built, Mr. Boyle will put in a new road and add more freight teams. In the meantime the new tramway, which will eliminate the worst of the present wagon haul and will handle the products of both mines until the completion of the Prosperity tunnel, is being hurried and will be in commission about the first of March.

The C. O. D. mine, which has been idle for a number of years, is the latest of the old producers to resume operations. P. F. McLaughlin of Goldfield has associated himself with John Boyle, Jr., who has held an option on the property for some time, and is already on the ground for the preliminary work of cleaning. The C. O. D. is situated near Stockton hill and has yielded many hundred thousand dollars in lead and siler ores.

ARIZONA-MORENCI COMPANY

Financing of Mine Completed by Ex-Senator Stephen W. Dorsey in London—Vigorous Plan of Development to be Carried Out.

Clifton, Ariz., Feb. 12.—Ex-Senator Stephen W. Dorsey, who arrived in Clifton from London last week, has now successfully completed the financing of the Arizona-Morenci Copper company, which he organized to acquire the properties owned by the Copper Mines Company of Arizona. The Arizona-Morenci Copper company has been incorporated for 2,000,000 shares of a par value of $5 each. Five hundred thousand of these shares have been underwritten by the well known London stock brokerage firm of Spurling & Co., who pay the proceeds of this stock in stallments before Jan. 15, 1912. The remaining 1,500,000 shares have been placed in escrow with the Windsor Trust Company of New York until that date. The new corporation will have its head offices in London, with five directors in that city, who have not all been elected, but the Hon. Robert J. Wynne, ex-consul general of the United States, has been elected vice president of the company and will maintain the London office. The directors in the United States are Leonard H. Hole of the well-known banking firm of W. N. Coler & Co. of New York, Allan Cameron of New York, manager of the American business of the Canadian Pacific railroad; Gustavus Miller, a well known Philadelphia banker; George Rosch, a capitalist of Philadelphia; C. H. Humphreys, quartermaster general of the United States army, Washington, D. C., and Stephen W. Dorsey of Los Angeles. The development of the property is in the hands of a committee of management, composed of Leonard H. Cole, Allan Cameron and Stephen W. Dorsey, of which the latter is chairman.

The property owned by this company comprise 108 claims in the Clifton and Morenci districts, including valuable millsites, and has been located for over twenty years. These properties adjoin and abut onto the great mines of the Arizona Copper company, the Shannon mine and the Detroit mine, and the workings in these properties demonstrate the continuity of the ore bodies in the company's ground. Although the properties have been so long located, but little development work has been done, and this consisted mainly of small tunnels and shafts for the purpose of extracting high grade ore, which at various times have been shipped to the smelters. Under the present company a vigorous plan of development will be followed under the advice of Henry G. Catlin, consulting engineer of the company.

At present what are known as the Keystone and Celtic groups are being explored by two churn drills, each of which are capable of sinking to a depth of 500 feet. In numerous holes already sunk concentrating sulphide ore has been opened up, averaging from 2½ to 3¾ per cent copper. It is probable that the number of churn drills will in the near future be increased to six and at the same time underground work by tunnels and shafts will be carried out to connect the drill holes already put down and determine the extent of the ore bodies. The property is most favorably situated for transportation, as both the Detroit company's railroad and the Shannon company's railroad passes over the lands.

The advent of this company, with the large amount of capital at its disposal, into the Clifton and Morenci district, marks a new era of activity and development in this section.

COPPER OUTPUT CURTAILED

Big Operators Said to Be Working in Harmony for General Restriction of Production—Curtailment in Butte is 15 to 20 Per Cent—Condition of North Butte.

Butte, Mont., Feb. 12.—(Special to The Herald.)—Although all the causes that necessitated a suspension of operations at some of the mines in Butte were removed about the middle of January, the mines have not all been restored to normal operations and there seems to be an impression in Butte that the Amalgamated and allied companies intend to keep production down for sometime, as a result of an understanding with other large producers, the purpose being to clean up the surplus copper on the markets of the world. The January production by the Butte mines amounted to 19,224,200 pounds, according to semi-official figures, against 14,340,480 pounds in December. The normal monthly production runs from 28,000,000 to 30,000,0000 pounds. The big falling off for December was due to the strike of railroad switchmen and a shortage of fuel at the mines. These conditions also existed up to about Jan. 18, but since then normal conditions have prevailed. The average daily tonnage of ore, the yield of copper per ton, and the daily average production of copper were as follows in January:

Companies—	Tons of ore.	Pounds per ton.	Total Daily pounds.
Boston & Montana	2,500	70	175,000
Anaconda	3,450	61	210,450
Butte & Boston	300	62	18,090
Washoe	200	61	12,200
Parrott	125	64	8,000
Trenton	400	60	24,000
North Butte	1,200	70	84,000
Butte Coalition	1,600	65	104,000
Original	600	66	39,600

Curtailing the Output.

The policy of conservation of copper ore, about which there has been much talk since the movement for a general copper merger was begun, seems to have already been inaugurated, if operations in the Butte district are an indication of the general policy. There seems to be an impression locally that the big operators are working in harmony for a general restriction of production. The curtailment in Butte amounts to 15 to 20 per cent. Mining men say ore is worth more in the ground than copper on the market at 13 cents. The Butte Coalition company is employing about 200 men less than it did two months ago, when 1,200 men were working in the Rarus, Tramway and Minnie Healey mines. Every other company in the district has contributed its proportion to the curtailment, and some of them more than the average ratio. Advantage is being taken of the period of dullness to make many improvements and repairs at properties. The West Colusa mine of the Boston & Montana company has been closed since the first of December while alterations were being made in the shaft. This work has been completed and work on the property has been resumed. The West Colusa ordinarily employs about 450 men and is one of the big producers of the Boston & Montana company. The High Ore of the Anaconda company was closed for a while and the repairs there being finished, the property has been started up again and the Diamond and Bell, two of the largest mines of the Anaconda company, have been shut down. A new steel rope will be put in at the Bell, and changes will be made on the engine. It is probable that the mines will remain closed for ten days.

North Butte.

There have been no changes in the conditions at the North Butte mine to warrant the further great slump in that stock. There is little information about the property available, but it is admitted that the new levels at the 2,000 and 3,200 in the Edith May and the 2,200 in the Jessie continue to show up very poorly, and all the ore coming from those levels is second class. It seems to be the understanding that the company will sink deeper, but as to this nothing can be said officially or authoritatively. There have been many and all sorts of rumors and stories out as to the intention of the company. One is that the Anaconda company will run a crosscut at a depth of 2,890 feet either from the Diamond or High Ore into the Edith May for the North Butte, but a later story is that instead of the crosscut a drill hole will be made first. While these stories came from a good source they are denied very emphatically by officers of the Anaconda company, who say the Anaconda will not do any work for the North Butte. It is therefore possible that the North Butte will do the work itself. It already has connections with the High Ore at the 2,200-foot level.

British-Butte.

The British-Butte company has again suspended operations on its placer property west of Butte, and Col. M. H. De Hora has brought suit against the company for $22,000 as salary for acting as manager during twenty-two months. The big dredge of the company was shut down last October, when De Hora resigned, and the only work that has been done since was in boring from the bottom of the 700-foot shaft. The bore reached a depth of 1,205 feet when work was stopped. The company now plans to place a mortgage for $226,000 on the property.

Ida-Montana.

The stockholders of the Ida-Montana Mining company, at a special meeting, voted to sell the property to a new company to be organized in Calu-

AT THE LAKE COPPER MINES

Bohemia Company Starts Work on Henwood Tract—Lake Actively Engaged in Creating Lateral Openings—Mass Planning to Diamond Drill the Eastern Portion of Its Property.

Houghton, Mich., Feb. 12.—(Special to The Herald.)—The most important developments in the district are those being had in the several "Little Lakes" in Ontonagon county. The latest company to begin active operations is the Bohemia Mining company a new organization having the regular Michigan capitalization, 100,000 shares of the par value of $25. The new company has 75,000 shares of stock outstanding and 25,000 shares in the treasury, in addition to $160,000 in cash received from the sale of treasury stock. The new company, the management of which is closely identified with that of the several properties lying immediately southwest, is operating on the so-called Henwood tract of 950 acres, lying in the horizon of the Lake and Indiana lodes. The first work planned by the new company is diamond drilling, in which the eastern portion of the property will be tested for values and an attempt made to locate the so-called Indiana and Lake lodes.

Lake.

The Lake Copper company continues actively engaged in the creation of lateral openings and activity in that direction is increasing. The company is maintaining steady shipments of rock to the Franklin stamp mill, but as yet no attempt is being made to force production. The mill returns on this rock continue sensationally high, being in the neighborhood of sixty pounds fine copper per ton of rock milled, or nearly double of that secured by the Calumet & Hecla from its famous Calumet conglomerate and Osceola amygdaloid lodes and heretofore far and ahead the richest mine of the district. Operations in the new epidote lode, underlying the Lake bed, have temporarily ceased, the work at that point interfering with operations in the upper workings. Shaft sinking below the sixth level is again in progress. The general situation in the Lake mine shows no great change from that noted in the past, though an exception may be made of the fourth level north drift, where recent developments show ground of extraordinary richness and closely rivaling the showing made on the level above where much the best ground yet opened in the Lake mine is in evidence.

Indiana.

Indiana's No. 2 diamond drill hole has attained a depth of somewhat over 1,700 feet and is now bottomed in trap rock after passing through what apparently is two lodes separated by about 100 feet of barren rock. The first, or Indiana lode, so-called, was found to be forty feet wide and very rich, and is apparently separated from the second lode found nearly 100 feet below and quite as rich as the first below. The second lode was found to be twenty-five feet wide. The company has arranged to put a second drill hole through these lodes at a point about 600 feet southwest of the No. 2 hole, and the drilling in rock there should be in progress in a few days.

Mass.

The activity of the Mass Consolidated Mining company continues centered in opening work in the Evergreen bed as also in the so-called new lode disclosed by diamond drilling a year ago. Neither bed is showing much encouragement. The company is planning to diamond drill the eastern portion of its property in search of the southerly extension of the Lake and Indiana lodes.

Isle Royale.

Isle Royale is again operating well up to capacity in the Isle Royale lode, in which operations for a time curtailed, owing to the unsatisfactory conditions existing there. Drifting is again in progress at several points in the newer shafts and though some very nice ground is being had, it is on the whole variable. Over on the Baltic lode, drifting at the third level continues without interruption and without much encouragement. The shaft is sinking steadily below the fourth level. The company is milling at the rate of 1,700 tons daily, all rock being taken from the Isle Royale lode. A recovery of about fifteen pounds fine copper per ton of rock is being had.

Mohawk.

Mohawk's crosscut in the No. 6 shaft has passed through the lode and further work there has temporarily ceased, and all activity at that point is now centered in shaft sinking. The ground exposed by the crosscut is very rich. Drifting within the lode at this level is expected to begin within another week or ten days.

Baltic.

The No. 3 drill hole on the new Baltic property has attained a depth of about 260 feet. There have been no particular developments in this hole, which is expected to encounter the northerly extension of the so-called new Baltic lode at a depth of 600 feet, though it is noted that the character of the overlying trap rock is much the same as that noted in No. 2 hole, in which the sensational discovery on this property was made.

PREPARING FOR PRODUCTION

Seven Hundred Feet Underground Work Now Being Done Every Month at the Inspiration—Tunnel Driven to Extract the Ores —Miami Uncovering Good Sulphides in Schist.

Globe, Ariz., Feb. 12.—The development work at the Inspiration Copper company's property is being carried on in the usual energetic manner and the preparations for the production of ore are much in evidence at various points. Over 700 feet of underground work is being done each month in drifts, raised and tunnels and a large part of this is blocking out the ore body already developed.

A tunnel from Keystone Gulch, nearly 2,000 feet southwest of the main ore body, is being driven, however, to furnish a cheap means of extracting the ore. The extraction tunnel will be continued from its present length to the ore body extending a few hundred feet southwest of the Joe Bush shaft, and from this point the ore will be mined northward and westward to the Scorpion shaft and southward to the western limit of the ore body which is over 2,000 feet southeast of the latter shaft. The drills are still at work in the block of ground south of this and west of the Joe Bush shaft, and as the ore developed by the drills and underground workings appears to form a huge block it is likely that the entire body will be mined by the "glory hole" method similar to that employed at the Mammoth copper mine in Northern California and that other mines having similar deposits to this one. As the overburden is too great to be stoped from the ore, the ore can be more cheaply mined by stoping and carrying from the upper portion of the deposit to the level of the extraction tunnel, the overburden being supported by timbering, while the ore lying immediately underneath is being extracted and lowered through winzes to the tunnel where the ore cars are loaded from chutes. While this system requires many timbers, the great saving in labor makes the cost of production low and the rate of extraction rapid. The hard granite-porphyry in which the tunnel work is being done makes the advance slow, but as good headway is being made as can be expected by means of hand drilling and in a short time the large compressor will be in use at this tunnel and the work will be thus greatly facilitated. The concrete foundation for this compressor is already set and the 100-horse power boilers, two in number, will also be installed within the next week or so, as the building and foundations for these have been practically finished. With a force of 160 men employed, the work of installing the underground development work is being rushed. A new 60-horse power hoist is being installed at the Joe Bush shaft, and with this in commission, sinking may be resumed to greater depth. Living accommodations at the Inspiration camp are being expanded to afford shelter and board for the increased working force and this work will be continued until the difficulty in finding suitable accommodations for employes is wholly eliminated. The camp has already assumed an appearance similar to that of the other foremost mines of the Globe district, and should eventually compare favorably in this respect with any of these.

At the Miami.

Three churn drills are now drilling on the Miami Copper company's ground and each one has penetrated ore-bearing schist with a satisfactory showing of sulphide of copper. As these holes are located at the extreme southwestern boundary of the company's property, near the Inspiration and Cordova, the chances are favorable for an increase in the estimated ore body of 14,000,000 tons. Though part of the ground between the main ore body and the drill locations is known to be practically barren of copper sulphide at a depth of 370 feet, where an exploratory drift is being driven, the drills are exploring an ore body hitherto unproven. The roads for the migration of the drills from one location to another are being extended both north and south from the Warrior line to that of the Cordova Copper company. With this number of drills and the efficiency of those in charge, the character of the formation west of the main workings will have been determined within the next few months. The development of the main ore body is progressing at the usual rapid rate, additional drifts and raises being continually begun and advanced without delay. As the bulk of this work is being done by contract, no time is lost in cutting the ore body into blocks in readiness for actual extraction. The No. 4 shaft, through which the ore will be raised, is being sunk at the rate of twenty-five feet a day, through conglomerate. At the present time its dept is 580 feet. Preparations for erecting the steel work of the concentrator are under way, the machinery necessary for handling this heavy material having been put in place for service. The frames for the concrete walls and foundations of the power house on the flat below the concentrator are being built, and the cement to be used is stored nearby in a warehouse, so that it will be available when the mixing plant has been finished. Some of the machinery to be used here is already on the ground and the work of setting it up will, no doubt, begin in the near future. A number of houses are under construction at the eastern part of the Miami property, to accommodate the employes during the future operations.

SENDING ORES TO SMELTER

Superior & Boston Begins Shipments—Fifty Tons Per Day For Starter—Sinking of McGaw Shaft Below Sixth Level Under Way.

Globe, Ariz., Feb. 12.—Last Monday the Superior & Boston mine began shipping ore to the Arizona Commercial smelter. The daily shipments will at first aggregate not less than fifty tons. It is estimated that this ore will run about 9 per cent copper.

Preparatory to continuing work on the pump station sump at the 600-foot level of the McGaw shaft, the sinking of the McGaw to a depth of thirty-five feet below the sixth level is under way. As soon as the 35-foot point is reached sinking will be discontinued temporarily and work on the crosscut which is to form the pump station sump at that level will be resumed. This pump station sump will have a capacity of 30,000 gallons of water and by means of it the pump foundation should be kept perfectly dry and firm. Two raises are being put up on the Great Eastern ore body from the sixth level drift. One of these raises, located about seventy-five feet west of the Great Eastern winze, measures about thirty feet. The other winze, at a point about 100 feet east of the Great Eastern winze, is up about twenty-five feet. Both these winzes have been continually in ore running about 9 per cent copper. It is expected by the management that they will continue in ore until the intermediate level ninety feet above is reached.

The sinking of the Great Eastern winze has been resumed from a point

THE SANTA ROSALIA MINES

Old Directors Elected at Annual Meeting—Shaft to Be Sunk to 600 Level—Will Construct 200-Ton Reduction Plant.

Douglas, Ariz., Feb. 12.—Plans of operation for the Santa Rosalia mines in Sonora, which recently made a shipment of rich ore to Douglas, were formed for another year at the annual meeting held recently at Bisbee.

The same board of directors that served through 1909 were re-elected for the coming year. F. J. Kohlhaas, Henry Hill and William M. Harris all of Calumet, Mich., were in Bisbee and attended the meeting. Kolhhaas was elected treasurer; Henry Hill, second vice president and director; and William Harris, director. C. I. McKeynolds and R. K. Clancy are both on the board and B. F. Daggett of San Francisco, was re-elected to his position of secretary.

Reports were made of the condition of the mine which were highly satisfactory to the stockholders. A large tonnage of high and medium grade ore has been developed and a shipment of the high grade has been made to the smelters. This shipment brought very large returns.

It was decided to get the reduction plant on the ground and in operation as soon as possible. The plant will have a capacity of 200 tons a day and enough ore has been developed to keep the mill running steadily for three years.

It was decided not to ship any more ore, but to hold it all at the mine as it is taken out. All grades of the ore will be mixed and run through the mill. It is the intention to mix it so that it will run in the neighborhood of $20 to $25 per ton. That will give a gross return of from $4,000 to $5,000. per day.

The reason that no more high grade ores will be shipped is that the expense of transportation is very high and is a dead loss to the company. By concentrating the ore at the mines, a saving of from $70 to $90 a ton will be made. The transportation expenses on the car amounted to $2,400.

The directors voted to make the final payment on the property at once and list the stock on both the New York and Boston curbs. They decided to begin further development, and the shaft will be sunk to the 600-foot level as soon as it can be done, for there is every indication of large ore bodies existing at a greater depth than those already opened up.

Mr. Hill, the second vice president, has made three trips to the property and he is more pleased than ever with what he saw last week. He, like everyone else, who has seen the mine within the past month, is of the opinion that the Santa Rosalia is destined to be a greater mine now than it ever was in its palmiest days.

CHURN DRILL AT WARRIOR

Hole on Long View Claim Being Sunk in Schist—Superior & Globe Installs More Hoists—Williams Shaft Well Mineralized.

Globe, Ariz., Feb. 12.—From 75 to 80 tons of 10 per cent chrysocolla ore continue to be shipped daily from the Warrior mine to the El Paso smelter. Most of this ore is being taken from the stopes on the 250-foot level.

The long drift driven west on the 300-foot level of the Warrior mine has advanced into Block No. 40. The breast of this drift is about 300 feet from where the main ore body has been stoped extensively. This west drift has continued for its entire distance in ore of excellent commercial grade. The first hole being put down by the Star churn drill on the Long View claim is attaining depth rapidly and is being sunk in scalst. The churn drill work on the Warrior property should eventually develop chalcocite, as geological conditions are favorable thereto.

The installation of a 60-horse power gasoline hoist at the Superior & Globe shaft is nearly completed and will be ready for use within the next week. A skip will be operated in the shaft and the rock to be hoisted will be loaded into cars and hoisted to the surface on the skip. The crosscuts on the 650-foot level are now over 100 feet long and still in diabase. Only a small amount of water is present in the workings and the formation is solid and hard. The work is being done by contract, one Sargent air drill being employed in each crosscut. If the Yuma vein shows up satisfactorily at this level, where the north crosscut will intersect it about 200 feet from the shaft, sinking will probably be resumed soon afterward to a much greater depth. The new hoist is capable of operating the skip to a depth of at least 1,000 feet, so that in case of deeper sinking of the shaft, the hoist will in all probability be used in the future operations, unless it is desired to employ two skips, in which case a new hoist will eventually explore two veins having the same general strike as the Yuma and passing through this property and that of the Globe Mining company. From surface indications, these should prove of importance to these two companies. The Superior & Globe Copper company employs about twenty-five men.

The Williams shaft of the National Mining Exploration company's Copper Hill property is 530 feet deep and in copper-stained quartzite at the lower portion. A station is being cut at a depth of 530 feet, but no crosscutting will be done at this depth until further sinking of the shaft has intersected an ore body. The green stain in the quartzite formation at the bottom of the shaft, associated with a large amount of iron, is encouraging for the striking of a vein estimated to lie at a slightly greater depth. Twenty men are employed steadily in development work by Supt. H. W. Woodward.

MINING IN THE BLACK HILLS

Silver City Mining Company Organized By St. Paul and Minneapolis Men to Work in Central Hills—Homestake Making Good Progress.

Deadwood, S. D., Feb. 12.—A new company known as the Silver City Mining company, has been organized to work in the Central hills, in a section hitherto neglected. The company takes over the property of Mark Dugan on Rapid Creek, consisting of 130 acres, on which considerable private development has been done. The company is capitalized at $1,000,000, with 100,000 shares. It is composed largely of Lead, Minneapolis and St. Paul men. The officers are: President D. G. Barringer, St. Paul; vice president, George H. Stevens, Lead; secretary, L. D. Ballor, Lead; and treasurer, J. J. Morrow, Lead. Dugan spent over $30,000 on the property in the early days. The average values are about $10 a ton gold.

There are other good properties in the Rapid Creek section that are at present lying idle. The Grand View, owned by L. A. Richards and associates; the Diana, owned by John Gorham and others, and the Lady of the Hills owned by the Morrow brothers, are in this class.

The Custer Peak Mining company has opened up what appears to be an extension of its main copper ledge on the 250-foot level. The new body was found near the surface.

Eli Cindel, formerly one of the foremen of the property, has assumed management of the Safe Investment Mining company's property at Novak, south of here. He succeeds J. A. Webb.

The Westinghouse Electric company, which controls the mica properties around Custer, proposes to double its present working force and to increase its output.

The Anaconda company, working on Elk Creek, has reached the 300-foot level in its shaft, and proposes to continue to the 500-foot level.

The Homestake management continues to make staisfactory progress. It has two mills and two hoists, with nearly 500 stamps in constant operation. Miners and shovellers are being imported daily from Joplin and Colorado and put to work as fast as they arrive. The company hopes within thirty days to be running at full capacity. It has no trouble with the union men who are locked out. The other companies that signed the non-union agreement, it is understood, will not attempt to resume until the Homestake company is running about full in good shape. Many union men are leaving rather than sign as non-union.

The Black Hills Development & Financial corporation, whose promotion is now being completed by R. Bunce of London, has just issued a new prospectus covering its entire holdings in the Hills of forty-two properties. Especial attention is given to the old Iron Hill, on which the sensational boom of the '80s was founded and from which much of the ore was taken. The time limit for closing the deal has been placed at April 1.

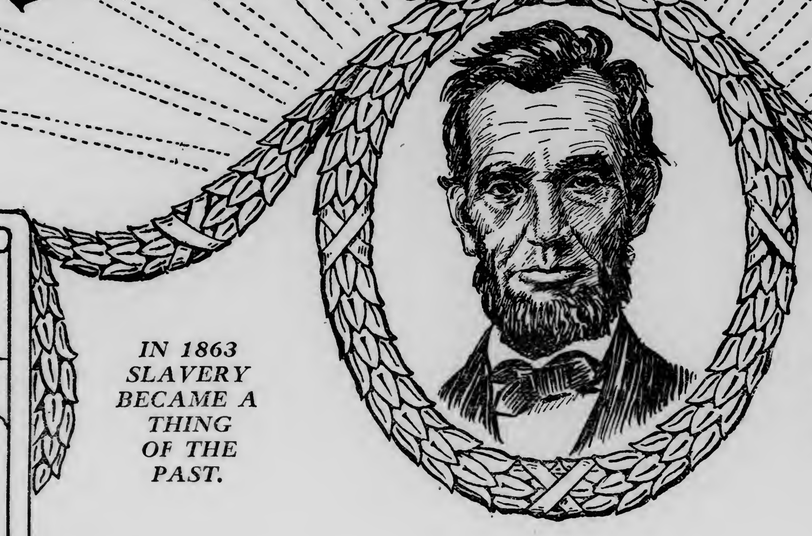

The Wasp No. 2 Mining company has lost one of its two mills on Yellow creek, near this city by fire; loss $65,000; insurance $40,000. The fire was accidental.

The Octavia Mining Company in the Custer Peak district is preparing to purchase a hoisting plant with funds raised some time ago, at a cost of about $20,000. The company is composed of Lead Finlanders, and has been developing a gold bearing quartz ledge. It is also preparing to develop the extension of the big copper bearing ledge opened up on the Custer Peak property, to the east of the Octavia ground.

PROCLAMATION OF THE EMANCIPATION OF

The SLAVES of The HOUSEHOLD

·1863·

IN 1863 SLAVERY BECAME A THING OF THE PAST.

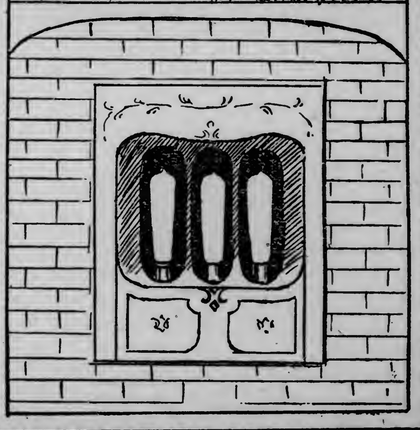

IN 1910 DRUDGERY WAS ELIMINATED FROM THE HOME.

·1910·

ON THIS, the anniversary of the birth of the Great Emancipator, it is fitting to dwell upon a later-day emancipation—that of the untold millions who ever since the commencement of intelligent life on this earth have been struggling for freedom against the two great bondmasters of the human race—Darkness and Cold. Against these two a never-ending war has been waged from the first flickering dawn of civilization down to the present day. Darkness and Cold have given modern mankind a greater struggle even than that for the mastery of the air, thousands of insufficient weapons have been designed to grapple with them, thousands of lives have been sacrificed to and through them. But the day of makeshifts is past. Victory has declared Herself—the proclamation of the Emancipation of the Slaves of the Household is written and signed—Darkness and cold still exist, it is true, but no longer as Masters—as our slaves! Modern Electrical appliances are the weapons that have given us the victory. Now at the snap of a switch our streets and houses flash at midnight with the brightness of mid-day. In the dead of winter we imprison the warm, glowing sunlight in our hearths to come or go instantly at our command, graduated so that we may revel in the temperature of the torrid or the temperate climes at will. We have at our service the perfection of heat—ready at a moment, as readily extinguished, safe and healthful, the former danger of having our servant turn against us to destroy us and our homes need no longer trouble us, the perfection of present-day insulation has reduced it to the extreme minimum.

We Have Emancipated the Slaves of the Ironing Board

No longer need they trudge from blazing stove to steaming board with heavy, red-hot irons a hundred times each ironing day. The electric iron gives them just the heat they require in the one iron, without moving a step—the temperature is even both in the room and in the iron!

We Have Emancipated the Slaves of the Furnace and Coal Stove

No longer need they drag load after load of dusty coal up countless flights of stairs, filling their eyes, their lungs, their clothes and their houses with coal dust and, later, with deadly gases and unconsumed carbon. A turn of an ebony button gives them, at a moment's notice the soft warm glow of the summer sun. Another turn extinguishes it and prevents all waste.

We Have Emancipated the Slaves of the Cook Stove

No longer need they toil for weary hours over blazing, dirty stoves, in overheated rooms, preparing food, which is filled with the impurities caused by the means of its preparation. A dainty electrical cooking cabinet, with a supply of electrical appliances will do the work quicker, without waste and in absolute cleanliness. All the cooking necessary for a light meal can be done on the dining table itself with the minimum expenditure of heat-energy and labor.

We Have Emancipated the Slaves of the Lamp and the Gas-Jet

'No longer need they clean, trim and fill their unending cycle of vile-smelling and ill-lighting oil lamps. No longer need they fill their houses with escaping coal gas, vitiating the atmosphere of their homes by burning an open flame to rob them of their urgently-needed oxygen. The Tungsten bulb gives them in a moment a brilliant, searching, pure white light that burns no oxygen, gives off no effluvia, can be centered on any desired spot and causes the least possible eye-strain at far less total expense than any of the old, injurious methods of lighting.' The list of the emancipated is endless—true, not all have availed themselves of their emancipation. That will take time and knowledge; many of them have not yet become familiar with the extent and absoluteness of their freedom, but at least all who live in this city may cast off the shackles of their allegiance to the old, task-masters of mankind; they may read the articles of their independence at any time by paying a visit to the Heating and Lighting Headquarters of Duluth:—

LINCOLN.

Lincoln's birthday is a legal holiday in Minnesota and in twenty-one other states, and all over the country it is recognized by more or less perfunctory observance. It occurs to us that its celebration should be more marked than it is, because Lincoln stands for liberty, and there never has been a time in the history of this country when it needed liberty more than it does today. Lincoln emancipated the black slaves. The United States today needs an emancipator who will free the slaves of all the colors, creeds and races that are gathered on this continent from the oppressions of economic tyranny.

What would Lincoln think today, if he could revisit the republic to save which he gave the utmost of his great soul, and finally laid down his life, a martyr to the cause of freedom? He would find the senate of the United States controlled absolutely by an Aldrich, and the house of representatives controlled as absolutely by a Cannon. He would find these two men to be not mere usurpers of power for personal glorification, but the vice regents of a system of Special Privilege to which they have prostituted the people's congress. He would find in the presidency a man who unctuously declares a wretched piece of bad faith and corruption and betrayal to be the "best tariff law ever enacted"; a man who professes that he favors progressive legislation but who seeks to further that legislation by the instrumentality of men whose every instinct and association makes them enemies of progress and high priests of the god of things as they are; a man who refused to interfere while the fair promises of himself and his party on the tariff were being brutally and openly mocked, but who did interfere to secure the re-election to the speakership of a man who has turned the popular branch of congress into a shameful tool of Special Privilege, and who did interfere to prevent the adoption of an income tax law whereby the burden of taxation might be lifted from the shoulders of the poor and placed upon the shoulders of the rich.

Lincoln would find the common people, for whose welfare his great heart yearned, heavily burdened and oppressed by powerful greed; he would find them harrassed by a high cost of living contrived, with the machinery of the people's congress, that a few may reap riches that put to shame the paltry fortunes of the rich men of history; he would find workers receiving for their toil such a slight proportion of the fruits of that toil that the problem of mere living is the greatest problem in the country; he would find the whole machinery of business devoted to the production of rich dividends for a few, with labor underpaid and human life the cheapest thing in the country; he would find the party which made him president and by whose agency he was enabled to enforce freedom prostituted to the practical enslavement of a whole people for the satisfaction of a greedy few; he would find an autocracy of big business far more oppressive, far more powerful and far more menacing to the republic than the autocracy of slaveholders whose power he ended.

Lincoln would find these conditions if he could return today; and if he did, he could say nothing that would be more to the point than what he said at Gettysburg forty-six years ago:

> It is rather for us to be here dedicated to the great task remaining before us;  that we here highly resolve that these dead shall not have died in vain; that this nation, under God, SHALL HAVE A NEW BIRTH OF FREEDOM; and that government of the people, by the people, for the people, shall not perish from the earth.

To a restatement of that high resolve should every Lincoln's birthday be consecrated; and never was there a time in the history of the country when such a consecration was more needed than it is today.

THE "ROCHESTER MOVEMENT."

Each community supports schools and churches, with buildings for their purposes as adequate and sightly as can be afforded. The church building is used perhaps six hours each Sunday, two hours Thursday evening, and perhaps a few hours more in each week; or possibly 600 hours out of the year's total of 8,760 hours. The school buildings are used seven hours a day, five days in the week, during eight to ten months of each year, or about 1,200 hours out of the year's 8,760. The rest of the time church buildings and school buildings are idle.

There is waste, here; great waste. A business enterprise with the amount of capital tied up in its plant that Duluth has tied up in schools and churches would go into the hands of a receiver in six months if it used its plant no more than the churches and schools are used. Some time these buildings will be used much more than they are now. Some time society will insist that the capital it has invested in such buildings shall yield larger dividends in public service than it yields now.

Two years ago delegates from eleven organizations, representing 50,000 citizens of Rochester, united in the School Extension committee and asked for an appropriation for equipping one school building with gymnasiums, baths, library, game and reading rooms. They wanted to keep the school open every evening for the use of the people; three evenings each week for the men and boys, two evenings for the women and girls, and one evening for an entertainment, to be followed by a social hour for everybody. The committee got what it wanted, and the experiment was so successful that the appropriation in the second year was doubled, and three buildings were equipped and opened.

The school in which the movement began is surrounded by a very mixed population. Natives and foreigners, wealthy and poor, all sorts of people live around it. To a great degree, too, all kinds of people assisted in making the experiment a success, and participated in its privileges.

For instance, the first civic club formed—there are now seventeen in all parts of the city—included among its officers a well-to-do physician, a journeyman printer, a banker and a labor leader. The officers of one of the women's civic clubs include a negress, two Jewesses, two Catholics, a Unitarian and a Presbyterian. From the beginning there has been absolutely no limitation upon freedom of discussion, and the clubs have uniformly shown a desire to have every question presented from both sides. For instance, when Gompers, Mitchell and Morrison were convicted a labor leader presented the union side one evening, and the next evening a leading manufacturer defended the court. The discussions cover an unlimited variety of subjects, and they have proved of vast benefit in awakening and informing a local public spirit.

Surely such uses of the public school buildings —and churches, too—is better than having them idle and useless during the greater part of the time. Duluth will do well to consider this aspect of the popular subject of conservation, involving as it does making use out of waste, and turning public institutions to vastly important new purposes at slight cost.

VERY MUCH TO THE POINT.

The Brooks-Scanlon company owns a logging road which parallels Lake Superior a few miles back. It useful for its original purpose is about ended, and its owners were on the point of abandoning it when it was suggested to them that they were neglecting potentialities of business that might make their line permanently valuable. This potential business lies in the soil; and with such a market as Duluth and such a soil as that over which this railroad runs, the belief that there is profitable business for a railroad is buttressed by plenty of sound reason.

This railroad taps the oldest, best developed and most populous part of the farming sections of St. Louis county. When the last state census showed that only sixteen out of the eighty-four counties of Minnesota contained more farmers than did St. Louis county, it was the territory tapped by the Brooks-Scanlon road that made that showing possible. The road reaches the old townships of Herman, Solway, Canosia, Gnesen and Duluth, in which there are settlers who have farmed for a generation. Development is only partial, and none of those who have contributed to it have become rich, because of a lack of proper communication with the market.

The railroad officials have shown a willingness to be convinced. The Commercial club is preparing to make a census that should be convincing. There are great possibilities in this plan for Duluth, for its nearby soil, and for the railroad.

WORK, THE GREAT MEDICINE.

Dr. H. J. Hall, writing in the Journal of the American Medical association, preaches the virtues of the work cure for the great group of human ailments more or less loosely described as neurasthenic. He tells how he began experimenting with the work cure about five years ago, and he says that while he has had some tough cases, every one of them has been greatly helped, and nearly all of them completely cured, by work.

That may seem somewhat absurd to the person who believes that his nervous condition is due to exhaustion from overwork; but it sounds like good common sense. Where the nervous patient errs is in supposing that his trouble is due to overwork. It isn't, in nine cases out of ten; it is far more likely that it is due to worry, especially worry about himself and his physical condition.

The neurasthenic leads an unhappy life, and it does not lighten his burden that he gets little sympathy, especially little from those with coarse fibers whose imaginations cannot grasp the reality of "nerves." We say "he" for convenience; more often it is "she". He is subject to all kinds of fears—fear of closed places, fear of open places, fear of contagion, fear of insanity, fear of many things—even fear of fear itself. He constantly imagines himself afflicted with all kinds of ailments. He is hypochondriac, pessimistic, doubtful; he lacks confidence in himself, hesitates to make up his mind, fears to trust his own decisions. His condition makes him think much of himself, thinking makes his condition worse, the increase in his disorder makes him think still more about himself, and that adds to his sufferings. It is a vicious circle that, once started, it is pretty hard to break.

Medicine won't help him, unless he takes it with such faith in its effect as to break up the mental influence under which he suffers. What is needed is something to break that vicious circle, and to get himself to thinking about something besides himself. Change will do that; if he has money—and very often the neurasthenic is well-to-do or better —he can travel and thus get the distraction he needs. Change of scenes, change of environments —anything to get his morbid mind off his own condition. So largely mental is that condition that Christian Science, psychotherapy, even the hocus-pocus of magic, if he believes in it, may destroy it and restore a normal balance.

The suggestion of work is as good as another, providing a clear distinction is made between work and drudgery. That may cause the sufferer who is working every day to smile gloomily; but work will help him, too. What he needs is work that is different from his daily task; a hobby that will interest him and keep his hands and mind busy. If the sufferer is a clerk or a bookkeeper or anybody who uses his brain much rather than his hands, let him put his hands at work. A chest of carpenter's tools, a wagon load of lumber, an attic fixed up as a workroom—there is a prescription that may do more good than all the contents of all the drug stores in town. The chief trouble with the neurasthenic is that he thinks too much about himself. If he will keep his bodily tone up by plenty of fresh air, good food, outdoor exercise, daily baths and correct habits, and give his mind something to work upon besides his symptoms, he will struggle out of the Slough of Despond and find firm footing on the heights of hope, courage and good cheer.

This is a real prescription for a real ailment. To say that the condition for which Dr. Hall prescribes work is unreal because it is largely mental is to state an untruth. It is real, because the victim suffers, and he would gladly trade his so-called "imaginary" troubles for a real ache or pain that he could grapple with—always providing, of course, that it didn't represent anything fatal; for your neurasthenic, with all his gloomy fears and doubts, clings to life as jealously as any, and usually outlives those whose sufferings are more tangible.

THE TALE OF A COMET'S TAIL.

Comet "A1910" having made its bow and departed beyond the ken of man, the boy in uniform has hung alongside the stage a card showing that the next number on the program is Halley's comet, which is about to play a return engagement after an absence of seventy-five years in the solar provinces; so the audience sits expectantly, awaiting its appearance.

Meanwhile, in order to quicken the anticipation of the public, some of the astronomers are playing the part of press agent in a very effective manner. Camille Flammarion, the French astronomer who is most known in this country through the pages of the yellow journal's Sunday "magazine" part, assures us that on May 19 the earth will be swept by the tail of the comet.

That is interesting indeed, especially as the average spectator doesn't know just what a comet's tail is made of, and whether or not it will hurt to be swept by it.

Next comes Prof. Edwin Booth, vaguely described as "of California," and as "a well known expert on spectrum analysis," and bids us tremble. He says the comet's tail is made out of cyanogen gas, and that if enough of that gas mixes with the earth's atmosphere the union would form "the deadly gas known as hydrocyanic acid, which is the most deadly poison known to science, and which means death for all animals."

"If the astronomers are right in their estimate of the amount of cyanogen gas in the tail of the comet," cheerfully continues Prof. Booth, "and if the vapors of that body do envelop the earth, we may have a chance to feel the sensations of the bugs and insects which are killed by the use of this deadly gas as an exterminator."

Humanity may be a good deal of nuisance sometimes, but we are reluctant to believe that Providence has found us such a pest that it is likely to destroy us with a "bug exterminator". That would be a crowning humiliation indeed.

On the whole, we vastly prefer to listen to Prof. Burckhalter of the Chabot university, Oakland, and moreover he has the distinction of being associated with an institution whereby we may know him and pin faith in his predictions greater than we have in those of the unattached Prof. Booth. He stoutly maintains that there is very little gas in the comet's tail, and that people have nothing to fear.

Still more cheering information comes from Prof. W. J. Husey, astronomer of the University of Michigan. We had been about to work up a feeling of confidence and security based on a belief that the earth will not be destroyed by a comet's tail for the good reason that it never has been destroyed by a comet's tail. Comes Prof. Husey, however, to tell us that the earth has been swept by comets' tails before, and nobody was any the worse for it. He says the comet is 14,000,000 miles away, and the gas from it won't be enough to be noticed. "It would be like adding one molecule of gas to a large room," he says. "There cannot be any possible danger even to an insect. You will find fifty times more of the same gas in any chemical laboratory."

Halley's comet never visited the earth before without scaring a lot of people half to death, and maybe it will scare some this time. But it is much pleasanter, if less exciting, to refuse to believe that there can be any harm in being swept by the tail of a comet that is 14,000,000 miles away.

MARRYING ON $2,000 A YEAR.

Rev. Wright Gibson, pastor of the Presbyterian church of McKees Rocks, Pa., has announced that he will refuse to marry any couple where the prospective husband has an income of less than $2,000 a year. He explains his position this way: "Poverty leads to divorce, and I do not propose to assist the divorce cause."

While there is much to be said against marriage on slender incomes, there is this also to be said: if Mr. Gibson's rule were made universal in this country there would be very few marriages. Two thousand dollars a year isn't a large income in these days, but it is larger than most people earn in this country. The average wage in manufacturing, for instance, isn't much over $400 a year. An income of $2,000 a year is $6.67 a day for a man employed 300 days a year; and the trades that pay that much are few indeed. It is $166.67 a month; and not many clerical positions pay so much. The average income in this country is much nearer $500 a year than $2,000 a year; and if Mr. Gibson's rule became law, and were obeyed, marriage would become about as close a monopoly as prosperity is now.

And there is something else that should be said of Mr. Gibson's idea, too: while poverty may help toward divorce in some cases, wealth makes ten divorces where poverty makes one. To be sure, statistics to support that statement are not available. Other things besides poverty or riches enter into most divorces. There are couples temperamentally so unharmonious that they couldn't get along whether they were rich or poor. But we stand confidently to the statement that where divorce is solely, or even largely, a question of poverty or riches, money is a greater divorce provoker than poverty, ten times over.

NOT NARROW MINDED, BUT WANT FAIR PLAY.

In your editorial of yesterday referring to the franchise of the Canadian Northern railway you say, "The city should not, of course, make undue sacrifices to get it, but it has not been made to appear that it is making any undue sacrifice whatever." This statement is probably true. The sacrifice is being placed upon a few who own property in the immediate vicinity of this proposed right-of-way. The railway company have selected what in its opinion, is the best route for its purposes without any regard whatever for the interests of the residents along the right-of-way. The law as construed compels them to pay only for the land actually abutting the railroad. It is not disputed that it will damage residence property in the immediate vicinity anywhere from 20 to 50 per cent and owners are informed that they have no legal remedy and these people when they object to this injustice are designated as narrow-minded and selfish and their expressed objections are characterized as neighborhood quarrels, etc.

It is true that there are people in West Duluth that like the rest of the citizens of Duluth are not damaged directly by this railroad. Why should they not be in favor of it? Then there are others who have sold properties to the railroad on contracts upon which they cannot collect unless the present right-of-way is used; they also are interested. And others again have been retained by the railroad company. Their work for the railroad would be entirely proper were it not for the fact that they do not appear as employes of the railroad, but pose as disinterested citizens of West Duluth.

As citizens of Duluth we are all in favor of the Canadian Northern railway and all railroads. We want as many as possible and the city as a whole should be willing to make some sacrifices to get railroads, but the citizens should not demand that a very small proportion of the population should be compelled to stand all the sacrifice required in connection with new railroads. The wholesaler, the merchant, the manufacturer and city of Duluth as a whole will be benefited greatly by this railway. Why should not all these people be in favor of it? But is it therefore reasonable and proper to designate the person as unreasonable who objects to a direct damage to him of from 30 to 50 per cent in reduced value of his property. These people were there first and built their homes at a time when they could not forsee the coming of this railroad and if this particular route is so great a saving to the railroad why should they not remunerate to a reasonable extent, those who are damaged. Personally I am the owner of a residence which cost the original builder in the neighborhood of $40,000. Suppose that we assume it to be worth only $20,000, who would pay even $10,000 for a residence within a block of a railroad stuck upon stilts sixteen feet in the air on an 16-foot embankment?

Let some of the good citizens of Duluth who are taking so much umbrage at the action of the West Duluth home owners, try to place themselves in their position for a little while.

Personally, I am very partial to the Duluth, Rainy Lake & Winnipeg railway, of which this Duluth extension is a part. Were it not for services rendered by me at a critical time the railroad referred to would no doubt now have been a part of the Hill system. But this is no reason why I should not object to its passing within a block of the front of my home raised up on a 16-foot embankment. There is evidence to indicate that there are other feasible routes through West Duluth that can be adopted with but slight damage to home owners. We will concede that it would cost the railroad a little more, but why should we, the property owners, be compelled to stand this extra expense; for that is what it amounts to when they are allowed to damage our property for the purpose of selecting a route allowing cheaper construction. I am informed that this talk of going to Superior is all nonsense; that as a matter of fact when the Canadian Northern took over the Duluth, Rainy Lake & Winnipeg railway there was a contract to the effect that they must build into Duluth and that this agreement is not broad enough to allow them to build to Superior, if it could be conceded for one moment that that is their intention after purchasing and paying for ore dock and shop locations. It was necessary for the sellers of this railway to provide themselves with a proper outlet for their timber interests and my information is to the effect that they did so in the manner stated. Yours very truly,

HENRY E. SMITH,
Duluth, Feb. 11.

REMOVE THE WIRES.

To the Editor of The Herald:

The city authorities ought to do something to cause the removal of the network of wires on the streets and buildings in the downtown section. The fire yesterday in the building occupied by Schulze brothers and the McClellan Paper company again illustrated the obstruction they offer in case of fire. They not only hamper the firemen seriously, but they are a menace to life. Even if the police are able to keep the crowd back—and I noticed that their success in this direction was only partial—a live wire can kill a fireman as quick as a citizen. Suppose the people who were rescued from the side of the building had been caught in a front room. Some of them might have been taken out dead. Considerable trouble was experienced in getting ladders up in front of the building, and if it had been necessary to shoot them up to the top floor in a few seconds it would have been practically impossible. The telephone wires are as bad as light wires in this respect. Some of the downtown buildings also have masses of wires strung along their roofs. These interfere in case of fire. It is often necessary to get a line of hose across the top of a building in fighting a fire. In fact, one or two lines were used in this way yesterday from the top of the Crane & Ordway company's building, next to the structure gutted by the fire. Public sentiment strongly favors having all wires put underground, not only from the standpoint of improving appearance but of reducing fire risks. I should think that the owners of buildings would demand it. Such an improvement ought to help in getting them a better fire rate, which is plenty high in Duluth as well as increase the value of their property.

THE WEATHER.

FAIR

The mercury crept down to 6 deg. below zero last night, but nearly everybody was in bed when the momentous event happened, and now the weather man says the cold snap is about over. This morning is fine, and the predictions are for fair and milder weather tonight and tomorrow.

A year ago today was cold, with still colder weather predicted.

The sun rose this morning at 7:18 and it will set at 5:27, giving ten hours and nine minutes of sunlight.

Mr. Richardson makes the following comment on weather conditions:

"The storm central Friday morning over Alabama has advanced to the New York coast, increasing considerably in intensity. During the past twenty-four hours it caused snow or rain in all districts to the eastward of the Mississippi river, the precipitation being heavy in the North Atlantic states. The northwestern cold wave has pushed southward and now includes the Mississippi and Lower Missouri valleys and Southwestern states. The barometer remains highest over Wyoming. Zero temperatures prevail in Northern Iowa, the Dakotas, Minnesota, Northwestern Wisconsin, Western Ontario, Manitoba and Wyoming.

"Somewhat milder weather may be expected at the Head of the Lakes during the ensuing thirty-six hours."

Following were the maximum temperatures for twenty-four hours and the minimum for twelve, ending at 7 a. m., today:

Reflections of a Bachelor.

New York Press: When a man is engaged to a girl her whole family act as if it was to them.

A man inherits his religion and politics; he invents his theories about raising children.

It seems as if among married couples when one of them doesn't happen to be a tyrant the other always is.

When you borrow a book and lend it to somebody else, it makes your conscience easy that it wasn't your fault it never got back to its owner.

The first thing a young woman wants when she goes to housekeeping is an account book, so as to write original recipes in it out of the cook book.

Bridemaids.

Puck: Bridemaids are due to brides' recognized need to have about them something old, something new, something borrowed, something blue. For where bridemaids are at all old it makes them blue to see another girl married, and thus they can be made to serve a double purpose.

Three times a bridemaid, never a bride, is an old saying, but there's not much to it. Like "thrice armed is he who hath his quarrel just," it is true in theory but not in business. If a girl means business, in other words, it makes very little difference how many times she has been a bridemaid. Bridemaids are not a distinct species. Except that they wear bigger hats, they are much like other girls.

SATURDAY NIGHT TALK

Loafing on the Job.

At the luncheon table the members of the club fell to discussing the ever-present labor question, said the minister: "The trouble with the working men today is that they have no appreciation of Carlyle's splendid doctrine of the work and the glory that surrounds every worthy task."

"Oh, pshaw," said the parlor socialist, "the average man in the factory never heard of Carlyle, much less of his glorification of work; and as for really liking your job, have you any idea, Dr. Clerieus, how tedious a given job becomes after a man has done it week after week, year after year, especially if it's of the mechanical order? How would you like to pronounce the benediction twice a minute, sixty minutes every hour, eight hours every day, 365 days in the year?"

"Well, I sympathize with the working man," said the advertising agent, "but when I run up every now and then as I do, against the unreasonableness, selfishness and materialistic spirit of so many working men, I get discouraged, and when I see them flocking into cheap places of amusement and ignoring the opportunities furnished them for mental development, I feel still more discouraged over the outlook."

"That doesn't bother me so much," said the lawyer, "for I fancy there's no more materialism and craving for excitement among the poorer classes today than among the rich, but to me the worst element in the present situation is that so many men make a practice of loafing on their jobs. A neighbor of mine wanted a little shingling done, and after putting in his order, went out one morning to see how the work was progressing. To his surprise, three men were on the roof hammering away more or less vigorously. He asked the man who appeared to be the boss of the job really required three workers, and was met by the airy counter-question: 'Who's doing this job, anyway?' 'Well,' said the owner of the mansion, calmly, 'I have the impression that I am paying for it.' At this the boss came off his high horse and sent one of the three workmen on his way."

How typical this incident is I have no means of knowing, but I have the strong impression that the reason why labor's just demands meet with so much opposition in certain quarters is that a considerable number of day laborers scant their job, watch the clock and are ready to leave their tools in the air when it strikes the welcome hour of release. And we are not going to get far toward a permanent solution of industrial disagreements until workmen are more conscientious touching their obligation to render their best service for the time which they agree to give, be it eight hours, or seven, or nine. Just what is a fair working day is one question concerning which honest men may differ, but honest men with one voice will say that he who habitually lets up on his job and does only half or three-quarters of what he might do without undue strain comes pretty near the borders of dishonesty.

But this loafing on the job is not confined by any means to day laborers. How easily children drift into the dawdling habit, spending far more time in getting dressed or in getting their lessons than they need to spend. Former President Eliot of Harvard says that it is wrong to take a half hour for doing a thing that might be done in fifteen minutes.

All this is not a plea for hasty, hurried work, but for attention, alertness, concentration, earnestness, dispatch. Whatever your job, manual or intellectual, in school, home or shop, let it not be said of you: "He loafs," but rather: "That man is right on to his job all the time."

THE PARSON.

What is a Republican?

Puck: The president entertains highly interesting opinions of so-called Republicans who spend most of their time opposing Republican measures.—Washington Dispatch.

And yet can any one blame them? Possibly their opposition is justified if the Republican measures referred to are in the same class with the Republican tariff bill of last summer. Possibly, too, they don't know what the president considers a Republican measure, because he advocated one kind of tariff revision last year and was beamingly satisfied with just the opposite. Which was the Republican measure, anyhow—the revision that the president wanted, or the one which he got? He urged the former and he boosted the latter. He praised the men who most or all prevented him from getting what he wanted, and he was silent in regard to those pledges. We should say it was mighty hard these days to be a progressive Republican. Nobody knows whether a progressive Republican is a Murdock or a Tawney, in the executive estimation. It looks like a clear case of "you'll be damned if you do and you'll be damned if you don't."

A Rank Offender.

Life: Some one ought to get out an injunction against the word "classy" to restrain its use. This horrible word is now being employed to describe almost everything that is supposed to be worth while. A girl is "classy" and so is a motor car, likewise a play at billiards and a soup.

No more reprehensible word was ever forcibly introduced into a language. It ought to be taken out and clubbed to death.

The Herald has secured promises of nearly half the $10,000 purse necessary to the success of Duluth's coming regatta, which will be under the management of the great oarsman, Edward Hanlan. The regatta will probably take place the week folowing July 27. Among the professional oarsmen Hanlan expects to enter the races are Teemer, Gaudane, Harmon, Ross, Lee, Hosmer, McKay, Ten Eyck, Peterson, Plaisted, Kennedy, Courtney and several English and Australian rowers. There will also be amateur single, double and four-oared races, open to the United States. The purses will aggregate $8,750, with trophies for the amateur events.

The Duluth flour train has reached Boston, and the New England metropolis has viewed with lively interests the products of Duluth manufacturers. The run from Duluth to Boston was made in eight days, traveling by daylight only. It is intended to send out another train soon, with which the members of the chamber of commerce will go, visiting Montreal and Boston.

A boom has been started for Col. C. A. Graves for governor of Minnesota.

Articles of incorporation of the Crescent Iron company have been filed with the secretary of state. The incoroperators are C. E. Shannan, James A. James, John G. Brown, John McKinley and Amos Shephard, all of Duluth, and the capital stock is $200,000. The company has leased Lot 4, in Section 29, 63-11, near the famous Eaton-Merritt claim and five miles from the terminus of the Duluth & Iron Range road at Ely.

SENATOR BRADLEY AND NIGHT-RIDING

By SAVOYARD.

Something has been said in denunciation of the state of Kentucky because of the action of certain citizens of that Commonwealth, who employed violent and illegal measures to relieve themselves of the cruel slavery to which the tobacco trust had reduced them. If you would get the purest and exactest progeny resulting from the incestuous marriage of the Pharisee and the Parvenue, go to Massachusetts to find it. And Massachusetts, smug and smirk, washing her Hesbing palms "in invisible water, with imperceptible soap," professes to be horrified at the doings going on among a people whom she has been robbing for many years through operation of the taxing power of the federal government. Only a moment ago I read the Boston Advertiser on Kentucky nightriding.

A good deal depends on the point of view. New England glories in what they call the "Boston Tea Party," that was nothing in the world but a lawless mob, raised to destroy private property, and, if needs be to that end, to take human life. Now, the tax levied on the colonies was perfectly legal. Even so good a friend of the colonies as Edmund Burke admitted that. It was levied to discharge a very small per cent of the enormous expense the border country was put to, to protect the colonies from the armies and navies of France. And besides, the tax was so light as to be almost infinitesimal.

Don't understand me as trying to reproach our fathers, for while England had the same legal right to tax America the man has to shear the wolf, there was an eternal principle involved that representation and taxation are linked together. Chatham was wrong and Burke was right as to the legality of the tax, and Patrick Henry and Thomas Jefferson were right as to the fundamental principle of civil liberty.

Now the Kentucky tobacco growers were laid under onerous and intolerable tribute by an illegal trust, formed and operated with a view to turning into serfs the 100,000 and more tobacco growers of Kentucky. There were just two buyers of the crop in the state, that produces nearly one-half the tobacco grown in the United States, and more than one-half of the chewing tobacco. One was the tobacco trust, a New Jersey monopoly, and the other was the buyers who bought for France, Spain, Italy and perhaps England and Germany. These two entered into conspiracy to divide up the state and not bid against each other, and they got tobacco for one-half what it cost to produce. Suppose that had happened in Vermont. Instead of a Sinai amurium there was in Kentucky, there would have been 109.

It is the hardest work known to the farm in America, or out of America—the growing of tobacco, and the fixing it for market, as it is done in Kentucky, and between the preparation of the plant-bed and the prizing into the hogshead is a period of eighteen months. The burning of the bed, the plowing of the field, often "new ground," the transplating of the plants, the cultivation of the soil, the priming, the worming, the topping, the succoring, the cutting, the sticking, the housing, the firing, the striking down, the stripping, the bulking, the rehanging, the re-bulking and the prizing all these mean an immense deal of the very hardest and most irksome manual labor, and millions of pounds have gone up in smoke during the firing process in "the black patch."

More than 100,000 Kentuckians are engaged in that industry, and here comes a group, greedy, infamous and lawless monopoly, the very active principle of the most vile, base, odious, atrocious of all the passions, avarice, and says and acts, "You shall work for us."

Well, it is a not very meek set, that Kentucky layout. They are not much given to offering the other cheek when one is smitten. They will not themselves steal, and they will not submit to a robbing if they can prevent it by night-riding or other means. And so they posted their tobacco, a thing they were authorized to do by act of the legislature, and served notice on growers outside of the pool that they should not plant tobacco. The outsiders did plant, and their crops were destroyed. One man was killed. Much of th trust's tobacco, stored in warehouses, was burned, just as the tea was turown overboard in Boston harbor. And what was the result? A trust beaten to a standstill, and the growing of tobacco in Kentucky again made profitable.

All wrong, of course; but there are two sides to the thing. As Napoleon said at Eylau, "You can't make an omelette without breaking some eggs." As for the tobacco societies, they did not engage in night riding, but did all in their power to prevent it. The night riders sustained the same relation to them that the hypocrites do to the church. They did evil under a cloak, and one of the leading night-riders is now serving a term in the state penitentiary for his part in the lawlessness.

These thoughts and reflections are called forth by a speech made by my personal friend and political foe, William O. Bradley, a Republican senator in congress from the state of Kentucky, of which we are both native and to the manor born. We are agreed in one thing, and that is, that Kentucky is the peer of any other state and unrivaled by most of the states. He is glad he first saw the light in the Blue-Grass, and I glory in that I was born in the "Pennyrile." Kentucky—all Kentucky—mountain, redbud, bluegrass, bear-grass, pennyrile and pocahase—is unanimous in approval of the decree in the case of Dives and Lazarus. Pity it is not authority everywhere in this country.

Some aspersions were cast on Kentucky by a writer in a newspaper in this town who undertook to discuss night-riding in Kentucky, a subject of which he was as definantly ignorant as he was decetly ignorant. Senator Bradley defended his constituents in an eloquent speech in the senate, and did it in a capital style, the splendid orator that he is.

William O. Bradley is superb as an advocate, and able and learned as a counselor at the bar. He came by it naturally and got it by descent, being a son of "Old Bob" Bradley, so long nestor of the Kentucky bar. When it was the first in erudition, skill and character in the Mississippi valley. There was "Old Ben" Hardin, Rowan, Wickliffe, Chapese Hayes, Guthrie, Robertson, McKee, Buckner, Bramlette, Boyle, Mills, Owsley, Ilise, Dixon, Madiso, C. Pherson, the Caldwells, Crittenden, Harlan, Sharpe, Thomkins, Harding, Underwood, and many others, and "Old Bob" Bradley was the peer of the greatest of them.

I heard this anecdote of the old fellow, and I believe it was Proctor Knott who related it to me. Bradley was unrivaled before a jury, and one day he had a client, a poor fellow, who was in the clutch of a fiery, peppery little man, who combined the profession of medicine with the trade of usurer. This town right now is full of those children of Cain who live in their dens and loan money to government sales at 10 per cent a month, and compounded every pay day. Of course, there never yet was a spider whose parlor did not swarm with flies. And of course, he would be more honorable, certainly more chivalrous, and maybap more respectable, to pick a man's pocket, than to lend him money at 10 per cent a month usury.

Well, old Bob undertook the case, and regardless of the law, which the little doctor was shrewd enough to evade, he made a demagogue speech full of invective and humor, and the jury gave him a verdict, a not unusual common occurrence, when he was of counsel before "twelve men in a box."

The next morning old Bob, with other lawyers and some hangers-on, was sitting in front of the courthouse engaged in current gossip, when the little doctor came up, pale with anger and furious with chagrin. Approaching Bradley, he screamed: "I'll see you at Philippi, Bob Bradley; I'll see you at Philippi; I'll see you at Philippi, sir." Old Bob, perfectly imperturbable, brushing the little man aside and emptying his mouth of a teacupful of tobacco juice, calmly said: "I won't be thar."

A roar of laughter that sally brought forth caused the little litigant to scamper away as fast as his legs could carry him.

As Burke said when young William Pitt made his maiden speech in parliament, "It is not a chip of the old block; it is the old block itself," so we may say for William O. Bradley when advocating a cause before a jury. Whether as a lawyer at nisi prius or as an orator on the stump, William O. Bradley is equally in place. He is one of the immortal "306" who went down supporting Gen. Grant for a third term at Chicago in 1880, and for more than a quarter of a century he has been the leader of his party in Kentucky, and today he stands forth the foremost Southern Republican in all the immense region south of Mason and Dixon's line.

Bradley's speech in defense of Kentucky in the senate on Jan. 20 was admirable. It extenuated nothing, but was a clear statement of the case and a frank admission of the lawlessness that was practiced by some vicious and irresponsible persons, who are swift to join a good cause to pound it in disguise. The Boston Tea Party was a case in point. Everyone engaged in that mob would have been a night rider in Kentucky in 1907 and 1908.

When Bradley was a much younger man than he now is, a national bank at Lancaster, Ky., obtained judgment against a farmer on a note he owed the bank. Execution issued, was levied on a valuable tract of blue-grass land of some 600 acres and the property was sold at the courthouse door by the sheriff and another national bank at Danville became the purchaser. John Yerkes and Samuel Burdette, young lawyers, were counsel for the farmer, and they filed pleadings to set aside the sale on the ground that a national bank, other than the one to which the debt was due, had no right to buy land at such a sale.

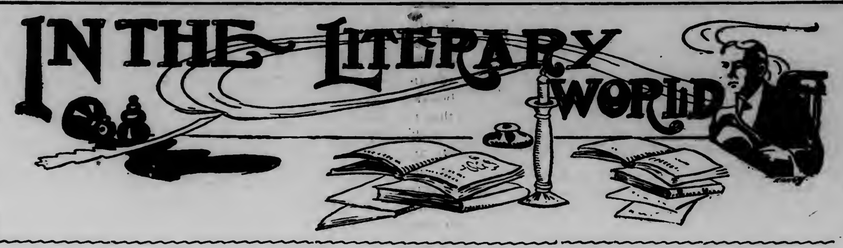

That resulted in long and hard-fought litigation and was finally decided in favor of the bank by decree of the supreme court at Washington, which, however, merely decided that no federal question was involved. Then it was that the bank sued the farmer for rents and profits and a large sum was tendered for a compromise, which was rejected. On the advice of his counsel the farmer employed Bradley, who went over to Danville and examined the record. After a thorough study of it he asked Yerkes: "What did you want me in this case for? We have not a leg to stand on." To which Yerkes answered: "All you have to do is to make Bob Jacobs mad. He has the last speech and follows you."

And so they went into it. And such a speech as Bradley did make! He started out by saying that under the laws of Kentucky you could not administer on a sane man's estate until he was dead. Then he gave an imaginary consultation between Jacobs, then perhaps the first lawyer living in Kentucky, and the bank officials. This was a side-splitter, though Bradley was as solemn as the town clock and Jacobs white with rage. The land had been surveyed by a professor of Center college, and the defense claimed he had made a big mistake, reporting a vastly greater area than the tract contained. Bradley declared that the professor might have had his feet on the ground, but his head was in the clouds. Finally he turned on Center college itself and raked it over the coals.

To say that Jacobs worshiped the college, is putting it mild; and when he rose to reply, furious with rage, he pitched his voice in the highest key, defending the college, and continued on that line for more than an hour, and then said: "Now, gentlemen, I come to argue the merits of this case." "Time is up!" roared Bradley, and so it was, and after protest Jacobs sat down. The jury returned a verict for the bank with rents, profits and damages less than one-third what had been offered by the defense for a compromise of the litigation.

IRELAND YESTERDAY AND TODAY.

By Hugh Sutherland, associate editor of the Philadelphia North American. With an introduction by John E. Redmond, M. P. Illustrated by photographs. Philadelphia: The North American. $1; postpaid, $1.17.

Seven years ago the Philadelphia North American sent one of its ablest representatives to Ireland to report for American readers the situation there. The result, to quote Mr. Redmond's introduction, "was a series of brilliant and illuminating articles which attracted widespread attention and which served to concentrate American interest on the nature and importance of the struggle which was then taking place in Ireland." Now that the British elections have resulted in placing the Irish party in the most commanding situation it ever has enjoyed, and that home rule is a livelier issue than it ever has been before, the publication of these articles in book form is timely. To the letters of 1902 have been added a number resulting from a second visit made last year. The result is a thorough and sympathetic review of Ireland "yesterday and today," with a thought for tomorrow, expressed brilliantly and entertainingly in an apt and lively style. "I have no hesitancy," says Mr. Redmond in his introduction, "in stating that I recognize in them a powerful, eloquent and convincing plea in behalf of Ireland. They exhibit a thorough and comprehensive grasp of the Irish question in all its details, historical, political, moral and material." This warm praise The Herald cordially echoes. The profits from the sale of the book are to be shared in by neither publisher nor author, but all are to go to the cause of Irish nationalism.

The keynote of the book may be found in the author's opening words: "The Irish people have been fighting for their lives and their homes for seven centuries, and today few but themselves know the history, causes or present rights of the dispute. The Irish question is to them a religion—a sacred struggle to which each succeeding generation makes sacrifices. • • • Here is a race which has been prostrate for a hundred years; a land from which the people are being driven remorselessly by the effects of oppression and non-improvement. Yet the world is indifferent. This heartless acquiescence is due not to intent, but to ignorance." The author's deductions are: "That the Irish people have suffered as no other people have suffered. That they have been the victims of injustice, oppression, indifference and legislative blundering for many generations. That during the last thirty years they have been granted an increasing measure of justice by wise statesmanship, and will gain more. And, finally, that the world-wide campaign now swinging on toward victory is not rebellion against lawful authority, but the peaceful evolution of a people toward that liberty which they are the last of the Western nations to receive."

The religious side of the question—and that is important because nine-tenths of the objections to home rule are based on religious grounds—is attacked boldly and frankly; and the author, who says himself that back of my Americanism is an ancestry of double-dyed Ulster Scotch-Irish and that the nearest approach to a saint in my church is John Wesley," treats the Catholic religion and its adherents in a manner that has aroused the hostility of bitter anti-Catholics—which means that he has treated the subject kindly and fairly. As a brief in favor of home rule the book is vigorous and effective. As a picture of life in Ireland it is lively and informing. The story of the wrongs of Ireland is appalling. The pictures of the situation even today, when the tide has turned, are distressing; and Mr. Sutherland spares us nothing.

THE MARKET FOR SOULS. By Elizabeth Goodnow. New York: Mitchell Kennerley. $1.25 net.

One night in New York a good woman visited the night court and saw the girls of the street "in all types and ages, from the young girl of 16 up to the 'old timer' of 40." She went home and said that the girls didn't have a fair show in life, that she was laughed at and told that these women did not care and did not think. She did not believe it, and she studied the question. The result is this book, in which she lays bare the pitiful, tragic lives of these poor waifs of fate who have been driven by one cause or another to offer their souls and bodies to chance passers-by. It is a plain-spoken book, and it calls a spade a spade; though it calls it nothing worse than that. It pictures these unfortunates as they are without a word of argument for one thing or another. It shows them to be often crude, ignorant, thoughtless; drowning in drink and drugs considerations of tomorrow, and leading in that way to loathsomeness of the countless examples around them of the horrors toward which they are running pell mell. It shows how men may be victimized on their scarlet wages, and how policemen participate in their earnings. But, above all, it shows that, soiled though they are, these are human beings, sisters, if you please, with good in them as well as bad, and that the girl of the street "is a human, loving woman like ourselves, struggling against great odds." It shows that these pitcous tragedies are not always, nor usually, the fault of their victims. The tempter, the cadet, the procuress—these are culprits wretchedly guilty; but back of them, and guiltier still, are neglectful parents—the kind of parents who do not know where their daughters are at night, or what they are doing or learning.

Learning—that recalls a cause deeper still: the failure of parents to teach their children the truth about sacred instincts, leaving them to learn in the streets the distortions that pass there for truth. The fourteen stories in this book should be read by every parent for the sake of the sons and daughters. It will show the other side of the picture whose pleasant side wrong teaching may now be establishing in their minds. The stories tell of the lives of the street girls, the "kept" girls and the girls of the chorus; and every tale is a flaming beacon light marking the evil ways that lie waiting for unguided feet. One of these girls says: "We work at the hardest job in the world, and what do we get out of it? When we're old and sick and lonely, we look hell square in the face." There is undeniable reality in these stories, and they gain strength because their writer has not sought to force morals out of them. They carry their own morals, and these need no platitudes to emphasize them. It is not a pretty subject, but the book looks Truth squarely in the face, and therefore it is worth while.

THE MASTER SPIRIT. By John C. Kleber, author of "Kleber on Void Judicial Sales." New York: Cochrane Publishing company. $1.50 net.

This novel deals with Maxmilian and Marcellus Montgomery, two brothers, who reached their majority when the Civil war was breaking out. Their ancestors were early settlers of Virginia, and the story begins with these ancestors and with the colonial environment into which they emigrated. Their father gave each a fine plantation and turned them loose. Each had a sweetheart, but Marcellus was a villain, and betrayed and abandoned his own sweetheart and stole Maxmillian's. So Maxmilian ran away and joined the Union army, and after the war went West and became a rich miner. Meantime Marcellus had squandered his estate and that of his brother, probated as that of a dead man, and died poor. Maxmilian came back to claim his property, and was informed that he was dead and therefore could have no property. Doubting this, he went to law, and won his case, but disappeared again before it was finished. In a romantic way he ran across a niece, child of Marcellus, and her mother, his long lost sweetheart, and the book, after many complications, ends happily.

It is noted that the author is also the author of a legal book. Probably he is a shark at writing law books. His novel is commonplace in style, and it suggests that he ought to confine himself to his law writing.

An amusing story concerns Josephine Daskam Bacon and Rose O'Neill, author and illustrator, respectively, of the new Harper story, "The Biography of a Boy." In private life Rose O'Neill, who is herself a writer, and who last summer had a novel published by the Harpers entitled, "The Lady in the White Veil," is Mrs. Wilson, wife of Harry Leon Wilson, the novelist and brother-playwright of Booth Tarkington. It seems that when "The Biography of a Boy" was first arranged for serial publication in Harper's Bazar, and the subject of illustration came up, the editor, Miss Elizabeth Jordan, said casually, "Of course, you will want Mrs. Wilson to do the pictures." "No, indeed!" declared the author, with a vigorous shake of her head. "There is just one person who shall make those pictures, and that is Rose O'Neil." So the editor compromised as cheerfully as she could on Rose O'Neill.

Henry William Elson, the historian, whose "Child's Guide to American History" is one of the recent successes of the Baker & Taylor company, speaking recently of the many letters he receives concerning his history of the United States, said: "Out of these descendants, they are a difficult folk to please. I have received letters from many of the descendants of prominent characters in our early history complaining of the scanty treatment I had given their respective ancestors. One man in Massachusetts writes me that his particular ancestor of colonial days is very inadequately treated in my history, insinuating that at least one chapter should have been devoted to him, though, it may be added, he was but a secondary character and is scarcely mentioned in the briefer histories. It is far easier for a Northern man to write for the South, or vice versa, than for any one to write history that will please the descendants. I am glad I am not a descendant."

Substantial proof of the popular place of Thomas Hardy in the American heart is in the announcement now made by Mr. Hardy's publishers in America, Harper & Brothers, that a complete new set of Hardy's works has been arranged, of which "Tess of the d'Urbervilles," issued a few months ago, is the initial volume. The new edition will be of pocket size, on thin paper, with flexible covers of red leather or cloth, and will be of further interest as marking the hold that the book of smaller size and of lighter weight has taken upon the book-buying public. It is certain that the success of "Tess" in this form influenced the publishers to agree to the popular demand for other volumes in the set. These will be issued one at a time, the next to come being "The Return of the Native."

Georgine Milmine's recent "Life of Mary Baker G. Eddy and the History of Christian Science," published by Doubleday, Page & Co., has been the object of a number of vigorous attacks and equally strong defenses. At least two prominent religious periodicals have been severely censured by individuals for advertising the book, on the ground that it is Christian Science propaganda; while others have commended the book as a positive exposure of a gigantic fraud. All of which seems to prove conclusively that the author has succeeded in her purpose, which was, in short, to make her book a strictly impartial biography of this remarkable woman and of the history of the movement which she inaugurated.

Some of the frost of the North pole seems to attach itself to every one associated with polar expeditions. First it was Peary, then Cook, and now Prof. William Lyon Phelps, author of a volume of charming essays on modern novelists, is the victim. At a recent meeting of the Louisiana Yale Alumni association the following resolution was adopted with a shout:

Whereas, one William Lyin' Phelps has announced to a gullible world that he has made "A Dash at the Pole," and

Whereas, it looks like a Cooked-up story, and

Whereas, the pole with which said William Lyin' is most familiar is the Ledyard flagstaff, and

Whereas, the book is not bound in Yale blue, and

Whereas, we can prove all we say, be it

Resolved, That the Louisiana Yale Alumni association repudiate William Lyin' Phelps and hereby demand the return of all the medals which it has awarded him in the past.

In "Lord Loveland Discovers America," the most recent book of the popular William Jamesons, just published by Doubleday, Page & Co., are found a great many realistic snatches of local color which impart a delightful metropolitan flavor to the story. Such bits as the description of that "vast, decorative corridor of marble, facetiously known as "Peacock Alley," in the Waldorf, or the night scene in Herald square, where "in the glass-sided palace of the Herald tomorrow morning's paper was visibly going to press," are deliciously faithful to the actual. Mrs. Williamson, before the book was written, came to this country to study slum life in New York, in order to gather material for the opening scenes.

Among the Magazines.

Two women head the list in the Delineator for March with two very remarkable articles. Miss Grace G. Strachan, president of the Interborough Association of Women School Teachers, city of New York, who speaks for 15,000 teachers in New York city alone, tells of their fight for equal pay with the men of similar rank. Mrs. Wilson Woodrow says some things in "The American Husband" that will stir up much comment. Kansas City's remarkable method of dealing with its prisoners through a board of pardon and paroles is explained by Charles Dillon, under the title "A New Way to Save Men." William H. Allen, director of the bureau of municipal research, discussses from a scientific viewpoint "The Institutional Church" in which he discusses the social unrest in the church. An article of particular appeal to girls is, "What a Woman's College Means to a Girl," by Madeline Z. Doty. The fiction is pleasing. Virginia Frazer Boyle, Will N. Harben, Elizabeth Jordan and Thomas L. Masson contribute the leading stories. In addition Grace MacGowan Cooke's serial is continued.

MEETING OF THE BOYS' CABINET

Committees Report on Work in Association During January.

The regular monthly meeting of the boys' department cabinet was held Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. J. N. St. Clair. The following members were present: President Palmer Bevis, Rex St. Clair, Glen Merritt, George Martin, William Nelson, Caldwell Harris, Richard Cullum, Ely Salyards, Harry Weston, Morrison Harris, Laurence Duby, Robert Edmonds, C. R. McLean, D. C. Duncan, J. R. Batchelor, N. D. McLeod.

William Nelson for the membership committee reported that the present membership of the club was 474 members. The cabinet will make an extra hustle to get twenty-six new members by Tuesday to make the membership an even 500. The Sunday club report by Glen Merritt showed that the Sunday meetings during the past month were growing in popularity, the attendance being bigger than in any previous month.

The Bible study report by Rex St. Clair showed a total attendance of 420 at the various Bible classes. The sum of $27 had been raised for missionary purposes. The committee will collect $50 more in the next two months and make final payments on their pledges. The president was authorized to make a pledge of $15 for the state work for 1910. The athletic report showed that things were booming in the gymnasium. Basket ball league games in the high school and grade schools are being conducted. An indoor meet is being arranged for the schools and it will take place some time next month.

The social committee report by George Martin showed that in addition to the regular socials for the members of the club, an evening was given to the employed boys of the city, and one to three of the West end schools. The outing committee has arranged for the annual sleighride to take place Friday, Feb. 26. Laurence Duby for the entertainment committee reported that practices for the big minstrel show are being held every week, and Thursday and Friday, March 10 and 11 are the dates set for the affair. The proceeds of the minstrels will go to the permanent camp fund. For the financial committee Russell McLean reported that cash on hand for the camp fund was $571.44 and $142 in paid subscriptions is still to come in. This committee will present definite plans at the next meeting for raising $1,000 more to complete this fund. The committee will buy the land this year and erect the clubhouse for this year's camp.

Rex St. Clair and Glen Merritt were elected to represent the boys' department at the state banquet at the Spalding next Friday evening. Committees were also appointed to attend each session of the state convention that meets here next Thursday. These committees will make a report at the Sunday club, Sunday, Feb. 27. Friday afternoon of the convention there will be a conference on boys' work. Papers are being prepared by different boys of the state. The cabinet and all committeemen of the boys' department will attend this conference and every Sunday school, school and boys' clubs in this city has been invited to send representatives. The cabinet will entertain the boy delegates at dinner Saturday, and the afternoon will be given over to a basket ball tournament between the boys' departments of the state. The boy delegates will be entertained while in the city at the homes of the members of the boys' department.

A SCHOOL OF CITIZENSHIP

The American International College at Springfield, Massachusetts, Trains Immigrant Races in American Ideals, So That Their Advent Into the United States Becomes a Blessing Instead of a Menace.

By Rev. R. DeWITT MALLARY, D. D., President.

(Exclusive Service The Survey Press Bureau.)

That immigration occupies a first of rank among present-day problems, and that it underlies all industrial, economic and social questions may be taken for granted. It will also, be generally admitted that the key to the existing situation is education. The marvel is that with a solution so effective and plain neither church nor state have seen fit to possess themselves of this key in any earnest, concerted way. A recent magazine article contains carefully tabulated statistics concerning phases of the immigrant question, and the discussion, of which these tables form a part, concludes by saying "that in New York state no systematic education of the aliens has been attempted." Twenty years ago, the American International college, was established to raise up, among the immigrant races in America, educated and trained immigrant leaders. Today this institution has a hundred students from fifteen different nationalities, mostly among the Southern and Southeastern states of Europe, Italy, Greece, Armenia, with a sprinkling from Russia, Poland, Bulgaria, Servia, Albania, Assyria, France, Sweden and Austria. The motive in the establishment of the school was not "America for the Americans," but "American principles for the world and everybody in this country true to those principles and ideals."

The aim is by an education, at once civic, industrial and special, as well as by regular academic and collegiate courses, and the whole under Christian (though not sectarian) auspices, to develop American citizenship and a trained leadership among the immigrant races in the United States. The spirit of the work is broad and Catholic, character above creed, humanity above nationalism, and Christian brotherhood the best and biggest thing in the world. The college is a helping hand to the immigrants; and the bomb shat hand, is the Christian motive; the index finger, the academic and collegiate courses; the third finger, the civic course of three years in the School of American Citizenship, connected with the college; the fourth finger, the special course in English as a language and as a literature for those who only want English, and the fifth, the course in industrial training, printing, &c.

The graduates (of the institution) number 840 from the college courses with the degree of bachelor of arts, which the college is empowered by the state to give. The school owns five acres of land in the city and on its campus are five buildings, at present so overcrowded with students that many have to be turned away.

The American International college is thus seen to be doing for the immigrant races precisely what the New England college and Tuskegee are doing for the Anglo-Saxon and colored races; nor should it be forgotten that the immigrant races come from lands of great antiquity, civilization and achievement, with a literature that is immortal. Here is at once a tremendous differentiation between them and the colored races, which have no antecedent civilization and no literature. Eliminating great racial and anthropological contrasts there nevertheless remains to us the awful and disheartening reflection that these immigrant races coming to us by the million each year are 30 per cent illiterate and the annual deposit they make upon our stores, and more than that 40 and even 60 per cent in the lands from which they came. The American International college does not take these illiterates, and it does not take anybody below 15. Such may find their way into the public and evening schools. The college takes only the adult-youths who have had some education, who are disqualified for, or handicapped in, our public schools, and who usually are too limited in their resources to enter an American college. The daily program at the school comprises recitations in the morning, manual labor in the afternoon, by which the students pay in part their bills for tuition and board, and study in the evening. There is a college Y. M. C. A. and the Greek students, of whom there are forty now attending the institution, recently gave the "Alkestis" of Euripides. Athletic contests, football teams, and tramps care for the physical life of the students. The academic years have thirty-eight weeks, leaving a long vacation, which begins early in June when the students disperse to find work here and there, whereby to earn money to return in the middle of September.

Such a school infuses a leaven of good citizenship and Christian character into the immigrant races, and becomes a sort of clearing house, where Old World ideas are exchanged for New World ideals. It changes immigration from a menace into a blessing. It promotes Americanization and assimilation. Its ruling ideas are character, culture, citizenship, and Christian brotherhood. French, Armenian Italian and Greek graduates of this college are already filling influential places among their countrymen in America; in the law, in business, in teaching, in medicine, in the ministry and in the various walks of life. The institution is beginning to get representatives from the great Slavonic host. The graduates are distributed over a great area. Testimonies as to the need, worth and influence of this school from leading economists and publicists are overwhelming in number and in the character of their indorsements. We conclude this article by a testimony from a leading "citizen." Ex-President Roosevelt says: "No greater work can be done by a philanthropic or religious society than to stretch out the helping hand to the men and to the women who come here to this country to become citizens and the parents of citizens, and therefore to do their part in making up, for weal or woe, the future of our land."

A Common Cold.

We claim that if catching cold could be avoided some of the most dangerous and fatal diseases would never be heard of. A cold often forms a culture bed for germs of infectious diseases. Consumption, pneumonia, diphtheria and scarlet fever, four of the most dangerous and fatal diseases, are of this class. The culture bed formed by the cold favors the development of the germs of these diseases, that would not otherwise find lodgment. There is little danger, however, of any of these diseases being contracted when a good expectorant cough medicine like Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is used. It cleans out these culture beds that favor the development of the germs of these diseases. That is why this remedy has proved so universally successful in preventing pneumonia. It not only cures your cold quickly, but minimizes the risk of contracting these dangerous diseases. For sale by all druggists.

Administration Railroad Bill Is Condemned By Robert Walker.

Washington, Feb. 12 — Robert Walker, general counsel and chairman of the executive board of the Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific railroad and a son of the first chairman of the interstate commerce commission, vigorously opposed the administration railroad bill yesterday in a hearing given by the senate committee on interstate commerce.

This railroad is practically the first to condemn in any way the administration policy of controlling the issuance of stocks and bonds by railroads and preventing the acquisition of new lines. Mr. Walker opposed also the proposition to create a court of commerce.

"What would you advise the government to do if all of the railroads of the country should propose to combine as one great corporation?" was asked of Mr. Walker during the course of the hearing.

Would Encourage Consolidation.

"Legislation should be enacted which would insure the making of fair and just rates for the benefit of all the people, and then consolidation should be encouraged in every way it could be accomplished," he replied.

He said that the most effective control of capitalization was the publicity, now provided for by law, which he thought would prevent in the future all the evils in that direction of which complaint had been made in the past.

SOCIETY

It's very hard to find amusement. And to add to the intensity of the trouble Lent floated down and it is supposed always to add a touch of somberness to the town and so of course things seem even quieter than usual. Every one is complaining of the dullness of the winter. The young people are bored to extinction; the older folks can't remember a time when such apathy held the town in thrall and so it goes. Informal events have been about all that has been featured.

Last Saturday evening a few of the younger society people enjoyed a dinner dance at the Country club. The table was bright in scarlet decorations and Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Hubbell and Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Whyte were the chaperones. Covers were laid for forty.

It is rumored that a number of folks have taken the bit in their teeth so to speak and that a smart theater party will be at the Lyceum this evening to glory in the bigness and brawn of prize fighters. Several of the girls have confessed to an awful keenness over prize fighters, anyhow ,and they will be there to clap their pretty hands in girlish glee over uppercuts and swings, and short arm jolts and jabs and all sorts of delightful things like that.

Such an enthusiasm is ultra smart. Didn't that cleverest of satirical Irishmen, George B. Shaw, tell all about it in "Cashel Byron's Profession?"

There is little in prospect, else, if society doesn't become keen over prize fighting, and who can tell but they might run off a little "go" of their own next week some time?

CLUBS AND MUSICAL

YOUNG RUSSIAN WILL PLAY HERE

Mischa Elman, Famous Violinist, Will Give Concert at Lyceum.

The return to America of Mischa Elman, the young Russian violinist, has been signalized by a record-breaking tournee with the Boston Symphony orchestra, with which organization he has just completed fourteen engagements with such complete success, that the appearance of the young wizard was the magnet which drew the crowds so as to establish a new record for receipts. His recent recitals in New York, Boston and Chicago again proves that the name of Elman has taken hold on his public so as to create the greatest interest in his appearances. His coming appearance here at the Lyceum will be of great interest.

MISCHA ELMAN.

"So much of an Elman evening was it,' says a writer in the Philadelphia Telegraph, commenting on Elman's appearance there with the Boston Symphony Orchestra, "his playing was greeted by a storm of applause so long, so loud, so persistent, as to threaten to bring the concert to an abrupt close then and there. Conductor Fielder was decidedly embarrassed, but many of the supposedly more constrained auditors in the lower part of the house as well as in the upper tiers, were fairly carried off their feet by the marvelous playing of the 18-year-old boy. The equal of this young giant of the bow has not been heard here in many years."

Kindergarten Lectures.

Much interest is felt among those interested in educational matters in the lectures to be given in Duluth and Superior next week by Miss Stella Wood of Minneapolis. Miss Wood, who is a most attractive speaker, is a well-known representative educator, noted for her clear insights, common sense and practical methods. Her lecture on "The Eucational Value of Various Kinds of Games," to be given at the Madison school, Duluth, on Feb. 18, at 10 a. m., will be most suggestive to teachers and mothers of young children.

Bishop's Club.

There will be an open meeting of the Bishop's club, Tuesday, at 8 o'clock. The evening will be devoted to Italian music, with Mrs. J. R. Kuth as leader.

8,000 WOMEN WILL ASSEMBLE

Tenth Biennial Convention Will Be Held in Cincinnati.

"On the the tenth biennial!"—that is the slogan of all the women's clubs in Massachusetts, and, in fact, all over the United States at present, writes Miller Goodwin Dowling in the Boston Traveler.

With the memory of the ninth biennial, which was held in Boston, still clear in the minds of the 12,000 clubwomen of New England who attended the splendid sessions, there is sure to be a large attendance of Eastern delegates at the Cincinnati convention next May.

Plans are now being made by all the federated clubs to send their proportionate number of delegates to this important event in club life.

Club interests have broadened and intensified since the Boston biennial. Civic affairs have been the chief channel of endeavor all over the country, and women's organizations are taking a hand in legislative matters as never before.

Thus it is that the coming convention, where it is estimated that 8,000 women will be in attendance, will be of more than ordinary importance.

From far Seattle, from the canal zone and from the Eastern corner of Maine women will journey to Cincinnati and discuss matters of interest not only to women and children in particular, but humanity in general. They will decide for which of the many bills before the national legislature they must work to defeat or to insure its success.

They will listen to the best speakers procurable upon the subject of the hour, they will hold serious conferences on all matters of interest to the home and pertaining to the lines of civic betterment in which women may engage.

National officers will be elected and some time will be given to programs of literary and musical character. Then, too, there will be excursions into the country round about Cincinnati and social functions. Such a diversified program should do much for the women who are so fortunate as to attend.

One of the greatest treats, perhaps, will be the annual May musical festival, which will take place during the convention week.

Shakespeare Class.

The regular meeting of the Evening Shakespeare class will be held Monday evening at 7:30 o'clock at the club room of the library. "Macbeth" will be studied with Mrs. W. G. Bonham as leader.

Travel Class.

Miss Fulton left this afternoon for Minneapolis to attend a meeting of the officers and members of the executive board of the Minnesota Music Teachers' association.

To Attend Meeting.

The regular meeting of the travel class of the Twentieth Century club will be held Tuesday afternoon at the club room of the library. Mrs. H. H. Phelps will be in charge of the afternoon and a series of interesting papers will be read. Any one interested is invited to attend.

Meeting Postponed.

The meeting of the Duluth branch of the collegiate alumni, which was to have been held Monday, has been postponed and the notice of meeting will be made later.

HAVE THEY LOST THEIR CHARM ?
We refer to your jewelry (Rings, Brooches, Bracelets, etc.) Much jewelry is purchased for the flash it makes; some is purchased because of its ornate settings, and some for its genuine merit and intrinsic value. Most people have some of all sorts and are tired of the settings and general effects. Many do not realize that the settings are the features that make jewels worth while and that if some piece is "ugly" it is because of the setting. Look over all your jewels; bring them to us and let us show you how they may be made beautiful.

A Pretty Valentine Supper

It is a pretty custom for young girls to give a St. Valentine's supper to their girl and boy friends. The reception rooms and the dining-room should have decorations suggesting the day. It is very attractive to have lamp shades made from gaily colored valentines—the humorous and grotesque kind. And a frieze of humorous valentines might adorn the parlor walls.

Little hand-painted valentines bearing the names of the girls (each valentine having but one girl's name, of course) may be heaped on a silver or china tray and passed—names downward—to the boys, each boy being instructed to take one valentine. He will thus draw the name of the young lady whom he is to lead into supper. At the table should be souvenir valentines for the girls, with blank spaces for the boys to write their names. As the boys have already drawn their partners for the evening they are now requested to write their own names on the companion cards presented to the girls—each boy writing his name on the valentine card belonging to his supper partner.

The menu cards should bear a menu similar to the following one, so that the initial letters, when spelled downwards, will form the word "Valentine." The menu cards should be dainty and ribbon-bowed, with either a hand-painted spray or a pretty colored decoration of some sort. The initial letters, spelling "Valentine," should stand out boldly and be of bright colors. Red, touched up with gold, might be used for the capital letters, and small letters in either red or gold—but not of the two combined—for the reminding lettering. Here is the suggestion for the menu:

MENU
Vineyard Grapes.
Ambrosia (Orangeade).
Little Neck Clams.
Enveloped Rolls (wrapped in napkins).
Nut Chowder.
Turkey Salad.
Italian Macaroni and Cheese.
Neapolitan Ice Cream.
Edam Cheese and Crackers.

After being seated at table a loving cup filled with orangeade should be passed and each boy, on sipping from it, should recite some appropriate verse by way of "a valentine to his lady," and the girls, in sipping from the cup, should make some modest and fitting reply.

After supper all adjourn to the parlor, where games and music are indulged in till half-past nine o'clock. Then the merry scramble for home, after many good wishes to the young hostess for the year between the visits of St. Valentine, and thanks for the happy evening spent with her.

There is no event of more interest to the young folks than St. Valentine's Day, for it is an old romantic time, full of the sweet little exchange of affection and admiration. Any boy with pride loves to send a pretty valentine to some sweet little girl of his acquaintance. She may be, or may not be, his "little sweetheart," but he loves to remember her on St. Valentine's Day. And he is the mailbe for having played the young "gallant" on such an occasion, and the little girl is the happier for having been the object of his gallantry.

TOM'S LUCK. A Saint Valentine Story, by Maud Walker.

TOM sat on the doorstep of his dingy home, a dilapidated old house in a poor street where Poverty showed his hideous face at every window. Standing on the steps of the house adjoining was little Emmy, Tom's playmate and neighbor.

"See," said Emmy, "I've got a penny to buy a valentine with," and the little girl held up a copper coin for Tom's inspection. "Mamma gived it to me. She said I might buy myself a valentine. Won't that be nice?"

"Yes, Emmy, it'll be awful nice to have a valentine. But it would be nicer if someone should send it to you, wouldn't it? You see, St. Valentine's Day is for boys to send valentines to their sweethearts. Now, s'posen you should let me take the penny, and I'll go and buy the valentine and send it to you—just as though I was your sure-enough sweetheart. See?"

Emmy considered the matter a moment, eyeing the penny wistfully. "You see, Tom, I'd thought of buying the one I like best—of making my own pick, you know. That would be lots of fun. But—if you want to pretend at being my sweetheart—which maybe you are, for you are the nicest and best boy in the block, an' the only one Mamma will let me play with—why, I don't mind your buying the valentine, if you'll just allow me to pick it out."

"That's fair," said Tom, eager to have a hand in the purchase of the valentine. "You see, Emmy, I just want to make it nice for you to get a valentine brought by the postman. Won't that be great?"

"Oh-o-o! Do you mean to put a stamp on it, and send it by the postman?" cried Emmy, jumping up and down and clapping her hands. "Oh, wouldn't that be just too lovely for anything? Oh, Tom, you're an awful good boy, and when we've growed up you may be my sure-enough sweetheart—that is, if you always stay as good then as you are now."

"Oh, I'll be much better when I'm growed up," declared Tom proudly. "I mean to be a rich man some day—maybe own a factory like Ma and Sis work in—a pasteboard factory. But when I get one I'll not be mean to the people what work for me making boxes, for I'll remember how my poor Ma and Sister had to work so hard and have such a mean boss what used to grind 'em down and down till they hardly made a living. An' I'll pay my people good wages, too, an' build nice comfortable houses for 'em to live in so their little children won't have to sit out on the doorsteps—like you an' me are doing now—to get warm by the sun. No, I'll make everybody what works for me happy, 'cause they'll have plenty to eat an' wear an' nice houses with lots of big windows in 'em, an' yards of green grass in front. An' then I'll send lots of valentines to poor children. You know, Emmy, I never had a valentine in my life. Sis got one last year—her beau—Handsome Peter—sent it to her. You know Handsome Peter and Sis are engaged. An' they'll be getting married in the spring. An' Sis says she'll do lots for Ma and me then, for Handsome Peter is partner in a rester-ant over in Block street. He says he's making enough money so that he an' Sis can have a little flat all fixed up with a carpet an' sofer an' phonograph. An' we'll all hear the music every day when we go a-visitin' them."

Emmy's face clouded. "If you and your Ma go in to live with Sis after she's married to Handsome Peter," she said sadly, "what'll become of me? I'll get that lonesome, Tom, without you. You are my best friend."

"Well, I want to be your best frien'," declared Tom candidly. "An' no matter how rich I might ever get to be, you'll always be my bes' friend. An' after we've growed up as big as Sis an' Handsome Peter we'll get engaged like they are, if I'm rich enough to take a flat and have a carpet an' a sofer an' a phonograph."

"An' then you'll send me valentines every day, won't you," asked Emmy, polishing her penny on her apron. "My ma used to get valentines when she was a young lady. An' she says 'at Pa always sent her a valentine—even after they was married—till he died. Then he couldn't send 'em any more. An' Pa's been dead for three years—an' I'm seven."

"An' I'm nine," said Tom, standing to display his great size. "But, say, Emmy, shall we go and pick out the valentine?"

"Yes, we'll go down to old Crooked-back's shop in the next street," said Emmy. "He has lots an' lots of valentines for a penny each."

Tommy buttoned up his patched overcoat, straightened his cap on his head—for he knew what gallantry was, and meant to look his best when walking beside his "play" sweetheart—and said: "I'm ready, Emmy."

Together they went down the street, and Emmy asked how many papers Tom had sold that morning, for Tom was a city newsboy, one of those little fellows on whose shoulders rests the burden of making a living for themselves, and sometimes having to add a few dimes to the family fund.

"Well, I've done pretty well, lately," confided Tom. "I make about 25 cents a day, an' go to school besides. That's better'n working all day an' going to night school, isn't it?"

"But, why aren't you to school now?" asked Emmy.

"For the same reason 'at you are at home," smiled Tom. "It's Saturday."

Emmy laughed at the joke on herself, and then they entered the shop of "Crooked-back," a queer, black-eyed old hunchback, who was so often the victim of bad children's pranks and ugly jests. There the two little ones looked over the assortment of penny valentines, but the two-penny ones were so much more attractive that they could not choose from the cheaper ones. Then an idea entered Tom's head. "Say, Emmy," he whispered, "you know I meant to put a stamp an' envelope on the valentine so as to send it to you by the postman. But—s'pose I put the extra pennies on the valentine—an' carry it to you myself. I'll come in the morning an' ring your bell, an' say: 'Something for Miss Emmy!' An' it will be just the same as though it had really and truly come by the postman."

There the two looked over the assortment of penny valentines.

"Oh, that's a good idea," exclaimed Emmy. "An' we can get one ever and ever so much nicer. We can spend three cents on it, can't we?"

"Sure," declared Tom, straightening up proudly, and ramming his little begrimed fist into his pocket, from which he drew a few copper coins. "See, here they are."

It didn't take long now to make the selection of the valentine, and one, all gay with Cupids and roses and a sure enough ribbon bow in one corner was bought and paid for, and the two happy children departed. It was agreed that Tom should keep the valentine and deliver it according to his plan in the morning. So, at Emmy's steps they parted company and Tom entered his own house.

He had just time to lay the valentine away carefully and was fixing up the fire in the cooking stove when the door opened and in walked a very nice-looking old gentleman.

"Is this where Mrs. Johnson—Mrs. Mary Johnson—lives?" asked the stranger.

"Yes, sir; she's my mother," answered Tom. "She'll be home in a few minutes," he explained. "She an' Sis work across the street in that box factory, an' they come home for lunch. It's time for—ah, there they are now, I hear 'em talking to Mrs. Brown on the floor below."

"Well, then you just go and tell them to hurry up," smiled the old gentleman, "and say that you have a valentine waiting for them. See? Say a valentine, for this is St. Valentine's Eve, my boy."

Tom was mystified, but knew that the old gentleman was all right for his face was so merry and kindly. So, running to the hall, he called down to his mother and sister: "Hurry up, folks, for I've got a—a—big valentine waiting for you up here."

"Listen to the boy joke," laughed Mrs. Johnson. "Sure, that Tommy of mine is the greatest boy on the earth, he's always so happy and—" But they were now entering their own room, and Mrs. Johnson started back at sight of the old gentleman. "Why, Uncle Tom!" she cried. "Where did you come from?"

"I'm your valentine," he explained. "I came to bring you good news. I've struck it rich in my mining ventures out West, an' here I am, come to do what I can for my only sister's child. How goes it with you, Mary?"

And then as explanations and happy conversation flowed, Mrs. Johnson making some tea and spreading some luncheon, Tom slipped to the house next door, and, getting Emmy, led her to his own abode, whispering: "We've got a sure enough valentine, Emmy, and the best in the world. An', maybe he'll give me the extra pennies so that I may send your valentine by the postman after all. Won't that be great?"

And Emmy, all excitement over the news of the newly arrived rich old uncle, declared that she was "just too happy for anything, for now Tom might have the chance to learn that he had always wanted." And then she added: "An' I'll be your valentine, Tom, so as you can't say you didn't get one. See?"

A REJECTED VALENTINE.

GEORGIE, dressed up spick and fine,
Presented himself as a valentine
To little Polly, who tossed her head,
Turned up her nose, and pertly said:

"My goodness-me! Why, don't you know
You're not a card, with a ribbon bow,
And cupids and roses, painted fine!
You're just a boy—not a valentine!"

Then Georgie blushed and meekly said:
"To you by Cupid I was led;
And my love for you, so very true,
Is tied about by ribbon blue."

But Polly laughed in a teasing way,
And said: "I'll bid you a good day.
Some other girl may not decline
To take you as her valentine."

ANNIE JAMES.

Mr. Cub Vanity and His Valentine.

BY WILLIAM WALLACE, JR.

MR. CUB VANITY was one of those foolish, vain bears that one sees in nearly every bear village. And it is a happy fact that they are never very popular, for bears, like people, love intelligence and good sense. And they admire pride in their own kind, but will not tolerate vanity. And right here and now, little readers, you must never confuse Pride with Vanity, for they could never be friends. The one is a very commendable trait—indeed, everyone should possess the quality—while the other denotes a very "light head" and a foolish one, not to say egotism.

Well, Mr. Cub Vanity was one of those silly, self-conceited fellows who think they are the envy and admiration of the entire community in which they live. And he was the age to cast sly glances toward the pretty young girl bears in the town. There was one he was especially attracted to, the daughter of the most prominent bear family of the town, Miss Beauty Smallnose. She was a most lovely cub and a great favorite with the young bears, male and female.

Several times young Mr. Cub Vanity had made his boast that after he had come of age, he would marry Miss Beauty Smallnose and thereby become the richest young bear in the whole woods, for old Professor Smallnose was reputed to be very wealthy. And not only was he a wealthy bear, but he was also a most honorable one, and looked up to by all his fellows. He possessed business integrity and industry, and his family—consisting only of wife and daughter—were unassuming bears who lived simply and made no pretense to being great. In this simplicity and good common sense they were great without intending to be—which is the way of the truly great.

Once Miss Beauty Smallnose was told by a friend of the boast made by young Cub Vanity, and she smiled in an amused way, remarking that "it took two to make a bargain." And then the silly fellow was entirely forgotten by her—save when she chanced to see him swaggering about the streets, playing the dandy and showing off his good clothes.

It was St. Valentine's Eve that brought about the downfall of the egotistical Cub Vanity, and it happened in this manner: There was to be a party—a St. Valentine's party—at the home of Dr. Deep Learning. The festivity was given in honor of his young son, a bright fellow, who was learning his estimable father's profession, and who seldom was seen in society, his time being so occupied with study. But on this occasion young Honor Deep Learning was to be the host of the evening, and all the village was in eager anticipation.

Among those invited was the silly snob, Cub Vanity. Not that he and Honor Deep Learning were friends; but because Dr. and Madam Deep Learning were too kind to slight any of the young folks in the town, and because they hoped silly Cub Vanity would learn from the more serious and worthy young bears he would come in contact with at their house.

When he received the invitation to attend the St. Valentine party at the home of the Deep Learnings Cub Vanity smiled in a self-satisfied way. "They will make me the lion of the evening," he mused. Then he did some more talking to himself. "I'll escort Miss Beauty Smallnose to the function. She'll be proud to go in my company. And how the other girl bears will envy her!"

Then the vain fellow began making preparations in the matter of dress for the evening. And such a gay attire was never seen before in the bear village. He had for a waistcoat a piece of bright yellow satin, appliqued with red-breasted birds, flying chinward. For trousers he selected cloth of brown and green stripes; for a coat, bright crimson velvet adorned with brass buttons. He bought a high silk hat of gray, banded with purple.

When at last the evening of the party came, Mr. Vanity was a sight to behold. Decked out in his bright colors, he resembled a bird of gay plumage. Off toward the home of the Smallnoses he strutted, for all the world like a young turkey gobbler. And he carried about the same grade of brains that a young gobbler usually possesses. Of course, we are not making light of a turkey gobbler's brains, they are all right for a turkey, but one expects more in a bear—a bear whose rearing has been such as had been Cub Vanity's. For he had been well-reared, and in the midst of civilized and cultured bears, while the turkey lives in the barnyard in very ordinary company. Thus, we are not belittling the young turkey cock, but Cub Vanity by the comparison.

On arriving at the house of the Small noses, Cub Vanity was disappointed to find the family gone. Ah, he should have notified them of his intention to call for Miss Beauty! Well, he would hurry on to the party and choose her for his evening's partner.

"Thanks for your offer, but you will have to dispose of your charms elsewhere."

On entering the house of Dr. and Madam Deep Learning Mr. Cub Vanity paid his respects to the host and hostess, and bowed condescendingly to young Honor Deep Learning for whom he felt a secret hatred engendered by envy and jealousy. Then he moved on through the drawing-room to where Miss Beauty Smallnose was the center of a large and merry group of young bears. Ignoring those about her, he rudely pushed his way to her side, and in a loud and boastful way, said: "Ah, good evening, Miss Beauty. I called to escort you here, but you had already gone. I should have notified you of my intention to call for you, and then you would have waited."

For a moment Beauty Smallnose was dumfounded by the boldness and audacity of Cub Vanity, but her wit was keen and her tongue ready, and with a ladylike air she said: "You are very kind, Mr. Cub Vanity; but had even you expressed a desire to escort me here tonight I should have been obliged to refuse your company. I always go attended by my parents."

But this did not in the least disconcert Cub Vanity. As one of the jollybears afterwards said, in relating the incident, "it took a brickbat in the chest to make him tumble." And, figuratively speaking, it did. Still pressing his attentions upon Miss Beauty Smallnose, he loudly offered himself as her valentine for the evening, saying: "Of course, it's only for this evening, you will understand, and not for the season, as is the usual custom. I am such a changeable fellow."

"So unlike me," smiled Miss Beauty calmly, but in a loud voice so that all might overhear her reply to the impudent, egotistical fellow. "I have never thought of you as a possible companion—not even for an evening, and I never change my mind. Thanks for your offer, but you will have to dispose of your charms elsewhere. I am already engaged for the evening."

Then it was that Cub Vanity felt his feathers falling, and with a blush of wounded vanity, he turned and left the house, and from that day to this, he has never been invited into polite circles again.

A Jolly St. Valentine Game.

A JOLLY little game that can be participated in by as many as want to play it is described here. Cut from a piece of thick, red cloth—the heavier the better—a large heart. Draw a white circle—say an inch in diameter—in the very center of it. And in the center of the white circle put a black dot—say the size of a pea. Baste the heart on a white canvas—an ordinary bed sheet will do—and then stretch the canvas against the parlor wall. Tack it in place, nice and smooth, so that there will be no wrinkles in it or in the heart.

The guests, when ready to begin the game, are each handed a long, white-headed pin with his or her name written on a bit of paper and attached to the head of the pin. This little paper tag should not be over two inches long and half an inch wide, just sufficiently long and wide to accommodate the name of the guest using the pin to which it is attached.

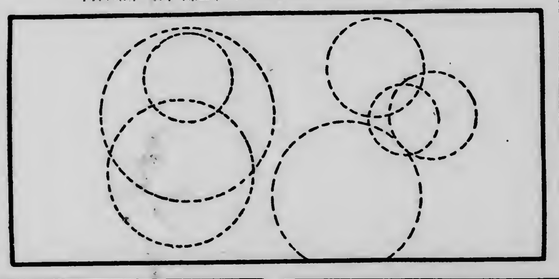

Then, one at a time, the guests are requested to put the pin in the black dot in the white circle, "piercing the depths of the heart," it is called. The guest is carefully blindfolded and then turned round several times to confuse him. He advances toward the heart—if he has not been too much confused by the whirls he has been put through—and endeavors to place the pin on the black dot. Then the fun begins, for sometimes the pins are put at the very outer edge of the heart and occasionally on the edges of the canvas, some distance from the heart. But of course, a few will be lucky enough to hit the white circle, which is pretty good; and fewer still—perhaps none—will put the pin through the black dot.

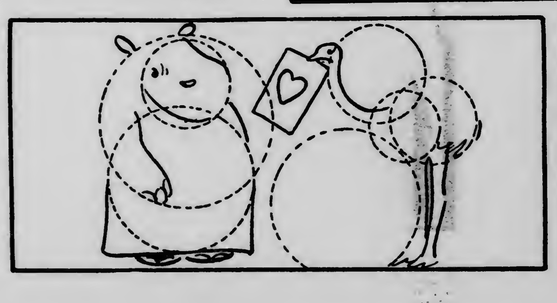

After all have had their "try" the hostess examines the little paper tags on the pins' heads, and the girl or boy who hit the center of the black dot—or came the nearest to it—is awarded the prize, which should be a fine valentine. And those entering the white circle should have second prizes of smaller valentines. To the guest who strays the farthest from the desired black dot should be awarded a "consolation" or "booby" prize. This may be as ludicrous as the young host pleases to make it.

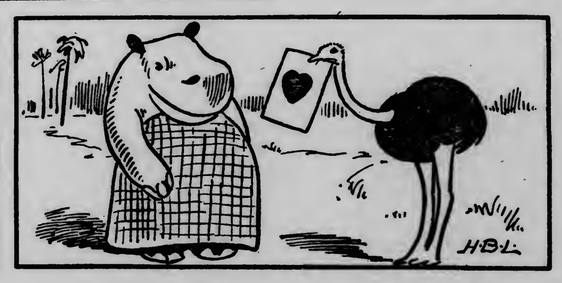

Much fun may be enjoyed at this "free-for-all contest" in "piercing the depths of the heart."

Senator Knute Nelson of Minnesota, chairman; Representative Samuel W. McCall of Massachusetts, vice chairman; Senator Elihu Root of New York, George Sutherland of Utah and Frank P. Flint of California, Republicans; and William E. Purcell of North Dakota and Duncan H. Fletcher of Florida, Democrats; Representatives Martin E. Olmsted of Pennsylvania, Edwin Denby of Michigan and Edmond H. Madison of Kansas, Republicans; and Ollie M. James of Kentucky, and James M. Graham of Illinois, Democrats—these are the men who are now deep in the work of conducting the congressional investigation of the Ballinger-Pinchot controversy.

When it was definitely determined that a committee investigatelon of this famous controversy could not be avoided, the name of only one man was suggested for chairmanship of such a body, and that man was Senator Knute Nelson. With one accord, members of the house and senate both pointed their finger at this son of Norway as the one man in congress above all others who could bring to the chairmanship a character absolutely above reproach, and indomitable energy, a knowledge of the law, and a sense of fairness and justice which would protect the innocent and strike down the guilty without fear or favor.

Nelson's Prayer Before a Battle.

Senator Nelson's high standard of patriotism and regard for duty is well illustrated by a story he tells of himself when he was a private in the Fourth Wisconsin regiment, during the Civil war. The night before the battle at Port Hudson, Louisiana, which was fought June 14, 1863, this regiment received orders to take its position on the firing line at daybreak the following day. It was realized that a desperate conflict was in sight and the men of the regiment did what brave men usually do when confronted by a prospect of death. Many of them wrote letters home to wives and sweethearts, while others drew up their last wills and testaments.

"I looked about me," said Senator Nelson, "and found I was the only Norwegian in the regiment. When I found that out, I went to my tent and dropping on my knees, prayed the Almighty God that on the morrow I might not disgrace my native land or the land of my adoption."

That Senator Nelson's prayers were answered is proved by the fact that while in the forefront of the charge, he sustained an almost mortal wound and was captured and made a prisoner.

For years, Senator Nelson's rectitude and sense of fairness has been recognized by his colleagues in the senate. Ten years ago, when Senator Mathew Stanley Quay of Pennsylvania, was pressing for statehood and other legislation for Arizona and New Mexico, certain legal questions came up which had to be decided by the senate committee on the judiciary. The much revered and respected George F. Hoar, then chairman of the committee, picked out Senator Nelson, then serving his first term in the senate, to ascertain the legislative status of all laws relating to these two territories. Mr. Nelson remained in Washington an entire summer, working in the library of the supreme court and of congress. In the following session, he made a speech three or four days long, which, despite the bitterness which characterized the subsequent fight over Senator Quay's legislation, was never refuted in even a minute detail by any debater on either side of the controversy. That report remains an authority in congress and it is a tribute and a monument to the thoroughness of Senator Nelson as an investigator.

Today, Senator Nelson is likewise the best authority in congress on Alaskan matters. He became interested in Alaskan affairs a number of years ago, when he heard that some Norwegins were being unfairly treated at Nome. As a member of the senate committee on territories, the senator has made several trips to Alaska, and George A. Brackett, a pioneer of Alaska, is authority for the statement that despite his long years of residence in the territory, Senator Nelson knows all that he (Brackett) knows about Alaska and a great deal more, besides.

"I do not know where Senator Nelson got his information," says Mr. Brackett, "but I do know there is not a subject relating to the territory upon which Senator Nelson is not informed."

It is a historical fact taht Senator Nelson has no political confidents in the state of Minnesota or elsewhere. He is the acme of the Norwegian trait of caution, particularly in politics. During the tariff session, he was an insurgent against the Payne bill, having been all his life a low tariff advocate. When he was a member of the house of representatives he voted for the Mills bill, a fact not generally known. He is a regular attendant upon Luther Memorial church in Washington. His mother, who is now 95 years of age, still resides in Southern Wisconsin, where Senator Nelson went in 1850, and the senator never makes a trip between Minnesota and Washington that he does not stop off to see her.

The Independent Samuel McCall.

Perhaps the most independent member of the investigating committee is Representative Samuel McCall of Massachusetts, the vice chairman. Mr. McCall represents in congress the district in which Harvard college is located. He is a Republican in politics, but so independent that it has been said of him that he will vote against his party when it will even hurt himself."

Mr. McCall is a firm believer in independence for the Philippines, holding that the United States made the greatest mistake in its history when it took over those islands. He voted against the Spanish war, and made the most powerful speech heard in either house or congress against the Hepburn bill.

On one occasion when Mr. McCall was offering amendments to pending legislation and having them beaten with regularity by a unanimous vote, except his own, he mustered seventeen votes for one amendment.

"Your party seems to be growing, Sam," remarked a colleague, laughing.

Last spring, Mr. McCall refused the presidency of Dartmouth college on the ground that his life work lay in congress. He is one of the few men in either house who reads Latin as a diversion. Despite his independence, he has recently written a defense of Cannonism, which is said by his colleagues to be faulty in that it applies the high McCall standard to all kinds of human nature which composes the house. For many years, Mr. McCall was editor of the Boston Advertiser. During the tariff session he served on the committee on ways and means with distinction.

When the house was on the point of electing him to the Ballinger-Pinchot committee, Mr. McCall arose in his seat and told his colleagues that he owned some mining stock in a Western corporation. He said he knew nothing about the conduct of its affairs or whether or not it had any dealings with the department of the interior. However, if it had and, he wished to notify the house that he would have nothing to do with that phase of the investigation.

This was thoroughly typical of the man. So intelligent and upright is he in his views that he is the only man in the house of representatives who can read a speech and retain a full attendance of the members.

The Committeeman From Utah.

Senator George Sutherland, the committee member who hails from Utah, one of the states vitally interested in the whole conservation problem, is an inhabitant of what is known as "silent row" on the Republican side in the senate. This appellation applied to the neighborhood in which Mr. Sutherland sits in the senate grew out of the fact that those senators who sit in the row rarely ever take the floor in debate. This characteristic is not wholly true of Mr. Sutherland, however, who, in the last congress, bore out with credit to himself, during the debate of the revision of the penal code, his excellent reputation as a lawyer.

Mr. Sutherland is a non-Mormon in contrast to his colleague, Senator Reed Smoot, who is an apostle of the Mormon church. Nevertheless, Mr. Sutherland is on excellent terms with the leaders of all religious creeds in Utah, and because of the fact that he is able to get along so serenely with the leaders of the Mormon church, he has had applied to him the somewhat opprobious epithet of "Jack Mormon."

During the trial of Senator Smoot, Mr. Sutherland was one of his colleagues's most ardent advocates on the floor of the senate, and during the passage of the tariff bill last summer, he made a noteworthy contribution to the debate over the constitutionality of an income tax. Off the senate floor, he is known as one of the best of the "good fellows" in the senate, and in a small gathering of friends, can draw on an almost inexhaustible fund of stories, which he tells in an inimitable style. In his own quiet way he is one of the hardest workers in the senate, and is regarded as a source of strength to the investigating committee by reason of this fact.

In the other Western senator on the committee, Frank P. Flint of California, there is the man who has the courage of his convictions. He is serving his first and only term in the senate. Six years ago, he was a district attorney in California, seeking a reappointment to office, which was denied him by Thomas Bard, then senator from that state. When he finally became convinced that he was not to be reappointed, Mr. Flint announced himself as a candidate for senator. Subsequently, he handily defeated Mr. Bard, succeeding him at Washington. Being a man of moderate means, Mr. Flint recently made up his mind that being a senator was too costly a luxury, and announced that he would retire to private life next year.

Senator Flint is a family man. He has carried this laudable hobby to the extreme of incorporating his private property so that each member of his family may be a director in the family affairs, become thoroughly acquainted with the business, and know at all times just where the family stands as a business proposition. He does not care for society, and prefers the family fireside to anything on earth.

Before taking his seat in the senate, Mr. Flint was counsel for the Southern Pacific railroad. By some, this was deemed and inhibition against his service on this investigating committee, but when it became equally well known that he was a great friend and ardent admirer of Gifford Pinchot, all objections to his service were withdrawn.

As an investigator, Mr. Flint believes in going over the ground under actual controversy. He is one of the best informed men in congress on the Panama canal, and whenever he gets two months' spare time, he goes to Panama alone, puts on his old clothes and wanders up and down the canal, talking to the laborers, examining machinery, and getting in touch with conditions at first hand. When Gifford Pinchot goes to California to look over the forest reserves, Senator Flint usually accompanies him on his long tramps through the woods. As a result of these trips he possesses a technical knowledge of forestry better than any of his colleagues on the committee.

Kentucky's Pair of Investigators.

A political feud in Kentucky is believed to be largely responsible for the fact that the state has two representatives on the investigating committee, Senator Thomas H. Paynter and Representative Ollie M. James. Senator Paynter, however, has resigned from the committee and is succeeded by Senator Purcell of North Dakota. Senator Paynter is already a candidate to succeed himself in 1913, and Representative James is expected to announce himself as a candidate at any time. The seeming haste of each after a seat which will not be vancant until three years' hence, is due to the fact that under the Kentucky primary laws, the contest is due to take place next year. It is generally understood in Washington that Mr. Paynter wished to get on the investigating committee because of the prestige it is bound to give all the members of it. He was not thought of particularly by his Democratic colleagues, until Senator Joseph W. Bailey of Texas, urged his election, which was accomplished without opposition. He has now retired on account of ill health.

Senator Paynter is the political protege of Former Governor J. C. W. Beckham of Kentucky. In the senatorial fight for the seat of J. C. S. Blackburn, Governor Beckham's friends strongly put him forth as a candidate. Although defeating Blackburn, Governor Beckham had incurred so many political enemies that he was unable to turn his victory to his own account, and, as a result, turned to Mr. Paynter, who was then chief justice of the Kentucky court of appeals. In Mr. Paynter's behalf, he was able to amalgamate the Democratic factions, with the result that Mr. Paynter came to the senate.

A fair characterization of the senatorial career of Mr. Paynter would be that it has been colorless. Nevertheless, his ability as a lawyer is not disputed, and this record is borne out by his eight years of service as a judge. During this service, the court heard the Goebel contested election case, and Representative James appeared in the capacity of counsel.

Representative James is the largest man in the house. He is nearly six feet and a half in height, weighs nearly 300 pounds and is without an ounce of fat on him. He once went to a darky bootblack stand in Kentucky to have his shoes shined, and indicated his desire by a motion of his hands.

"Dat man am sho' deaf and dumb," said one of the bootblacks.

"Yep, an' he am my Jumbo," responded another.

When the job of shining was over, Representative James bawled out in stentorian tons:

"Hey, you, that is no way to shine a man's shoes."

The darkies dropped their instruments of commerce and dashed off down the street in opposite directions. Mr. James was not even able to catch them to pay for the shine.

For many years, Mr. James has been recognized as the right hand man of William Jennings Bryan in congress. It was Mr. James who organized the bolt of the Kentucky delegation from its instructions in the Chicago convention of 1896, and Kentucky was the first state to go to Bryan after the famous "cross of gold and crown of thorns" speech. That piece of political astuteness made James a marked man in politics in Kentucky, although at that time he was only 24 years of age.

The only objection made to Mr. James' selection on the investigating committee was that he was a rank partisan. No man in either house of congress will fight as hard for his side in a political controversy as Mr. James, but it can truthfully be said of him that he is one of the most timid men in the house where his own progress in political office is concerned. This has been characteristic of him since he entered politics as a page in the Kentucky senate, and it is said that if he had permitted the use of his name in the legislature two years ago, the Democrats would have rallied to him and elected him senator instead of William O. Bradley, the present Republican incumbent.

Like all Kentucklans, Mr. James is a lover of horse-racing. Incidentally, he has great capacity for work and his services will undoubtedly be valuable all through the investigation.

The Republican Offset for Giant James.

Representative Edwin Denby of Detroit is the Republican offset in size for Ollie James. Mr. Denby stands six feet, three inches in height, and weighs over 300 pounds. President Roosevelt dubbed him "big Denby" to distinguish him from his brother, Charles, who was then serving as chief clerk at the state department. Charles Denby is nearly a foot shorter than his brother and weighs about half as much.

Members of the house of representatives have long regarded Mr. Denby as one of the coming members of that body. When the house undertook to discipline President Roosevelt for his famous message in defense of the secret service a year ago, a message in which the president hauled the members of congress over the coals in a somewhat unceremonious fashion, Mr. Denby, who was recognized as a personal friend of the president, was placed upon the committee. When the committee unanimously reported in favor of expunging the message from the records of the house, Mr. Denby delivered the most forcible speech made upon the subject in the lower body. Some days later he had occasion to go to the White House. President Roosevelt promptly singled him out in a room full of callers and walking up to him with a smile on his face, said:

"Big Denby, big Denby, big Denby—and I suppose you had to do it."

A good-natured laugh all around closed the incident of the "spanking committee" so far as Mr. Denby was concerned.

For ten years Mr. Denby served in the customs service of China under Sir Robert Hart, while his father, Charles Denby, was minister to China. He is one of the few men in the United States who can speak the Chinese language. He is a first class lawyer, a man of great breadth of views and a most impressive speaker.

The Lone House Insurgent.

Representative Edmond H. Madison of Kansas is the one house insurgent on the investigating committee. Mr. Madison was elected to congress while a judge on the bench, and is recognized as not only one of the best lawyers in the house, but as one of the strongest characters in congress. His devotion to duty in the face of personal risk is well illustrated by a story he tells of himself while holding the office of county attorney of Ford county, Kan., in 1888.

At that time Dodge City, which is the home of Mr. Madison, was known as one of the haunts of "bad men" in the West. Mr. Madison was elected county attorney immediately on his admission to the bar. Being a young man of high ideals, he felt a keen sense of duty as a sort of regulator of the morals of his community, which idea he began to put into practical effect without much tact or diplomacy. So whenever cowboys from the neighboring ranches "shot up" the town, Mr. Madison felt it incumbent upon him to prosecute.

"The result was," said Mr. Madison, "that I rarely ever walked down the street without getting licked. It grew to be a habit with the defendants in my cases to call me over to the curbstone, smash my face, and then kick me all over the street. Notwithstanding the drawbacks to my official position, I continued to enforce the law to the best of my abilities and with some degree of success."

James M. Graham of Illinois, who was chosen a member of the committee by the house Democrats after the Republican majority had refused to receive Henry C. Rainey of the same state, is serving his first term in congress. His reputation as a lawyer preceded him to Washington. It is said that there is hardly a law case of note tried in Central Illinois that Mr. Graham does not appear either on one side or the other as an attorney. He is a speaker of far more than ordinary ability, and as one of his Republican colleagues said recently, "Graham has no fuss or feathers in his makeup."

Although there are members of congress who have known Mr. Graham since boyhood, none of them have ever been able to recall that he was other than serious in his views of life. He has a most pardonable pride in two sons, who are now practicing law, and the only joke he was ever heard to perpetrate was when he advised one of his largest clients that "either one of the boys is a better lawyer than I am."

Incidentally, Mr. Graham is a native of Ireland, which only makes the absence of anecdote in his career even more marked. Before coming to

DULUTH'S GREATEST MARVEL OF THE AGE

THE WORLD has advanced more since the day Ben Franklin sent his kite and key up in the air than it had in all the years before and the unseen power that Ben discovered in the atmosphere has furnished most of the motive force for the great steps in advancement. When Morse sent a message from Baltimore to Washington, over the telegraph and succeeded in getting an appropriation of $30,000 from congress it seemed as if the people at large through their representatives in the government body of the nation were wasting their money.

When Bell evolved the telephone, using the brain and electric power, those who put their money into its development were scoffed at. Noodledom knew that there would be 6,000,000 telephone connections in a few years. Why, whenever railroads were first built for long distances railroad men were skeptical, as today is the introduction of radium is lapsed into cold forward and cautious as a public joker or trifler will be unknown before many years have passed.

When the world was first told that messages could be transmitted in parts of a day and the world inclined its head as a kind of nutty in its ways, as it always does when confronted with things too wonderful. Like the navigation of the air, regarded today, wireless telegraphy was looked upon as the work of one man a wild dream with no commercial value. But behold the world today wireless telegraphy stands as a proven commercial factor—an established science that is being developed to great proportions for the protection of life and property, for no other force could protect.

The hardest to really dig not appreciate wireless telegraphy until Jack Binns sent his urgent "S. O. S." out over the waves of ether to call all to the stricken Republic. The disaster averted as it was, caused by the strange force so long developed awakened the world to a realization of the fact that wireless was practical, useful and a boon to man on land and sea.

What happened in the case of the Republic on the Atlantic ocean has happened on the Great Lakes. The fourth "S. O. S." flashed out by James Mooney, the young wireless operator on the steamer Huron, of the Pickands & Mather line, called ready aid to the stricken steamer. It gone first in the waters on Lake Michigan Nov. 27 last, and those passengers and crew of the big boat were saved from watery graves. To make possible the call Mooney climbed up up on a mast in a terrible storm, risking his life to repair a broken connection.

Deeply was a peculiar interest in wireless. Situated as it is on the greatest and perhaps the most dangerous and most treacherous of the Great Lakes, Duluth has hundreds of lives and many thousands of dollars out on the lakes every day during the season of navigation. Duluth people have not been surprised any week of the navigation season to hear of some boat going down with all hands to the unknown graveyard at the bottom of the lake. Duluth has spent in equipping boats with wireless and in establishing stations on land will save a small percentage of those lives. Duluth will know that wireless was not invented in vain. Wireless is a protector of life and property on the lakes and Duluth wants to see it developed so that every boat will be equipped to be in touch with land or other boats every minute of the day out on the waves that may carry death.

What Wireless Might Do.

Even this last fall, Duluth had a number of examples of what wireless might have done. When the steamer Trevor went on Isle Royale, the boat was on the shore two or three days before word of the mishap was conveyed to those who might send aid. Two or three men rowed out into the lake toward the mainland and were picked up by a Booth line boat. In the case of the Bransford, the condition was about the same. Members of the crew had rowed about fourteen miles toward Grand Marais before they met one of the Booth line boats. The Shaughnessy also went on Isle Royale and though it released itself, its position might have been worse without means of sending a call for aid. In all of those cases, wireless on the boats might have saved the crew much hardship and their friends much worry.

The case of the steamer Ottawa was a notable one in which wireless might have played a beneficent part. When the Ottawa went on the rocks, the members of the crew set out in an open boat, with the temperature at zero, and a storm raging. After rowing about fifty miles, they landed at Eagle Harbor, completely exhausted. The agonies of the boat was an old man and for a time after the terrible trip, his life was despaired of. One of the members of the crew is now in an insane asylum. The hardships of that trip might have been prevented if the boat had been equipped with wireless.

A most glaring case was that of the Wissahickon of the Anchor line, which went on Otter Duck Island in Lake Huron late in the season. The boat grounded in a heavy snow storm on Sunday and it was the following Wednesday before an appeal for aid could be communicated to those who could furnish it. There was no danger to members of the crew, perhaps, and the boat was not in real danger, but with wireless, the worries of the people on shore, who did not know the whereabouts of the boat, could have been relieved.

The experiences of the steamer C. O. Jenkins on its last trip to Duluth shows to what practical use wireless on a boat is under all conditions. The Jenkins was equipped with wireless and was one of the last boats to come up the lakes. It was loaded with coal and the captain was anxious to get into port and away again before the insurance ran out. Guernsey Close, operator at the local wireless station now, was the operator on the boat.

Though a storm was predicted, the Jenkins started for Duluth, leaving other boats lying under White Fish Point. It had not been out twelve hours before a seventy-five-mile gale was encountered. The water which rolled over the ship from the giant waves froze as soon as it struck. The ship was in danger all the time, but from the time it left the Soo until it was in the Duluth harbor, it was in communication with land. From the Soo to Calumet, communication with the Calumet station was maintained and from Calumet to Duluth, communication was maintained with the Duluth station. If anything had happened, the operator would have been able to notify people on shore immediately.

The Berwind, which sank the Steinbrenner, would never have caused the amount of worry it did on the way from the Soo if it had been equipped with wireless. The boat was five days making the ordinary thirty-six-hour run. It was not heard from for several days and people were worried almost to the point of distraction until the lighthouse keeper at Copper Harbor discovered the boat lying under Keweenaw Point and the Calumet station was notified the local station of the fact.

Wireless Here to Stay.

Wireless on the Great Lakes during the past season might be regarded as an experiment or a demonstration. During the next season of navigation it will be an established institution. The United Wireless Telegraph company entered the Great Lakes' field last March, and during the season twenty-five stations were established and thirty passenger boats on Lake Michigan and twenty ore boats were equipped. Contracts have already been signed for equipping about 150 ore boats with instruments before the opening of the next season of navigation, and the proobabilities are that 200 to 225 boats will be carrying the instruments into Duluth. Stations will be established at Two Harbors, Ashland and Marquette. The Canadian government, which will not allow a private wireless company to enter the Canadian field, will establish a station at Port Arthur, and the service will probably be extended to other Canadian ports. The passenger steamers Tionesta, Juniata and Ocontara of the Anchor line, and the Hamonic, Huronic and Saronic of the Northern Navigation company's fleet will be equipped with the instruments.

Thus far no move has been made to establish a station on Isle Royale, but the opinion is general among marine men that a station should be established there. As soon as the number of vessels equipped with wireless on the lakes becomes great enough, the United Company will probably establish a station, but marine men believe that some move should be made immediately. The wireless company has put it up to the shipping interests. There is not enough commercial business on the island to warrant the establishment of a station, which would have to be a measure merely for protection. It is probably up to the steamship companies to make a guarantee to the wireless company before a station is established.

Isle Royale is easily the most dangerous point on the lakes. Boats go on shore there every year. There is no way of getting a communication to anybody without a long row across what is usually in the fall an angry, treacherous expanse of water. With a wireless station on Isle Royale, much of the terror would be eliminated from the little piece of land out in the lake.

Since Duluth has had an intimate acquaintance with wireless telegraphy through the establishment of the station on the hill, many people have visited the little house, where District Superintendent F. G. Moe and Operator Guernsey Close hold forth in charge of the instruments that control the forces of the air.

There is nothing at the station but two towers, 150 feet high, with a few wires strung between them, a few little instruments in the little house at the foot of the towers, but those towers, wires and instruments will send a message or receive one through the air, snow, rain, sleet of any kind of weather, through mountains or brick houses or through any other substance that may come in the straight line between them and the station with which they may be working.

The Duluth station is equipped for only 200 miles, for it is supposed to work with the Calumet station, which is the relay point between Duluth and the Soo. Under any conditions, the station will work for 300 miles, however, and at night when conditions are favorable, it will work for a much greater distance. It is common for the station to pick up the Soo, Milwaukee, Chicago, Detroit and other points during the night. It has worked direct with New York and Mr. Moe has copied messages being sent from New Orleans to Atlantic City. Of course, such long distances are covered only at night when conditions are most favorable for wireless telegraphy.

The Calumet station is the great strategic point in commanding Lake Superior by wireless. The station at Calumet can reach any station on the lake, and is within reach of all boats that may be on the lake. "One would think Keweenaw Point were built by Providence for the use of the wireless telegraph system," said Mr. Moe.

The establishment of the station at Grand Marais was an event in the history of the little village, which had forever before been cut off from the remainder of the world, having no means of communication except an occasional boat. The people of the village gave the United company a guarantee, which was supplemented by the Red Cliff Lumber company, and the erection of the station was begun. The old inhabitants reserved judgment until the station was established and the first message sent out over space. Then some of the old men really wept as they realized that Grand Marais was placed in the front rank of progress, its first direct communication with the outside world being by the latest of all means of communication.

F. G. Moe is superintendent of the Lake Superior division of the United Wireless Telegraph company's system and he has had supervision of all the work done in this district. He is experienced, efficient, affable and his accommodating and ingratiating manner has enabled him to easily serve the best interests of the company.

Guernsey Close, chief operator at the Duluth station, entered the service of the United company about seven years ago and, after a year's experience on different steamers running out of New York to West Indian points, South America, Mexico and Southern ports of the United States, he was sent to Key West, Fla., to take charge of the company's station. From there he went to Charleston, S. C., and Atlantic City, N. J., and before coming to Duluth, he was the company's chief operator at the Waldorf-Astoria hotel station at New York. From the opening of navigation until the last boat leaves the lakes in the fall, Mr. Close will have three operators to assist him at the local station and there will be a man on duty at all times, day and night.

The Soo station is in charge of J. F. Cooley and the Calumet station of T. L. Williams. Mr. Williams served his apprenticeship with Marconi in England and he was in charge of a field wireless station with the British army during the Boer war. The Grand Marais station is in charge of E. M. Sommers, who, in addition to acting as operator, operates the machinery which furnishes the power for the station.

H. H. Brown, the expert electrician and construction foreman of the Lake Superior division is a graduate of the University of Maine and studied the science of wireless in the laboratories of the company in Jersey City. He is today probably the best posted and most practical wireless man west of New York. Mr. Brown will be actively employed before the opening of navigation in equipping the majority of the fleet wintering in the Duluth harbor. He will install the high power station at the Soo and new stations at Two Harbors and Marquette.

Almost Uncanny.

There is something seemingly uncanny and unreal in being on a boat far out on the oceans or Great Lakes, out of sight of land, and yet being in close touch with the happenings throughout the world by the means of a few simple mechanical instruments and a few wires held aloft on the masts of the ship. But such is the wireless.

One may sit on the deck and looking above see wires crossing between the masts and running down into a cabin on the ship. Occasionally sharp "crackles" from the wireless room are heard, as the operator sends out his dots and dashes which form words and sentences telling of the location of the ship, or happenings on board, or perhaps a message to some other voyager on another ship far away, or to someone toiling on land in a distant city, one then may well wonder what science will evolve next.

The principle of wireless is simple, but is difficult of explanation without resorting to comparison with things with which all are familiar. The basic principle of wireless operation is the principle of waves. Drop a pebble into a pool of water and immediately the eye notes that waves radiate from the point at which the pebble strikes the water in every direction. Discharge a revolver into the air and the concussion or force of the expanding gas from the exploding powdor creates waves in the air which, when they strike the ear, is recorded as sound.

In wireless the waves set in motion by the discharge of high-voltage electricity—that is the real wireless waves—can neither be seen nor heard. When the operator presses the key of his wireless transmitter he sets waves of "ether" in motion, or to be more exact sends out his message on waves of ether. These ether waves penetrate everything, including not only the air and the water, but the earth and all solid substances. Therefore a wireless message will travel through brick or stone buildings, mountains, etc., the same as it will travel through the air or over the water.

Everyone understands or has some knowledge of the operation of the wire telegraph, for its operation is very simple. The wire telegraph companies erect poles between cities and towns, and on these poles they string wires along which a current of electricity "carries" messages from one point to the other. A message is turned over to an operator, who sends it out by means of a key or transmitter to a receiving operator at the other end of the wire. The operator, when he presses the key, does not send a letter of the alphabet, the letters are made up from a combination of dots and dashes and spaces. These dots and dashes are called the Morse code, which was invented or compiled by Prof. Morse, the inventor of the telegraph. In this language of the Morse a dot and a dash means A, a dash and three dots means B, and so on through the alphabet, with various combinations of dots and dashes.

How It "Works."

Every telegraph wire is charged with electricity by means of a battery or electric generator. The electric current flows along the wire in continuous waves, and when the operator presses down his key he breaks or interrupts the regular flow of these waves and the interruption is recorded at the other end of the wire through a mechanical instrument operated by means of a spring and a magnet, which causes a sound in exact imitation of the sound made by the telegraph key at the sending station. The sound which one hears does not travel from one end of the wire to the other, in fact it does not travel along the wire at all, but the current being interrupted by the key causes the key at the receiving end to act in unison and in moving it up and down it makes the same audible sound as is made at the sending end. That is the wire telegraph simply explained.

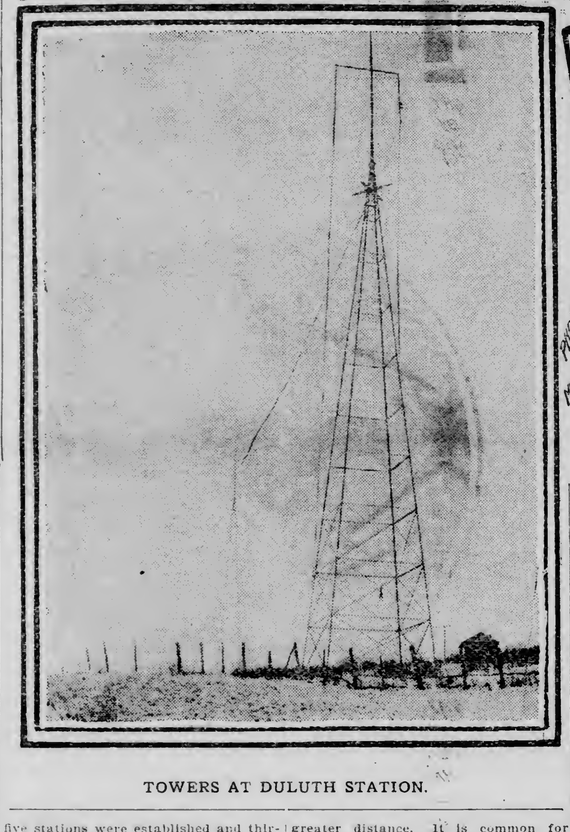

The wireless telegraph is very similar in principle. The wireless operator uses the same kind of key in sending his messages as does the wire telegraph operator. The wireless telegraph sounds louder than does the wire telegraph because the electricity used in sending wireless messages is of higher voltage than that used in the operation of the wire telegraph.

In receiving the wireless messages, instead of using a "sounder" similar to that used by the wire telegraph operator, the wireless operator hears the dots and the dashes by means of the telephone. The sounds which he hears in the telephone, however, are of the same character, though not so loud as that which is sent out by the sending station, and therefore he can read the message the same as does the wire telegraph operator. The wireless telegraph therefore differs from the wire telegraph only in that there are no wires connecting the sending and receiving station, which wires may be broken down by storms and must be maintained at great expense, and that the wireless messages are received by means of the telephone instead of a telegraph instrument. The wireless may, therefore, be called a combination of both the telegraph and the telephone, and an improvement on both.

OVER TEN MILES IN LENGTH

Great Extent of Ore Bodies at Cananea—American Mining Engineer Who Has Visited Camp Recently Tells About Its Showing.

El Paso, Tex., Feb. 12.—J. R. Morris, a mining engineer, who has recently been in El Paso, returned to the Cananea district, Mexico, and is engaged in mining in Chivatoca, a new copper camp in the Cananea district. He has for a long time been connected with the La Ducha copper mines in the state of Guerrero, Mexico.

Speaking of the Cananea district, he says that the known ore bodies extend for over ten miles in length, containing such well-known copper properties as the Oversight, Cap to Veta Grande, Duluth and America. But it is only within the past year that the ever-diligent prospector has endeavored to show that the copper belt extends beyond the limits of the old camps referred to, and with more than an even chance of success.

Partly worthy of mention is the McMillan mine, three miles east of the Duluth mine, which has a shaft down over 200 feet with some crosscuttings in which the showing is exceptionally fine. The geological formation of it is identifieal with that of the Duluth. The property contains a superficial area of ninety hectarles, or 225 acres. The croppings on it are 1,500 feet wide and extend a lineal distance of the entire length of the property.

The owners are W. H. Carp, E. B. Tangston, A. M. Conaghy and P. W. Davidson, who are developing it. The property has attracted a great deal of interest locally—so much so, that J. J. Evans, recently foreman of the Veta Grande mine, has just denounced 1,000 acres of ground adjoining the McMillan claim. Evans is backed by ample capital, and is only waiting title from the Mexican government, on receipt of which he will operate on a large scale.

Another new discovery nearby in the same district, is the Oxide, on which a shaft has been sunk thirty-five feet, making a remarkable showing as the entire shaft is in ore running between 3 and 4 per cent copper a ton, besides carrying the customary gold and silver values common to this camp.

ALTA COPPER CAMP GROWING

Change to Copper in Sulphides Looking Better at Depth—Believed Great Zone of Copper Underlies Zone of Lead-Silver.

Salt Lake, Utah, Feb. 12.—That Alta, Man., with the development below the water level, will be a good camp, with the advantage of cheaper costs in Alta's favor is the conviction of L. G. Hardy of this city, who has had a great deal of practical experience in the making of copper mines. The advantage which Alta would have would be in the opportunities afforded of mining through tunnels instead of deep shafts. The cost of keeping the Butte mines unwatered is alone between $400,000 and $500,000 a month, it is said.

"The formation as well as the situation generally, at Alta is very similar to that at Butte," said Mr. Hardy to the Salt Lake Tribune. "Both have copper-bearing porphyry dikes cutting the country formation. The softness of the dikes has permitted the enormous flows of water, occasioned by excessive snowfalls characteristic of both camps, to be carried below the level of natural drainage, redepositing the copper values at considerable depth. The effect of these constantly percolating waters upon the copper contents of the ores is illustrated forcibly at the St. Lawrence mine in Butte, where the water flowing from the mine carries from nine to thirteen pounds of copper in solution.

"Precisely the same changes which marked the development of Butte mines are taking place in Alta. Butte was a lead-silver camp down to 700 and 750-foot levels. Even so eminent a geologist as Prof. Clayton predicted that the Butte mines would yield no ores of commercial grade below the 750-foot level.

"Prominent outcrops of copper-bearing porphyry are found in a number of places in Alta, the indications being particularly pronounced on the City Rocks property and in Superior gulch. Traces of copper are left along all of the fractures where the porphyry dikes have cut through the granite, showing that the whole country is underlaid with copper at depth—that a great zone of copper underlies the zone of lead-silver.

thirty feet below the sixth level. Drifting eastward toward the Black Oxide winze on the 400-foot level of the Gardner shaft is progressing rapidly. The breast of this drift is now about sixty feet from the Black Oxide winze, with which it will ultimately make connection. The ground through which this drift is being driven carries a great deal of manganese and considerable silver and copper values should eventually be developed.

Crosscutting north and south on the 500-foot level of the Telfair shaft of the Arizona-Michigan Mining company's property is being constantly extended. Southward dorite is the prevailing formation and northward the crosscut has passed through dorite into conglomerate and from that material into quartzite. The total amount of the level work to date is over 1,000 feet and has opened ground showing mineralization in some degree throughout. Most of the mineralization is in the form of iron and manganese with some silver. The vein cut by the north crosscut contained much mineral and at the present face, the quartzite is well colored with iron. The south crosscut has been driven 440 feet and the north one, 460 feet. It is estimated that the Ice Welt vein, outcropping north of the shaft will be intersected by the north crosscut within a distance of 100 feet from the present face of this crosscut. The old Dominion vein will be explored at this level of the workings by about 500 feet of driving in the south crosscut. When this vein was prospected at the surface, copper carbonate was present to some extent. Twenty men are employed at the property.

COPPER OUTPUT CURTAILED

nest, Mich., with a capital stock of $7,500,000. The action was taken in order to raise funds with which to pay off an indebtedness and provide a development fund. The Ida-Montana is the owner of two quartz lode claims southeast of the city of Butte and adjoining the properties of the Amazon-Butte, with which latter it was once proposed to consolidate. Originally the Ida property was owned by the Ida-Montana Development company but after the shaft had been sunk to a depth of 480 feet and a body of commercial ore was opened on the 250-level, a mining company was organized and the capital increased from $800,000 to $2,000,000. This reorganization was made just before the panic of 1907 and the company has been inactive ever since. P. D. McNaughton of Calumet is president of the company and W. J. McDonald secretary. The company is considered to have a good property and is well equipped for development work and mining. What the plans of the company are is not known in Butte, as the special meeting was held by attorneys and the stock voted according to direction by proxies. Very little of the stock is held in Butte.

Michigan & Montana.

The Michigan & Montana Development company operating the Blue Bird mine in the Corbin-Wickes district, has made a five-year contract with the Robert Emmet Copper company by which the latter will furnish electric power for the Blue Bird mine, and the pole line from the Robert Emmet transformer plant to the Blue Bird has just been completed. The cost of the electric power will be just about one-third the cost of steam power. The Blue Bird is the largest shipper in the district. The Robert Emmet is the first company in the Corbin district to install its own complete electric power plant. The Blue Bird contract calls for the delivery of 400 electrical horsepower. Other companies in the district will secure their power from the Robert Emmet.

Corbin Copper.

The Corbin Copper company has completed a foundation for a concentrator, and the first 100-ton unit will be installed shortly. The machinery has been shipped by the Allis-Chalmers company and will arrive at the mine in a week or so. The company has a very large amount of good ore blocked out in the Dewey tunnel and is in shape to keep a concentrator running indefinitely. The vein has been opened a distance of 850 feet and is twenty feet wide. The same vein is being opened at greater depth by another tunnel, and the company is also developing another group of claims on the opposite side of the gulch.

Washington, he held various state offices, to his credit.

How Olmsted Made $30,000.

An experienced investigator on the committee is Representative Marlin E. Olmsted who is being prominently mentioned as the successor to Speaker Cannon. Mr. Olmsted was the chief inquisitor of the house investigating committee which looked into the submarine boat scandal of the last congress. His legal astuteness on that occasion settled that controversy to the great satisfaction of his colleagues in the house, and what threatened to become an annual scandal was effectively squelched.

Mr. Olmsted's ability as a lawyer was demonstrated early in his legal career, according to a story which is told of him.

His first office was that of a corporation clerk in the office of the auditor general of the state of Pennsylvania. Mr. Olmsted left that position to begin the practice of law in 1878, and, so the story runs, shortly thereafter appeared at the office of the auditor general to point out that large corporations were escaping their just share of taxation under the law. Mr. Olmsted also argued that a large amount of back taxes could also be collected from this source.

The auditor general called in the attorney general of the state and after many conferences informed Mr. Olmsted that no such authority could be found in the law he had cited. They agreed to appoint him special counsel for the state if he could satisfy them that his contentions were correct. Mr. Olmsted promptly pointed out the "joker" in the law, was given the job, and finally received about $30,000 as his percentage of the recovery.

As an administrator of parliamentary law, Speaker Cannon is known to regard Mr. Olmsted as his logical successor because of his ability in this direction.

The Gentlemen From Florida and New York.

The remaining members of the committee are Senators Root of New York and Duncan U. Fletcher, of Florida.

As in the case of Senator Paynter, the selection of Senator Fletcher by the Democrats of the senate to represent them on the investigating committee, came about somewhat unexpectedly. It was the original intention of the Democrats to place upon the committee Senator Charles J. Hughes of Colorado, who is known the country over as one of the best lawyers on mining laws in the United States. When it was learned, however, that Mr. Hughes, in some speeches made in Colorado before coming to the senate, had expressed hostility to some features of the administration of the bureau of forestry, a protest was voiced which resulted in his withdrawal and the selection of Mr. Fletcher. The Florida senator is now serving his first term.

Before coming to the senate, Mr. Fletcher had established himself as one of the leaders of the Florida bar, and had also served in the state legislature, as mayor of Jacksonville, and as chairman of the board of public instruction of the county in which Jacksonville is located. He has also been chairman of the Democratic state executive committee for three years. His most noteworthy contribution to the affairs of congress was his defense of the demands of the Florida pineapple raisers for a high tariff duty on their product.

As for Senator Root, his public career is too well known to call for comment here. But it is not generally known that he was the only man in the Roosevelt cabinet who insisted in running his executive department to suit himself. When he found out one day that President Roosevelt had sent some cablegrams on state department matters without his knowledge he called at the White House and told the president he would either run his department or quit. From that time henceforth, Mr. Root ran the state department alone.

On the first of May each year, Senator Root and his wife return to the former's parental roof, now their own, in Clinton, N. Y., and lay out an old fashioned garden preparatory to a summer's residence therein.

ture in connection with the wireless, as compared with the wire telegraph, is the "tuning" device through which messages not intended for a station are prevented from interfering or interrupting other messages which are intended for the station. As a wireless message travels in every direction the "tuner" is very necessary. This tuner is a box containing several coils of wires upon which keys slide or can be made to slide up or down, like the finger on the string of a violin. The position of the keys prevents electrical waves of certain "tones" or resistances, being sent to other stations, from passing into the telephone receiver while the message intended for the station passes through the coils and is heard and read by the operator.

That is the way wireless works. The wireless combines both the telegraph and the telephone and in addition to its operation on land it has the hundreds of thousands of boats throughout the world to be equipped, the tens of thousands of islands and insular plantations to be connected by wireless, the moving trains, and, possibly, in the future, ships in the air. Who, therefore, can say at this time to what extent wireless will be developed and of what great value it will become to mankind. Wireless messages travel everywhere, and a ship, no matter where it may be located out in the ocean, can be found by a wireless message. Wireless messages also, as the system develops and is extended, will communicate with fast moving trains traveling at the rate of sixty miles an hour. Wireless will also, in the future, transmit the news to newspapers throughout the world. In the distribution of news, stock quotations, etc., one operator sending a message 500 miles can send the same message at the same time to a hundred newspapers, or a thousand. Wireless will in time become universal and the present-day system of poles and wires probably disappear off the face of the earth.

REAL ESTATE AND BUILDING NEWS

SIMPLE AND COMPACT HOME WHICH WOULD COST $4,800 TO BUILD HERE

The above illustration shows a home of compact plan and simple, though pleasing exterior design. The simplicity of construction and design and compactness of plan here shown, would effect a substantial saving in cost of construction, compared to the average house of its size.

With the central hall, the living room on one side and dining room opposite, the first story plan presents an "open" and roomy appearance. The living room is a most attractive apartment with its wide bay facing south, a brick fireplace, and French windows opening to the veranda or sunroom. The veranda is made livable for the year round by being inclosed with glass. It could also be heated. The kitchen with cupboards, counters, etc., built in, is most convenient and eliminates the necessity of a china pantry.

In the second story are arranged two unusually large bedrooms, one smaller bedroom, a large bath and ample closet space. By the construction of the roof as shown, it would be possible to provide two large bedrooms, a store room and closets in the attic.

With the average grade of lumber and finish and including heating and plumbing, it is estimated that a home as above illustrated and described can be built complete for $4,806.

Architect.

QUIET TONE TO MARKET, BUT INQUIRY IS STRONG

Real Estate Men Look Forward to Healthy Activity Soon.

Dealers Are Advising Public Against Hysteria of Boom Times.

A seasonable quiet hangs over the realty market. People are inquiring, investigating and dickering, but few deals are being closed up. Real estate men are not worrying at all, but the fact remains that few pieces of property are changing hands just at this time.

Real estate men have come to expect a lull in business in February. Being a short month, with two holidays in it, it's bad enough for business ordinarily, but people do not seem to get into the real estate market very heavily during the month. They inquire and negotiate and after March comes, they are about ready to close up their deals.

The real estate men are all cheerful and optimistic. They maintain that this year is going to be one of the best in history for Duluth real estate and they can point to facts and figures for a sound basis for their optimism. With the coming of March, they say, and the spring feeling, people will get into the market heavily and there will be noticeable activity.

Acres and low-priced residence lots are receiving most of the attention as usual. People are looking to the suburbs. Every man with red blood in his veins and natural, healthful tastes, looks forward to owning a little plot of ground, a little house of his own, a front yard and a garden in the rear where he may putter around during his leisure hours. Securing the lot is the first step toward securing the home of his dreams.

If he is wise, he will not waste any time about securing the lot. Good suburban property in Duluth is looking up. During the next few years, great changes will be wrought in Lakeside, Woodland and the nearer suburbs. The man who buys a lot now will not regret his purchase in two or three years from now. If in that time he sets about building a home, he will find that he would have to pay much more for the lot that he may buy now at a moderate figure.

Inquiry is strong and inquiry is a good criterion, for when people inquire they are thinking of buying, they have money to put into the market and if attractive propositions can be offered them they are willing to make a deal. Every real estate man in the city can show his visitors hundreds of letters of inquiry he has received since the first of the year. The fact is a basis for much of the optimism that is prevalent among the real estate men of the city. Of course, a letter of inquiry does not always turn into a deal, but it is a possibility; it creates a prospect that is worth considering.

As opposed to the amount of inquiry is the scarcity of good selling propositions in the market. People are not anxious to transfer their holdings. Offers to sell business property are almost unknown in the market today, and the dealer who receives a commission to buy a piece of business property in any part of the city, must work hard to secure anything to offer his client. People owning business property as a rule, are satisfied with their holdings. They believe in the future of Duluth and they are willing to wait for the profits the other fellow expects if he buys the property.

Acres are also scarce in the market. There is plenty of demand for them. A desirable tract of land anywhere near the city can find a ready purchaser at good prices. Knowing the fact and realizing that people will make money on acres the owners are holding their property or asking prices that are exorbitant at this time.

"Beware of the Boom," is a warning that is creeping out in some places. Real estate men remember the disastrous reaction that followed the big boom in Duluth. They do not want a recurrence of the conditions. Anything that resembles a boom will be promptly quashed, for, though some people may make money, others will lose it, the whole community will suffer and the real estate market will not recover for years.

It is a well known fact that when a city shows evidences of rapid growth, when people are interested in real estate and there is a demand for lots for speculative ventures, hysteria is likely to overrule common sense, values are likely to be inflated to the bursting point, new additions are put on the market at impossible places and hurriedly grabbed up by people with little means and an insane desire to get in on the bandwagon of profits.

Real estate men who have been in the business for years in Duluth and have gone through disastrous boom times are ready to shy at anything that resembles "South Duluth" or some of the other impossible propositions that people threw their money into in the late eighties and the early nineties. They might as well have taken a rowboat and gone out into Lake Superior to sink their savings.

Nobody, who has the interests of Duluth at heart wants a recurrence of such times or anything that resembles them. People want good healthy activity without hysteria. Real estate men are advising their clients to look well into every proposition that they take up, to investigate values, to use common sense and good judgment and not go into any proposition in which they cannot see something ahead. Residence additions miles out in the woods or out in the center of the lake or over near Spooner, Wis., have no place in a legitimate healthy real estate market and if they are kept out of the market, Duluth will be better for it. There is no boom in sight now, but nobody can tell what may crop out.

There is a certain class of people, who will be careful. They have been careful since the boom times, for they saw good money disappear, leaving worthless dirt on their hands. Some of them still have the title to property out of which they can never hope to get the money they put in twenty years ago, much less interest on the sums, which would have served a good purpose during all those years.

"Beware of the boom!"

REAL ESTATE AND BUILDING NEWS

BIG APARTMENT HOUSE TO BE ERECTED IN EAST END

Building With Accommodations for Nineteen Families Planned.

Architects Say Materials and Labor Will Go Higher Within Year.

Plans are being prepared by Kelly & Liljedahl for a nineteen-family apartment house to be erected in the East end. The name of the owner and the exact location of the building have not been made public.

The building will be in two parts, separated by a solid wall with no communication. One part, containing four seven-room apartments and four six-room apartments, will have an entrance from the street and the other part, containing four five-room apartments, four four-room apartments and three three-room apartments, will face on the avenue the building being on a corner.

The building will be of brick of modern construction and all of the apartments will be finished in moderate and elaborate style. The structure will be about 80 by 125 feet, and will be two stories in height, with a basement. Complete, it will cost about $40,000.

Architects report that prospects are still good, but most of their work consists in making sketches for people contemplating building. Apartment houses and residences will constitute most of the work to be done during the coming summer according to the present prospects, and all the buildings for which sketches have been made, go through the summer will be even better for building than was expected.

"People who intend to build this year or any time in the near future, had better be about it," said one architect yesterday. "People think that architects' talk of higher prices for material stock is conversation, but it is not at this time. The outlook is for high prices and people who intend to build and do not do so as early as possible will find that they will have to pay more for their work than they would if they closed their contracts now. Labor and material will both go higher within a year and that is the stock talk, but it is founded on actual conditions.

Austin Terwoerth has prepared plans for a brick & store and flat building to be erected on East Fourth street by Nicholas Mueller. It will have a frontage of twenty-five feet on the street and will be two stories in height. There will be a store on the lower floor and apartments for two families on the second floor. The front will be of pressed brick and the apartments will be fitted with all modern conveniences. The cost will be about $5,000.

• • •

Bray & Nystrom are preparing plans for a residence for W. A. Eaton, to be erected on the upper side of Fifth street, between Twenty-fourth and Twenty-fifth avenues east. The exterior construction will be of brick and the building will cost about $20,000.

The same firm has let the contract for the interior decorating for the Holland hotel to Cowan & Zimmerman. The contract for the electrical fixtures was let to the Northern Electric company.

Plans will be out soon for a residence to be erected for G. G. Barnum on Third street between Twenty-second and Twenty-third avenues east. It will cost about $20,000. Bray & Nystrom are the architects.

The firm has let the contract for the interior finishing of the residence of H. H. Myers to A. Morman & Co. of St. Paul. This finishing will be unique in that it will be entirely completed before delivery to the building and will be ready to go right into place as soon as it is received.

The contract for a two-story frame residence to be erected for Herman Hilderbrandt on the lower side of Sixth street between Eighteenth and Nineteenth avenues east has been let to John Ronius company. The heating and plumbing will be done by D. R. Black & Co. The building will cost about $5,000. P. M. Olsen is the architect.

Mr. Olsen is taking bids on a two-story residence to be erected for A. Paulson on Mesaboi street between Forty-second and Forty-third avenues east. It will be of frame and stucco and will cost about $4,000. The contract will be awarded next week.

Mr. Olsen has awarded the contract to L. Vasseur, McFarland & LeVasseur for a two-story frame residence to be erected for the Alliance Real Estate company on Eleventh street between Twenty-third and Twenty-fourth avenues west. It will cost about $10,000. The company will erect a number of residences in the same district during the summer.

According to the figures of The American Contractor and the Construction News, building operations for January were not up to expectations. The widespread storms and heavy snow fall in certain sections of the country retarded operations.

According to the Construction News, permits were issued in fifty-nine cities for 10,059 buildings at an estimated cost of $40,815,529, against 10,730 permits for work estimated to cost $43,137,377 in January, 1909, a loss of 5 per cent. Memphis led all cities with a gain of 487 per cent. The greatest decrease was in Manchester, which showed a loss of 89 per cent. Duluth stood tenth in point of gain, with a gain of 101 per cent, the permits for January, 1910, aggregating $97,225, against $48,420 in January, 1909.

The following permits for work costing $1,000 or over were issued by Building Inspector S. M. Kielley during the past week:

Stein & O'Rourke, frame dwelling on the west side of Fifty-second avenue west between Bristol and Ramsey streets, $1,000.

ALL SHOULD OWN HOMES

Room for Everybody in the Real Estate Market in Duluth.

Renter Pays for Property He Occupies in Twelve Years.

"A deed to a little home in Duluth is worth more than a bushel of rent receipts and, with a little foresight the deed is just about as easy to obtain," said a local business man yesterday. "While there are instances in Duluth almost every day where small fortunes are made in investments in the business district, few seems to realize that the small investor has as good a chance to make money in this way," he continued. "Residence property is advancing as fast as any other class of real estate, and the small investor has equal chances with the man who has many thousands at his disposal. The first step for the man of limited means and steady income should be to own his own home.

"It is surprising to note how little foresight is given by the men of comparatively small income to the advisability of investing in and owning real eseate.

"The increase in values in Duluth is radiating in all directions. The older residence districts in the city are giving way to business blocks and other tracts regarded a few years ago as out of the question for residence purposes are already dotted with handsome homes and supplied with street car service, sewers and water and electric lights.

"The first investment every man should make is the purchase of a home in a desirable residence district in the line of the growth of the city. The man who is satisfied to go through life with no desire to acquire a home is his own worst deceiver. It is true that through circumstances, many who have that desire are unable to avail themselves of it, but it is also true beyond a doubt that the number who could and do not are largely in the majority.

"Men and women often thoughtlessly express themselves to the effect that they would not be bothered with the care of owning a home, or that they might lose by such a transaction, and the self confidence so necessary for a successful life is thereby suppressed. Little do such persons realize how their earnings are consumed month after month by payment of rent for which they receive only a receipt for the assurance of living accommodations for the next thirty days. There are others who have the desire and means to own their own homes who are 'just looking around' and putting off making a start in the right direction—and paying rent in the meantime while they might be paying this rent to themselves in their own home.

"It is a well known fact that for every twelve years that a man pays rent he pays the full value of the property and he is still no nearer ownership than on the date he received his first rent receipt for thirty days.

"Good, substantial responsibility is easily acquired and with this, only a small investment is necessary at the start to obtain a good home."

Pass Budget At Tokio.

Tokio, Feb. 12.—The budget was passed today, after very slight amendments, by the house of representatives.

The passage of the budget was assured through the recent compromise whereby the land tax was reduced 8 per cent, involving $4,000,000. The appropriations were proportionately decreased.

Do you know who the happy man is these times? It is the man who owns Duluth dirt. It has stood the test of depressions, financial collapses and has proven to be the bulwark of many a fortune in this city. It is something that cannot be washed away or worn away or destroyed. It is constantly increasing in value, notwithstanding the cry of dull times. Good propositions are advertised in The Herald every day. Look for them and then invest your money.

Securities are always more or less uncertain. Stocks may be 150 today, and tomorrow may not be worth the value of the paper they are written on. Conditions and manipulations make them of uncertain value. Duluth dirt, however, is sure and safe. It has a value that has never gone backward. The city is just beginning to grow. Each year adds a new value to Duluth real estate. Buy it. Buy it now. You will make no mistake and profits will be sure.

WOULD CUT FIRE HALL

Route Proposed By Mayor Goes Through Old City Building.

Under the compromise route suggested by Mayor Haven yesterday, should it be adopted by the Canadian Northern, West Duluth would be assured of a new fire hall to replace the antiquated structure at Cody street and Central avenue.

The proposed route goes directly through it. This would necessitate the company buying the property. Should the route be all that is claimed for it, the company will be glad to do this, as the new plan would mean a big saving in construction expense, it is claimed.

The fire chief has suggested, year after year, that this hall be either razed and a new one built or that extensive repairs be made to it. The last report states that the purchase of a new site and the erection of a new hall would be cheaper than the repairs proposed. It is three stories high with a heavy tower at the front, in the center. The tower is very heavy and is good for nothing, not even being an ornament. The foundation walls are also said to be too weak to support the three stories.

With a new fire hall and the new engine which was provided for by the last conference committee, West Duluth will be in good shape in the way of fire protection. The engine should have been sent out long ago, as the territory is sufficiently large to warrant it. That it will go to West Duluth was made certain some time ago by Alderman Getchell, who scented a scheme to repeat the performance of several years ago, when a bunch of scrap iron was put in the hall. He introduced a resolution, which was passed unanimously, calling for the placing of the engine at West Duluth. It is believed that it is so ironclad that the board of fire commissioners will be unable to get around it, even should they desire to keep the new engine at an uptown station and send an old one to the western suburb.

PUBLIC MARKET IS INDORSED

The efforts of the West Duluth Commercial club to establish a public market at West Duluth were commended last evening at a club meeting by L. H. Bigelow, president of the Producers' Cooperative Market association of Twin Lake, Minn.; J. S. Pardee of the Duluth Commercial club, and C. L. Goodell of Barnum.

P. W. Jeltz and L. A. Silcove were named as delegates to attend the meeting of the Northern Minnesota Development association, which will be held at Bemidji Feb. 16 and 17. Mr. Silcove was also selected to represent the West Duluth Commercial club on a non-partisan, tariff commission, at the request of the Business league of St. Paul.

Mr. Allard lived in West Duluth for twenty years, making his home most of the time at 131 North Central avenue.

Funeral of John Berg.

The funeral of John Berg, 73 years old, the Midway pioneer who died this week at his home, will be held tomorrow afternoon from the Midway Lutheran church with burial at the Lutheran cemetery at Midway. Rev. John Frantz, pastor of the Elim Swedish Lutheran church, Fifty-sixth avenue west and Wadena street, will officiate.

Gophers Are Winners.

The Gopher hockey team of West Duluth defeated the Crescents last evening in a closely contested game by a score of 6 to 3. The team work of the Gopher forwards, Bangard, Brotherton and Seymore was a feature. Delburn, at goal, made some spectacular plays. The Gophers are looking for a game with the Fairmonts.

HEADS STATE EMBALMERS

honored with appointment to the executive committee of the association.

The meeting at Minneapolis this week was largely attended, according to Mr. Filiatrault. Over 400 of the 900 members of the association were present.

WILL REJOIN FEDERATION

Last evening the local electrical workers' union, No. 31, withdrew from the federated trades assembly, the withdrawing of the electrical workers being at once accepted by the vote of the assembly, and a vote was at once passed requesting the national labor assembly to renew the charter of the local assembly.

The action of the electrical workers last evening came as the result of a controversy that has continued several months. It grew out of a fight between the national electrical workers and the American Federation of Labor. The local trades assembly was asked to sever its connections with the local electrical workers and refused. By this action it forfeited its charter. Further complications followed, the result of which has been the withdrawing of the electrical workers from the local assembly.

The local assembly will ask for a renewal of its charter and will in all probability be taken back into good standing in the national body.

A communication was read which stated that the Steel corporation was discouraging organized labor movements. No action was taken.

A communication from the steam engineers stated that a Duluth brewery was employing non-union engineers at its plant in violation of an agreement to employ union engineers. A committee was appointed to investigate.

A report was read stating that $263.75 had been earned at the benefit ball for the striking switchmen and that the amount had been turned over to the switchmen's committee.

AFTER INFORMATION.

Menominee, Mich., Feb. 12.—(Special to The Herald.)—Roger M. Andrews, commissioner of mineral statistics for Michigan, has left for California, where he will spend several months investigating mining conditions with special reference to the prevailing methods of valuation and assessment of mining properties, as well as the statistical system of recording the annual production and shipment of both minerals and oil.

The governor has given Mr. Andrews credentials to the governor of California, and no doubt every facility will be given in his investigation.

JEFFRIES EXPECTS TO DEFEAT BLACK CHAMP

Retired World's Champion Looks Fit for Great Battle.

James J. Jeffries attired in a neat blue business suit and accompanied by his wife, who until recently has been confined in a Chicago hospital, reached Duluth this morning from Fargo. With Jeffries is Frank A. Gotch, world's champion heavyweight wrestler; Sam Berger, business representative of Jeffries; Harry Frazee, Chicago theatrical magnate, who has the management of the present tour; Lou Houseman and Farmer Burns.

"How does Jeffries look?"

That is the one great question that the people of this city are interested in, as keenly as the people in other parts of the country.

The big fellow looks like a giant carved from a block of bronze. Swarthy of complexion, with piercing dark eyes that look straight at you, and black hair that curls slightly at the ends, the big fighter is a man that you would turn to look at the second time, even if you did not know that he was the retired champion pugilist of the world.

He is not fat; at least he does not look fat with his citizen's clothes hung on his giant physique. Jeff has the frame of a giant. His back and shoulders are immense. This morning as he walked across the lobby of the Spalding he looked like some gaunt backwoodsman dressed in the garb of the city. His face is square and bigboned; his body suggested tremendous reserve strength. His physique strangely and strongly reminds one of some picture of some giant figure of medieval history.

Jeff has a little to say, but not very much. He has been grievously misrepresented by many newspaper men, who never talked with the big fellow. That kind of treatment has kind of made the champion shy of reporters. For instance, he has been quoted as saying that he would "lick the coon in three rounds." This morning Jeff informed The Herald representative that he had never made such an utterly absurd statement. Sam Berger hastily added his denial to the statement of the big pugilist.

Going to Win.

"I believe I am going to win," said Jeff. "I would not be so foolish as to say that I could beat Johnson in any stated number of rounds. That statement would be very unbecoming. I do expect to win. I am in very good condition at the present time. I am down at a weight that will require but little work to get me back to my old fighting weight. I have been working hard for the past six months, and I am satisfied with my condition. I expect to win, and I merely desire to say that I will go into the ring ready to fight one of the greatest battles of my career."

Sam Berger outlined the plans of the big fighter. After the show at Hibbing tomorrow evening, the troupe will disband, according to the statement made by Berger. There will be some private business that Jeff will wind up at Los Angeles, then he will go to the mountains for a hunting trip. At the conclusion of the trip the big fellow will get right down to hard training.

Jeff will have Farmer Burns, the veteran wrestler and a great trainer, to assist him in his final preparation, according to Berger, and Bob Armstrong, the negro heavyweight, who has been Johnson's sparring partner for several of his important fights, will also be with Jefferies. There will be others, but the final details have not been closed.

Frank A. Gotch, the world's champion, is the same old Frank. He has the same good-natured smile and he is just as congenial as in the days before he won the highest title in the wrestling world.

Gotch was asked about Jeff. He likes the big fighter like a brother, and he smiles broadly when discussing Jeff.

Frank was asked if he has worked with the big fighter very much. "Every day," was his response. "He is as strong as a bear and he will surprise you people by the condition he is in. He is one of the strongest men I have ever roughed it with, and you know that I have met some bear cats in my career. The big fellow is in good shape at the present time, and I don't see why he'll not be in just as good condition as he ever was in his life when he finishes his final preparation for the Johnson fight.

Jeff has been working hard and faithfully and he is one of the most sincere men I have ever met. Jeff always means what he says. You can always depend upon him. That is the quality I admire in him."

Gotch had a little to say about his match with Zbyszko, the match that will probably be decided in Chicago some time this spring.

"He is awfully strong," said Frank, "but I don't think he is the fastest man I have ever met. His strength, however, is something fierce. I am feeling well and have some important matches in sight. I hope to beat Zbyszko, but I am not underrating him in the least."

Sam Berger was enthusiastic about Jeffries' condition.

"See how he looks," Berger cried as Jeff was seen getting away with a monstrous breakfast in the cafe of the Spalding. "Does he look like some of the stories would have us believe? He is a great, big strong boy, for Jeff is a big kid, and he doesn't know what illness or being out of sorts means. He is a man with a wonderful constitution and Jeff can't be judged by the standards by which ordinary men are judged."

As Jeff was walking through the lobby he stopped at the news stand to get a magazine. There was a little newsy standing there, lost in absorption of some picture. Jeff bought his magazine, gave a funny, boyish look at the kid, then hit him a crack on his thick woolen cap. Jeff never looked around until he reached the elevator, then he winked at the staring boy and gave a big, good natured chuckle.

An immense crowd thronged the Hotel Superior this morning in eager anticipation of seeing Jeffries. The big fighter and his party came right through to Duluth, as not more than half the party were dressed when the train stopped at Superior.

Lou Houseman lost his purse in the jam, for he got off at Superior to make some business arrangements. He had some important memoranda in addition to the money the purse contained.

Harry Frazee will close up the business details here and will go to Chicago after the Hibbing show. Gotch will probably go to Chicago and see the wrestling match between Zbyszko and Mahmout Monday night. It is the intention of Jeff to go straight to the coast.

JAMES J. JEFFRIES.

PLAYING FOR CITY TITLE

The curling contests for the championship of the city are going merrily on at the rinks of the Duluth and the Western Curling clubs today.

Twelve games were played this moning and the remainder of the contests will be played on before the day is over. There were some forfeits, but for the most part a great interest is being taken in the city spiel and as a result of the experiment it will probably be made an annual event.

All five sheets were busy at the rink of the Duluth Curling club this morning and the four sheets at West Duluth were also in use.

Bradley of the Duluth club won his contest with Rockwell of the Western Curling club at the latter's rink, 7 to 6. The contest was very close and both men at different stages of the game looked like winners although one was never far ahead of the other. Bradley won the game with his last stone.

In the other contests played at the Western Curling club Clark won from Feetham, Dinham won from Miller and Hall won from Zauft.

On the ice of the Duluth club Macauley won from J. McLennan and also from Hewitt. Wade beat Richardson by a large score. Evered defeated Magner, the veteran Lakeside curler. McLennan defeated E. R. Jacobi, Brewer defeated Ron McLeod, Pugh forfeited to Elmer Whyte and Holland defeated Stillman.

This afternoon the winners began to play down, and by tonight the best two rinks in the city will be left to play the final game, which will be for the championship of the city.

There is much enthusiasm over the city bonspiel, and many curlers who are not in the game are on hand to watch the play.

The standing follows:

City Bonspiel.

Pre. Round.	First Round.
	Miller Dinham	Dinham
	Zauft Hall	Hall
J. McLennan A. Macauly	Hewitt	Macauly
Richardson Wade	Wade

E. Whyte J. T. Pugh	Whyte

STOCKING LOSES MORNING GAME

Winnipeg, Man., Feb. 12.—(Special to The Herald.)—Stocking of Duluth was beaten in the Purity Flour event today by Verner of the Winnipeg Strathconas by a score of 11 to 7. This was the only game played in the early morning draw. In the last draw of yesterday, which finished early this morning, MacDougall of Butte scored 19 against 14 scored by Riley of Stonewall in the Purity Flour competition. The competitions are dragging somewhat owing to there being some 180 rinks and only twenty-eight sheets of ice.

Games for this afternoon and night are: Tetley Tea-Stocking, Duluth, vs. McKay, Pilot Mound; McMillan, Butte, vs. Thomas, Cypress River; Blue Ribbon, Winnipeg, vs. All Comers; Stocking, Duluth, vs. Thompson, Winnipeg Civics; McMillan, Butte, vs. Card, Winnipeg Strathconas. Play will be started in the Empire Monday and the International will probably be pulled o on the same day.

Fight Called Off.

New Orleans, La., Feb. 12.—A scheduled ten-round fight between Grover Hayes and "Fighting Dick" Hyland at the Royal A. C. here tonight, has been called off. Hayes has a cut over his eye, the result of rough sparring practice, and he is unfit to go into the ring.

RIDERS WILL JUMP AGAIN

Officials of the Duluth Ski club decided at a conference held today, to hold a tournament again tomorrow, so that many people who are unable to leave their work this afternoon, may be able to witness the big events.

Some of the greatest riders in the world are here at the present time, and the officials of the club decided that it would give everybody an opportunity to see some of the best jumping that has ever been witnessed here.

There will be a number of special prizes offered for the events of tomorrow. There will be the Hartley special prize for the longest jump by a Duluth rider. There will be a special prize for the most graceful rider and the most powerful rider.

The special Bagley cup is also up for competition for the Duluth rider making the best showing during the balance of the season, and therefore will be open to competition tomorrow.

The entries show that the very best riders of the country are here. Many of the employes of retail stores, shops and other establishments will be unable to attend the events this afternoon, and it was to accommodate these people, as well as many other employes who are unable to get away Saturday afternoon, that the extension of the tournament was decided upon.

Officials of the club expect that the events tomorrow will be fully up to the standard of the events this afternoon.

TWIN CITY MEN PLAY.

St. Paul, Minn., Feb. 12.—Promptly on the stroke of the big gong in Selby alleys, the two-men teams began today's program in the International bowling tournament at 10 o'clock.

In the first shift of six teams to play, one team was made up of Frank Joerges and Edward Rihein of Oshkosh, Wis. The other teams were composed of St. Paul men.

The second shift is scheduled to begin play at 11:10 and the third at 1:30 p. m. All of the entrants are Twin City men.

BUSINESS IS LARGER.

The report of the Zenith Telephone company was filed yesterday afternoon with the city comptroller. The company said its business had increased in the last fiscal year. It paid $10,358.88 to its operators in 1909, paid $13,137.14 for its material, and earned $30,-210.82, net on property valued at 536,164.71.

The board of directors will meet today to decide upon improvements for next year.

ECONOMY IN RECITATION

Dr. Lord Says Teacher Should Utilize Time for Best Results.

The closing session of the ninith annual convention of the Northeastern Minnesota Educational association was held this morning at the assembly hall of the Central high school when President L. C. Lord of the Eastern Illinois normal school was heard in a most forceful and practical address on "Wastes in Recitation." Mr. Lord was listened to with closest attention and his points were much appreciated by the experienced teachers who listened to him and were a source of inspiration and practical assistance to the young teachers in attendance.

"The recitation," said the speaker, "is the mind, heart and soul of the school. It makes the school good or bad, it decides in large part whether the pupil shall be sent into the world a student or a scamp, whether he shall go in the paths of usefulness and industry or a careless life of worthlessness."

Economy and the methods that would make for economy in the recitation were dwelt upon in detail by President Lord. "I have seen teachers use eleven minutes out of a period of forty-five minutes, distribute and collect papers," said he. "I have seen classes consume from two to seven minutes in getting from the seats to the blackboard when the operation should take from two to seven seconds. You've all seen it. The class starting in individual cases on all fours, eventually reaching the human attitude of standing on two feet, the boys when they reach the board hanging by one hip to the chalk trough, the teacher repeating the problem from three to five times. That is an immoral waste of time, and the entire tendency is to make tramps and vagabonds. There is much oratory about teaching being the building of character and the making of noble men and women, but to realize that in the very least, these humdrum things must be clearly realized and done well. This is a trifling matter of school organization you think but it is not trifling and allowing a class to use from two to five minutes in doing indifferently well a thing that it is possible to accomplish in from two to seven seconds is making much for bad citizenship.

"Then there is the spirit of the recitation. That is a potent factor in the economical use of time, the attitude of the teacher to the pupil and that of the pupil to the teacher. If the teacher has what has been called the 'easy' mind, which comes from a thorough grasp of what is to be accomplished in the given time, and is hospitable to the students' minds, is charitable toward his stumblings and bumbling in a subject that is strange to him, provided that his attitude of effort is honest, and that he is treated courteously and kindly, with no sarcasm or biting satire that can do great harm, the recitation is likely to be of value.

"If the lesson has been intelligently assigned, the teacher should realize thoroughly how little time should be given to dawdling with a pupil who is not prepared. There are things the pupil should know instantly when he is asked, and he should not be waited for in them. Then there are matters for which he should be allowed time for thought. The art of questions should be cultivated by the teacher."

Mr. Lord would not, as have recent educators, take the habit of correlation to extremes. He told of one example where the spider and the web was the theme of the drawing lesson, and was related to the myths that were studied for the day and the algebra problem dealt in spiders and when the memory lesson had been reached there was of course nothing to be memorized except "Oh, what a tangled web we weave, when first we practice to deceive."

"It was similar," said Mr. Lord, to the teacher who started out with a tomato for some portion of the lesson and led logically from that to the tomato can, to the goat, to the secret orders and to cashmere shawls. Be careful that your illustrations illustrate and do not become the thing that the pupil remembers while the thing illustrated is forgotten. When to help and when not to help, when to act as your brother's keeper and when to keep your nose out of his business must be realized by the teacher to achieve the best results in recitation; what to take on authority and what is to be reasoned out, how to legitimately secure the attention of the class and when to insist upon, command it or demand it must all be known, and what part of the time to be rightly given to the dull boy and to the vicious boy.

"The dull boy is not rightly the teacher's insistent problem, I think, but rather the problem of what to do for pretty good girls and boys. The vicious boy should be eliminated, too, I think, rather than that he should pull halfway to destruction twenty boys."

"Our schools should stand for truth, but I have no patience with the intellectual degredation, which is offered at times by the teacher, who would teach arithmetic and a moral lesson at the same time. We stand for truth, of course, but we should eliminate completely the lying caricature of the truth which is a prostitution of thinking powers of children and teacher, which is offered many times with a moral lesson."

FACTORY WILL NOT CLOSE DOWN

Schulze Brothers, whose factory was burned yesterday, had practically perfected arrangements to continue the manufacture of the harness and collars which are the sole products of the concern's manufacturing department, before the firemen had ceased throwing water on the ruins of the building in Michigan street, near Lake avenue.

A portion of the Marshall-Wells factory will be used by Schulze Brothers and all of the latter company's operators will continue work as if the fire had not occurred. The traveling salesmen of the company will not be hampered by the fire, and the company will be enabled to fill its orders which, on account of the approaching spring, are unusually heavy.

JOHN D. BRADY A POSSIBILITY

The question of the next chief of police is still in the air with no one apparently having any definite information upon the matter.

The last candidate mentioned is John D. Brady. Mr. Brady is well known in the city and it is stated that he has been given the indorsement of many very prominent citizens.

There is considerable sentiment for the retention of Chief Troyer, many people thinking that it would be a big mistake to let him go. They declare that no one can be found in the city who can take his place and maintain the high standard of the force. The latter impression has gained considerable ground since the announcement that Dr. Cullum, mayor-elect, would probably decapitate the present chief.

Capt. F. E. Resche, who has been mentioned, says that he would not consider the place. There are good grounds for believing that the position was offered to him, although he denied it when asked by a reporter.

HE RECOVERED DURING NIGHT

The police encountered a remarkable case yesterday. They observed a man recover speech and hearing over night. Yesterday afternoon John Morgan was arrested for begging. He had a paper stating that he was deaf and dumb as the result of scarlet fever and asking for assistance. In addition to that, he claimed to be a poor cripple. He couldn't say a word or hear a thing when he was booked. The jailer had to write out all his questions for him and put the answers on paper. During the night he had a strange transformation and this morning he could talk, hear, eat, walk and jump around as well as anybody. When the judge asked him if he were guilty he stated that he had been begging. The court thought that he ought to be so tickled at recovering from his afflictions so easily and rapidly that he could pay a fine of $100 and costs or take three months in the county jail to think it over. He didn't have the cash and decided to go over the hill until the flowers bloom in the spring.

For Railroad Commissioner.

Bemidji, Minn., Feb. 12.—(Special to The Herald.)—A rumor comes from Brainerd that R. R. Wise, ex-mayor of Brainerd and one of the most prominent citizens of that place, is being urged to become a candidate for the Republican nomination for member of the state railroad and warehouse commission.

HELP WANTED—MALE.

WANTED—IF YOU DON'T LIKE YOUR work, read this advertisement clear through. You can't lose your position in the navy if you behave. Pay day always comes in good or bad times. No strikes. No lay-offs. You always get the same splendid things to eat and plenty of it whether the cost of food is high or low. You always have warm clothes and a clean, warm, comfortable bed, and a warm living room in day time. In fact, the fleet spends most winter days in tropical waters. If sick, you have the finest medical care free. If disabled you get a pension. If you stay in the navy thirty years, you can retire on three-fourths pay for the balance of your life. Work isn't hard and average pay of enlisted men is $35.00 per month. At the end of the month you have about $35.00 left, as navy pays nearly all your living expenses. In civil life do you have $35.00 left each month? And there's splendid chance for promotion to chief petty officer at $77.00 per month, or to warrant officer at $2,400.00 per year, with nearly all expenses paid. Some save enough money while in the navy to start in business for themselves. Others have stayed in thirty years, saved small fortunes, and retired on three-fourths pay. Should you return to civil life, you'll find yourself an able fighter in the great game of life, for navy physical training makes you strong, erect, athletic. And navy life educates you by showing you some of the United States—maybe some of the world; by throwing you into the company of educated officers and fine young men; by teaching you a trade, perhaps, and by giving you much time for study. Four navy years are better than four college years, many think. Go to a recruiting officer today. Have a private talk with the officers and bluejackets there. You'll find them glad to see you and ready to tell you everything. If you don't join that makes no difference. They won't urge you to. Go and see them today—not tomorrow—today. You'll be glad you did. Nearest recruiting office to you is Postoffice Building, Duluth, Minn. If you can't go, write for a free booklet which tells everything about a bluejacket's life, in a simple, interesting way, and is full of pictures. Just think what a small bit of trouble it is for you to get a pencil and post card and write for this book. Then think what this small bit of trouble may do for you. It may put you on the road to your life's success. Don't put it off. You'll forget it if you do. Send for it now. Also send names and addresses of four or five boys you'd like to have join the navy with you. We'll send them books, too. Bureau of Navigation, Box 204, Navy Department, Washington, D. C.

EBERHART'S SIGNING OF SEABURY VOUCHER AROUSING CRITICISM

Has Made Possible the Execution of the Capitol Graft.

Pretty Contest Over Republican Nomination for State Auditor.

Ole Sageng Not in Any Alliance With Henry O. Bjorge.

St. Paul, Minn., Feb. 14.—(Special to The Herald.)—Governor Eberhart has been in the limelight again and the calcium has been rather pitiless. When with a stroke of his pen he signed a voucher for $1,250 in favor of Channing Seabury, former vice chairman of the state capitol commission, he opened anew the whole controversy of the control of the new state capitol, which had been popularly supposed could not be revived, as one of the chief actors in the person of Governor Johnson, had passed from the scene and it was thought that all political animosities had died with him. Doubtless the somewhat pliant official who succeeded him never for a moment suspected what a tempest his action in signing the Seabury warrant would create, or he would have made some show of resistence to Seabury's friends. Like many other official acts that have characterized the new administration the signing of the warrant has started a discussion that has involved the state auditor, attorney general and public examiner, with the governor's office coming in for its share of comment. For the most part this has been far from complimentary to the governor's judgment, and his first reason for signing the voucher, which gave

RAILWAY WEEK IN SUPREME COURT

Important Cases to Be Considered When Tribunal Convenes Again.

Washington, Feb. 14.—Because so many big railroad suits have been set for argument next week before the supreme court of the United States, the designation of "railroad week" has been given to the day immediately following Feb. 21, when the court reconvenes after a three weeks' recess. All of the cases have been advanced for an early hearing in view of the importance of the questions involved.

The "Portland gateway case," ranks high among these. It is a fight over passenger routes and joint rates between the East and Puget sound territory, via Portland, Or. The Northern Pacific Railway company has declined to join the Union Pacific and other roads in granting a through rate over the line from Portland to Tacoma, Wash., and other similar points from the East, preferring to have the traveler journey over the stretch from St. Paul, Minn., or even from Billings, Mont., Portland interests are desirous of inducing the traveler to take the southern route.

Rate is Contested.

The interstate commerce commission issued an order for the establishment of joint rates through Portland, but the Northern Pacific took the matter into the courts on the ground that it already maintained a satisfactory or reasonable route, and that the commission had no authority to make the company join in another arrangement. The lower court sustained this view.

Among many other important suits, the attack on the constitutionality of the North Dakota law of 1907, fixing the rate on coal shipments of coal, is set for hearing during the week. The Northern Pacific, the Minneapolis, St. Paul & Sault Ste. Marie and the Great Northern were enjoined from charging a higher rate than that fixed by law on shipments of this character. Such action of the state courts is up for review.

SUGAR FRAUDS TO GET MORE AIRING

Government Hopes to Collect Another Million From the Companies.

New York, Feb. 14.—Sugar fraud intricacies bid fair to demand the close attention of the federal district attorney's forces here during the greater portion of this week. Today may witness the untying of one knot in the tangle—the claim of Secretary Charles R. Heike of the American Sugar Refining company that because he gave material testimony before the grand jury he is entitled to immunity on all conspiracy charges.

After the Heike case is disposed of, Federal Prosecutor Wise will take up another important phase of the sugar investigations. The inquiry is to be directed at drawbacks which sugar refining companies have received on sugar imports when the refined product has afterwards been exported. The inquiry will be to determine whether these drawbacks were always collected on bona fide exports of sugar made from imported raw material. If the contrary proves to be true, the federal authorities say that there may be further collections from the sugar companies by the government, possibly to the extent of $1,000,000.

HEADED THE FRENCH ANTARCTIC PARTY

DR. JEAN CHARCOT.

Punta Arenas, Chile, Feb. 14.—Further details have been received here of the voyage of the Pour Quoi Pas, which is returning with Dr. Charcot's Antarctic expedition. Beyond collisions with numerous icebergs and three days spent stranded on Graham land, the ship met with no mishaps, though the pumps were constant use. There was considerable suffering among the men, scurvy and heart disease being the chief ailments. Scientific observations were conducted and thus the object of the expedition was in part realized. Numerous journeys were made over the ice, but it was impossible to use automobiles.

The steamer was exposed to violent storms on the return trip. A scarcity of provisions and coal, the damage to the ship and the exhaustion of the crew necessitated the return.

SOUGHT FOR GIRL'S DEATH

Man Missing From Atlantic City Is Wanted By the Police.

Has Left Wife and Children in Nearly Destitute Circumstances.

Atlantic City, N. J., Feb. 14.—A country-wide search has been instituted for William Seyler and his brother Arvis, who are wanted by the Atlantic City police to clear the mystery surrounding the death of Jane Adams, an 18-year-old girl of this city whose body was found on the beach Sunday morning. William Seyler was the last person seen with Miss Adams on the night of Feb. 4, when she disappeared. He is 28 years old, and has a wife and two young children who are in almost destitute circumstances. His brother is 18 years old.

Miss Adams, with her sister, Alice, 14 years old, left their home on Missouri avenue on the night of Feb. 4 with Arvis Seyler, and went to Young's

STABS CITIZEN AND POLICEMAN

Burglar Wields Knife Before He Is Captured in Cafe Cellar.

New York, Feb. 14.—A burglar's desperate resistance when cornered in the cellar of John Krudep's cafe in Brooklyn today resulted in the probable fatal wounding of the proprietor and the serious stabbing of a policeman who came to the rescue.

The burglar attacked Krudep as the latter entered the dark cellar. The owner grappled with his assailant and they struggled together fifteen minutes. Finally the burglar brought a knife into play, and Krudep, twice stabbed, was succumbing when Policeman Harris arrived. The officer, before he could conquer the intruder by putting a revolver to the head of the desperado, was cut by the latter's knife. The prisoner, who gave his name as Frank Manno, was locked up to await the result of the victims' wounds.

THIRTEEN JAPANESE STUDENTS DROWNED.

Victoria, B. C., Feb. 14.—From Enoshima, Japan, the steamer Suverlc yesterday brought news of the drowning of thirteen students whose boat, while returning from an outing, was capsized by heavy seas. The drowned youths were most of them sons of naval officers. One of the victims clinging to an oar, reached the beach and was rescued, but he died on the sand after being landed.

GET GLAVIS UNDER FIRE

Ballinger's Attorneys Open Their Cross-Examination of the Witness.

Land Office Inquiry Is Resumed Before Committee of Congressmen.

Washington, Feb. 14.—The Ballinger-Pinchot inquiry was resumed this morning at 10:35 o'clock. Louis R. Glavis, the principal accuser of Secretary Ballinger, took the stand, prepared for a grilling cross-examination by attorneys representing the officials of the interior department.

The committee room where the hearing was held was crowded. The open sitting of the committee was preceded by an executive session of half an hour.

Attorneys Brandeis and Cotton, representing Glavis and occupying the position of prosecutors, were opposed today by Attorneys Vertrees and Rasch, representing Mr. Ballinger and others of the interior department.

Couldn't Understand Him.

When Glavis was recalled to the stand Mr. Brandeis announced there were some corrections to be made in the record of the witness' testimony. Chairman Nelson suggested that these be put in later, but Mr. Vertrees objected, saying he did not wish in the midst of his cross-examination to be met by the statement that the testimony was a mistake.

Glavis thereupon proceeded to make the corrections. Most of the mistakes, it appeared, had been due to his drawl and lisp. His "r's" are always pronounced "w," so that in one place in the record where his testimony read, "There is a parchment reef," Glavis declared he said "There is approximately," etc.

No Charge of Corruption.

Mr. Vertrees drew from the witness the fact that he made no charges of corruption against any one in the land office or in the department of interior.

Glavis declared that if he had found evidence of corruption he would have taken the matter to the grand jury instead of to the president.

It was Mr. Glavis' opinion that the facts warranted the declaration that Mr. Ballainger and Mr. Dennett had acted improperly, a process of elimination. Mr. Vertrees had the witness exonerate all the other officials or agents of the land office and the department of the interior.

"Not in Safe Hands."

Glavis repeated the statement he had made on direct examination that he was convinced that the interior department was not in safe hands, and that the people's interests were not protected.

Regarding an article published in a weekly magazine over Glavis' signature and entitled "The Whitewashing of Ballinger," the witness said that he wrote it, but denied responsibility for th caption or any of the subheads. He declared that he did not receive any remuneration whatever for the article.

MURDERS WOMAN.

Guy Roberts Then Blows Out His Own Brains.

Danville, Ill., Feb. 14.—Entering through a window, Guy Roberts shot and killed Nellie Mayfield and then committed suicide last night in the dining room in the Southern hotel here. Jealousy is supposed to have been the cause. Roberts has been living with the Mayfield woman. He was well-known among the sporting fraternity.

MORE RICHES IN ALASKA

Territory Will Prove More Valuable Than Ever Was Expected.

New Gold Fields Are Found to Exist By the Geological Survey.

Washington, Feb. 14.—Alaska, which Secretary Ballinger has frequently said is America's prize package, may be a greater prize than man ever has dreamed. Recent investigations in the Innoko district, the Central Kuskokwim valley, and the new Haiditarod district, by the United States geological survey, disclose new placer gold districts which promise very heavy returns.

The big territory bought from Russia for $7,000,000 in 1867 has up to the present time paid $160,000,000 in gold alone since 1880, when placer mining there began, and what the resources of the copper, coal and other minerals will be is beyond estimation.

New Gold Areas Located.

The discovery by survey agents that there are placers on the small streams in areas which are drained into the Lower Yukon or the Lower Kuskokwim prove that the formations of the Upper Yukon belts extend much farther southwest than had generally been supposed, and that gold is at many scattered localities throughout the whole extent. The Innoko district has attracted some attention already and other areas now are being exploited with prospects of large results. Sufficient prospecting has been done there to indicate the presence of a pay streak fifty to seventy feet wide with gold uniformly distributed.

JOHN C. SHEEHAN'S HOME IS BURNED

Loss Will Reach $150,000 Including Valuable Art Collection.

New York, Feb. 14.—Fire today near Rye, N. Y., destroyed the country home of John C. Sheehan, formerly prominent in politics here. Mr. Sheehan and his family narrowly escaped. They saved none of their effects. The loss is likely to reach $150,000. Part of this loss is a valuable collection of paintings and statuary.

The fire was prevented from spreading to the other buildings of the extensive estate, notably the stables in which Mr. Sheehan has a string of blooded horses.

SEA TRAGEDY MAY BE OVER

Six Steamers Hasten to Try to Save Eighty-Eight From Wreck.

British Vessel Takes 205 Off Boat But Has to Leave the Others.

Ancud, Chile, Feb. 14.—Herded hopelessly on the deck of a steamer which is being slowly hammered to splinters on the rocks in the Straits of Magellan—or else themselves beaten into shapeless and unrecognizable masses on those same rocks by the relentless waves—either alternative may represent the condition today of eighty-eight persons who were left aboard the wrecked Pacific Navigation company's steamer Lima last Saturday when the British steamer Hatumet took off 205 persons from the wreck and headed with them for this port.

If the luckless eighty-eight still live they have a chance of rescue, for the Chilean cruiser Ministro Zenteno and five steamers of the Pacific Navigation company are hurrying as fast as steam can drive them to succor the abandoned wreck victims.

Rescue Seemed Certain.

Lodged firmly on the rocks and listing badly with the waves gradually pounding the craft to pieces, the Lima's

SACKVILLE-WEST LOSES HIS CLAIM

Effort to Get British Title From Present Holder Proves Futile.

London, Feb. 14.—The Sackville peerage romance case came to a prosaic end today with the dismissal of the petition of Ernest Henry Sackville-West, who sought to establish a legal claim to the title and estates of his father, the late Lord Lionel Sackville-West, former British minister at Washington.

Sir John Bigham, president of the probate court, condemned the petitioner to pay the costs, which must have been very heavy. The petition was opposed by the present Lord Sackville, a nephew of the late lord, on the ground that the uncle never had married Josefa Duran, the mother of the petitioner.

ROOSEVELT SOON TO BEGIN DESCENT OF NILE.

Gondokoro, Soudan, on the Upper Nile, Feb. 14.—Col. Roosevelt and the others of the Smithsonian African scientific expedition are expected here Wednesday. A launch provided by Sir Reginald Wingate, sirdar of the Egyptian army, is in waiting to convey the former president's party to Khartoum. The trip down the Bar-el-Jabel and the White Nile will be begun on Thursday or Friday. Khartoum should be reached about March 6. Three days later the voyage down the river Nile to Cairo will begin.

Hiram Moe is the star witness in the senate inquiry at Albany, N. Y. He is the agent who claims to have given Senator Jotham P. Allds $1,000 as a bribe to prevent certain adverse legislation. The defense has shown that he is deeply in debt to Senator Berin Conger, Allds' accuser.

SPAIN MAY DEFY ROME

Situation Is Declared to Be Nearly Identical With That in France.

Fall of Present Premier Might Lead to Attack on Monarchy.

Madrid, Feb. 14.—The prevailing opinion is that the situation in Spain is almost identical now with that in France preceding the separation of church and state.

Premier Canalejas, who is regarded as the last hope of the Liberals, considers that the abridgment of the influence of the Catholic church and the inauguration of a broad system of public education must be the foundation of national progress. He is committed to the execution of this program.

On the other hand there are many evidences that the Clerical party connived at the advent of Canalejas in the belief that he would fall quickly before the combined assaults of his enemies, and so permit the return of Former Premier Maura to power.

Should Premier Canalejas fall and the reaction again gain the upper hand, it is considered probable that the opposition will assume the form of a fight for the overthrow of the monarchy, the first phase of which will be a series of political assassinations.

SEVEN MEN HURT ON NAVAL CRAFT

Two May Die From Explosion on Torpedo Boat Destroyer Hopkins.

San Diego, Cal., Feb. 14.—Seven men were badly injured, two possibly fatally, by the explosion of a boiler tube in the forward fireroom of the torpedo boat destroyer Hopkins at 7:30 today. The injured are at a hospital in this city. Three were burned in a heroic effort to rescue their companions in the fireroom. The injured:

Ree Taylor, first-class fireman.
J. F. Hunt, chief water tender.
E. A. Clary, water tender.
W. A. Neabe, first-class fireman.
J. B. McNellin, first-class fieman.
T. J. Brown, coal passer.
B. A. Carletillo, second-class fireman.

Taylor and Carletillo may not survive.

The explosion took place half an hour before the torpedo fleet was to put to sea on a speed trip to San Pedro.

BOY CONFESSES TO DEMANDING $2,000.

Ottumwa, Iowa, Feb. 14.—Roy Besco, aged 20 years, is said to have confessed to United States Marshall Clark the writing of a "Black Hand" letter demanding $2,000 from F. M. Epperson, a prominent banker and former state legislator. The missive contained a threat to dynamite the financier's home and place of business if the money was refused.

Halley's Comet Sighted.

San Jose, Cal., Feb. 14.—Halley's comet was observed last night at Santa Clara college meteorological observatory with the aid of an eight-inch equatorial lens. The comet is well along in the constellation of the Fishes and soon will become an "evening star." The tail is described as being made of a "whitish substance."

J. E. Brelsford Tells of Barefaced Frauds Against the State.

Relates Division of $13,700 in One Deal With Supervisor Mark Slater.

Says He Raised Bill on Goods Worth $67 So That He Drew $804.

Columbus, Ohio, Feb. 14.—Chairman Beatty of the legislative graft probe committee appointed through the insistence of Governor Harmon, announced today that J. E. Brelsford of Dayton, former partner of Mark Slater, ex-supervisor of state printing, had confessed to wholesale grafting in the department of printing at the time Mr. Slater was in charge.

According to the confession of Brelsford, from whom Slater bought goods, the two men divided $13,700, drawn from the state treasury on vouchers for stock never delivered to the state printing department.

Brelsford said that he received $5,000 for his share, and Slater made a "clean-up" of the remainder.

Got $16,000 For $2,300.

According to the confession all the stock which was sold by Brelsford to Slater, and which stands on the books for something more than $16,000, was purchased by Brelsford in Cincinnati for $1,700, and was sold to Slater for $2,300.

This was the only bona fide transaction and upon it was based the lic-

"REAL DAUGHTER" IS 101 YEARS OLD

Retains Her Faculties With Exception of Slight Deafness.

Morgantown, W. Va., Feb. 14.—Mrs. Susannah Guseman Cobun, a "real daughter" and member of the Daughters of the American Revolution, is 101 years old today, in good health and except for a slight deafness retains all her faculties. The daughters have prepared an elaborate celebration for the day.

Mrs. Cobun is the daughter of Abraham Guseman, who enlisted from Harper's Ferry at the age of 17 years and served for seven years in the Revolutionary war. He was accidentally killed in 1821, while constructing a grist mill. Mrs. Cobun now lives with a granddaughter.

MAY PENSION THE YOUNGER WIDOWS

Women Who Married Veterans Are Urging Congress to Help Them.

Washington, Feb. 14.—The young widows are coming in for their share of Uncle Sam's generosity in the shape of pensions. Although the present pension law grants annuities only to the widows of soldiers of the Civil war who were married before June 27, 1890, many of the old soldiers have taken helpmates since that date, and for the last twenty years congress has been besieged in the interest of this multitude. There are now between 20,000 and 25,000 of them, and the pressure has come to be so strong that the senate committee on pensions decided to met today for the purpose of taking up the question. It is considered probable that a favorable report will be made within a comparatively short time.

The house committee also has agreed to consider the question and the intimations are that the report from that committee, too, will be favorable.

Try to Protect Veterans.

If the bill should become a law, it would add from $2,000,000 to $4,000,000 to the pension roll. There is a special provision in the bill requiring that in order to become a beneficiary any widow must have lived with her soldier husband at least three years. This requirement is inserted to protect the veterans from the wiles of women who might seek only to put themselves in the way of becoming the subjects of Uncle Sam's charitable ministrations. The bill has the sanction of the Grand Army of the Republic.

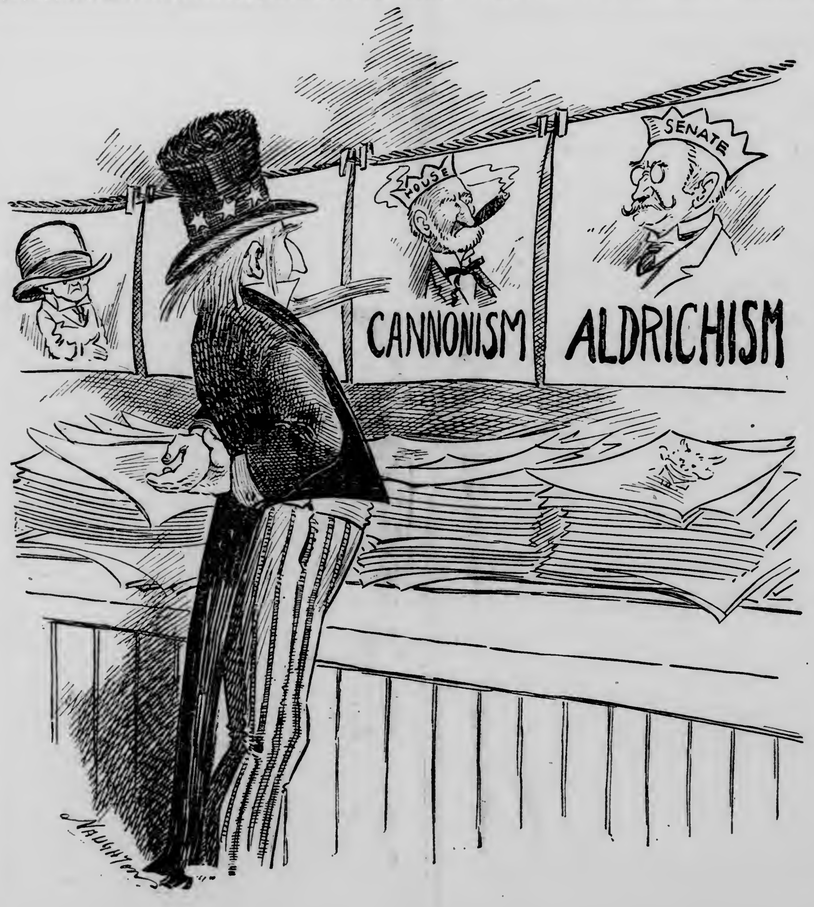

"ELOPING" GIRL IS FOUND IN LONDON.

London, Feb. 14.—Miss Alexandria Louvana Knollys, daughter of Lord Knollys, King Edward's private secretary, and who was recently reported as having eloped, is in London. On last Thursday she attended the dog show in company with Queen Alexandra. The identity of the eloping woman, said to have been found at Palma, Island of Majorica, is not known here.

A dispatch from Palma yesterday said that English detectives had arrested a man there who is charged with having eloped with Miss Knollys and who was supposed to be either a coachman or a British army officer. The dispatch added that Miss Knollys had been found and placed in the care of her brother.

TREATED AT POOR FARM

Pavilion for Consumptives Is Opened and Eight Are Admitted.

Momentous Step in Battle Against the White Plague Here.

Unheralded and almost unknown, St. Louis county has completed the biggest step against the dreaded white plague which has been taken thus far in Northern Minnesota.

The tuberculosis pavilion of the poor farm, built at a cost of $10,000, has been opened. It has been in use some time, but no one has heard of it outside the officials directly interested. There were no speeches, no inspections, no advertising. The opening was as unostentatious, but as effective, as the silent battles which are being waged against the destructive disease in Duluth and St. Louis county. Eight men are now occupying cots in the pavilion. They were taken there one by one, and are receiving treatment daily.

The pavilion is excellently fitted for the uses to which it is dedicated. The people in charge of the work here are delighted with it. They state that it is the best thing of its kind that they have ever seen, taking its size into consideration.

Accommodations are afforded for twenty-five patients. It contains two floors and a basement, with a central sitting room for the patients. Generally speaking, the first floor is for the men patients and the upper floor for the women who are afflicted. The architectural plans are along the same lines as those of the Agnes Memorial at Denver.

The first floor has two wings. The first is covered with canvas and is not heated. The other is amply fitted with swinging open windows and is heated. The plumbing is good and the facilities provided for treatment are first-class, say those who have visited the place.

The institution is expected to be a vast aid in fighting tuberculosis. Until this time there has been no place where these patients could be received unless they had sufficient funds to go to outside sanitariums. Wherever possible they have built shacks outdoors, which have done fine service. These will be continued, it is expected, but in the more advanced cases the hospital will be utilized as much better treatment can be secured there.

The top floor has five rooms completely furnished. The bathing facilities are adequate and include a shower, and all possible conveniences for scientifically treating the patients have been provided.

GREAT POSSIBILITIES.

Engineer Says 100,000 Horse Power Can Be Developed on St. Louis River

With proper storage reservoirs, the water power of the St. Louis river could be developed to 100,000-horse power, according to George A. Ralph, state drainage engineer. Mr. Ralph is preparing a report on Minnesota water powers to present to the state drainage commission. He estimates that the state of Minnesota is losing $2,500,000 annually on account of private ownership of her water power. He says that not half of the available water power of Minnesota is now in use and about 250,000-horse power is possible at the maximum use of the plants now in operation.

The state drinage commission will make a report to the next legislature on the subject of water power and it is said that a tax amounting to about $1 a year on each horse power developed will be levied.

The local events at the Duluth Curling club are now going along in such a manner that it is believed that they will be finished by the end of the present month.

RUNNERS TO COMPETE.

Professional Long Distance Men to Meet at Madison Square Garden.

New York, Feb. 14.—Professional foot racing will be revived at Madison Square Garden tonight when seven of the crack long distance men in the world will toe the mark in a 15-mile struggle. The starters will be: Hans Holmer, Quebec; Fred Meadows, Guelph, Ont., Paul Acoose, Grenfels, Sask.; Jim Crowley, Ireland; Gustav L. Jungstrom, Sweden; Percy Sellen, Toronto, and Charles Muller of the Bronx, New York.

GETTING DOWN TOWARD FINALS

Winnipeg, Man., Feb. 14.—(Special to The Herald.)—The bonspiel is narrowing down and by tonight most of the event will be out in the sixteens. In the Tetley, Stocking of Duluth and McMillan of Butte are both in the thirty-twos and will play this evening to get into the sixteens. None of the American rinks are playing this morning.

MAJORS MAY DRAFT UMPIRES

New York, Feb. 14.- When the board of directors of the National league gathered for their meeting today it was learned that a letter had been received from Horace Fogel of the Philadelphia club that he was suffering from gout and would not be able to attend the meeting to present his side of the Murray case.

Garry Herrmann and Charles W. Murphy informally discussed a plan today whereby the major leagues would draft their umpires from the minor leagues in the same manner as players are now drafted. It was suggested that umpires would then obtain a good schooling and that only accomplished judges of play would be secured for work in the big leagues. No drafting price for the arbitrators was suggested. Whether the plan will be presented to the magnates officially is problematic.

There was a search of the Waldorf corridors today for Stanley Robison, owner of the St. Louis club. His name was on the register but no one apparently had seen him. All the mystery came about because of a long black beard which Mr. Robison grew since the December meeting. Mr. Robison spent fifteen minutes trying to identify himself with his fellow magnates who failed to recognize him.

Two Strong City Teams Will Meet in Association Gymnasium.

Tomorrow night in the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium, the association team and the Central high school five will meet in the most important basket ball game of the season in Duluth. Both teams are strong and the rivalry existing will give added interest to the contest.

The teams will line up as follows:

Y. M. C. A.		C. H. S.
Fenton	f	Harris
O'Donnell	f	Boyle or Kelly
Thompson or Deighton	c	Waldron
Slack	g	Solheim

ATHLETES PASS THROUGH CITY

The members of the Jeffries-Gotch-Berger audeville show today passed through the city on their way to St. Paul. They ended their road show at Hibbing last night and the party will break up in St. Paul.

Jeffries bought a through ticket to Los Angeles, Cal., at the Union station. His plans are by no means complete although he has promised himself a vacation after ending his vaudeville tour.

Goteh leaves the party at St. Paul. From the Saintly City the chapion wrestler will go direct to Humboldt, Iowa, which place he claims as home. He owns a large farm at that place. For a few weeks he will lead the simple life of the country and after that he will be busy for some time with matches that have been made for him. He was much disappointed at not being able to make train connections from Hibbing so that he could witness the big match which takes place in Chicago tonight.

Farmer Burns will remain in St. Paul a few days. Berger will go with Jeffries to Los Angeles. The water jugglers and bag punchers did not make known their objective points.

KEEP UP SEARCH FOR NAVAL TUG

Washington, Feb. 14.—All the resources of the navy and the revenue cutters are still unsuccessful in the search for the tug Nina. The revenue cutter Gresham, reported from Boston today that she had spoken the tug Savage, which left Chesapeake bay in company with the Nina on Sunday, Feb. 6. The skipper of the Savage said that the seas were running so high he decided to turn back, but the Nina headed on with the waves breaking high over her bow. That was the last the Savage saw of her.

Ships of the navy and the revenue service, all up and down the Atlantic coast, are speaking every ship they can reach and are asking for news of the tug. The Nina, however, seems to be lost with all hands.

May Have Been Picked Up.

Naval officers said today that while the hope that the Nina had escaped disaster was small indeed, the search would be continued, and that for at least a month there would be a possible chance of the Nina's crew having been picked up by some passing vessel, possibly bound to a foreign port. The fact that not even a bit of wreckage has been seen gives some hope to the anxious relatives and naval officers.

TWENTY MEN GIVE OF THEIR CUTICLE

Cloquet, Minn., Feb. 14.—(Special to The Herald.)—Eighteen members of the Modern Woodmen of America and Lee Will and Gay Stanley, the last two of Duluth, brothers-in-law of Alfred Hall, the patient, furnished pieces of their cuticle for an extensive skin-grafting operation at the Cloquet hospital yesterday afternoon. Hall was injured in one of the mills and the surgeon said that human skin for grafting purposes would have to be provided to save his life. The twenty volunteers gave of tneir cuticles 300 pieces being grafted upon the injured man. Even more skin is desired, the surgeons state, to assure the success of the operation and it is expected additional volunteers will come forward.

New Chicago Inquiry.

Chicago, Feb. 14.—A new grandjury which is expected to continue the probe into municipal stealing was sworn in today. Their predecessors returned several indictments against city officials and others, but were unable to investigate all the cases which the state's attorney is said to have had ready.

MAY BUILD A NEW HALL

Plans for New Structure Considered By the Fire Department.

"Where Do We Come In" Ask the Lakeside Residents.

Plans for a new hall to replace fire hall No. 3 at First avenue east and Third street will be submitted to the board of fire commissioners at their meeting Friday night. Plans will also be forthcoming for the addition to No. 3 hall, which improvement has been hanging fire the last two or three years.

Referring to the plans for No. 3 the residents of Lakeside ask, "Where do we come in?" They declare that the hall in their suburb is by far the worst in the city and should be replaced before any other in the city. They think that if No. 3 gets its addition that's all that should be done in that locality until other sections are provided for.

The annual report of the fire chief substantiates the claim that the Lakeside hall is a disgrace to the city. No one who has examined it will deny it. It is falling to pieces, half of it is rotten, the floors are unsound, and the cess pool underneath is a menace to the health of the men who are obliged to stay there day and night as well as to the immediate neighborhood. Sometimes it is impossible to open the doors when the wind is blowing from certain directions, according to the chief's annual report.

The council has authorized the plans for the addition to No. 3 hall, but the question of a new hall at that location, or anywhere else in the city, has not yet been passed upon by the aldermen.

WANTS SALE OF LAND PROBED

Washington, Feb. 14.—Representative Martin, Democrat of Colorado introdduced a resolution today declaring the recent sale of 55,000 acres of friar lands in the Philippines, which he alleges to have made to a "representative of the Havemeyer sugar interests," to be a violation of law. Denouncing the department of justice for upholding the sale, the resolution demands an investigation.

PLAN TAFT'S VISIT.

Chicagoans Get His Sanction of Program for March 17.

Washington, Feb. 14.—Judge Elbridge Hanecy, president of the Irish Fellowship club, of Chicago, was at the White House today to arrange with the president the details of his visit to Chicago on St. Patrick's day. President Taft will arrive at Chicago at 8 a. m. on March 17. He will be received by a committee and under the escort of the Seventh Illinois regiment will be convoyed to the La Salle hotel. At 11 o'clock he will be introduced to the local newspaper workers of Chicago at the Newspaper club. After a lunch at the hotel he will be given a reception at the Hamilton club and will hold a reception at his hotel preceding the formal banquet of the Irish Fellowship club. The president will leave Chicago at 10:30 that night for Rochester, N. Y. During the afternoon the president will deliver a short speech at the conservation convention.

Foretastes of Spring Wear

The whole matter of our New York establishment for Fifth Avenue is settled.—All the important papers are signed and our Messrs. Gidding and entire staff of Buyers for Duluth and Cincinnati are bending their efforts toward raising the already high standard of Gidding wear.—Not buying "Hit and Miss" — Not limited to a few days' stay in New York simply for the name of having been there. That's not the way Gidding Buying is done—But our staff of experienced people are searching the markets for the Best.—They are working in unity, with each other, with time and a wide acquaintanceship of New York at their disposal.—More than that, they are working hand in hand with Designers, Manufacturers, and Draftsmen of Patterns — Taking an active part in the construction of the Garments. — Coming in contact with the Notables of Fashiondom—Yet ready and unafraid to "spring" suggestions that will localize the Styles and adapt them to the direct requirements of the Gidding clientele.

New Arrivals have already put in an appearance.

SUITS—Snappy styles in handsome basket weaves and serges. The new coats are somewhat shorter than we've seen for a season or two, (yet longer lengths are by no means considered passe). Revers are either of normal size or very long. Coats show but few buttons, and some button slightly to one side, leaving an unbroken front.

LINGERIE DRESSES—For Women and Girls—Beautiful lace trimmed or embroidered affairs. The daintiest of the dainty! Fine, sheer materials, and trimmings of uncommon design and quality.

SPRING HATS—Just a representative showing of natty black Hats for between season wear—and a few of the new straw-braid and leghorn styles.

NEW WAISTS—Without doubt the most beautiful collection of spring Waists ever brought to Duluth! Don't blame us if we enthuse over them. We're justified in it—and anything that we could say would be no exaggeration. Beautiful tailored linens with scroll or scalloped edges, in white and dainty colors—every stitch of the embroidery put in by hand—eyelet and spray designs—embroidered linen blouses—bias tucked effect—side opening effects and some with dainty pipings of color. A feature of many of the new waists is the detachable side frill effect, together with embroidered collars and turned-back cuffs to match the designs of the waists. Then there are the new Imported Wash Crepes, Cotton Voiles, Silk Crepes and many other waists.

Among other new arrivals are girls' white and colored tub frocks—new neckwear—a beautiful line of face and auto veils, collar cordings, folds and ruchings.

CONCERNING WOMAN.

Many Duluthians will be interested in the seventh annual art exhibit of the state society which will be shown this year at New Ulm Apr 14 to 24. Any other city or town in the state may have the exhibit by paying the cost of displaying it and it will consequently be shown at St. Paul and Minneapolis. The funds provided by the legislature allow for its presentation in only one place in the state.

For the last six years the exhibition has been held successively in St. Cloud, Winona, Mankato, Fergus Falls, Duluth and Faribault, and at these educational centers the attendance has been large and appreciative.

Following the plan previously established, the prizes will be given to state exhibitors only, for the following classes of work:

First—Fine arts, three $100 and one $25 prize.

Second—Handicraft, six prizes of $20 each.

Third—Artistic photography, two prizes of $20 and $10.

Furth—Students' competition, three prizes of $20 and $10 each.

Seven members of the exhibition committee constitute the jury of selection. The jury of awards consists of two artists and a craftsman, to be elected by vote of the competing exhibitors; but, unlike previous years, the architectural awards will be made by a jury of three architests.

Although not in competition for awards, there is, as formerly, to be a choice collection of works by artists and artisans not residing in Minnesota, by special request, that there should be a high standard in excellence maintained. This year's contribution from Easern artists will be equal to those from New York and Philadelphia last year.

To enable the commission to encourage and develop handicraft throughout the state; to arouse interest in the work of and obtain a large membership for the society, a supervisor is to be employed and sent out among the workers to keep up the high grade of excellence.

The Minnesota State Art society was created in 1903 by the state legislature, and is administered by a governing board of nine members, seven of which are appointed by the government for four years each, the two other members are the governors of the state and president of the university, ex-officio.

The increased growth in art and the number engaged in art craft in the state has been highly gratifying and sustains the object for which the commission was created—"to advance the interest of the fine arts, to develop the influence of art in education and to foster the introduction of art in manufacture."

FINNISH MUSICIAN

Is Heard Here in Interesting Program.

Juho Koskelon, Finnish tenor and cellist, presented a most excellent program at the Odd Fellows' hall last evening. He was well received by a large audience.

His voice is dramatic rather than lyric and showed to great advantage in the Wagner and Schumann numbers. But as he proved himself an artist in song, so he did on the cello. A rich, sympathetic tone, fine interpretation and good technique all displayed in a varied, interesting program.

Mr. Koskelon was fortunate in having as accompanist Mrs. E. Morton-Dworshak.

Mr. Koskelon sang two groups of Finnish folk songs that were most interesting and two Schubert songs, a Schumann and a Wagner selection. His 'cello numbers were "Andante" Gottermann "La Cinquantine" Gabriel Marie, the Popper "Gavotte" and three Corelli numbers, "Prelude," "Sarabande" and "Capriccio."

CANCEL DATES.

Mrs. Potter Unable to Come to Minnesota.

A telegram has been received by Mrs. F. L. Barrows, chairman of the lecture committee of the Twentieth Century club from Mrs. Frances Squire Potter, that her physician insists upon her not coming to Minnesota in her present condition of health and her lecture engagements in this state have therefore been cancelled. There is much disappointment locally that Mrs. Potter will not be heard, for aside from her prominence in the work of the suffrage movement, she is a lecturer of broad culture and interest.

Every effort is being made by the committee to provide another speaker for the year, and an effort will be made to get one as interesting and prominent in some field as Mrs. Potter has been in hers. Mrs. Potter was to have lectured on the suffrage movement at an extra lecture, the proceeds to go toward the Maria Sanford scholarship fund, and it is possible that Mrs. Florence Kelley, who is to lecture here under the auspices of the Women's Council will be secured for such a lecture. Mrs. Kelley is vice president of the National Suffrage society.

MERRY BRIDE

Is Changed From "Merry Widow" at Spokane.

The only "Merry Widow" that Duluth knows, Miss Mabel Wilber, became a bride Wednesday evening of last week at Spokane, Wash., and the Spokesman-Review of that place wrote of it:

"Surprising even their closest friends, Miss Mabel Wilber, the 'merry widow' of the comic opera of that name at the Auditorium theater, and Madison Corey, general manager of all the Henry W. Savage enterprises, were married quietly at All Saints' cathedral at 6 o'clock last night. Mr. Corey reached the city yesterday after an uninterrupted trip from Europe, and in a few hours changed the 'merry widow' to a merry bride.

"Only a few were present at the wedding, which was solemnized by the Rev. J. G. Robinson, acting rector of All Saints'. Harry C. Hayward, manager of the Auditorium, gave the bride away, while Mrs. Hayward attended her. Henri Gressitt, who travels in advance of the 'Merry Widow' company and who came hastily from Seattle to attend the wedding, was best man. Mrs. Marie Houston, a close friend of the bride, and Eugene Schutz, manager of the company, were the only others present.

"Showers of telegrams and gifts were received. One of the most elaborate gifts was a diamond and coral pendant, sent by Henry W. Savage to Miss Wilber, while the telegrams of congratulation were from friends in the theatrical profession all over the country.

"After the evening performance Mr. and Mrs. Corey were entertained by other members of the company at the Spokane hotel, seventy-five guests attending a banquet, music for which was furnished by an orchestra of nearly fifty pieces.

"Miss Wilber has been in the leading role of 'The Merry Widdow' two years, while Mr. Corey has for twelve or fifteen years been what is known as the 'producing manager' of the Savage attractions and right-hand man to Mr. Savage. Their engagement has been an open secret for a long time, but the marriage here was a complete surprise."

Park Point Party.

Mrs. E. Frank Barker and Mrs. J. H. Harrison entertained at the home of the former, 2401 Lake avenue south, Thursday afternoon, in compliment to the members of the Park Point Study class and a number of invited guests.

During the afternoon Miss Georgia Le Clair was heard in a program of manuscript piano numbers written by the Chicago composer, Algeroy Le Clair and Mrs. Rebecca Pineo Boyington lectured on "Shakespeare and His Environment." Mrs. Boyington's talk was illustrated by a number of rare old prints.

A paper on English history which embraced the topics: "The Council of State," "The Conquest of Ireland," "The Dutch War" and "Celebrities of the Period," was contributed by Mrs. George Miles. Schumann's "Carnival Scenes," and Grieg's "Morning Mood" from the Peer Gynt suite was played by Miss Nora Harrison.

Mrs. H. H. McFadyen was heard in a Saint Saen's aria "Mon Coeurs' ouvre a ta vaix," from "Samson and Delilah," after which a social half hour was enjoyed. The program given was prepared by Miss Harrison and was one of the most delightful given this season on Park Point.

Travel Class.

The regular meeting of the Travel class of the Twentieth Century club will be held tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the club room of the library. The afternoon will be in charge of Mrs. H. H. Phelps and promises to be one of exceptional interest. The papers will be given by Mrs. Phelps, Mrs. W. J. Holmes and Mrs. R. P. Boyington. Any interested are invited to attend the meeting.

Sleighride.

The pupils of the Kruger school and a number of their friends enjoyed a sleighride to Rice Lake Saturday evening, followed by supper at the home of Miss Elsie Krueger. MUSIC THE BOND.

Theodore Roosevelt, Jr.'s Fiance Tells of Engagement.

New York, Feb. 14.—Miss Eleanor B. Alexander talked frankly in her home, 42 West Forty-seventh street, yesterday afternoon of the wooing of Theodore Roosevelt, Jr., her engagement to whom has just been announced, and the reason she consented to become the bride of the former president's son.

"He's so brilliant, I guess that's the reason I love him," she said in a burst of confidence. "You know he has a great future."

Miss Alexander said she met young Roosevelt two years ago at a house party at the home of Mrs. Arthur Dodge, at Simsburg, Conn.

"I did not see him again for some time," she said. "The next time was at the Taft inauguration ball at Washington. We renewed our acquaintance then, and after that I saw him almost every week.

"I am greatly interested in music and so is he. That was a bond of sympathy between us. We talked music at first and I played for him."

Miss Alexander is a great friend of Ethel Roosevelt, who, her aunt, Mrs. Elisha Fulton, said will be one of the bridesmaids.

Miss Alexander plans to meet Col. Roosevelt when he returns from his hunting trip. Paternal blessings were received from the former president today, news of the engagement having been cabled to him.

President Helps Orphans.

Hundreds of orphans have been helped by the President of the Industrial Orphans' Home at Macon, Ga., who writes: "We have used Electric Bitters in this Institution for nine years. It has proved a most excellent medicine for Stomach, Liver and Kidney troubles. We regard it as one of the best family medicines on earth." It invigorates all vital organs, purifies the blood, aids digestion, creates appetite. To strengthen and build up pale, thin, weak children, or rundown people it has no equal. Best for female complaints. Only 50c at all druggists.

DAISIES WON'T TELL

"Daisies Won't Tell" is a companion song to "Sweet Bunch of Daisies", by the same composer. Its beautiful melody and sentimental lyrics have seldom been equaled in the writing of popular ballads. If you want a song that you will enjoy hearing or singing, ask for "Daisies Won't Tell."

NOTABLES ON PROGRAM

Fine Array of Speakers for State Convention of Y. M. C. A. This Week.

Hundreds of Delegates Will Be in Duluth to Attend Sessions.

The thirty-sixth annual convention of the Young Men's Christian Association of Minnesota, which will open here Thursday morning and continue for the remainder of the week, will be one of the most notable gatherings of Y. M. C. A. ever known at a state convention.

"I have been attending state conventions of the Y. M. C. A. for nearly twenty-five years and I have never seen a more formidable array of workers and speakers than we will have on the program for the coming convention," said Phil Bevis, general secretary of the local association, this morning. "They may have had a greater numerical array of noted workers and strong speakers at national and international conventions, but never at a state convention.

"Judge Spencer of St. Louis is sought for all through the United States and he cannot begin to fill the demands made for his services. We tried to get him here for the opening of our new building, but we failed. He is the most finished speaker in the country on association work. Fred B. Smith of New York is one of the greatest speakers in the country, also. He began to speak to men at the time of the Spanish-American war, going to the camps where the troops were being mobilized and addressing the soldiers. His success was such that he has followed the work ever since. Every Sunday, he addresses an audience of from 2,000 to 10,000 men. He made two trips around the world and his success in other countries was just as great as it has been in this country."

Among the notables from out of the state who will attend the coming convention, besides Judge Spencer and Mr. Smith, are C. B. Willis, general secretary of the Milwaukee association; John Timothy Stone, D. D. of Chicago, late of Baltimore; Charles R. Towson, New York, international secretary of the industrial department; Frank H. Burt, Chicago, president of the Chicago Training school; A. J. Elliott, Chicago, international secretary of the student department; John F. Moore, New York, international secretary of the railroad department.

Besides those from outside of the state all of the officers and workers of the association in Minnesota will be present. There will be hundreds of delegates from all over the state and the convention is expected to do much toward promoting the cause of the association and its work in Minnesota.

FEW VOTES FOR UNCLE JOE

Poll of the Eighth District Editors Shows Strong Anti-Cannon Sentiment.

If there was any doubt as to the sentiment of the Eighth congressional district regarding the tariff and the gentleman who made it, that unsettled question has been laid to rest by the Chicago Tribune's poll of the forty Republican and Independent editors of this district who may be properly said to reflect the thought of their subscribers.

Of the forty editors, thirty-three are classed as Republican and seven as Independent. All of the seven independent editors refused to indorse the Payne-Aldrich tariff bill. Of the thirty-two Republicans, all but one cast their ballots against it.

In reply to the question, "Do you favor Cannon as speaker of the next congress?" Thirty Republican editors said "No," and three replied in the affirmative. Four of the independent editors did not vote on this inquiry but the other three replied in the negative.

MAYBE SHE CACKLES THE CORNELL YELL.

Ithaca, N. Y., Feb. 14.—So contagious is the Cornell spirit that a white Ithaca hen of the most unblemished character has been persuaded, after a course in dietics with professors of the Cornell State College of Agriculture, to lay eggs bright with the Cornell colors. The yolks are red and the albumen white.

A harmless dye was given to the hen with her food, and when it was seen that her plumage began to turn a delicate pink, her eggs were examined and found to have more deeply colored yolk. Other mixtures or dye turned the yolk of the egg pink and the hen's feet pink.

For Aged People

Old Folks Should be Careful in Their Selection of Regulative Medicine.

With advanced age comes inactive bowel movement and sluggish liver. Nature is unable to perform her proper functions and requires assistance. Otherwise, there is constant suffering from constipation and its attendant evils. Old folks should never use physic that is harsh and irritating.

We have a safe, dependable and altogether ideal remedy that is particularly adapted to the requirements of aged people and persons of weak constitution who suffer from constipation or other bowel disorder. We are so certain that it will completely relieve these complaints and give absolute satisfaction in every particular that we offer them with our personal guarantee that they shall cost the user nothing if they fail to substantiate our claims. This remedy is called Rexall Orderlies.

Rexall Orderlies are eaten like candy. They have a soothing, healing, strengthening, tonic and regulative action upon the dry mucous lining and the relaxed muscular coat of the bowel. They produce a natural, successive contraction and relaxation of the muscular fibres of the bowel walls, generating a wavelike motion which forces their contents onward and outward, thus stimulating nature in perfect bowel movement. They tone up and strengthen the nerves and muscles and restore the bowels and associate organs to more vigorous and healthy activity. They may be taken at any time without inconvenience; do not cause any griping, nausea, diarrhoea, excessive looseness, flatulence or other disagreeable effect. Try Rexall Orderlies on our guarantee: 36 tablets, 25 cents, and 12 tablets, 10 cents. Remember you can obtain Rexall Remedies in Duluth only at our store—The Rexall Store. E. M. HIGH COST OF LIVING

It Is the Price We Pay for Civilization, Says Pastor.

The Real Issue Behind the War on the High Prices.

The high cost of living is the price of civilization, according to the Rev. John Walker Powell, who preached on this subject yesterday morning at the Endion Methodist Episcopal church. Mr. Powell's discourse was an exhaustive and critical examination of the causes of the present era of civilization which is distinctive by reason of the great tax on existence, the cost of one's right to live.

Mr. Powell said in part: "The whole world today is interested in the problem of the cost of living. There is general agreement that the cost of the necessaries of life has not only doubled in the last fifteen years, but it has increased proportionately much faster than the average income of the people. Various causes are assigned for this. The average man is inclined to accuse the tariff. The man whose wealth is in the great combinations of capital, on the other hand, points to the extravagance of the American people, to the increased production of gold, and to the rapid growth of urban at the expense of the rural population. Undoubtedly all these causes are at work. At present, however, most of the discussion is wasted because the facts themselves are not clearly determined.

"There are some deeper considerations, however, and certain lessons to be drawn from them, which are worth our attention.

"To begin with, one large element in the increased cost of living is due to the growing solidarity of mankind. Where once greed affected only the seller and buyer, now it is reinforced by all the complex organization of modern commerce, so that it is focussed as with a burning gluss upon the individual. Moreover, so small has the world grown that we today are paying for the sins of the whole world.

Paying for Three Wars.

"One large element in the recent increase in the cost of living is the fact that we are paying for the three extremely expensive wars which have been fought since 1896. Yet the solidarity of mankind and the neighborhood of the remote places of the earth are the fruits of civilization we would not be without.

"As a matter of fact, however, the real issue before the world today is far deeper than the cost of foodstuffs or of rent or clothing. The movement to control the great corporations in this country, the movement against the great landed proprietors in Great Britain, is at the bottom, the old warfare of the people against privilege that is as old as the struggle of the plebians and patricians at Rome, as old as the movement which freed the Jewish slaves under Moses from the domination of Pharaoh. It is the meaning of the Magna Charta, of the struggles of the King and commons against the barons in Britain and the struggle of the commons against the king. It is the French revolution and the growth of democracy. What we are really struggling for is not cheaper food and clothing, but it is the right to life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness.

The Sin of the Trusts.

"The sin of the trusts is not that they increase the cost of living, but that they interfere with the right of a man to his own self-development, and his kindred right to give himself and the product of his life to the world. The issue is a moral issue, like that of slavery, like that of freedom and democracy. The political democracy is assured. We are now seeking to establish social and industrial democracy—a harder task, which may take even more years than the history of political freedom, but it is the real issue and in the end the event is sure.

"But this is not the only meaning of the present problem. It is true that living costs more than formerly, but we do not always consider that it is worth more. In a thousand ways the advantages of our modern civilization bear in cost upon all men. Our rents are higher because our houses are modern; because we have city water and sewer and telephones; because we have paved streets and public schools. It is simply that to many of us these things are no longer luxuries, but are among the necessaries of life, and we have to pay for them. It is also true that the man who has no telephone pays more for his groceries because the grocer must have one. The man who has no children is taxed for the schools for the man who has. These burdens are universally distributed and their incidence is upon every man who wears clothes and lives in a house and eats bread and meat.

Civilization Costs.

"Civilization costs. The point is, is it worth all it costs? Better fifty years of Europe than a cycle of Cathay, but the fifty years of Europe will cost as much as the cycle of Cathay. A laborer in China can live on 2 cents' worth of rice. The American laborer pays more, he also gets more. Everything worth having costs, and we can never go back to the old standards.

"It is at this point that the economic problem runs into the spiritual problem. Everything worth while costs. It is not the cost of living, it is the cost of life. Spiritual growth, the developments of character, these things do not cost themselves. Neither is the grace of God free in the sense that it involves no expenditure on the part of the man who receives it. He is debtor to God and to the children of God. The gift which he cannot repay he must pass on. 'If any man will come after me, let him bear his cross and follow me.' The cross was the measure of the cost to God of the world's righteousness. And the cross which every man must bear—the crucifixion of himself, the sacrifice of his lower interests and pleasures, the dedication of himself to high aims and endeavors—this is the price that each one of us must pay for that spiritual development which is the goal of human destiny."

PREACHES ON LINCOLN.

Rev. Alexander Milne Takes Life of Martyred President as Theme.

Rev. Alexander Milne, pastor of the Pilgrim Congregational church, preached on "Abraham Lincoln" last night. He used the life of the former president as an illustration of the statement that God seems to provide men for crises. Much of Mr. Milne's sermon was in narrative form, descriptive of the life and character of Abraham Lincoln. With George Washington, Mr. Milne designated the martyred president as the greatest man the country has ever produced.

HAS SUCCESS IN DULUTH

Hotel Managers Give Permission to Place Bibles in Rooms.

W. E. Henderson Speaks to Two Audiences on Work of "Gideons."

The placing of a Bible in every guestroom of the leading hotels of Duluth and the organization of a branch of the organization will be the result of the visit to Duluth of W. E. Henderson, national secretary, and M. W. Dennett, a member of the cabinet, of the "Gideons," the Commercial Travelers' Christian association.

Mr. Henderson and Mr. Dennett came to Duluth Saturday and they will leave this evening. Before they go they expect to have secured pledges for the amount of money necessary for securing the Bibles and placing them in the hotels. They have already received permission from the managers of the different hotels to place the Bibles in the rooms and yesterday and today, they were securing pledges for the necessary funds.

Under Mr. Henderson's plan, the placing of Bibles in the hotel rooms in a memorial act and many people are paying for a stated number of Bibles in memory of some dead member of his or her family.

Mr. Henderson spoke to two large audiences in Duluth yesteday on the work of the "Gideons." In the afternoon at the Y. M. C. A. he was enthusiastically received by a large audience of men. After the regular meeting, a strangers' meeting was held and Mr. Henderson spoke informally. The meeting was attended by a number of traveling men, who became deeply interested in the work of the "Gideons."

In the evening, Mr. Henderson spoke at the First Presbyterian church and impressed a large audience with facts and figures on the work of the "Gideons," and the great opportunities for good which come to them. After the service, a number of people called on Mr. Henderson and offered to furnish Bibles for guestrooms under the memorial plan. Today, Mr. Henderson and Mr. Dennett visited people interested in the plan and explained it to them in detail.

A branch of the "Gideons" will very likely be organized in Duluth. The city is headquarters for a large body of traveling men, who go out through the Northwest, and many of them are expected to be interested in the movement. A number of local traveling men are already members of the "Gideons," and they will take up the work of arranging for the organization of a branch of the association soon.

DISCONTENT OF THE YOUNG MAN

Rev. M. S. Rice Applies Bible Story to Present Day Conditions.

"The Reason for the Discontent of a Rich Young Man," was the subject on which Rev. M. S. Rice, pastor of the First M. E. church, preached yesterday. He drew for his remarks on the story of the rich young ruler who came to Jesus.

Mr. Rice spoke of the discontent of those who have worldly wealth and power, but who are ever seeking something they cannot find, groping in the dark for a light that does not beam on them. He compared them to the rich young man who received the revelation of Jesus and turned away.

"The most practical thing in life is the revelation of high duty," said Mr. Rice. "There are times when we can see beyond the expause of our mere day and over the far-flung horizon we seem then to catch a sense of the great things of God and the soul. Then it is that we should take our reckonings, fix our landmarks and steer by them. We cannot risk our ordinary days to disclose our directions."

PINCHOT WILL ADDRESS MEETING IN ST. PAUL.

St. Paul, Minn., Feb. 14.—Gifford Pinchot has accepted an invitation to speak before the Roosevelt club at a big conservation banquet here on March 19, provided he is not detained on account of the investigation of the interior department at Washington.

Former Secretary of the Interior Garfield and a number of "insurgent" senators have also been invited to speak.

A GOOD THING.

When It Comes Along Don't Let It Get Away From You.

"I really feel that it is hardly possible to say too much in favor of Grape-Nuts as a health food," writes a Chicago woman.

"For 9 or 10 years I had suffered from indigestion and chronic constipation, caused by the continued use of coffee and rich, heavy, greasy foods. My ailments made my life so wretched that I was eager to try anything that held out a promise of help. And that is how I happened to buy a package of Grape-Nuts food last spring.

"That ended my experiments. For in Grape-Nuts I found exactly what I wanted and needed. From the day I began to use it I noticed an improvement and in a very few weeks I found my health completely restored.

"My digestive apparatus now works perfectly and my chronic constipation has been entirely relieved. I have gained in weight materially, and life is a very pleasant thing to me so long as I use Grape-Nuts once or twice a day. I have found by experiment that if I leave it off for a few days my health suffers.

"A physician in our town has great success in treating stomach troubles, and the secret of it is that he puts his patients on Grape-Nuts food—it always brings back the power of digestion."

"There's a Reason."

WEST END

MAY NOT BUILD THE CUT-OFF

West End Street Railway Dispute Is Not Yet Settled.

The action of the council at its last meeting, in granting the street railway company permission to use Twenty-second avenue west between Superior and Third streets as a cut-off, by which the Third street cars could run along Superior street to Twenty-second avenue west, eliminating the climb on Piedmont hill, is of but little significance according to Herbert Warren, general manager of the company.

When asked whether the permission granted by the council meant that actual construction would be begun this summer, Mr. Warren said that the company had taken no official action on the proposition at all, that Twenty-second avenue would not be as desirable as Twenty-first; and that it was very improbable that the line would be built this year, if at all.

The street car officials have never considered the proposition that has often been suggested as a compromise between the warring factions at the West end, the Superior street business men and the hillsiders. This would require that part of the cars be sent over the hill and the rest go around by the cut-off route. It would mean much extra switching for the cars and the officials have not considered it, according to Mr. Warren.

It is understood that the fight between the hillsiders and the business men on Superior street over the street car proposition is not yet over. Residents along Piedmont avenue and between Nineteenth and Twenty-first avenues west and the proprietors of small stores along these streets, are protesting against the removal of the cars from the Piedmont avenue route. The Sixth Ward Business club also went on record against it.

On the other hand, the business men say that the cars should run along the proposed cut-off so that the people in the residence districts, other than West Duluth can reach the business houses without walking several blocks to a car line.

SHOULD RACE LOSE IDENTITY?

Swedish Debaters Will Discuss Interesting Theme in Church Debate.

"Resolved, That we, as a Swedish people, should try to refain our nationality instead of losing our identity in the great mass of this nation."

The debate will be held at the First church, and the West enders will uphold the affirmative side of the question. The debaters from the Bethany church are Frank Swanstrom, Elof Bergholm and Arvid Carlson.

The Seventh ward leads all others, except the Second in the number of deaths. At the two hospitals in the Second ward there were 138 deaths which, added to the number in the ward, makes 282. In the Seventh, the records show 119.

DIRECTORY OF AMUSEMENTS

WHERE TO GO TONIGHT.

LYCEUM—"The Traveling Salesman."

"The Traveling Salesman."

"The Traveling Salesman," James Forbes' latest comedy success, which will be seen under the management of Henry B. Harris at the Lyceum, tonight and tomorrow night is a comedy of character and is distinguished by an abundance of wholesome humor, energetic action, breezy dialogue and sympathetic touches of human emotions, that marked the author's previous offering, "The Chorus Lady."

Mark Smith will be seen in the role of Bob Bicke, the jovial, typical "knight of the road," who finds the romance of his life in the Grand Crossing railroad station, where he has been marooned on a cheerless Christmas day.

Miriam Nesbitt will appear in the part of the sympathetic station operator and ticket agent, who shares her meagre Christmas lunch with the persuasive stranger, and presently finds her heart enmeshed in the tendrils of his love. These represent two as appealing characters as have ever been seen in an American play.

The first act is an absorbing characterization of daily occurrences in a typical "tank" town, almost anywhere within the jurisdiction of the United States.

The story of "The Traveling Salesman" is simple, and to the point. Beth Elliott is about to close an apparently worthless piece of land through a tax sale. A professed lover, Franklin Royce, enters into a plan with a millionaire sharper to buy it in. Knowing that the railroad wants it and will pay any price to acquire it. During a poker game in the second act, which incidentally is a most laughable creation, Royce becomes intoxicated and babbles about the scheme to Blake, who is already head over heels in love with the girl. Blake anticipates the intended flank movement of the enemy and plans to block it. This impetuous action on his part involves him in all sorts of predicaments by the girl and for awhile his affair of the heart is in danger, although, before the final curtain falls, everything is straightened out and the pair are happily married. Throughout the entire action of the play mirth runs riot, and the audience is never for a moment without a hearty laugh.

ESCAPED JURY DUTY IN UNIQUE MANNER.

Minot, N. D., Feb. 14.—(Special to The Herald.)—The fact that seven members of the jury venire in the district court resided in that section of the county which was recently cut off and made into Burke county, necessitated the subpoening of a new venire of jury, which venire was made up in the city of Minot.

When it was learned that Burke county had been created, the jurymen from that section refused to serve any longer, going to their homes immediately. Three Burke countymen were on the jury that convicted Kid Trailor of horse stealing.

TIMBERMAN'S FATAL FALL.

Drops Eighty Feet in Tri-Mountain Mine to His Death.

Houghton, Mich., Feb. 14.—A fall of eighty feet from the seventeenth level of the No. 3 shaft, Tri-mountain mine to the bottom of a sump, proved fatal to Peter Mammula, an Austrian timberman, Friday afternoon.

Mammula was standing near the gateway of the level, and it appears that he was struck by a piece of hose dropped by some one from one of the top levels. He was knocked unconscious and while in this condition fell forward into the shaft. The unfortunate timberman was married and is survived by a wife and family residing at Trimountain.

A FALSE ALARM.

"There's a dead man at Fourteenth avenue east and London road," some one called to the police through the 'phone yesterday afternoon. Detectives piled into the big Franklin in a hurry, buttoning their coats on the run. They raced out at full speed and found Ike Miller, a well-known police character dead—to the world. He was in a stupor. He was brought back to headquarters and locked up to keep him out of the way of other citizens who might report him as a dead man.

Seed Thieves Arrested.

Towner, N. D., Feb. 14.—(Special to The Herald.)—With two men already under arrest it looks as though a stop will be put to the systematic thieving of alfalfa seed that has been going on at the farms of the Alfalfa Valley farm near this city. Frank Rosencrans and Holley Mitchell, both of Denbigh, are in custody accused of having stolen seed from the granaries. Both were bound over to the district court for trial.

MAYBE SHE CACKLES THE CORNELL YELL.

Ithaca, N. Y., Feb. 14.—So contrary is the Cornell spirit that a white Rhode Island red hen has been persuaded, after a course in studies with professors of the Cornell State College of Agriculture, to lay eggs bright with the Cornell colors. The yolks are red and the albumen white.

A harmless dye was given to the hen with her food, and when it was seen that her plumage began to turn a delicate pink, her eggs were examined and found to have more deeply colored yolks. Other mixtures of dye turned the yolk of the egg pink and the hen's feet pink.

For Aged People

Old Folks Should be Careful in Their Selection of Regulative Medicine.

With advanced age comes inactive bowel movement and sluggish liver. Nature is unable to perform her proper functions and requires assistance. Otherwise, there is constant suffering from constipation and its attendant evils. Old folks should never use physic that is harsh and irritating.

We have a safe, dependable and altogether ideal remedy that is particularly adapted to the requirements of aged people and persons of weak constitution who suffer from constipation or other bowel disorder. We are so certain that it will completely relieve these complaints and give absolute satisfaction in every particular that we offer them with our personal guarantee that they shall cost the user nothing if they fail to substantiate our claims. This remedy is called Rexall Orderlies.

Rexall Orderlies are eaten like candy. They have a soothing, healing, strengthening, tonic and regulative action upon the dry mucous lining and the relaxed muscular coat of the bowel. They produce a natural, successive contraction and relaxation of the muscular fibres of the bowel walls, generating a wavelike motion which forces their contents onward and outward, thus stimulating nature in perfect bowel movement. They tone up and strengthen the nerves and muscles and restore the bowels and associate organs to more vigorous and healthy activity. They may be taken at any time without inconvenience; do not cause any griping, nausea, diarrhoea, excessive looseness, flatulence or other disagreeable effect. Try Rexall Orderlies on our guarantee: 36 tablets, 25 cents; and 12 tablets, 10 cents. Remember you can obtain Rexall Remedies in Duluth only at our store—The Rexall Store. E. M. Tredway, 108 West Superior street.

HIGH COST OF LIVING

It Is the Price We Pay for Civilization, Says Pastor.

The Real Issue Behind the War on the High Prices.

The high cost of living is the price of civilization, according to the Rev. John Walker Powell, who preached on this subject yesterday morning at the Endion Methodist Episcopal church. Mr. Powell's discourse was an exhaustive and critical examination of the causes of the present era of civilization which is distinctive by reason of the great tax on existence, the cost of one's right to live.

Mr. Powell said in part: "The whole world today is interested in the problem of the cost of living. There is general agreement that the cost of the necessaries of life has not only doubled in the last fifteen years, but it has increased proportionately much faster than the average income of the people. Various causes are assigned for this. The average man is inclined to accuse the tariff. The man whose wealth is in the great combinations of capital, on the other hand, points to the extravagance of the American people, to the increased production of gold, and to the rapid growth of urban at the expense of the rural population. Undoubtedly all these causes are at work. At present, however, most of the discussion is wasted because the facts themselves are not clearly determined.

"There are some deeper considerations, however, and certain lessons to be drawn from them, which are worth our attention.

"To begin with, one large element in the increased cost of living is due to the growing solidarity of mankind. Where once greed affected only the seller and buyer, now it is reinforced by all the complex organization of modern commerce, so that it is focussed as with a burning glass upon the individual. Moreover, so small has the world grown that we today are paying for the sins of the whole world.

Paying for Three Wars.

"One large element in the recent increase in the cost of living is the fact that we are paying for the three extremely expensive wars which have been fought since 1896. Yet the solidarity of mankind and the neighborhood of the remote places of the earth are the fruits of civilization we would not be without.

"As a matter of fact, however, the real issue before the world today is far deeper than the cost of foodstuffs or of rent or clothing. The movement to control the great corporations in this country, the movement against the great landed proprietors in Great Britain, is at the bottom, the old warfare of the people against privilege that is as old as the struggle of the plebians and patricians at Rome, as old as the movement which freed the Jewish slaves under Moses from the domination of Pharaoh. It is the meaning of the Magna Charta, of the struggles of the King and commons against the barons in Britain and the struggle of the commons against the king. It is the French revolution and the growth of democracy. What we are really struggling for is not cheaper food and clothing, but it is the right to life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness.

The Sin of the Trusts.

"The sin of the trusts is not that they increase the cost of living, but that they interfere with the right of a man to his own self-development, and his kindred right to give himself and the product of his life to the world. The issue is a moral issue, like that of slavery, like that of freedom and democracy. The political democracy is assured. We are now seeking to establish social and industrial democracy—a harder task, which may take even more years than the history of political freedom, but it is the real issue and in the end the event is sure.

"But this is not the only meaning of the present problem. It is true that living costs more than formerly, but we do not always consider that it is worth more. In a thousand ways the advantages of our modern civilization bear in cost upon all men. Our rents are higher because our houses are modern; because we have city water and sewer and telephones; because we have paved streets and public schools. It is simply that to many of us these things are no longer luxuries, but are among the necessaries of life, and we have to pay for them. It is also true that the man who has no telephone pays more for his groceries because the grocer must have one. The man who has no children is taxed for the schools for the man who has. These burdens are universally distributed and their incidence is upon every man who wears clothes and lives in a house and eats bread and meat.

Civilization Costs.

"Civilization costs. The point is, is it worth all it costs? Better fifty years of Europe than a cycle of Cathay, but the fifty years of Europe will cost as much as the cycle of Cathay. A laborer in China can live on 2 cents' worth of rice. The American laborer pays more, he also gets more. Everything worth having costs, and we can never go back to the old standards.

"It is at this point that the economic problem runs into the spiritual problem. Everything worth while costs. It is not the cost of living, it is the cost of life. Spiritual growth, the developments of character, these things do not cost themselves. Neither is the grace of God free in the sense that it involves no expenditure on the part of the man who receives it. He is debtor to God and to the children of God. The gift which he cannot repay he must pass on. 'If any man will come after me, let him bear his cross and follow me.' The cross was the measure of the cost to God of the world's righteousness. And the cross which every man must bear—the crucifixion of himself, the sacrifice of his lower interests and pleasures, the dedication of himself to high aims and endeavors—this is the price that each one of us must pay for that spiritual development which is the goal of human destiny."

PREACHES ON LINCOLN.

Rev. Alexander Milne Takes Life of Martyred President as Theme.

Rev. Alexander Milne, pastor of the Pilgrim Congregational church, preached on "Abraham Lincoln" last night. He used the life of the former president as an illustration of the statement that God seems to provide men for crises. Much of Mr. Milne's sermon was in narrative form, descriptive of the life and character of Abraham Lincoln. With George Washington, Mr. Milne designated the martyred president as the greatest man the country has ever produced.

HAS SUCCESS IN DULUTH

Hotel Managers Give Permission to Place Bibles in Rooms.

W. E. Henderson Speaks to Two Audiences on Work of "Gideons."

The placing of a Bible in every guest-room of the leading hotels of Duluth and the organization of a branch of the organization will be the result of the visit to Duluth of W. E. Henderson, national secretary, and M. W. Dennett, a member of the cabinet, of the "Gideons," the Commercial Travelers' Christian association.

Mr. Henderson and Mr. Dennett came to Duluth Saturday and they will leave this evening. Before they go they expect to have secured pledges for the amount of money necessary for securing the Bibles and placing them in the hotels. They have already received permission from the managers of the different hotels to place the Bibles in the rooms and yesterday and today, they were securing pledges for the necessary funds.

Under Ban.

Under Mr. Henderson's plan, the placing of Bibles in the hotel rooms in a memorial act and many people are paying for a stated number of Bibles in memory of some dead member of his or her family.

Mr. Henderson spoke to two large audiences in Duluth yesterday on the work of the "Gideons." In the afternoon at the Y. M. C. A. he was enthusiastically received by a large audience of men. After the regular meeting, a strangers' meeting was held and Mr. Henderson spoke informally. The meeting was attended by a number of traveling men, who became deeply interested in the work of the "Gideons."

In the evening, Mr. Henderson spoke at the First Presbyterian church and impressed a large audience with facts and figures on the work of the "Gideons," and the great opportunities for good which come to them. After the service, a number of people called on Mr. Henderson and offered to furnish Bibles for guestrooms under the memorial plan. Today, Mr. Henderson and Mr. Dennett visited people interested in the plan and explained it to them in detail.

A branch of the "Gideons" will very likely be organized in Duluth. The city is headquarters for a large body of traveling men, who go out through the Northwest, and many of them are expected to be interested in the movement. A number of local traveling men are already members of the "Gideons," and they will take up the work of arranging for the organization of a branch of the association soon.

DISCONTENT OF THE YOUNG MAN

Rev. M. S. Rice Applies Bible Story to Present Day Conditions.

"The Reason for the Discontent of a Rich Young Man," was the subject on which Rev. M. S. Rice, pastor of the First M. E. church, preached yesterday. He drew for his remarks on the story of the rich young ruler who came to Jesus.

Mr. Rice spoke of the discontent of those who have worldly wealth and power, but who are ever seeking something they cannot find, groping in the dark for a light that does not beam on them. He compared them to the rich young man who received the revelation of Jesus and turned away.

"The most practical thing in life is the revelation of high duty," said Mr. Rice. "There are times when we can see beyond the expanse of our mere day and over the far-flung horizon we seem then to catch a sense of the great things of God and the soul. Then it is that we should take our reckonings, fix our landmarks and steer by them. We cannot risk our ordinary days to disclose our directions."

PINCHOT WILL ADDRESS MEETING IN ST. PAUL.

St. Paul, Minn., Feb. 14.—Gifford Pinchot has accepted an invitation to speak before the Roosevelt club at a big conservation banquet here on March 19, provided, he is not detained on account of the investigation of the interior department at Washington.

Former Secretary of the Interior Garfield and a number of "insurgent" senators have also been invited to speak.

A GOOD THING.

When It Comes Along Don't Let It Get Away From You.

"I really feel that it is hardly possible to say too much in favor of Grape-Nuts as a health food," writes a Chicago woman.

"For 9 or 10 years I had suffered from indigestion and chronic constipation, caused by the continued use of coffee and rich, heavy, greasy foods. My ailments made my life so wretched that I was eager to try anything that held out a promise of help. And that is how I happened to buy a package of Grape-Nuts food last spring.

"That ended my experiments. For in Grape-Nuts I found exactly what I wanted and needed. From the day I began to use it I noticed an improvement and in a very few weeks I found my health completely restored.

"My digestive apparatus now works perfectly and my chronic constipation has been entirely relieved. I have gained in weight materially, and life is a very pleasat thing to me so long as I use Grape-Nuts once or twice a day. I have found by experiment that if I leave it off for a few days my health suffers.

"A physician in our town has great success in treating stomach troubles, and the secret of it is that he puts his patients on Grape-Nuts food—it always brings back the power of digestion."

"There's a Reason."

WEST END

MAY NOT BUILD THE CUT-OFF

West End Street Railway Dispute Is Not Yet Settled.

The action of the council at its last meeting, in granting the street railway company permission to use Twenty-second avenue west between Superior and Third streets as a cut-off, by which the Third street cars could run along Superior street to Twenty-second avenue west, eliminating the climb on Piedmont hill, is of but little significance according to Herbert Warren, general manager of the company.

When asked whether the permission granted by the council meant that actual construction would be begun this summer, Mr. Warren said that the company had taken no official action on the proposition at all, that Twenty-second avenue would not be as desirable as Twenty-first; and that it was very improbable that the line would be built this year, if at all.

The street car officials have never considered the proposition that has often been suggested as a compromise between the warring factions at the West end, the Superior street business men and the hillsiders. This would require that part of the cars be sent over the hill and the rest go around by the cut-off route. It would mean much extra switching for the cars and the officials have not considered it, according to Mr. Warren.

It is understood that the fight between the hillsiders and the business men on Superior street over the street car proposition is not yet over. Residents along Piedmont avenue and between Nineteenth and Twenty-first avenues west and the proprietors of small stores along these streets, are protesting against the removal of the car lines from the Piedmont avenue route. The Sixth Ward Business club also went on record against it.

On the other hand, the business men say that the cars should run along the proposed cut-off so that the people in the residence districts, other than West Duluth can reach the business houses without walking several blocks to a car line.

SHOULD RACE LOSE IDENTITY?

Swedish Debaters Will Discuss Interesting Theme in Church Debate.

"Resolved, That we, as a Swedish people, should try to retain our nationality instead of losing our identity in the great mass of this nation."

This question will be debated this evening between a team from the Bethany Swedish Lutheran church, Twenty-third avenue west and Third street, and one from the First church at Sixth avenue east and Third street.

The debate will be held at the First church, and the West enders will uphold the affirmative side of the question. The debaters from the Bethany church are Frank Swanstrom, Elof Bergholm and Arvid Carlson.

VALENTINE PARTY.

Experience Social Will Be Held at Norwegian Danish Church.

A novel valentine party will be given this evening under the auspices of the Epworth League Sewing Circle of the First Norwegian-Danish M. E. church, Twenty-fourth avenue west and Third street, at the church.

The affair will take on the form of an experience social. Each member will bring 50 cents for the benefit of the church, and as she hands in the money she must accompany it with a rhyme telling how she earned it.

The reading of the verses will form a large part of the entertainment for the evening. A number of vocal solos and instrumental numbers will also be given. The fund that the young ladies are raising will go to pay for the new church piano.

SEVENTH WARD LEADS.

West End Claims Largest Share of 1909 Birth List.

Despite the fact that the two hospitals are located in the Second ward, the West end, or more specifically, the Seventh ward led all others in the number of births for the year 1909. According to the statistics of the health department there were 173 births in this ward. In the Second ward, which comes next, there were 332.

The Seventh ward leads all others, except the Second in the number of deaths. At the two hospitals in the Second ward there were 138 deaths which, added to the number in the ward, makes 282. In the Seventh, the records show 119.

DIRECTORY OF AMUSEMENTS

WHERE TO GO TONIGHT.

LYCEUM—"The Traveling Salesman."

"The Traveling Salesman."

"The Traveling Salesman," James Forbes' latest comedy success, which will be seen under the management of Henry B. Harris at the Lyceum, tonight and tomorrow night is a comedy of character and is distinguished by an abundance of wholesome humor, energetic action, breezy dialogue and sympathetic touches of human emotions, that marked the author's previous offering, "The Chorus Lady."

Mark Smith will be seen in the role of Bob Ricke, the jovial, typical "knight of the road," who finds the romance of his life in the Grand Crossing railroad station, where he has been marooned on a cheerless Christmas day.

Miriam Nesbitt will appear in the part of the sympathetic station operator and ticket agent, who shares her meagre Christmas lunch with the persuasive stranger, and presently finds her heart enmeshed in the tendrils of his love. These represent two as appealing characters as have ever been seen in an American play.

The first act is an absorbing characterization of daily occurrences in a typical "tank" town, almost anywhere within the jurisdiction of the United States.

The story of "The Traveling Salesman" is simple, and to the point. Beth Elliott is about to close an apparently worthless piece of land through a tax sale. A professed lover, Franklin Royce, enters into a plan with a millionaire sharper to buy it in, knowing that the railroad wants it and will pay any price to acquire it. During a poker game in the second act, which incidentally is a most laughable creation, Royce becomes intoxicated and babbles about the scheme to Blake, who is already head over heels in love with the girl. Blake anticipates the intended flank movement of the enemy and plans to block it. This impetuous action on his part involves him in all sorts of predicaments by the girl and for awhile his affair of the heart is in danger, although, before the final curtain falls, everything is straightened out and the pair are happily married. Throughout the entire action of the play mirth runs riot, and the audience is never for a moment without a hearty laugh.

ESCAPED JURY DUTY IN UNIQUE MANNER.

Minot, N. D., Feb. 14.—(Special to The Herald.)—The fact that seven members of the jury venire in the district court resided in that section of the county which was recently cut off and made into Burke county, necessitated the subpoening of a new venire of jury, which venire was made up in the city of Minot.

When it was learned that Burke county had been created, the jurymen from that section refused to serve any longer, going to their homes immediately. Three Burke countymen were on the jury that convicted Kid Trailor of horse stealing.

TIMBERMAN'S FATAL FALL.

Drops Eighty Feet in Tri-Mountain Mine to His Death.

Houghton, Mich., Feb. 14.—A fall of eighty feet from the seventeenth level of the No. 3 shaft, Tri-mountain mine to the bottom of a sump, proved fatal to Peter Mammula, an Austrian timberman, Friday afternoon.

Mammula was standing near the gateway of the level, and it appears that he was struck by a piece of hose dropped by some one from one of the top levels. He was knocked unconscious and while in this condition fell forward into the shaft. The unfortunate timberman was married and is survived by a wife and family residing at Trimountain.

A FALSE ALARM.

"There's a dead man at Fourteenth avenue east and London road," some one called to the police through the 'phone yesterday afternoon. Detectives piled into the big Franklin in a hurry, buttoning their coats on the run. They raced out at full speed and found Ike Miller, a well-known police character dead—to the world. He was in a stupor. He was brought back to headquarters and locked up to keep him out of the way of other citizens who might report him as a dead man.

Seed Thieves Arrested.

Towner, N. D., Feb. 14.—(Special to The Herald.)—With two men already under arrest it looks as though a stop will be put to the systematic thieving of alfalfa seed that has been going on at the farms of the Alfalfa Valley farm near this city. Frank Rosencrans and Rolley Mitchell, both of Denbigh, are in custody accused of having stolen seed from the granaries. Both were bound over to the district court for trial.

DEFENDS THE TARIFF LAW

President Taft Says Republican Party Is Redeeming Its Pledges.

Declares the Administration Will Enforce the Anti-Trust Law.

SAID BY TAFT.

We did revise the tariff.

There were 645 decreases, 220 increases.

The one substantial defect was failure to reduce wool.

Revision is like the work of men—they are not perfect.

As I have said before, it is the best tariff bill ever passed.

Amendment to the bill (postal savings) to distribute deposits in state and national banks makes it probably unconstitutional and makes possible a financial disaster greater than any panic in history.

The pending bill (relating to injunctions) does not go as far as Mr. Gompers would like, but goes as far as the Republican convention was willing and makes abuse by injunction highly improbable.

I believe the net (dealing with trusts) constitutional and if properly enforced would furnish a solution to our present difficulties.

Mr. Roosevelt aroused the country to the danger we were in.

There are signs construed by some as indicating that the Republican majority in the present congress will be replaced by a Democratic majority in the next.

We shall be called upon to respond to the charge that the tariff has raised prices.

There will be no promise on the part of the Republican party on the anti-trust law except to strengthen it.

New York, Feb. 14.—"If the enforcement of this law is not consistent with the present method of carrying on business, then it does not speak well for the present methods of conducting business, and they must be changed to conform to the law."

This was Mr. Taft's answer to Wall street and its cry of "panic."

It was made to a cheering audience of hundreds of prominent Republicans gathered Saturday night at the annual Lincoln day dinner of the Republican club of this city, held at the Waldorf-Astoria. Governor Hughes shared the honors of the evening with the president.

Mr. Taft adhered to his purpose of discussing platform pledges and how they should be kept. It was at the conclusion of a detailed argument as to how the Republican party is redeeming its pledges that he came to a discussion of the anti-trust law and Wall street, on which his utterances had been awaited with the greatest interest. The president declared that the administration would not "foolishly run amuck in business and destroy values and confidence just for the pleasure of doing so."

"No one," he continued, "has a motive as strong as the administration to cultivate and strengthen confidence and prosperity."

"That there was no promise on the part of the Republican party to change the anti-trust law except to strengthen it. Of course, the government at Washington can be counted on to enforce the law in the way best calculated to prevent a destruction of public confidence in business, but that it must enforce the law goes without saying."

The Insurgent Movement.

President Taft did not hesitate to discuss the attacks that have been made upon the administration and the party, or the danger to future success in the insurgent movement and other dissensions. Republicans who feared defeat at the polls in November, he declared, however, should take courage from the demoralized condition of their opponents, the Democrats.

"It was Grant," said the president amid a whirlwind of laughter, "who remarked his own fear of battle by thinking how much more afraid the enemy was."

Mr. Taft again came to the defense of the Payne-Aldrich tariff bill. He did not hesitate, he said, to repeat that it substantially complied with the party pledges for tariff revision, and that, through this bill, the party had "set itself strongly in the right direction—toward lower tariffs."

The president brought statistics into his argument to demonstrate that during the first six months of the new tariff law there had been shown a 12 per cent reduction in the percentage ad valorem duties have paid on imports and 12 per cent increase in the percentage of imports admitted free. Time and a wider knowledge he thought, would serve to justify the bill.

Reviewing the party platform, the president spoke of postal savings banks, amendments to the interstate commerce law, the anti-injunction plank, statehood for Arizona and New Mexico and the conservation of natural resources bills to carry all of which promises into effect were pending in congress and he believed would be passed.

Three Governors Present.

Three governors were present among the 1,200 persons who heard the president's address—Hughes of New York, Fort of New Jersey and Weeks of Connecticut. Two hundred and fifty women dined in one of the small rooms right off the grand ballroom where the banquet was held.

The decorations were made up principally of American flags and shields. Over the speaker's table blazed the immortal words of Lincoln: "With malice toward none, with charity for all."

Robert C. Morris, president of the club, was the toastmaster. At his right sat President Taft, at his left was Governor Hughes. Speaker Cannon had been expected, but he sent a letter of regret.

Besides the president, Governor Hughes, Governor Fort and Governor Weeks delivered addresses.

Speaker Cannon's letter said in part: "Your president and mine, who is with you tonight, is a worthy successor to Lincoln, and he is called upon to exercise some of the patience that characterized Lincoln's administration, especially in your great metropolis, where extremes in advice are always in evidence, and particularly at the present time.

"Here's a toast to Mr. Taft: May he continue to disappoint both extremes and in patience and soberness work out the policies of the great majority of the people who placed this responsibility on him, heeding neither the demands of those who want to blow up the engine nor the fears of those who would have the fire under the boiler put out. And I have confidence in his ability to do it."

Dr. Cook Again.

Valdivia, Chile, Feb. 14.—Dr. Frederick A. Cook, the explorer, and his wife arrived here on board the German steamer Osiris, having taken a cabin at Montevideo. Dr. Cook traveled under the name of T. Craig. He and his wife sailed North yesterday. He declined to be interviewed.

The steamer Osiris sailed from Hamburg Jan. 1 and from Antwerp Jan. 8. Presumably she touched at Montevideo, where the Cooks are said to have boarded her, but her call there has not been reported.

Socialists Meet in Protest.

Berlin, Feb. 14.—Socialist meetings to protest against the suffrage bill were held in most of the cities of the kingdom today. Nearly all of the meetings passed off without incident, but at several places collision with the police occurred.

IRON AND STEEL REVIEW

New York, Feb. 14.—The market for pig iron in the Eastern district last week fell flat. Large buyers held orders in abeyance, anticipating lower prices. Current business for quick shipment was made up of orders relatively few in number and small in tonnage. Prices have been crumbling in the South as well as in the North and the Steel corporation has been prompted to place a supporting contract for 25,000 tons of standard Bessemer iron with the Bessemer Pig Iron association for shipment during March, April and May. The output of pig iron and steel ingots in January by the Steel corporation was a little less than in December. Other steel works increased output. Production by merchants' interests was slightly less than during the preceding month. Furnaces in the South are carrying heavy stocks. The unfilled orders of Virginia furnaces are less than one-half of the stocks on furnace banks.

In finished steel products with the exception of fabricated steel and plain structural shapes, prices have been well sustained and the specifications on contracts have exceeded current shipments. New business in wire products has increased. Although railroads have placed few orders for bridges and rail contracts have been only 10,000 tons, they have large orders for cars under negotiations, aggregating 25,000 to 30,000 and placed during the week orders for 5,000 cars and 103 locomotives.

The largest order for structural material was for the ore docks at Superior, Wis., for the Great Northern railroad, calling for 9,000 tons of structural steel. Numerous small orders have been placed for buildings and bridges calling for about 10,000 tons of fabricated steel. The American Steel & Wire Co. report larger business and no concessions made in prices.

WE'LL CATCH IT.

Storm and Cold Wave Are Due Everywhere This Week.

Washington, Feb. 14.—A general storm, followed by a cold wave which promises to be rather severe, is the weather bureau's prediction for this week. The storm will appear over the Pacific states within the first two days, cross the Rockies, plain states and central valleys during the middle of the week and reach the Atlantic seaboard by Friday. The cold wave will overspread the North Pacific states by Tuesday morning and reach the Atlantic seaboard by Friday or Friday night.

The cold weather of the latter part of the week probably will check tendencies toward flood conditions in parts of the lake region and in the mountain district of the Middle Atlantic and New England states, due to the extraordinary depth of snow in those districts.

Dies Preventing Wreck.

Walla Walla, Wash., Feb. 14.—John Lewis, track-walker for the Oregon Railroad & Navigation company, gave his life Sunday to prevent passenger train No. 4 from crashing into a landslide near Starbuck.

Lewis discovered the slide and ran up the track to give warning. He met the train on the curve and was unable to jump aside before the engine struck him. The train was stopped within a few feet of the slide.

DRAGNET DRAWN THROUGH RESORTS AND SALOONS

Police Make Successful Raids in Search for Law-breakers.

Batter Down Door of One Resort and Make Arrests.

The police made a wholesale round-up of evil resorts and saloons Saturday and Sunday. The meshes of the dragnet were woven closely and excellent results were obtained. About a dozen men and women, including keepers of resorts, inmates and saloon keepers, were captured by the raiding squads.

The policemen and the headquarters detectives who raided the "Hotel de Palace," conducted by "Madame" Gain at 219 St. Croix avenue, early Sunday morning, transformed themselves into human battering rams in order to gain an entrance.

When the squad arrived they found the doors locked and bolted and the blinds pulled tight. Not a light glimmered. The place was dark and looked as though it had been deserted a fortnight. No response came to the insistent summons of the door bell.

"Here goes," shouted one of the blue-coats, as he let his heavy boot drive against the panels of the door. The boot only jarred it. Another drive brought the same results. Three men then lined up in a row. With a heave backed by two other powerful coppers, the foremost put his shoulder against the door, smashing the lock and almost tearing it off its hinges.

The gloom was just as thick as ever, but the silence was broken. Screams greeted the officers' ears. The lights were snapped on and two women and a man taken into custody. The search continued for "madam" herself and two men and a girl thought to be in the place. The proprietress had locked herself in her room, say the police, together with the men and the third woman. She refused to open, and the battering ram came into play again with equally tangible results.

The Men Fled.

The officers say that the two men had escaped through the window. Madam was reported to be seated in a chair as calmly as though receiving callers. The question was to find the other inmate. A glance around the room failed to disclose her. The policemen's eyes next sought the floor. They saw a pair of high-heeled slippers peeping from under the edge of the bed. A husky cop took hold of them. They didn't come easily, so he pulled harder. Slowly but surely a pair of openwork stockings followed the slippers, succeeded by a petticoat and a waist, and the third girl was produced.

The women gave their names as Belle White, Hattie Young and Mona Thompson. They created a fluster when they appeared in police court this morning, gowned in the latest creations of modiste and milliner. The Gain woman and the three girls arrested with her entered pleas of not guilty. Their trial was set for Thursday morning.

The officers making the raid were: Capt. "Tony" Fiskett, Detective Donald Irvine, Detective Frank Schutte and Patrolman John Link. They were armed with warrants which enabled them to batter doors. They were not looking for evidence, having already secured enough to warrant the complaint.

The Second Squad.

Another squad raided the hotel run by David Christopher at 228 Lake avenue south. They arrested Christopher, charging him with keeping a house of ill-fame. Others arrested on statutory charges were Ida Jorgenson, Elmer Jorgenson, Alice Bogan and Sophia Jarvis. The first two claim to be man and wife, but the police assert that they are not married. They will be tried tomorrow afternoon.

Marie Meyers was arrested this morning charged with keeping a house of ill-fame. When the police went to the place this morning they found no women there, but they claim that women were in the place at the time the evidence was secured. She entered a plea of not guilty and her trial was set for Wednesday afternoon.

Harriet Hamm was arrested earlier in the evening for keeping a house of ill-fame. She is a negress, against whom many complaints have been made. Two men came to the police to complain that they had been "roped in" there and robbed. The result was that the Hamm woman was arrested together with the two men. They were charged with visiting a house of ill-fame. Their cases will be disposed of tomorrow afternoon. The Hamm woman has been living near Second avenue west and Railroad street.

Magnus Christianson, bartender in Martin Smith's saloon at 521½ West Michigan street, was doing a wholesale business, according to the police, when he was arrested Sunday. They claim that thirty-eight men were in the place toying with the flowing bowl when the officers entered. He entered a plea of not guilty through an attorney and will be tried a week from Wednesday. Albert Carlson, who conducts a saloon on Superior street in the bowery district, was arrested this morning charged with keeping open on Sunday. About a dozen men were found in his place. He pleaded guilty when arraigned in police court and was fined the limit, $100 and costs.

The rest of the grist this morning consisted of drunks and vags who got off with light sentences.

McPHERSON GETS MONEY FROM HOME

Man Who Faces Life Sentence Will Ask for New Trial.

Jackson McPherson, convicted of the murder of Otto Frey aboard the steamer North Lake, Sept. 22 last, will within a few days receive about $250 from the estate of an uncle, Thomas Smith, who recently died in Scotland. This money comes at about the right time for the convicted man is anxious for a new trial.

A letter from a firm of attorneys in Scotland brought the good news to McPherson shortly after the jury had pronounced him guilty of murder in the second degree. At the present time McPherson faces a life sentence at Stillwater as there is but one punishment under the law for this offense.

McPherson is now much encouraged and he says that he is sure that he will be granted a new trial. Attorney Whipple, who was appointed by the court to defend him will some time within the next twenty days move for a new trial. It is not known as yet what the grounds will be.

OBSERVANCE OF VALENTINE'S DAY

Postcards, Flowers and Candy Are Purchased By Modern Swain.

Today is St. Valentine's day, the day on which the little blind god is supposed to get in some of his very best licks of the year in bringing separate hearts together so that they beat in pairs in perfect rythm. It is a day for loving messages that the bashful swain cannot find courage to put into words and some people with a distorted sense of propriety have even made it a day for sending the opposite kind of messages.

St. Valentine's day is the day of the patron saint of lovers and it has been observed as such for hundreds of years. Of late, the observance has become less general, but some people still cling to the old customs.

The modern valentine is very often a postcard, many of which have been purchased in Duluth. Some enamored youths send flowers or candy to the subject of their tender feelings. Valentine parties are also popular and many pretty ideas are worked out for the entertainment of guests.

DOESN'T WANT STREET EXTENDED

West End Resident Objects to Highway Through Lincoln Park.

Richard C. Sloan asks that the court restrain the park board from extending Twenty-sixth avenue west, claiming that the making of a highway through the place will result in the destruction of many beautiful trees and make his property on the corner less valuable.

He names as defendants in the action the city of Duluth, B. Silberstein, F. A. Patrick, James Jenswold and Bishop James McGolrick, as members of the park board and Agnes and O. J. Klippen.

Sloan claims that he purchased the property after Lincoln park had been established. He says that the title to the land to be used has not been legally dedicated or conveyed to the city.

Chicago, Feb. 14.—Employes of Schwarzchild & Sulberger, generally believed to be an independent packing company, testified before the federal grand jury today in its investigation into the methods of the so-called "beef trust." The district attorney is endeavoring to show that a "brotherly" agreement existed between the independent concern and the Armour-Morris-Swift interests. Harry Booth, chief hog buyer for Schwarzchild & Sulzberger, was one of the first to go before the jury.

This is the second five-year sentence he has received in recent years, as it was only a few weeks before the assault occurred that he had been freed from prison. The attempt at killing his wife was made recently at their home and would have been successful, but for the prompt action of a young son, who struck his father with a brick and stunned him. W. Du Vall was sentenced to the county jail for violating the prohibition law.

Steamer Victoria Lands Faralton Crew at Seattle.

Seattle, Wash., Feb. 14.—Bringing nineteen survivors of steamer Faralon, wrecked near Illamna Bay, Alaska, on Jan. 5, the steamer Victoria arrived in port from Valdez, Alaska, yesterday. All the survivors were members of the Faralon's crew. The passengers decided to wait at Valdez, and take the westbound steamer for their original destination. Many of the seamen show the effects of their month's camp on the stormbound coast.

Capt. J. C. Hunter, commander of the Farallon, says that the steamer is a solid mass of ice. He thinks that the boat's crew that left the camp Jan. 7, is safe, as the men are familiar with the coast.

REMEMBER THE MAINE

Anniversary Services Are Opened By Patriotic Bodies in Washington.

Monument to Victims of Ship's Destruction Is Being Planned.

Washington, Feb. 14.—The twelfth anniversary of the destruction of the battleship Maine in Havana harbor on Tuesday next, is to be made the occasion for memorial services extended over several days in this city and at other points throughout the country where a movement to erect at Arlington National cemetery a suitable monument to the sailors who lost their lives in the explosion is under way. The services began in this city last night at the First Congregational church, when a meeting arranged by patriotic organizations was held. The commander of the ill-fated Maine on the night of the explosion made the principal address.

On Tuesday services will be held at Arlington, when the Cuban minister, Senor Don Carlos Garcia Vetez, is expected to be one of the speakers.

On Feb. 20, a memorial meeting is to be held at Carnegie hall, New York, with Joseph Choate as the presiding officer and Admiral Sigsbee as one of the speakers.

Want a Monument.

Admiral Sigsbee is now the president of the Maine Monument association and the matter of erecting a suitable memorial is to be actively pushed. The plans for a national subscription have been perfected and headquarters for the receipt of contributions by mail and otherwise have been established in the Evans building in this city.

One hundred and sixty of the Maine's dead are buried at Arlington. The membership fee in the Memorial association has been fixed at $1, for which the subscriber receives a certificate of membership and a black silk navy cap ribbon on which, instead of the name of a ship, there is worked in gold wire the inscription, "Member Maine M. A."

The names of all members of the association will be inclosed in the cornerstone of the monument. The work of obtaining members and distributing the ribbons has been taken up by prominent women in Washington, New York and elsewhere, and the schools.

EBERHART'S SIGNING OF SEABURY VOUCHER AROUSING CRITICISM

to the attorney general credit for a favorable opinion, has been disputed by that official and the state's legal arm has taken the trouble to supply the newspapers with copies of his original opinion. In justice to the attorney general, the opinion counsels the governor to ascertain the facts as to the character of the services rendered, but this was not done and the only justification for paying the entire amount of the bill rendered is a signed statement by the beneficiary that the services were necessary to the erection and furnishing of the new capitol and not to its maintenance. The items in the original bill disallowed by Governor Johnson and included in the amount now allowed by Governor Ebehart are so absurdly at variance with this statement that had the state's chief executive examined this he could not possibly have believed Seabury's statement. The situation has been further complicated by the surreptitious appearance in the state auditor's office of an opinion, unsigned but purporting to have come from the attorney general's department, sustaining the legality of the Seabury claim. Everybody denies knowledge of the authorship of this clever stunt, and now that the voucher has been paid it it gravely asserted by those in authority that the bogus opinion carried no weight.

The Governor's Explanation.

Criticism of Governor Eberhart, which outside of the personal and political friendships of Mr. Seabury, appears to be almost unanimous, is intensified by the character of the governor's explanation of his action. He in so many words charged Governor Johnson with withholding payment of the claim because of Seabury's activities in preventing the patronage of the building falling into its legitimate hands—the governor's—for a matter of two years or more. This attack on the motives of one who cannot defend his action was considered by press and public as in extremely bad taste, and it is doubtless true that the governor has widened the breach between himself and those supporters of the late Governor Johnson in the Republican party who in some numbers had returned to their Republican allegiance and were willing to accord to his successor and nominal head of the Republican party high motives and a genuine desire to fulfill his earlier promises to carry out the Johnson policies.

Fortunately for Governor Eberhart he had no sooner signed "them poipers" than he left on a lecture tour of Northern Minnesota and personally has escaped the expostulations of his friends and the recriminations of the unfriendly. If the governor reads the Republican press and keeps his ear to the ground he has doubtless been hearing things far from complimentary to his discretion, not to mention the raising of questions of his good faith in being the means of finally making possible the execution of the capitol graft.

Lee's Gubernatorial Boom.

William E. Lee of Long Prairie has been giving his gubernatorial boom some little treatment, and before he left for Florida for a two-months' stay he declared in effect that the Republicans should make concessions to the temperance faction in the party and nominate a man who would be in sympathy with sentiment represented by that element. Perhaps the most significant feature of Mr. Lee's interview was his declaration that he did not believe that the tonnage tax would be an issue in the next campaign. P. H. McGarry of Walker, who, besides being a member of the legislature, is nursing aspirations to succeed C. A. Lindbergh of the Sixth district in congress, is understood to be looking after the Lee movement in Northern Minnesota, but the best informed politicians do not take it very seriously. On the face of things Governor Eberhart has practically no opposition for a nomination. Lee, after throwing a few stones at Eberhart in his interview without mentioning the governor's name in any way, leaves his cause to the tender mercies of the governor's astute political managers. R. B. Brower of St. Cloud is quite frequently mentioned by those who want to see some one other than Eberhart nominated. He is apparently making no movement, though it is said he spent a day recently in conference with Minneapolis friends in sizing up the situation. R. C. Dunn of Princeton appears to have made up his mind to support some one of his friends, if the opportunity presents, rather than be a candidate in the first person. Meanwhile Governor Eberhart is campaigning every day and equally every night. His itinerary last week has covered a half dozen towns with two or three times that number of brief addresses. His themes cover a wide range of educational problems, including intensive farming, domestic science, consolidated schools and in fact nearly every one of the present day educational fads and fancies. Reports that reach St. Paul as to the impression being made by the governor are colored by those who bring them, but for the most part they are not wholly convincing that the governor is "making good."

Eberhart's Unusual Position.

The governor is in the somewhat unusual political position of being forced to make a fight for a nomination for which there is apparently no other contestant. He doesn't know, however, just where opposition may develop a candidate who may prove formidable. His candidacy has at least one aspect that is calling forth the comment of the politicians. One of the Republican state leaders said recently:

"Did it ever occur, I wonder, to the governor's friends that they are pushing a man for the nomination for governor, who cannot command the support of the candidates or their friends in the last three state campaigns for governor? Mr. Dunn is as near to open revolt as a man can be. Mr. Cole is dead, but aside from those of his friends, who expect to share in a possible political prosperity by the reelection of Governor Eberhart, they are against him, and as to Mr. Jacobson, he is making no bones of where he is standing. He is undoubtedly giving aid and consolation to the anti-liquor crowd, who by the same token are the anti-Eberhart faction in the party. In spite of this situation, which is unique in the politics of Minnesota, the governor may win the nomination, but it will be practically by default. What that nomination will bring him is entirely another question. He will be nominated on the theory that he has the office and is entitled to a term by virtue of an election, and the further argument that it will not do to chance the alienation of the Swedes is being urged in his behalf. Governor Eberhart has no positive strength. I personally know of scarcely a man of prominence in the councils of the party who is for him for purely personal and unselfish reasons. It is wholly a question of expedience with the party managers. Harmony, after three disastrous defeats, looks good to them even though it may not give them the strongest candidate as viewed from purely personal considerations."

This man but merely talked openly what the leading Republicans are saying in confidence to each other. It is a situation fraught with many possibilities and inviting to the student of practical politics. There are those who believe that it will end in another disaster to the party so far as the head of the ticket is concerned, and with the split over the tariff, a weak candidate for governor may give the Democrats such a momentum that they may unseat some of the Republicans holding the minor state offices.

The State Auditorship.

It is predicted that the contest for the Republican nomination for state auditor will be a pretty one. Undoubtedly S. G. Iverson, incumbent of the office for the past eight years, is in the lead, but his opponents hope to prevent his nomination on the first ballot and if they can do this they will probably defeat him. It is claimed that Iverson's real hope is in the existence of the slate that has been made and which is understood to include the renomination of practically all the state officers. The state auditor, while absent from Fillmore county for a good many years, has always kept his legal residence at Rushmore and there will be a desperate contest for control of the Fillmore county convention. A. W. Thompson of Preston, who was discharged by Iverson as deputy auditor a couple of years ago, to make room for another, is a full-fledged candidate for the nomination, and his friends claim that he will be able to capture the delegation from the common fighting ground in Fillmore. The moral effect of success or defeat in the home county of either one of the candidates is expected to largely determine the future activities of each. In the case of Thompson, if he should lose Fillmore it may be expected to practically eliminate him from the contest. As to Iverson, he is so well known over the state that he may be able to survive such a catastrophe. R. J. Wells of Breckenridge is actively in the fight for the nomination, and is understood to be not at all pleased with the materialization of a slate. He is quoted as saying some pretty harsh things about slates and slatemakers, which, when one has not been consulted in the frame-up, are popularly supposed to be most reprehensible. Mr. Wells, it is rumored, may find very shortly another candidate for the auditorship in the field from the Ninth district from which he hails. Eugene J. Herringer, former county auditor of Norman county, and a delegate to the last national Republican convention from the Ninth district, is being groomed as a candidate and may enter the lists. Over in Hennepin Hugh Scott, the veteran county auditor, is casting longing eyes in the direction of the southeast corner of the statehouse, but it is said has been told by the Hennepin county managers of Governor Eberhart to abandon his aspirations as they may need the delegation for trading stock in capturing the convention for the governor. Scott is popular with the masses, as shown by his successive nominations and elections, but he can take many lessons from Senator Smith in manipulating delegates in a pre-convention contest. He is not taken as a serious contender for the auditorship under the circumstances. If the big fellows would keep their hands off the fight for auditor it would be one of the most interesting contests in years. There are no indications that this is the program.

Earl Crawford Seriously Ill.

The newspaper fraternity will be grieved to learn of the most serious illness of F. Earl Crawford, for ten years past editor-in-chief of the St. Paul Daily News. Mr. Crawford, in addition to work in his local field of journalism, was for a time editor-in-chief of the Clover Leaf syndicate of Western newspapers and is widely known in the field of journalism. He was years ago a member of the staff of The Duluth Evening Herald, and later was associated with the St. Paul Globe. An affecting scene—which found no human interest featuring in the paper's news columns—was enacted in the editorial rooms of the Daily News Wednesday, when Crawford tottered into the building to bid his associates goodbye. The president and the staff, down to the office boy were in tears, and while determined efforts were made to keep them back that Crawford's hopes hight be buoyed up, it was felt that he was a very sick man. Later in the day he was taken to the City and County hospital and should his condition permit will be taken to a milder climate. The physicians diagnose his malady as of a tubercular character and hold out little hope for his recovery. His illness is of comparatively recent origin.

Conservation Talks.

State Auditor Iverson has entered the conservation lists and is going to tell a St. Paul church club what the state should do to be saved. Mr Iverson is getting a little ahead of the big conservation show scheduled for the state capital for the middle of March. State Treasurer Dinehart—no really friendly newspaper writer should use his Christian name of Clarence—is also talking in the Second district about the state's resources. At Appleton last night he dedicated the public library building and according to the local paper detailed the expenditure of the great sums needed by the state to do the state's business. From the standards of the arithmetician the treasurer's speech was doubtless illuminating. A good many people are expressing the belief that conservation of the state's money is almost as essential as conserving water powers that exist only for purposes of political conservation, state timber that has been disposed of and minerals that have been withdrawn from private exploitation.

A Club Sensation.

A story is going the rounds of the Twin City clubs that the most exclusive club in Minneapolis was the scene very recently of a sensational incident that has set its membership by the ears and further threatens to almost disrupt the social organization. The story is to the effect that a man, reputed to be a millionaire, sat in at a session of the great American game at the club where the stakes ran abnormally high. When late in the evening a series of unusual hands were found to have been dealt the interest increased and the stakes mounted out of all proportions to the normal habits of the players. The contest, it is being told, narrowed down to the rich man, who is not the hero of this story, and a broker of more than ordinary means. When at least $30,000 had been wagered on the hands, of which perhaps $3,000 was in actual coin of the realm, it was found that the millionaire had a king full supported by queens and the broker held four aces. The latter had done the calling, being frightened by the one-card draw of his opponent into the belief that he was holding a straight flush. The very rich man nearly fainted on the showing of hands but recovered to promptly repudiate the conversation money bets. The winner got the cash in the game but will probably never recover the balance. The gossips say that the governors of the club showed their ideas of sportsmanship by promptly expelling the recalcitrant member, but the affair is the sole topic of whispered discussion in the halls of the club.

Ole Sageng's Position.

Efforts being made in the Ninth district to try to prejudice Senator Ole Sageng's standing with the reform forces by circulating stories that he is an offensive and defensive alliance with Henry O. Bjorge, who will contest with Congressman Halvor Steenerson for the Republican nomination for congress. The effect of the story is to make Sageng in a sense a partisan of Bjorge in an effort to secure the defeat of Steenerson. Friends of the Otter Tail county senator are indignant at the effort, which found its first publication in a Detroit paper, friendly to Steenerson. They insist that at the proper time Sageng will be an independent candidate for congress and will make his campaign independent of who is nominated in the Republican primaries or in fact in the Democratic primaries, should Democrats file for the nomination. Senator Peterson of Moorhead, who was involved in the original story, has issued a denial over his own signature.

The First District.

There are reports from the First district that Congressman Tawney has made peace with the Albert Lea Tribune, whose editor he some time since sued for libel. While the lower court held against the congressman, the supreme court reversed that ruling and sent the case back to be tried on its merits. Since then the Tribune has been remarkably quiet and when the case was reached on the Freeborn county calendar Mr. Tawney's attorneys caused it to be passed without action being taken. The proceeding is taken to mean that a temporary peace has been established and a newspaper that has been especially bitter in its denunciation of the Minnesota stand-pat congressman has been pacified. The same story carries another chapter to the effect that Clem Edwards, another of the Albert Lea editors, who has long carried the Tawney banner, is to be rewarded with a federal appointment. Edwards is president of the Minnesota Editorial association and popular with his fellow editors. Mr. Tawney is getting his fences in the First in surprisingly good condition after the big breaches had been made in them by President Taft's famous Winona speech supporting the congressman.

Had "Break" By Dix.

Wise politicians are saying that George F. Dix, clerk of the St. Paul municipal court and candidate for the Republican nomination for clerk of the supreme court, handed himself a bad left hook when he had the poor taste to charge "Democratic misrule" in state affairs during the past five years. Dix is a local politician and was assigned the job of toastmaster at the Lincoln club banquet held Saturday night at the Merchants hotel, in furtherance of his ambition for the statehouse job. The men in caarge of the banquet are naturally friendly to him and it was thought to be a good political move to make him the boss of the banquet and give him the publicity that candidates for office deem so desirable. Everything was going fine until he forgot himself in the exuberance of the occasion. The break came in introducing Governor Eberhart, who read a readable essay on the great emancipator. The sentiment was excellent, although the governor's delivery was something of a disappointment to men who had been familiar with the practice of extemporaneous speechifying.

"He is the man who will redeem the state from Democratic misrule, from which we have suffered too long," Dix declaimed. "For too many years this state has had the unenviable distinction of being governed by Democrats, and we are now about to change all this and bring the state back to its rightful place in the galaxy of states." The toastmaster in his sober moments will not pretend for a moment that the state suffered either in its reputation abroad or in its internal administration through the incumbency of Governor Johnson, and it is not disputed that in the character of the late governor's appointments no governor was ever more fortunate. It is not believed that Dix helped his candidacy for the nomination for clerk of the supreme court when he made the unwarranted attack on the memory of the late governor.

Rockne For the Senate.

There has been a good deal of speculation concerning the future political course of A. J. Rockne of Goodhue, speaker of the last house of representatives. Rockne has taken comparatively few people into his confidence, but it is now reported on pretty good authority that he will be a candidate for the senate in the Goodhue county district. There is said to be a working agreement by which Rockne is to have a clear field for the senatorial nomination, which in Goodhue is practically equivalent to an election, and Dr. J. A. Gates is to have his home county for the nomination for lieutenant governor. The deal is also said to include Congressman C. R. Davis of St. Peter and he is to do everything in his power to give the entire Third district to Gates. Rice county is understood to be the seat of the strongest opposition to Gates, but he has hopes that the pressure from the other counties in the district will bring even Rice into line. If, as his friends claim, Gates can bring the solid Third into the state convention behind him, he will be a strong factor in the convention and the slate, which is said to favor Dr. Cole of Fergus Falls for lieutenant governor, may need repairing before the convention has adjourned.

Reese to Be Manager.

Darius F. Reese is standing sponsor for the candidacy of Herbert P. Keller for mayor of St. Paul. In a ringing speech at the Lincoln club banquet the veteran Ramsey county leader gave the Hugh Halberts and Grant Van Sants a sample of Demosthenic oratory that swept the banqueters off their feet. There has been some little feeling between the leaders of the various factions as represented by these men, but Dar held the olive branch across the festal board and expressed the hope that Keller will have the united support of all the factions. Reese was easily the prize orator of the occasion, and it is understood that he will be the real manager of the Republican mayoralty campaign. It is quite generally conceded that R. T. O'Connor will be the nominal manager of Assemblyman Haas' campaign for the mayoralty, and those interested in practical politics will watch with interest the struggle between these two veteran political leaders representing as they do, much the same methods of municipal campaigning.

MAYOR SIGNS THE FRANCHISE

Secure Promise That Substitute Route Will Be Used If Practicable.

Mayor Haven signed the Canadian Northern franchise Saturday, after securing a signed statement from the railroad company that the substitute route will be used if practicable from an engineering standpoints. If not, the route first surveyed will be used to come into Duluth.

The company engineers state that the substitute offered by the mayor is the only feasible proposal that has been made since the controversy started. They state that the company may be glad to adopt it, as it would mean a considerable saving in construction expense. The grade would also be improved.

The mayor stated after signing the franchise that he did not want to keep the road out of the city, but wanted to learn if any other route could be used by the company. He said that was only looking out for the best interests of Duluth.

LARGER CITY JAIL NEEDED

Chief Troyer Urges Council to Add a Third Story.

Chief Troyer suggests in his annual report that more room be secured at police headquarters by the addition of another story to the present building. This would make room for adequate women's quarters, a larger department for juveniles and matron's quarters, as well as proper cellrooms for those charged with crime. This would leave the present bull pen for lodgers. Last year more than thirty persons a day were accommodated at the jail, which was altogether too small for the demands made upon it.

"DOWNWARD REVISION."

In his reassurances to Wall street, which he seems to think the business center of this country, President Taft is honest and straightforward enough. In his second attempt to defend the tariff bill which he signed to his everlasing shame, he is either disingenuous or mistaken.

To say that nobody intends harm to honest business is to state a truth so clear that its repetition is a platitude. If business trembles at pending proposals for its regulation, it is because of something inherent in business that causes its conscience to quake, and not because of anything in the proposed regulation that threatens harm to any honest enterprise. It is to the people's interests, as well as that of business, that sound, honest enterprise should prosper. But it is to the people's interests, and to those of business as well, that unfair and dishonest methods should be punished and restrained. When business is honest, no matter how great its scope nor even how close it approaches to monopoly, its prosperity is for the country's good. When power thus gained, however, is used to build up vast fortunes at an unfair cost to the people, and at the cost to the republic of a growing plutocracy on the one hand and growing poverty on the other hand, it is time for government to step in and to act as a policeman in behalf of society. That is all there is to the movement for the reform of big business; and if business shows disturbance, it must be because it fears the effect of the requirement that it shall be honest.

So far as the president went along these lines, he was honest and wise in his New York speech. But when he attempted to defend the new tariff law as a revision downward, using as a basis for his argument dishonest figures prepared for him by dishonest statesmen, he showed himself to be either unfair or gullible; because these figures have been analyzed and exposed repeatedly. The president said that duties were reduced on goods of which this country consumes $5,000,000,000 worth a year; but he did not say, though it is true, that when there have been removed from his list commodities of which this country is the greatest exporter in the world and on which there should be no tariff at all, and goods on which the reduction was so slight that the duties still are prohibitive, there is little or nothing left of his $5,000,000,000. On the commodities that are vital parts of the people's lives, the things they need to feed, clothe, warm and shelter themselves, the closest examination will fail to reveal the slightest relief, either in the tariff schedules or in the prices that have prevailed since the new tariff went into effect.

THE NEW CITY HOSPITAL.

Congratulations to the outgoing city administration upon the new city hospital for contagious cases that has come into being during its term of office. This Institution has been greatly needed for years, and The Herald has advocated its construction persistently. It will supply a conspicuous and shameful lack, and it can be made the means of greatly reducing the spread of contagious diseases in this city.

UNIFORM LEGISLATION.

The campaign for uniform state legislation is pretty good proof that while this country thinks much of its dual form of government, with a federal government for the common purpose and more or less free and independent state governments for local purposes, the system is not without its drawbacks.

Lack of uniformity may have been all well enough in the babyhood of the nation, when the separate states were really separate, and very jealous of each other. But now when jealousy has largely disappeared, when the nation is more real in fact than it is in law, and when to the average citizen a boundary line between states has little more significance than a boundary line between counties, lack of uniformity is mischievous.

Food may be legally pure and salable in one state, and legally impure and unsalable in an adjoining state. A man may be a criminal in one state, and an untainted citizen in an adjoining state. He may be married legally in one state, divorced in another, and an adulterer in a third. Endless confusion is the result, and legal chaos.

If this were a nation, and not a federation, there would be one law for all sections. Since this is a nation only in fact, and not in law, there are almost as many laws on some subjects as there are states. Hence the campaign for uniform legislation. It is a valuable and a helpful campaign, and while it may never succeed fully, and while some time national laws may have to take the place of inharmonious state laws, it cannot fail, if persisted in, to improve conditions.

In a recent address before a Philadelphia gathering H. N. McKinney, of the famous advertising firm of N. W. Ayer & Co., said some pertinent things about the need of uniform legislation, among others the following in referring to the need of uniform pure food laws: "The necessity of uniformity seems so plain, the benefit of it to manufacturer, dealer and consumer so apparent, that it is difficult to understand how there can be either objection or interference with efforts to bring about a quick adjustment of all laws to this end, and yet every attempt in this direction is met with more or less opposition. To harmonize state and national laws by identical legislation probably will necessitate some changes, but the compromises to be made in the state laws that would seem to some to weaken them would be few as compared with the greater number of things concerning which identical uniformity of law would be of lasting benefit. If changes in the law are desired the people should act first through congress, and then, in identical terms, through their state legislatures, to the end that freedom of competition may be unrestricted, and that the people may purchase sound articles of commerce in any market on equal terms, and that the necessary machinery of business may be untrammeled."

This is sound sense. The effort thus far toward uniformity of food laws has been toward inducing the states to base their laws on the federal law, which is merely a first step, hardly won after years of agitation, and containing many temporary compromises in the interests of business. Minnesota, for instance, has a better pure food law than the federal law, and it would hardly abandon it for inferior legislation. The way benzoate of soda and other preservatives have beaten down the barriers of the federal law, and are freely used to conceal putridity and unfitness, is no recommendation for the present federal law as a basis of uniform state legislation. Make the federal law what it ought to be, and then make the state laws accord with it.

GET YOUR HOME SITE NOW.

That business man who talked about home-owning in The Herald Saturday night talked common sense, and talked it straight to the point. "A deed to a little home in Duluth," he said, "is worth more than a bushel of rent receipts; and with a little foresight the deed is just about as easy to obtain."

Right; and now is the time to begin obtaining it. There isn't a renting family in Duluth that has been in the business of paying rent for ten years, that cannot look back and see how, by a little foresight, a little temporary sacrifice, it could have managed to be living in its own home today.

And in view of what is pending, in view of how destiny is turning out greatness for Duluth, it is clear that there never will be a time in history when building sites can be bought as cheaply as they can today. Unless every calculation is a mistake, each year's delay means either a far less desirable location or a large increase in cost. A home site bought in a desirable location today is certain to advance in value in much greater proportion than a home built today will decrease in worth by use.

Get a site for your home right away. Go in debt for it if need be, and go in debt again for your home when your site is paid for. But get a home site, and get it quickly.

ENCOURAGING AMERICAN SHIPPING.

American shipping having been laid low by stupid restrictions placed upon it by the protective tariff, the Republican party seeks to revive it by artificial stimulation. Since, with the present duties upon material for shipbuilding, it is impossible to build ships and operate them in competition with nations that have not penalized shipbuilding, the proposal is to tax the people to provide profits through ship subsidies.

In other words, having killed shipping by oppressive tariff taxes, the Republican doctors propose to bring it to life again by further taxation of the people that will offset the discriminatory taxes against it; and the people are to pay both bills.

The proposal is unscientific, illogical, absurd and immoral. The American people are taxed too much, as the bitter everyday outcry against the high cost of living proves plainly enough.

The Democrats in congress have a plan which upon its face is much more reasonable. They are working upon it now, and will have it ready to present in the house shortly. It will not be adopted, of course; for in spite of the insurgency of the insurgents, they haven't insurged to the point yet where they dare vote for a Democratic measure even though it is good. They won't be real insurgents until they reach that point, and having dared to vote against a Republican measure because it is bad, maybe they yet will reach it. But that is another story.

Minority Leader Clark, with Mr. Spight of Mississippi and Mr. Underwood of Alabama, are drafting a substitute for the ship subsidy bill that would, if it became law, provide encouragement for American shipping without additional taxation of the American people. The proposal is to amend the tariff law so as to provide a discriminating tariff, under which goods imported in American ships would pay a lower duty than those imported in foreign ships. The proposed difference is modest, as only a 5 per cent differential is to be provided in the bill; but it would offer a real incentive to the rebuilding of American shipping. Nor can it be objected to by the most extreme protectionists on the score that it would reduce the tariff schedules, because it wouldn't. The ship-owner would add the differential to his freight rates, and the cost of his cargo would be the same to the purchasers as if it were carried in a foreign ship. The customs receipts are about $300,000,000 to $350,000,000 a year. Five per cent upon this would provide a subsidy of $15,000,000 to $17,000,000 a year; and if it worked out well, maybe the differential could be made even greater. If it cut into the nation's revenues, the tariff could be lowered to stimulate enough importations to make up the loss.

The plan is not new. President Madison advocated it, it was adopted, and under its influence American shipping expanded luxuriantly, holding its pre-eminence upon the seas until steel ships came in and the protective tariff killed American shipping by its prohibitive duties on ship-building material.

The plan is a good one, and it is a pity that it will be refused a hearing simply because it is not a Republican measure.

THE WEATHER.

Surely nature never made anything more perfect than the present winter in Duluth. Though storms and blizzards have raged all about, though piercing cold and biting winds have played havoc with the tempers of those who live in less favored climes, though even into the "sunny" South grim winter has stretched its chilling forces, in Duluth the temperature has been mild, there has not yet been a really unpleasant storm, and conditions have been as nearly immaculate as they possibly could be. And if referring to the subject without knocking on wood is dangerous, and even should it precipitate bad weather, Duluth can stand it without complaining, for it would have to be very bad indeed to bring the average down very much. Besides, the last of the winter months is half spent.

TOUCHED A TENDER SPOT?

To the Editor of The Herald:

"The fact that Mr. Young has received so much criticism from women indicates beyond doubt that somebody was hurt. So says an economical, sensible housekeeper and a student of household economics. A prominent East end lady's opinion was that "Mr. Young's article was well written, and most housekeepers could profit by reading it."

Our dear ladies are getting pretty busy with clubs, societies, ancient history, and such high mental developments that make the real everyday problem of housekeeping a drudgery. The idea that "I. T. N.", (whom I shall hereinafter designate as Mrs. Bowser) tries to convey, that the food from the recipes of Mr. Young would necessitate the keeping of a dog to try the same before being placed on the table, is not well taken.

Allow me to leave a few suggestions for the women directly or indirectly interested in housekeeping, and each may ask herself: "How many of these do I know?" Let the average man reason out for himself whether or not his wife and those that prepare his food know the following: The nutritive value of sirloin, porterhouse, round steak, eggs, potatoes, flour, beans, peas, rice, oatmeal, milk, etc. How many have taken the pains to figure out the actual cost per actual nutrition in sirloin and roundsteak? For instance: Sirloin purchased at 25 cents per pound, with 68 per cent nutritive value and with 25 per cent waste for bones, makes the cost of sirloin 68½ cents per 100 per cent nutritive value. Round steaks purchased at 15 cents per pound, with 3 per cent waste for bones, and at a nutritive value of 65 per cent, would cost, less the waste, 23.4 cents per 100 per cent nutritive value. This would give to the one buying round steak three times as much for the money. How many ladies take the pains to figure out these and other things? The average dozen of eggs weighs 24 ounces, or 1½ pounds, and is cheap food at 25 cents per dozen if you figure the nutritive value in eggs. Did you ever try to weigh the peelings of bananas and figure out what proportion is waste? Figure up the nutrition in bananas, and you will be surprised at the result. How many ladies know how to make brine for the preservation of beef? How many understand how to make sweet pickle brine for the preservation of pork? Every winter both the pork and the beef can be purchased for almost half of the price asked in the middle of the summer, and it would pay to have a few three or four gallon jars for such purposes for your own home-made corn-beef and pickle pork, when there is so much talk of high-priced beef. Time and time again I have seen well-dressed women in meat markets entirely bewildered when asked: "What kind of beefsteak do you wish?" Why? Simply because they did not know what they wanted. Ladies, you should learn the following tables if you don't have them, and you will not be surprised that when the demand is so great for the choice cuts, the price must be high:

	Per cent.
Chuck steak	29
Plate beef	12
Rib roast	9
Shanks, flank and suet	8
Beef loins (which is porterhouse and sirloin)	19
Round steak, (the most nutritious of them all)	23
	100

The above percentages hold true in the average carcass of beef, and inasmuch as the meat bill runs about one-half as much as the grocery bill with the majority of housekeepers, you must realize that a thorough knowledge of the above will help you wonderfully. Send for the government analysis of the nutritive value of all kinds of food, even if you have to neglect the ladies' aid society, clubs and literary pursuits.

Mr. Young told some great truths, notwithstanding Mrs. Bowser's ridicule, and we would also assure her that this is not written by Mr. Young or by anyone at his instigation, but is written by a man who has made a careful study of how we are drifting away from the true, economical way of keeping house. There would be less kicking on the high cost of living if the women would not have a spool of thread delivered, and if they would dress white fish and other fish, as well as poultry, themselves, instead of having the butcher engaging a man at a salary of from $55 to $100 per month to do it for them. If a thorough knowledge was had of which is the cheapest and most nutritious food, a great problem would be solved. Respectfully submitted.

BENEFITS OF COLD STORAGE.

To the editor of The Herald:

Permit me to use a little of your space to make plain a few facts regarding the use of refrigeration in the use of storing various commodities for table use.

In this time of agitation and investigation in regard to the high cost of living I note with interest that the cold storage has been attacked and claim has been made that the storing of these various commodities has tended to increase the cost of living. I desire here to repudiate this assertion. In the summer time when everything is cheap and the cost of living is at low tide it may be possible that it does not increase the cost of some commodities to a certain extent, but it makes what is consumed much more wholesome than it would be if dealers had not access to refrigerating plants. On the other hand during the long winter months the storing of all these necessaries of life reduces the price from 50 to 100 per cent.

We will take eggs for instance. Suppose there were not eggs to be had except those produced by the genial cackler, who invariably takes her long vacation during the winter months. We would see eggs so high that it would be necessary for one to mortgage his home or to use up his dividends on the copper stocks to have an egg for his breakfast.

But the laboring man would look on an egg with fear and trembling and would not dare to think of having such a luxury for his morning meal. This prohibitive price of eggs would naturally drive the laboring man to the meat diet and would naturally increase greatly the consumption of meat and as a result would raise the price of all kinds of meats.

Those not familiar with the facts do not know that three-fourths of all the eggs consumed from the 1st of November on during the winter months are storage eggs. Bakers, many restaurants and hotels use them entirely besides a great percentage of families either knowingly or through the duplicity of the party from whom he gets his supply.

If the supply of fresh eggs is so scarce that they sell for 20 to 40 cents per dozen only supplying one-fourth of the people, what price would they command if they were made to supply all the people?

What applies to eggs will apply to any and all commodities. I am interested in no storage plant nor would I be the loser if there were no such a thing as cold storage, but I wish to put the public wise as to the great blessing that the cold storage is instead of a curse as some would lead you to believe, very truly,

WILL G. STARKEY.

Extreme Egotism.

Atchison Globe: Some men have such an exaggerated notion of their own importance they think they should be promoted fast enough for their salary to keep up with the increased cost of living.

THE WEATHER.

Yesterday was one of those really fine days that make living in Duluth in winter really worth while, but the weather man says tonight will be colder. The lowest temperature last night was 12 deg.

A year ago today was clear and cold.

The sun rose this morning at 7:14 and it will set at 5:30, giving ten hours and sixteen minutes of sunlight.

Mr. Richardson makes the following comment on weather conditions:

"Freezing temperatures prevail in Eastern states and as far south as the Eastern Gulf region due to a high pressure area central over the latter district. A disturbance of moderate intensity overlies the plateau region attended by snow or rain throughout the Upper Rocky mountains and Pacific States, and warmer weather over the Missouri valley. A high pressure condition that has appeared over Saskatchewan is causing much colder and zero temperatures throughout Western Canada.

"Indications favor snow flurries at the Head of the Lakes tonight or Tuesday with somewhat colder temperature by Tuesday night."

Following were the maximum temperatures for twenty-four hours and the minimum for twelve, ending at 7 a. m. today:

Children and the Cost of Living.

Toledo Blade: The legislative investigation into the causes of the higher costs of living must, by reason of the resolution under which it was authorized, be confined strictly to the subject in hand. Yet it would be an important sociological contribution if the indirect results of these soaring prices could be listed in order that the remedies be found, or at least the evils largely offset.

It has been a matter of pride and tradition in thousands of American families to give the children the fullest education which was possible with the means possessed. Savings have been undertaken with this end in view. Sacrifices made and discipline invoked against luxury. But not only has the extreme costs of foodstuffs interfered with the putting aside of savings, but undoubtedly in unnumbered instances they have caused the draining of the little, jealously guarded stores of money in the banks. The children have been denied the further education which might have been theirs in cheaper times. They have been taken from school and been set at work often before they were physically capacitated. The families have gained relief from the press of necessity, but the children have lost in the quality of weapons with which to fight the battles with the world. The state has suffered a wrong as well as have these boys and girls.

This is but one of the tragic consequences noted of narrowed income caused by the high prices. The full list, if it could be known, might fill a volume.

On the Popular Battle-Line.

New York World: Writing for the fifteenth anniversary number of the Bookman, just at hand, Prof. Harry Thurston Peck seems to declare a new place for fictional literature. "The age," he says, "is romantically realistic, and it is within the past fifteen years that this fact has become apparent." Fiction has attained to the ascendant because it is "the literature of democracy," responding most quickly to popular feeling. For this reason it is so deeply tinged with socialistic thought.

Once upon a time, Prof. Peck reflects, the rights of labor, the wrongs of the "ultimate consumer" and the atrocities of capitalists would have been discussed in tracts, monographs or "carefully considered books which only a very small number of readers would ever see." But now "it is in fiction that the battles of the people are fought out."

It is Prof. Peck's fault, perhaps, that he is contemplating too carefully the current period. Regarding the novel as a popular champion, that which has come to pass seems rather an expansion of effort than a departure. One remembers fictional dealing with the rights and wrongs of plain people from the effective pens of a Reade and a Dickens, to go no further back. The fields for such efforts are a little broader today, it may be. Some new conditions have arisen, some old ones grown more acute. But the tract, the monograph and the well-considered book are still with us, going almost daily to press.

If Prof. Peck was really looking for a departure he might have turned his eye rather on the stage than the bookshelf. Over the footlights come certain signs of a new outlook. "Strife," "The Battle," "The Fourth Estate," "The Third Degree," "The Lion and the Mouse"—these and other dramas of current or recent interest run on certain battle-lines for causes made common. They present arguments along with diversions. Turning the intimate entertainment of men and women into forms of serious advocacy, they are a power calling for large reckoning.

Reassuring.

Life: President Tart has said that Secretary Ballinger is a truly good man and secretary. The question still survives in some minds whether Mr. Ballinger has always been good or has become so through the efforts of Dismissed Forester Pinchot, Discharged Watchdog Glavis, Collier's Weekly and other reformatory influences. Pending settlement of the question it is reassuring to mark a disposition in the influences to stay on their job.

TWENTY YEARS AGO

Taken From the Columns of The Herald of This Date, 1890.

Officials of the St. Paul & Duluth and Northern Pacific roads were at the board of public works office yesterday, holding a conference on the Sixth avenue viaduct. The plans were approved. The total length of the bridge is 490 feet, with a 150-foot span over the railroad tracks. It was decided to put in gates at the Garfield avenue crossing.

There is a vacancy where the portly form of Col. W. W. Gleen used to be. Business has not been so prosperous owing to neglect, and the machinery and fittings of the boiler works at Oneota were shipped at night to West Superior, with the idea of sending them to some point in Montana. Strothman Brothers, who have a claim of $500 against Glenn, heard of the arrival of the stuff at Superior, and secured an attachment.

Just twenty years ago, John Lewis of Duluth was appointed surveyor general of logs and lumber for the Sixth district.

The American Steel Barge company has finally decided to locate its shipyard at Superior, having received a bonus of $250,000. It is intended to employ 1,200 men and its daily consumption of steel will be about sixty tons. It will turn out yearly about ten ships of the McDougall type until it has reached its quota. It was feared the works would go to some lower lake port.

Rev. T. J. Valentine, a Boston minister, has accepted the call extended by the Duluth Unitarian society and will begin a year's engagement the first of next month.

C. E. McDougall represented Duluth at a Minneapolis meeting for the purpose of organizing a state hotel keeper's association. John T. West of Minneapolis was chosen president and Thomas Cullyford of Duluth, vice president.

MINNESOTA OPINIONS.

The Parties in Bad Shape.

Foley Independent: Neither of the dominant parties have much to fear from the other. One is pusillanimous, the other honeycombed with corruption.

The Logical Candidate.

Albert Lea Standard, (Dem.): Why all this knocking by good Republican papers against Governor Eberhart? He is accused of being the candidate of the steel trust, the brewing interests, railroads and other sinister powers and of having been already slated by the "gang" as the nominee for governor. This is pretty severe on our amiable governor and it may be founded somewhat on jealousy or unfair prejudice, and in any case it is not pleasant to hear. Governor Eberhart is the logical Republican candidate and, in line with the party's past record and policy, is entitled to a unanimous nomination.

Another View of It.

Anoka Union, (Rep.): Eberhart had the opportunity, but bids fair to lose out.

Part of the System.

Austin Transcript: When one learns where a large proportion of the campaign funds come from, it is not difficult to imagine why certain men are selected for national committee men. The parties who contribute see that their trusted friends are in position to spend the funds.

Easy to Do Worse.

Elk River Star-News: When it comes right down to brass tacks the Star-News is in favor of Frank A. Day as the Democratic candidate for governor.

The Real Republicans.

Foley Independent: The insurgents represent the true American form of government. They believe in doing their own thinking instead of letting Uncle Joe do it for them.

A Test.

Hibbing Tribune: We shall find out Feb. 17 and 18 at Bemidji whether Northern Minnesota means business.

No Cannonites Need Apply.

St. Peter Free Press: Ex-Congressman Bede, although refused a re-election partly on account of his support of Speaker Cannon, is still a defender of the Danville statesman, and at the same time entertains strong hopes for a return to congress. It may be that such a thing is possible in the iron ore district, where other influences than public sentiment sometimes turn the political scale. Yet even with this advantage in his favor, the chances are that should the people up there be tired of their present congressman they will elect an entirely new man.

The City Can Spare Them.

Stillwater Gazette: There's a large opening in the country for a whole lot of the Smart Alecks who stand around the street corners of the towns and cities and say funny (?) things of the chap from the country district. When it comes to the real coin your alleged Uncle Rube has the Smart Aleck backed off the boards; and he also has the Alecks beaten to a frazzle in about everything you can think of. We don't suppose the Alecks will ever take a tumble to themselves and get into the line of usefulness, but there is a splendid opening in the country where they need male help.

Let Him Stay a Little Child.

Let him stay a little child—do not try to hurry!
Let him be a dainty thing all velvety and furry—
Let him suck his little thumb and spend his time in squawking (Which is often preferable to other people's talking!)
Let him pull the lunch cloth off and shatter costly dishes,
Foozle the aquarium and tantalize the fishes;
Let him spit and spout and spew and wriggle, squirm and stammer—
Let the little darling take the looking

Let him pull the kitten's tail, although

Vivisect your watch to find where all

Let him take the Dresden clock, or

Let him do the baby things that

Then he'll smoke and drink and chew and run for office, maybe!

Roosevelt: A man educated in mind, but not in morals is a menace to society.

A MOMENT WITH THE WITS.

Punch: Curate (to Mrs. Budge, who has advanced crockery for a local tea)—I trust, Mrs. Budge, everything has returned safely?

Mrs. Budge—Puffectly, sir, everything—barring one spoon as come back short.

Chicago News: Mathews—They say your grandfather was very successful as an explorer.

Traveler—Yes, he was. Nearly everybody used to believe him.

Illustrated Bits: The Man—Do you think you could learn to love me, darling?

The Darling—I don't know; I might. I learned Greek when I was a girl.

St. Louis Times: Nora—Did Mr. Smith say to you as I entered the room last night: "Is that the beautiful Miss Watson?"

Cora—Yes, dear, with the accent on the "that."

New York Sun: Romeo was swearing by the moon. "Too inconstant," murmured Juliet; "it has a man in it." Chagrined, he switched to Halley's comet instead.

Washington Star: "Politeness costs nothing," said the man who quotes proverbs.

"You are wrong again," answered Sirius Barker. "You have evidently not figured how much it costs to persuade a New York waiter to look pleasant and say 'thank you.'"

Tit-Bits: Teacher—Jimmie, correct this sentence: "Our teacher am in sight."

Jimmy—Our teacher am a sight.

Cleveland Leader: "I don't care to drink. Liquor always goes to my head at once."

"Yes—nature hates a vacuum."

Washington Star: "What do you mean by the glad hand?"

"Anything," answered Mr. Bloochips, "that will beat three of a kind."

Philadelphia Record: Silleus—What becomes of love's young dream?

Cynicus—Well, it never dies of old age.

St. Louis Times: "Well, Rastus, I'm glad you like your new employer. Remember, you cannot do too much for him."

"No, sah, I don't mean to."

Yonkers Statesman: Church—If a man wants to have disagreeable things said about him he should run for office.

Gotham—Or discover the North Pole.

Chicago Record-Herald: "Pa, what's public opinion?"

"It is the greatest force we have in this country, except when it bumps against the United States senate."

In Praise of Freckles.

New York Mail: The persons who refused to adopt little Jasper, an orphan, the other day, because he was freckled, and thereby endowed Jasper with ephermeral celebrity, were not well informed as to the outward marks of character.

If they had been they would have preferred Jasper, and not have rejected him on the recommendation of his freckles. Though the matter has never, we believe, been scientifically investigated and reported upon with the authority of the faculty, there is excellent reason to believe that freckles on the face of a white boy or girl are a very fair sign of ambition, originality, and honesty.

Freckles are very frequently an accompaniment of red hair, and red hair has been immemorially regarded as a mark of spirit and independence. Sometimes it is supposed to be associated with a hot temper and a spiteful disposition; but there is really no reason to regard red-haired people as of a more violent nature than others. If a person possesses high spirit, and stoutly resists imposition, those whom he resists are quite likely to call his spirit "bad temper."

Whether the ambitious and independent spirit resides in the red hair or in the freckles is a matter of grave doubt. The doctors have not yet attempted to tell us. But from Cicero down, red-haired and freckled people have been sturdily independent. Col. Roosevelt is not exactly red haired, but he is said to have been covered with freckles when he was a boy. The freckled girl is always a good, breezy companion, and always is to be trusted. When it comes to pugnacity, it need only be mentioned that Mr. Robert Fitzsimmons is one of the most freckled men that ever lived.

The association of character with freckles seems to suggest that they are more than skin deep; and yet science tells us that freckles are merely due to "increased local deposits of pigment granules in the epidermis." The accepted specific for their removal is hyposulphite of soda. But the question whether their artificial removal has an effect on the character, tending to lessen the spirit of independence in the individual need not to be discussed, because neither hyposulphite of soda nor anything else ever really removed freckles.

Should Have No Opposition.

Minneapolis Tribune: When the late Governor John A. Johnson selected Judge Martin Hughes of Hibbing to preside over the destinies of the range court he exercised that same high grade of intelligence which made him such a successful governor, and so great a prime favorite with the people of Minnesota.

Martin Hughes was appointed a district judge about two years ago and since that time has made a distinct hit with every litigant who has been brought before him.

The attorneys of St. Louis county have come to know that Judge Hughes possesses all the necessary qualifications for the high office to which he has been appointed and the majority of them would like to see him returned to office when election time rolls around next fall.

ONE KILLED WHEN TRESTLE DROPPED

Three Others Injured in Serious Accident at Coleraine Plant.

Coleraine, Minn., Feb. 14.—(Special to The Herald.)—Saturday was an unlucky day here, one man being killed and four injured.

The stripping of sixteen cars was being dumped from the trestle when it suddenly gave way. Half the train remained on the tracks but the other half went with the trestle, the approach to which is of wood.

Four Austrian car dumpers went with the cars. Men, cars and dirt, rolled over and down the embankment. Broken arms, legs and other injuries were the result. It was at first thought none was dangerously hurt, but Sunday afternoon one of the men died at the local hospital.

FIVE THOUSAND GREET JEFFRIES

Nearly All of Hibbing at Depot Sunday Night When Fighter Arrives.

Hibbing, Minn., Feb. 14.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Jeffries combination arrived in town last night and was met at the train by about 5,000 enthusiastic fight fans. Jeffries and his company immediately repaired to the Hotel Hibbing to get in readiness for the show which they gave at the Power theater.

The house was packed to the doors and each member of the all-star cast received loud applause. When Jeffries appeared the tumult was deafening. Some of the critics in the audience were of the opinion that Jeffries looked about the same as on the memorable night when he laid one over on that grand old, Robert Fitsimmons, forcing the old man to take the count and relinquish the title for which he is at the present time trying to get into shape to reclaim.

Jeffries did three rounds with his old friend and manager, Sam Berger, and greatly impressed the audience with his speed. The big fellow seemed to be glad that his tour was at an end and lent himself enthusiastically to his work.

Frank Gotch and Tom Jenkins were royally received and each gave a very pleasing exhibition. The huge audience took very kindly to the bag punching stunt and also to the two Slockers, expert jugglers. The party left today for Duluth.

FORM OUTING CLUB.

Organization to Entertain Vermilion Lake Visitors in Summer.

Tower, Minn., Feb. 14.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Lake Vermilion Boat and Outing club has been organized to build cottages on the shores of the lake and furnish boats and other amusements for summer visitors. Matt. Nelson is president and A. C. Fuller secretary and treasurer.

Work on the construction of cottages will commence as soon as the weather permits. The need for more cottages on the lake has become apparent from the complaints of several score of visitors who have already signified their intentions of coming here to camp during the coming summer. The Vermilion Lake Outing club cottages at Gold island are about the only ones at present which are adapted to the needs of tourists, and these have been in steady demand during past seasons. Now, with the accommodation afforded by the new Vermilion hotel, there is reason to believe that tourists without number will seek recreation here this summer and, while adequate accommodations are afforded at the hotel, many will be desirous of securing cottages, and it is to meet these demands that the new company will erect several rustic buildings. These will undoubtedly be at Gold island, not far distant from the buildings owned by the Vermilion Lake Outing club.

A large gasoline launch, which will accommodate about twenty-five people, has been ordered, together with several rowboats. These boats will all be for rent and will fill a long-felt want, as it has been almost impossible during past seasons to secure boats of this sort, as the steamboat owners devoted all their attention to the larger craft, and the twenty or more launches on the lake were owned by individuals who did not care to rent them.

SIX PEOPLE ARE INJURED IN WRECK

Harry LaCour of Hibbing Among Those Hurt in M. & I. Derailment.

Walker, Minn., Feb. 14.—(Special to The Herald.)—Six people were injured when the northbound Minnesota & International Falls passenger train was derailed about seven miles southeast of here Saturday evening, as follows:

Charles Eichman, Alexandria; cuts about head, limbs badly bruised.

Charles Burns of the Ernest Fischer Theatrical company; internal injuries; condition very serious.

Miss Mitchell, Alexandria, of the Ernest Fischer Theatrical company; internal injuries; very serious.

Harry Lacour, Hibbing; hands cut, head slashed and limbs wrenched.

Mrs. George Coppersmith, wife of the conductor of the passenger; bruised about the head.

Unknown man, probably laborer; internal injuries; may die.

The derailment happened on the shores of Portage lake. The engine, tender and first baggage car went over the defect without damage. The second baggage car, the smoker and the day coach, concluding the train, all left the tracks, turned turtle on the verge of the deep lake and began to burn. The fire was quenched by the engine crew.

The engine crew helped out the remainder of the passengers and the injured were released. The engine ran into Walker and returned with a box car, Dr. Wilcox, company physician, and others. The wounded and wrecked passengers were returned to Walker and placed in the hospital.

The train contained twenty-four passengers, all of whom were slightly injured or shaken up.

WOMAN VICTIM OF HARDSHIP

Alone in a little log cabin in the back woods of St. Louis county, Mrs. Erick Erickson died recently for want of medical attention. The end came with childbirth. Not within many miles of the lonely cabin, located some twenty-five miles from Cook, was there a human being. The husband was at the time working in a lumber camp many miles away. He did not know of his wife's death until two weeks after it occurred.

Some days previous to the death, a settler came to the village of Cook and told of the woman's pitiable condition. Mrs. T. F. Hall telephoned to Dr. Crow, agent of the poor commission at Virginia. He sent Dr. Darrow to the Erickson homestead.

After arriving at Cook, Dr. Darrow started out on a twenty-five mile trip through the woods. It took him two days to reach the little cabin and when he arrived he found that both the woman and the infant had died some hours previous to his arrival.

A. P. Cook, of the poor commission, says that while this is an exceptional case of suffering and want, there are many cases of great hardships in the north woods. The settlers usually have but little money and their homesteads are so far in the woods that if one becomes ill it is a hard matter to get medical aid.

INJURIES ARE SERIOUS

John Bachlectner May Die as Result of Blow on Head.

Dan Splan, Who Wielded Billiard Cue, Is Under Arrest.

Following a quarrel over a card game in an East end saloon in Superior Saturday afternoon, John Bachleitner of 172 West Second street lies near death at St. Francis hospital with a fractured skull. He was struck down with a billiard cue in the hands of Dan Splan, now under arrest.

At the hospital this morning, it was stated that the injured man is in a precarious condition. Yesterday he was delirious for several hours and he suffers intense agony. The blow on the skull caused a severe fracture.

Splan is held at police headquarters, where he was booked on a charge of assault to do great bodily harm. Should Bachleitner succumb to the injuries, the charge will be changed to a more serious one. It is expected that it will be a day or more before the result of the man's injuries will become known.

Splan, Bachleitner and others were playing cards in a large room off the bar of the Euclid hotel, Saturday afternoon, just before the fight. Eye witnesses say the men had been drinking heavily. Epithets followed arguments over the game and both men rushed for the pool room.

Splan was the first to pick up a cue and it is alleged that he struck Bachleitner as the latter was leaning over to also get one. The blow stunned him and he fell prostrate on the floor. It is claimed that Splan stood by with a cue ready to strike him should he show signs of recovery.

By this time, friends of the men restrained Splan. One of them went to the assistance of Bachleitner, who was hurried to the hospital. Splan was arrested later and held pending the result of Bachleitner's injuries.

ASSAULTED AND ROBBED OF PURSE

An unknown man assaulted and robbed Hilda Johnson, 29 years old, at Twenty-third avenue east and Third street, Saturday night, throwing her violently to the sidewalk, striking her with his fists in the face, and stealing her purse containing $3.

She is a servant girl employed by a family living within a block of the place where the robbery occurred. She was returning to her room from a shopping trip when assaulted.

The girl says her assailant was a short, dark-complexioned man, wearing a cap and no overcoat. When the man ran, after hitting her in the face with his fists, she hastened to a nearby house to tell her story and call the police. The robber is still at large.

SOUGHT FOR GIRL'S DEATH

new pier at the foot of Arkansas avenue.

Met William Seyler.

On the way they met William Seyler, by appointment, it is said. After spending the evening together the younger couple returned home, leaving Jane Adams and William Seyler on the ocean end of the pier.

The girl failing to return home that night, her mother started to search for her, and found William Seyler at his home. He gave no explanation of her whereabouts, and the next day he disappeared. Several days later his brother, Arvis, also was reported missing.

The mother of Jane Adams, believing that her daughter had eloped, notified the police, who were looking for the couple when the body of the girl was found. On the forehead over the left eye there was a deep gash which the coroner's physician believes caused the girl's death.

Six Feet Tall.

The police have wired to the police department of every city in the country asking for the arrest of William Seyler. The description given is that of a man 28 years old, six feet tall and of slender build. When last seen Seyler wore a gray overcoat and a slouch hat.

SEA TRAGEDY MAY BE OVER

crew managed to signal the Hatumet and rescue for all seemed certain when a line was passed between the ships and the victims began to be taken on board the Hatumet. A score were saved, then two score, then fifty—and so on until 205 had been assured of safety by removal from the wreck. Then the treacherous line slipped from the Lima's stern and became hopelessly entangled in the rocks.

An attempt to continue the work of rescue by means of the only seaworthy small boat the Hatumet had on board ended in the swamping of the boat and the drowning of four men, and the Hatumet finally was obliged to signal to the Lima that she could do no more.

Saw Comrades Saved.

Only one chance of safety for the eighty-eight remained—that was that the Hatumet might reach this port and send aid before the Lima went to pieces—and the abandoned men and women were obliged to see the Hatumet leave on that errand with more than twice their own number safe aboard, while they themselves remained in deadly peril, to listen to the beating of the waves that, bit by bit, were tearing away the only obstacle that remained between them and death on the rocks on which the Lima was wrecked.

Tells of the Rescue.

The Hatumet has arrived here, and today her captain told the story of the wreck and rescue. He said:

"When we sighted the wreck we put out our small boats, which closely approached the stern of the Lima, where the passengers and crew had gathered. We made a connection between the two vessels with 500 fathoms of cable, and were successful in lowering 205 persons into our small boats, all of whom were put upon the Hatumet. However, waves were rolling which made the rescue perilous.

"Finally, the Lima's end of the cable slipped from her stern and became entangled in the rocks. Without the aid of the cable we could not reach the wreck. Only for this accident all would have been rescued.

Four Rescuers Drowned.

"In the increasing seas, our boats made futile efforts to get to the Lima. She threw out another line, which our chief mate made a daring attempt to pick up. The second connection was eventually made, but the line suddenly tightening upset one of our small boats. Our chief mate, ship's carpenter, the fourth engineer, and a Spanish steward were drowned. My yawl rescued the others of the small boat's crew.

"I signalled the captain of the Lima that we had only one small boat left, and that as this was badly strained we had better proceed to Ancud for further assistance. Unfortunately we were delayed off Ancud by a dense fog.

Will be Total Loss.

"The Lima had a strong list to starboard, and her port quarter was under water. She had seventeen feet of water in her engine room. When we last saw her, she lay in a dangerous position and was pounding hard.

"She struck during a heavy fog and in a stormy sea, and will be a total loss."

The Lima belongs to the Pacific Navigation company and plies between Liverpool and South American ports. She was last reported as sailing from Bahia Blanca, Argentina, Jan. 26, on her way to Chilean and Peruvian ports.

The ill-fated vessel registered 3,115 tons, and was built in Glasgow three years ago.

ttious transaction by which the two procured $13,700.

Brelsford went on the stand today in the state probe investigation session and related the details of the various deals.

Brelsford was shown a warrant No. 1256 upon which he was paid $5,501.75 for goods alleged to have been sold to the state bindery on Dec. 7, 1905. The entire list of goods itemized in the bill was read to him and he testified frankly at the conclusion, that not a single item represented goods actually delivered by him to the state.

An Immunity Bath.

Before testifying, the committee explained to him that the testimony he might give here could not be used against him in criminal proceedings, and he said that when the same statement was made last week, he did not understand it.

The second bill shown him was of March 27, 1906, on which he had drawn $278.12 for 100 pieces of cloth. He testified that the bill was padded 160 per cent—that only fifty pieces had been sold.

The third bill was on Feb. 28, 1906, and called for $1,005. There were 85 dozen stivers included in the total itemized statement. Of that number, 61 dozen were not delivered.

On the fourth bill, March 27, 1906, there was mention of 24 dozen of "Morocco assorted" for which $804 was drawn. He testified that only two dozen were delivered, the cost was $67. He had padded the bill just $727.

Over-Eating Worse Than Starvation

Seven Deaths Arise From This Cause To One of Lack of Food.

A Trial Package of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets Sent Free.

An English medical observer claims that for one death to starvation there are seven from over-eating.

His investigation is appalling and leads one to believe that among the Anglo-Saxon race over-eating is a national crime.

This investigation proves over-eating to be the cause in ten cases out of twelve of dyspepsia, indigestion and stomach trouble.

These diseases bring on decay and decline of the other organs and death ensues because of an inability of the system to furnish proper nourishment to the dying and afflicted parts.

When one over-eats one exhausts the gastric fluids, throws undigested food into the intestines where it creates poison and germ life and is finally absorbed in a putrid state or thrown from the system in a decaying form.

Stuart's Dyhpepsia Tablets will overcome the ill effects of gluttony and irregular eating. They will digest an abnormal amount of food and will not leave the stomach until everything has been digested.

A single one-grain ingredient of these tablets will digest 3,000 grains of food and in this proportion is seen how even gluttony can be overcome or at least its most harmful effects removed.

Make up your mind to try Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets for one week. Take a tablet after each meal and upon retiring at night. Every druggist carries them in stock; price 50c. If you have a druggist friend ask his opinion. Send us your name and address and we will send you a trial package free by mail. Address F. A. Stuart Co., 150 Stuart Bldg., Marshall, Mich.

APPORTION SCHOOL MONEY.

Seventy-One Cents Per Census Child in North Dakota.

Bismarck, N. D., Feb. 14.—The February apportionment of the state school money has been made and the office of the state superintendent gives out the amount as $106,226.37. The February apportionment for 1909 was $104,734.35, so this year shows a slight increase in the amount although the per capita has fallen off a couple of cents as last year it was 73 cents and this year it is 71.

The school year does not end until July and there will be one more apportionment made before that time and from all indications it should be as large if not larger than the past year. If the next apportionment comes up to last year it will mean a per capita apportionment for the entire year of $5.25, and it is expected that it will run considerably over that amount, and may even bring the grand total for the entire year to a figure close to $6.

When He Courted You

He didn't complain if you were a little despondent or irritable at times. Now he does. He's the same man. He didn't understand then. He doesn't now. Then he thought it was caprice and liked it. Now he thinks it is caprice and doesn't like it. But now he's busy getting money.

If he realized the full truth he would be more than anxious to have the wife he loves take the right remedy to restore her to true womanly health. Most men don't know that when a woman is weak, nervous, irritable and despondent, there is invariably something radically wrong with the delicate feminine organs with which her entire physique is in sensitive sympathy.

There is one, and just one remedy, tried and proven, that will put things right when the feminine organism is weak or diseased. It is

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription.

This medicine restores perfect health to the weakened organs, and makes them strong.

It makes wifehood happy, and motherhood easy. It makes child-birth short and almost painless. It helps to make real "new women." An honest druggist won't urge upon you a substitute.

This "Favorite Prescription" is a pure glyceric extract of native medicinal roots and contains no alcohol, injurious or habit-forming drugs. A full list of its ingredients printed on its outside wrapper and attested as full and correct under oath.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets regulate and strengthen Stomach, Liver and Bowels. Easy to take as candy.

S.S.S. DRIVES OUT RHEUMATISM

When the blood becomes overcharged with uric acid it continually grows weaker, more acrid, and poorer in nourishing qualities. The nerves, muscles and joints, instead of receiving their necessary nutriment from the circulation are gradually filled with the sharp uratic impurity with which the circulation is loaded, and the pains and aches of Rheumatism are the natural result. No amount of rubbing, or the application of external medicines can have any direct and curative effect on the blood; the most to be expected from such treatment is temporary relief from the pains and aches. There is but one way to cure Rheumatism, and that is to cleanse the blood of the uric acid impurity. S.S.S. is the proper treatment, because it goes down and attacks the disease at its head, and by filtering out every particle of the uratic matter and strengthening and enriching the blood, cures Rheumatism in every form. S.S.S. changes the sour, acid-burdened blood to a rich, healthy stream, which quiets the pain-racked nerves, muscles and joints, cools the feverish flesh, gently removes the cause and drives Rheumatism from the system. S.S.S. reaches inherited cases as well as those which have been acquired, and good results are always experienced from its use. Special book on Rheumatism containing many valuable suggestions for rheumatic sufferers and any medial advice free to all who write.

LATEST SPORTING NEWS OF THE DAY

WERE HANDED SOUR LEMONS

Sports Who Attended Jeffries-Gotch Exhibition Were "Stung."

Was Second-Rate Vaudeville Lasting Little Over an Hour.

After planking down from $1 to $2.50 apiece some 2,000 Duluthians walked boldly into the Lyceum theater Saturday night to see the "world's greatest athletes in an athletic exhibition of merit." The same 2,000 persons sneaked out and hurried away from the vicinity of the theater for they didn't wish to be "kidded" by the wise ones who stayed away.

For a "get-the-money" game the Jeffries-Gotch-Berger combination was the best ever. There was not a redeeming feature to the show which lasted only the better part of an hour, and the Duluth sports who fell for the game are not telling anybody that they were there. If Joseph Maitland did not put on a better bill every week at the Bijou for 10 cents, his clientage would fall off.

It is true the great and only Jeffries, the man who has never known defeat, was there. Yes, indeed, he was the feature and he ended up the hour's entertainment with an exhibition of shadow boxing, rope jumping, and a sparring exhibition which left him well near breathless. It was with difficulty that he advanced to the footlights and said: "Ladies and gents, I thank you. When the big fight is over the championship will be where it should be."

No Great Enthusiasm.

There wasn't a great deal of enthusiasm displayed. It was apparent before the show had progressed very far, that those who had paid real money for the privilege of attending, were stung and badly, at that. Those who were there are trying to console themselves with the thought that after all they went to see Jeffries.

When the evening was well along toward 9 o'clock, Sam Berger stepped to the footlights and informed the waiting audience that the show which was then about to begin, was the best ever. "Never before," said Berger, "had there been brought together such a collection of athletes."

Some one whose name was mumbled by Mr. Berger then stepped forward and did a bag punching stunt. The act was not half bad, although it is possible to see some fairly classy bag punching in the Duluth Y. M. C. A. Of course, this was a little better for it cost $2.50 per.

Mr. Berger then gave a short description of Farmer Burns and introduced him to the audience. Mr. Burns announced that he was 49 years old and called attention to his muscular development. After that was over he wrestled with an unknown for about ten minutes and finally succeeded in pinning the stranger's shoulders to the mat. It was announced that the wrestler was from Chicago.

Again Mr. Berger came forward and said that Frank Gotch, the champion wrestler of the world was with the show. Frank came on and toyed with another man for about eleven and one-half minutes. Frank mixed some comedy into the match which finally ended when the man was down. Referee Madden announced that Gotch was the winner. There was some faint applause from the parquet and a few shrill whistles from the gallery.

Some water jugglers were introduced who succeeded in wetting up the stage and those who sat in ringside seats. There was a young woman in the act who used her handkerchief on those who had been under the spray, and they seemed to enjoy it.

It was then that Mr. Jeffries appeared. He was not given an ovation for Mr. Berger had announced that the show would conclude with this star feature, and the audience for the most part was beginning to think things.

Mr. Berger and Mr. Jeffries, both in fighting togs began their act with a miniature minstrel show.

"Say, Jeff, who was the cleverest man you ever met?" asked Berger.

"James J. Corbett," promptly responded Jeffries.

"Who was the greatest ring general?"

"Bob Fitzsimmons."

"Who stood the most punishment?"

"Sailor Sharkey."

After these questions and responses Jeffries shadow boxed for a few seconds, and then Berger and he boxed three very short rounds. Cries for a speech were made by some in the audience, who wanted to get some satisfaction for their money, and Jeff made the remarks recorded.

The curtain was rung down, the show was over, and the backers of the tour had something like $2,000 of Duluth money.

UNIVERSITY ATHLETICS

Football Men Beaten in Annual Election of Athletic Board.

Minnesota in Three-Cornered Fight for Basket Ball Honors.

Minneapolis, Minn., Feb. 14.—(Special to The Herald.)—The outcome of the athletic board of control election which was held at the University of Minnesota Friday night was a surprise to all. Every football man running for office was defeated with the exception of McGovern, who was elected president without opposition. It looks as if the students of the university feel that football players ought not to be on the athletic board, the general feeling being that a football player, if on the board, would be unduly influenced by the football coach.

Pickering, the big varsity fullback of last year, was defeated by an overwhelming majority, his opponent being Edgar Shave, a university wrestler. For medical representative Rosenwald, Minnesota's star halfback of last fall, was defeated by Workman, a man unheard of in athletic sports of any kind, the latter winning by eleven votes. For engineering representative McGee, the Gopher tackle, went down to defeat by six votes, his victor being Lyford, a basket ball man and a hockey enthusiast. George Foster defeated Harry Powers, one of Minnesota's forwards, by a large plurality. Foster is also a basket ball man and a crew backer. Hull, captain of this year's track team, defeated Victor, the varsity baseball pitcher, for secretary. The minor sport men carried everything before them and the only representative that football will have on the board this year will be Johnny McGovern.

"This election shows to the people outside of the university that Coach Williams does not stand as strong with the students as had been supposed. Last fall when the question of football came up, the alumni system of coaching was thrown at the students. They either had to take that or else keep Williams. The university in a body was opposed to this alumni system and so they had to come out strong for Williams. Every football man who ran for office in the recent election was a Williams man, and every one of them was defeated with the single exception of McGovern. Although the men elected did not come out as anti-Williams men, nevertheless all of them are for a short contract, if any. It shows a wise move on the part of the students of the university. There is no reason why a man, just because he is a football player, should have a right to a position on the athletic board. It is certain that such men if elected would be under the influence of the football coach in one way or another. It is not to say that a change of coach is desired, but it shows that the students want a board which will be entirely unbiased in its opinions.

Minnesota put herself in the running for the basket ball championship of the West on saturday night, by defeating the Chicago quint, 15 to 19. The only game that Minnesota has lost was the Wisconsin game, and chances are that Minnesota will defeat the Badgers when they play them on Minnesota floor. The defeat which Minnesota gave Chicago was the first one they have received on the basket ball floor for two years. The Gophers played a very fast game and clearly outclassed their opponents in the second half. At the end of the first half Chicago was in the lead by a score of 7 to 5. The Minnesota boys came back strong in the second half, however, and with a dash recovered their handicap and forged ahead of the Maroons.

The basket ball fight promises to be a three-cornered one, as it has been in several seasons past. Minnesota, Chicago and Wisconsin all have good teams and the fight promises to be a merry one. Chicago is the favorite, with Minnesota a close second and these two quints will no doubt be the strongest contenders for the Western championship honors.

COMPANY C WINS FROM TRAVELERS

The Company C indoor baseball team of the Military league defeated the United Commercial Travelers' team Saturday evening at the armory by the score of 7 to 6.

Both teams played good ball and the spectators were repeatedly brought to their feet by some spectacular play.

The salesmen had a lead of three runs in the third inning, but this was overcome in the fifth, when the soldier boys scored four. The game was won in the eighth, when Hovland beat out a two-bagger. He later scored on an error by Beschenbossel.

Simpson struck out seventeen men, Foster struck out six. Seven hits were made off Simpson and nine were taken from the delivery of Foster.

The lineup and score by innings follows:

Company C—Simpson, pitcher; C. Foster, catcher; Madigan, right short; Plotnickey, left short; Paul Schultz, second base; Arthur Hovland, first base; Wheatn, left field; Clarke, third base; A. Musolf, right field.

WEST DULUTH CURLERS

THE LOUIS CLARK RINK.

'SPIEL DOWN TO THE FINALS

W. G. Hall and E. N. Whyte are the rinks to reach the finals for the city curling championship. The deciding contest will be played off some time during the week.

Both rinks played in almost perfect form during the one day city 'spiel which took place at the Duluth and Western clubs Saturday.

In all there were twenty-seven rinks entered in the bonspiel. Seventeen represented the Duluth club and there were ten from the Western club.

Whyte won his last contest from Ron Smith. This game was close and exciting and was not won until the last stone had been played. Hall played in grand form throughout the day winning from Zauft, Dinham and Macauley.

Wade's West Duluth rink played a strong game up until the tenth head in their match with Macauley. They fell down badly on the two last ends.

The city bonspiel was a great success in every way and it will likely be made an annual affair from this time on. It is probable that next year it will be made a Heal of the Lakes affair with entries from the Superior club.

The complete standing of the rinks as they finished in the 'spiel follows:

A monstrous crowd Saturday and a smaller crowd Sunday saw two big ski tournaments on the Chester Hill slide. All of the prominent riders of the Northwest, the men who will compete at Cloquet this month for the national championship, were entered and the average of jumps was greater and the tournament more spectacular in the competition brought out than any that have previously been held in Duluth.

Ole Fiering's remarkable record 144 feet made Jan. 16, was not approached by the riders Saturday and Sunday. The longest jump Saturday was made by John Evenson of Duluth, who jumped 135 feet on his first trial. Sunday, Francis Kempe of Red Wing, won the prize for the longest standing jump with 138 feet.

John Evenson, the national champion, did not fare as well as his friends expected. Saturday, he was beaten for first place by Francis Kempe, who topped him two-thirds of a point. Sunday, he finished in third place, being beaten by the two Nordby brothers.

The Saturday tournament was productive of a new record for amateurs, Martin Boe of Superior setting a mark of 129 feet in the competition for the longest standing jump. Boe also distinguished himself Sunday by winning the first prize for amateurs. Barney Riley of Coleraine, of whom much is expected at the national tournament at Coleraine, jumped 127 feet on his first trial Saturday, but fell at 116 feet on his second trial and finished in sixth place.

Both tournaments were productive of good jumping and close competition, promising a most interesting series of events at the national tournament at Coleraine Feb. 19 and 20. All of the riders, who competed here, will attend the Coleraine tournament and there will be other entries as well, so one of the greatest national tournaments ever held should develop.

Harris vs. Sailor Jack.

Maurice Harris of Superior and Sailor Jack of Duluth will meet in a wrestling match at the Duluth Athletic club, Feb. 25. The sailor agrees to throw Harris three times in an hour or forfeit a side bet of $50.

WAS HE VICTIM OF A CONSPIRACY?

"Why one Duluth man lost his games, or hard luck at a bonspiel," would be a staisfactory title for the anecdote.

The big part of the story is that the victims is one of the oldest and best curlers in Duluth. During the recent bonspiel his rink had a tough time. They rarely won a game and their skip, the subject of the tale, rarely made a shot.

It was unusual to have him fall down on the last shot especially when the last shot was, a number of times, most easy. This he did however, time after time and the other curlers began to "kid" him about being about the worst ever. He really thought that he was on the retired list and so discouraged was he after curling since he was a boy, that he determined to give up the game, and has curled but a few times since the bonspiel.

His falling down so badly was the cause of much talk. The other curlers could not understad it any more than the curler himself.

The other night the matter was under discussion and the men finally decided to have a look at the rocks used. What they found is now a matter of history. One stone was bottom side up, the shiny, polished side being used on the ice. Everything was explained.

Whether it was a practical joke, is not known. All the curlers know is that it is true. The victim has had to buy several cigars during the past few days.

Since the cause of the trouble has been discovered, the veteran has changed the rock, and Saturday morning appeared on the ice with his old confidence, and won a game.

KRAMER AND FENN WIN CYCLE RACE

Newark, N. J., Feb. 14.—Frank Kramer of the Kramer-Fenn team won the lead in the 10-hour a day six-day cycle team race that was finished here Saturday night. Percy Lawrence of the Lawrence-Wiley team gave Kramer a hard fight and finished a scant length behind. James F. Moran of the Moran-Lawson team, was third; John Bedell of the Bedell brothers was fourth, and Patrick Henir of the Pyr-Hebir team was fifth. The leaders scored 1,328 miles, 7 laps in the sixty hours of riding.

The tie between the second divisions team for sixth, seventh, eighth and ninth places, was run first. West rode for West and Galvin; Bardell for Collins and Bardell. Ruprecht for Ruprecht and Mitten and Krebs for Krebs and Anderson. Krebs took the lead at the first and led all the way, defeating Bardell by a length. West passed Ruprecht in the last half lap. Tommy Smith and Ben Hill finished two laps behind the leaders.

McCORMICK IS BEATEN.

Tuxedo Park, N. Y., Feb. 14.—There was a surprise at the Tuxedo Tennis & Racquet club yesterday when Harold F. McCormick of Chicago, winner of last year's gold racquet championship title, was beaten in the final round for the championship by George C. Clarke, Jr., of New York in three games to two by a score of 10-15, 16-6, 14-18, 15-13 and 15-6.

By winning yesterday's gold championship, Clarke wins one leg of the Mackay racquet.

THE NEVER-NEVER LAND SEEMS TO BE MECCA OF ALL THE OLD AND BROKEN DOWN ATHLETES

Latest to Join Colony Is Hackenschmidt--Other Live Tips on Doings of Sportdom.

(BY BRUCE)

Out of the Never-Never land there comes the faint echo of a challenge. It is nothing more than whisper. The echo of a challenge is also the echo of a once great athlete—George Hackenschmidt, the Russian Lion, the wrestling king of the world, the strong man of Europe.

Why do they all go back there to the Never-Never land for the finish? Peter Jackson, great as a fighter, perhaps the greatest of his time, black though he was, trekked home to the Australian country for the end. They like to see the finish out there.

Not that the once really great mat man is near the end of the long trail; not as bad as that. But if reports are true, and sometimes they are, Hack has seen the last of his form as a great wrestler. He may go on and beat the second-raters, but it is very doubtful if he can be longer numbered with the two or three men at the top.

There are times when something gives way in a man or beast. The fighting heart is gone. Frank Gotch got what heart Hack possessed. The Iowan broke the athletic nerve of the European. He took something out of the man.

The case is not unique. Old Bob Fitzsimmons got the fighting heart of George Gardner. George was a ripping, tearing, slashing, fearless fighter before the old man made something in the younger man snap.

Fitz was all in, too. He played it on his nerve. He stepped up and slapped the younger man across the back. He yelled at Gardner and then laughed at him with sarcastic pity, it seemed. A mental resolution was broken in the mind of Gardner and his will became hypnotized by the stronger will of the other man.

Terry McGovern used to get the heart of his opponents before they even entered the ring. John L. Sullivan used to do the same. Then there came along two fighters and their names were both Corbett. They were not fit subjects for the treatment, and the reign of the Sullivan and the McGovern ceased.

And so it was with the man who is hiding in Australia. Hackenschmidt beat his opponents, many of them, before they came on to the mat. Tom Jenkins, former American champion, was mortally afraid of the great Russian in their New York match.

"If you hadn't been afraid of him, you might have won," derisively nagged Frank Goteh to Jenkins, in the latter's dressing room after the match.

It was thus that Gotch figured out a way to beat the bully of Europe. "He's yellow," said Gotch, "and if I can get his Russian goat, I will win the match."

So here the mentality of one man triumphed over the mental strength, the will power of another man.

Gotch sneered at him, called him names, taunted and goaded him. It was the breaking of the athletic nerve. He fought with mind and will; he concentrated his attack upon the growing fear of the Russian Lion. Suddenly something snapped.

Hack pleaded, he cajoled and almost begged for a draw. Gotch had been waiting. He knew he would conquer. He had broken the other man's nerve.

And now Hackenschmidt, once the bully, once the hero of the Old World wrestling mat, is hiding in Australia, making a faint-hearted challenge to a man he knows in his heart he cannot defeat.

It is the old, old story. Business men sometimes feel it, and are ready to give up the fight; soldiers have felt it, as the legions of Napoleon must have felt it on the desolate and merciless march from Moscow.

In Europe they know Haekenschmidt for what he is. He is no longer popular there. He has sought out the Never-Never land, and from there makes one faint bid for remembrance.

Childish Charlie Murphy comes forth modestly and says the reason the Barney Dreyfuss party is opposed to the local delegation arrived. Baseball was the sole topic of the residents and at the mass meeting in the afternoon practically every able-bodied man who could get away from work was in the Commercial club rooms, where the meeting was held. Elliott and Borth spoke and pointed out the advertising and amusement that would come to the town in real baseball.

The meeting resulted in the appointment of a committee of twelve to raise the money and the positive assurance that the city would accept.

168-game schedule is that there are a number of veterans on the Pirate ship who could not stand so long a schedule.

For a bunch of cripples and spavined old men the members of the Pittsburg team did pretty well at the close of last season. Then, too, you might consider the work they did in the world's championship series.

HORSE RACES ON ICE TRACK

Two interesting horse races were pulled off on the ice on the bay yesterday afternoon. In a free-for-all, Miss Hartford, owned by Lawrence Duplaise, defeated Harry W., owned by Moses Goldberg and Tomango, owned by C. R. Rust. The time was 1:04 2-3 and 1:04. Miss Hartford was raised here by Runquist & Elliott, and is considered one of the best ice horses in the Northwest. Harry W. held the honors at the Head of the Lakes for two years.

In the second race for green horses, two were withdrawn, which occasioned considerable difficulty in awarding the honors. Black Frank, owned by J. S. Brooks, won first prize, Leipzig, owned by Earl Sawyer, took second. Bob Golden took home the first heat in 1:13¾, but was withdrawn at the end of the secon dheat, which was won by Anna A in 1:15¼. Leipzig took the third heat in 1:15¾. Nancy Medium finished second in every heat.

The trophy for the first race was awarded by the Union Horse Nail Company of Chicago and the second by the Kelly-How-Thompson Company of Duluth. The trophies must be won twice to entitle the winner to possession.

ENTHUSIASM IN ROCHESTER

Winona, Minn., Feb. 14.—All objections on the part of the fans and business men of Rochester to the proposition of joining the Minnesota-Wisconsin league have been waived and a committee is actually in the field bent upon raising the necessary $3,000 to secure the eighth franchise.

"It is a certainty that we will have that city in the league this coming year," said President John Elliott on his return from Rochester. "I never have seen such an enthusiastic crowd of baseball fans. They want to get in with us and there'll not be the least trouble, in our mind, to raise the money."

Mr. Elliott and Secretary Borth were pleased mightily with the result of their visit to Rochester.

On a special the two league officials, accompanied by a delegation of some seventy-five local business men and members of the local ball corporation, went to Rochester for the purpose of urging the residents of that place to get into the fold. Rumblings had been heard that there was not sufficient enthusiasm to guarantee the raising of the money. If such a condition existed, there was no evidence of it when the

SEASON MAY BE LENGTHENED

New York, Feb. 14.—Baseball magnates of the National league got together here today for the preliminary skirmish over the season's schedule.

The league, to all appearances, has been pretty nearly evenly divided as to whether the clubs shall play the usual number of 154 games or stretch out the season from early April to mid-October to cover a 168-game schedule. When the league's board of directors met today to take up preliminary business, however, the advocates of the shorter season including Garry Herrmann of Cincinnati, seemed confident that their views would prevail. A determined stand for the 168-game plan on the part of President Ebbetts of Brooklyn, backed by President Murphy of Chicago, was nevertheless expected.

Votes for the 154-game schedule, to conform as usual to the American league's season were counted upon from Presidents Dreyfus of Pittsburg, Dovey of Boston, Herrmann of Cincinnati, and probably Robinson of St. Louis. Brush of New York is quoted as expressing willingness to favor the long schedule only if conflict with the American league and the world's championship series can be definitely avoided.

The schedule fight is set for tomorrow. Today the directors—Messrs. Dreyfus, Herrmann, Brush, Murphy and Ebbetts—had before them the tangle created by the Philadelphia club changes of last fall. When Horace Fogel took over the team William Murray was deposed as manager. Murray has since been at loggerheads with the club over the settlement and claims $1,500 as due him on last season's salary. The national commission refused to take up the dispute and referred the question back to the National league directors.

This being the last time the club owners will meet prior to the opening of the playing season, baseball observers expect the consummation of numerous trades. Several deals of importance were said to be under way when the big men of the game got together today.

BRICKS AND STONES USED

Merry Fight Waged on Steps of West Duluth Boarding House.

A neighborhood row, in which bricks, stones and a gun were brought into play, resulted in the arrest last evening of John Enkovach, a boarding house keeper at 116 South Central avenue last evening. He was booked on a charge of discharging firearms within the city limits.

When arraigned in municipal court this morning Enkovach pleaded not guilty and his case was continued until tomorrow morning. He was released on $25 bail. The arrest of Enkovach, say the police, is the beginning of what is expected to be an interesting series of arrests within the next few days.

The quarrel is said to have started over a domestic who is employed at the Enkovach place. One of the boarders at a nearby rooming house is said to have been paying attentions to the girl and yesterday proposed that she leave her present place of employment.

This is said to have brought a storm of protest from Enkovach, who insisted that he was paying the girl good wages and that there was no reason why she should leave the place. Friends of the boarder, who were willing to take his side of the argument are said to have called with him at the Enkovach place last evening.

In the fight that followed on the doorstep of the boarding house, bricks were thrown through the windows, the door was smashed in, one of the men is said to have been hit on the shoulder with a brick, and Evkovach injured on the arm with a missle of some kind.

The boarding house proprietor, at this stage, pulled out a gun and fired several shots in the air. No one was injured, but the police arrived on the scene just in time to see him do the shooting stunt and immediately placed him under arrest.

Today Enkovach said that the shooting was done to call the attention of the officers. As soon as he was released today, he intimated to the police that warrants for the arrest of three or four other men would be sworn out at once.

The men accused of assaulting Enkovach at his own house, say that if any farther warrants are sworn out, they have information that may lead to his arrest and conviction on a charge of conducting a blind pig and selling liquor on Sunday.

It is understood that the men were under the influence of liquor when the fight occurred.

PAYS TRIBUTE TO LINCOLN

Rev. D. G. Cole, pastor of Plymouth Congregational church, Fifty-fourth avenue west and Bristol street, in last evening's sermon on "Abraham Lincoln—A Great Man," spoke from 2 Samuel, 3; part of 38th verse: "The King said unto his servants, 'Knew ye not that there is a prince and a great man fallen this day.'"

The speaker remarked that the words of the psalmist, announcing the passing of Abner, might with all propriety be applied to the eminent charcter whose greatness we delight to recall at the time of his anniversary. Abraham Lincoln is admired by all who hold to the fatherhood of God and the universal brotherhood of man. Although it is said that Lincoln never belonged to any church, it is true that he firmly believed in God's fatherhood and lived by it and so strongly did he believe in the brotherhood of man that his everyday life illustrated it.

NO SUNDAY DANCES GO

Police Order Dance Hall Closed After Midnight Saturday.

West Duluth police have clapped the lid on tight, as far as public dances on Sunday are concerned.

At a dance Saturday evening, held at Victor hall on Grand avenue, the patrons of the affair expected to dance all night, the dance being so advertised.

But the police put a crimp in the plans of the promoters shortly after 12 o'clock when they called at the hall and asked that the dance be discontinued. An hour later, they ordered it stopped, and this time it was called off.

There was considerable liquid refreshment in evidence at all times, during the dance.

INQUEST IS IN PROGRESS

Coroner Says Charles Clark Was Not Killed By Fall.

"Charles Clark was not killed by a fall. Somebody killed him."

That is the conclusion of Dr. J. A. McCuen, county coroner, when asked about the case which has been puzzling the authorities because of the elements of mystery and uncertainty which surrounds it. Dr. McCuen would not state that George Booker, under arrest on suspicion of having murdered his stepfather, is the guilty man.

The coroner's jury which meets at the undertaking parlors of Olson & Crawford, where the body of the dead man was taken before daylight Thursday morning, will probably bring in a verdict that Clark was killed. Whether or not the jury will go so far as to state that he met his death at the hands of Booker is uncertain.

The police declare that they have no doubt but that Booker kicked Charles Clark to death on the lonely road at French River, out of sight of all witnesses Wednesday night, and then loaded the body into the sleigh which reached the morgue before any one was awake or stirring. The evidence gathered since, points to Bookers' guilt.

Other facts picked up today somewhat strengthen the chain of circumstantial evidence which is slowly weaving itself about the accused.

Booker made the first arrangements for the funeral, according to the employes at the undertaking establishment. He wanted it as soon as possible. But the law stepped in and prevented it from taking place. The autopsy, which showed the terrible injuries of the old man, had to be held This was Thursday evening. The next morning Booker was arrested. He is now in the police station. He is awaiting the action of the coroner's jury this afternoon. He may or may not be brought before it to be questioned, as the authorities have plenty of evidence without asking him for details. All that the jury would get from him, in all likelihood, would be the story of Clark's falling acoss the fire onto the bed springs, as he has told it before.

The evidence will show that Clark was killed by some other man. Of that there isn't the slightest doubt. Booker says that he was the only man with Clark from the time they started until he brought the body to the undertaking rooms in the small hours. There is little question but that the jury will hold that the evidence will warrant the holding of Clark to the courts. In that case a warrant will be sworn out by the authorities charging him with Clark's death. He will then be arraigned in police court where he will be given the option of a preliminary examination to determine whether or not the evidence is sufficinet to hold him to the grand jury, or of waving the examination and being bound over to the next grand jury, which meets in March.

The inquest was scheduled to start at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon. The county attorney or his assistant, the coroner, and all the police officials who have had anything to do with the case thus far, will be present. Their testimony and the testimony of the physicians will be taken, and the witnesses will be cross-examined by the attorney to bring out all the facts discovered as far as possible.

TEST CASE APPEALED

An appeal has been filed by the plaintiff from an order of Judge Morris of the United States court sustaining the demurrer of the defendants to the complaint filed by Oscar Mitchell against the Clark Iron Mining company and its officers as a test of the corporation tax provision of the new tariff law.

The demurrer was argued before Judge Morris Saturday and he entered an order sustaining it. The plaintiff immediately filed notice of appeal and the case will go before the circuit court of appeals.

Mr. Mitchell seeks to restrain the company and its officers from returning a statement of its affairs to the collector of internal revenue as required by the act of congress. He claims the law is unconstitutional and he and other stockholders of the company would be damaged if it were allowed to operate.

The case is similar in its nature to a Vermont case now pending before the United States supreme court and it is following the same course, as a demurrer to the complaint in the Vermont case was also sustained by the lower court.

MAY SAVE MONEY ON BIG SEWER

The board of public works has held up the confirmation of the big Woodland trunk sewer. The estimated cost is $158,500. It is over two miles long and is the biggest sewer job ever promised in the city.

The board believes that it can be shortened two or three blocks, effecting a considerable saving to the property owners. They think that the outlet can be put at the foot of Thirty-fifth avenue east instead of Thirty-eighth avenue east. The construction in this neighborhood is mostly through rock and if several blocks can be chopped off the length, it would cost considerably less. The question of securing an easement over the new route is also to be determined. Before further action is taken, the matter will probably be submitted again to the city engineer, who drew the plans and prepared the estimates.

Mr. Henderson has secured permission from the managers of the Spalding, Lenox, McKay, St. Louis, Miller, Metropole and Esmond hotels to place Bibles in each guest room. He is now interesting people in the plan of furnishing the Bibles as memorials for departed members of their families.

SERMONS AT NOON HOUR

Christianity for business men.

That in brief is the object of a series of meeting which will begin at the Lyceum theater next Monday, and continue one week.

If the meetings are a success, Duluth will see what might be termed a business men's revival.

The meeting will be free, and no collection will be taken up. The First Methodist church is standing the expense, but the meetings will be strictly non sectarian, and will be open to any man, woman or child in the city.

The meetings will begin promptly at 12:15 every day, and will close at 12:50. Rev. M. S. Rice will deliver a twenty-minute address each day, and there will be a musical program by a choir and selections by popular local soloists.

The necessity for interesting busy men in church work was the reason for planning the meetings, and it was believed that this would be the best way of reaching them.

The list of topics follows:

Monday, Feb. 21—"The Bondage of Freedom."

Tuesday, Feb. 22, (Washington's brithday)—"The Patriotism of Religion."

Wednesday, Feb. 23—"The Man God Needs."

Thursday, Feb. 24—"The God Man Needs."

Friday, Feb. 25—"Giving the Devil the Advantage."

Saturday, Feb. 26—"God and the Devil in a Bargain Over a Good Man."

COPPERS HAVE SLIGHT ADVANCE

The copper market today was specialized. Short covering in Amalgamated and two or three of the leaders caused these issues to advance from one point to one and a fraction, but the general list acted erractically and uncertain. On a whole the tone was much better than at any time last week. In view of the adverse reception of President Taft's speech by Wall street the advance of the leaders today was rather surprising. The favorable action of the market, however, cannot be considered permanent. The market is in a scalping position and it is not expected that there will be a pronounced recovery until congress has quit and a decision has been handed down in the American Tobacco case.

Dun and Bradstreet do not report unusual commercial activity for this time of year. In fact, business is quiet, as it usually is at this season. Idle cars have increased 1,969 in the two weeks ending Feb. 2, the total being 45,355. Most of these are in the East. The Central Foundry company, a $13,000,000 corporation has gone into the hands of a receiver. Failures are lower this week than last, but are higher than a year ago.

The local market was quiet. The character of trading was only fair. Copper Queen sold at 62c and 63c; Denn at $2.87½; Shattuck at $19.37½; Zenith at $1.13; Butte & Superior at $2.68¾ up to $2.75; Calumet & Montana, at $1.25; Calumet & Corbin at 72c up to 80c and back to 78c. Calumet & Sonora sold at $22, down ½ point; National at 53c; San Antonio at $7.75; Tuolumne at $3.68 to $3.75; Amazon-Montana at $2.87½ to $3.

Amalgamated sold at $74.75 to $76.12½ down to $75.62½, then at $76.37½ down to ¾ point. Giroux sold at $10 and down ⅛ point, up ¼ point and back to $9.87½. Butte-Ballaklava at $9.50 up ½ point, Calumet & Arizona at 72 down 1 point and back at the opening, Greene at $9.50 down ¼ point, North Butte at $35 down ½ point and up to $31.75.

Detective Meade of the Superior police force and Miss Amanda Seigne, a local milliner, are the defendants in a civil action which was started today in the superior court by Amelia Nelson, who claims that the defendants caused the police to hold her on a false arrest. She asks the court for damages.

A short time ago the Nelson girl was arrested and charged with petit larceny at the instigation of her employer, Amanda Seigne, who accused the girl of taking a hat from her millinery establishment. The girl was given a trial and was acquitted.

A civil suit against her accuser and the officer who arrested her was started at once. It is expected that the case will be disposed of this afternoon.

REPORT TUESDAY ABOUT TRAFFIC

St. Paul, Minn., Feb. 14.—(Special to The Herald.)—The railroad and warehouse commission will report tomorrow to Governor Eberhart on the condition of railroad traffic, declared by the striking switchmen to be congested. It was expected that the report would be sent through today, but it could not be finished in time.

It is said that the investigation has been very thorough and careful and covers the entire field. No one would hint at the nature of its findings and it is probable that it will go to the governor with no recommendations from the commission. It will furnish sufficient data for the governor to formulate any statement he may wish to make.

Action on the appeal of the aldermen of the Twin Cities, who attacked the railroad commission in a letter to the governor last week, will be delayed until the commission's report has been studied by the chief executive.

Such increased or additional cost to be ascertained by the City Engineer and the Chief Engineer of said Railroad Company; and if said engineers cannot agree as to the amount of said increased or additional cost, then either party may apply to the judge of the United States District Court for the District of Minnesota, Fifth Division, or the district thereof wherein the City of Duluth, Minnesota, may at the time be situate, for the appointment of an appraiser to act in conjunction with said engineers, and a decision of a majority of said engineers and appraiser upon the amount thereof shall be final.

Section 7. Said Railroad Company expressly agrees, and the rights, privileges and franchises hereof are granted upon the express condition that said Railroad Company, its successors, and assigns, shall hold the City of Duluth harmless from any and all damages occasioned, either directly or indirectly, by reason of the construction, maintenance and operation of said railway and tracks on, over, under or along said crossings on said streets and avenues, and by reason of the construction and maintenance of any and all approaches to said crossings, whether said crossings be at grade, by overhead viaduct, or by sub-way; and said Railroad Company shall assume the defense of any and all suits brought for the recovery of such damages, and shall wholly relieve said City of Duluth from defending the same, and shall assume and pay all judgments recovered against the City therein.

Said Railroad Company expressly agrees, and the rights, privileges and franchises hereof are granted on the express condition that said Railroad Company, its successors and assigns, shall at all times use the said streets, avenues, alleys and public ways so traversed by its said railway and facilities, in such manner as not to unnecessarily interfere with the use of the same for public travel thereon.

Said Railroad Company, its successors and assigns, shall construct and maintain suitable crossings either at grade, or by overhead viaduct or sub-way across, over and under its tracks, which may be laid upon or across any of said streets, avenues or alleys, or public ways which are now or may hereafter be dedicated, opened or used for public travel when declared necessary, and directed so to do by a seven-eighths (⅞) vote of all the membership of the Common Council of the City of Duluth, the same to be constructed and maintained, with the approaches thereto, at the sole cost and expense of said Company; but no such direction by the Council shall be binding upon the Railroad Company unless said Company is given ten days' notice of the proposed action and afforded an opportunity to be heard thereon within said time.

Where said crossing is at grade, the construction and maintenance of suitable crossings by said Company over its tracks at such streets, avenues, alleys and public ways, shall, within the meaning of this section, include the construction and maintenance, at its own expense, of such crossings to the width of its right-of-way and throughout the width of any such streets, avenues and public ways from lot-line to lot-line, so as to correspond in every respect with the improvements of any such streets, avenues or public ways immediately adjacent to such right-of-way; except that the portion of said right-of-way between the tracks of said Railroad Company and two (2) feet adjacent to and outside of said tracks shall be improved and maintained in such a way as shall be approved by the Common Council or the City Engineer of the City of Duluth—approval by said Engineer not to be final unless confirmed by the Council.

Where such crossing is by sub-way, the construction and maintenance of suitable crossings by said Company under its tracks at such streets, avenues, alleys and public ways shall mean the construction and maintenance, at its own expense, of such sub-way and the approaches thereto, throughout the width of any such streets, avenues or public ways, from lot-line to lot-line, so as to correspond in every respect with the improvements of any such streets, avenues or public ways immediately adjacent to said sub-way crossing; and shall include the paving of said sub-way and the construction and maintenance of sidewalks therein, all as directed and approved by the Common Council or the City Engineer of the City of Duluth—direction or approval by the Engineer not to be final unless confirmed by the Council.

Where said crossing is by overhead viaduct, the construction and maintenance of suitable crossings by said Company over its tracks at such streets, avenues, alleys and public ways shall, within the meaning of this section, include the construction and maintenance, at its own expense, of said viaduct, together with the approaches thereto, according to plans and specifications therefor, required and approved by the Common Council or City Engineer of the City of Duluth, but the requirement and approval of the City Engineer shall not be final unless confirmed by the Council.

Where said crossings are at grade, said Railroad Company, its successors and assigns, shall construct and maintain in proper condition, subject to the approval of the Common Council of the City of Duluth, on said streets and avenues, all gates which the said Common Council shall, by resolution passed by affirmative vote of seven-eights (⅞) of the total membership of said Council, declare to be necessary, so located and constructed as to properly protect and warn persons and teams using said streets and avenues from danger from trains passing on said tracks, without unnecessarily hindering or obstructing travel at said streets or avenues or keeping said gates closed for a longer period than five (5) minutes at any one time; and shall also provide and maintain all gate keepers and all watchmen which the said Council may, by resolution passed by like affirmative vote of seven-eighths (⅞) of the total membership of said Council, declare to be necessary at said crossings for all trains or cars that shall cross said streets and avenues. Provided, however, that no such resolution hereinabove provided for shall be passed by said Council or become operative until the said Railroad Company shall have received from said Council a ten (10) days' notice, in writing, of the introduction of said resolution and had an opportunity to appear before said Council and to be heard upon the same.

The present bridge on Oneota street, under which the proposed right-of-way of said Railroad Company is laid out shall throughout its entire length be considered an over-head viaduct under the terms of this section and this ordinance; and said bridge together with any approaches that may be deemed necessary on account of change of grade, or for any other reasons shall be renewed, constructed and maintained as an over-head viaduct under the terms hereof.

Section 10. Said Railroad Company expressly agrees, and the rights, privileges and franchises hereof are granted on the express condition that said Railroad Company, its successors and assigns, shall construct and maintain its trestles where said trestles cross any street, avenue, alley or public ground of the City of Duluth, according to plans and specifications approved by the City Engineer and the Common Council of the City of Duluth; and that all such crossings and trestles shall be constructed so as not to unnecessarily interfere with the use of said streets, avenues and alleys for public travel and convenience; and shall be constructed over streets and avenues of stone or concrete and steel and shall not be constructed of wood, except that wood may be used in the original construction of such trestles over streets, avenues or alleys which are now ungraded and which lie westerly of Stowell's Addition to Duluth or southeast of Grand avenue; provided, that all of said trestles of whatever material shall be so constructed as to furnish a vertical clearance of not less than thirteen (13) feet below the lowest member thereof, and shall allow ample room for teams and vehicles of all kinds and for street cars to pass underneath same on the established grade, or the modification thereof herein authorized; provided, further, that for the entire distance between Forty-ninth avenue west and Grand avenue the tracks of said railroad company shall be built and maintained upon an open trestle or trestles, and not upon a filled embankment or other solid structure, and for the entire distance between Grand avenue and Oneota street said tracks to be used for the transportation of ore shall be built and maintained upon an open trestle or trestles and not upon a filled embankment or other solid structure.

Section 11. Said Railroad Company expressly agrees, and the rights, privileges and franchises hereof are granted upon the express condition, that if said Railroad Company, its successors or assigns, shall at any time fail, neglect or refuse to perform to the provisions of this ordinance respecting the condition in which said street crossings, bridges, viaducts or other structures herein provided are kept, and such failure, neglect or refusal shall continue for the space of twenty (20) days after notice from the Common Council requiring said Company to conform to the provisions hereof in such manner, the City shall have, and does hereby reserve, the right and power in any such case to do and perform all things necessary to put such street crossings, viaducts or other structures into the condition provided for herein; and if said work shall be done by said City, it may add to the expense of doing the same a sum equal to ten per cent (10 per cent) or the cost of such work to the city, which additional sum shall be allowed and paid by said Company as liquidated damages, and said sum, together with the cost of said work to the City, may be collected by said City of said Company.

Section 12. Said Railroad Company expressly agrees, and the rights, privileges and franchises hereof are granted upon the express condition, that in case the grade of any such streets, avenues, alleys or public ways is changed by said City of Duluth, said Railroad Company shall conform its tracks and crossings to such grade in all respects the same as is herein required as to present grades; provided, that no such change of grade shall be so made as to make the maximum grade of any such tracks exceed 1.5 feet per 100 feet of the length of such track on a straight line, and on curves this grade shall be compensated .03 of a foot for each degree of curvature per 100 feet, and except between Sixtieth and Sixty-fifth avenues west, where the maximum grade shall not be made to exceed .09 of a foot in any 100 feet, and except through the West Duluth yards, where the maximum grade shall not exceed .20 in any 100 feet.

Section 13. Said Railroad Company expressly agrees, and the rights, privileges and franchises hereof are granted upon the express condition, that the said Railroad Company, its successors and assigns, shall pay its or their proportionate share of the cost to the City of Duluth of any and all street improvements on the streets, avenues, alleys and other public ways abutting any property now or hereafter owned by said Company, its successors or assigns, and any property over which it or they have acquired a right-of-way in the city of Duluth, whether used for railroad purposes or any other purpose, and any and all assessments now or hereafter levied and assessed on any such property of said Railroad Company, its successors or assigns, for street improvements and for any and all public improvements for which under the provisions of the city charter of the City of Duluth, as the same now exists or may be hereafter amended, a special assessment for benefits may be levied. In determining the benefits for the purpose of assessment, said property shall be treated as if owned by a private individual and used for purposes other than railway purposes. Said Company's proportionate share of such cost and the amount of such assessment shall be determined by the Board of Public Works of the City of Duluth or such other body or commission as the city charter may provide for the levying of such assessments. All provisions of the city charter of the City of Duluth with respect to public improvements and assessments therefor shall apply to said Railroad company in all respects the same as if said property of said Railroad Company was owned by an individual whose property was not used for railroad purposes or otherwise exempt from the payment of assessments for street improvements.

Section 14. Said Railroad Company expressly agrees, and the rights, privileges and franchises hereof are granted upon the express condition, that as a part consideration for the franchise, easement and privileges herein granted, the said Railroad Company shall, on or before the 1st day of January, 1911, and on or before the first day of January in each and every year hereafter during the time it shall use or permit to be used said franchise, easement and privileges, pay to the City Treasurer of the City of Duluth the sum of One Thousand Dollars ($1,000).

For the purpose of rendering more available to said City and the public the facilities of said Railroad Company, if it shall install and maintain in all its offices, freight and passenger depots and yards in said city, telephone connection and service by, over and with the telephone lines owned or operated by the City of Duluth and with the telephone lines of each corporation or association furnishing telephone connection and service in said city, which has at least thirty per cent (30 per cent) of the telephone subscribers in the City of Duluth and which now pays annually or which may hereafter pay annually to the City of Duluth a tax on its gross earnings, and whose charges for telephone service are or shall be fixed and determined by ordinance of said City, and which shall also by the terms of the ordinance by which said telephone company or association is authorized to operate a telephone service in said city be required to furnish one or more cross-arms upon its telephone poles and space for one cable in its subways for the use of the City of Duluth free of charge, the City of Duluth shall waive the payment of the said sum of One Thousand Dollars in each and every year throughout which said Railroad Company shall have installed and maintained such telephone connection and service.

Section 15. Said Railroad Company expressly agrees, and the rights, privileges and franchises hereof are granted upon the express condition, that the Duluth, Winnipeg & Pacific Railroad Company may sell or assign its rights under this franchise, but before such assignment shall have any force or effect, the assignee or purchaser shall accept in writing all the terms of this ordinance and file with the City Clerk of the City of Duluth, in form approved by the City Attorney, an agreement, first, that it will pay its proportionate share of the cost to the City of Duluth of any and all street improvements on the streets, avenues, alleys and other public ways abutting the property then owned by said Company, its successors or assigns, and any property over which it has acquired a right-of-way in the city of Duluth, whether used for railroad purposes or any other purpose, and any and all assessments levied and assessed on any such property of said Railroad Company for street improvements and for any and all public improvements for which under the provisions of the city charter of the City of Duluth, as then existing or as thereafter modified, a special assessment for benefits may be levied; it being understood and agreed that in determining the benefits for the purposes of assessments said property shall be treated as if owned by a private individual and used for purposes other than railroad purposes. Second, that it will pay to the City Treasurer of the City of Duluth on or before the first day of January in each and every year during which it shall use said franchise, easement and privilege, the sum of One Thousand Dollars; provided that if said Company shall install and maintain in all its offices, freight and passenger depots and yards in said city, telephone connections and service by, through and with the telephone lines owned or operated by the City of Duluth, and the telephone lines of each corporation or association furnishing telephone connections and service in said city having at least thirty per cent (30) of the telephone subscribers in said city, and which now pays annually or which may hereafter pay annually to the City of Duluth a tax on its gross earnings, whose charges for telephone service are then or shall later be fixed and determined by ordinance of said City, and which shall also by the terms of the ordinance by which said telephone company or association is authorized to operate a telephone service in said city, be required to furnish one or more cross-arms upon its telephone poles and space for one cable in its sub-ways for the use of the City of Duluth free of charge, the City of Duluth shall waive the payment of said sum in each and every year during which said company shall have installed and maintained such telephone connections and service.

Section 16. Said Railroad Company shall establish and maintain at least one passenger and freight depot within the limits of said City of Duluth, west of Forty-eighth avenue west in said city and shall establish and maintain, or cause to be established and maintained within the limits of the City of Duluth, one or more roundhouses, one or more machine and repair shops, and adequate terminals and yards.

Section 17. Said Railroad Company expressly agrees, and the rights, privileges and franchises hereof are granted upon the express condition, that no assignment by operation of law of the rights of the Duluth, Winnipeg & Pacific Railroad Company shall be deemed to carry with it the rights, franchise, easements and privileges herein granted unless the person, partnership or corporation acquiring title by operation of law shall within sixty (60) days after the time that it acquires such title and after notice in writing so to do has been given it by the City, filed with the City Clerk of the City of Duluth an agreement in writing embracing the provisions set forth in Section 15 hereof, to be in legal and binding form, approved by the City Attorney of the City of Duluth, whereby it agrees to become bound by all of the provisions, conditions and obligations specified in this ordinance, and shall establish and maintain within the limits of the City of Duluth one or more round-houses, one or more machine shops, one or more repair shops, and its Lake Superior terminals and yards.

Section 18. Said Railroad Company expressly agrees, and the rights, privileges and franchises hereof are granted upon the express condition that said Duluth, Winnipeg & Pacific Railroad Company shall begin the work of building said railroad within the limits of the city of Duluth within one (1) year after the acceptance of this ordinance, and shall diligently prosecute the same, and shall have the same completed and in operation, on or before three (3) years after the acceptance of this ordinance.

Section 19. Before this ordinance shall be in force or take effect, the said Duluth, Winnipeg & Pacific Railroad Company shall accept the same by filing with the City Clerk of the City of Duluth its written acceptance thereof within sixty (60) days from the passage of this ordinance, consenting to the terms and conditions hereof and agreeing to perform all acts and things required and agreed to be done by said Railroad Company. A failure on the part of said Company to file its acceptance as before provided within sixty (60) days, the time limited, shall render this ordinance null and void. The Duluth, Winnipeg & Pacific Railroad Company by the acceptance of this ordinance specifically agrees that the failure on its part to comply with any and all of the terms and conditions of this ordinance shall constitute grounds for forfeiture, and that the failure of the City of Duluth to forfeit the franchise, easements, rights and privileges herein granted for breach of any of the conditions and agreements hereof shall not in any way operate as a waiver of its right so to do, and that lapse of time shall not create an estoppel of its rights so to do.

Section 20. Said Railroad Company expressly agrees, and the rights, privileges and franchises hereof are granted upon the express condition, that said Railroad Company shall not grant to any other Railroad Company running rights over any part or portion of the route covered by this franchise, or permit any other railroad company to run locomotives or trains upon same, unless such company shall first accept in writing all the terms of this ordinance relative to the payment of assessments upon the property of such company. Such acceptance to be in form approved by the City Attorney, and to be filed with the City Clerk before said tracks are so used. It shall not be deemed a violation of this provision to permit other railroads to use the tracks and route covered by the foregoing franchise temporarily or for brief periods of time in cases of emergency.

ALL MARKETS ARE STRONG

Wheat Scores an Advance on All American Exchanges.

Flax Also Strong With Light Trading in Local Pit.

Duluth Board of Trade, Feb. 14.—All American markets were strong today. The May and July options in wheat scored from ¾c to 1⅜c advance in all markets. May here advanced 1⅜c over Friday's close and July closed with a similar gain. May opened at $1.12 bid, gained ¾c, declined ⅛c and advanced sharply to $1.13⅜ and closed at that price bid. July opened at $1.12¼ bid, advanced ½c and then to $1.13⅛, lost ⅛c and gained ⅜c, closing at $1.13⅜ bid.

Flax was strong with light trading. May opened $2.17 bid and gained 2c, lost ½c and then touched $2.18, gaining ½c but returning to $2.18 and closing $2.18¼. 1⅛c up from Friday's close. September was $1.68 bid and July opened at $2.17½, went to $2.18¼ and closed $2.18. The near option in other markets closed as follows: Chicago, 1⅝@1¾c up, Minneapolis, 1¼@1⅜c up, New York, 1⅜c up, Winnipeg ¾c up, Kansas City, 1¼c up, St. Louis 1¼c up.

The strength of today's market was due to speculative activity based on bullish crop reports from the Southwest, chiefly Kansas and Missouri. Although it is several weeks too early to tell with any certainty whether or not the growing crop has been damaged by the alternate thawing and freezing which has prevailed in that territory, the bullish enthusiasts have not let the opportunity to make capital of the reports slip from their grasp.

The cash market today was steady. Cash here equaled May, and at Minneapolis No. 1 northern sold at 1@2c over the near option. The demand was fair and the millers accumulate considerable wheat. The Pillsbury mills at Milwaukee have been closed. Their production has been 10,000 bbl a day. The flour situation in Minneapolis and the Northwest should be helped, in consequence.

Bearish reports on the visible wheat and wheat on passage were overshadowed by the domestic situation. However, this accentuates the bearishness of the foreign situation. The visible wheat here increased 295,000 bu, compared with 1,890,000 bu last year. Oats increased 460,000 bu and corn 1,029,000 bu. The Canadian increase was 55,000 bu. Wheat on passage increased 2,976,000 bu. This should act, somewhat, as a foil to domestic situation here. There appears to be little wheat on this side for export and there was no clearance today, said Ames-Brooks, on account of the high prices. The leading factor seems to be what price will bring out the supply in the country if the reserves are as large as the government's figures seem to indicate.

There is a poor demand for cargoes abroad and the Argentine markets are heavy. Spot abroad is quiet. The Liverpool market closed ⅛@⅜c lower. The disappointing American shipments offset to a small extent the general bearish conditions in the foreign market. This country and Canada last week exported 2,400,000 bu, only a little larger than a year ago.

A factor which, in its direct effect, concerns principally this market is the condition of stocks of wheat at Buffalo. These supplies decreased 507,000 bu. last week leaving total supplies there at about 4,500,000 bu. At the present rate of decrease Buffalo will be cleaned up before navigation opens. This is a strong bull factor. At the present rate of increase of 1,000,000 bu a week the Northwestern markets will have on hand about the same supplies this year as at the opening of navigation last year. As a temporary bullish factor, however, the Eastern situation cannot be overlooked.

There was little doing in the flax market today. Trading is somewhat broader as regards futures but the action of the market is light as is to be expected at this time of the year.

Broomhall wired from Liverpool: "Total world's shipments of breadstuffs last week, 10,752,000 bu; previous week, 13,152,000 bu; last year, 12,000,000 bu. Corn last week, 1,715,000 bu; previous week, 2,941,000 bu; last year, 2,429,000 bu. Liverpool—The wheat market at the opening showed a decline of ⅛@⅜c from Friday. There was a poor demand for cargoes and parcels, and Argentine future markets were heavy and the demand for spot here was quiet, but these influences were partially offset by disappointing American shipments. During the morning the market was extremely dull and slightly lower with some pressure from recent buyers, due to the increase in the amount on passage, making a total increase of 9,368,000 bu for two weeks. At midday the market was dull and ⅛@⅛c lower than Friday. Corn—The market at the opning was ⅛c lower, being influenced by the lower American cables on Friday. Later the market was neglected and unchanged. Argentine—The outlook for corn in the West is bad as a result of locust damage, which is heavy. In the North the outlook is satisfactory.

Snow wired from Newton, Kan.—"Through central counties of Kansas plant is small, tops dead and brown and from the road fields look poor, roots and crop are alive, but plant has less vigor than in western counties on heavy or clay land there is some heaving. Actual damage to date is light, but plant is not as large or hardy as usual and needs settling weather. From Hutchinson it is too early to tell about Kansas wheat, no growth yet and tops are dead. Root and crown appear to be in good shape. Fall growth was small but stand good. Lots of corn still in fields and being gathered now in excellent condition. More in sight in cribs and open piles than for years. State has heavy farm reserves."

THE CHICAGO MARKET.

Light Offerings and Strong Demand Force Wheat Up.

Chicago, Feb. 14.—Light offerings and a strong demand in the wheat pit forced prices up in the early trading today, May advancing from $1.11⅜@⅞. In the first hour much of the trading was in the neighborhood of $1.11⅝ for that option. A steady market in Liverpool and comparatively small shipments helped the bullish sentiment. At the opening May sold at $1.11@1.11⅛, a shade lower to a shade higher than the closing prices Friday.

The market gained additional strength during the final half of the session, crop damage reports making shorts uneasy. May advanced to $1.12⅝. The market closed strong at practically the highest point with May 1⅜@1½c higher at $1.12⅛.

Buying by pit traders and elevator concerns gave a firm tone to corn and advanced figures in the first hour ⅜@½c. Opening prices were unchanged to ⅛c higher. May advanced rapidly from ½@⅞@67⅛c. At the start May sold at 66⅞@67c.

The market held within narrow limits all day, strength of wheat being a steadying factor. May moved between 66⅜c and 67⅛c. The close was steady with May a shade higher at 66⅞@67c.

A fair demand sent oats up ⅛c over the opening quotations which were unchanged to ½c higher than final prices Friday. May traveled up from 46⅞@47⅛c in the first hour, and rested on the higher level. At the outset May sold at 46⅞@47c, unchanged to ⅛c higher than Friday's close.

Provisions opened 10@75c higher with practically no offerings to meet strong demands. In the first hour still higher records were reached, pork leading, making a score of $23.62 for May. Profit-taking sales by longs took the edge off the market, but still left it strong. May pork rested at $23.37½, 57½c higher than Friday's close. Shortage of production to which attention has been pointed of late, was the chief cause of the advance. Opening prices for May delivery were: Pork, $23.10@23.55; lard, $12.55@12.65; ribs, $12.25@12.35.

Stocks Open With a Severe Break Owing to Heavy Selling.

Prices Recover Under Support and Finish at Best Figures.

New York, Feb. 14.—Heavy selling of stocks was in evidence again with the resumption of business today, with a severe break in prices all through the list. Losses of a fraction to a point were common and Amalgamated Copper fell 2⅜, Union Pacific 2⅛, Rock Island and American Smelting 2, Reading 1¾, Southern Pacific 1⅝, Chesapeake & Ohio 1⅜, Wabash preferred and Kansas & Texas 1½ and Northern Pacific, Anaconda and Consolidated Gas, 1¼.

Prices reached a lower level before there was any indication of concerted support. Amalgamated Copper fell an extreme 3⅛, United States Rubber 2¾, American Locomotive 2, Northern Pacific 1⅝ and United States Steel 1½. When the market began to rally, recoveries running to a point were made in a number of instances, and Amalgamated Copper rebounded 2 points. The market became quiet at the nigher prices, and showed a little feverishness in spots.

The recovery in prices made further progress but with business in limited volume. The Canadian Pacific group was strong, that stock rising 2½. Minneapolis, St. Paul & Sault Ste. Marie, 1¾ and Duluth, South Shore & Atlantic preferred 1¼.

Philadelphia Company gained 1⅜ and Mackey companies 2. Atlantic Coast Line declined 2½. Southern Railway preferred 2 and Westinghouse Electric 1. Bonds were heavy.

The market closed firm and active. There were recessions on profit-taking after the delivery hour, but prices rose again to the best. Reading got up 3, American Beet Sugar 2¼, Iowa Central and United Railways and Investment 2, the preferred 3½, Union Pacific and Chesapeake & Ohio 1¾, Louisville & Nashville, Wabash preferred and United States Steel 1¼, and St. Paul, American Car, International Pump, Railway Steel, North American and Western Union 1.

BIG AUDIENCE AT FREE CONCERT

Royal G. Wilson, Soloist, Heard in Several Pleasing Numbers.

The program given at yesterday's free concert at the Masonic Temple attracted a very large audience and it was not disappointed. The soloist, Royal G. Wilson, sang his selections with feeling and an artistic appreciation of the composer's meaning. His rich, baritone voice, with bass quality and a comprehensive range, was heard to advantage in Wagner's beautiful song, from Tannhauser, "To the Evening Star," and in his first encore, an old English song by the "father" of the English ballad, Dr. Arne, entitled "The Lass With the Delicate Air." His double number was by Eulenberg, "The Monthly Rose," and "The Briar Rose," both pretty with the preference given to the first. For an encore Mr. Wilson sang with great effect and telling emphasis, a rousing sailor song, after the style of "Nancy Lee," called "Three for Jack," by W. H. Squire, his powerful voice and full tones suiting well the requirements of the piece.

The organ selections began with a "Grand March Processional," by Gounod, followed by two of Mendelssohn's "Songs Without Words," the spinning and the spring songs. Number three on the program comprised a triple number, all by Chopin, a polonaise, a nocturne and the brilliant "Rondo Vivace" of the Concerto in "C," which elicited hearty applause. Sullivan's beautiful and melodious "Lost Chord" and the overture from Rossini's opera of "Semiramide" completed the varied program.

There will be six more concerts and on next Sunday one of Duluth's young and promising singers will make her first appearance. The program for the fifth concert from this will be made up of request numbers for the organ as far as possible.

Cooker Used By Polar Explorers.

An interesting article, which is as necessary in the equipment of a polar explorer as food, is the cooker. Without it, it would be impossible for life to exist in those regions. One of the most important things to be considered when ordering a beverage for the home table is purity, which you will find to the highest degree in Golden Grain Belt beer. This beverage is brewed from the best of nature's products, and deserves a place on the home table. Order of your nearest dealer or be supplied by Duluth branch Minneapolis Brewing company.

CRIMINAL CONSPIRACY

Information Filed Against "Dolly Dimples" Trio in Utah Court.

Smooth "Frame-Up" By Which Result of Contest Was Effected.

Ogden, Utah., Feb. 14.—A formal information, charging criminal conspiracy against Fred Ricker, L. V. Curry and Mrs. L. V. Curry, the members of the "Dolly Dimples" outfit, who conducted a questionable circulation contest for the Ogden Evening Standard last November, has been filed with the county clerk by District Attorney Nathan J. Harris.

The Currys and Ricker are now out on bonds awaiting the action of the district court; they were held for trial after a preliminary hearing before Judge J. D. Murphy of the city court. The three members of the advertising squad came to Ogden after conducting similar contests for papers in Salt Lake City, Minneapolis, Duluth, Milwaukee and Detroit and entered into a contract with William Glasmann, proprietor of the Standard, to put on the "Catch-me-if-you-can" contest in Ogden for the purpose of boosting the circulation of the local newspaper.

After several days had elapsed and there had been but little interest evinced in the contest, Mrs. Curry, the "Dolly Dimples" of the contest was "caught" by Miss Beatrix Musser, announcement of which was made at a local dancing resort the same evening and the next day in the Glasmann newspaper.

How "Frame-Up" Was Made.

Affidavits of the captor and the captured were procured to show the public that the contest had been on the square, and the $200 reward paid over to Miss Musser by check made in her favor by Mr. Glasmann.

After the departure of the circulation trio, it became noised about that the result of the contest had been effected through the means of a "frame-up." Hearing of these rumors, Glasmann, with the assistance of the local police, secured a statement from Miss Messer, in which she admitted that when she cashed the check she turned all except $20 of the amount over to Fred J. Van Ness, a bookkeeper employed in the Standard office, who, in turn, gave the Curry outfit $200, retaining the balance for himself. A warrant was issued for the arrest of the advertising gang, who were apprehended at Los Angeles, and brought to Ogden under extradition process.

Conspirators Admit Their Part.

At the preliminary hearing, which was held a few days after the prisoners had reached the city, Van Ness and Miss Musser admitted the part they had played in the "frame-up." Van Ness declaring that the plan to get the reward for the capture of "Dolly Dimples" had been suggested to him by Ricker. Miss Musser declared that she was acting under instructions from Van Ness, who led her to believe that the "frame-up" was made with the sanction of Glasmann.

All the witnesses at the preliminary hearing exonerated Glasmann from any connection with the "frame-up." Van Ness, after the preliminary hearing, was discharged by Glasmann and is not now connected with the Standard Publishing compay.

Saved From Awful Peril.

"I never felt so near my grave," writes Lewis Chamblin, of Manchester, Ohio, R. R. No. 3, "as when a frightful cough and lung trouble pulled me down to 115 pounds in spite of many remedies and the best doctors. And that I am alive today is due solely to Dr. King's New Discovery, which completely cured me. Now I weigh 150 pounds and can work hard. It also cured my four children of croup." Infallible for Coughs and Colds, its the most certain remedy for La Grippe, Asthma, desperate lung trouble and all bronchial affections. 50c and $1.00. A trial bottle free. WEDDED LIFE WAS TIRESOME

Three Months Was More Than Enough for Mrs. Anna Johnson.

After having lived with her husband three months Mrs. Anna Johnson got tired of wedded life and told Mr. Johnson as much. Carl F. Johnson, the husband, now wants a divorce. He filed the papers beginning the action with the clerk of the district court this morning.

They were married in Duluth June 25, 1908. They lived together until Sept. 25, 1908.

He alleges in his complaint that Mrs. Johnson became cold and distant and was emphatic in both words and manner when she told him to go away and not bother her any more.

He went away and has been living with his mother since that time. He asks an absolute divorce.

THREE INQUIRIES INTO SWOPE CASE

Nurse Is Said to Have Declared There Was Murder Going On.

Kansas City, Mo., Feb. 4.—Two separate inquiries into the Swope mystery were in progress today and a third is promised for tomorrow.

The first investigation to get under way this morning was that by the grand jury. Almost simultaneously, at the office of Frank P. Walsh, leading attorney for Dr. B. C. Hyde, the taking of depositions in the civil suit brought by Hyde against John G. Paxton for alleged slander, was resumed.

Still another search into the case will be started on Wednesday when in Kansas City, Kan., the deposition of Dr. C. H. Jordan, who had prescribed medicine for the Swope family, will be taken.

John G. Paxton, in his examination Saturday, declared that other members of the family than those dead had been poisoned, and that some of the nurses engaged there had threatened to leave unless Dr. Hyde was discharged. "There is murder going on in this house" was the declaration credited to one of the nurses.

YES, advertising "runs into money," but it's cheaper to start today than tomorrow. The manufacturer who "wins out" is he who seizes the opportunity that his competitor merely sees.

The Duluth Herald offers the one big advertising opportunity of Duluth. Everybody in Duluth reads it, believes in it and buys goods through its influence. Can you beat it?
